Forest Fires Caused Mainly By Carelessness

More than one million dollars worth in smoke as forest fires burned 233,000 acres in Kentucky during 1957, according to Gene L. Butcher, director of the Division of Forestry. In addition, the State spent a record half million dollars on forest fire detection and suppression.

"It is significant," said Butcher, "that 207,000 acres of the total burned, was on land not timber state forest fire protection."

In the 47 counties under State forest fire protection, damage amounted to only $99,000 on 26,000 burned acres.

All but three of the 1,229 fires were the result of people's carelessness or negligence. Debris burning—trash and brush fires, plant bed fires, field burning—was the major cause of forest fires and accounted for 38 percent of the total.

Careless smokers—who dropped lighted matches or burning tobacco—were second with 27 percent of the fires traced to them. Incidental fires—those set willfully or maliciously—held third place, and those attributed to campers were fourth.

Under the State's forest fire protection laws, persons responsible for woods fires are subject to penalties by local courts. Under this law, 79 persons were prosecuted and convicted during 1957.

With the coming of spring and the possibility of dry weather, the woods and fields will be ripe for fire. The Division of Forestry urges all citizens burning debris, fields or tobacco beds to be extremely careful to see that the fire doesn't escape into woodlands.

New Strawberry Varieties Tested Three new strawberry varieties have been released by the USDA and are being tested for Kentucky adaptation, says A. J. Olney, Kentucky Experiment Station horticulturist.

They are Earldawn, Red-glow, and Surecrop. Earldawn is extra early, has short flower stems, is well covered by leaves; has glossy, light bright-red berries which are firm and large, somewhat tart and well adapted to freezing. The plants have scanty runners and are not resistant to red stele.

Redglow ripens with Blakemore, a standard Kentucky variety, with vivid red, glossy large highly flavored berries. The flesh is not quite as firm as Blakemore; the plants are vigorous, make runners freely, and are resistant to red stele.

Surecrop is a mid-season variety ripening with Tennessee Beauty; another Kentucky-based variety, has bright red fruit that does not darken as the season and are firm, and the flavor is tart. Plants are vigorous, runner freely and red stele resistant.

Olney recommended that Kentuckians plant these in limited quantity only until they are fully evaluated under Kentucky conditions.

Keep Your Auto Under Control The Kentucky Department of Public Safety reminds you that the motorist's responsibility is greater than the pedestrian's. A motor car, with its greater speed and destructiveness may kill or cripple anyone it hits.

Sometimes, it is true, the pedestrian's carelessness or foolish thing in spite of this, if you have your automobile under control you will be able to avoid hitting a man, woman, or child on foot.

As a driver you should remember to exercise care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian; the pedestrian has the right of way at all marked and unmarked intersections; children are always expected to do the unexpected; you must not overtake and pass any vehicle which has stopped to permit a pedestrian to cross the roadway.

QUAIL Miss Marie Brown, who has been in Lancaster Hospital, is reported improved. Those visiting her at the hospital, Friday, were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thomson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott, Mrs. Arthur McKinney and Joyce; Shirila Ray Cable; Alma Jean Cash; J. Deen Cash; Ora Rogers and his mother; Mr. and Mrs. Casper Owens and Donna; Victor Ott; Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brown, Bonnie and Ronnie. Sunday afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor and Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Casper Owens and Donna.

IN MEMORY: In memory of Jepp French. Just seven months ago today, Our darling husband and father passed away. He is now at rest, with God. Where all is peace, joy and love. We miss him so much, but God knew best. And we know he is now at rest. But it still seems I can hear him call my name, As he did when he was in such pain. I can never forget the morning when he called all the children to his bed side. He said, be good and watch and pray and meet Daddy again in heaven someday. Sadly missed by wife, Cassie, and children. 2911p

IN MEMORY: In loving memory of my dear sister, Ada Minks Thompson, who passed away Apr. 14, 1941. You are not forgotten, Dear Ada, As it draws another year. In my hours of thinking, Thoughts of you are always near. Days of sadness still come over me. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow. That lies in my heart concealed. Like all good and perfect gifts, You came from God, no other. But today I have just memories Of that perfect gift of love, that was taken away 17 years ago today. Sadly missed by twin sister, Ida Mullins. 2911

