

Lee Faulkner
TO THE PEOPLE OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY
 During the 1955 race for Governor, when Albert B. Chandler was running for Governor and Harry Lee Waterfield for Lieutenant Governor, I was their campaign manager in Rockcastle County.
 They promised that, if elected, Rockcastle would get its share of road built. Was that promise kept? No.
 They spent hard-earned taxpayers' money to survey a road through the Sand Hill Community, connecting U. S. 25 with the Beech Grove Road. Was that road ever built? No.
 The friends who helped elect them were treated the worst and laid off first when a layoff came.
 I think a man's friends should be taken care of first, don't you?
 If we all work hard we can elect Bert Combs and Wilson Wyatt, a team you can trust—a team that will look after the interest of its friends.

is probably more beautiful than wood that can be bought today. Refinishing is one way to solve budget problems. Fortunately many useful pieces can be found in garages, attics, and even barns. While refinishing does take time it can be rewarding.

HAY-SILAGE

When should hay and grass silage be cut? Cutting time is mighty important in making quality hay and grass silage. The best time to cut for quality and amount is:

ALFALFA

1st cutting should be made at late bud or early bloom stage. 2nd cutting will be made at near full bloom (about 6 weeks after 1st cutting). Best of the cuttings will be ready at about 5-week periods.

RED CLOVER

Cut at early bloom. This is usually about a week later than the first alfalfa cutting.

STRAIGHT GRASS

Cut when the grass is irritable "boot" or early head stage.

MIXED HAY

Cutting time should be determined by the condition of the clover and alfalfa.

ANNUAL LESPEDEZA

Cut at early bloom to one-third bloom stage.

HAY AND SILAGE

Hay and silage is what you make it!

Attend Church Sunday

His garden is the envy of all the neighbors. They say it's because he has a green thumb. But the truth of the matter is, he loves to see things grow . . . and he works hard to help them grow . . . and he enjoys the hard work because he finds deep satisfaction in the beauty of its fruit.

The same spirit pervades the churches of our community. Congregations thrive and souls grow in spiritual strength because of consecrated men and women who love to see this God-given growth . . . who work hard to implant Christian truth in their hearts and yours . . . who enjoy this unselfish dedication of their time and talents and treasure because they share the joy of Christ in their spiritual fruit.

Be an active church member! Volunteer for enriching service in your congregation's busy, fruitful life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
Ask FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a crucible of moral values. Without a strong Church, no democracy can civilization exist. There are four sound reasons every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

John Lair, CBS Network Will Soon Call it 'Quits'

Says Responsibility His For Severing Radio Ties

After 17 years of continuous Sunday morning broadcasts, the "Sunday Morning Gethen" originating from Renfro Valley will be dropped from the Columbia Broadcasting System network.

In announcing the parting of the ways, John Lair, backer of the old-fashioned music show, said that the separation was his own decision, in view of an impending shift in CBS affiliate stations.

Lair said that CBS possibly would like new stations to replace those leaving the network, but that "it seemed to us that we should stick with these stations (those that are leaving CBS) insofar as possible and continue to make the "Gethen" available to them, regardless of network affiliation."

Lair stated also that many stations that carry the program have not yet been informed of the decision, which calls for the broadcast of Sunday, May 17, to be the last with CBS.

Originally sponsored program, the "Gethen" lost its sponsors, Lair said, "after television came along to take them away."

He pointed out that the program for the past two or three years has been carried as a sustaining program, meaning that the network bore the cost of distribution, while the talent has been furnished locally without sponsorship. Neither CBS affiliates carrying the 15-minute program, nor Renfro Valley have received any financial returns, Lair stated.

In his monthly tabloid, the Renfro Valley Eagle, Lair will request all subscribers, many of whom are also listeners, to phone or write to their local stations if they want the program continued.

Future "Gethen" broadcasts will be taped and sent to stations wanting to carry the program, among which WJR, of Detroit, Michigan, is the first to have accepted the offer.

Lair said that in the years of association with CBS, relations always have been favorable, and the current action is not the result of disagreement.

Joseph A. Shearer, tour president, presided during the kick-off meeting for the Chambers 12th annual goodwill tour. Shearer outlined for the 75 good will ambassadors the schedule of activities for the tour to 20 Eastern Kentucky cities and towns between May 19-22.

Louisville Mayor Bruce Holladay, honorary chairman, and Charles W. Allen, first vice president of the Chamber, also addressed the group.

Fiscal Court Votes Out County Agents, Reconsiders, Votes Again, Granting Them A Year of Amnesty

Two County Agents Receives New Rules

An overflow crowd, representing all walks of life in Rockcastle County, jammed the Courtroom in Mt. Vernon Tuesday afternoon and anxiously awaited an eventful hour stay of execution for County Agents Lee Durham and Martha Owen.

