no town is an island... No Kentucky town lives by itself, completely separated from the rural areas that surround it. The farms and country are a vital part of the urban community. The country depends on the town for goods and services... the town depends on the country for farm products and customers. What helps one, is bound to help the other. So, when the Kentucky farm was modernized and improved with rural electricity... the town benefited. Low cost power made the farm more efficient, more productive... put money in the farmer's pocket... money which he spends in the towns and cities of Kentucky. Kentucky's farmers originally built their rural cooperatives for one purpose only... to get the electric power they could not buy elsewhere. Out of their cooperation has grown a force powerful enough to keep Kentucky's prosperity growing. pays for keeping my family warm electrically all week long!

"Electric heating is a real bargain in family health and comfort," says Floyd Squires, who operates a small real estate office and is a builder and developer in Campbellsville, Ky. He and his family live in a new total-electric Gold Medallion home he built as the first of an all-electric subdivision. The Squires' 7-room home, 2250 square-feet in size, is heated and air-conditioned with a heat pump. "Our electric heat is the best type we have ever known. I especially like the freshness and evenness of heat in all parts of the house. We experience no drafts at all."
 Mrs. Squires seconds her husband's thoughts on electric heating but is most impressed with its cleanliness. Cleanliness, too, is what she likes particularly in cooking with her electric range.

Funks G-Hybrids — Average yield	95.45 bu. per acre

Order your Funk's G-Hybrids NOW so that you can be assured of getting the proper variety and grade of Funk's G-Hybrids that you want to plant on your farm this spring.

There were 25 different Hybrids planted in the 18 different test plots. 8 of these Hybrids were Funk's G-Hybrids. 17 of these hybrids were different competitive hybrids planted side by side of the Funk's G-Hybrids. The top 3 hybrids out of the 25 ranked as follows:

2nd Funk's G-91 — Average yield	94.85 bu. per acre
3rd Funk's G-134 — Average yield	94.81 bu. per acre

You can then be guaranteed of getting G-144 when planting time rolls around this Spring. These Funk's G dealers have a copy of each of the individual 18 test plots. Prewitt Quits Hospital Job

George Prewitt, administrator of the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital, has resigned effective April 10, according to an announcement by Preston Nunneley, president of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Prewitt resigned to take a position with a drug firm.

He has been administrator of the hospital about two years, succeeding Floyd Owens. Prior to that time, he was laboratory and x-ray technician, joining the hospital staff in October 1957, about a month after the hospital first opened.

A personnel committee has been set up to find a new administrator, Mr. Nunneley said. The committee is headed by Mr. Owens.

If the committee is successful and an administrator is found, there will be a special meeting of the Board to discuss and interview the applicant. Mr. and Mrs. Prewitt and children will leave Mt. Vernon.

Locate 'Shine' In Corn Crib

There was more "corn" than officers bargained for when they went to the home of John Baker, 37, of Popper Creek, Saturday. When state and federal officers searched the Baker farm for moonshine they finally found 11 gallons in the corn crib under several hundred bushels of corn.

The officers also reported they found and destroyed a 5-gallon still, 100 gallons of mash and other equipment in a half-bushel behind the house.

Baker was arrested in London before a U. S. commissioner on a charge of possessing tax-unpaid whiskey.

Making the arrests were Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division officers from Lexington and Somerset, State AG's August Lawrence and Rockcastle Sheriff Walter Sowder and deputies.

Somerset Woman Killed In Wreck

Mrs. Thelma Foster, 43, of Somerset, was killed late Saturday, when the auto in which she was a passenger collided with another near Renfro Valley.

The death toll for Rockcastle so far in 1961 stands at 3.

The driver of the second car, Frank Himes, 18, of Disputant, was charged with hit-and-run driving and having no driver license, according to Willis Martin, state trooper, who investigated the accident.

Martin gave the following account of the accident:

James R. Foster, husband of the victim, said he was driving on U. S. 25 when he saw another auto approaching on the wrong side of the road. Foster said he swerved to the left to try to avoid the accident, but at the last minute the other car veered back and the cars hit head-on.