Eastern To Have New Men's Dorm: Eastern Kentucky State College authorities at Richmond, announced recently that work on the new dormitory to house 200 men has begun. The bids for the construction were opened in Frankfort. The Hargett Construction Company of Lexington, with a bid of $532,600, was low among 14 contractors who bid for the job. President W. P. O'Donnell expressed the hope that at least a part of the building will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester of 1958-59 and that the entire building will be completed before the opening of the summer session of 1959.

When completed the new building will be assigned to freshmen during the first and second semesters. It will be a four-story structure have 100 bedrooms, a convenient apartment for the dormitory supervisor, a spacious lobby, a laundry, and other auxiliary rooms. The total cost of the building, including construction, architects' fees and furniture, will be approximately $800,000. It will be financed by an allotment of $60,000 from the State and a loan from the College Division of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Approximately 1,300 of Eastern's 2,713 students now live on the campus or in the Village for married students. College authorities stated that while the new dormitory will greatly relieve some of the overcrowding in the present dormitories, Eastern really needs an additional dormitory to accommodate 400 more students.

Circuit Court Over Saturday

Saturday was the last day of Rockcastle Circuit Court for this term, according to Judge R. C. Tartar.

A jury cleared the defendant and Edmitt against two Mt. Vernon youths. The trial was the outgrowth of an auto accident in which two local youths, Glennie Morris Sigmon and Alvin Barnett, were killed. The other two youths injured in the accident were Jimmy McGuire and Billy Chaney. 5.

Mom and Pop's store, located near the Mt. Vernon High School, was fined $200 for operating a public nuisance. Chester Blesins was brought from the penitentiary at La Grange, where he is currently serving a seven year sentence for house breaking and was sentenced one year for grand larceny.

Aubrey Hasty was fined $100 and 30 days in jail for possessing liquor for the purpose of sale and placed under a $500 peace bond.

Tom and Sinclair and J. M. Gibson, both of Ohio, were sentenced to one year each in prison for breaking in the Valley Drive Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio, was awarded $20,000 for personal injuries received in an auto wreck on U. S. 150 in the city limits of Mt. Vernon.

Judge Tartar said, "That is the largest judgement ever given in Rockcastle Circuit Court and perhaps the largest in any case."

The suit was against Lonnie Ray and Ethel Harris of Tennessee. Mrs. Russell was a passenger in an auto involved in the accident.

Recent Music Festival Report

The Mt. Vernon High school group received an excellent rating at the Regional Music Festival at Richmond, April 4.

At the Festival in Richmond groups perform before from one to three judges and are awarded ratings which are much like grades they receive on school report cards.

The highest rating is designated division One, and sometimes called superior, division two is excellent, division three is good, division four is fair and division five is poor.

It would be possible for all groups to receive a first division or superior rating and it would also be possible for no group to receive a first rating.

There are eight regional festivals over the state. There will be State festivals in three cities: Bowling Green, Louisville, and Lexington where Brodhead and Mt. Vernon groups will perform.

Schools are classified according to enrollments, the larger the schools are in higher classifications.

Jack L. Adams, Mt. Vernon music teacher and band director, said, "Some people wonder what kind of material is played at music festivals so the Mt. Vernon band will perform their selections at the spring concert in May."

Cowden Locates Factory In Stanford; Four New Industries Appear Interested

Easter Seal Sale Nets $237.34

Easter Seal contributions in Rockcastle County total $237.34, according to Mrs. Jack Henderson, local Easter Seal chairman.

The campaign officially closed Easter Sunday, but late mail contributions which are still coming in are expected to increase the total, Mrs. Henderson said.

O. L. McElroy, Eminence, state Easter Seal chairman, reported that the 1958 drive is lagging behind 1957 donations.

He urged Kentuckians in all areas of the state to continue their financial support of this worthy cause by sending their contributions to their local chairman.

