Timely Tips For Dairy Leaders Plan Now For Fall and Winter Feeding.

September and October are very important months for dairymen to pay attention to their feeding program. This is the time of the year when a shift is made from summer to winter feeding. The following points should be helpful if kept in mind:

1. Any change in feed for the dairy cow should be a gradual change. It is a good idea to start dry feeding in the fall a couple of weeks before you think you should. After a summer slump in milk production, it is hard to get cows to "come back." A little more liberal grain feeding or a little good hay or silage in the evening as the pasture quality goes down will also help prevent this slump.

2. Don't neglect your heifers at this season. If pastures are short and dry, feed two or three pounds of grain and some hay. They must be kept growing if they are to make well grown cows.

3. Have fall-freshening cows in good condition when they freshen. They will give more milk. Calving dates should be checked so cows can be dried off 6 to 8 weeks before freshening. If dry cows can be on the thin side, feed 5 or 6 pounds of grain depending on the condition of the animal.

4. This is a good time to cull low producers. Don't carry boarder cows through the winter on expensive feed. Do a better job of feeding and managing on the better cows this fall and winter. You will also save on labor by culling unprofitable cows.

5. Plan now to sow cover crops following row crops. Wheat, barley, winter oats and vetch may be used. Fall and winter pastures save hay, keep cows in good condition, and hold the top soil.

Bulls According to N. R. Elliott, every home should have some bulbous plants because they bloom so early in the spring; in fact, the crocus will flower in the snow in March. By using these in the selection of the varieties, it is possible to have prize blooms of tulip, jonquil, and lilac. It takes just a few bulbs, planted in groups, to produce marvelous effects. Bulbs should not be scattered in front of evergreens or shrubs because they are lost when planted in this way. The bulbs come early in the spring and, after they have bloomed, annuals should be set among them to prevent bare spaces in the flower borders or beds. The annuals will grow and bloom and not injure the bulbs.

A person should not try to have too many bulbs but specialize on a few carefully selected varieties of tulips or jonquils, and the garden will soon be known for its early spring bloom.

If plants are purchased to add to the planting already growing or if it is a new planting, the fall is an excellent time to do this because it is possible to get the best of the plants from the nurseryman where they have been growing all summer. If plants are being obtained from the woods or fence rows, now is a good time to move them and the selection is best in the fall.

Attention should be given to how the plants are set because well-planted plants are in good condition to live and grow. When setting plants it is good to remember that poor soil is not made any richer by setting a plant in it. Good, live soil should be procured from a vegetable garden or tobacco field and used around the roots of plants at setting time. If the soil is poor where the plants are to be set, the plants should be watered liberally when set, to melt the soil around the roots of the plants.

Your county or home demonstration agent will have copies of Kentucky Extension Circular 374, "How to Plant Shade Trees," Leaflet 201, "Tulips"; and Leaflet 198, "Planting Evergreens." These publications contain timely information about setting these plants that will be helpful.

THE WEEK IN LIVINGSTON

ROBERT WADDLE, REPORTER

GEORGE BALL DIES

News came today of the death of George R. Ball. Mr. Ball was a former resident of Livingston but was a native of Laurel County. He spent most of his life as an employee of the L & N RR Co. and could always be counted as a booster for any worthy cause. He was a member of the Baptist Church, The Masonic Order, The Daughters of America and The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Funeral services were held at Winchester Wednesday, Sept. 24.

ERECT SIGN

State employees spent several hours here Tuesday marking Main Street and erecting signs to regulate parking and "U-Turns" in the school zone. These restrictions were passed solely for the protection of the people and especially School Children. Let's co-operate with Safety and "Save A Life."

NO "TOMS" HERE

We admit that we have not had experience with "Hants", "Ghosts", "Goblins", "Calebs", or "Peeping Toms" and this I guess is the reason for our disbelief. However, we are still hoping for some kind of supernatural shenanigan that will get our town on the front page. If and when we find one we will all be first class believers.

SOCIAL

Mrs. Sam Halcomb is still in Somerset Hospital but is expected home soon.

