More Than 7,500 Killed On Roads

During the past decade more than 7,500 persons lost their lives on Kentucky highways, the Department of Public Safety reports.

More than 125,000 persons were injured during the same period and economic loss from traffic accidents totaled nearly a billion dollars, the agency adds.

The department comments: "These are cold, hard, unyielding facts. They stand for human suffering, for a voice in many homes that will never be heard again."

Many of these deaths and injuries and much of the traffic loss need not have occurred; "this is the most tragic fact of all," the department says.

They would not have occurred in many instances, the agency warns, if motorists had taken time to avoid such simple mistakes as speeding, improper passing, following too closely, jumping the light, failure to yield the right-of-way and drunken driving.

"In other words," the depart-

Members of the committee are: N. M. Smock, Sherman Swinford, Roy Norton, Clay Clark, Ernest Best, J. C. Edmiston, Wesley Lambert, Tom Hargis, C. G. Stewart, E. C. Grim, Elmo Anderkin, John King, Shellie Mullins and Carl Howard.

ROWAN LESPEDEZA SEED AVAILABLE ONLY IN LIMITED QUANTITIES

Limited supplies of foundation seed of the new variety of lespedeza, Rowan, are now available from Kentucky Seed Stock, Inc., the UK Cooperative Extension Service agency, department reported this week.

If the only variety of lespedeza recommended by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station for Kentucky use, and the only variety eligible for certification by the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association.

B. W. Fortenberry, manager of the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association, said growers interested in sowing Rowan for production of registered seed (a step in the certification process) can obtain it from John Dickens, manager of the Kentucky Seed Stock, Inc., 744 West Avenue, Lexington. Fortenberry's office at 829 South Broadway Street, Lexington, can be contacted for certification details.

RECOMMENDED VARIETIES OF ALFALFA

Of the many varieties of alfalfa, Atlantic, Ranger, Buffalo, Narragansett, DuPuis, Vernal, and Williamsburg are recom-

ried. Performs satisfactorily in Kentucky but does not seem to be quite as productive as Narragansett or DuPuis.

PRESS AS YOU SEW

Are you starting to make spring clothes from the new fabrics now appearing in the stores? Proper pressing as you sew can give a tailor-made look to the garments you make.

Correct pressing helps shape the fabric to the figure, flattens seams and edges, makes construction easier, and save you time. True pressing is a lowering and lifting motion of the iron over the fabric.

Before pressing the garment you are making, test a scrap of the material. Set the iron's heat indicator for the type of fiber; with a blend, set for the fiber needing the lower temperature.

Most pressing should be done on the wrong side of the garment. If moisture is needed, use a steam iron or a damp cloth. Always protect the fabric with a cloth when pressing on the right side.

All pressing should be done with the grain just as in stitching. Press each seam, dart or tuck before it is joined to another seam. Remove basting threads before pressing, as steam pressing over the threads will leave marks in many fabrics that are hard to remove.

Press seams from wide to narrow part of the garment. Press curved seams and shaped areas over a tailor's ham.

Press darts on the fold with the iron's tip, then press toward center back or center front of garment, using a pressing cloth. Underarm and sleeve darts are turned downward. Curved darts may be stretched at the fold or clipped at the center for a better line. Darts in very heavy fabrics may be cut open almost to the point, press as for open seams, forming a small box pleat at the point.

Press "backseams" open first to make them flatter and easier to turn. Then roll seam slightly to underside and press to a sharp crease. This prevents fracing or undercollar from showing.

Hems should be pressed after they have been marked, basted, trimmed and eased at the top, but do not press over basting. Direct the iron pressure from the lower edge of the skirt, always with the grain. Place heavy paper between the hem and garment prevents marking on the right side. Shrink ease in hem, when needed, by steaming with steam iron or damp press cloth.

To shrink ease in sleeve caps, after the fullness has been adjusted, place the cap over end of sleeve board or over a tailor's ham. Shrink carefully, allowing point of iron to go only slightly beyond stitching line into cap. Do not create sleeves lengthwise. Press over hem of sleeves by pushing the tip of the iron into the sleeve, rather than turning sleeve wrong side out.

