

THE WEEK IN LIVINGSTON

ROBERT WADDLE, REPORTER

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Poynter celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 28, by holding "Open House" for friends and relatives. The highlight of the day was an address by Rev. Hughie Pander, who united the Poynters in matrimony 50 years ago. It is unusual for most people to have the opportunity to celebrate a Golden Anniversary and it is almost a miracle to have the officiating minister present. Our congratulations and best wishes to the Poynters.

TELEPHONE LOCATION . . .

We are going to stick our neck out and predict that the new automatic exchange for our proposed telephone system will be located on the lot owned by J. P. Nicely's store was located. This information comes from our curbside committee.

DIABETES DETECTION . . .

The search for 15,000 undiagnosed diabetics in Kentucky opens November 16 and runs through Nov. 22. This is the start of the 1938 Diabetes Detection and Education Drive of the Kentucky State Medical Association. Association. This drive, aimed at managing diabetes, one of the nations 10 top killers, was made by Robert J. Hoffman, M. D., of the University of Michigan, chairman of the KSMA Diabetes Committee. He urged everyone in the state to take advantage of the free tests offered by physician members of the KSMA, laboratories, and hospitals throughout the state. Early detection, the key to mastery of this dread disease, is the goal of the week which has been officially proclaimed in Kentucky by Governor A. B. Chandler. This unique FREE drive has led to the discovery of more than 1,000 diabetics in Kentucky since its start eight years ago. Mark this date and take advantage of a golden opportunity.

SPORTS NIGHT

The athletic meet staged at the Livingston Gym Friday night was a marked success if you base your achievements on attendance. At 6:30 p. m. there was "Standing Room Only". We did not get the scores on any contest except the basketball game between Livingston and Hustonville, which resulted in a 5-point win for Hustonville. Our vote for outstanding athlete goes to little Kathy Hughes, who gave a demonstration with a hula hoop. Kathy, in our opinion, stole the show. We could not help wondering what the reaction of our preachers would be if they should ever get a crowd like that, in their church on Sunday night.

Saturday making some changes in their plans for our water system. They inform us that the State Board of Health is studying their proposal and as soon as the plans are assessed they will be advertised for bids. False and misleading rumors that the city has dropped this project are going the rounds of Gossip Row, in order to offset these rumors the City Council invites you to attend their next regular meeting and see for yourself the progress that has been made.

BAD TV RECEPTION

The low, cloudy weather that has prevailed here for the past few days has almost put the neighborhood in mourning. It seems that television reception is practically zero. That, my friend, is a calamity in anybody's book. I have heard that a few people have been caught reading, visiting and going to bed early enough Saturday night to attend Sunday School.

INSTALLATION SERVICES

Installation Services for new W. M. S. Officers of the Livingston Baptist Church was held last Friday evening. Mrs. Johnson of Brodhead was the installing officer for the church. The new W. M. S. officer, Mrs. Reynolds, gave a very interesting devotional, which was followed by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the church. Following are the names and officers of the new appointees: Doris Manning, President; Pauline Poynter, Secretary and Treasurer; Pauline French, Pray-er; Chairman, Jane Smith, Stewardship Chairman; Irene Bales, Community Mission Chairman; Mrs. Henry Mason, Mission Study Chairman; Lucille Halcomb, G. A. Leader; Monnie Stallworth, Sun Beam Band Leader.

SOCIAL GLIMPSES

Mrs. C. H. Webb, who had a tonsilectomy at a Corbin, Ky. Hospital last week, suffered a slight relapse and had to re-enter the hospital for further treatment Tuesday.

Several members of the local Daughters of America Chapter attended a Lodge Rally at Lily, Ky., Tuesday night.

INJUSTICE REVIEWED

Our article last week that was headed, "Injustice" has demonstrated that it was incomplete and that it should have been written in plainer language. Well, here's a clue. It has to do with the installation of what we think was a very necessary telephone which had been promised for November 1937, almost a year ago.

