when he opened his eyes. He called on his brother to pray.

That he might rest better through the night.

As I sat there and listened with tears in my eyes.

I thanked the Lord I was with him that night.

He prayed so hard laying there that night.

No more suffering in this old sinful world.

Now he is in heaven where the gates are pearl.

We miss our loved ones gone on before.

But if we live right we will meet them once more.

I am a sinner with no cause to write.

We'll be with our master in the glory land.

I am a sinner with no cause to write.

Except to tell how I felt that night.

Caravan From Estill Visits Here

A caravan of bewhiskered "Brothers of the Brush" and calico-clad "Sequi-Belles" visited Mt. Vernon Saturday morning in connection with Estill County's 150th anniversary celebration planned for July 20-26.

About 75 people in 15 automobiles arrived to confer honorary "Brothers of the Brush" titles on Mayor Carl Brown and County Judge Money Ed Cummins in a brief ceremony on the steps of the county courthouse.

County Attorney James W. Lambert delivered a nostalgic welcome address to the visitors in which he spoke of the customs and mores of 1808, the year of the creation of Estill County.

He also noted that the sesqui-centennial anniversary of Rockcastle County will be in 1960—only two years away.

W. D. Moore, spokesman for the caravan and honorary mayor of Irvine in Estill County, conferred the "brothers" titles on our mayor and judge, and offered and invitation to the people of Rockcastle County to attend the coming celebration at Irvine.

During the July 20-26 celebration, there will be a parade each day and a pageant each night in which 250 persons will participate.

Mayor Brown and Judge Cummins both expressed regret that, due to a misunderstanding as to the date of arrival of the caravan, Mt. Vernon will not welcome the visitors was not more elaborate.

Upon leaving Mt. Vernon, the caravan continued on to Somerset and London during the afternoon, returned to Renfro Valley Saturday night, and then on back to Estill County.

Mrs. Mary E. Price Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Price, 88, died Saturday at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital after a long illness. She was the daughter of Elisha Renner and Mary Ann Linville Renner. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Stephens and Mrs. Fossie Hayes, Sand Springs, and Mrs. Jewel Isaac, Cincinnati; 13 grandchildren, and 44 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Monday at the Skeggs Creek Church by Ova Smith. Burial was in Mt. Skiggs Creek Cemetery. Cox Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Paul Green's Play Wilderness Road Will Start Fourth Season This Saturday

"Wilderness Road," Paul Green's prize winning drama, begins its fourth season Saturday at Berea.

The cast this year, with four minor exceptions, is the same which made the third year production a success. Persons portraying the three main characters, Elsie Sims, John and Davie Freeman, are returning—Davie for the fourth season.

Staged in open air Indian Port Theater each night except Sundays until Aug. 30, the drama recalls War-between-States days in Eastern Kentucky. It is history in the raw, showing the wilderness road traveled in ignorance and misunderstanding, through a war which divided families and loved ones.

Berea offers more to visitors than the dramatic production. Elsie Sims, John and Davie Freeman are modern and reasonably priced. The area around Berea is particularly scenic and historical. A thrill package is available to youth groups. The package entitles the group to 24 hours of guided sight seeing and tours to unusual exhibits of science, mountain arts, crafts and music.

Telephone Hearing

The Public Service Commission has reset the date for the hearing on an adjustment of rates for telephone service for Rockcastle and Pulaski Counties. The North-eastern Telephone Co. has announced that the new date for the hearing is July 14, at the Commission's offices in Frankfort.

The Commission requested that the hearing be carried over in order that they might cross-examine the officials who testified Wednesday.

Sign-Up Date Tomorrow For Swimming Classes

(Friday), the Meridian Women's Club will sign up young people, ages eight through 15, for swimming classes at Somerset. The place for signing up is the new Kentucky Utilities office, and the fee is $7 for the entire period, July 7-18. Buses will carry the students to and from Somerset daily.

Farm Housing Loan Program Is Explained

The expanded farm housing loan program is designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional anti-recession measure, according to Robert C. Winn, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Now an owner of a Rockcastle County farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the four per cent long-term housing loan provided he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use.

Winn said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchenets and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings.

While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do construction work to make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is four per cent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Law Is Passed To Discourage 'Sucker Crops'

The Senate has passed unanimously, H.R. 1056, a bill to discourage the harvesting and marketing of "sucker tobacco." The bill of Congress now goes to the President, and will become law when signed by him. The measure had the full support of Kentucky farm organizations, and of the growers themselves.

Sponsored by every member of the Kentucky congressional delegation, the bill acted on by the Senate today had been introduced in the House by Congressman John C. Watts. Senators Cooper and Morton, who had introduced identical bills in the Senate, urged Senate action on the bill as passed by the House.

The new measure is designed to carry out the intent and purposes of the present tobacco price-support and production control program—which never intended that more than one crop of tobacco should be marketed from the farmer's acreage allotment.

It would discourage the harvesting and marketing of a "sucker crop" providing that the next year's acreage allotment for any farm marketing sucker tobacco would be reduced by an amount equivalent to the acreage from which more than one crop of tobacco was grown and harvested.

