Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reddick of Lexington say:

"So pleased... we'd never have any other kind."

The 1350 square feet of living area in the Reddick's home was heated during the 1960-1961 heating season for only $218.

"There's nothing so fine in a home as flameless electric heat," says Mrs. Reddick. "There's a thermostat in every room so you control the heat as easily as you control the lights. Your home is virtually free of dust, dirt and noise, and the cost is so completely reasonable for all the extra advantages electric heating gives you. We are so pleased with electric heat that we'd never have any other kind."

Month after month throughout Kentucky scores of families are turning to flameless electric heat in new and remodeled homes. Electric heat costs less to install, less to maintain. It may cost a little more to use, but it's worth a lot more in comfort, convenience and safety. Building? Modernizing? Investigate electric heat. KU heating specialists will help you plan, and estimate annual heating costs before you decide.

How Savings Bonds help make bigger graduating classes

American education and the U.S. Savings Bond Program have worked hand in hand toward accomplishing each other's goals for 20 years. One of the most important results of this partnership has been the growing numbers of graduates—from colleges, professional, and trade schools—financed by U.S. Savings Bonds.

Stamps: Seeds of Thrift Many of these youngsters began saving for their education through the U.S. Savings Stamp Program, carried on in the Nation's schools through the volunteer efforts of school administrators, teachers, and students themselves. Many of today's graduates owe their higher learning, and its priceless benefits, to the foresight of their parents who signed up for Savings Bonds on Payroll Savings or the Bonds-a-month plan. Here's how it might work for you: Start soon and stick to it. Begin putting $18.75 a month into Savings Bonds when your youngster is born. When he's 18, you'll have saved $4,000, but you'll own Bonds worth $5,600. You'll be able to get your money with interest whenever you need it. And every dollar you invest will help build a stronger America. No wonder so many parents plan for their children's future this way. Why not you?

"Savings Bonds have helped broaden the base of education," said Mr. Paul Conrad, President of National Education Association. "Now that the Treasury Dept. has added to the program of U.S. Savings Bonds the U.S. Savings Stamp and Bonds, every student today, even those who begin their education elsewhere, can do for their country and themselves. The program is the future and the national security of our Nation. It's a simple, practical way that will continue to flourish."

Carter Gets Opinion On Green Lizard Sales

ALSO QUESTIONS OTHER PRACTICES

There seems to be no legal way to stop the sale of "green lizard" (shaving lotion) in Rockcastle County.

So was the opinion this week of the attorney general's office at Frankfort.

County Judge C. C. Carter asked Atty. Gen. John Brackledge if there were anything he could do to halt the sale of "green lizard" especially to known alcoholics.

"Green lizard" is the slang term for hair tonic, shaving cream and other toilet preparations used as an alcoholic stimulant in a dry territory. It usually has a green color.

Judge Carter asked: "What action may be taken to curb the sale of hair tonic in large quantities by local vendors to persons who consume it as a stimulant?"

Writing for the Attorney General, Atty. Gen. Ray Corns said: "KRS 241.010 (2) especially excludes 'green lizard' from the definition of 'alcoholic beverage.' KRS 242.010 (4) provides the term 'alcoholic beverage' does not include 'toilet, medicinal and antiseptic preparations and solutions....'"

"Since hair tonic is not an alcoholic beverage, it is the opinion of this office that there is no statutory provision which prohibits the sale thereof in large quantities to persons who consume it as a stimulant. That is, we are aware of no authority by which you can control the sale of hair tonic, commonly referred to as 'green lizard' in the environs of Rockcastle County," Mr. Corns declared.

Judge Carter told the Signal that he considered the sale of such preparations a menace to the county, but there appeared little he could do at this time to halt the sale.

"Green lizard" wasn't the only question Judge Carter posed to the attorney general for an opinion. There were six questions in all that ranged from "minimum punishment" to a "conflict of interest." Judge Carter released them for publication.

Judge Carter asked: "May the county attorney sell insurance policies to persons who are covered on the court-house, jail and county hospital?"

Mr. Corns replied: "There is no express Constitutional or statutory provision which prohibits a county attorney from selling insurance policies to the fiscal court or the several county officers in all matters concerning any county business within jurisdiction. He shall oppose all unjust or illegally presented claims."

Mr. Corns also added a postscript to the questions.

"Although the above-quoted provision does not apply directly to the issue under consideration, it sets forth in unequivocal terms the duty of the county attorney to advise the fiscal court and county officers regarding 'any county business' within jurisdiction."

Mr. Corns also added a postscript to the questions.