What do 4-H club members do? 4-Hers carry projects in almost every phase of farm and home life. In Rockcastle County, the most popular project is cooking, with 130 members completing this project in 1959.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK HONORS 2 1/4 MILLION 4-H'ERS

A quart of milk for every person in Kentucky! That's how much was produced in the 4-H Club dairy project in Kentucky last year if just half the 4-H'ers animals were mature cows averaging only 4,000 pounds of milk annually.

Corn—2,488 acres; vegetables—1,084 acres; 2,722 beef animals. Does this sound like a Texan telling about his farm? It's really part of the total production figures of Kentucky's 4-H Club projects in 1959.

The figure "almost 37 tons" doesn't impress the hay crop; that's the amount of food preserved by Kentucky 4-H girls in their frozen foods projects last year—75,300 pounds. And 1,134 rooms may sound like a huge, new hotel, but it's the total number of rooms decorated by the state's 4-H members in room improvement in 1959.

This week, the 20,278 boys and girls enrolled in 2,279 local 4-H Clubs throughout Kentucky are being honored as the 2 1/4 million 4-H'ers in all 50 states and Puerto Rico observed National 4-H Club Week, March 5-12. Rockcastle County joins the nation in saluting these members of the nation's largest youth organization—especially the 732 members of the 20 4-H Clubs in our county.

Adult volunteer leaders and Extension county agricultural and home demonstration agents, who act as advisers to 4-H groups, share the spotlight with the 4-H'ers this week. In Kentucky, 4-H work is sponsored by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and the UK Cooperative Extension Service, but the 4-H members themselves carry on their club's business and plan activities for their local clubs with the help of their leaders and extension workers. Older 4-H Club members also serve as junior leaders, helping younger members with their project work.

What do 4-H club members do? 4-Hers carry projects in almost every phase of farm and home life. In Rockcastle County, the most popular project is cooking, with 130 members completing this project in 1959.

Second in sewing with 110 members completing, followed by electric, woodwork, swine and dairying, 579 county 4-H boys and girls completed a total of 698 projects last year.

4-Hers give demonstrations, make speeches, take part in judging and other contests. They learn to win gracefully. They learn responsibility for a job to be done and receive recognition when a project is finished. Club members in Rockcastle County have won many honors in 4-H work. Lewis Coffey of the Brodhead club was district champion in pig project. John Purcell of the Mt. Vernon club was district champion in entomology project. Florence Tankersley of the Livingston club was district winner in the 4-H Talent Show and represented District 6A in the specialty art division during 4-H Week at Lexington in June.

4-Hers have a good time—recreation is a part of 4-H. A total of 15 members attended 4-H camp at London. Approximately 100 4-H members participated in the county 4-H talent program, 65 participated in the tractor maintenance course, 275 participated in the 4-H rally day program and in the annual achievement day program.

County 4-H Club officers serving this year are: Norma Ramsey of Wildie, president; Joe Anglin of Livingston, vice president; Linda Miller of Mt. Vernon, secretary-treasurer; Clyde Phillips of Livingston, David Parsons of Wildie, song leaders; Virginia Lee-Brown of Quail and Carl Franks of Maple Grove, pledge leaders.

SAVE DOLLARS

instead of pennies

... with an ELECTRIC RANGE

WHEN you save on food you save dollars instead of pennies. That's why it pays to cook electrically. Take the electric range-oven, for instance... the roast you put in is the roast you take out... there is no drying out—little shrinkage. Foods stay moist, flavor and food value is preserved. Automatic temperature controls maintain just the right heat for moist, flavorful oven meals.

And, on an electric range the heat you select is the heat you get... reduces the loss from burning and boilovers. Controlled electric heat is ideal too for soups and stews, and other low-cost, nourishing meals.

SPECIAL OFFER ENDS MARCH 31
If you install an electric range now, we will hold you pay for extra wiring needed. For each 240-Volt electric range installed in the home of a residential customer between Jan. 1, Mar. 31, 1960, we will pay the customer $35 for changing from a 2-wire to a 3-wire, 100 ampere service, or $15 for installing a new range circuit.