When it came, reversing a morning order that had ousted them by a 2-2 margin, the standing-room-only crowd burst into thunderous ovation.

Attached to the favorable vote was a stipulation that the two will be on trial for another year, and that they will meet once a month with Fiscal Court to deliver an itemized statement of their activities.

Addressing Durham and Miss Owen, County Judge Money E. Cummins said, "In reconsidering Durham to give you another year, we would like to have you visit more homes. Demonstrate your work so we won't have trouble when this comes up again."

"And it will," he added.

The ruling came only after several hectic hours of crowd demands that the agents be retained.

In the first act of the special meeting, the court Tuesday morning appropriated the $3,000 in county funds for the program.

Magistrate Sherman Swinford then made a motion, seconded by Frank Robbins, that Durham and Owen be on trial for the coming fiscal year. Their motion received no other support.

Magistrate H. Griffin then made a motion, seconded by Jim Poynter, that a replacement be hired: Matt Jorjes cast a vote in favor of the motion, while Durham's adherents failed to raise their hands when asked who opposed him.

Cummins dismissed the crowd at approximately 11 a. m. and told it to reconvene in the Courtroom at 1 p. m., at which time Jones switched his deciding vote in favor of the present agents, Griffin and Poynter again opposed the reappointment.

After he had heard the ruling, Durham decided the crowd, "All in the world that I am trying to do is to serve you. As a Christian, I have no malice toward the members of the court. If you have a problem, I will be only too glad to help you with it."

Mount Vernon Adopts Fast Time Standard

Abiding by a Poll Taken of Local Businessmen

Abiding by a poll taken of local businessmen Tuesday, favoring Daylight Saving Time, the Mt. Vernon City Council at a called meeting Wednesday night, reversed an earlier ruling and approved the new time standard.

The people will set their clocks up one hour, effective Sunday, May 17, at 12:01 a. m., exactly one week after Livingston began using Daylight Saving Time.

Recalling that only one businessman in favor of fast time had appeared at the regular meeting last Thursday night, when the Council rejected a proposal by Floyd Owens to adopt DST, the Council said that local people make their wishes known, in the future.

Jayces Abandon Annual County Capers Program

Rockcastle Jayces Monday Night Decide to Discontinue This Year's Plans for Producing in Co-operation with the Meridian Woman's Club, the Fourth Annual County Capers show, a Minstrel.

Rockcastle Jayces Monday night decided to discontinue this year's plans for producing in co-operation with the Meridian Woman's Club, the fourth annual County Capers show, a minstrel.

The production, tentatively set for the first week in June, would have given not more than three weeks to the participants for preparation. A minstrel script, which would have been tailored to local talent, arrived only this week.

Jayces also noted $5 to the Mt. Vernon PTA for an achievement award, and $10 to the Health Department for a dental clinic held in the past.

Unanimous endorsement was given the Mt. Vernon Signal for its efforts in calling to the public attention the conditions surrounding efforts of certain county officials to recommend the removal of Lee Durham as County Extension Agent.

The Jayces also removed a number of books from the library to the recently-acquired working room of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Depot in Mt. Vernon.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND The Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it. Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.

The average Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.

Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.

In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known — not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.

The books of the Bible were given by God through writers who addressed themselves to people who already possessed faith in God and to whom the divinely revealed message was, to some extent, already known. These books seek to explain and confirm this message and to induce readers to conform their lives to it. They were certainly not intended to teach all of God's revealed truth to those who were learning it for the first time.

The Bible, properly understood, can exert a tremendous power for good in your personal and family life. But to understand it, you should know something about those who wrote the Bible... the way they thought, spoke and the characteristics of the language they used. By whom was the Bible translated... how can we know these translations are correct? What are the common sense rules to be followed in understanding the Bible? These and other important questions concerning the intelligent use of the Bible are answered in a pamphlet which we will send you in a plain wrapper—free on request. And nobody will call on you. Write TODAY for Pamphlet No. KY-22.

BELEATED, THE PEOPLE SPEAK, OR, WHAT CAUSED ALL THIS ANYWAY?

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE HAS AT LAST BEEN HEARD. Heard, not as a whisper, as was generally supposed it would be heard, instead, more in the form of a deafening crescendo, that rose to full volume, cascaded, then rose once more against injustice.

And still the burning question is unanswered. Why was Lee Durham almost fired from his position as County Agent?

Not that the answer is not known or generally supposed. Rather that it is known. On this burning issue, however, certain members of fiscal court maintain a mute evasiveness.

Between 200 and 300 persons Tuesday heard the question posed repeatedly. Some 200 or 300 persons heard denials that anyone was evasive against Fiscal Court's grievances against him.