GET RICH SCHEME

We promised you last week

a foolproof scheme to get rich, so here goes. Start a cat ranch with 100,000 cats. Each cat will average 12 kittens a year. The catkins will sell for 30 cents each. One hundred men can skin 8000 cats a day. We figure a daily profit of over $10,000 dollars. Then start a rat ranch next door with one million rats. The rats will breed 12 times faster than the cats. So we will have 4 rats to feed each day to each cat. We will feed the rats the carcasses of the cats after they have been skinned. So figure it this way; we feed the rats to the cats and the cats to the rats and get the skins for nothing.

GOURD SEEDS

Reader friends from five states have requested gourd seed and most of them have written letters. This is to thank each of you for your interest in our paper and to invite you to write again, especially if you should have news of Rockcastle natives who are making their home in other states. We still have a very plentiful supply of gourd and "plumgranny" seed.

FACTORY BOOST

What has happened to our County Factory? Is it already dead or will a transfusion save it? Let's try a shot of civic push given daily, top it off with a double transfusion of publicity given weekly, and start the patient a generous diet of citizen co-operation, and I believe we can pull her through.

We are glad to learn that John Halcomb is recovering from his recent illness and is able to be out again.

C. H. Webb, champion fisherman of these parts, is in danger of losing his trophy. We hear that H. R. Mason has caught the fever and is in Florida. We don't know if he is there to catch one of his own or to verify Webb's catch.

MORE SOCIALS WANTED

We have been requested to run a social section in this column and we are to start next week. If you have news of out-of-town visitors, socials, parties or anything you think may be of interest to the community, please, leave your information at City Hall before noon each Tuesday.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Halloween Party planned for Friday night at the school will be the best one yet, according to plans of today. Fun, games and contests will be the general theme. There will be something to interest everyone and it is hoped that this will keep all the goblins so busy having good clean fun they will have no time for damaging peoples property. We have already had a little preview of witches with soap. It would be wonderful if we could all treat the other fellows gate or chic sale like we would treat our own. Isn't it possible that the stories we told our youngsters of the things we did on Halloween is bearing fruit?

CHILD CARE

We have had no new developments on the Lettered Rock "Barnim", so we leave you with this thought: Parents spend the early part of a child's life trying to get it to walk and talk and the latter part of its childhood trying to get it to shut up and sit down.

BURR

Mrs. Hazel Hickey and Mrs. Delie Smith Hickey of Lexington, visited friends and relatives last week. They were on their way to Florida. They plan to spend most of the winter there. The little baby of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owens is reported ill.

J. M. Felner 4-H Camp

During the latter part of 1954, a movement was started by a group of leaders, business men and other supporters of 4-H Club work to build a camp for the 4-H Club members of Eastern Kentucky.

Representatives from 20 counties were invited to attend a meeting at the Quicksand Sub-station in Breathitt County. At this meeting there was a discussion on organization of the camp, facilities for the camp, financing the camp and where the camp should be located. Temporary committees were appointed and other meeting dates were set. The other meeting eventually led into the organization known as the J. M. Felner 4-H Camp Organization.

This organization was chartered by the state of Kentucky as a non-profit, non-stock corporation. Permanent committees were appointed on organization, facilities, finance and location and a director was elected from each county.

Local people who have served in this organization from the beginning are: Robert F. Spence, President of the Corporation; Clyde Linville, Organization Committee; Kenneth Stewart, County Director; Clyde Jones, Facilities Committee; N. M. Smock, Finance Committee; John Hesse, Location Committee; Bradley Starke was later elected as chairman of the Finance Committee for the Organization.

Several people from these various committees traveled over Eastern Kentucky trying to find a suitable location for the camp. Camp sites were considered by the committee in Jackson, Clay, Laurel, Breathitt and Bell Counties, before a 42 acre site was selected in Laurel County. The tract adjoins and lies partly in Levi Jackson State Park near London and was offered by the citizens of Laurel County with the cooperation of the State Park Commission. The camp was named for the late J. M. Felner of London, the first full-time leader in this district.

After the site was selected, Mr. Ted Strunk, Berea, Engineer; and Mr. D. E. Perkins, Architect, drew up the plans for the buildings and the lake site.