James A. Morris

With Social Security

James A. Morris, a former resident of Rockcastle County, is a field representative with the Bureau of Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance, Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He has been transferred from the Hamilton, Ohio District office to the Pikeville district office, effective Feb. 25.

Morris has been a field representative with the Social Security Administration since April, 1950 when he transferred from the Civil Service Administration in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was employed in the Marietta, Ohio office for 13 months before going to Hamilton.

His wife, the former Miss Jo Ann Saftred of Covington, is a senior in nurses training at Kentucky Baptist Hospital at Louisville. Mrs. Morris will join her husband at Pikeville in August when she completes her training.

Morris was born and reared at Burr and attended Mt. Vernon High School.

The time question has been ruled upon.

On Tuesday, April 2 at 2 a. m. Rockcastle County will go on fast time, according to a ruling passed down March 3 by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Eastern time zone boundary shifted westward in a move that will bring the total number of Kentucky counties in the zone to 63.

At present Eastern time is official in all or parts of 18 Eastern Kentucky counties.

The order was entered by a three-man division acting for the ICC as a whole. Under federal law, disinterested parties may appeal to the full commission, a move that would stay the effective date until a final decision is reached.

Also surviving are six brothers, J. S. John A. and Charley A. of Sylvania, N.C.; Henry, Raymond and Ed of High Point, Ohio; Leta of Hamilton, Ohio; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

On Dean's List

Bruce Mayhew, Jr., University of Kentucky student from Mt. Vernon, has been named to the University of Dean's List in recognition of his high academic achievement, according to a UK announcement.

Mayhew's List is an honor roll of students in the College of Arts and Sciences who have earned a 3.6 standing or better in the previous semester.

Mayhew, a junior majoring in sociology, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Mayhew, Sr.

Federation, a leading opponent of the time change, at its last meeting decided not to make any further issue of the "time" question.

The new time zone, running from the southwest corner of Ohio, now will follow the Ohio river along the Indiana border to the mouth of the Kentucky River at the western edge of Carrollton.

The time zone question has been a vexatious one in Kentucky for several years.

Generally city interests have favored EST, while rural groups, particularly farm organizations and county schools, have wanted CST continued.

Counties which surround Rockcastle are also included in the ruling. This summer, Rockcastle should have the same time as Fayette, Madison, Lincoln, Boyle, Jackson and Laurel.

The possibility of installing a sewage disposal system at Mt. Vernon was discussed Thursday night by the Mt. Vernon City Council.

A representative of the Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith brokerage firm at Louisville appeared before the council last month. He stated that Rockcastle is on West Main and Richmond streets and a disposal plant would cost an estimated $500,000.

Before an accurate estimated cost could be determined a survey would be necessary, he added. The survey alone would cost several hundred dollars.

All houses in the city limits would not necessarily be served. Only residences in close proximity could conceivably be served.

The sewage system could be paid for as it was being used, water rates might eventually have to be raised, if sewage usage were added to the water bill.

The action was taken by the council on the proposed sewage system. Several councilmen expressed a desire to determine public opinion.

Georgetown College Holds Math Contest

Georgetown College will hold its second annual high school mathematics contest, Saturday, April 16, at 10:30 a. m. E. S. T. at the home of the Department of Mathematics.

The contest will be conducted by four divisions: Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry and a Senior Division for advanced mathematics students.

Weight Control Class Cooks Low Calorie Balanced Meal

Both sections of the weight control class met Monday night at the home of Mrs. K. W. Owens, Kentucky Utilities Home Economist, says that the addition of extra fat in cooking is one of the chief causes of excess weight.

Mrs. Owens demonstrated the use of herbs and seasonings to enhance the flavor of meats and vegetables without the addition of calories.

Youth Rally Planned At Livingston

A youth rally is scheduled to be held at the Livingston Christian Church March 14 at 7 p. m. The program will be conducted by the "Crusaders For Christ," a group of young people in the church.

A male quartet from Johnson Bible College will sing at the district meeting.

"Bible Festival" Contest Will Begin At Meeting

A "Bible Festival" contest will begin at the meeting. Points will be given for correct answers to questions in the various groups. Winners will probably receive awards, according to Rev. Raymond Martin.

