Peeping Tom Stories Have Whole Town Talking

Is there a peeping tom in Mt. Vernon?
It's a safe bet that 90 per cent of the citizens of this town would not hesitate to answer this question, immediately—with either a decided "yes" or "no"—if they were asked this week.
In search of the real answer, the editor of the Signal went out yesterday afternoon and interviewed several persons who were rumored to have seen or heard the mysterious and unwelcome visitor at one time or another during the past several nights.
Since a yes or no answer would certainly be in order, here is our conclusion, reached after careful questioning of persons who should know:
Yes, there is—or at least has been—a peeping tom or a reasonable facsimile operating in the past two weeks or so—mostly in the northwest section of the city.
Before any more fuel is poured on the fire of nervousness bordering on hysteria, that already exists, read some of the facts about the situation and try to decide the most logical answer for yourselves.
Here are some incidents with the rumors all weeded out:
A light in her late teens said she was reading by her window about two and one-half weeks ago about 10:30 p. m. Her shade was raised about five inches. Suddenly she heard someone just outside the window whisper something obscene to her. It was a man's voice, she said. He did not threaten her. She did not see him. Immediately after he spoke, he left, she said.

Last Saturday night about 11 p. m. a woman and her son were alone at home when they heard a knock on the back door. Since they had heard about the prowler before, the son took a gun and answered the door. He saw a man about six feet tall standing there. The man said nothing. He did not attempt to enter. He just turned and left. The boy did not recognize him.
Sunday night about 1 a. m. a man heard a loud noise which sounded like a shot or something thrown against a nearby building. Shortly afterward, he heard a male voice shout "hey." He saw nobody and saw no lights.
About a week ago, a man said he looked out of his window about 10 p. m. and saw someone looking in the window of the house next door. He said the prowler stayed about half an hour looking at first one window of the house and then the next. The man used no light.
The occupants of the house in which the man was looking said they heard someone whisper and directed their attention to their bedroom window. They saw no one and could not understand the whispering. The man left.
At another house the people said they heard a man near one of the windows saying something obscene in a whisper. They did not recognize him.

All these incidents occurred in the same general area of town. The persons who related them did so forthrightly. They were interviewed separately and briefly without fanfare. All of them seemed genuinely concerned and serious.
Some of the rumors which have grown up during the past week are decidedly not true, however.
So far as could be learned the prowler did not break a window and cut himself. The person who lives in the house where this is said to have happened said she had neither seen nor heard a peeping tom, she said.
Many other incidents were either false or exaggerated. Some of the experiences told were entirely out of proportion to the truth when the rumors were checked out with those involved.
Much of the information is nothing more than rumor. Some of it seems almost certainly true.
What is being done?
Police Chief Walter Shepherd and the other two city policemen are on patrol in the area where the incidents occurred. They stay until late at night and, as yet, have seen no prowler.
Many of the men of the town also are patrolling the area regularly and have found no prowler.
They are still looking.
Chief Shepherd was asked what advice he has for the townspeople.

He replied:
"Above all, don't shoot before looking. You may kill some innocent person. Make sure before you shoot."
"Don't open your door at night unless you first identify the person knocking."
"There are enough people on the job to catch a prowler if a call for help is heard. Keep your doors locked and think before you shoot."
The chief's advice seems to be sound enough after hearing some of the psychology of the peeping tom.
The peeping tom is nearly always a person who is "reprehensible" in some way. In the case of Dr. Robert Arnold, the general rule is that the peeping tom is a person who only wants to look—nothing else.
He is afraid of "38's" and "45's" and with women and children he is particularly afraid to hurt them.
This is nevertheless not sufficient reason for leaving your doors and windows unlocked. He could be dangerous, but probably is not.
It seems apparent that, if the prowler comes around and you telephone or shout for help and keep your doors locked, then you are safe.
The biggest danger seems to be in the warning of Chief Shepherd: "Don't shoot without looking. You may kill some innocent person."

Trooper Says Perhaps Light For Holiday

Four traffic accidents resulting in no serious injuries have been investigated by State Trooper Willis Martin during the past week.
Martin was on duty during the long Labor Day weekend as "exceptionally light for traffic accidents."

The first of the four accidents occurred when J. D. Lipps, 22, of Peabody, hit the auto driven by Mrs. Martha Francis Conway, 17, of Frankfort.

Trooper Martin said Mrs. Conway was starting to make a left turn off U. S. 25 about a half-mile south of Mt. Vernon when the car driven by Lipps failed to stop and hit her auto in the rear. The accident occurred about 3:45 p. m. last Thursday.

