Try Float Fishing
Fishermen Advised

Fishermen tired of crowds at Kentucky's big fishing spots are advised to try their luck while floating down some of the state's less known streams. The advice comes from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The agency calls this type of angling "floating fishing". The majority of these smaller streams abound with bass, crappie, bluegill and even some monster musky, the department says.

The strong of back and heart will find this sport the answer to the problem of the back of the joy-boaters on large lakes, despite the fact boats must be carried on some stretches of the smaller streams, adds the agency.

It lists some of the favorite float fishing streams in Kentucky, best fishing seasons and species:

North Fork of Kentucky River—Largemouth and small-mouth bass and some musky; May, June, September, October.

Middle Fork of Kentucky River—Same fish and same fishing months.

South Fork of Kentucky River—Same fish; May, June and August.

Green River—Upper section noted for all three species of black bass and redeye; lower section same and also walleye and mammoth musky; early spring and late summer and fall.

Red River—Small and large mouth bass and good musky; early spring and late summer and fall.

Licking River—Upper part has musky, black bass, redeye; lower part void of musky; early spring and late fall. The department recommends these streams for musky fishing; Tygart Creek, Carter and Greenup Counties; Triplett Creek, Rowan County, and Kenyonnic Creek, Lewis County.

Deer Hunting Season
Opens December 4 - 6

Kentucky will have gun and archery deer hunting in 34 counties this year.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources said open season for gun hunting in specified counties is Dec. 4-6, with certain exceptions. Archery open season is Oct. 21-Nov. 19.

The department said persons hunting deer must have a $10.50 permit plus a valid hunting license. When a hunter bags a deer must cease hunting for the rest of the season.

Resident landowners and tenants will not be required to have a deer hunting permit while hunting on land on which they live.

Three new counties—Floyd, Harlan and Crittenden—have been opened for hunting this year. Of the old deer hunting counties, a two-day season was decreed for Pulaski, McCreary and Laurel Counties, Dec. 5-6.

The October issue of "Outdoor Life," national hunting and fishing magazine, reported on the upcoming Kentucky hunt.

"Kentucky, with a herd of about 30,000 whitetails, expects a kill of around 2,500, up 50 per cent from last fall when 10,400 hunters took 1,750. Kentucky had its first season in modern times in 1956. The herd is growing, 34 counties will be open this year, and unless bad weather interferes hunting will be better. Hunter success runs higher in the west, but the heaviest hunted counties are Bullitt and Nelson, south of Louisville, and Pulaski and McCreary in the east."

Regulations concerning hunting areas, weapons, permits, bags, tagging, reporting, check stations and such may be obtained from the Kentucky agency.

Keep Adequate Records
Of Wool Sales

Wool growers who marketed lambs this fall should keep adequate records of their sales of shorn wool and unshorn lambs, and also of the purchases of unshorn lambs that they will be able to make proper applications for payment next spring under the wool incentive program, Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman W. O. Gilreath urged today.

The sales record for lambs sold must include the name of the buyer, his signature, and the number of liveweight lambs he sold, plus a description of the shorn. Lamb payments are made only on lambs that have never been shorn to encourage the customary practice of selling lambs with the wool on. When the wool grower files an application he must also report purchases of unshorn lambs to be eligible for payment.

"I cannot urge too strongly," Mr. Gilreath said, "that growers get these fall sales records together now and either keep them in a safe place at home or file them at the county ASC Office. The final date to apply for payments is on 1959-60 marketing is next April 30, but an application may be submitted anytime between now and then."

The chairman warned again by our plumber.

Green Stamps

help keep KENTUCKY PRICES DOWN

Like the ads of local merchants that you see in this newspaper, S&H Green Stamps boost business. At the same time they help keep prices down.

Here is why: When a store sells more, it can sell for less, since bigger volume brings lower costs.

Stores that use S&H Green Stamps must sell competitively. Kentucky housewives are expert shoppers. They read the ads. They check and compare prices. And they can't be fooled!

Trading stamps are being saved today by two out of three American families — about 35 million in all. And their use is still growing in this and other States.

The Sperry and Hutchinson Company — America's oldest (and largest) trading stamp company — would like to tell you more about how trading stamps help you and your community. Write for our booklet: "How S&H Green Stamps and the Trading Stamp Industry Help Kentucky."

County Agents Notes

1959-60 Tree Seedling Quota
I have just received a letter from Elmer C. Grim, District Forester, Pineville, giving me Rockcastle County's 1959-60 tree seedling quota.