The master plan for the camp will include 11 small cottages, four large cottages, two bath houses, a large kitchen and dining room, a camp manager house, a cook shack, one shelter house, a crafts shop and an assembly building.

Cost of the camp project has been estimated at $1,000,000. The camp will serve an estimated 10,000 4-H Club members in a 20-county area, including local 4-H members. Some of the most recent developments in the camping program are as follows:

On Oct. 1, 1958, the annual meeting of the Felner 4-H Camp, Inc., was held at London. The counties were divided into four areas with an area director selected for each section. Area no. 1 includes: Letcher, Knott, Perry, Leslie, and Breathitt Counties. Director for this area is to be named in the near future. Area no. 2 includes: Wolfe, Powell, Lee, Estill and Owsley Counties. The director for area 2 is Mrs. W. P. Cecil, Campton, Ky. Area no. 3 includes: Jackson, Clay, Laurel, Rockcastle and Scott. Madison Counties. Area director is Mr. Jess Wilson, McKee, Ky. Area no. 4 includes: Harlan, Bell, Knox, Whitley, and McCurtain Counties. Director is Mr. J. W. Prewitt, Corbin, Ky.

New officers for the corporation are: President, Woodrow Moore; Vice President, William A. Hamm, London; Second Vice-President, J. A. Smith, Hazard; Treasurer, Howard Jones, Middleboro.

On January 6, 1958, a bulldozer made its way through the woods on the Felner 4-H Camp site and began the grading and clearing of the spot where the dining room and kitchen will be built. A gravel road has been constructed from the main highway to the camp site.

Several counties have been busy in recent months in campaigns to raise money for the camp project. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors on September 24, 1958, a report was given by each county on the methods they had used in raising money and the amount of money the county had turned in to the camp fund.

The treasurer's report shows a total of $12,500 on hand. There is a possibility that the camp may be used this year if all the counties involved can raise approximately $54,820 by February 1. This money, if raised, will be added to the amount already on hand to construct the dining room and kitchen at a cost of $35,000; a $30,000 water system; two bath houses which will cost $9,000; electrical wiring at a cost of $1,000; dining room and kitchen at a cost of $9,000; sleeping quarters (tent), $3,600; caretaker's cabin, $3,600.

The future of the camp project depends largely upon the fund raising activities and contribution of the people of Eastern Kentucky.

Rockcastle County's 4-H members and council have already contributed some money toward this project. Other fund raising activities have been planned by the Rockcastle County 4-H Council.

Should Dairy Calves Be Fed Silage?

Kentucky dairymen very often inquire about how much silage can be fed to dairy calves and heifers. Will they grow as rapidly when fed silage as when they are fed hay?

The answer to this question is found in research work reported by the Dairy Husbandry Research Branch at Beltsville, Md., and the University of New Hampshire Dairy Department. Both of these stations found that heifer calves did not gain so rapidly when fed grass silage, alfalfa silage or corn silage alone as they did when fed alfalfa hay alone or a limited amount of alfalfa with the silage. Furthermore, when no silage was fed and alfalfa hay provided the only roughage, the gains in weight were the greatest.

Both groups of research workers used the limited grain feeding plan. Grain was discontinued when a total of 500 pounds had been fed per animal. This was usually at about eight months of age.

In general, it would be best to feed the calves at least one pound a hay-per hundred lbs. of weight per day if they are getting silage. This will be true up through at least one year of age.

The Beltsville work indicated they found some differences in eating habits by breeds. When the young calves were allowed a choice of silage or hay, the Jersey calves ate 3 times as much dry matter in the form of hay as silage compared to the equal quantities of each for the Holstein calves.

Keep good hay, preferably alfalfa, before your calves and feed silage in the more limited quantities to get growthy animals.

Suggestions For Furniture Care

A much discussed topic in Homemakers Clubs this past month has been suggestions for furniture care. The homemakers are so well pleased with the lesson that they felt that others should have the information; too.

First of all, FURNITURE WASH: Periodically furniture woods become soiled and need cleaning. Mix 1 quart of warm water, 3 tablespoons linseed oil, 1 tablespoon turpentine and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Keep this mixture warm and go over the furniture with a cloth dampened in the above mixture and wrung dry. Wash each area until clean, then polish with a clean dry cloth. Usually this is the only treatment needed for most pieces. The wash removes the grease and dirt from the surface and the oil polishes the finish. This treatment often removes the white spots and most of the scratches.