The once-a-year campaign on behalf of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Society—finances help to crippled children in each county in the state. Last year 3,086 children received direct aid and an additional 6,944 persons received indirect services in cooperation with the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission and the State Department of Education.

The Society offers a comprehensive program for children which does not duplicate the services offered by any other agency.

Many Rockcastle County residents have benefited from the Society's program in the past and know at first hand of the work of the Society.

Rockcastle County residents who have not yet made a contribution may mail it today to Mrs. Jack Henderson, Mt. Vernon.

Apply ASC Office For Wool Payment

If you have sold wool or unshorn lambs since April 1, 1957, and have not received your payment under the Federal wool incentive program, you should collect it, be sure to file an application at the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments on shorn wool are a direct incentive to increase production. Payments on unshorn lambs are made to encourage normal marketing of lambs with the wool on and avoid unusual shearing to get the shorn wool payment. The goal of the program is to increase U. S. production to 300 million pounds of shorn wool—about a one-third increase over production in recent years.

The program for 1958, recently announced, will be similar to that during the past year with the incentive price continuing at 62 cents per pound. To encourage the best possible job of marketing by wool growers, the farmer gets a higher incentive payment by getting a higher price for his wool.

Both sheep numbers and shorn wool production appear to be on the increase in this country, according to a March report on the recent year by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The report also states that imports are on the decline, and that the Government has disposed of the last of its wool holdings acquired under the 1952-54 price-support program.

Pvt. Marion Woodall Woodall Cited As "Honor Trainee"

Private Marion Woodall, U. S. Army, recently distinguished himself as an "Honor Trainee" during his basic training at Fort Knox, which he completed April 5.

He received a citation from Col. Leroy E. Frazier, Commanding Officer, 3rd Training Regiment, which stated that Marion could be proud of his achievement as he was in competition with approximately 200 other trainees for this honor.

The citation further stated that Woodall could be very proud of this honor as he was considered to possess outstanding qualities in scholastic ability, leadership potential, rifle marksmanship, physical fitness and an all around grasp of the traditions of the service. He also exhibited exemplary moral and physical habits during his stay at Fort Knox.

Colonel stated He predicted a brilliant military future for Private Woodall.

Marion enlisted for assignment to the Army Air Defense Command through the local Army Recruiting Station, Danville, Jan. 24. He is presently (Continued on page 5)

W. L. Cowden informed members of the Rockcastle County Development Corporation, this week, that he had decided to locate his new factory at Stanford.

This was through no fault of the Development Corporation, Mr. Cowden said. His reason for the Stanford location were: It is closer to his Lancaster warehouse and there is trained personnel in Stanford because one of his factories was formerly located there.

An unknown factory was contacted Wednesday afternoon. Representatives of this factory will visit Rockcastle County within the next few days to look the place over. They were especially interested in water pressure.

A total of $100,000 must be subscribed within the next ten days. We are to get a factory, Mr. H. Hamm, chairman of the board of directors, declared. Some $51,000 has already been subscribed to, which leaves $49,000 to be subscribed to immediately.

Mr. Hamm said, members of the board have contacted four other industries. Two of these would employ about 250 women and the other two would employ practically the same number but they would use a larger percentage of men.

The Development Corporation meets every Wednesday and Mr. Hamm states, will continue to do so as long as necessary.

Stocks are $25 per share. Mr. Hamm emphasized that no money will be called for at present unless plans for a factory become definite.

Mr. Vernon Library Club Elects Officers

Nancy Henson has been elected president, of the Mt. Vernon High School Library Club, for the 1958-59 school year. Mrs. Mary Menting, sponsor, has announced.

Other officers are, Patsy Cummins, vice president; Nancy Moore, secretary, and Sue Hopkins, reporter.

At the end of the school year, library assistants will receive library club pins in recognition of services rendered in the library.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence William Berry of Ft. Wayne, Ind., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Berry, this week.