Charles W. Phillips Census Crew Leader

Appointment of crew leaders for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing in this area was announced today by Supervisor H. C. Howard of the Census Bureau's temporary district office at Corbin.

Charles W. Phillips of Mt. Vernon has been named one of the 21 crew leaders.

The crew leader will supervise about 20 enumerators in the big nationwide census which begins April 1. Crew topics to be covered in the March 7 for rural crew leaders while their city counterparts will start training on March 14.

Topics to be covered in the training sessions include procedures for recruiting census takers, how to train their census takers, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of census takers to insure a complete and accurate count.

According to Howard the crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the U. S. Internal Revenue and Housing. It is his responsibility to recruit and train the census takers; plan and allocate assignments; review the work of the census takers; and take remedial action where necessary, and to handle problems of difficult enumeration.

Kentucky Bonus Is Not Subject To Income Taxes

No income taxes will be levied upon Kentucky's bonus payments to veterans.

The adjutant general's office announced that it has received word from G. C. Hooks, district director of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service, that the bonus payment will not be taxed by the federal government.

The state bonus law exempts the payments from taxation by the Commonwealth, its political subdivisions and taxing districts.

Also, says the adjutant general's office which will administer payment of the bonus, nobody can attach or seize a bonus check in Kentucky without acknowledge attachments, judgments, garnishments or any other claims from anyone. Nor may the state make payment of his bonus check to anyone else.

However, if the State of Kentucky has a delinquent tax bill against a veteran, then the Department of Revenue may claim its part of the check, the adjutant general's office reports.

"This is not a tax on the bonus. It is the state's way of collecting that old tax bill which is in arrears."

Weight Control Class Cooks Low Calorie Balanced Meal

Both sections of the weight control class met Monday night at the home of Mrs. K. W. Owens, Kentucky Utilities Home Economist, says that the addition of extra fat in cooking is one of the chief causes of excess weight.

Mrs. Owens demonstrated the use of herbs and seasonings to enhance the flavor of meats and vegetables without the addition of calories.

Cooking broils in the oven such as meats and baking meats in the oven is another point that was brought out. It was demonstrated that cooking vegetables in the oven while a meat is cooking conserves time and food value as well as making good use of the heat in the oven.

Several different vegetables were prepared in the oven while chicken was being oven cooked. Each woman had an opportunity to taste the different oven foods that were prepared. One lady remarked "If food can taste this good, it's worth the effort."

The use of artificial sweeteners in preparing desserts was also demonstrated. Thus, a quart of the calories almost to half in some desserts.

Copies of recipes demonstrated to the women by Miss Martha Owen, Rockcastle County Home Demonstration Agent.

Heaviest Known March Snow, Very Cold Weather Hit County

Burns Fatal To Conway Woman

Kentucky's unseasonal March snow may have contributed to another death.

Mrs. Audrey Linville Holmes, 49, died at 5:30 a. m. Monday at Berea College Hospital, the victim of burns received Sunday at her home in Conway.

Deep snow delayed an ambulance for three hours, while neighbors worked to clear a path for the vehicle.

The woman, semi-invalid, received burns over 80 per cent of her body when her housecoat caught fire while she was kindling a fire in a grate.

A ten-year-old foster son reportedly doused the victim with a bucket of water to extinguish the flames. The victim was in the house. Surviving are her husband, a foster daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson of Conway; three children, Mrs. F. L. Linville and Walter Linville, both of Clearwater, Fla., and Ray Linville of Dayton, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Thelma Chambers of Clearwater, Fla.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Berea College Home. Burial was in the family cemetery at Conway.

Foster Drama Tickets Placed On Mail Order

Producers of the "Stephen Foster Story" at My Old Kentucky Home State Park are giving prospective viewers of the outdoor drama the opportunity to order tickets for the dates of their choice.

More than 45,000 persons saw the Paul Green musical at Bardston last summer and due to this capacity attendance many were unable to see the performance of their choice, say the producers.

For instance, they were unable to see the performance of Aug. 27. All seats are reserved and tickets, priced at $2 and $3, are available by mail order from the Stephen Foster Drama Association, Bardston.

A gala opening is set for June 1.