Never scrub furniture woods with hot, soapy water unless you are certain the finish is waterproof and if free from any breaks in the surface.

Light scratches may be rubbed with a mixture of equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and white vinegar.

Colored wax or scratches on dark furniture. Mix regular table wax with ruber umber oil color.

Deep scratches in dark furniture will disappear if a small amount of iodine or burnt umber is applied to the scratch. Cover with colored wax.

White spots may be caused by hot dishes, standing water, or alcohol. They may be removed by a mild abrasive as pumice powder and oil, cigar ash and oil, turpentine or camphor, camphorated oil, or oil of peppermint. Use sparingly, for too much may soften the finish. Rub deep white spots with salad oil and salt. Dip the finger in the oil, then the salt, and rub. It may take considerable rubbing to remove the spot.

When glosses sweat, the places may be taken care of immediately, by using turpentine on a cloth.

Scratches on natural-colored woods may be noticed less if rubbed with something that contains oil. A net meat cut open usually produces good results.

Furniture polish, equal part of linseed oil, turpentine and dark vinegar are good for use after a finish like a furniture polish. It is put on a surface and let stand for 20 to 30 minutes. Wipe the surface with a stopped drinking this mixture, wipe off any shiny surfaces.

Lower Prices Are Forseen On Broilers

Broiler prices are expected to remain fairly steady to slightly lower the next month or two, the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service economics department said this week in its bi-weekly outlook letter with prices expected to hit the annual low in December.

The economists said the expected drop would be due to holiday buying habits which prescribe turkey as the main dish; and the fact it is the traditional season for fresh, red meat.

They coupled their prediction with a warning that broiler producers should ask if they (the producers) can "produce when I want to, sell when I want to and still have a market for chicken?"

This is because broiler producers, faced annually with low prices in November and December, frequently do not produce a brood for sale those months. But, the economists asked, "what will the producer's position be if he ignores the market needs and does not allow for the fact the broiler processor must keep his labor on the payroll, meet overhead and still supply merchandizers with chickens regardless of the going price?"

Needs of the processor and merchandizer must be kept in mind, the letter stated, despite the fact that at certain times of the year the broiler raiser does no more than get back production costs of a brood.

Pongo Man Is Seized At Moonshine Still Site

Philip L. Frederick

Local Airman Completes Course

Airman Philip L. Frederick, son of Mr. Saley Frederick of Mt. Vernon, has completed his initial course in Air Force basic military training here, and has been selected to attend the technical training course for Aircraft and Missile Maintenance at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Frederick, a graduate of Livingston High School, attended Eastern State Teacher's College where he majored in English.

Airmen at Lackland are selected for specialized training at technical schools on the basis of their interests and aptitudes. They are reassigned to the schools after four weeks of basic, and are given additional military basic training along with the technical subjects.

Halloween Programs Offered At Schools

The Halloween Carnival of Livingston High School will be held at 7 p. m. Friday, Oct. 31, at the Livingston High School Gymnasium. Admission prices will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. The program will include folk games, Little Renfro, a costume contest, a Hit Parade show featuring the Glee Club, a style show that features models in female clothing, and the election and coronation of a Carnival King and Queen.

County and federal officers ended a two-week long stake-out at 10 a. m. Friday morning when they seized a 60-gallon moonshine still in the Pongo Section at the head of Skeg Creek. Apprehended at the scene of the seizure was Walter Waddle, 43, a Pongo Section resident.

Waddle, who has been studying officers on previous charges, was taken to Federal Court in London, where he was charged with possessing tax-unpaid whiskey and operating a stillery without a license. He was released after payment of $500 bond and his case was held over until Nov. 10.