Rep. Eugene Siler Says 'Post Office Symbol Of Service'

About 500 persons turned out Sunday, for the Mt. Vernon Post Office Building dedication. Some 200 chairs placed in Main Street, facing the post office building, were occupied and another 300 or more persons stood on the sidewalks.

The weather was sunny, clear and mild. Mt. Vernon City police roped off main street and re-routed traffic during the ceremonies.

Congressman Eugene Siler, in his dedicatory address, thanked Mrs. Ethel Griffin for starting the action that brought about the new post office building. He said: "Mrs. Griffin sent me pictures and evidences of the need as it was evident to her."

He then complimented Postmaster James O. Smith for the job of moving the postal facilities.

Congressman Siler said, "the post office is a symbol of service" and "service must precede profit."

He presented Postmaster Smith with a flag that has flown over the post office at Washington, D. C., and was sent by Postmaster General Arthur E. Souterfield.

Music was provided by the Mt. Vernon High School Band which is directed by Jack L. Adams. The Cash Quartet of Ottawa, sang two numbers.

Rev. Lee Hopkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Mt. Vernon, gave the invocation and Rev. Marion Parkey, pastor of the First Christian Church, of Mt. Vernon, gave the benediction.

Postmaster Smith introduced Atty. James W. Lambert who acted as master of ceremonies. Francis X. Biglin, post office representative of Lexington, told the crowd, "The three main objectives of the post office are: to provide next day delivery."

New Marine Program

"Wait-Then-Go"

"Wait-Then-Go" is the title of a new and novel program just made available to all eligible young men and women in this area, according to Marine Major Roland C. Croome, officer in charge of Marine Corps recruiting activities throughout Kentucky and Southern Indiana.

An entirely new concept in recruiting procedures, this will enable eligible applicants to enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps while they are still in school, wait until graduation or the end of the school term, and then be assigned to active duty with the Marines, said Major Croome.

Major Croome said that Danville based Marine recruiting sergeant, Sgt. John Murphy will no longer be restricted on the number of applicants that may qualify for this program. The Major added that two or more applicants may also request to serve together under the Buddy Program which guarantees enlisting, training and returning home on leave together.

Complete information how to actually be a U. S. Marine while still at home may be obtained from Sgt. Murphy at the Post Office in Stanford every Tuesday or the City Hall in Danville.

Here are capsule reports on research conducted last year by various departments of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station and substations:

HORMONES FOR STEERS — When groups of steers were given different levels of stilbestrol and or Synovec (gain-stimulators in synthetic hormone form) no differences in slaughter grades were noticed regardless of the type of treatment. Shrinkage (transit to cooler) also did NOT vary appreciably. Daily gain ranged from 1.08 pounds daily (the control lot) to 1.36 pounds (steers given two pellets implants in the ear).

CALF STARTERS — Calf-starters with less than 13.0 percent crude protein probably will NOT support growth of dairy calves at the proper rate; the dairy department found in a test. The testers conclude that starters should contain at least 13 percent to 16 percent crude protein to insure normal growth.

When fed with a limited amount of whole milk and good alfalfa hay. In the test, the animals getting an 8.5 percent crude protein starter did NOT get the growth support needed. And, costlier 20.0 and 23.7 percent crude protein mixes were not significantly better than the 16 percent starter used in the test.

HELPFUL POTASH — Applying potash to hay crop at Lexington produced about $6 worth of hay at a cost of only $3 in extra fertilizer, agronomists found. About 60 pounds of potash per acre meant the difference, and this amount was almost as good as 120, 240 and 480-pound applications, the testers say.

JOHNSON GRASS SEEDLINGS — An experimental material known as EPTC gave complete control of Johnson grass seedlings in 1957 tests by the station. The material at 6 pounds per acre gave complete control; at 3 pounds per acre, it gave 98 percent control of the seedlings.

HYBRID CORNS FOR SILAGE — Average yield of 20 commercial hybrid corns tested for silage purposes by the state was 114 tons per acre.