Russell James Stephens Dies At Louisville

Russell James Stephens, 44, died March 3 in Veterans Hospital at Louisville. He was born Dec. 13, 1916 at Quail, the son of John Stephens and Thomas Stephens, both deceased. Mr. Stephens was a veteran of World War I.

Others who include his wife, Martha; one daughter, Sharon both of Louisville; two sisters, Marion and McFerran, both of Mt. Vernon and Annie Harb, wife of Pulaski County one brother, Ed Stephens of Oriskany, Ky.

Schools

All schools in the county have been out last Wednesday and whether school is held Friday depends on the weather.

At Newport, Rockcastle County Schools reported that Rockcastle County can make up the school year missed up to now and still be able to dismiss school for the summer in May. This is possible because local schools are closed in August for a spring vacation of one week set-up in the school year calendar.

Local Highways

A total of 500-525 to 100 pounds each of 30 loads of cinders of some three tons per load have been used on Rockcastle County roads between Feb. 28 and March 9, according to a report from Ben Craig, maintenance foreman of the State Highway Department in Rockcastle County.

Mr. Craig reported that crews have worked on a 24 hour schedule since the snow has been so heavy. Many highway employees have worked as high as 24 hours with no sleep, he stated.

Naturally the hills in the county have been given more trouble and tied up traffic. Most troublesome spots, he said, have been Signon Hill, the "cut" which runs south of Mt. Vernon, Burr Hill, the hill at White Star near Livingston, Hall Hill and the Tunnel Hill.

Fire Damages Residence Of Doan Family

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doan of Brodhead was destroyed by fire which started in the attic. The cause of the blaze was not known.

The Brodhead Volunteer Fire Department missed up to now they had in the fire truck stored tank on the blaze. They were unable to use water at the home because of the snow.

Three or four holes were torn in the roof to enable firemen to pour water directly on the blaze. All windows were reported removed from the house.

The Doan family were at home at the time of the fire. The fire was believed to be extinguished some time after four but started to blaze again at about 10 p. m.

Wrecks Attributed To Slick, icy Pavement

At least four recent wrecks have been attributed to ice and snow according to State Police Trooper Raymond Hall.

The most spectacular of these accidents occurred when a 1951 Loretta Rader hit an icy spot and plunged over a 50 to 60 foot embankment. Trooper Hall reported the auto turned completely over in mid-air one or two times.

Mrs. Rader, 53, of Lima, Ohio, was accompanied by her husband when she lost control of her auto some eight miles north of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 25.

Only bruises and abrasions were suffered. No charges were placed. The car was crushed.

Romie Herman Singler, 17, of Brodhead was driving six passengers to church, Sunday when his auto hit a rut in an icy spot, causing him to lose control of the vehicle and strike a culvert. The auto then turned over on its left side, fell straight down some six feet and landed across the icy road probably caused the accident.

1.8 miles southwest of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 70. All passengers were taken to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. Mrs. Mary Singleton, 37, Brenda, 11, and a 10-year-old child were bruised and abrasions. They are still in the hospital. Patsy, 12, and Bobby, 15, Singleton and James Bradley, 17, who were also in the car were examined at the hospital and released.

Monday at 4:15 a. m. Charles Bowman, 34, of Wilmore was rounding the curve at the stop light in Brodhead when his two-ton truck hit an icy spot and added into the restaurant owned by R. E. Hendrickson. The plate glass window was broken.

The truck was not damaged, no injuries were reported and no charges placed.

James Bradley, 17, of Mt. Vernon had started to turn left into Logston's grocery on U.S. 25 north of Mt. Vernon when he struck a rut in the road. He was charged with placing Trooper's car on the icy road probably caused the accident.

Unemployment Pay Taxable

Many federal income taxpayers each year fail to account for income received during the preceding year from sources not reported on their W-2 withholding tax verifications. District Director Gilbert B. Hooks of the Internal Revenue Service said today.

"Sources of taxable income," he pointed out, "include part-time work, dividends, tips or other gratuities, interest on savings accounts, employees paid supplemental benefits under several other forms of income."

Taxpayers who receive supplemental unemployment benefits from their employers should get tax information from his as to the year of taxability of these payments.