Local Youths Take Part In Combat Maneuvers

Albright is a rifleman in Company A of the 38th Infantry. He was graduated from Brodhead High School in 1957 and was later employed by the R. L. Polk Co. in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Both men entered the army in September, 1957, and completed basic combat training at Fort Benning, Ga., before arriving overseas in March.

Get Ready, Girls

Beauty Contest Is Planned Second Year At Brodhead

A beauty contest which was held last year in conjunction with the Brodhead "Little World's Fair" will be held again this year and will be open to any girl in the area from 16 to 25 years old.

Scheduled for Aug. 19, the contest may be entered free of charge, offering in this respect from last year's entry fee plan. Mrs. Rudolph Burdette, Mt. Vernon, and Mrs. Lillian Collett, Brodhead, who are supervising the contest, said the only requirement other than age is that each contestant wear a dress-length evening gown over a bathing suit.

Judging will be in the gowns first, and then in the bathing suits.

An entry-blank appears elsewhere in this issue of the Signal. It should be filled out and mailed to Mrs. Burdette or Mrs. Collett. A contestant needs no one to sponsor her. The winner of the contest will be presented a set of Juggernaut and a silver trophy, and will be eligible to enter the (Continued on Page Four)

Businesses Join In Effort To Lift Sagging Economy

Mayor Carl Brown has officially proclaimed the entire month of July this year as "Buy Now and Save" month in Mt. Vernon.

Merchants and businessmen all over town have joined in an attempt to stimulate slow business through price-reductions and special offers for the campaign.

Mayor Carl Brown

100 Attend Outing At Livingston

A group of 100 girls and women from all over Rockcastle County attended an all-night camping-out meeting at the Livingston Baptist Church Friday.

The event was sponsored by the Rockcastle Baptist Association's W.M.U. The Association's president, Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Carrie Baker, youth leader in the Association, were in charge of the outing.

Early in the evening the group hiked to the top of a mountain near the church for games, a wiener-roast and singing. About 10:30 p. m. they returned to the church for a devotional and later they slept on the floor and benches of the church.

The adults in the group stayed up all night, and the entire group had breakfast in the church Saturday morning.

The adult leaders included: Mrs. John Holbrook, Mrs. Lula Cottingham, Mrs. Raymond Owens and Miss Jessie Mae Howery, all of Brodhead; Mrs. Doris Manning, Mrs. Lucille Halcomb, Mrs. Hazel Hall, Mrs. Irene Bue, all of Livingston; Mrs. James Kinney and Mrs. Raymond McKinney. (Continued on Page Four)

The proclamation issued by Mayor Brown said in part that "we should all strive to stimulate our economy through the wise buying of those things we need, and through the support of our local merchants and businessmen."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce endorsed the campaign and the slogan which will be used in it: "Buy Now And Save."

Local merchants have begun to participate in the drive to varying degrees—some making store-wide reductions and some placing specially-priced articles on sale.

The Signal has brought out free publicity to promote the campaign and is practicing them at various places in the city. These business establishments which have already joined in the drive are:

- Appliance Service Center, F. O. R. Grocery, Rockcastle Farm Service, Brown's One-Stop Shopping Center, Clark Brown's Service Station, Cromer's Service Station, McKinney's Service Station, McKeen's Service Station, A. F. St. Clair, Nee Brothers, S. T. Proctor Lumber Co., John W. Griffin Building Supplies, Hal Way Garage, Hall Way House Service Station, Clyde Payne's Service Station, Gealey's Texaco Service Station, Mt. Vernon Bargain Store, Cincinnati Bargain Store, McBe's Store, J. F. Minto Co., George Owens Service Station, Mt. Vernon Bar-B-Q and Restaurant, Meggard's Drug Store, Bryant Brothers, Durham's Barbershop, Western Auto Associates Store.

As the drive progresses, the Signal will publish the names of those firms that join each week.

The entire proclamation which was issued by the Mayor follows:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: WHEREAS, the economy of this country has been suffering from a recession for several months, causing a loss of jobs, a loss of business, and a general slow-down in the turn-over of capital, and

WHEREAS, we in Mt. Vernon believe it to be our duty to counteract the trend of less buying in any way which seems fair and honest, and

WHEREAS, we believe that a strong economy is one of the first requirements of a strong nation,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that I, Carl Brown, mayor of the city of Mt. Vernon, do hereby declare the entire month of July, 1958, to be a period, in which we (Continued on Page Four)

Frankly Speaking

By Frank C. Strunk
Almost all good newspapers have columnist, and I feel that since the Signal is a good newspaper, it too should have a columnist. So, in the absence of competition, I have elected myself to this lofty position.

Whether I will be a regular columnist will depend largely upon how many other things I am required to do during the course of the week's work, and whether I will have time to spare can come up with something of possible interest for each issue.

Most of the time, comments and interpretations can be taken care of well enough in editorials, but often there are subjects worthy of discussion, yet of such a nature that the relation (Continued on Page Four)

BUY NOW AND SAVE

This week's Signal carries the first advertisements calling attention to what we hope will be a month-long drive through all of July. Since this is our last issue for the month of June, we felt it advisable to begin now.

