Too many stews spoil the cook!

Enjoy a COOL COOKING Electric Range

Nobody's going to blame you if you get in a stew about cooking on stoving hot days. But there's a happy solution. Get a cool-cooking electric range—the range that cooks the food—not the cook.

With automatic control you can set it, then go away and forget it. Yes, you can play hooky from the kitchen, yet serve better meals than ever when you cook electrically. An electric range is cool—and keeps cool. Here, as clean, as electric light helps keep that clean, cool look for years and years. Buy an electric range now!

Soil Conservation News
by Clay Colson

Seven Rockcastle County farmers were delivered 35,000 pine seedlings this past week. Farmers getting seedlings were: J. D. Henderson, E. E. Bullock, Sherman Sargent, Wayne Van Hook, Taft Bullock, Lonzo Bullock, L. G. Shiplet, and W. D. Moore. Roy Norton and J. D. Henderson had received 26,000 seedlings in an earlier shipment. These farmers are setting these seedlings as part of their conservation program. The seedlings were ordered from the Division of Forestry.

Herbert Bear, Scaffold Cane, is constructing a pond this week. Mr. Nathan Clark has requested assistance in locating and building another pond for stockwater. These ponds will be built as a part of their pasture and conservation program.

Perry Howard, Brodhead, has completed installation of about 500 feet of tile. C. P. Mullins and L. A. Alexander of Scider are having grade lines staked out for tile lines, too.

County Agents Notes

Transplanting Trees, Shrubs and Evergreens

RIGHT NOW is an excellent time for transplanting young trees, shrubs, and evergreens. However, the soil may be wet. This means that in transplanting any of these plants, the soil should not be tamped around the roots but one should place the soil around the roots until the hole is one-half to two-thirds full. Then apply liberal amounts of water and let the water "melt" the soil around the roots of the plant. After this has been done, finish filling the hole with soil and leave it loose.

In the case of evergreens, which have roots balled and balled, the soil may be slightly packed around the ball; then apply the water to finish melting the soil and to bring it in contact with the ball of earth.

Plants transplanted in the spring will, in many instances, need some additional soil to fill the hole around the middle of May. When this is done, add enough soil to create a small reservoir or basin to catch and hold rain water during the summer. Do not mound the soil up around the trunk of the plant.

Aeros Testing Plan Used in Anti-Brucellosis Work

The Kentucky campaign for eradication of brucellosis—an animal disease—that annually costs farmers thousands of dol-ars in calf and milk production losses—will depend a good deal on the area testing plan.

How does the plan work? Owners of breeding, dairy or feeding cattle within a given county first hand together for an educational program on the damage to the industry from brucellosis. Next, when 75 percent of the cattle owners who own 80 percent of the cattle within a county agree to testing, a permit is forwarded to the State Board of Agriculture. In this petition, each of the signing owners agrees to place his herd under the test program.

This program requires that all female cattle and bulls more than six months old will be tested and retested for control of brucellosis.

No changes are made for the necessary handling of these animals incident to collecting samples.

Two plans are possible under the program. Plan A requires the vaccinated cattle under 30 months of age, or calves under six months of age, are excepted from the testing program. Infected herds are retested (without cost) at 30 to 60 day intervals. Reactors must be branded and tagged, and slaughtered within 15 days after tagging if the indemnity is to be paid under Plan A.

Reactors under Plan B are eligible for indemnity when the herd changes to, and meets the requirements of Plan A, and all reactors are offered for slaughter.

Brucellosis has many ways of getting into a clean herd. Generally it comes from adding an untested infected animal.

Important thing about brucellosis is that it is transmissible to humans, where it is called undulant fever. Humans can pick it up from handling infected cattle, or can get it from unpasteurized milk.

Strawberry Patches
Annual grasses and weeds in strawberry patches can be controlled by certain herbicides and careful attention to proved methods.

James Herron, UK Agricultural Experiment Station weed specialist, says Crag Herbicide, used as a spray 4000 wettable powder material per acre for actual area treated) is recommended for 1957. The first application can be made 10 to 14 days after setting first-year plants. Old patches can be treated immediately after harvest, when rows have been narrowed and the patches rejuvenated. The same rates apply for the new plantings.

