WHAT IS OLD-FASHIONED RELIGION?
ROCKCASTLE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Give me the old-fashioned religion," John said.

"How old?" asked his friend Will.

"The kind people had fifty years ago when I was a boy," replied John.

"But that wasn't long ago," Will challenged him. "Besides, it didn't amount to as much as you think. If you want real faith-to-goodness old-fashioned religion let me suggest that you go all the way back to New Testament religion. That is the true old-fashioned religion."

"I hadn't thought about it that way," John admitted. "Perhaps you are right."

New Testament religion is what we really need in our time. It is as old as the Bible, yet as fresh as human need.

This old-fashioned religion was Christ-centered. The fathers of the faith recognized that Jesus is "the way, the truth, and the life" (John 14:6). They talked about the Christ who was crucified for their sins.

It was a religion that brought power from above. Paul gave thanks to God "who has delivered us from the power of darkness" (Colossians 1:13). They found that Christ "gave power to forgive sins" (Luke 5:24). They even spoke of "the power of an endless life" (Hebrews 7:16). We are living in a power-conscious world today need a religion that brings God's power into our everyday lives.

In old times religion gave men concern or compassion of soul for other men. Today we are in danger of losing our concern for people. If we lose concern for persons, we are lost in a sea of humanity and the individual does not matter. Modern life confronts us with that danger.

True old-fashioned religion caused men to confess their sins. John found that "if we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9). We do not get rid of sin by trying to justify it, but by confessing it.

It was expected in New Testament times that a person who was saved would join the church and be useful in the Lord's work. "And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved" (Acts 2:47). A saved person wants to be useful. Christ has provided the church so that we may be useful.

People who had the old-fashioned religion found inner satisfaction for their souls. They were freed from worry about their sins. They put their trust in God. They were happy in the highest sense of the word.

Attend a Baptist revival near you and hear how the true, real old-fashioned religion, the religion of the New Testament.

CHECK YOUR HOME FOR ELECTRICAL HAZARDS

Electricity can be a killer! Used unwisely, electrical equipment can be dangerous or even fatal; yet when proper precautions are taken, electricity is one of the safest sources of heat, light and power.

Check your home for electrical hazards. Here are some checkpoints:

Are your overloading the electrical circuits in your home? Never have more than one appliance with a heating element plugged in the same socket unless an electrician has said the wires are large enough to carry the current. Do not plug heating appliances into light sockets; the wiring may not be heavy enough.

Are your fuses of the proper rating? The fuse is a safety device; a blown fuse means something is wrong—an overloaded circuit, a "short," etc. Never replace a blown fuse with one of larger size. Correct the trouble and replace the fuse with another of the correct size. Stand on a dry board or ladder when replacing fuses.

Are all extension cords, sockets and outlets in good condition? Replace defective outlets and sockets; install plastic or porcelain sockets instead of metal plug-chain ones. Repair or replace worn cords. Keep portable cords away from dampness; do not run extension cords under rugs, over nails, or around pipes or radiators. Use only rubber-sheathed cords out-doors or in damp places.

Are electrical outlets or appliances placed near the bathtub or a water faucet? Turning on a light or touching an appliance while in the tub can be fatal. Touching a faucet while turning on a light that has a "short" in it can cause a bad shock. Avoid turning on a light or using any electrical appliance while standing on a wet floor or damp ground.

ELECTRICAL HAZARDS

Are your electrical appliances in good condition? Follow instructions carefully; have repairs made immediately, when necessary. All electrical appliances, as well as the cords attached, should bear the label of some qualified testing agency.

Has your home's wiring been inspected this year? Wiring should be inspected annually for safety and adequacy. Employ only a qualified electrician or electrical contractor to make inspections, repairs, or additions to the wiring system.

FORWARDING BABIES SPECIMENS

In the past in some cases animal heads to be examined for rabies have been sent to Lexington. A memorandum from the Division of Veterinary Public Health says that, "Beginning on July 1, and thereafter, forward all such specimens to the Kentucky State Department of Health Laboratories at Frankfort."