Mr. Clell Pike is at home and is showing improvement from his recent illness.

RELIGIOUS FILMS

The district program of religious films which were shown at the churches in Livingston ended Wednesday night and marked what we hope was the beginning of a broader program of education among our young people.

BOOKMOBILE

The county Bookmobile made its first school year stop here Tuesday. Most of us have never considered the enormity of the job that a Bookmobile driver undertakes. After looking over the rural stops this lady is required to make each week and knowing the condition of most of the roads she is required to travel, we have decided she would be much safer on a mule.

BUY NOW, SON

We might suggest to prospective real estate buyers that the time to buy property in Livingston is during tax assessment time. At this time all homes become "huts" and real estate is practically valueless.

COAL OPERATIONS

Coal operations in our end of the county are increasing daily. Another large company plans to start operation in the Skeggs Creek section soon. It would pay you to drive to these mines, all of which are using modern mining methods, and inspect Rockcastle county's newest industry.

FACTORY NEWS

News of a possible factory in Rockcastle County comes as a shot in the arm to a community that is on the verge of gasping its last economic breath. Even if this never materializes (as some cynics predict) it will have at least given us another reason to take stock of our condition and cause some of us to help instead of hindering. Let's not forget the old adage that "Lakes begets like", and that no town got all its industry at one fell swoop. If we can attract one factory and help to make it successful we shall have the best possible means of attracting others. Industry located in any part of our county will boost the economy of all of us. Let's all try working as a county unit and forget our childish jealousies. Our combined efforts can accomplish anything we desire.

WATER SYSTEM

Final plans and estimates have been completed on our proposed water system and have been submitted to council for study. State Law provides that things of this nature must be decided at a regular meeting of City Council. Their next regular meeting will be Oct. 6. It is expected that some definite action will be taken then. There is always the possibility that it may be necessary to alter or revise the plans as submitted in order to protect the interests of the people. But Council assures you that your welfare will govern their action.

BASKETBALL SIGNS

Signs here indicate that some little thought is being given to a very popular pastime known as basketball. We will not comment on the merits of athletics of a competitive nature as compared with mathematics or spelling but we sometimes wonder if the atom was discovered on a basketball court.

ATTENTION NIMRODS

For our out-of-town readers who plan to come home for few days hunting the local "nimrods" report squirrels more plentiful now than at the beginning of the season.

COULD IT BE... BEER?

On at least two side roads outside the city limits there is an evergrowing pile of empty tin cans that strongly resemble beer cans. It is possible that people from other counties are hauling these empty cans here and dumping them on our side roads? We cannot accuse anyone of "dry law" violation but we can't not help wondering where all these empty cans came from.

TO A TERRAPIN

We read that Allen Trout must take all his problems to a terrapin and have decided that we have a more reliable system in Livingston. We have what is known as a "Curbstone Committee." Problems that would stump Einstein or Noah Webster are decided by this committee at the drop of a hat. They meet daily rain or shine, on Main Street and discuss everything from woolly-worms to World Wars. The only subject they have ever started that hasn't been finished is the weather problem. Our "Thought: Evil is wrought from lack of thought."

THE LORD'S DAY, and MURPHY DAY

By G. W. Murphy
Sunday, September 21st, 1953 my self (Bro.) Murphy, and wife Sarah, met with 4 of our children at the home of our son, George W. Murphy, Jr., at 822 South Gay place Lexington, Ky. Our oldest child Edna (Mrs. Burley Laker) and her husband of Lexington, Our son Conn C. Murphy, and wife Sarah Frances, of Amelia Ohio, and Norma Jean Mason and her husband Bobby Gene Mason of Covington, Ky. met us there at George's. We have four children, namely Lloyd P. Murphy, and Charles B. Murphy, of Cincinnati, Ohio, Margaret Botkins, of Berea Ky., and Louise Linkous of Mt. Vernon, Ky., that was not there, however there was 10 of our grandchildren out of 17 there, and one great grandchild out of two with us. The total present being 24. A special dinner consisting of every thing good to eat was spread, and after dinner George Jr., took us men folks to the I.B.M. plant where he works, there we met Jess Taylor, who is a Mt. Vernon boy, and one time Sheriff of Rockcastle County, he is now one of the police of the plant, George and Jess would be for me to try out one of the I.B.M. typewriters and I must confess they are wonderful machines. After we returned back to the home of George, I had my tape recorder along, and we made a recording of some important events, one being singing "Happy Birthday for George," and each person present had something to say for the occasion.