TOBACCO BED WEED CONTROL —

TROL — Two materials, one called Mylone, the other a mixture of allyl alcohol and ethylene dibromide, gave about 85 to 90 percent weed control when applied to tobacco plant beds in the fall and spring, respectively, in station tests.

RASPBERRY MULLCH — Sawdust was the best mulch material when tried on Latham red raspberries in station tests. Ground corn cobs and straw (the other mulches) did not perform as well.

BLOTTCHY RIPENING — Station horticulturists corrected blotchy ripening of tomatoes in greenhouses (at Lexington) by adding potash to the fertilizer. When nitrogen only was added, the blotchy ripening showed up.

DWARF HYBRIDS — Dwarf hybrid corns, tested in western Kentucky against regular-size hybrids, ran from 21.8 bushels and 40.8 bushels per acre below the latter yield, depending on stalk population per acre.

CONTROL OF ALFALFA INSECTS — Systemic insecticides (poisons which circulate through the plant's system) worked very well when applied to alfalfa seed by the station. Aphids were controlled up to six weeks after treated seed was planted.

STALK POPULATIONS — When stalk population of hybrid corn was kept at a high level in an adverse corn-growing year, they still outproduced hybrids planted at a much lower plant-population-per-acre figure.

FESCUE PALATABILITY — One line of fescue known as K45-50 showed outstanding results in grazing — palatability tests conducted by the station last year. The line was less outstanding in seedling vigor and dry-matter yields, through high in color retention.

TOBACCO PLANT BED PESTS WILL NEED IMMEDIATE CONTROL — When tobacco plant beds—delayed by cold, wet weather—have been put in and the young plants first come up, four insect pests will need to be controlled.

They are flea-beetles; cutworms; grubworms and slugs, says Richard Thurston, Kentucky Experiment Station entomologist.

"Flea-beetles—so called because they hop like fleas—appear early in tobacco beds. The beetles chew holes in the leaves of the seedlings. A 10 percent DDT dust or a 50 percent wettable-powder spray controls them. Use 1 pound of the dust per 100 square yards of bed, or one-fifth of a pound of the wettable powder in 3 gallons of water for each 100 square yards of bed.

The same materials will kill cutworms—a grayish-brown worm or caterpillar that eats leaves or even cuts down the actual plants.

Grubworms—actually the larva of the green June Beetle!—uproot seedlings by tunneling in tobacco beds. These white-burrowing insects are fairly large and will come anytime in plant bed season. Two pounds of a 1 percent Parathion dust (for each 100 square yards of bed) will stop them. Apply Parathion very carefully, as it is poisonous to humans, Thurston said; follow label directions and safety precautions carefully.

Parathion also controls slugs, a plant bed pest, found when warm weather comes. The slugs (looking like snails without shells) leave slimy trails in the plant bed; they eat seedling leaves. Methaldehyde bait, available commercially, also is effective, as is the bluestone-lime treatment applied for control of wildfire.

Thurston emphasized that when applying sprays, etc., farmers should NOT—under any circumstances—use equipment or utensils that have contained 2, 4-D or similar weed-killers. They will kill tobacco plants, quickly.

NOT PASTURE CATTLE TOO EARLY IN SPRING — Dairymen shouldn't pasture their animals this spring until there are four or five inches of growth on pastures, says the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service.

Injury to the forage will result if heavy grazing is started before sufficient pasture growth has been made. Pasture grazing also may exhaust available herbage before the real pasture season begins.

The problem is acute because dairymen are apt to be caught short of roughage now due to the long, severe winter that passed.

ROOMS HAVE SPACIOUS LOOK THROUGH CAREFUL PLANNING — For the months of March, April and May, the homemakers groups in Rockcastle County are studying lessons concerned with home furnishings. These lessons deal with the feeling of spaciousness in the home and furnishings and also the right combinations of pattern design and texture in home furnishings.

The homemakers will learn in these lessons that it takes careful planning to give a small house the feeling of spaciousness, but it can be done by following a few tested principles. The right use of color and pattern is important throughout.