Lipps was charged with having no operators' license, leaving the scene of an accident, and operating a vehicle with no brakes.

About 10:45 p. m. on Friday, about a quarter-mile south of the Rockcastle—Madison county line, on U. S. 25, a car driven by Robert Joe Lamb, 16, of Berea, started to make a left turn, when a car driven by Carl Herman Alsip, 19, of Cincinnati, hit it from the rear.

Alsip was convicted of following another vehicle too closely in the court of County Judge Money E. Cummins and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Four men were jailed in Livingston after the car they were riding went out of control and broke a telephone pole about 5:35 a. m. Tuesday.

The driver, Ben Henry Nichols, 33, of Pineville, was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

His three companions, Bill Johnson, 19, Levi Nichols, 24, and Paul Nichols, 21, all of Pineville, were charged with public drunkenness.

At the junction of U. S. 25 and U. S. 150 in Mt. Vernon about 2:45 p. m. Tuesday, a car driven by Clyde Stanford Stewart, 39, of Detroit, ran a stop sign and hit a car driven by Burt Auto Cromer, 46, of Mt. Vernon.

Stewart was cited for disregarding a stop sign and Police Judge Larney Durham found him guilty of the charge. His fine was suspended and he was allowed to continue on his way.

Persons going on the trip will attend two crusade meetings.

County Offices Will Close Wednesdays

Several county officers have announced that, beginning immediately, their offices in the courthouse will be closed on Wednesday afternoons.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME—Early on the morning of Labor Day the home of Hershel Barton was destroyed by fire after a kerosene range exploded as Barton started to light it. ## First Major Fire In Two Years Destroys Barton Home Labor Day

Mt. Vernon's first major fire in two years was started early Monday morning when a kerosene range exploded at the home of Hershel Barton off Quarry Street.

Barton's home was completely destroyed, as were the contents of the house, but he and his wife and two children escaped without injury.

Barton, an insurance man, said he had no insurance on the estimated $1,500 worth of clothing and furnishings inside the house.

The kerosene range which exploded as he started to light it had been bought only the day before, Barton said.

Mt. Vernon Fire Chief John Cox said the last fire call made by the department was April 1 this year, when the automobile of Flavil Hunt caught fire.

The last major fire was more than two years ago when the home of Dave Burke near Elmwood Cemetery was destroyed on June 16, 1936.

Most of the fires since that time have been minor ones started again out of the embers, which started in flames, Cox said.

Monday's fire alarm was received at 7:50 a. m. and the volunteer fire crew was on the scene soon afterward.

Later in the day the crew had to return to stop a blaze which started again out of the embers. Damage to the house next door was confined to scorching and blistering of paint.

Barton said he only moved into the house a short time ago. He said the house belonged to relatives of his wife.

Mrs. Lina Holman Dies Recently

Mrs. Lina Coffey Holman, 70, died Aug. 14 at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. She was a member of the Broadhead Christian Church and the wife of Thomas Jefferson Holman.

Survivors include five children, one stepson, 17 grandchildren 10 great-great-grandchildren and other relatives.

A brief remark concerning the recently raised local telephone rates was made by First District Magistrate G. H. Griffin.

He remarked to no further discussion. "They (the Northeastern Telephone Corp.) told us the rates would be cheaper and the service is mighty little better and charge too much," Griffin said.

Pauper's Own
Some $4,000,
Hamm Reports

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court Tuesday approved unanimously an order to grant the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital $350 toward offsetting unpaid accounts totaling some $4,000.

R. H. Hamm, chairman of the hospital's board of directors, told the court that the accounts were owed the hospital by county paupers and could be considered uncollectable.

Hamm said the hospital is a "responsibility of all of us" since it belongs to the county. The court discussed the possibility of installing a central heating system in the county courthouse, but decided to get price estimates on individual heating stoves instead.

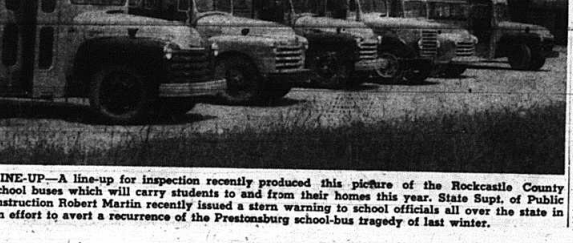

The county jailer told the court that some provision must be made for heating before the coming winter, since the heating stoves now in the courtroom are not in condition to be used.

Present at the meeting—in addition to the regular officers of the court—were N. M. Smock, E. Hunt, Floyd Owens, Bradlee Saylor, B. Saylor, R. H. Hamm and George Murphy.