According to figures received from Clay Colson, Soil Conservationist, there were 101,600 tree seedlings or more planted in Rockcastle County in 1959. According to Clay, those who planted trees are: William K. Bullen, 1,500 loblolly pine; James W. Lambert, 10,000 shortleaf pine; 8,000 loblolly pine and 2,000 white pine; D. A. Robbins, 10,000 loblolly pine;

10,000 shortleaf pine; L. G. Shiplett, 3,000 shortleaf pine; R. Bullock, 3,000 shortleaf pine; 5,500 loblolly pine; Roy Norton, 10,000 shortleaf pine, 10,000 loblolly pine; Lewis Whitaker, 10,000 shortleaf pine, 10,000 loblolly pine; Floyd Owens, 2,500 shortleaf pine and 2,500 loblolly pine.

Now is the time to start thinking about planting some of those idle acres to tree seedlings. Since the quota for Rockcastle County is small, it would be a good idea for you to get your orders in early. For prices and available tree seedlings from the Kentucky Division of Forestry, see Clay Colson, Soil Conservation Service, John Bullock, ASC Office Manager, C. G. Stewart, Forest Fire Warden or H. Lee Durham, County Agent. I think any of the ones mentioned above can give you the information you desire on ordering tree seedlings.

Hay Price Moves Up
The average price of all hay at $39.50 per ton gained 70 cents from the previous month. The same was October, 1958. The average price of alfalfa hay at $18.70 per ton was up 60 cents from mid-September; alfalfa hay at $24.50 showed a similar increase, while clover mixed hay at $21.00 per ton advanced $1 over the previous month.

Decline in Animal Prices
As heavy fall marketings occurred, the mid-month price of most animals slipped to lower levels. Hogs averaged $12.30 per cwt.—down 90c from the previous month. This was the lowest price since March, 1956 and the lowest October price since 1941. The price of beef cattle continued at the relatively high level of other months of the year. The mid-October average price of $19.90 was down seasonally from the $21.10 average of last month. Calves at $27.50 per cwt. averaged $1 below mid-September. Sheep at $5.10 and lambs at $17.50 per cwt. declined 40c and $1.70 respectively. Cows averaged $185 per head—down $5 from last month.

Chicken Prices Lower—Egg Prices Higher
The mid-October farm price of all chickens (commercial broilers and farm chickens) at 13.6c per pound compares with 14.3c last month. This is the lowest price since 1941. Milk prices received at 46c per pound compares with 45c last month. The price of butterfat declined one cent to the mid-October level of 44c per pound. The price of 40-pound casks of butter compares with 45c last month.

Agricultural Prices For October, 1959
Mid-October prices of the majority of products sold in Kentucky farmers were below a month earlier. Corn led declines in all grain crops except wheat and rye. Prices received for all meat animals and poultry were also lower than mid-September. Partially offsetting these declines were seasonal increases in milk and hay prices.

Corn Price Drops
The mid-October price of corn at 99c per bushel averaged 19c below the previous month and was the lowest price recorded for October since 1942. On at 74c per bushel were off 2c from mid-September, while barley at 95c per bushel declined 5c. The price of soybeans averaged $1.87 per bushel at mid-month—3c below last month and the lowest October price since 1943. In contrast, wheat at $1.74 per bushel was up 2c from mid-September. Rye at mid-month advanced to $1.35 per bushel—a 10c increase from last month.

Milk Prices Up Seasonally—Wool and Butterfat Decline
Wholesale milk averaged $4.20 per cwt. at mid-October—20c higher than mid-September, the same as a year earlier. Butterfat declined one cent to the mid-October level of 44c per pound. The price of 40-pound casks of butter compares with 45c last month.

Homemakers Study Management
The wise use of time and energy is the major emphasis in the homemakers program for November. Homemakers will analyze their own use of time and energy to see whether there is any part of the task that could be left out; order of work can be improved; everything is within easy reach; tools are used to the best advantage; both hands work; and it will get done.

What kind of worker are you? Are you a putterer, forever picking up and putting down? Are you a "can't find'er" always on the hunt? Are you a "never-get-thrigger"? Are you an Atlas, carrying the weight of a day's, week's, or month's work on your shoulders as you do your task? Are you a "put-ter-offer," and at the last minute do you hurry and rush to get things done?—and maybe have an accident? Are you an "it's done" on one day, and you take two or three days to get it done? Are you a "leave-it-to-me" type who hands out himself and the family unnecessary work? Are you a martyr to the cause of house-keeping who glories in being worn out? If you are guilty of any of these habits, you need to mend your ways.