A "Buy Now And Save" proclamation was issued by Mayor Carl Brown. The Signal, in conjunction with a great many Mt. Vernon merchants and businessmen, has attempted to promote the concept of the campaign as a worthy one.

Obviously, and quite naturally, we hope that through this campaign each and every one of our respective businesses. That is the implicit and explicit purpose of the drive.

But aside from our personal interests, we believe that we may be contributing our part toward a general upturn in our economy, which, it goes without saying, can certainly use a shot in the arm.

Here at the Signal, we have made an overall reduction in prices — on advertising, job printing and circulation. Many of our local businesses have made similar reductions in their prices.

And what for?

Well, we believe that by offering an incentive to you to buy now — that is, by cutting prices — we may be able to induce you, the buying public, to buy those things you need and can afford. And to buy them now, at reduced prices.

In this way, we hope that some of the commodities which we have in stock may be bought and used so that we, in turn, will be able to order more from the manufacturers — the people so many of us work for. The manufacturers, then, can get the wheels of industry rolling again, and our people can get back to work.

"Will this idea work?" you ask.

How can we say? We believe it will. Our best economists tell us that the only real cause for the present recession is, guarded, over-cautious spending. And communities all over the nation are pitching in, in an effort to boost our economy.

This campaign is such an effort here in Mt. Vernon.

"But how can I buy when I don't have money," you ask quite reasonably.

The truth is, you can't. But for those of you who do have money and have been reluctant to spend it, take a look through the Signal this week, and in the coming weeks in July, and see if you don't find articles that you really need. And see if they aren't offered at a price you can afford.

If you find this is true, go on out and support your local businessmen and let us all pull together to awaken our nodding economy.

We are doing our part and we know all of you will, too. Together, we can get the thing done. That much has been proven many times.

Signalites

To the members of the "Wifeavers" whose guests we were last week, our appreciation for the invitation, the hospitality, and especially — the fried chicken.

One thing we've already learned during our short stint in this business is that, the harder we try to explain something, the more likely it is that somebody will misunderstand it.

should all strive to stimulate our economy through the wise buying of those things we need, and through the support of our local merchants and businessmen, and

FURTHER RESOLVED, that I hereby authorized the use of the slogan, "BUY NOW AND SAVE," in connection with any promotion that is connected with the local attempt to stimulate business and strengthen our economy during the month of July.

Carl Brown, Mayor
Mount Vernon, Ky.

tively stiff formality of the traditional editorial doesn't do them justice.

These things, my friends, I shall talk about in this column. For instance, last Saturday morning an event of no mean significance occurred here in our fair city. We were visited by a caravan of Estill Countians who were here in connection with any promotion that is connected with the local attempt to stimulate business and strengthen our economy during the month of July.

These people, about 75 of them, were here for a short time to tell us about their forthcoming sequi-centennial celebration in July.

The men were dressed in derbies or top hats, luxurious whiskers (which were very real), Kentucky Colonial ties and silver-looking smokes.

The ladies wore bonnets and long, flaring dresses and petticoats that swished when they walked.

As these people were being greeted by our public officials, I was in turn offering their invitation to "come see us," it seemed that many of the slick-shorn males standing in the crowd were thinking the same thing that I was. What I wouldn't give to grow a beard like that!

But I glanced around furtively to see someone should read my thoughts and banish me from the clean-shaven midst of the spectators. However, I was again alone, the thought came back. Ah, for such a beard.

Now the sad truth is, that no matter how much one dislikes this civilized ritual of scraping one's face every day, year in, and year out, there is really very little that can be done about it — individually, that is.

If you go for a couple of days without shaving, even your best friends begin to wonder if you're bathing regularly — even though you are — and finally — though I've never gone so far — I suppose a man would just have to make an outpost, a social leper.

But the Estill County men have done it, and are capitalizing on it. By banding together and celebrating the 150th birthday of their county, they have also spelled doom for the razor temporarily, at least. And they're doing something for their town and county.

County Attorney James Lamphere, in a recent address, spoke to the Estill Countians that the 150th anniversary of Rockcastle County was in a couple of years. I don't know whether anyone else paid much attention to this or not, but the wheels started turning in my mind.

If I can hold out for more years, I can get one more person to join us, and our razors away for a much-needed rest, and grow ourselves a beard for the glory of our face and Rockcastle County!

Social Security Representative To Visit More Often

In order to give better service to the citizens of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County, social security representatives will start coming to the Mt. Vernon courthouse on Thursdays of the month, beginning July 1. R. A. Tweedy, manager of the Lexington social security office, has announced that he will be visiting Mt. Vernon on Thursdays.

By meeting the public on Thursdays, several conflicts with other agencies on Wednesdays will be avoided, Tweedy said.

J. A. Henderson, Field Representative assigned to Rockcastle County, will carry out the following schedule during the next three months: July 10, 24; Aug. 14 and 28; and Sept. 11 and 25.

Persons interested in obtaining information about social security or filing claims for social security benefits can see Henderson on the courthouse on the above dates.

All claims originating with a post office address in Rockcastle County are processed in the Lexington office, even though the claimant may actually live in some other county.
