Plant-Bed Insect Pests Need Control Measures:

Several insect pests of burley plant beds will give considerable trouble this spring unless control measures are taken at the proper time, says District Thurston, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist.

They are the green June beetle (larvae grubworms), flea beetles, cutworms, aphids and slugs.

For the grubworms, a one percent Parathion dust, at the rate of 2 pounds per hundred square yards of bed, is recommended. This can be dusted on the usual hand-operated blowers and through the canvas. Caution should be taken to avoid contact with the Parathion as it is highly toxic; respirators should be used, Thurston says, and if any Parathion gets on the skin it should be washed off immediately.

For flea beetles and cutworms, a 10 percent DDT dust at 1 pound per 100 square yards of bed is recommended. One quarter pound of a 50 percent wettable powder DDT is useful for spray purposes; use five gallons of water as the carrier. Thurston says, it is best to remove the canvas for application of this spray.

For aphids, the Parathion can be used at the same rates as for grubworms, at a 4 percent Malathion dust, 2 pounds per 100 square yards of bed. For slugs, the 1 percent Parathion dust (same rate as for grubworms) is satisfactory, or the commercially prepared Metaldehyde baits are highly effective.

Roses. The past winter has been hard on many plants, especially by roses. Examination shows that the winter kill is more severe than usual, and the question is what should be done.

The very best thing to do is to prune more drastically than usual. This means removing not only the dead wood from the winter injury, but to cut back on the new wood to a good, strong, healthy bud. This means that some roses may need to be cut back to where there will be only 3 or 4 inches of wood left on the plant. This will be a slight setback, but will grow out and become good ones by the middle of the summer.

Of course, the plants severely damaged by the winter should have a good feeding rich and be given some kind of mulch to keep the soil moist all the winter injury, but to cut back on this fertilizer. Each plant can use a good sized handful. If the roses are mulched, the mulch should be pulled away from each plant in a circle 15 to 18 inches in diameter, and the fertilizer scattered on the area, and the mulch replaced. It is not necessary to work this fertilizer into the soil if a mulch is used; in fact, the average person is inclined to work the soil too deep and in doing so, cut feeding roots. This is hard on the rose plant. Experimental work shows that cultivation of roses is not necessary.

The climbing roses need to have all the dead wood removed by cutting back to good strong growing buds. The soil should be loosened around each plant about 3 inches deep in a circle 18 inches in diameter. A good handful of fertilizer should be applied and raked into the soil. Most climbing roses are not mulched, but it is desirable if mulch is available.

Pruning: Now is the time to begin to prune the shrubs because the Forsythia and some of the early blooming Spiraea have just about finished their bloom for this spring. This may be old shrubs that otherwise would be beautiful if they were only pruned correctly each year. Instead of digging up these plants, pruning and feeding should be tried to see how the plants respond.

In pruning, a few of the old stems should be removed, taking them out of the ground and carefully working them out of the ground in order not to destroy any young shoots that have already started to grow. In feeding, the plants should be used to loosen the soil a little under the spread of the branches, and one pound of good fertilizer on this area. One pound per plant will be found to be about the right amount.

there's nothing MYSTERIOUS about RECC

...it's just a matter of common sense. For years rural people waited for electricity. But it didn't come. So the farmers undertook to get it for themselves through Rural Electric Co-ops ... and today more than 95% of our farms get electric service. This has meant an almost unbelievable increase in productivity and quality of farm products ... has given the farmer increased buying power which in turn benefits every businessman who sells to him ... and has helped bring badly-needed industry into areas where it was never before possible.

OUR FIRST PAIR OF SHOES

A great king, so the legend goes, once stepped on a thorn in his garden. In a rage he ordered his entire kingdom covered with leather. His wise prime minister suggested, "Let me cover your feet with leather, and wherever you go you will be protected." And so the first pair of shoes was made!

The little fellow who wears these shoes has a long way to travel. His journey through life will not be free of thorns. And he'll need more than shoes to make that journey!

He'll need to develop a spiritual fiber which will strengthen his character. A man can't carpet the whole world — but he can acquire the faith and courage which will enable him to climb life's most rugged trails.

The Church brings such qualities to the life of man. The Church points the way to happy, wholesome living — for the grown-up with the burdens of life on his shoulders — and for the little tot in his first pair of shoes!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a stronghold of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plans to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

She was called to heaven Oh, Grandma how we miss you No one but God will ever know There was a vacant place On God's golden shore He called your name. So you must roam here no more On this old earth. With your burdens and sorrows You'll bear no more. Here's wealth on this earth you never had. But your treasures in heaven were by the thousands. Here today the little children Can almost hear you say 'Come to Grandma, Darling and sit on my lap And hear you tell about Jesus' great love. Some day Grandma We'll take you by the hand and we'll go walking Across the waves on God's golden shore. Grandma we all love you And miss you so much I hope we can all be together in Heaven someday. ## Annexation Trial Delayed; Hearing Reset For June 1

The long-awaited annexation trial has again been postponed. The suit, which seeks to prove that 75 per cent of property holders in the territory proposed for annexation by the city in Ordinance 254, was originally scheduled for last Friday, but a light court docket forced its postponement until June 1.

