Rockcastle Has Potential, C Of C Man Says

Community development is a challenge, and with the backlog of labor in Rockcastle County, the county should be able to do things.

Mr. Mason told the group there are differences of opinion in all towns on what projects should or should not be attempted. He stressed the fact that "togetherness" in meetings such as the C of C always clarifies and settles these issues.

Mr. Woods, accompanied by Malcolm Mason, Lexington vice chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce Community Development section, were at the meeting to present the Rockcastle Chapter with a $75 check as a prize won by the club last year in the State Chamber's scrapbook contest.

Rockcastle won third place in the district. The Rockcastle Chapter immediately voted to use the $75 for expense in assembling a scrapbook for next year's contest. Ten out of 36 members were present at the meeting, five above the number at the previous meeting.

Mr. Mason told the group (Continued on page 4)

Rebels Win Adult Softball Title, Playoff

It was a clean sweep! And the Rebels did it. That is the story of the Adult League in the summer softball program in Rockcastle.

The Rebels, after a good season in 1960, came back this year and made a clean sweep, beating the Ramblers in the playoff game for the title of the Adult League, and then came from behind to defeat the Teenagers 9-5 in the final game of the single elimination playoffs.

The Teenagers were the surprise in the Adult League, making the grade through the "Adult series" to the final game.

Naturally, the Rebels will be the team to watch closely next year. The hustle and spirit they show during all their games gives them at least two strikes on any team.

Larry Travis, playground director, stated he wishes to thank the Rebels, as well as the other teams, for making the summer recreation program a success.

Circuit Court Over Until November

Roy Allen, of Mt. Vernon, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on a charge of retaining a female. A Rockcastle Circuit Court jury set his failure to observe rules governing persons with a communicable disease.

In another case, William Thomason, of Mt. Vernon, was fined $50 on a charge of having untaxed-paid whisky in possession.

"School days, school days, dear old golden rule days" will be the song of the week of August 28 as the 1961-62 school year gets underway in Rockcastle County.

Approximately 3,150 students are expected to converge on the many grade and high schools scattered over the county on Aug. 30.

About 21 large, and 16 smaller vehicles, are gassed and ready to bring the students to schools over routes very nearly the same as last year. Two new bus drivers have been added: Stephen Bullen and Raymond Towery. Cecil Anderkin has also been hired to drive, but his title will be head mechanic for the many school buses. His headquarters will be in the garage opposite the Board of Education Building in Mt. Vernon. The school system recently acquired the garage building from Bobby Christman, of Mt. Vernon.

Another change this year is noted in the Mt. Vernon agriculture department. The department will use the office room of the school bus garage building for an agriculture shop under the direction of Russell Parsons. The two classrooms used by the department at the High School will be used as general classrooms.

Bus drivers will meet on Aug. 18 at 1 p. m. at the Board of Education Building to discuss their routes and hear a talk on safety by State Trooper Willis Martin.

Another change which has been noted by Mrs. Neureul Miracle, superintendent, is a change in curriculum at Livingston High School. A more full report on the changes will be published at a later date.

Greeting the some 3,150 students this year will be the teachers listed below. Mrs. Miracle pointed out that in checking the list some may have (Continued on page 4)

Let's get the facts straight about

RURAL ELECTRIC CO-OPS

There's a lot of misinformation floating around about Rural Electric Co-ops. We can't tell you the whole story here, but we would like to give you a few straight, simple and accurate facts about rural electrification.

Kentucky's 1935 Rural Electric Co-ops are about 25 years old. They were organized and built by their farmer-user-owners to bring an adequate, and economical, supply of power to rural areas.

Since it takes money to undertake a big project like this, the farmers borrowed — from the Federal Rural Electrification Administration. This money was loaned at a set interest rate and all of it must be paid back within 35 years.

Rural Electric Co-ops are not government-supported. In fact the opposite is true. Just like any other big Kentucky corporation Rural Electric Co-ops support the government . . . through their proper share of the tax load. In Kentucky Rural Electric Co-ops pay taxes directly to the state . . . and to the 112 Kentucky counties in which they operate.

Kentucky's farmers originally built their rural cooperatives for one purpose only . . . to get the electric power they could not buy elsewhere! Out of their cooperation has grown a force powerful enough to keep Kentucky's prosperity growing.

Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops help everyone

Keep Children In School

Why, come to think of it, it's nearly fall. Fall — that's the time when thoughts turn to the approaching winter, warmer clothes, heating, anti-freeze, and of course, school.

Looking at the calendar, school is about to begin. Reading, writing and arithmetic will soon be the order of the day. The little ones next door will suddenly disappear between 8 and 9 and the still and quietness of the fall days will settle over the neighborhood.

Though school officials are insistent that all children attend school, there will be some parents who will not insist and their youngsters will be deprived of their most important asset—an education.

Once again, we wish to stress to every parent the importance of an education in today's highly competitive, technical and complicated world.

See that your children attend school on the first day, and all subsequent days throughout the school year. We have never heard of anyone who has regretted having an education. But there are many who regret not having an education. Keep your children in school!

sure they will be waiting anxiously next season," Mr. Travis declared. "The Colonels won the Pee Wee League title. These boys range in age from 7 to 9 and within a few years we will have more stars."

In the Little League, the Braves from Brodhead wear the title of champs, and replace the Dodgers who have been the title winners the two previous years.

It was the same in the Pony League. The Reds won two years in a row, but the Yankees came through to win this year's title.

Mr. Travis said he expects the playground to improve next year and in the coming years. He reported attendance this year totalled 15,500.

Following are the scores of the Adult League series playoff: Rebels 21, Livington 9; Ramblers 8, Brodhead 5; Teenagers 7, Owens 3; Rebels 19, Regulars 4; Teenagers 10, Rockats 8; Rebels 11, Remblers 6; Rebels 9, Teenagers 5.

a scrapbook is an essential part of community development since it tells what a community has done. He stressed the importance of continuing to enter scrapbooks in the contest.

He also noted an area must be attractive to attract industry. "You must have something to sell, and sell it," Mr. Mason said.

He also reported a town needs a "plan" and that the state C of C is ready to sit down with county people and work out a plan. A date of Nov. 12 was set for the meeting.

"Rockcastle has a lot of potential for development in all phases of community work and life," Mr. Mason declared. "And we must all work for the betterment of all the people."

Once again he defined community development as a program to make the community ready for industry and progress.

Also accompanying Mr. Woods and Mr. Mason was Mac Wooloom, of Danville, who has been interested and instrumental in the development of many state communities.
