REDDY KOWATI

The first time in 37 years . . . Reddy is forced to ask for a raise

Reddy's cost of living has gone up, too—the same as yours.

Just as the prices of meat, beans, bread and other items you use every day have gone up, so have the prices of coal, wire, poles, transformers and other materials we use—very day in bringing you electric service.

Up to now we have been able to hold the line against rising costs by practicing every reasonable economy. At the same time we have greatly improved service.

Between 1935 and 1943 we reduced electric rates some 40 per cent. Now costs have reached a point where we must ask for about 7 per cent back . . . to provide the new equipment to meet your increasing demands for electricity and to maintain the quality of service you have a right to expect.

It will amount to only about 2¢ a day for the average residential customer. Electricity will continue to be the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Why do it the hard way?
WASH CLOTHES RIGHT IN THE KITCHEN

Simply wheel the washer to the kitchen sink. Connect hose to faucet (A). Tub is filled through a dual-channel hose. Water enters tub at "B." When washing is finished the washer pump empties tub through other channel and out at "C." You can control the timing, the water temperature and the amount of water for each washing.

Why run up and down stairs?
YOUR KITCHEN CAN BE YOUR LAUNDRY, TOO

All on one level—do other work in the kitchen and wash, too. Saves time, money, space and steps! Saves your energy! And, you have lower first cost besides no installation cost. Service calls are fewer and water heating bills are lower.

Dees Fined $500; PSC Sets Phone Hearing Date

PHONE HEARING SET JUNE 28

The Public Service Commission at Frankfort this week set June 28 as the date for a hearing on an application by the Rockcastle Telephone Co., for a permit to operate a telephone system in Rockcastle County, side by side with the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co.

The hearing is scheduled for 1 p. m. (slow time) in the PSC offices at Frankfort.

Several persons from Rockcastle County are expected to make the trip to Frankfort. Most of those going are expected to call on the Public Service Commission to allow the new telephone company, an affiliate of Northeastern Telephone Corp., of Chicago, to establish telephone service in the county.

Also to be heard are persons who do not want the telephone company to come to Rockcastle.

The general public is invited to the meeting and anyone attending is allowed to express an opinion before the Commission.

The Rockcastle Telephone Co., was recently granted a charter by the Secretary of State. The new company was "capitalized" at $10,000. In the request for the charter, the company officials stated the $10,000 would be used to install two switchboards—one at Mt. Vernon, and the other at Brodhead, and to purchase 500 telephones and 75 miles of telephone lines.

The first system installed will be a common-battery system such as is in operation at Berea. In its application to the PSC, the Rockcastle Telephone Co. officials indicated they would install a dial system within the next 18 months. They also indicated telephone lines would run to many rural sections of Rockcastle, or to areas where it would be financially practical.

At London, where Northeastern has its district office, a million dollar-plus contract for outside equipment for the Northeastern Corporation was let May 28.

According to Oscar Bruner, manager of the London branch, the contract includes poles, wire, hook-ups, and all other equipment outside the London center itself, needed to service London and the counties.

Total cost of the project has been set at $1,500,000, Bruner said. He added that the high expense of the project was due to the fact that London is being set up as a toll center. He estimated the toll center equipment alone at $255,000.

The million and a half dollar project is expected to be completed in 12 months.

Former Countian Murdered At Harlan Mine Entrance

David Ledger, 60, charged with the murder of Taylor Hanel, 42, of Crummes, a former Mt. Vernon man, was captured Saturday in Virginia ending a search through the mountains and hollows by police. Crummes is near Harlan.

Killed for no apparent reason, Hanel was shot three times. According to officials, one .22 caliber slug hit Hanel "dead center" in the small of the back, another, hit him in the abdomen, and another struck him a glancing blow from the back and passed through, Hanel's left shoulder.

Hanel is a brother of Mrs. Ella Langford and Mrs. Mary Kirby of Mt. Vernon. He had not lived here for considerable time.

The shooting occurred at the drift mouth of a coal mine. Officers are checking with state prisons on a story that Ledger served six years in Eddyville on a charge of murdering a Middlesboro man while he was sleeping in his hammock.

Lacey Myers, owner of the mine, told officers the man came to him from Virginia and asked for a job. Ledger was hired as a watchman and lived in the scale house near the mine.