When a sale of real or personal property are subject to special rules and must be reported," he added.

Some dividends and certain other forms of income need not be reported. Taxpayers should check carefully against the instructions booklet to determine whether they should be reported.

"Taxpayers who fail to report taxable income are liable to be called to account for it," Director Hooks warned. "They may be liable for income tax, but also to interest and penalties."

Sales Tax Applications Now Being Readied For Kentucky Business Men

Kentucky business men will soon be receiving application forms for permits to do business under the new Retail Sales and Use Tax Act enacted by the 1960 legislature.

Revenue Commissioner William E. Sent said his department expects to begin mailing the permit applications about March 15.

The Department of Revenue is using several mailing lists in their efforts to reach all eligible business men. Some 53,000 employers will receive the mailing.

Others aiding in the distribution of the applications are the 110 field men employed by the Department of Revenue, and groups of Kentucky wholesalers such as the Wholesale Grocers Association and the Kentucky Association of Tobacco Distributors.

representing wholesale grocers or desiring to engage in or conduct a business as a seller with their customers signed up under the new law.

Commissioner Sent emphasized the importance of filling out only one application. He said a man or woman is assigned to each retailer and duplication of forms might lead to a single one number. Ensuing confusion would be difficult for both the retailer and the department.

The retailer will withhold, as compensation for collecting the tax, 2 per cent of the total amount collected.

The department is sending out a sheet of instructions for filing the application and urges business men to read the instructions carefully.

As to who must apply for a permit, the law states: "Every person, firm, partnership or corporation presently engaged in or desiring to engage in or conduct a business as a seller with their customers signed up under the new law."

Every governmental unit and every educational, religious, charitable and like institution is exempt from the law. Every person, firm, partnership or corporation presently engaged in or desiring to engage in or conduct a business as a seller with their customers signed up under the new law must file an application for a permit.

We Salute The 4-H Club

March 5-12 is National 4-H Club Week. In all 50 states and Puerto Rico more than two and one quarter million 4-H'ers their adult leaders and Extension workers who act as 4-H advisers are being honored for outstanding accomplishments.

The most important goals of 4-H Club work are character development, good citizenship, and leadership development.

The Lexington Herald, this week, carried an editorial asking, "Are we bringing up a generation of softies?" According to that article many physicians and physical culturists have expressed alarm at the obesity of youth. One remedy, advocated in the article, for obesity is walking to and from school. Some hope was held out for the "softies" during this snow. Maybe youngsters will get whatever exercise they need by sleigh riding. But you are not likely to catch many of them shoveling snow, the article concludes.

These sentiments we would call genuine. Having youngsters of odd-own and being in agreement, in essence, with the writer we detect a note of fatigue. Surely his father had to come home from a hard day at the office and shovel the steps after he picked himself up from the bottom of the steps one or more times. Now you youngsters—shovel up that snow for your dads.

The 4-H Club Pledge would be a good creed for all youngsters of any age to live by:

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, my health to better living for my club, my community and my country.

National winners will be awarded scholarships totaling

$2,250, with a first scholarship award of $1,000. Lloyd said purpose of the contest is to encourage the students to give special attention to parts of U.S. history that emphasize sacrifices made by Americans in arms to win our freedom. Lloyd listed these rules for the contest:

Over The State

Governor Bert Coale proclaimed an emergency Wednesday; the Northern Kentucky committee and the State Board of Directors; an increased the annual dues from the present $5 per member to $10 effective January 1, 1961. The vote to increase the dues was unanimous.

Many Kentucky communities, particularly in the mountains, were isolated. The snowfall ranged from three inches in Covington to 20 in Somerset and Harlan.

Many Roads Blocked

Schools and major industries closed, most airline and bus service were suspended, and traffic was paralyzed. Adding to driving hazards was a layer of ice left over from last week's snowfall.

State police, issuing hazardous-driving warnings, said many roads were blocked completely.

The snow was a blow for sports fans who had planned to attend regional basketball tournaments last night.

Ten of 16 scheduled tournaments were called off, and fans were advised to watch newspaper sports pages to learn when they would be played. Among those cancelled was the 12th at Somerset.