Local officers escorted Waddle back to Mt. Vernon, where he is being held in default of a $3,000 bond on two previous courts of robbery and striking with a deadly weapon. The indictments were returned at the last session of the Grand Jury. Seized in the raid were two 50-gallon fermenters, one of which contained beer, one 40-gallon flake stand, one 16-gallon thump keg, two water buckets, four 1-gallon jugs and three half-gallon jars. An officer said Waddle had emptied the jugs and jars of moonshine before their arrival.

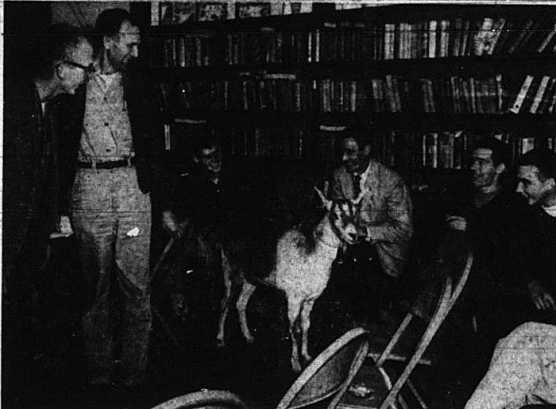

Deputy Sheriff Sam Hoskins said another man started to approach the site of the still, which was located on the farm of Elmer Bustle, but saw them (Continued on page 4)

Forester Urges Caution During Fire Season

Caution in use of all outdoor fires during the next six weeks is urged by Director Gene L. Butcher, Kentucky Division of Forestry.

"The fall forest fire season is here," said Butcher, "and the woods can burn even within a few hours after rain."

Training of state fire fighting forces has been completed. Lookout towers have been manned, and all employees and co-operators have been alerted. "It is the feeling of Butcher, "that our forest fire-control organization is a good one, but to prevent fires we need the full cooperation of every citizen."

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS GOAT?—If so, Jess Bullock of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will pay $25 cents for its safe return to Warren Ferguson. The goat (nanny-type), which was offered as a booby-prize to the group producing the fewest members at last Monday's meeting, strayed or was stolen from Ferguson Tuesday night while he was serving as caretaker for the losing group.

CONCERT SLATED

The first concert of the Berea Community Concert Series, featuring the Nieuw Amsterdam Trio, will be given in Stokes-Pheps Chapel at 8 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 8.

The trio, which has been invited to reappear at the Holland Festival next year, will be featured in a concert for members only. No single admissions will be made at the entrance.

Former Countian Dies In Louisville

Surviving Mrs. Thorpe are one son, Gravelly Thorpe, Louisville, and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Wallin, Brodhead, and Mrs. Margaret Roberts, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The deceased will be brought to Mt. Vernon, where Cox Funeral Home will take care of arrangements, which are not yet complete.

105 State Police Added

Competitive examinations for positions as Kentucky State troopers will be held Nov. 30 and Dec. 2 at Frankfort, State Police Director Paul M. Smith has announced.

He said 105 troopers are being added to State Police service and urged interested persons to inquire at the nearest police post or at headquarters in Frankfort where the exams will be held.

Smith said all trooper appointments are made on the basis of merit by a non-partisan personnel board.

Cadet trooper appointees must be a citizen of the United States and resident of Kentucky at the time of appointment, not less than 21, nor more than 30 years of age, a minimum of five feet, nine and one-half inches tall without shoes, not less than 150 pounds in weight and weigh in proportion to height and age, a high school graduate or possess an equivalent education, pass a rigid physical exam and physical agility test, and possess a valid Kentucky driver's license.

New Books At Library

The County Library and Bookmobile Service announced this week the addition to their reserves of new reference books for teachers and of 500 adult and juvenile volumes, including a consignment of books that were contributed by Mr. Paige of Wellington, Ohio.

Officials reported that 5,461 books were circulated during the month of September, of which 2,939 were of fiction and 2,522 were of classified material.

The Bookmobile, which visits bi-weekly each Monday afternoon and Livingston each Tuesday afternoon, has visited all county schools this year and plans to visit each school more often when the weather is satisfactory.

County Librarian Mrs. Phillip Davis, who is taking a course in adult nonfiction selection, invites everyone to visit the library, which is open each Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. She also urges anyone having old magazines to donate them to the library.