Police reported Ledger borrowed a .22 rifle from an employee's wife, telling her his gun was being eaten by rabbits and he was going to kill them. Just before killing Hanel, the accused killer fired two shots at Jess Renfro, a Negro, of Harlan, who was working on a truck near the mine. Renfro ran to the mine's mouth and told the other miners to get inside.

Hanel, thinking the shooting was over, according to officers, came back out of the mine and walked about six feet from the entrance when he was shot.

Hanel was born at Pine Hill. He had been a resident of Crummes and vicinity about 26 years. In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons,

APPEAL NOTICE FILED BY DEES

One of the most unusual trials in the annals of Kentucky law ended Saturday at Mt. Vernon with the conviction at a special term of Rockcastle Circuit Court of J. F. Dees, president of the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co., on a charge of failure to provide efficient and reasonable telephone service to the people of Rockcastle County.

An all-male jury found Dees guilty and set his fine at $500. The maximum under Kentucky Statutes is $1,000 fine and six months in jail. Dees immediately filed notice of his appeal to the Court of Appeals.

The courtroom that was mostly filled during the three-day trial was practically empty when the jury returned after two hours of deliberation.

The trial was marked with temper flare-ups. At one time, Dees invited one of the Commonwealth's attorneys, James Lamber, "outside" to settle the point in question.

Some 20 witnesses, mostly businessmen, told the court of "poor service" or of no service at all. Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital officials and employees told of one incident where a doctor had to go to the telephone exchange late at night to rouse the operator. Others told of refusal of collect call service.

The trial opened Friday after nearly a day of jury selection. It opened after Dees' attorney, Calvert Little of London, asked for and was denied a change of venue, probably to Pulaski Circuit Court, on the grounds that Dees could not get a fair and impartial trial in Rockcastle.

Dees took the stand Friday afternoon. He told the court he had 278 telephones in 1917 and today he has about 300. He reported his gross receipts last year at $84,000.

Dees explained to the court Mrs. Riley Perrin operates the telephone switchboard and that he has nothing to do with it where a doctor had to go to the telephone exchange late at night to rouse the operator. Others told of refusal of collect call service.

Dees reported the night when a doctor could not get the operator, who was Mrs. Perrin, it was due to an accident. He explained that he had to get a fair and impartial trial in Rockcastle.

Dees also presented a photographic copy of a letter to the court which was a letter from the Mt. Vernon City Council to the Public Service Commission at Frankfort. The letter, with its accompanying resolution, had to do with Dees' request to install a battery-dial.

State Agency May Operate Tourism Department In Area

A governmental agency to explore the tourist prospects of Eastern Kentucky was recommended tonight by a special group studying ways to put the area back on its feet economically.

A division of tourism, possibly within the State Conservation Department, was suggested as the best method for conducting a research program to gather information needed for planning.

Such data would go far toward turning the tourist potential into a paying proposition, a preliminary report said.

Two factors were listed as being major handicaps to recreational expansion in the mountain region—difficult access, and how to get the necessary capital and skills for development.

The report was discussed at a meeting of State officials and the Eastern Kentucky flood-rehabilitation study group, headed by David A. Grossman and under the supervision of the Economic Development Department.

The meeting was one of a series preceding a final report that will recommend to Governor Chandler immediate and long-range approaches to controlling flood damage and developing the economy of Eastern Kentucky.

The area, whose principal industry is coal mining, already was in the throes of an economic depression when flash floods struck with destructive force last January.

The heavily wooded, rugged terrain of Eastern Kentucky is suitable to the type of large-scale tourist development found in various parts of the Southern Appalachian range," the report said. "An expanded resort industry could make a significant contribution to the economy."

Kentucky's tourist attractions at present are promoted chiefly by the State Division of Parks and the Public Relations Department.

Grossman said no statistics were available on the amount of tourist trade the state does (Continued on page 4)

... Chevrolet with Turboglide!

Chevy's come up with the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic drive—Turboglide. It's the first and only triple-turbine transmission!

Turboglide is something really new and different in automatic drives. In the first place, there's only one forward-speed position on the control panel. There's no "Low" needed.

Turboglide handles everything with the oil-smooth action of triple turbines. You travel from a standstill to top cruising speeds with never a lurch or lag to mar your motion.