I find no injustice in the demand that Lee Durham and Home Demonstration Agent Martha Owen appear monthly before the Court to present an itemized statement of their activities. Certainly, they should have no problem in finding enough to itemize. It is well to publicize them.

On the other hand, Durham has been here for six years. In that time, he has never been asked to make a monthly report. If the present action is right, has the Court, in not asking for such action before erred for the previous six years?

I believe that some good may come of all this. It has often been said that we fear most what we least understand. Therefore, I believe that Fiscal Court, most of its magistrates are being farmers, can now learn the full extent and value of the County Extension Program. Certainly, they now understand public sympathy toward the Agents. Perhaps, we certainly hope so, a scene similar to the one that many of us witnessed Tuesday, will not be repeated in the future.

On the other hand, it possibly could subject the County Agents to more criticism than they have experienced in the past. And if anyone still wants to have Lee Durham fired, he will be in a much better position to answer that question "Why?" a year from now.

But that reason, I suggest that Farm Bureau send no less than two representatives to every Fiscal Court meeting. I also suggest that the County Extension Council send at least one delegate. Farm Bureau has 22 directors, two of which would have to attend two meetings each year, the others to attend only one. No one in the Extension Council would need attend more than one meeting per year.

This would give the farm representatives the same information that is being offered Fiscal Court. They could immediately make suggestions to correct any shortcomings that may be apparent in the Agents' reports. Conversely, they could be the first to refute any false charges, though it is doubtful that they will be so readily offered in the future.

It was not an enviable thing to be sitting with Fiscal Court last Tuesday, and no one realizes that more than they. Their fingers virtually burned, they will not be as liable to play with fire in the future.

Let it be known to Fiscal Court that the Signal does not oppose them. The Signal will back them 100 per cent in the future, as it has in the past. They are aware that we do not disregard their commendable acts. When they perform in a worthwhile manner, the Signal will continue to report on their actions in an objective manner.

Yes, the Voice of the People has been heard, but it must not die away. They have won a battle, not a conflict, for a complete victory consists of many successful battles. The People should be represented, not only by their officials, but by their collective selves, at every meeting that concerns their welfare, whether it be City Council, Fiscal Court, or the School Board.

Magistrate J. S. Swinford deserves commendation of the highest order for his firm stand against unfair treatment. Would only that more were like him, that their colleagues would not influence their decisions.

This one time, an angry people tipped the scale in their favor. It will require a constant vigilance to keep the scales tipped in that direction, for only collective voices can stand up and successfully oppose those who would tear down for selfish purposes what others have built—what others want to keep.

Without that collective voice, a few can repeatedly switch that balance to their favor.

Farm Bureau Declares Public Favors Thrift

Farm Bureau legislative work-stantly pressuring Congress for in Washington report on the Federal Government to do for encouraging signs that the public mind is more for more and is bringing increased pressure more people.

Farm Bureau members and leaders throughout the country have been busy writing their senators and congressmen, asking that the federal budget be balanced for the next fiscal year, and that federal spending be brought under control. Farm Bureau members are also writing their representatives in plain language to vote against tax increases, and cut spending to bring the budget into balance.

Farmers are in a better position than practically any other group in the country to know what inflation and the constant rise in prices can do to their real income. Officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have predicted that net farm income will be about a billion dollars less this year than last. Most of this loss in income will be due to increased costs of production brought on by wage and price increases.

As consumers of more than 6½ million tons of finished steel each year, farmers are particularly concerned about the current negotiations between the steel industry and the steel workers' union. If another unwarranted wage increase is granted to steel workers, and steel prices are again hiked accordingly, farmers know that the cost-price squeeze will be tightened even further. Like other citizens, farmers are getting tired of more and more of their income being transferred to Washington. Only one week out of four to pay their federal taxes, more and more people say it is time to call a halt. An increasing number of people are telling their congressmen that they want to manage their own money, and not send it all to Washington to be managed for them. If the current build up in public support continues, Farm Bureau believes, the politicians in Washington will get the message, and pay less attention to the special interest groups and socialist planners who are con-upheld the members of the Court. "I have worked with these men before and I know that they can get things done. We have accomplished many things together. I think they are capable." "I apologize," he said, "that these two people (Durham and Owen) have been victimized by broken-down old politicians who want to return to power two years from now. I think this thing is the best thing that ever happened to Rockcastle County." The crowd apparently was in an frame of mind to believe or approve anything that was said by members of the Court. Every attempt made by Court members to apologize or explain their actions was laughed at.

at her. "I claimed to be the only judge in Los Angeles who works six days a week and contends she has never permitted her marrying activities to interfere with her court work. She has been performing marriages for 28 years.

"These bills are absurd," she charged. "In the 28 years that I have been marrying people I have been married five times, ended in divorce."

"Every marriage I perform," the Judge explained, "is solemnized with a prayer."