ON EVERGREENS BAGWORMS

Bagworms are voracious feeders and can ruin a plant in a few days.

They are difficult to see because of their protective coloring. They are found mostly on arbutus, Pfitzer junipers and hemlock but may affect other plants.

June is the best time to spray them with Lead Arsenate. Now they are harder to kill and should be sprayed with Toxaphene or Malathion.

Hand picking and burning the bags is effective.

RED SPIDER

Hot dry weather and Red Spiders go together.

By starting early, they may be found by the thousands on most vegetables, shrubs and flowers.

Malathion may be used on vegetables. (Ovee) is best on evergreens although Kelthane may be used.

Kelthane is best on most shrubs and roses.

STORE BEDDING NOW FOR DAIRY COWS NEXT WINTER

You run out of bedding last winter?

It takes 3/4 of a ton per cow if she is fed in the loafing quarters and 1/2 a ton if she is fed outside the loafing quarters. Save small grain straw, pasture clippings, fescue straw, poor quality hay, now.

DON'T LOSE PRODUCTION WHEN COWS FRESHEN

Cows tend to lose production when freshening in hot weather.

Once they lose in production it's very hard to get them producing again.

You make money by preventing that loss in production. Give them plenty of succulent feed, night pasture, Sudan grass, silage or good hay if pastures are short.

It's a lot easier to keep them up than it is to get them back up.

Seed Varieties Important For Good Hay, Pasture Crops

Varieties of alfalfa, red clover, white clover, timothy, fescue, orchard grass and bluegrass that are best for late summer seedings in Kentucky were listed this week.

Warren Thompson, UK Cooperative Extension Service agronomist, says the recommended varieties have been tested by research and shown to be well adapted and high in yield and quality.

The List: Alfalfa—Narragansett, Atlantic, Buffalo, Ranger, Deputis, Williamsburg and Verbal.

Red Clover—Kenland, White Clover—Ladino, Timothy—Clair (newly developed by the UK station).

Fescue—Ky. 31, Orchard Grass—Kentucky Select, Kentucky grown.

Bluegrass—Kentucky grown, Thompson urged use of certified seed of these varieties; where available to insure high quality.

AGRONOMY FIELD DAY

The Agronomy Field Day to be held at the University of Kentucky, Friday, August 12, will start at 9:30 a. m. (EST). The meeting place is the Farm Service Building (east of the Dairy Center near the sheep barn). Turn in the drive to the Dairy Center near Dean Welch's home.

At 1 p. m., the group will have the opportunity of hearing a talk by Dean Frank J. Welch and we are hoping to have Governor Bert Combs on the program.

A tour has been planned in which the latest research work on the following subjects will be shown and discussed:

1. Weed control in corn, soybeans, and burley tobacco through the use of various chemical weed killers. The hot-gas method of treating tobacco plant beds with methyl bromide will be demonstrated.

2. Recommended fertility and cultural practices for production of burley tobacco, including insect control, will be demonstrated and discussed.

3. Tobacco breeding work for disease resistance will be shown and discussed.

4. Components of a corn hybrid; procedures utilized to develop superior hybrids as well as new hybrids developed at the University of Kentucky, will be shown and discussed.

5. Demonstration of efficient corn production practices such as rate of planting, hybrid maturity and leaf blight resistant hybrids.

6. Zinc deficiency symptoms in corn will be shown.

7. Grain and sweet sorghums used for silage and syrup will be shown and discussed. The Agronomy staff will be looking forward to visiting with you at the Agronomy Field Day - August 12.

VACATION FOR FARM PEOPLE

Now is the best time for most farm people to take a much needed vacation.

Of course there are fifty things to do on the farm and fifty things to do in the farm home.

It's hard to get away from the farm and home but August is usually the best time and you do need a vacation.

How about going to one of our wonderful Kentucky State Parks for a few days?

How do dairymen and poultrymen get a vacation? To tell the truth about it, I don't know; but it's worth trying.