In the initial suit, filed last June 11 for Charlie Childers, it is stated that 75 per cent of freeholders in the territory proposed to be annexed are opposed to annexation.

One property owner said that the suit should be taken to court in order to insure that the city will promise improvements for the proposed annexed area.

A judgement is being made of the civil suit of Mrs. Lola Nicely, widow of H. F. Nicely, against the City of Livingston for ownership of a lot on which the old Livingston jail stood.

The property involved in the suit has an adjudged value of $2,500.

One person fined last week was Rufus Baker, who was fined $100 and costs on a charge of flourishing a deadly weapon.

Another charge of the same nature against Baker was filed away.

Cases dismissed by the court involved: Paul Blanton and Earl Barnett, charged with incest; James E. Anderson, false pretenses; Leon Coffman, dismissed; Richard Alvin Bishop and Jarency, charged with incest, false pretenses, dismissed.

The jury could not decide in the case charging Claude Allen with deserting his pregnant wife.

F B Solicits Support In Anti-Fair Trade Lobby

Farm Bureau leaders in Washington have called upon state and county leaders and members to join them in an all-out fight against passage of national "fair trade" laws now under consideration by the U. S. Congress. Farm Bureau considers such proposed laws as attempts to fix prices and reduce competition. Here's what Farm Bureau resolutions have to say on the subject:

"These acts are in opposition to one of Farm Bureau's oldest and soundest objectives, namely, narrowing the price spread between producer and consumer, thus encouraging greater consumption of farm products. They constitute a threat to the American free enterprise system, and the establishment of farm trade laws through open market competition."

In recent years, state courts have declared many of the state fair trade laws unconstitutional. Most such laws attempt to give manufacturers the right to set the price at which retail dealers are required to sell their merchandise. If passed, a federal fair trade law would take precedence over state juris-

Roles Assigned In County Capers Show

As the Rockcastle County library prepares to move books and new shelves into the colored waiting room recently leased from the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the streets will check on the possibility of keeping the library open one night each week.

The extra expense of keeping the library open will run to about $70 a year. The Jaycees will move the books and erect shelves in the room Friday night. The section of the library now located at the firehouse will continue to operate.

Roles were also assigned at the Monday night meeting for this year's production of County Capers, built around the themes of "Showboat," a minstrel show, the Jack Jar Show, a welcome to new arrivals, and the 49th and 50th states, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and several other skits.

Production of the Capers has not yet been set, but the opening is planned for early June.

In other action, the Jaycees are to cooperate in a Block for Cancer, to be conducted Sunday, April 26, on U. S. 25, beginning at 1:30 p. m. They also voted to build picnic tables for use in the summer recreation area.

Dr. Joe Henderson was elected secretary of the group.

Clear Creek Man Killed In Wreck In Madison

Two men were killed instantly at about 2 p. m. Friday when a car in which they were riding slammed into an empty dump truck on U. S. 421 near the village of Big Hill in Madison County.

Madison County Deputy Coroner Billy Joe Turpin identified the victims as Delbert Neesley, 61, Clear Creek, Rockcastle County, and Arnold Abrams, 30, Berea Route 2.

Turpin said both men suffered skull fractures and died at the scene of the accident.

The truck was operated by Dennis Hobbs, 40, also of Berea Route 2.

State Policeman Douglas Jones quoted the trucker as stating that he saw the car approaching and that he swerved to avoid it when the car came into his lane at a curve. The officer said the truck's left front fender, then went under the bed, shearing the top from the car. Hobbs was not injured.

Abrams was driving the car, which was going downhill. The truck was going east.

Much-Stubbed Boone Man In Bad Condition

A Boone resident was listed as being in serious condition in Berea College Hospital Wednesday night after an unidentified person brought him there with seven stabbing wounds in his back. The man was unable to identify his assailant.

The patient, Jefferson Barnett, had earlier been in a fight with John Willis, also of Boone, and Willis' two teen age sons. Barnett's wife, a witness to the fighting, said that her husband was beaten by four persons, but a State Policeman investigating the case said that only Willis and his sons were involved.

Willis said that he and Barnett fought only after Barnett had mistreated one of the Willis boys.

Willis said that neither he nor his sons had stabbed Barnett, who allegedly left the scene of the disorder after the fighting. It was not known who drove him to the hospital, nor was it known exactly when the stabbing took place.

Willis' wife also witnessed the State Police said, but would not comment on it.