It might be of interest to you, who read this writing to know that there are three of my family that have birthdays in Sept. my-self Sept. 2nd 1890, George Jr., Sept. 21, 1924, and Norma Jean Sept. 25, 1933. It was a very enjoyable day for me and my good wife, but if we all could have been together, it would have been more enjoyable. If all of us had been there it would stack up to 29. "Nuff said".

"Right" Crop Can Put Top Income in Farmer's Pocket

IT PAYS farmers to select the "right" crop that can put the top income in their pockets at harvest time, reports the Mid-west division of the National Farm Plan, a statement in clipping statements by Midwest farm economists.

Dr. L. H. Brown, Michigan State University agricultural economist says the job of crop selection consists of "fitting the crop to the capability of the land and the soil, and the highest value of crops if it is kept in hay and pasture 50 to 70 per cent of the time," he says.

"High capability land will produce more profit if it grows higher value crops like corn and wheat most of the time."
"The amount of labor required to produce corn has been cut from about 30 hours per acre 20 years ago to 10 hours at present."
D. F. Wilken, University of Illinois farm management specialist, reports that corn is the most profitable crop. Total income from corn averaged $77 per acre in Illinois in the 1951-52 period, he says. Soybeans averaged $54 an acre, wheat $54, mixed hay $32 and oats, $23.

"Getting the high yields that cut costs and build income, involves supplying the soil with needed plant food based on soil tests, preparing a good seedbed, planting sufficient kernels per acre to use the nutrients and controlling weeds and insects," says a statement by the Institute.

"Where soil tests indicate the land is low in phosphorus and ash, farmers will need to add large amounts of these nutrients, the statement points out. Nitrogen is needed, too. These large fertilizer applications should be broadcast and plowed down, or worked into the soil before planting," says the committee. It is wise to add a row of trees in the planter attachment as a matter of insurance.

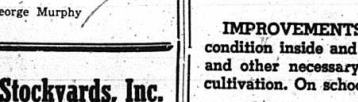

"During the past few years a major addition to business in the South has been the fast-growing trading stamp industry."
"Proof of the growing importance stamps play in bolstering the area's economy is found in the Southern operations of The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, distributors of the widely-known S&H Green Stamps.

"In 1957 alone, S&H purchased more than $12 million worth of merchandise from Southern manufacturers, providing many of the area's industries with increased outlets for their products and boosting Southern payrolls.

"Added to those figures is the $2,250,000 annual payroll written by S&H for its present and growing 866-person Southern personnel. The Company has invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in real estate to locate its modern redemption centers, indicating that the industry has become a permanent part of the area's business life."

Second Factory Seeks Labor; Men, Women Urged To Apply

R. H. Hamm Says Present Situation Looks "Favorable"

Prospects of a second factory in Mt. Vernon came hot on the heels of last week's announcement of a clothing plant's desire to locate here.

R. H. Hamm, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Rockcastle County Development Corp., said this week that things look "favorable" for both the first factory and the second, which would manufacture stainless steel sinks—to begin operation in Mt. Vernon.

Hamm emphasized that men as well as women are urged to apply at the courthouse today and tomorrow for jobs with the prospective industries.

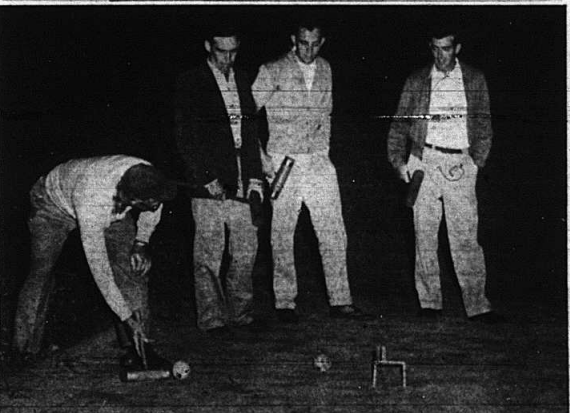

The sink manufacturer will employ some 30 men full-time if arrangements here are satisfactory, he added.