FARMERS... why make long trips to town to pay bills? Why run the risk of loss of cash? Why not open a checking account with us and pay by check? It saves so much time to merely mail a check. And this gives you more time for your "money-making chores."

To Whom It May Concern

The Maret cemetery in Rockcastle County, Ky. is the sacred burial ground of many of our friends and loved ones. We do not visit this sacred spot as much as we would like to. This is not because we have forgotten our loved ones who rest there, but because it is almost impossible to get to the cemetery. As you know the road to the cemetery is in a bad state of repair. Most people feel that it is impossible to build a road over the present route.

Having had many people talk to me about this matter, and desiring that we work with a committee to get a road to this cemetery, we make this proposition for your consideration and approval.

A cemetery committee composed of H. C. McNew, Cecil Daily and Byron Baker has been appointed. They will solicit funds to build a road from Buckeye to the cemetery. This route will eliminate the crossing of all water courses giving us a dry road all the way. We will keep an itemized record of all monies received. As soon as sufficient funds are collected to assure our getting a surface bound road which can be travelled by car the entire year, work will begin. If for any reason the road is not constructed, all monies received will be returned to the donor.

This notice is sent to you in the hope that you will show enough interest in this needy project to send a liberal donation to "Maret Cemetery Road Fund", care of H. C. McNew, Wildie, Ky. You may give your donation to any member of the committee.

H. C. McNew Secretary.

Swimming Pool Talked By Recreation Council

The possibility of getting a swimming pool in Mt. Vernon was discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of the Rockcastle County Recreation Committee. Dr. D. B. Settles of Berea and Mt. Vernon, told the group the way and means used in getting a swimming pool at Berea. Mrs. Joyce Henderson was requested to write to several firms who construct swimming pools and ask them what size pool Rockcastle County would need for the population and an estimated cost of such a pool. This is the nearest meeting of the council Mrs. Henderson hopes to have several estimates to put before the group. Dr. Settles informed the recreation council that the Berea pool cost some $85,000. The Berea Pool Committee sold stock and when Edward, Esq. had $15,000 worth of stock that seemed to be all they could do. After a while he seems to be giving up, but they would complete their sales of stock they covered several more pools of different going. Finally the Berea group borrowed $10,000 from the bank. This amount is now paid back and they are paying off the preferred stock.

Livingston Buys 1500 Ft. Of Fire Hose

At the regular monthly board meeting of the City of Livingston fire hose was purchased. Some 900 feet of two and one half inch hose, 600 feet of one and one half inch hose. According to Livingston Mayor, Lunsford Dehage of 1500 feet of hose we can reach all property in the City. The hose will cost $3,394.50. Mayor Webb says the city has the water, fire plugs and panel truck to handle fire hose. They have a fire crew with a fire truck. As soon as they are able, he reports, the city of Livingston will purchase a fire truck. Livingston Dehage is a representative of the Fire Truck Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., and Fred Baker of Mt. Vernon, representing the Chevrolet Truck Chassis, both attended the Livingston Board meeting.

1,000 More Addresses Needed For MV Renewal

Over 1,000 invitations have been mailed out for the Mt. Vernon High School renewal. The renewal is scheduled for August 20. Members of the invitation committee started, if any student failed to receive an invitation it could be that his name wasn't on school record; or inability to find correct address; or if a woman the committee may not know her approximate name. Therefore, the committee requested persons to send reservations for themselves. The committee will be glad to help, even if they failed to receive an invitation. Lions club president Owens stated the sending in of reservations for the club is necessary. The club must know how many are expected so that plans can be made for program and for the Fire Festival. Members of the club expressed their appreciation to those who sent in addresses, but stated they still need approximately 1,000 addresses, to send invitations to. Tickets may be obtained from the Mt. Vernon Lion's club.