Although a felony was committed when Barnett was stabbed, no warrant has yet been issued, pending a statement from the injured man.

Armour Representative Approves Site; Plans Are Submitted For Cost Estimates

A REAL LIVE WIRE—Joe Adams, manager of Northeastern Telephone Company in Rockcastle County, relates a wire to a pole, having the wire cut by workmen to trim an interfering tree. The wire is carrying current.

Plans for the proposed Armour Milk Co. receiving station in Mt. Vernon have now been submitted to engineering companies for estimates on the cost of construction, the Rockcastle County Development Association announced this week.

Submission of the plans for estimates was not made possible until a Tuesday visit from Jim Blair, company engineer, who was sent to Mt. Vernon to explain the plans to the Association's request and to approve a location site.

Blair said that the required irregular shaped milk building would measure 50 by 33 feet and the site of its construction will need between 15 and 20 surrounding acres. He estimated the daily water needs at "around 5,000" gallons, an amount easily available with present sources.

The Armour Company would locate its receiving station here, to receive, pasteurize and cool milk. A pump would be installed under pressure of the water needed to cool the milk.

Blair inspected property selected by an action committee appointed by the RCDA and approved the Old Winstead Camp property on Old U. S. 25, clearing the way for estimates to be made on the total overall cost of procurement of land and construction.

Blair estimated construction costs at $18,000 without the land Armour would lease the building and land for 10 years, having eight per cent of the original investment per year, with an option to release for five additional years. It is assumed that 10 years of successful operation, coupled with expected milk production expansion, will lead to the establishment of a cheese plant here.

If engineers' estimates are favorable, a committee from RCDA will raise the money for construction. The Development Association's corporate structure enables it to set stock for money.

The receiving station would employ five men and would pay higher prices for ungraded milk, due to lower costs of transportation.

Services Held Tuesday For Mrs. Emma Turpin

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1 p. m. for Mrs. Emma D. Turpin, 84, who died Sunday at her home near Mareburg. The last rites were conducted by Rev. Eugene Justice, Church, of which she was a member.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lou Cox of Richmond; Mrs. Celia Durham of Hamilton, Ohio, and Mrs. Mattie Franklin of Mt. Vernon; and 10 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Will and George Drew, both of Bumbar.

She was preceded in death by her husband, J. M. Turpin, and a son, Groebel.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Lee Hopkins and burial was in Elmwood Cemetery. Cox Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Three Warrants Issued After Friday Scuffle

Three separate charges have been filed in County Court here in connection with a fight involving two Rockcastle County men.

Charging each other with striking with a deadly weapon were Jim Smith, 68, Green Hill, and Bart Barnett, about 50, of Mt. Vernon. Barnett has also charged Smith with petit larceny, charging that Smith took a crowbar from his (Barnett's) truck without authorization.

The incident occurred around noon Friday when Smith went to Barnett's home and allegedly took a crowbar from Barnett's truck in payment of a debt he said Barnett had owed him for some time. Barnett's truck was in the scuffle that followed, both men received injuries. Barnett getting a knife wound in the left side of his face, and Smith being treated for cuts

Predict Work Force To Be Doubled

FARMING SEASON IS HERE TIME TO BE BUYING THAT FERTILIZER FOR 1959.

I am agent for that good old reliable Armour Brand Fertilizer. The only company that makes that good Verta Green Fertilizer that has several trace minerals no other fertilizer has. I have sold more Verta Green for tobacco in 1959 than all other analysis 5-10-15, 6-8-6, 4-12-2, 3-9-6 all combined.

Buy your fertilizer from a man that makes selling fertilizer a business, not a sideline.

I have been in the fertilizer business for 22 years and I feel that I am able to advise and talk with farmers on the types of fertilizer they need for different crops.

We are offering a special this season on Black Joe. No other Fertilizer Company sells old Black Joe.

There will be a salesman at my place of business from Feb. 10 to June 30. We will be open everyday during that period.

VISIT YOUR LIBRARY THIS WEEK AND EVERY WEEK

In these days when more of us run than read, and when what we know exceeds what we understand, let me urge a return to the book. The book remains that small handy instrument called a key, which we can all carry, and with which we can unlock the doors to adventure, romance, and education.

The library can now order films for school, groups and club use, from the University of Kentucky and the Library Extension Division, paying only the rental postage.

We have catalogues covering over 2,700 of the best books for children. The catalogue is basically arranged in three grade ranges—preschool and kindergarten through the third grade, grades four through six, and grades seven through nine, in addition to several separate subject groupings. There are also indices by author, by title, and by illustrator. We also have a list of adult books chosen as the best books of 1958.

Any books which the library does not have will be borrowed for you from the Library Extension Division.

We have a new set of Encyclopedia Britannica and Encyclopedia Britannica Junior, Adult World Books and a Lincoln Library for reference use.