By studying these lessons in management of time, homemakers expect to have more time to spend with their families and do the things that make homemaking a more enjoyable experience.

HOG PRICES IN THE YEAR AHEAD: Hog prices have been generally declining since June, and have averaged well below 1958 prices all through the year. The reason for lower prices is that more hogs are coming to market. In 1959 spring pig crop was 12 percent larger than the spring crop of 1958. It seems likely that at least 8 percent more sows will be farrowed this fall than last fall. In view of these pig crop increases, prices of hogs are expected to be 10 percent lower in the year ahead. It is estimated that a 10 percent increase in hog production will bring about a 20 percent decrease in hog prices.

It seems now that hog prices this fall are likely to decline to around $12. The decline is expected to continue in the spring of 1960, reaching a low of about $10 by late March or early April. Although prices will likely recover some in the early summer they will likely be below 1959 prices.

Any sizeable increase in farrowings in the spring of 1960 would result in prices that, in the fall of 1960, would be as low or lower than they will be now. The outlook does not justify any material expansion next year.

STRIPPING ROOM LAYOUT IMPORTANT TO TOBACCO
The tobacco stripping room must be properly arranged and furnished to get the best stripping conditions and maximum profit from the tobacco crop, says the UK Cooperative Extension Service.

Here are five things considered paramount in setting up a good stripping operation: The room must be a stripping bench, proper lights, proper heat and proper floor, say Ira Masnie and Russell Smith, tobacco specialists.

ROOM: Should be well built to prevent drafts, and should be located so as to get the best light that is available, generally north.

BENCH: Should be the full length of the stripping room and built at a height to the most convenient for workers. Low, movable platform should be furnished for short workers to stand on.

LIGHT: Fluorescent are considered best, but skylights are acceptable (if they admit north light), while wall windows on the north side also may be used. Fluorescent lights should be placed above the worker's head and tilted slightly toward the back of the bench.

HEAT: A coke or coal stove and all heating devices should be vented to carry off fumes. Make sure the stripping room heat can be circulated in the room.

FLOOR: Let it be earth if possible; concrete floors are uncomfortable to the workers, and wooden floors present other difficulties.

Every one will press for each two workers in the room. Stripping in barn driveways is not recommended at all, the specialists said, because of inadequate lights, uncomfortable working positions, etc. But if such stripping must be done, use a west doorway location in the morning and east doorway location in the afternoon to keep flies from the face.

direct light off the tobacco MAY CAUSE TROUBLE. Kentucky Cooperative Extension specialists are keeping a close watch on state livestock operations to see whether the new pest cattle called "face flies" are present in Kentucky, already has reported considerable irritation to livestock with attendant loss of weight, increased nervousness and irritability. However, they are not a biting fly, but rather "suckers."

The flies (scientific name is Musca autumnalis) gather around the eyes and nose of animals in pasture. Their activities in taking up body fluids cause considerable irritation to livestock with attendant loss of weight, increased nervousness and irritability. However, they are not a biting fly, but rather "suckers."

So far there are no reports of the face-fly in Kentucky but the chances are the pest will get this year and both.

Entomologists say the flies are found most often in bright, open areas, especially on light-colored surfaces. The flies tend to leave animals when they enter buildings. Males and females hibernate in buildings and may gather with the common cluster fly, another species of fly the face-flier resembles.

FEEDING ANTIBIOTICS TO MILKING COWS: The question is often asked, "Should antibiotics be fed to milking cows?" On the basis of the limited research available, we are not in position to recommend the use of antibiotics in the rations of milking cows. The safe rate of feeding, to avoid adulteration of the milk, is 10 per 100 pounds of body weight. This rate is much lower than the rates fed beef cattle and sheep in experimental trials. Antibiotics sometimes cause cows to go feed and some cattle have bloated when fed feeds containing aureomycin.

The feeding of antibiotics is not a substitute for good management. The cost per gram is quite expensive. From present knowledge it appears that money spent on feeding antibiotics to milking cows would give greater results if spent in treating and using milk records.

Horn of PLENTY

This great land of ours has been blessed with the riches of the earth and with the freedoms, the rights, to enjoy them. But does the mere ownership of these goods guarantee our happiness? All of us have experienced a disappointment at finally possessing some much-desired article. After weeks and sometimes years of looking forward to it, we find that the actual ownership brings little pleasure.

Could the fault lie with the gift itself? No, apparently it is within ourselves. Our own attitudes, our own relationships, our own understanding have certainly much more to do with our final satisfaction.