8 Roads To Get Work; Parsons Is Supervisor

At the regular meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, Tuesday, Byron Baker and Cecil Dailey requested assistance in building a road to Maret Cemetery near Wildie. Baker and Dailey reported that they were members of a committee to solicit funds to get the road underway. Persons in the community as well as others are making contributions to the road fund. They plan to have enough money to complete the road before work begins, they said. The Fiscal Court promised them gravel and equipment and "whatever other help they thought they could give." Highway Supervisor Employed Dan "Rhodie" Parsons was employed by a unanimous vote of the Fiscal Court as County Rural Road Supervisor. His office will be in the town of Wildie-Hummel road, Red Hill to Cooksburg road, from Ky. 70 via Robert Snodgrass to Ottawatoe road, from Mt. Vernon to Well Hope and Waddell road, which ties in with two blacktop roads. Pike told the court that as soon as the 127 miles of road which has been set up for the RS road work has been completed, more roads can be put on this program. As fast as they can be finished we can get others set up for the next year. Roads which were selected to receive first attention were those which had been selected by magistrates. Pike and Roy Norton went to Frankfort to the office of Ted Marcum for approval of the roads selected. J. R. Poynter told the court he did not get the road he wanted. Norton said he had been unable to see Poynter before leaving for Frankfort, but had thought the road selected would be agreed to by him. Norton later proposed to the Court to set up the Hanford-Price road on the rural highway program for a distance of three miles. This is in Poynter's magisterial district. F. F. Robbins made a motion to request the state to contribute to the RS program the Chestnut Grove Road, "for the purpose of blacktopping the road," seconded by Marcum. The motion was carried by a 5-2 vote.

Road Bonds Paid A motion carried to pay-off $3,000 of road bonds. If given permission by bonding commission the Court will pay off $9,000 in road bonds, they agreed.

According to Clell Pike, Rockcastle County is getting some $100,000 they never got before and they still have the $35,000 which they have had for the past few years in addition to getting a share of the two percent gas tax money. A motion was put on the books to allow each magistrate $2,000 for road money for his territory. This is the amount they had set up for several preceding years. Scheduled Road Work A total of eight roads have been set up to be completed as soon as deeds are signed for all right-of-way. Mr. Pike stressed that if deeds were not signed by the time work was ready to begin, equipment would be moved and work would begin in another area where deeds were signed. Roads which are scheduled for work are: the Red Hill to Wildie-Hummel road, Red Hill to Cooksburg road, from Ky. 70 via Robert Snodgrass to Ottawatoe road, from Mt. Vernon to Well Hope and Waddell road, which ties in with two blacktop roads. Pike told the court that as soon as the 127 miles of road

Report Excess Tobacco Now

Shelle Mullins, chairman of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported that tobacco producers who have been notified of excess acreage to reduce the price support. She said that the acreage for disposition of the excess acreage should be reported within 10 days from the date of notification. According to Mullins, farmers who fail to file within the 10 day period could cause the loss of price support on the farms that would be ineligible for price support. Mullins pointed out that the loss of price support on any farm could mean a loss in the amount of money the farmer would receive for his tobacco crop.

'Shop At Home' Campaign Is Now Underway In Rockcastle

Merchants featured on the 'Shop At Home' campaign in Rockcastle County page this week are Joe Noe and Clyde Barnett. Clyde Barnett who has owned a grocery store in Mt. Vernon for the past 12 years was born in the Red Hill section of Rockcastle County. He attended the University of Kentucky. He operated a restaurant in Mt. Vernon for 4 years. He built the building now occupied by the Greenery store and operated a restaurant there for a time and then sold it to Ruel Thomas, now deceased. About six years ago Barnett bought a grocery store. After a few years he bought out Carl Mullins' grocery store and Conrad Parrett's store. He combined both stores. About six years ago he arranged his store in a serve-yourself fashion. Organizations to which he belongs include: the Mt. Vernon Lions Club, Rockcastle County Board of Education, the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon. He is director of the Kentucky Fox Hunters Association which was organized in 1941. President of Eastern Kentucky Fox Hunters Association - 4 years, Rockcastle County Republican Party, the First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon. He is chairman, director of the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital, some three years. He served two terms as a member of the Mt. Vernon Town Council, helped locate the new post office building and was influential in persuading the post office department to add R 2 out of Mt. Vernon.