Goat Steals JayCee Show; Disappears Without Trace

A booby-prize Billy Goat that refused to be anything but a nanny tried to steal the spotlight from the more serious activities of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce as the unnamed animal provided interesting and amusing sideights at the group's Monday night meeting in the Rockcastle County Library office.

The goat, which was given to the team of Jaycees having the least number of old and new members at the meeting, disappeared Tuesday night from the farm of Warren Ferguson, who was in charge of the goat's care. A reward of 50 cents has been offered to provide a boost for members in acquiring recruits in the annual membership drive of the Jaycees.

New members who joined the local group Monday night were Alfred and Vernon Cummins, Douglas Hysinger, James O. Smith, Billy Hiatt, and Don Denton.

KFWC Elects Mrs. John Griffin

Mrs. John W. Griffin was unanimously elected Vice-Governor of the Ninth District of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs when that group held its forty-first annual meeting at Somerset last Thursday. Others from Mt. Vernon who attended the meeting were Mrs. O. V. Hilton, Mrs. Alma Jean Robbins, Mrs. Robert Gentry, Mrs. Clark Brown and Mrs. Carrie Baker.

Aid To Totally Disabled Is Discussed By Group

Mrs. Lillian Collett, field worker for the Division of Public Assistance, led a meeting of Economic Security, last Oct. 23 discussion concerning aid to the permanently and totally disabled, as administered by the Kentucky state and federal laws, rules and regulations. The Rockcastle County Securing Advisory Committee, which joined with the various eligibility requirements which must be met by persons seeking aid to the disabled.

A law passed in the 1956 session of the State Legislature created the Permanently and Totally Disabled Program, which joined with Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Needy Blind, and Aid to Dependent Children in comprising the various phases of the program handled by the Division.

The category of assistance covers those persons 18 years of age or over who have a permanent physical or mental impairment, disease, or loss which prevents him from engaging in any useful occupation, including homemaking.

Local Dairy Herds Are Increasing In Size And Popularity

Two vocational agriculture teachers and a sizeable number of their students are becoming very instrumental in bringing the farm industry into prominence in Rockcastle County.

The men, Hobart Thompson and W. A. Rock, and their 98 Brodhead High School agriculture students, have aided in bringing in and placing over 500 dairy cattle in the county since a dairy program was begun last year.

Thompson, who also conducts night classes for adults, stressed the importance and practicality of placing enough dairy stock around the county to insure a profitable return for county farmers, who have now to contend with lower tobacco allotments and a resultingly lower income.

The Brodhead teacher pointed out the ages, mostly between the ages three and six weeks, have been brought into Rockcastle since September 20. A load of approximately 40 calves, will be displayed at the Tobacco Festival, where interested farmers can purchase dependent on the ages, a 2-week old calf sells for $39, a 6-week old calf sells for $49 and a 9-week old one sells for $59.

Thompson pointed out that the dairy industry, which ranks second to tobacco revenue in the county, could easily surpass the latter if interest mounts at the point where farmers will invest in dairy stock. He pointed out that the soil in the county is suitable for dairy herds and is suitable for growing hay for feed. He also added that ready markets are available for the milk, giving farmers sufficient opportunity to supplement their incomes.

One of the prime examples of co-operation in the program is the Bradley Powell family of Conway. The Powells, whose sons Willis and James are students at Brodhead High School, have built a herd of 15 since the program's inauguration.

Several other high school students have begun building sizeable herds. Lonnie Dillingham has bought eleven Holsteins this fall, while Roy Burton has begun his herd with 10.

Selection and transportation of the calves from their native Wisconsin fields is the responsibility of George Harmon of Mayville. Harmon is authorized by the United States Department of Agriculture, insuring that he will pick only quality stock for resale in this area.

Students and the number of calves they have purchased this fall are: Lonnie Dillingham, 11; Roy Burton, 10; W. H. Wren, Lloyd Caldwell and Sherman Thompson, six apiece; Vernon Helton, E. K. Cook, and John Houston, five each; Larry Harris, Ronnie Singleton, Marcus Brown, Carl Blevins and Rube Lawrence, four each; Cecil Sargent, Bobby Singleton, Genny Craig, and Ambros Albright, three each.