Treatments when needed (usually at 4 to 6 week intervals throughout growing season) are recommended to help control the herbicide will kill most annual plant pests, such as crabgrass, pigweed, and lamb's-quarters. Areas to be treated should be weeded thoroughly before treatment. The herbicide is not effective on weeds more than quarter-inch to a half-inch high. Tests at UK show a Crag Herbicide program in the growing season will reduce the growth of chickweed and henbit the following year.

These two pests are not growing strong, Herron says. This year two dinitro compounds per acre. Follow label directions from strawberry patches. They are Premogre and Sinox PE, used as a spray at 3 to 4 pounds per acre. Follow label directions closely, Herron says, and put them on before the new growth strawberry plants are otherwise the chemicals may burn the new strawberry plants.

Extension Service Leaflet 164 of chickweed at county agent's offices, covers the strawberry-weed subject thoroughly.

Dees Posts Two Bonds For Trial

J. F. Dees, president of the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co., posted two $250 bonds in Rockcastle Circuit Court Monday on a charge of "failure to render reasonable telephone service."

Judge R. C. Tartar set April 17 as the trial date. Four indictments were returned by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury Thursday. Two of the indictments named Dees and two named the Telephone Co. The indictments charge the Telephone Company and Dees failed to render reasonable telephone service to the citizens of the county in general, and the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital specifically.

The indictments apparently stemmed from an incident at the hospital when a doctor was unable to telephone another doctor at Berea during what hospital officials termed an emergency. During the time the hospital has been in operation, 15 incidents pertaining to telephone service were reported by the hospital officials.

The court will probably elect one of the charges on which to proceed. In other court action this week, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter were awarded $200 in a suit against Edward Jones of Mt. Vernon. They charged Jones allowed his cattle to run at large and trample their yard. A jury failed to agree in a suit against George Wren and others, the aftermath of an auto accident near Boone several months ago. Judge Tartar dismissed the jury. The case will be tried again in the July term of court.

HOWARD FILES

Maurice G. Howard of Crab Orchard, has filed for Representative in the State Legislature from Lincoln County.

State Road Boss Tells Local Highway Plans

There are no plans for paving U. S. 150 between Mt. Vernon and Crab Orchard at this time, according to a letter to the Signal from Robert Humphreys, Commissioner of Highways, at Frankfort.

Mr. Humphreys answered an inquiry from the Signal as to highway plans in the Rockcastle County-Madison County area. Questions to be answered include: U. S. 25 between Richmond and the Kentucky River bridge, recently authorized by the State; agenda for paving Questions also concerned a four-lane stretch between Stanford and Danville, U. S. 150 between Mt. Vernon and Crab Orchard and general highway plans in South-eastern Kentucky.

Mr. Humphreys' letter in part read: "In regard to U. S. 25 between Richmond and the Kentucky River Bridge, resurfacing project between these points has been advertised in order to preserve the old road until such a time as the interstate route has been established and built."

"In regard to U. S. 150, there are no plans for paving this road at this present time. The construction of four-lanes is between Stanford and Danville is still in our program and will be built as soon as all rights of way have been secured."

"Concerning U. S. 25 through Southeastern Kentucky, the route has not finally been determined."

Red Cross Drive County Total $585

A total of $585.50 has been collected so far in the county's Red Cross drive for funds, according to an announcement this week by Ed Hunt, chairman.

The Red Cross drive is continuing in the interstate route in the drive. Mr. Parsons, principal at Livingston High School, has been one of the best workers in the drive. Mr. Parsons' school collected a total of $107 in the drive, and Mr. Parsons collected $66.30 from individuals when he represented the Lion's Club.

County, State Sign Agreement In Forest Fire Prevention, Aid

DEMONSTRATION WORK CONTINUES

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court this week approved $1,000 a year extra money to help pay the salary of a county home demonstration agent.