When you see a steep downhill stretch ahead, you set the selector at "GR" (Grade Retarder) and Turboglide helps slow you down. Try Chevy's new, nothing-like-it automatic drive. It's optional at extra cost—and worth it.

The Signal Says--

Next Council, Mayor Must Plan, Plan

Come November, we will again be confronted with a list of candidates for election. But none will be more important than the non-political election of a mayor for Mt. Vernon and six city councilmen.

Whether Mayor Roy Cummins and the present councilmen are candidates and re-elected, or we have a new mayor and council, the coming term and the term following will be the most important in Mt. Vernon's history.

Let us look objectively at what we believe confronts Mt. Vernon within the next four years and why we believe these coming terms are so important.

Mt. Vernon, obviously, has been slow in its growth. It is a somewhat complacent town. It has its civic minded citizens, true, but even with their work, the town has not grown as it should have grown. Changes have been slow, something characteristic of agricultural communities.

As we are well aware, we have two major sources of income--agriculture and tourist trade, with tourist trade depending on U. S. 150 and U. S. 25.

Recently, two statements were made by officials that show the grave situation the community faces. One statement, was from an official of the State Department of Highways. The official reported that bids on the first section of U. S. 25 as an interstate, six-lane, limited access highway between Covington and Lexington will be ready to let by the year's end. The second statement, a private one, is to the effect that Gov. A. B. Chandler wants the interstate highway program in Kentucky complete before his term is over. That's 1960. That's three and a half years.

At the present time, the Court of Appeals has Kentucky's $400,000,000 road bond issue. The money will be used to match federal funds at 9 to 1. Whether or not the bonds are allowed to be sold, Governor Chandler has said he will match the federal allotment. How Chandler will do this is not known, but if Chandler said it, no doubt he will follow through.

In the face of all this talk, we still hear from some Mt. Vernon citizens that U. S. 25 will remain where it is and will merely be widened and re-surfaced. This is like the ostrich that hid its head in the sand. It is not the case at all. We are faced with loss of a great slice of tourist trade.

Further proof, if you remember, highway department officials said: The area through which U. S. 25 will pass will not be announced until later in order to prevent land speculation. They also said: The whole idea of the interstate highway system is to BY-PASS small towns and congested areas. Could the highway department speak with more clarity. We don't see how. But to by-pass small towns is in nearly every case disastrous. As a good example, look at the fate that befell East Bernstadt.

Mt. Vernon can be saved by one simple reason--U. S. 150. There will have to be an entrance and exit to U. S. 25 from U. S. 150. Such an interchange (crossroad) could be near Mt. Vernon--one of the few along the entire route between Covington and the Tennessee border.

Mt. Vernon's first problem, then, is to promote the area into a tourist attraction, to bring motorists off U. S. 25. We must make Mt. Vernon as attractive, as modern and as interesting as possible. Mt. Vernon must have attractions to keep tourists in the area, not for just a day, but for several days. Businessmen who deal with tourists know what tourists want. It is to their benefit to promote and provide it.

Secondly, national manufacturers have said they are interested in locating in areas near interchanges. We must, then, entice manufacturing with land, public services and co-operation.

We have a start in this direction. We have Renfro Valley. We are on a railroad. We are getting a new post office. We have a new hospital. We are to get a new telephone system. Our schools are expanding. Our recreational resources are still untapped. We have a radio station. We have banks. Our electric service in the county is excellent.

But we also have our shortages. We are short on population and city-size. We do not have a money-rich community. We do not have a planned program of promotion and expansion.

In the area of a planned program, where the city election will count. The mayor and council, whoever they may be, (as well as local clubs) must plan, plan, plan. We offer the following suggestions and areas to investigate, merely as food for thought:

- (1) An investigation of the type of industry best suited and most interested in the town and area, and how to go about getting it to locate here.
- (2) Annexation to the city of territory needed to change the population class of the city such as Berea and Somerset have done.
- (3) Tourist promotion, possibly through a U. S. 25 Committee including Berea, Mt. Vernon, London and Corbin.