The Department of Economic Security-Employment Division is conducting the labor survey from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. today and tomorrow, Sept. 25 and 26, to determine if a labor supply sufficient to meet the demands of the factories is available in Rockcastle County or adjoining areas.

The courthouse will be open night both today and tomorrow to take information from those persons who find it impossible to be there during the daytime. The hours at night are 7 to 9 o'clock.

The announcement last week said the clothing factory would employ some 100 women—not necessarily experienced—if it begins operations here.

Kentucky Delegation Goes To Budget Bureau Monday

The Kentucky Congressional delegation will go before the House of the Budget on Monday, Sept. 29, to submit its reworks expenditures in Kentucky commendations for civil public for 1959-60.

The annual presentation was arranged and coordinated by Kentucky Senators Thurston B. Morton and John Sherman Cooper and U. S. Representative William H. Natcher, Bowling Green, Natcher, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, is the only Kentuckian in Congress serving on an appropriations committee.

The delegation will detail its program for expenditures on flood control, navigation, multipurpose and other Corps of Engineers projects within Kentucky, and recommend outlays on at least two Virginia flood control reservoirs which affect the Eastern Kentucky region.

Kentucky ranks second only to California in appropriations for waterways projects in 1958-59. The Commonwealth was allocated approximately $52 million for construction or engineering work on some dozen projects.

During the recent Congress, the Kentucky delegation succeeded in obtaining money for one new construction start and one new engineering and design start—two of the few approved in the entire United States.

Courses Open Now, Army Says

M-Sgt. Willard C. Hunt, local U. S. Army recruiting officer, has announced that he has just received a complete new listing from the Department of the Army that many technical schools are available to qualified personnel during the third quarter of this fiscal year.

The schools are open to high school graduates and college graduates.

The list includes such courses as aircraft maintenance, chemical laboratory procedures, refrigeration, process photography, neuropsychiatric procedures, military body repair, motion picture photography, radar repair, electronics, guided missiles, machine accounting and many others. These courses vary in length from eight to 41 weeks.

Sgt. Hunt said he feels this is a good opportunity for qualified youths to select a technical course of instruction to qualify for good positions while serving military obligations.

These schools are open for a short time only after a new listing is received, Sgt. Hunt said, and they are open across the nation and are quickly filled after publication of each quarterly listing.

Sgt. Hunt said anyone interested should contact him at the local Service Office or visit him in his office in the Post Office Building in Danville for more information without obligation.

Cooper Lauds Department For School Lunch Aid

Sen. John Sherman Cooper recently lauded the Agriculture Department's rapid response to his request for additional assistance in stimulating the school lunch program in Eastern Kentucky, where mine shutdown and general unemployment have made the program more important than ever.

In his statement Senator Cooper stressed the concern he had felt during the past several months over economic conditions in many counties of Eastern Kentucky. Upon his arrival in the state, following adjournment of the Congress, he verified his suspicion of the great need and pledged his help wherever possible.

Disturbed by the fact that many school children could not be adequately fed at home, the Kentucky senator contacted the Department of Agriculture to request that it obtain more food commodities for the school lunch program, so that school children in the depressed areas could avail themselves of a hearty lunch at midday.

In Washington, the Department of Agriculture authorities agreed to send a representative to Eastern Kentucky, upon the request of Senator Cooper, to investigate the school lunch program there, so that changes may be made where needed.

In the meantime, Senator Cooper received assurance that the allocation of school lunch program commodities, initially scheduled for the entire State of Kentucky—turkeys, canned beans, peas, peaches and blackberries—now en route to the schools in the Eastern Section, where students are mainly from families affected by the siege of unemployment, can be expedited.