The court action stemmed from a state Agricultural Extension Division decision to make Rockcastle County a single agricultural unit and to put a South Madison area into the Madison County program.

The court, in order to continue home demonstration work, had to vote the increased appropriation in its budget.

The budget now calls for $3,000 as Rockcastle's share in the total county agriculture program.

Who the new home demonstration agent will be, has not been reported. The choice will probably be left to the State.

In other Fiscal Court action, the court set county officials' salaries for the next four years. The only changes were an increase in the county librarian's salary from $20 to $50 a month. The county coroner will now receive a salary of $50 a month instead of collecting on fees, in accordance with a state regulation.

The court also approved the minutes of the Rockcastle County Board of Education meeting which designated plans for the new elementary school center at Roundstone.

2 NEW TOWERS TO BE BUILT

An agreement for forest fire protection in Rockcastle County, in co-operation with the State program of fire prevention, and protection was signed this week between the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court and the State Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation.

The new program will go into effect July 1 with two or three fire wardens and 20 deputy wardens, all chosen by the State.

Becoming a part of the State program means county-wide control of forest fires, and means the county will share in the expense of establishment and operation of forest fire protection, forest fire detection, prevention and suppression.

Money for the county's share in the program will come from a two cent per acre tax on forest landowners. It is estimated the county will realize about $2,778.74 per year, based on 118,377 acres of forest land in the county. The number of county acres of forest land were determined from the 1945 U. S. Forest Reappraisal Study.

Signing the agreement with members of the Fiscal Court and H. W. Berckman, associate director, Division of Forestry.

In the last few years hundreds of acres of forest land have been destroyed by fire in Rockcastle. Several farmers in the county earlier asked the Fiscal Court and the State for some kind of protection. The new program is an aftermath of their efforts.

Forest fire protection in a new area will cost from six to 12 cents per acre per year, depending on variable factors. The difference between the two cents Rockcastle will pay and the total cost will be spent from state and federal funds.

When a county begins such a program, the first step is to hire a full-time ranger who will have charge of the unit. One or more forest guards may also be employed to assist him during fire seasons. Lookout towers are erected where necessary and telephone or radio communication is provided.

At strategic locations throughout the unit, the ranger selects and appoints deputy fire wardens who must be spirited leaders in their communities. Each deputy appoints a crew of five to seven men. Deputies and their crews are paid time employees who are paid only when called to suppress fires.

During fire seasons, one or more full-time crews of three to five men each may be employed for construction and maintenance work, and as a first line of defense in fire fighting. All fire fighters are equipped with fire fighting tools as they are appointed, and taught how to use them. Extra tools are stored (Continued on page 4)

CHANGE SCHEDULE THIS WEEK FOR TWO RURAL ROUTES

A change in schedules for two rural routes operating out of the Mt. Vernon Post Office has been announced by James O. Smith, postmaster.

The change was made in an effort to improve service along the routes. The change in schedules will advance the delivery of certain incoming mail a full day, Mr. Smith said. Mailmen Lewis Nixley and Roland Barnett will wait for the 9:30 a. m. incoming mail from Louisville, and points between, before leaving on the routes.

In addition, the change of schedule on Route 2 will enable the carrier to deliver mail received through the Livingston Post Office from the Highway Post Office and from Train 33 from Cincinnati, Ohio, on the same day it is received. This applies to patrons living on the route between Livingston and the former three Lincoln post offices.

The change in schedule will have no effect on the outgoing dispatches of mail from Mt. Vernon in the afternoon, since the carriers will still return to the Mt. Vernon Post Office in time for any mail collected that day to be dispatched the same day.

Running time of the rural carriers will be about an hour later than at present.

The Signal Says--

WE GET ORGANIZED FIRE FIGHTERS

No doubt most forest owners in Rockcastle will be pleased with the announcement the county and state have joined in organized fire protection for county forest lands.

In the past few years, hundreds of acres of timber have gone up in smoke in this county from a variety of sources, including careless smokers, careless campers, and lightning, with the loss of many dollars to owners.

