Top Crop

Let's talk about the best crop on the farm - the boys and girls. Now is the best time of the year to get them started in 4-H Club. All boys and girls like to produce something useful, that has some value, either to themselves or to others. They want to have something of their very own. The 4-H Clubs of Kentucky give boys and girls just such an opportunity.

Each member of a 4-H Club selects a project to do at home to fill the membership requirements, and of course its more fun to do something that other boys and girls are interested in, too. To own something of his own, to have a responsibility for it, and to learn while doing gives a youngster a place in the sun.

Projects for girls and future homemakers vary from clothing, foods, home improvement and canning to good grooming and housekeeping. For the boys, selection may be from the many different livestock, crop, horticulture, forestry and farm engineering projects. Particulars for all projects are written out in circular form, especially prepared for 4-H members use, and are furnished free to members by club leaders and extension agents. Many new projects have been added recently, including photography, junior leadership, cooperative enterprise and money management. In addition, tion to project work the club members develop, through association with other boys and girls, in activities such as camps, meetings and fairs.

Any interested boy or girl from nine to 20 years of age should find out about 4-H work in the local community and either join the local group or by working with others, get a new-club started. Now is the time to start; clubs are being set up.

So, we hope all parents will urge boys and girls to get into 4-H Club work and will encourage them to do a good job after they do get in. Naturally, a boy or girl can't get much out of any organization unless they have the enthusiastic support of the father and mother. Local leaders and extension agents will appreciate inquiries and do all they can to "welcome new members" into the 4-H Club work.

Farm-Home Week Schedule Laid Out in Broad Areas
The main program for the 4th annual Farm and Home Week, sponsored by the UK Agricultural Extension Service and set for Jan. 31 - Feb. 4, 1961, has been laid out. S. C. Bohanan, state county agents' chairman, and one of the Farm-Home Week planners, this week released the following tentative schedule:
-Jan. 31, 1961: Rural zoning, preparing for old age, White House Youth Conference, farming trends and agricultural policies. Master Farm Homemakers will be recognized, winners of the Golden Sheaf award announced and Farm City activities started, plus tours of University installations.

Feb. 1: Family health and costs, mechanization and automation, kitchens, beef production, dairying, horticultural work, plus the Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association meeting, The Kentucky Feeder Calf Association session and the Kentucky Swine Council meeting. The afternoon session includes landscaping problems, pasture and harvesting work, swine developments, the state 4-H Council. Night sessions include the Stockmen's Banquet, and the Nut Growers conference.

Feb. 2: Crop production, farm management, laundry problems, vegetable production, dairying, poultry, a night family foods. At noon the annual Dairy Luncheon will be held. The afternoon session includes dairy breed meetings, sheep problems, poultry, the Homemakers Federation, and organizing the farm for profit. Farm managers and rural apprisers have a banquet that night.

Feb. 3: Tobacco production, The Homemakers Federation, Young Farmers meeting, and beekeeping.

Condition-Checks Needed If Egg-Lay Levels Drop
If pullets are not laying well, check several things to determine the cause, says J. E. Humphrey, UK Cooperative Extension Service poultryman.

They are: Experience of lice and mites; pullets pregnant not in good flesh have worms; insufficient feeding and watering space; poor house ventilation or insufficient lights.

Any of these can keep a flock of laying pullets from reaching profitable production, Humphrey says.

stick of efficient production is furnished by this example: Pullets hatched about March 15, 1960 and managed properly should have reached their peak of egg production by now. Other factors involved in good egg production are pullet age, breeding lines, growing rates and management practices since housing.

Tips on Cleaning Household Surfaces
Getting ready for holiday visitors? Right now you're probably doing that last minute housecleaning before friends and relatives - and Santa - come to your house at Christmas-time.

Here are some tips for cleaning some household surfaces that may puzzle homemakers. Many homes have some furniture with plastic upholstery. What is the best way to clean this? Most plastics need only a wipe-off with clean, warm water or mild suds. For heavily soiled plastics, follow manufacturer's directions, as hot water, strong abrasives, or scouring powders may cause damage.

Plastics are made of many materials, so using just any cleaning agent is not wise. Very hot water softens some plastics and strong cleaning agents can cause permanent damage. So you'll be safest if you follow manufacturer's instructions on plastic upholstery. The hang tag that was on the furniture when you bought it should give this information. Cleaning piano keys is a job often forgotten until the last minute rush. They can be cleaned by wiping with a cloth dipped in denatured alcohol. If keys are very soiled, whitening may be used for cleaning.

How can tarnished silver be cleaned? If articles are only slightly tarnished, use three tablespoons of best whitening chalk, 1 tablespoon ground white soap, and 1 teaspoon ammonia - with enough water to form a thin paste. Rub the paste on the silver with a dry cloth until the articles are quite bright. Rinse and dry. Another way to clean silver is to put silver articles into an aluminum pan with a solution of 1 quart boiling water, 1 tablespoon baking soda, and 1 tablespoon salt. Be sure the pan is aluminum; keep the water boiling. Let the silver stay in this solution until clean; then remove, rinse well and dry.