How then are we to derive the greatest blessings from the goods which have been put at our disposal? The best place to begin is in the Church. Here, in a personal search for God and our own understanding of Him, we may achieve a spiritual harmony, which will bless our lives and those of our fellow men.

DWARF FRUIT TREES: The dwarf fruit trees are proving popular with homeowners who have a small space available in the back yard. These trees seldom grow over fifteen feet tall, and the spread is about 12 feet or less. These trees may be bought in good varieties of apple, cherry and pear. They usually begin to bear in the second or third year and from then on will bear annual crops. Since they are so small, most of the fruit can be picked off the ground or from a short step-ladder. Spraying is no problem because of their small size.

FISH AND SEAFOOD: Thanks to quick freezing, rapid transportation, and controlled refrigeration, you don't have to live by the ocean to serve fine quality fish and seafood. Good supplies of fresh frozen, and canned fish and shellfish are now ready for selection.

Fish is a wonderful source of protein, minerals, and vitamins. It provides these important nutrients and good eating at especially attractive prices this week during the Fish and Seafood Parade promotion by the fish industry. Generally, fresh and frozen fish supplies are at their highest level now. Shrimp landings are now at the season's peak. They are found in the fresh and frozen forms. Fresh shrimp may be whole, headless, cooked and peeled, or breaded. Canned shrimp is another form which can be bought the year around. They are sold on local markets. They have a lean, firm white flesh and a sweet flavor.

Cold storage holdings of fish products, for human consumption, are approximately 15 per cent larger than last year. There is an abundance of fresh haddock available. Small haddock, up to two and one-half pounds, are known as "finnan haddock" and are identified by the black lateral line on the skin. They have a white firm, and flaky texture and are classified as lean fish. Haddock is also marketed smoked, which is called "finnan haddock". It is available now, peeled, or breaded. There is a large supply of fresh flounder, a flat fish which is considered very good. It is found in many markets at this season. Halibut also belongs to the flat fish and has a delicate fresh flavor. Both fat and lean fish can be cooked by the "bake" method. However, lean fish requires added fat during cooking to keep it moist and flavorful.

THE KITCHEN: Convenient outlets for electrical appliances are necessary in every kitchen. Since re-wiring is expensive, keep in mind both present and future needs when outlining or remodeling.

Grover Norton has a cold. George Todd and Charles McClure killed goats this week.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) To receive the Holy Spirit. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Don't Miss It! Dec. 4

STANDARD OIL

As Southern as Grits

No institution is more deeply rooted in the South than our Company. Since our founding 73 years ago, we have concentrated on serving the South, and only the South, with dependable petroleum and allied products. Our officers, directors and all members of our organization are Southerners. Two-thirds of the Company's dividends are paid to more than 14,000 of its stockholders living in the five Southern states we serve. Our profits are reinvested where we make them—in the South. We like to believe that the continued sales leadership of our products is due to two things: 1) their dependable quality; and 2) the fact that we are Southerners who think Southern, and Southerners who inherently observe the customs and courtesies which Southerners appreciate. We're proud to be "As Southern as grits."

Dr. P. G. Brett Nervous Tension and Chronic Worry Can Be Corrected

"Relax and quit worrying, it's just your nerves," is not very helpful advice to a nervous, sick person, in the opinion of Dr. Brett local Chiropractor. "Such individuals need help, for they are really sick and their sickness does have a cause."

Spinal Irritation The problem is one of deep seated and constant nervous tension caused by an irritation of the nerve roots leading from the spine and only when the cause of the irritation is removed can a person relax and quit worrying. Until then, the person is sick mentally and physically. Nature Strives To Correct Nature is constantly making an effort to relieve this pressure and sometimes, through a prolonged rest, does accomplish it. The most efficient and satisfactory way is to have a thorough examination by a chiropractor who has had experience in making spinal corrections.

At Midnight,
Saturday, November 21, 1959

Northeastern Telephone Corporation Takes Pride In Announcing Modern Dial Telephone Service Embracing Rockcastle County And Culminating A Half Million Dollar Program Of Construction And Modernization. The Company Wishes To Thank The Public For Its Help And Cooperation During The Building Program. For A Few Days After Conversion, The Company Will Work Swiftly To Clear Any Errors In The System And To Install Several Phones Missed During The Last Minute Rush.

Some Points To Remember

There is free service between subscribers in the three county exchanges at Mt. Vernon, Livingston and Brydhead. Out-of-county calls are toll calls.