In these three suggestions may lie the key to the future of the town. The men who turn the key during the next four or eight years must bear the responsibility of the growth and progress of the city. Their position, religion and politics are of no concern. It is their ability to plan, promote and act that will count. In a thankless and tiring job, the mayor will have to actually save the city from the fate that overtook East Bernstadt. He will need a great deal more than good luck.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. McClure:

Mr. J. P. Dees lost the first round in his court fight this week. He says that's O. K., there are other courts and that he has just started fighting, and that he loves a good fight.

He hopes to install a dial system in Rockcastle County in the future.

They say he hasn't improved his service. We, who work for him know better. We have the proof that he has almost doubled our list of phones both in Mt. Vernon and Brodhead. People can hear and all the trouble is not on our lines, yet the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co. gets all the credit for any bad service.

Mr. McClure, if you are a fair minded editor you will give Mr. Dees full credit. If you are, you will print this with my Brodhead news. I know you could never stand up under the beating Mr. Dees has given Mr. Dees.

I love my work here and do my best to be fair to all. How about you?

Thank You,

Mrs. Irene Denny,

Brodhead Telephone

each year.

He used Tennessee as an example of what can be accomplished on a large scale. There, tourist expenditures in 1955 amounted to $116,000,000. The 14,000 firms serving tourists employed 64,000 persons, 5 per cent of the total state employment.

The report said the new division of tourists should work closely with an Eastern Kentucky regional tourist association, as well as with private groups such as Spenic Cumberland, Inc.

Among possible lines of action to expand tourism, the report added, the division could consider the following:

1. Training courses in hotel and motel management and for chefs and other restaurant personnel. Such training has been successful in Michigan and other states.

2. Development of standards such as a code set up by a regional tourist association that would issue ratings on display cards to tourist facilities.

3. Inform potential local and other investors about opportunities for tourist enterprises, perhaps through a publication similar to "400 Miles of Opportunity In Rhode Island." Also examine the possibility of using loans from a State credit corporation for financing promising projects.

The report noted that a successful outdoor historical festival, "Wilderness Road," is sponsored annually by Berea College, located near the western edge of Eastern Kentucky.

It suggested the establishment of a similar outdoor drama in another part of Eastern Kentucky and said: "The elements of grim conflict in the mining and mountain history of Eastern Kentucky would seem to lend themselves to historical presentation."

Family Tensions

Lesson for June 16, 1957

THE family is a divine institution. That is to say, God invented it. He thought of it before men did. He intended it. So it should be a success. Yet here we have a human institution--that is to say, all homes are made up of human beings. Every home therefore suffers from the ailments that nag at all things human. A successful home succeeds in spite of all the things that nag at it. A home that does not succeed, fails because the handicaps strain it too much.

Tensions

A "typical modern word" for the home chaos and stress is "tension." The word is new but the thing is old. Tension is what makes the teenager scream and the mother feel like screaming. "I can't stand this another minute!" Tensions are what make a mother's nerves jump and her stomach ache. Tensions are what give mothers nervous prostration and fathers peevish anger before their time, what may make children remember their childhood with a shudder. Tensions are what keep juvenile delinquents from going to bed. Tensions may even be the beginning of lost minds. Now the thing is old, as was just said. In the home of Jacob, who was a God-fearing man, there was plenty of it. There was tension between him and his wives, between the wives themselves, between some wives and some sons, between the sons; between him and his sons. The family, so to speak, was pulled every which way, and actually at last broke up.

What Can't Be Helped

Some things can't be helped. They are in the nature of things. In a home there are persons of different ages, sexes and temperaments. That cannot be avoided. Yet "the battle of the sexes" rages from generation to generation; younger people find older people sometimes very hard to get along with. In the home of Jacob's home he was much older than his wives, very much older than his sons. Men and women in those days and times probably differed even more sharply than now, kept separate as they were for much of the lives of them. In Jacob's home temperamental differences surely could hardly have been more striking. The thing to remember is that since these strains cannot be helped, something good can be made of them. The main point of view is different from the woman's of course; but it takes both of them to make a healthy human point of view. Youth needs the caution and the wisdom of older people; older people need the optimism and enthusiasm of younger people to keep them from withering on the vine. Different temperaments can balance one another. A home can be a very good handicaps.