LINE-UP—A line-up for inspection recently produced this picture of the Rockcastle County school buses which will carry students to and from their homes this year. State Superintendent Robert Martin recently issued a stern warning to school officials all over the state in an effort to avert a recurrence of the Prestonsburg school-bus tragedy of last winter.

Veterinarian Makes Brucellosis Statement

by Dr. James A. Laughlin
Area Veterinarian

Except for a few scattered herds and two small areas, all the cattle in Rockcastle County have been tested.

The two areas that have not been tested are around Conway and Disputanta. Of the scattered herds that are yet to be tested, Dr. K. R. Burdette will test 10 of these herds.

Eleven of the herds that are yet to be tested were left temporarily because a cattle chute was needed in order to handle them. One of the Brucellosis technicians that is now working in the county is expected to get these 11 herds this week plus the area above Disputanta.

There were four small herds that were missed because we did not know the cattle were there. These will be tested in the near future.

Four more herds could not be tested until the tobacco was cut on the farms where the cattle were, in order that the cattle could be driven to the barn. These herds also will be tested in the near future.

There were three farms where the farmers were unable to get their cattle up in a place where they could be tested. We are working on these farms at the present time, working out a way to get the cattle up and in the county.

There are around three other herds that have not been tested for various reasons.

The Conway area mentioned above will be tested this week or the following week.

After this week, we should not have over five to 10 herds left to test except the retesting of infected herds and the retesting of suspect cattle.

Within the past few weeks, we have had some men in the county helping us line up cattle. The names of these men have not been mentioned in previous articles. Line-up men that have been helping us recently are as follows:

John Houston lined the cattle up on the old highway from Mt. Vernon to Broadhead. Robert Willmott lined the cattle up on the north side of Highway 59.

The Conway area mentioned above will be tested this week or the following week.

Brown lined the cattle up in the county. We certainly want to thank these line-up men for helping the county in the eradication of Brucellosis. We want to thank again all the other line-up men that helped us since the program started. Now that we are nearing the end of the program, I would like to emphasize that everyone keep the county clean after it is modified, certified, and free of the disease. If our work will have been done for nothing.

I would also like to mention that you know of any man with cattle that have not been tested, would you please tell me, James A. Laughlin, Area Veterinarian, 100 S. Lee Street, Durham, Mt. Vernon, or have the owner tell us.

We think we have covered the county, but we do not know that more than likely, Bradley lined the cattle up in we have missed some cattle the Freedom community. Roy that we don't know about.

JUST A REMINDER

Saturday is the last day to register if you intend to vote in the November election. A reminder from the county clerk this week is one which should not go unheeded by all those who have an interest in the affairs of their government.

Many of us are much too inclined to criticize our public officers and their acts and yet hardly bother to go to the polls on election day and do anything about changing them or trying to get better ones.

An editorial reprinted from a recent issue of the Muenster, Texas, Enterprise might be worth passing on:
"Back in the 1840's in Dekalb County, Indiana, there lived a grain miller. He had started to his mill one election day, to grind his grain when he met some friends who persuaded him to go to the polls instead. The records show that the candidate to the state legislature won by one vote—and the miller had voted for him. That legislator cast the deciding vote that sent Edward Allen Hannagan to the U. S. Senate. The question of statehood for Texas came up for a vote while Hannagan was acting as president pro tem. The vote was tied, and Hannagan cast the deciding ballot. Texas was admitted to the union . . . because a grain miller decided to go to the polls instead of to his mill on election day!"

The story is self-explanatory. And since you cannot vote if you have not registered, you might drop into the courthouse before Saturday. This includes 18-year-olds, too.

Tobacco Damaged By Excessive Rain, Bullock Says

Rainfall this season has caused 10 to 15 per cent damage to Rockcastle County tobacco crops, according to an announcement this week by John L. Bullock of the local ASC office. Bullock said that corn looks "fairly good" in spite of the excessive rainfall.

He also said that the number of farmers planting in excess of their acreage allowed this year is slightly less than last year, but is still somewhere around 45 per cent of all tobacco farmers in the area.

He gave no reason for the slight decrease in over-planting, but declined to give the crop and aerial photographs in use this season.

Although such photographs have been in use for several years, Bullock said the ones this year are from a superbly unused flight. The photos are on a 3-30 scale, he said.

BY H. Lee Durham, Marsha Owen and Paul Claiborne, Co. Extension Agents.

Control Of Motes By Lye: An old fashioned method of controlling moles by the use of ordinary lye, the kind that would be used around the kitchen, Hooker's, Babbits' or some other brand is all right.