During the 85th Congress, Senator Cooper helped in securing the passage of legislation to expand the appropriations providing for school lunch program. With the increase of $35,000,000 under the new law, the Department of Agriculture is able to supplement their previous provisions of wheat flour, corn meal, butter, rice, cheese and dried milk with meat, fowl, fruits and vegetables.

Senator Cooper expressed extreme gratification over the liberalization of the school lunch program, and cited the circumstances in Eastern Kentucky as the perfect example of his intent. He commended the Department of Agriculture for its recognition of a crisis, and praised Thomas Lewis, Kentucky director of Community distribution, for his cooperation.

Boost Winter Wheat Profits With Fall-Added Fertilizer

Midwestern farmers can make higher profits from winter wheat despite average allotments by effective fertilization this fall, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a new information from college agronomists.

Illinois, says the committee, wheat yields have been increased from 14 to 16 bushels per acre with applications of fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Effective fertilization based on soil tests boosts wheat profits in two ways: 1—Fewer acres are needed to produce the same amount of grain. This, in turn, cuts costly seed-bed preparation; 2—By spreading fixed costs of production over a greater output per acre, the net return is increased on each bushel of wheat.

Higher yields and higher profits come from wheat fertilized with nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Member, says the committee, "is to get the fertilizer on the soil before the wheat is planted."

Where soil tests show medium and higher fertility levels, a row application of fertilizer at planting time with the grain will give good results. The row application can also be used to supplement a broadcast and provide a top-dressing. Use minimum tillage to provide water and control erosion by earlier plowing and a mulch cover in the drier regions.

Agonomists list these management practices for profitable wheat production: 1—Use recommended variety for the particular area; 2—Use minimum tillage to provide water and control erosion by earlier plowing and a mulch cover in the drier regions.

Happy riding... on modern, smooth-riding concrete

There's no "fighting the wheel"
...new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No bouncing and bumping! No dips and waves! Only concrete can be laid so flat... placed and leveled to such highly accurate engineering standards - not just pounded into shape by years.

Expect that smooth ride to last 50 years or more - for two big reasons. The first is the concrete itself, supported by a specially designed subbase that gives it greater strength. Second is "air entrainment," a new process, that prevents surface roughening by freezing and de-icers.

Sound reasons why concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System and other vital roads.

Concrete Increases in strength
Concrete actually improves with age - gets up to 20% stronger in five years. Here's a durability "bonus" only concrete gives. Cracking resistance tests under laboratory conditions prove it. It's another reason why concrete lasts longer, costs less to maintain.

SOME OF THOSE LETTERS ARE RIGGED

Reprinted from the SUN-DEMOCRAT, Paducah, Ky. There are some unprecedented things happening in the Democratic primary for governor of Kentucky, and it has disturbed us as a newspaperman trying to keep his columns free from any bias or prejudices, especially the letters to the editor feature, which many readers of a paper value so highly.

It is amusing and at the same time very annoying to note that some newspapers of the state, in cooperating with their favorite candidate for governor, are doing things that, when found out by the general public, will cause it to wonder about the honesty of some letters to the editor.

All three of the candidates are aware of the fact that they can get some boosts for their campaign in some newspapers merely by asking their friends to sign letters to the editor which they themselves have prepared in behalf of their candidacy.

We have never seen this before in any other election, and we think that the newspaper that indulges such practices will find itself in disrepute, and that very quickly.

Some of the best quiz programs on the TV networks unquestionably have been very seriously damaged because some people have charged that questions were given in advance to some of the participants; in other words, the programs were rigged.

If it is not rigging the letters to the editor column of a newspaper when a candidate is permitted to write the letters or to have some of their campaign associates write them and get them signed by friends? We think it is, and we believe the public will too when it learns what really is happening.

MORE ABOUT LETTERS

We reprinted the above editorial from the Paducah Sun-Democrat because we thought it important to bring it to the attention of the public at such a politically torrid time.

The letters-to-the-editor column is one of the most widely read features in most newspapers and, in being such, exerts one of the strongest influences on public opinion. We believe the interest of the Paducah paper in publishing this editorial to be worthy of our support and so we pass the message of to you.