Reeding colors, such as tints of grayed blue, blue-green or chartreuse, make rooms seem larger. Warm colors are joined with a large opening, the same color in both will greatly increase the apparent size; otherwise, the colors should be closely related. Sharply contrasting colors in adjoining rooms will make one aware of their small size and take away the feeling of restfulness. However, light ceilings may be furnished.

Use wall to wall carpeting or large rugs, straight hanging draperies the color of the walls, and pictures of a size to fit the spaces where they are to hang, rather than a collection of small prints, are other tricks important to the housewife who years for a larger home. Colors in furnishings should be closely allied to the walls and floor covering. If pattern is used in a slip cover or cushion, have it small in scale and harmonious in color.

Furniture, too, must be in scale with the room. Use only those pieces that serve a definite purpose, and arrange them in important groupings. Orderliness in the small home is particularly important.

Accessories should be limited in number and chosen to add accents of color and serve a purpose.

This new-type concrete road is smooth, quiet and comfortable

The highway ride of tomorrow is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for America's newest primary highways

There's not a "hump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever. It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sanded into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icers can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat... stays flat... serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for new primary roads.

Built to cost Kentucky taxpayers less

Only concrete can be engineered to match expected traffic loads, serve 50 years and more. Its first cost is moderate. New-type concrete roads save taxpayers' dollars on maintenance... which will be up to 60% less than for asphalt.

The Signal Says--

THE NEW POST OFFICE IS DEDICATED

Sunday, the new Post Office Building at Mt. Vernon was dedicated by Rep. Eugene Siler in impressive ceremonies.

The new building is a beautiful, modernistic structure, and was generally agreed by dignitaries at the ceremonies, it is a great asset to the city. For many years Mt. Vernon has needed a new federal building. The post office has been in at least two locations in recent years. It is beneficial to the public that it finally has a permanent home.

We offer our congratulations to the personnel of the post office and our best wishes for the future.

OUR MUSICIANS GET HIGH HONORS

This appears to be the issue of the Signal dedicated to congratulations. But to ignore the accomplishments of our county and city grade and high school students would be frowned on by Emily Post.

Last week, the Brodhead A Capella Choir participated in the Regional Music Festival at Richmond, and came home with a top rating. In the same Festival, Mt. Vernon's Band took top honors. A few days before, Brodhead's Future Farmers went to the District meet at Bush, and as usual, received many awards.

These young musicians from Brodhead and Mt. Vernon are a credit to our county. We extend our warmest congratulations, and for our musicians, we wish for their success in the State High School Music Festival in May.

Record March Weather

There's an old saying that if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb. That was not true this year. It came in like a lion and went out like a lion.

According to a story in the Courier-Journal, March broke all records for having more clouds and less sunshine than any of its predecessors for more than half a century.

April came in with the first full day of sunshine for weeks, but by the next morning the clouds were black and the rain was a cold drizzle.

The only two clear days last month were the second and fourth. And not only was it bleak, it was cold—the coldest March since 1947, with daily temperatures averaging five degrees below normal.

The month had another dubious distinction—the most days, 14, on which a trace or more of snow fell. On one day in Rockcastle, there were five separate snows which covered the ground only to be melted by the warm ground.

The snowfall in Rockcastle totaled about 11 inches, just short of the record 14 inches of snow recorded at Louisville in March 1896.

Of all the sunshine that fell on this area last month, Rockcastle got about 20 percent. The previous low was 31 percent in 1906.

In addition to the two clear days, we had five that were partly cloudy, and 24 cloudy days. There were 10 days in the month on which there was no sunshine at all.

Of the 21 days with some sunshine, one day—Friday—the sun shone for a total of four minutes.

There was measurable precipitation on 12 days for a total of 2.13 inches, about an inch and a half under the normal rainfall for March.

The clouds kept the nighttime temperatures up and the daytime temperatures down, so that the maximum temperature

Boost Small Grain Profits With Spring-Added Fertilizer

Wheat yields are higher when soil gets plenty of plant food.

YIELDS of small grains can be boosted and profits increased by the use of sufficient amounts of fertilizer, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing a recent statement by J. R. Guttay, Michigan State University soils scientist.