Two Men Dead In Home Fire

Two men were killed and one injured when a fire broke out in the home of Harvey Lee Bostic at Mt. Vernon Monday night. The house was virtually destroyed when firemen arrived.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor about 6:30 p. m. and reported to the Mt. Vernon Fire Department. Firemen answered the call in an ambulance and house was quickly destroyed when they arrived. The Fire Department later sent several tanks of water to cool the embers in order to remove the bodies of the men. The bodies were outside the city limits.

Fire officials thought there must be at least three men in the house, however, a search revealed the third man at his home.

The man was reportedly last seen about 6:30 p. m. by a neighbor, Jimmie Bostic, which he was last seen by.

Mr. Bostic, a teacher who is now in Rockcastle County, the son of Oscar and Edna Bostic, both deceased. He is survived by one son, John Lee Bostic, of Louisville, five nephews and three nieces.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at Cox Funeral Home officiating. It was held at the family home at 2000 Central Ave. There was a charge of arrangements.

Barley Average Off In Bluegrass

Volume and total payments increased slightly but the price average slipped seven cents a hundredweight Wednesday on the second day of sale of tobacco on the seven-cent blue grass Barley Day.

The average of $65.62 was the lowest for these markets since a hundredweight Wednesday. Total money paid to growers yesterday was $2,300,887.36, or $43,948.67 more than the preceding day.

Three of the markets recorded higher daily averages than on Monday but the lower prices on the other four was enough to bring the seven-market average down by a slight seven cents.

Mr. Sterling had the highest average of the day, $67.12, while Cythiana was second with $66.34. Mr. Steel's figure was off 29 cents from Monday's while Cythiana's reflected an increase of $1.47 over the previous day.

Third highest average was $65.62, up 46 cents from Monday's. Mr. Britt's average and that of the other four were: Richmond, $65.36; 23 cents; Winchester, $65.06, up a penny; Harrodsburg, $64.90, off 17 cents; and Danville, $63.71, off $1.72.

Harrodsburg warehousemen decided not to hold sales Wednesday, but will sell again Thursday, and will report that day to decide on a closing date for the season. Danville announced earlier it would hold its final sale on Jan. 17.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit but does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Therefore, the figures for total businesses would be higher than the ones quoted above. Total businesses shown in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book approximates 3,000,000 names.

Feed - Grain Program Met 1961 Objectives

The 1961 Feed Grain Program has successfully met all of its objectives, R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Kentucky State Committee, said today. The program was enacted last spring to meet a serious emergency which was then threatening agriculture.

The objectives of the program and how they have been met were explained by the Chairman at a news conference.

(1) Increased income for participating farmers. Net income is up by $1 billion, or 9 percent—partly because of the feed grain program. Farm income prospects for next year are equally good, also partly as a result of the feed grain program. Not only farmers, but rural communities, processors, and others who sell to farmers, benefit from improved farm income.

(2) Fair and stable prices for consumers for meat, poultry, and dairy products. Retail for these products have remained fairly steady and have actually shown a moderate decline during the period of the program.

(3) Lower costs to taxpayers. Savings of more than $500 million will result during the next few years from storage, handling, and transportation fees, which will not have to be paid out by cause current Government stocks are going down instead of up.

(4) Reduced Government grain stocks. Despite the record yields in 1961, total grain stocks will be reduced by some 200 million bushels—the first reduction in surplus feed grain stock since 1952.

A program similar to the 1961 emergency feed grain program is in effect for 1962 crops of corn, grain sorghum, and barley. The 1962

ASHLAND LODGE will have a called meeting, Saturday, Jan. 13, at 7 p. m. for the purpose of conferring first degree Ashland 840 F & AM

RESOLUTIONS

On Monday, December 11th, 1961, ERNEST E. BULLOCK died leaving a vacancy upon the Board of Directors of The Bank of Mount Vernon. He was characterized by his business sagacity, his foresight, and willingness to leap into a business venture if his judgement directed. He was characterized by his deep sense of honesty, his excellent judgment, his quick decision, yet sound, his forthrightness, and lack of deceit. No one found him "on the fence" for long. Sometimes he may have been wrong but never in doubt. If he was wrong, he was quick to admit his error.

He met the mighty as equals and accorded the same respect to persons of low estate. He was generous to those in need and considerate of every man's troubles and problems. He was well known as the poor man's friend.

Truly, the tall cedar of Lebanon has fallen and left bare space against the sky that will not likely be covered in the near future.

In a business world where sometimes double talk is the order, it was like a breath of fresh air to a suffocating man, to talk with ERNEST BULLOCK, who deceived no man, lied to no man, cheated no man, and spent his opinions freely, sometimes un-solicited.

NOW, WHEREAS, The Bank of Mount Vernon acutely feels the loss of this valued director, BE IT RESOLVED that copies of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of The Bank of Mount Vernon, a copy printed in the Mount Vernon Signal and a copy sent to his widow.