And while we are on the subject of readers' letters, we should point out that we at the Signal have a very liberal policy in printing letters—on the comparatively rare occasions when we receive them.

We will print any letter in the public interest so long as it is not scandalous, libelous, profane or in poor taste. Our basic requirement is that the letter be signed by the writer.

If the writer, for some obvious reason, does not wish his name printed, we will withhold it upon request to do so.

We believe that one of the responsibilities of a newspaper is to provide a means of expression for its readers as well as for its editors. The Signal tries to do this by leaving its letters column open for your use.

If there is something you don't like—or do like—and you want others to know about it, then write us a letter and sign your name. It will cost you only the price of mailing a letter to let our readers everywhere know about it.

Name On Letter Printed In Error

In last week's signal, a letter to the editor was printed with the signature "J. C. Baker." A subsequent checking of records revealed that no such person is listed on the county tax books. The letter was written by one J. C. Bales, not J. C. Baker.

ARTICLE BY LAWRENCE LADER HITS ARCHAIC FEE SYSTEM

The anachronistic practice of paying local officials by fee instead of salary has created a heavy drain which stretches from coast to coast, says an article in the October Reader's Digest.

In the article, "A National Scandal—the Fee System," Lawrence Lader points out that once a year, the tax collector for tiny Franklinborough, Pa. (population: 1800) strolls into the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant to pick up its tax check. That walk nets him close to $14,000. Lader terms Pennsylvania "the nation's outstanding fee paradise."

The manager of an auto-license branch office in Fort Wayne, Ind., grossed $101,482 last year from license and registration fees. The sheriff of Coahoma County, Miss., listed a net income of $26,868. The probate judge of Hartford, Conn., netted $42,058 last year, which gave him an income larger than the Chief Justice of the United States. And one justice of the peace in Las Vegas, Nev., cleared $40,000 a year performing marriages.

Perhaps the cruelest application of the fee system, Lader writes, is in the payment of fees to sheriffs for feeding prisoners. At least half of our states still do this, despite campaigns against it by the American Prison Association and U. S. Bureau of Prisons.

The sheriff usually gets a daily fee of $1 to $2 per prisoner. In addition, the sheriff usually receives a "key fee," 50 cents to $1 for admitting each prisoner, and the same amount for releasing him again. This encourages roundup of vagrants and any other easy prey, regularly filling and emptying the jails, to collect the fees.

What is needed to correct the situation, writes Lader, is "bold legislative action, supported by leading officials; the press; citizens' groups and a concerted explosion of public anger that will sweep away the corruption and injustice of the fee system in every state."

The article is condensed from the National Municipal Review.

'Better Than A Letter From Home'

The vacation season is about over for this year and one thing particularly sticks in our minds as we think back over all our former residents who have dropped in to see us during the past several weeks.

Nearly everyone who lives away and came in to renew his subscription told us the Signal was "better than a letter from home."

Although these people now live in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan or other states, they still consider Kentucky and Rockcastle County their home. And they are still vitally interested in the "goings on" here in the county.

They satisfy this appetite for home-town news by reading the Signal which, as they say, is "better than a letter from home."

If you have a relative who lives out of the county who doesn't already get the paper, why don't you stop in soon and subscribe for him or her. It only costs $3 a year and we take care of all the mailing.

For the person who is away and still takes an interest in his native land, the Signal is "better than a letter from home."

Perhaps one of the very few comforting outlooks at misfortune is its ability to bring our friends—true friends—into sharper focus. When all goes well we seldom suffer from a shortage of "friends." However, misfortune often creates situations where it is only natural that friends worthy of the name are quick to lend a helping and sincere hand. And it is at this time, of course, that our less sincere friends are, for a thousand and one reasons, unavail-

"My tobacco is in the barn... and it's protected by FARM BUREAU"

I'm taking no chances with my tobacco crop this year while it's in the barn. I've just taken out a FARM BUREAU fire and extended coverage policy that gives me full protection at a very small cost. If you don't have this type of protection, I'd suggest you see your local Farm Bureau agent right away.