The library is open every Tuesday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:00 and every Saturday from 8:00 to 4:00.

Visit your library this week—and every week.

Earl Mullins of Brodhead is Mrs. Gaines' sister.

THE GIFTED CHILD

By Mrs. Lelamae Gaines
He looked at me with a wistful smile,
A pathetic creature, this gifted child.
His eyes carried a message as he looked at me—
A message of expectancy, it was plain to see.
They seemed to say with their wistful glance,
"Please, dear teacher, give me a chance—
A chance to develop my wonderful mind,
To seek for the knowledge I hope to find.
My assignments were completed long, long ago,
While you were working with those who are slow.
I've looked through many of the books on the shelf;
In fact, I've read them all—all by myself.
I've read them over and over with glee,
But, please, dear teacher, spend more time with me.
I, too, need more help in my search for knowledge,
For someday I, too, hope to go to college.
And I need that challenge we all expect.
If I am to develop my intellect,
God gave us our bodies and minds, you know,
But they must be nurtured and nourished if they're to grow.
I need your help in making my tasks
Much more difficult than from others you
God gave me this wonderful brain,
And it is now in your hands to train.
There are many wonderful things I know I can do,

Officer Smith Warns About Water Safety

"Water can be a source of great pleasure or it can be a place of tragedy", Rockcastle Conservation Officer Irvin Smith, warned today.

"Boating, swimming and fishing will be only as safe as the individual makes it", he continued. "When a water enthusiast loses respect for the water, he is encouraging tragedy."

Officer Smith gave the warning in pointing out that the boating, swimming, and fishing season is here. He called attention to Red Cross statistics claiming 129 drownings in the state in 1957, adding that figures for 1958 are not available. Twenty-seven of the drowning victims were fishermen.

Here are safety rules to follow, in order to insure the maximum amount of safety around water:
1. Know your boat—Every boat has its limitations. Know what can be expected from your boat.

2. Balance your load—Distribute weight evenly in the boat, from side to side as well as from bow to stern.
3. Watch the weather—Head for shore if a storm breaks. If caught out, seat passengers on the floor of the boat.

4. Head into waves—If waves are high, head your boat at an angle towards the waves at a slow speed.

5. Keep low—Step in the center when boarding or changing seats.

6. Use the right motor—Too much power can damage your boat, may even swamp it. Look for OBC recommended horse-power plate on transom.

7. Don't overload—Seats do not indicate capacity. Two or three adults may be a full load under many conditions.

8. Avoid sharp turns—Fast, sharp turns are hard on equipment, as well as occupants. Take it easy.

9. Lifejackets for all—Have a lifejacket for each passenger in the boat. This is a law enforced by the U. S. Coast Guard on all Federal waters.

State Fair Urbanized. Farm Bureau Charges

Kentuckians are justly proud of their State Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville. Throughout the country, it is recognized as one of the most modern and outstanding facilities of its kind anywhere.

For one week of each year, the Center becomes the showplace of Kentucky agriculture in the form of the State Fair. Farm Bureau is most anxious that our State Fair remain primarily an exposition of Kentucky agriculture and that State Fair week each year see increasing thousands of people from all areas in the state coming to see our agriculture on display.

During the past two years, a number of informed observers of the operation of the Fair have called attention to certain actions and decisions by the Fair Board and the Fair management that seem to indicate a trend toward urbanization of the Fair.

Norma Fish, who is babysitting at Scaffold Care, spent the week end with Mrs. Rose Adams.

It's FRED BISHOP

For STATE-SENATOR

TO THE PEOPLE OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY AND THE 19TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Since my original announcement I have talked to many people throughout the District and I am well pleased with the support I am receiving. I wish to thank everyone for the encouragement they have given me in this race.

The filing date has passed and three of us have filed. Two of these are from Laurel County and myself from Clay County. As the election grows nearer I intend to work harder and harder without stopping. I ask my people, my friends, my neighbors and all you people in this district to help me and we will finish this race in the lead of all opposition. I shall be grateful for every vote, every word spoken in my behalf, and every action taken by all you people in helping elect me your Senator. Then, I shall strive to do the things that will help our five counties that make up this 19th Senatorial District.

I hope to see as many of you during the next six weeks as I possibly can, but I ask each of you to see your friends for me.

Be sure to get out and vote and I will be present to vote on all matters that may come up in the Senate, it being God's will.

Feel free to contact me in any way or at any time you can, before and after the election.

You Can TRUST this Team for HIGHWAYS

BERT COMBS
for Governor

WILSON WYATT
for Lt. Governor

The Chandler-Waterfield administration has let Kentucky slump to forty-first place in the nation in its Highway completions. Combs and Wyatt will end this disgraceful situation. They will take Kentucky's Highway Program out of the hands of political hacks... and put men of high skill in charge. They will build better roads for all of Kentucky.