New Accrediting Standard Requires Physical Educ.

(The following article is one of a series of three. It was written by Preston Parrett, coach of Livingston High School. Ed. Note)

WHY TEACH PHYSICAL EDUCATION?

On June 23, 1959, the Kentucky State Board of Education, upon recommendation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, adapted new Accrediting Standard and courses of study for Kentucky Elementary and Secondary Schools. These new programs list health, safety and physical education as approved offerings for each of the twelve grades. Health, safety and physical education instruction is required each year of each student in grades one through the eight. All high school students are required to have one half unit in health and one half unit in physical education before graduation. The requirements also state that each student in the elementary school shall receive a minimum of 120 minutes per week of supervised physical education activities. Physical Education in the elementary school should consist of a planned program of organized and directed physical education activities scheduled on a class basis, and taught by the classroom teacher or a specialist in physical education. Physical Education is not new, it has been taught in some of the public schools of Kentucky and Rockcastle County for years. However added emphasis has been placed upon this vital portion of a good educational program. Physical Education is concerned with the development of the muscles through physical activity, and should provide for a wide range of movements involving the big muscle groups. The big muscles are those of the trunk, shoulders, hips and neck. They are used in running, jumping, throwing, striking, climbing and pushing activities. When the big muscles of the body are used, they burn up more energy, which results in a greatly increased activity of the heart, lungs, and the heat regulating system of the body. It is this organic activity which develops power, vigor, vitality, resistance to fatigue and good health. Many people have said, "It is natural for children to play, why teach them?" It is very true that play is natural for children but this only means that they are born with a desire to play. They are not born with a knowledge of the rules of various games, nor do they come equipped with the ability to hit a ball or make a basket. Children are also born with a desire to eat, yet we have to teach them how to handle a spoon, a fork and a knife. Just as we teach our children to eat properly, we must also teach them not only game skills, but social skills such as: good citizenship, sportsmanship, fair play and team work. A good physical education provides not only the opportunities to teach social skills but also provides the opportunity to practice them. Many parents have seen the need for physical education. We only have to look into our homes and neighboring homes and yards to see tricycles, scooters, swings and slides. We see many dads teaching their children how to ride so that their youngsters will grow up straight and strong. We see mothers teaching their youngsters how to share when they cut a pie and say, "Here's a piece for brother, a piece for sister, a piece for daddy and a piece for momma." We see dads teaching the children to share their toys. Yes, we see that dads and moms have started their children on the right path, but the learning process is slow. It must be continued in the public schools and since the school has the children the biggest part of the day, it is up to the school to provide not only mental learning but physical learning and development as well.

Miss Anita Louise Wylds Weds Andrew C. Wallace

Miss Anita Louise Wylds, daughter of Mrs. Mattie Miller of Disputanta, became the bride of Andrew C. Wallace of Lexington, son of Mrs. Bertha Beckett of Lexington and Andrew Wallace of California, at a ceremony last week.

Rev. Steadman Bagby performed the ceremony in the candle-lighted chapel of the First Methodist Church at Lexington.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, organist, and Miss Harriet Lowrey, vocalist, presented a group of nuptial selections.

The bride was given in marriage by E. C. Dyer. She wore a full-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, with a train. Her finger tip veil fell from a Swedish crown and she carried a floral bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Margaret Titus of Me Vey, the maid of honor, wore a frock of blue chiffon and carried pink carnations.

Serving his brother as best man was Cliff Wallace of Butler. Ushers were Frank Perkins and Harold Caudill.

A reception was held at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will make their home at Lexington.

The bride attended the University of Kentucky and is now a Junior at the Good Samaritan Hospital School of Nursing.

The groom attended the University and served four years with the Air Force. He was employed two and one-half years as a Kentucky state trooper, and is now employed at Lexington.