What Can Be Helped

Nevertheless, some strains and stresses are the result of human meanness, human sin. They can be helped, they can be avoided, and they can be changed. Consider the home of Jacob. His wives did not get along together, but while it was in those times large enough, it was foolish for a man of his temperament to have married all those four women, especially as he loved only one of them. Some of the trouble arose from young Joseph's 17-year-old conceit. Perhaps he couldn't help the conceit of grandeur; but he did not need to tell those dreams at the breakfast table. And some of the trouble lay in Jacob's playing up his son Joseph.

How to Help It

A foundation-stone for harmony in the home or anywhere else, is harmony with God. One who lives close to God will remember that God's will is always for peace, never for strife. The soul conscious of being forgiven by God will be more ready to forgive others. The spirit humbled by the grace of God and God's grace comes only to the humble--will not be forever standing on its rights and complaining about its wrongs. It would be a good thing for many a family all nervous with many tensions, to read together the thirteenth chapter of 1 Corinthians, the great chapter on love-in-practice, and then spend a while in silence, each one thinking: Does this describe me? And does he do I not need God's forgiveness, and a fresh start?

DEES TRIAL

"The City Council of Mt. Vernon requests the Public Service Commission to grant permission to the Mt. Vernon Telephone Co., for installation of a battery-dial telephone system in Mt. Vernon. The council is of the opinion this type of system is little or no improvement over the system already in use."

The communication to the PSC was signed by Mayor Roy Cummins. The council passed it unanimously.

Dees also presented to the court a resolution signed by 52 subscribers attesting to good service.

Attorney Lambert asked Dees to produce a franchise that Dees had told to court he possessed. Dees declared it was on file with the county court clerk and if it wasn't on file, it was not his fault. He did not produce a copy of the franchise.

Attorney Lambert also asked Dees what other expenses he had over the past year besides a $1,200 salary to Mrs. Perrin. Dees replied he had to pay for lines, equipment and other items and for repairs to the system when part of it was knocked down by a truck. He did not estimate the expenses.

In his summation to the jury, Attorney Little, asked the jury to remember that Dees is being tried on "willful" failure to render efficient and reasonable service; not just failure, but that Dees meant to have poor service.

Commonwealth Attorney, Russell Jones, at one time during Little's summation, interrupted Little to object to the court to Little's line of reasoning. While the court discussed allowing the reasoning, which had to do with the powers of the Public Service Commission, the jury retired. Little was over-ruled by Judge B. C. Tartan, but the reasoning was allowed to become a part of the trial record.

Mr. Little later told the jury when Dees negotiated for a dial system so he could give better service to the subscribers, the city refused. He declared Dees had done the best to render good and efficient service.

Attorney Jones in his summation, pointed out the amount of money Dees "took in" during last year, and questioned where the money went. He declared Dees is a man who has blocked the progress of the city. He stated Dees operates a public utility which is required to furnish service, but instead he says to subscribers when they complain: "If you don't like your telephone, take it out."

Jurymen for the trial were: Rufus Baker, Climax; Heavy Baker, Climax; Lewis Baker, Climax; Charlie Baker, Climax; Charlie Todd, Willalla; Grover Allen, Orlando; Oda Lovins, Green; Fred Thompson, Willalla; John Deborg, Willalla; Millard Deborg, Willalla; Fred Jones, Climax; Jimmy Gattiff, Climax.

"Wilderness Road" is expected to be even better this year. The leading lady will be Lee Kury, son of Pittsburg and John Freeman will be played by Martin F. Gerrish of Buckport, Maine. Davis Freeman, will again be played by Wayne Spiggle, a Berea College pre-medical student.

Says Lawn Management Good Crabgrass Control

Good lawn management is one of the best ways to control crabgrass, says James Herron, UK Experiment Station botanist.

Use good lawn seed (which has fewer "weed" seeds); fertilize in fall and spring so that the healthy grass will shade and crowd out the crabgrass; mow grass "high," i.e., set the mower too cut from one and a half inches to three inches; pull up scattered plants of crabgrass; and don't water in summer if possible, as the crabgrass gets the most benefit from such watering.

If chemicals are needed to kill crabgrass, three materials are available in commercial preparations under various trade names. The materials are: potassium cyanide, methyl mercuric acetate, and disodium methyl arsenate. Commercial preparations should contain one of these for effective control.

Follow directions closely if using the chemicals. Herron warns. Seed bare areas and fertilize them in the fall. But remember: Good management of lawns is the most helpful factor in controlling crabgrass, and the least expensive method.