Foster, and his son, Raymond Jr., were injured in the wreck and were reported in fair condition at the Somerset City Hospital.

Himes also was injured, but only slightly, and fled on foot, Martin reported.

Martin said he found Himes at the home of a relative at Berea, and was told he was being taken to the Berea College Hospital for examination.

However, a check Sunday showed he had not been admitted to the hospital at Berea, nor had he been treated there.

Mr. McCall was active in all civic affairs and was a member of several clubs, including Rotary. He was also a member of the Methodist Church.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a brother, C. E. McCall, Corbin, and four sisters, Mrs. Grace Bethurum, Mareburg; Mrs. Alice Albright, Lexington; Mrs. Judith Frith, Louisville, and Mrs. Lena Hurt, Brodhead.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at Stanford. He was buried in Buffalo Springs Cemetery.

Roundstone's grade school basketball team scored an easy 44-25 victory over Livingston Grade School to capture the Rockcastle County Grade School Tournament Saturday night at Mt. Vernon High School Gymnasium.

In an earlier game, Roundstone defeated Brodhead Grade School 35-22 to advance to the final play-off.

County Attorney, James W. Lambert, and Ed Hunt awarded the two teams a trophy in behalf of the Mt. Vernon Lion's Club, that sponsored the tournament.

In winning, Roundstone ended the season with a 18-win-3-loss record. The team lost earlier games to Livingston, Silver Creek of Berea, and East Bernstadt.

Graduating to Mt. Vernon High School next year will be seven Roundstone players:

Orvie Richmond, 6-foot, and captain of the team; Donald Ambrose, 6-foot-2-inch first string player; Glennie Coffey Jr., Keith Abney, Robert Middleton Jr., Ronnie Reppert and Keith Coffey.

Richmond averaged over 20 points a game during the past season and was the team's leading scorer.

BEGINNER'S BAND for Rockcastle County schools got together this week for a musical program at Brodhead Grade and High School. The band, under the direction of Jack L. Adams, was enjoyed by the audience. Because of the large number in the band, a complete picture could not be taken. Students from all schools in the county participate in the beginning music program.

GOING INTO THE BOOZE BUSINESS can be difficult at times in dry territory, as Willard J. Bunch, 37, Williamsburg, can attest. State Trooper Raymond Hall stopped Bunch for having no license plate light Friday night and found 384 half-pints and 36 pints of whiskey, gin and vodka in Bunch's auto. Needless to say, Bunch was held, charged with transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry territory.

Walter Morris

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as a candidate for coroner of Rockcastle County. I am the son of the late James and Lucy Morris. I was born here in this county, am 57 years of age, and have always been a faithful Republican. I am married to the former Stella Furman. I have six children. I am a member of the Baptist Church, an past Master of the Dave Jackson Masonic Lodge of Livingston.

For a number of years I was employed by the L & N Railroad, worked two and one half years at The Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. At present I am working as a carpenter here in Mt. Vernon, where I live.

I would appreciate you giving careful attention and consideration in this race, inquire into my past and present conduct. I feel that I am fully qualified to serve you people in this office. Thank You.

Respectfully,
Walter Morris

Farm Housing Funds Added By Agency

An additional $50 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans, Robert C. Winn, the agency's county supervisor announced today.

He said that the new loan funds assure an adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available.

Farm Housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service building.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the local office of the Farmers Home Administration. Mr. Winn said. The loans bear 4 percent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years.

The major demand in Rockcastle County is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses, and most of the funds are used for new construction. Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating, and pressure water supply systems, the addition of bathrooms and the modernization of kitchens.

Local farmers also use the loans to adjust their service buildings to the changing requirements of agriculture. An example in this area is the conversion of obsolete dairy facilities by the construction of a modern milking parlor and loafing barn.

The eligibility requirement are such that both small farms and larger farms will qualify provided satisfactory credit cannot be obtained from other sources and the farm is of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan.