Despite warnings from the other Senator that to confine her remarks to the bills, Judge Adams overtook his protests and went on with the marathon talk against the legislature.

"What do you get paid?" she was asked.

"That's my business," she replied. Judge Adams does not charge a fee, but takes "what they give me."

"I mean your salary," the questioner said.

"I don't remember," she answered.

Someone in the audience suggested it was $16,500 a year. The subcommittee approved and recommended the bill, despite her efforts. The bill would make it a misdemeanor for a judge to accept money or any thing of value, other than a fee imposed by law, for performing a marriage.

Midwest Farms Use More Plant Food To Boost Profits

FERTILIZER use is increasing on Midwest farms and will continue to increase in the years ahead, reports Dr. George E. Smith, University of Missouri soil scientist.

"Farms in the future will be able to compete only if they use the proper amounts of kinds of fertilizer," says Smith, in a statement summarized here by the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

"We're going to have to get low cost crop production to keep farms profitable. It takes a lot of bushels of corn to pay for a $4,000 tractor if you make only a dime a bushel on corn. But if you make 50 cents a bushel, it doesn't take nearly so many bushels."

"The costs of production go down, profits go up. The use of fertilizer can help farmers get these low costs through higher yields per acre. Higher yields, in turn, can mean that fewer acres will be needed for growing corn and small grains."

Dr. Smith says improvements in fertilizer application machinery are needed to keep pace with changes in agriculture and particularly in the use of fertilizer.

"I believe we're going to see changes in this machinery in the future so cut down the amount of labor required to load corn planters," he points out. "I think a lot of our farmers, who are good business men, are willing to pay a little more for greater convenience and ease of handling plant food."

who probably would not have an opportunity to attend Vacation Bible School otherwise. A pre-registration period will be conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday, May 24, at the church.

Top-Dressed Meadows Grow Back Faster, Give More Feed

Fertilized pasture cuts cost of feeding cows, boosts dairy profits.

LEGUME-GRASS meadows will come back faster after the first cutting and give you extra tons of hay per acre, if you top-dress them with needed fertilizer reports the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

"Higher yields usually go hand in hand with higher quality," says a statement by the Institute. "This can mean saving on feed costs for beef and dairy herds and more profit per animal per acre."

"Another important dividend from top-dressing is that the fertilizer nutrients help lengthen the life span of alfalfa and other legumes in the pasture stand. Thus you save time, money and labor by not having to reseed so often."

Agronomists report that legume-grass meadows use up large amounts of phosphate and potash, according to the Institute. Three tons of alfalfa can take from the soil as much as 180 pounds of potash and 46 pounds of phosphate per acre. "On many Midwestern farms these nutrients should be replaced in the form of commercial fertilizer, in order to maintain high legume stands and high yields," says the Institute.

"Before adding the fertilizer, soil specialists advise testing the soil to find out just how much of each nutrient the land needs."

"So far as individual farms concerned, we urge every farmer who determines how much and what kind of fertilizer to apply."

"In some Midwestern states, college agronomists advise applying 300 or more pounds per acre of a phosphate-potash fertilizer, depending on the soil's need for nutrients."

Profits Go Up, Costs Decline When Corn is Well Fertilized

"High fertility and a high corn plant population are key to top yields and profits per acre."

FERTILIZED corn returned net profits as high as $72.37 per acre among some farmers participating in the 1959 M.P. One of the other contestants nearota X-tra Yield, X-tra Profit Corn Contest according to a report made public by two University of Minnesota extension soil specialists—Curtis J. Overdahl and Lowell Hanson.

The report was summarized by the National Plant Food Institute.

A Fillmore county farmer named J. Troy Schrock, grew 131 bushels of corn per acre on fertilized soil following a non-legume crop, compared with 82.2 bushels on unfertilized land.

Schrock used a plow-plant method of seedbed preparation and figured this saved him $5 to $6 per acre. He applied a 10-20-10 starter fertilizer in the row, placing the plant food 2 inches to the side and 2 inches

Well-Fed Legumes Put More Dollars In Farmers' Pockets

SMALL grains will put more dollars in the pockets of farmers who add heavier-than-usual amounts of high potash fertilizer on soils that need it, says Prof. C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin extension soil specialist, in a statement summarized by the National Plant Food Institute.

"More bushels of grain and longer lasting, higher yielding alfalfa stands are the pay off," Chapman says.

"Some nitrogen can be profitably used, where needed, on small grains and where seed-corn of alfalfa and clover are being made."

Hay yields averaged 6,029 pounds per acre from two cuttings on 87 fertility test plots where farmers used 500 pounds of high potash fertilizer, compared with 6,862 pounds from fields getting 250 pounds of low potash fertilizer, and only 1,721 pounds on unfertilized check plots.