Take a small stick, something like a plaster lath, that is about 24 inches long. Whittle a handle on one end so that you will always pick the stick up by the handle. Reach out as far as you can with this stick and carefully open the fresh runway of the mole. Then take the lye and sprinkle some it down in this open place, perhaps one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful. Then, by using the stick, carefully replace all of the soil, putting it down as close as possible to the hole. Then, if you wish, you can also exclude the light from the runway. The theory is that the mole comes along and gets the lye on its feet, and it is so burnt, then the mole licks its feet and the lye kills it.

This method has been used successfully by some people for many years. On the other hand, there are those who have never had any luck with it. I give it to you to try, but what is worth a Bagworm Control.

Bagworms, a pest of narrow-leaved evergreens, is abundant in certain Kentucky sections.

While small, these pests can be controlled by lead arsenate materials, but actually such control programs are difficult to apply. Other insecticides are recommended. They are Malathion or Toxaphene.

Malathion is chosen, use the 50 per cent emulsion concentrate; if Toxaphene is selected, use the 60 per cent emulsion concentrate. Apply either at the rate of one tablespoonful of material per gallon of water.

Apply all sprays when the outside temperature is below 85 degrees; use plenty of pressure, and apply in sufficient quantity to give a small amount of runoff.

The material Malathion may damage Cannard juniper.

Mid-September Best Date For Planting Winter Crops: Plant a winter crop between mid-September and Oct. 1 each year for the best results, says Verne Finkner, Kentucky Agronomy Extension Specialist.

That's because he found, in a rate of seeding and date of planting, that the best year that yields varied considerably according to planting date.

He used four recommended varieties of winter wheat planted then on Sept. 25; Oct. 7; Oct. 19 and Nov. 8. For each of these plantings, he varied the planting rate, using one bushel of seed to one and one-half bushels, and four bushels.

Average yield for the Sept. 25 date was 69.3 bushels; for the Oct. 7 date, 32.1 bushels; for Oct. 19 and Nov. 8, complete winter-killing.

Finkner noted that when he planted a crop AFTER Oct. 7 at one, two and four bushels seeding rate, the yields dropped off considerably. The one-bushel rate yielded only 14.4 bushels of grain at harvest; the two-bushel, 31.3 bushels; the four-bushel rate, 50.5 bushels at harvest.

These yields are considerably under the yield to be expected when Kentucky certified seed is used, proper planting dates are observed, and good management practiced.

Thus, says Finkner, when planting after Oct. 1, the seeding rate should be increased to as high as four bushels an acre.

For late plantings, he said, use the hardest variety available. Kentucky recommends several varieties and their order of winter-hardiness are Dubois, Bronco, Forked and Atlantic.

He also found that the seeding rate around the recommended date—mid-September to Sept. 25—did not make too

Soil Conservation News: Sod waterways are needed on practically every farm in the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District.

Henry Brown and Floyd Bingham of the Willilla community have both indicated they will build sod waterways when the ground dries sufficiently to work it.

Sod waterways are just what the name indicates—areas where water runs that have been shaped and needed to form a sod waterway may be shaped until they can be mowed or pastured and will produce the same as any other part of the field. They can take the place of ditches or gullies that cannot be crossed with machinery nor do these gullies furnish any production.

Mr. Bingham will use his waterways to carry the runoff from two diversions across a bottom field where the water is causing damage to his crops.

SOMEWHERE THERE IS SOMETHING IN THE PEACEFUL CALM of nature that is greater than our anxieties and doubts; the sight of the deep blue sky and the clustering stars above seems to bring a quiet to the mind. . . .
Rev. Jonathan Edwards.

Anxieties, doubts, fears and frustration are bound to plague us now and then. At times like this it is no easy chore to put our problems aside for a moment to reflect on the every day beauty of nature. However, we suspect that if at times such as this we can bring ourselves to take a step beyond a mere surface appreciation of nature as we see it day by day, then, we may experience a refreshing peace of mind.

'Better Than A Letter From Home'

The vacation season is about over for this year and one thing particularly sticks in our minds as we think back over all our former residents who have dropped in to see us during the past several weeks.

Nearly everyone who lives away and came in to renew his subscription told us the Signal was "better than a letter from home."

Although these people now live in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan or other states, they still consider Kentucky and Rockcastle County their home. And they are still vitally interested in the "goings on" here in the county.

They satisfy this appetite for home-town news by reading the Signal which, as they say, is "better than a letter from home."

If you have a relative who lives out of the county who doesn't already get the paper, why don't you stop in soon and subscribe for him or her. It only costs $3 a year and we take care of all the mailing.

For the person who is away and still takes an interest in his native land, the Signal is "better than a letter from home."