Two Local Men Plan To Attend Co-Op Meet

Andrew Schiff, Crab Orchard, and William Owens, Southern States Cooperative members in this area as delegate to that group's 35th annual stockholders' meeting at Richmond, Va. Also attending the meeting, which will be held Nov. 6 and 7, will be Wayne Stewart, manager of Southern States service agencies in this section.

Speaking before the expected 2,000 delegates will be Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, Southern States President W. N. Stoneman, of near Richmond, Va., will preside at most of the sessions and will also deliver the president's annual message to the delegates.

In-Service Day

Twenty county teachers observed at Napp Hall in Berea; 18 visited McKinney School in Boyle County and 43 visited Danville City Schools.

Plans have been made to have a follow-up program on these visits with a conference will be held Nov. 4 at Brodhead. At this conference, practices which may be applicable to local systems will be considered.

CAIN'S CATCH—Robert Cain of Conway swells up his chest in pride as he displays the 5 1/2 lb. bass that he managed to overcome last Sunday in an outing on Lake Cumberland. Cain caught the big boy while trolling on a bomber.

DO IT YOURSELF ELECTION

With all the emphasis that has been placed on the importance of the voters getting to the polls in recent years, it seems hardly possible to add a new slant to the old theme, but, if we may, we would like to attempt to revitalize that theme by calling this a "Do It Yourself Election."

The election at hand concerns big and little offices alike, but regardless of the area of government in which the politician is participating, his decisions will likely concern YOU. The voting booths are your arena. They are the only means offered you for getting what you want. The polls are there for your protection, your convenience, and to insure you that you will have equal voice with other citizens.

It is always too late to act after a politician is in office. If you have helped put a corrupt man in office by not voting, then you are as responsible as the ones who voted for him.

Remember, good government can not be readymade. Therefore, we urge you to make this a "Do It Yourself Election" and go out and vote.

Plant Food Gives Farmer More "Take Home" Pay Per Acre

FARMERS can get much more profitable returns per hour in their crop lands by using fertilizer on their present acres than by purchasing more land that they won't improve, reports Dr. Ermond Hartmans, University of Minnesota farm management specialist.

With the use of more fertilizer, each acre produces more crop producing job, says Hartmans, in a statement summarized here by the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

As an example of this, he points out that a 120-acre "good yielding farm" with a heavier fertilizer program might produce 70-bushel corn yields, 60-bushel oat yields and three tons of alfalfa per acre.

An "average yielding" 160-acre farm where less fertilizer is used, might yield only 50 bushels of corn, 40 bushels of oats and two tons of alfalfa per acre, he says.

On the basis of present prices, the crop labor return would be $2,700 per year, after deducting the cost of fertilizer and operating expenses. On the larger-farm, the crop labor return would be $2,600.

The farmer working the 120-acre farm would average $2.50 per acre, compared to only $1.67 for the operator of the larger farm. And, in any other way, the farmer on the larger acreage would have 300 more work hours, but make only $100 additional in crop labor return.

majority of soil and water conservation measures requested by these requests were: establishing a permanent vegetative cover; improving a permanent vegetative cover; lining cropland to improve growth of grasses and legumes.

Included among these farmers who have participated in the 1958 ASC Program this year and have received cost-sharing assistance in carrying out needed conservation practices are: Oliver Dowell, Zade McClure, Coleman Mink, Cecil Hysinger, Walter Bradley, Jack Goff, Edgar Cash, W. H. Rucker, B. C. Riddle, Shelby Brown, Edward Sowder Jr., Della Singleton, Bud Gipson, Ernest Lakes, Willie Thacker, Ernest L. Roberts, and H. C. Martin.

These and other farmers carried out the above-mentioned practices and other practices. There were 261 other farmers who performed other needed soil and water conservation practices under the ACP.

Plans are now being made to develop the new program for 1959 offering assistance in carrying out needed soil and water conservation. Announcement of sign-up dates and practices offered will be made at a later date, Mullins said.