FARM BUREAU

When the writer became the youngest county agent in Texas 49 years ago, modern agriculture, as we know it, was a newly born infant. It had its birth in 1906 with the beginning of Farm Demonstration work now known as the Extension Service. The reaction to this new movement in agriculture was very mixed.

A few farmers were enthusiastic and active supporters of the program, while the majority were either lukewarm or downright opposed to the new movement. The new county agents were the butt of a lot of jokes and criticism. They were called "book" farmers and "swivel chair" farmers. Some concluded their criticism by saying, "That fellow can't tell me how to farm. I've farmed 40 years and have worn out two good farms already."

"However," "book" farming caught on so fast that by 1914 the Smith-Lever Act was passed which enlarged greatly the scope of the work started in 1906. The demand for more service continued, resulting in passage of the Smith-Hughes Act in 1916, which brought vocational agriculture into being.

In a few years, county and home demonstration agents and vocational agriculture teachers came to be regarded as a necessary fixture throughout the land.

As the years passed, other agencies came into the farm field and have made many valuable contributions to the march of progress of modern agriculture. As a result of the combined efforts of all these groups, American agriculture has made more advancement in the past 50 years than it had made in the previous history of the county.

Agriculture research deserves at least an equal share of credit for the amazing change in farming and rural homemaking in the past half century, for without research the field worker would be without the tools with which to do the job. On the Experiment Station, theories have been woven into facts. The scientist and the inventor have provided the means for making a success on the land. Doubling the per acre production of tobacco, wheat, corn and many other products in Kentucky in the past 20 years are the fruits of research. The passing of scrub livestock is a research accomplishment.

And bigger and better things are at hand in the field of research. This was assured when the Kentucky Farm Bureau and the Blueprint Committee succeeded in getting the 1960 General Assembly to appropriate $1 million for a start on a new Agricultural Science Center at the University of Kentucky. This means even greater agricultural progress in our state than we've had in the past.

Cautions Are Issued On Plant Bed Making

Kentucky tobacco farmers were warned this week that current winter weather is following the same pattern as in 1960.

Last year, at bed time, ground was unusually dry. The spring also was dry and plant beds suffered considerably. At planting time in 1960, there was a tremendous shortage of good plants for setting out. So says Ira Massie, UK Cooperative Extension Service specialist, a similar situation could develop this year. That is, unless the state gets general rains in the near future.

Plant-beds now are being prepared in many areas, he noted.

Massie advises:

1) Present conditions will have much bearing on plant-bed making and management. 2) If the desired rains have not come soon, plow the bed sites and use burning, steaming or chemicals to control weed seeds. But, if the ground is still dry, roll the bed site as soon as the seed is planted. If the weather continues dry, water the beds the day the seed are put in. Use water as needed thereafter to keep the surface moisture constant. This will help germination of seed, growth and development of young plants.

3) Use the recommended amount of 4-16-4 fertilizer. Avoid heavy applications of such as fertilizers as 8-10-15, 6-12-18 or ammonium nitrate. Massie noted it is "essential" to avoid the plant shortage that marked the 1960 tobacco production year. Proper measures (as listed above) can prevent this, he said.

These gloved hands are placing sensitized film on a radioactive piston. This produces a "radio autograph," from which Shell can study the effect of deposits on top performance.

BULLETIN:

Super Shell with 9 ingredients now contains 1 quick-start component; 1 fast warm-up ingredient; 1 mileage booster; 1 anti-knock mix; 2 octane boosters; 1 gum preventive; 1 anti-icer and new improved TCP—to give your car top performance

Read the facts about today's Super Shell. You'll learn why each of its nine ingredients is essential if you want top performance from today's engines.

1. The quick-start component in Super Shell is so volatile it's kept underground.
The Butane in Super Shell is like the priming charge in a shotgun shell. Its quick-ignite volatility is what gets you started fast on cold days. Butane, in fact, vaporizes so easily that it is kept under pressure—22 million gallons of it—400 feet underground!

2. The fast warm-up you get with Super Shell comes from its Pentane mix. Pentanes are "kindling" molecules—split from heavier hydrocarbons.
They release their energy quickly, giving you top cold-weather performance in a hurry.