Fertilizer applications up to 400 pounds per acre should be banded with the seed at planting time, Guttay says. When larger amounts are added, part of the plant food should be broadcast and part banded with the seed. Many farmers have found it pays to use fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash, such as a 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 grade, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. A top-dressing of nitrogen can be profitable, too.

Kansas agronomists report that wheat yields could be increased 9½ bushels per acre by the use of nitrogen, plus the necessary phosphate and potash. Wheat responds more profitably to fertilizer use than virtually any other crop, these soils men say.

It pays, also, to fertilize spring seeded oats. Agronomists report best results when nitrogen is added to the phosphate and potash fertilizer. Indiana tests indicated that oats yields were boosted 12 bushels per acre when 36 pounds of actual nitrogen was added to 300 pounds of 9-12-12 fertilizer. The agronomists say that the nitrogen can be drilled with the oats at seeding time, or top-dressed after the crop comes up.

Up Stalk Population To Boost Corn Yields

Corn yields go up when the stalk population is increased on well-fertilized soil, according to Minnesota soils specialists.

Yields averaged 129 bushels on well-fertilized fields when farmers planted for stands of 16,000 to 18,000 stalks per acre, the specialists report. Yields were only 103 bushels when the stalk population was 16,000 or less.

The soils men's test were summarized by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Home Curing Of Hams Checked At UK

Home curing of hams, a Kentucky tradition, is a delicate process. And no one knows that better than J. K. Kemp, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station meats specialist.

He has just completed a series of intricate tests to determine the best way to keep the companion piece to beaten biscuits edible, tasty and well-preserved. Here's what he has found, generally:

- 1. Higher temperatures during the smoking process are not desirable.
- 2. You may control temperature and smoking in line with the accepted practices—but if you use soft wood, you've been working for naught.
- 3. Hams smoked at higher temperatures have a higher shrinkage rate; and high temperatures don't bring on the traditional old-ham flavor.

technical skill, got into the experiment because of Kentucky's traditional reputation for old ham with beaten biscuits.

Most home curing in this state is done in the smoker-house on the farm. Hardwoods only can be used, for smoking; Kemp suggests,—maple, hickory, apple, oak, beech. If you want to ruin a dollar-a-pound hunk of meat, use pine. Some people smoke their hams a long time, some a short time, but the time is not as important as the color—a "pecan brown."

Kemp, a scientist who approached his subject with technical skill, got into the experiment because of Kentucky's traditional reputation for old ham with beaten biscuits.

REA To Service New Customers

An extension of Rural Electrification Corporation service to about 4,000 new customers in the rural region of southeastern Kentucky will be made possible by a loan of $851,000 approved March 26, in Washington, by REA officials.

Kentucky's two U. S. Senators, Thurston B. Morton and John Sherman Cooper, said that the money will be made available to the Jackson County Rural Electric Cooperative corporation, McKee, for work which will affect rural areas in Jackson, Laurel, Lee, Clay, Rockcastle, Owensley, Estill, Wolfe, Breathitt and Powell Counties.

The Senators said that the loan also will permit improvement of service to present customers of the Jackson County Cooperative and the construction of three new substations.

livery for mail between any two cities in the United States; to have a happy consecrated working force; to be self-sustaining and serve the people with no deficit.

Mr. Biglin added, "32,000 rural mail carriers travel a work day, a half mile every working day."

If President Eisenhower's bill, which is now before congress, to raise first class mail rates to 4c for local delivery and 5c for out-of-town mail delivery passes, it would allow an increase in salary for employees and would permit new buildings and equipment all over the nation, Mr. Biglin declared.

Mr. Lambert read telegrams from congressmen, John Sherman Cooper and Thurston B. Morton, expressing their regrets at not being able to attend and wishing well for the post office "which the town richly deserves."

The dedication ceremonies closed when the color guard of Mt. Vernon Boy Scout Troop 186 raised the flag, the band played the national anthem and the benediction was given.

The post office was then opened for public inspection.