AID

Mrs. Collett told the committee the applicant must have been a resident of Kentucky for three years of the last seven and the preceding year of residence must have been continuous in the State. Persons cannot receive this category of assistance unless they are in an approved medical institution. They can receive assistance if in a private institution which meets the standards of the Department, and if they are otherwise eligible.

A recipient of aid to the permanently and totally disabled is permitted to own an equity in real property which does not exceed the maximum allowed by the Department and may have personal property up to the maximum of $500.00 set by the Department. All income is considered in figuring the assistance plan. Adult children are responsible by law for the parents support and parents are responsible for the support of their disabled adult children.

It was also stated that all persons applying for APTD must be examined by an approved examining physician. This report from the physician, along with a medical social data report is submitted to the Supervising Physician in the Frankfort Office, who makes the final determination as to the disabling factor.

Ag College Sets Up Opportunity Day

The University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture and Home Economics is going to take its facilities directly to the state's high school graduates in a very special way.

On Thursday, Nov. 20, says Dr. Stanley Wall, dean of the college, all boy and girl high school seniors of the state who want to know about agriculture and home economics careers, opportunities at the University will be guests of the college at Lexington. Idea is to make known the curricula and facilities of the college to young men or women considering agriculture or home economics as a career, Dean Wall said.

The program—geared for students and their parents—will open at 9:30 a. m. (EDT) at the college on South Limestone street in Lexington. Students and their parents will be briefed on the programs available; will visit classrooms, laboratories, dormitories, cafeterias, research areas, practical work areas, the Experiment Station's farms, and the like.

Wall said a special program also has been arranged for parents to acquaint them with the necessary information.

High school principals in particular have been asked to call their seniors' attention to the day-long program. Further information is available at Dean Wall's office, Lexington, or from county agents.

Disked Corn Stalks Help Cut Erosion

Disk down those corn stalks, says Lyle Leonard, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service conservationist; they'll more than pay the equipment costs by soil and water saved.

Most erodible soil in winter is where corn has been grown, depending in degree on the way the corn was harvested. Standing stalks will let most of the winter rains through to wash off valuable soil; knocked down stalks will cut the loss some; while disked-under stalks increase the oil and water-holding capacity to a profitable level.

Disking-in the stalks gives the highest possible amount of soil cover, slows runoff, water and traps water-carried silt; keeps soil surface open, and keeps fields in better shape for spring seeding.

Sound Use of Credit Can Help Increase Farm Income

IF YOU'VE been considering the use of bank credit to finance purchases of fertilizer or other profit-building production items, here are some encouraging words from R. A. Christianson, U. S. Department of Agriculture economist, stationed at the University of Wisconsin.

"Don't be afraid of credit," advises Christianson, in a statement summarized by the Midwest Division of the National Plant Food Institute.

"Consider credit as a means to better farm income, just like a good dairy herd is a means toward better income."

Christianson cautions farmers not to use credit unwisely, however, for such a step can sometimes spell financial ruin.

A Question For The Citizens Of Mt. Vernon
Are You Interested In Your Children's Education?

If, so, November 4 should be circled in red on your calendar, because this is the day you are to decide what is going to happen to your school. This is the day you select school board members to set the policies and procedures for the Mt. Vernon Graded and High School. These are the men who will have a "say-so" in the future of your child.

It should be a day when all prejudice and malice are laid aside and some real thought is applied as to what is really beneficial for the children.

Let the issue be what is best for our children and not the question of a merger or an independent school district. With this thought in mind, your voters for the school board should be for the men who will approach the present problem with the interest of our children in mind rather than their own personal gains. Men who would meet with the state board to see if something can be done whereby we can be assured that our graded and high school will remain in Mt. Vernon.

Men who would frown on such suggestions as: replacing a portion of our present heating system with pot-bellied stoves; discontinuing the band and athletic programs; increasing our taxes.

It is my opinion that Mt. Vernon needs a board which will not be afraid to make a stand, and will comply with the wishes of the majority, such as was shown by the parents at a P. T. A. meeting last spring.

In conclusion, may I ask, "Is it politics or personal grudges that influence many people's stand in this very important election, or will the welfare of our children be the deciding factor?"

George H. Griffith, M. D.