3. The mileage booster in Super Shell owes its energy to carloads of platinum catalyst.
Shell uses eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst to produce Platoframe, the extra-energy, extra-mileage ingredient in today's Super Shell.

4. The anti-knock mix in Super Shell is so effective that one teaspoonful treats a gallon.
To detect the slightest trace of knock, Shell scientists depend on an astonishing set of instruments. This registers the faintest knocks on a delicate picture tube, and then photographs it with a high-speed camera.

5. & 6. Both octane boosters in Super Shell have a story. One is linked with Jimmy Doolittle.
The other comes from heating petroleum to 900 degrees. Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer the first of these high-octane ingredients for Shell aviation fuel. It is called Alkylate.

7. The anti-gum ingredient in Super Shell uses a chemical "police" to guard against gum-fouled carburetors.
Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This gum clogs carburetors and fouls automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

8. The anti-icer in Super Shell takes care of the most mysterious stalls of all.
Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to drop below forty-five degrees, an anti-icer is added.

9. TCP in Super Shell increases power, mileage and plug life.
In 1953, Shell first introduced TCP—a revolutionary additive that neutralized certain harmful effects of combustion deposits.

10. Super Shell has developed a new improved TCP, cresyl-diphényl-phosphite.
TCP can give your car as much as 15 per cent more power and up to 17 extra miles per tankful. It can also make spark plugs last up to twice as long.

11. Ponder these statistics. They can have a refreshing effect on your car bills.
Try today's Super Shell yourself! You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

Doesn't Want Bonus Taxed by Government

U. S. Senator Thurston B. Mason today introduced legislation providing that payment of a state bonus for military service not be counted as income in computing pensions for disabled veterans or their widows and children.
 Senator Morton explained that his bill was directed primarily to removing an inequity under current law and would apply only to veterans or their survivors on the nonseverely-connected disability pension rolls.

 Although the bill would affect all states, Senator Morton said that he was especially concerned with the situation confronting Kentucky veterans and their widows and children at this time because the Commonwealth is at present preparing to pay a bonus to its veterans of four wars.

NOTICE

Several of my friends have told me that one of my opponents is going over the county telling the people that I am a democrat. I would like to say that it is not a disgrace to be a democrat and some of our finest citizens are democrats; however, in order to set the record straight, I would like first those of you who might believe this malicious falsehood to go check the Registration in the County Court Clerk's Office and you will find that I have always been a registered republican and still am.
 I have had a lot of sickness in the family and haven't been able to get out to see everyone of you, but will do so before the election. TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS Of Rockcastle County

I would like, at this time, to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Tax Commissioner, subject to the action of the Republican Primary on May 23, 1961.

I promise you that I will be a fair and honest Commissioner and that the office will be conducted in a courteous and respectable manner.

Regardless of what you may hear, I wish to state now that I am not tied to any candidate or slate of candidates. I am making this race for Tax Commissioner and Tax Commissioner only.

I am at this time asking your help and support and I can assure you that it will be greatly appreciated.

Yours Respectfully,
T. J. PARSONS

SHERIFF

The Primary is yet almost three months away, but we want our Republican friends who have already pledged to us their support to know that we are receiving a favorable reception and comment from every section of the County. On numerous occasions we have had good citizens pledge their loyal support to us because of our previous experience as peace officers. We repeat that when we are elected as your sheriff and deputies, it will be our dedicated aim and purpose to enforce the laws against the guilty and to protect the innocent. My deputies and I will each maintain an automobile as well as a telephone in our respective homes so that we will be available any time you may call upon us.

Certain of our opponents have heretofore been favored by public office.

May we remind you that you are not obligated to continue to vote for the same officers. We have never held an elective county wide office and we would like also to have the opportunity as well as the privilege of serving you.

We know that people have made inquiry about our private lives and we have also had letters and we invite and urge this type of investigation so that you good people may know about us.

We are well encouraged at this point in the race and humbly request your continued good will and support.

Sincerely your friends,
CLIFFORD PITTMAN