Dialing a phone is easy. Dial the first two letters of the number as it appears in the directory, followed by the five numerals.

Do not mistake the letter "O" which is opposite the 6, with the number "0" (operator).

Party line subscribers, who wish to call someone on their own party line, will find instructions in the front section of their directory.

Some Numbers To Remember:
Long distance, repair service, and information may be had by dialing "0" (operator).

Questions concerning service, bills, or other general information, may be had by calling the commercial office at Mt. Vernon (AL 8-2423 or AL 8-2424)

Subscribers in all areas of Rockcastle may pay bill by check, money order or in person, at the commercial office at the new exchange at Mt. Vernon. All bills are paid in advance.

Some calls are emergencies. Party line subscribers should yield to others on their line to call doctors, ambulances, or to report fires. Small children should not play with phones.

When In Doubt, Always Consult Your Directory

It Will Be Our Constant Goal To Maintain For Our Subscribers The Best And Most Modern Telephone Service Available.

MODERN PHONE SERVICE IS HERE !!

Thanksgiving is an appropriate time to give thanks and this is near enough to that season for all of Rockcastle County to give thanks for our modern dial telephone service.

Many organizations and individuals have labored long in the struggle to obtain up-to-date telephone service. Saturday night at midnight they will realize their dreams. Our present system converts to dial.

The struggle for modern dial service has been a long one. In the case of Northeastern, it began early in 1957 when Perry D. Woodward, executive vice president, visited the Signal and announced the company's willingness to purchase or install a new telephone system. After considerable discussion, the Rockcastle Telephone Co-operative, which was making efforts to get a new system, stepped out of the picture and Northeastern purchased the company from J. F. Dees.

The company is still not "out of the woods". The process of adjustment must now set in. The company says "bugs" will undoubtedly be in the system for a few days, but they plan to eradicate them as swiftly as possible. Some phones are not installed but they will be on the job until all persons, who desire, have service. The directory which will be mailed Thursday (today) to subscribers is a "make-shift", but subscribers can rest assured a permanent directory is being compiled and will be sent out about the first of the year.

Along with other businesses, organizations and individuals, the Signal joins in congratulations and thanks to the company for its contribution to the community.

4-H Camp Promoter, Russell Dyche, Dies

Russell Dyche, London, who was given the title, "Mr. Laurel County", died Tuesday in a Lexington hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Dyche, 75, was editor emeritus of the London Sentinel-Echo and past president of the Kentucky Press Association.

He is a Republican. He was State parks director under Gov. Simon Willis from 1944 to 1947. He put $2,000 of his $3,500-a-year salary into improvements at Levi Jackson State Park. It was believed to be the first time a State official had turned back part of his salary for public improvements. He was instrumental in creating the park. His amphitheater is named for him.

He was editor of the Sentinel-Echo for 50 years. His son, Martin Dyche, is editor now.

Last year, Dyche set up a $10,000 trust fund for a 4-H camp in Levi Jackson State Park if Laurel County residents would match the sum. They did, and the first buildings are now under construction. This is the camp that Rockcastle 4-H members, leaders and coaches, sixteen years ago have worked to help build.

Those who survive besides Dyche are the former Mae Martin and son, are a daughter, Mrs. Arnold Gregory, of Danville; a sister, Mrs. J. L. Buchanan, and five grandchildren.

Republican Voters of Rockcastle County:

We appeal to you Republicans of Rockcastle County to protect our Party. On November 10th, 1959, the county purgation board met and purged approximately 1200 voters from the registration books. Of this amount approximately 90% were Republicans. The county purgation board is composed of two Democrats and one Republican so the Democrats have the advantage of us. Because of this, we are making a direct appeal to you Republicans. When you get the notice you have not voted in two years, if you have, come in and tell the purgation board you have voted. Then this board which is two to one Democratic, can not take your name off the registration books, and if you have not voted in the past two years, come in and re-register as soon as you get the notice from this purgation board. Help us show the Democrat Party we intend to keep our good county of Rockcastle in the hands of the Grand Old Party.

We are making this appeal because so many of you Republicans for some reason or other do not get to vote in the two years which is the law. When you get the notice that your name has been purged, you think your own Republican Party purges you. Of course, this is not true. We do not want any of our Republicans to be taken off the voting list. Again we appeal to you to go and re-register and help us keep Rockcastle County Republican.

We, as county officials of Rockcastle County, and members of your Rockcastle County Republican County Committee, can do nothing unless we have the help of all the Republicans, but we know that we can count on the help of each and every Republican. Let's keep ourselves prepared to vote.