The Weather Bureau predicted more snow or rain starting tonight for Southwestern and South Central Kentucky. A few light flurries were forecast for Southeastern Kentucky.

Bowling Green's 18-inch blanket of snow isolated its hospital atop a hill, where the staff stayed on duty more than 24 hours because relief personnel were unable to get up the access road. The Park City Daily News, only newspaper there, suspended publication and most stores were closed.

About 50 to 75 miners were stranded atop Lynch Mountain, one of the highest in Eastern Kentucky. They took refuge in a toolhouse.

It's a good idea to identify heifer calves. Dairy scientists point out the calves may be identified by ear tags, photographs or sketches showing color markings.

The survey pointed out that the price of the meal was highest in the United States—as were hourly earnings. Danish workers, for example, could purchase the meal at approximately half the price paid by an American, and the West German worker spent only a few cents more than that.

Ky. Farm Bureau Dues Raised To $10 Per Year

LOUISVILLE, March 9: Kentucky's organized farmers have taken a giant step forward in strengthening the program and finances of their largest organization—Farm Bureau.

Some 400 voting delegates from 85 county Farm Bureaus ignored the worst winter weather in recent Kentucky history to hold the first special convention in the organization's 40 years of existence. The State Farm Bureau Federation is made up of 115 affiliated county Farm Bureaus. The special convention was called by the State Board of Directors for the purpose of making a final decision on an expanded program for the organization and to increase in annual due to finance it.

Meeting here yesterday and today, the county delegates adopted a 12-point expanded program that had been recommended by a special study committee and the State Board of Directors; an increased the annual dues from the present $5 per member to $10 effective January 1, 1961. The vote to increase the dues was unanimous.

"Wise Use" of Plant Food Can Cut Costs, Increase Net Income

DESPITE lower farm prices, farmers are urged to get the most out of their fertilizer.

That was the statement of University of Wisconsin soil specialists, in a release summarized by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. These specialists point out that the wise use of fertilizer can cut costs and increase income at the same time.

The committee reports that the cost of plant food has risen only 12 per cent since 1935. The cost of a ton of production items, a farmer buys has increased 125 per cent. It bases this statement on statistics cited recently by Russell Coleman, executive vice president, National Plant Food Council.

Today's fertilizer has more crop-building power than ever before, the committee says. In the past five years, the industry has increased its concentration of plant food per ton of fertilizer by almost 23 per cent.

Agronomists in some Midwestern states report that fertilizer can return $3 in the form of extra yields per acre for every dollar invested in plant food.

Superphosphate Helps Manure Hold Nitrogen

Adding superphosphate to barnyard manure can pay off in two ways, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

—The superphosphate gives the manure a better plant nutrient balance. —It helps manure hold nitrogen that might otherwise be lost.

The phosphate can be added to the manure before it is spread in the field according to Midwestern agronomists.

FOOD COSTS IN WORK TIME

The industrial worker in Italy labors almost 12 times as long as the American worker to obtain a pound of coffee.

The French worker as on the job more than five times as long to provide a pound of beef sirloin for the dinner table.

Bread, the most universal of foods, costs American and Canadian workers approximately five and one-half minutes working time for one pound of enriched white bread. A pound of white bread in Austria costs 29 minutes in working time; in Belgium, seven minutes; in Denmark, nine minutes; in the Netherlands, 13 minutes; in Italy, 16 minutes; in the United Kingdom, 18 minutes.

Keen Johnson Enters Race For Senator

Former Governor Keen Johnson recently announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in the May 24 primary.

Four "planks in his platform" which he stated are:

"My major concern as a member of the United States senate will be to help protect the farmer's interests and eradicate the Benson blight."

"I am dedicated to the idea of economy in government. I oppose any addition to the backbreaking load of taxation now being carried by our people."

"I favor federal aid to education."

Johnson said that while he was governor there was no increase in taxes, the State debt of about $6,000,000 was paid in full, less money than the legislature appropriated was spent, and a surplus of $10,000,000 was left in the treasury.

Johnson is a Mason and an Elk. He has been married since 1917 to the former Miss Eunice Nichols of Missouri. They have one daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Babbage, who lives in Lexington with her husband and their two sons.