The tax for forest owners (not general property owners) is two cents an acre per year, a seemingly small price for fire insurance.

That organized fire fighting is a "big deal" is illustrated in a story in this issue. It will call for at least 25 persons and considerable equipment. It will also up the economy of the county by providing it at least a few more jobs.

THE CANCER DRIVE OPENS

The American Cancer Society's annual fund drive opened this week in Rockcastle County.

The local chapter's goal is $700, and to raise that much cash, it will take the supreme efforts of us all.

If you can, give something when the solicitors call at your door. Cancer can concern all of us. Let's help stamp out this dreadful disease.

FOREST FIRES

Between fire seasons the ranger is engaged in forest fire prevention education work, and in maintenance and repair of equipment. Just before the spring and fall fire seasons start, guards, lookout watchmen and improvement and maintenance crews are hired. When a fire is reported to the ranger—either from the towers or by other means—in improvement and maintenance crews are dispatched immediately to suppress it.

At the same time the ranger or a guard makes an investigation to ascertain how, and by whom, the fire was started. If the law has been violated, the case is prosecuted in a local court. The agreement between the

Cigarettes, Letters, Taken In 2 Break-ins

Thieves entered Hamm's Pool Room at Mareburg Saturday night or Sunday and made off with about six cartons of cigarettes from a vending machine.

Entrance was gained through a window. Police have taken fingerprints and footprint impressions in an effort to solve the breakin.

About 27 letters from the marquis of the Valley Drive-In Theater were stolen last week. The loss was estimated at $80.

by Alfred Sparks Jr.

"CHARACTER IS A BY-PRODUCT IT IS PRODUCED IN THE GREAT MANUFACTURE OF DAILY LIFE."

As these words by Woodrow Wilson suggest, traits of character are developed and embellished in the course of our daily workday lives. Although a number of us experience a rather average and not particularly inspiring way of life, it nevertheless is a life which daily gives us countless opportunities to pursue good qualities of character.

Actually, it is quite impossible to deal with people socially or in a business sense, and not be faced with situations which call for expressions of sincerity, honesty, tolerance, understanding, or any of a hundred other attributes of worthy character. It is in the way that we conduct ourselves in the process of living "our" each day, however great or humble that day may be, that we must add or detract some degree to the overall stature of our character. Character, I believe, is not a static thing; it grows or lessens if even to the slightest possible degree, every day of our lives.

Charlie Shaffer, of near Brodhead, was arraigned before Commissioner V. O. Blackburn Monday at Somerset after a gallon and a half of moonshine was found at his home during a raid.

Shaffer was held over to Federal Court at London.

Making the raid were Deputy Sheriff Sam Hoskins, Brodhead; Chief of Police, Grant Petry, State Trooper Ellis Flora, and State Agent Claude Williams, Verdon Cox, of Tennessee. Johnny Mills Slayer Sentenced To 21 Years

Guy Vaughn was convicted in Laurel Circuit Court last week for the St. Patrick's Day slaying of Isaac Johnny Mills and was sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary.

Vaughn, 31, was accused of beating Mills to death with an iron pipe. Mills was convicted in Rockcastle Circuit Court several months ago for shooting and wounding Clayton Anderson at Livingston Judge R. C. Tartar was expected to sentence Mills during this term of Court.

One prosecution witness, Mrs. Margaret Scott, testified she saw Vaughn beat the 43-year-old Mills "as hard as he had the power to hit him." She said she watched from her hotel room window as the defendant knocked Mills down with an exhaust pipe and then started beating him with another pipe. Vaughn testified Mills had been threatening to kill him unless he would take the rap for Mills in Federal Court on a whisky charge. The two men had been bootlegging together, Vaughn said.

Spring Best Season For Fire Danger

State Fire Marshal Ray Humkey, taking note of changeable weather of early spring, has warned against the danger of overheating furnaces and heating units when a sudden temperature dip may follow a period of relatively warm weather.

End of winter and beginning of spring present conditions which constitute a major fire threat, he said, adding "it is easy to become careless when you wake up on a cold morning and try to warm the house in a hurry."
