State Highway Work Gets Underway Here

The State Department of Highways has begun work on roads in the county and will continue through most of the summer months, according to an announcement by Ted Marcum, commissioner of rural highways. A total of $6,720 will be spent for work on the Sand Springs Road. The blacktop will extend 2.1 miles from a point near the Sam Jones property to a point near Blue Springs. Five miles of blacktop is being constructed on Chestnut Grove Road from a point on US 150 to near Hickory Grove School. The work is expected to be completed in a few days. Bids will be taken on July 13 for blacktop on the Broadhead-Corway Road and the Negro Creek Road. A new type blacktop is being used on the roads. It is known as a dense grade aggregate base. The materials are mixed in a special way to form a blacktop coating. The state also announced it is setting up the Wabed Road on a preliminary construction program which includes drainage. 3-Classroom Addition For MVHS

Bids will be opened at 2 p. m. July 3 for a three-classroom addition to Mt. Vernon Grade and High School, according to an announcement this week by Mrs. Neureul Miracle, superintendent of schools. The new addition, expected to cost about $18,000, will be constructed parallel and connected to the rear of the present building. The classrooms will be used for high school classes. Mrs. Miracle reported the increase of two units at the school, 75 students, this year made the addition necessary. The school now has an enrollment of 750 at the beginning of the fall term in September. The new addition has been over-ordered for the last few years. The new addition will help to ease the crowded conditions considerably, Mrs. Miracle said. Architect for the new addition are Block & Johnson, of Lexington. Contractors will be building on a brick veneer building and are expected to start work on the addition the first week of July. The addition is expected to be completed by Sept. 1.

Rural mail carriers have recently distributed postcard report forms to a sample of farmers on each rural mail route. The report form, prepared by the Statistical Reporting Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, asks each farmer to report numbers of each class of livestock, divided by age, and the number of chicks bought or raised this year and the number on hand about June 1.

POINTS OF INTEREST At Renfro Valley are pointed out to some of the visitors who attended a Hospitality Clinic this week at Renfro Valley. Representatives from the state and Kentucky Utilities explained how to treat tourists when they visit the state.

HOW TO TREAT TOURISTS

Subject Of Kentucky Hospitality Clinic At Renfro Valley

Tourism is good for the State of Kentucky and should be stressed by every businessman and his employees. Mr. Mason explained Tourism is good for the economy of the state. In 1960, a survey showed 18,300,000 tourists explored Kentucky, and left 187 million dollars, of which 16 cents of every dollar was spent in a store. As a comparison, he said, the state's citizens received more money from tourists than from the entire state tobacco crop. A total of 12 million dollars went into the state treasury from the gasoline tax.

The two speakers told the group the state is doing considerable work in advertising attractive and scenic areas of Kentucky. The work is being done through brochures, national magazines, newspapers, television, radio and travel shows.

At one travel show in Chicago, 65,000 pieces of literature on Kentucky was given to persons in one day who visited the Kentucky booth, Miss Allshouse reported. Where do people stay when they come to Kentucky? Mr. Malcolm reported at private facilities built by individuals and in "the country's most modern, state park systems in the nation." Miss Allshouse described the most important phase in tourism and what will bring tourists back to an area.

Library Has More Readers

Many Rockcastle County residents "enjoy their" books, but there's many of them who also are enjoying reading. Such is the list of a report made this week at a meeting of the Rockcastle County Library Council.

By comparison of months, in May 1961 a total of 4,900 books were checked out of the library in the basement of the Rockcastle Hotel. In May of this year, readers checked out 6,673 books, more than a 50 percent increase. These figures do not include books checked out during Bookmobile visits to various communities.

The reason for the increase this year is uncertain, since the weather was more conducive to outdoor recreation.

During the meeting, the Council discussed a letter from the State Library Extension Division at Frankfort which explained the eligibility of Rockcastle for a library building to be constructed at Mt. Vernon through funds from a Public Works Acceleration Bill recently passed by the Senate and now awaiting action in the House of Representatives.

The letter stated if library officials were interested in a building some preliminary work should be done as soon as possible in order that the Housing and Home Finance Agency can be ready to process applications when it gets the green light.

Under terms of the bill the local governing agency would make available 50 percent of the cost of the building. The State would match funds from the federal agency.

The Bookmobile's schedule is $4,526.

JUNE Dairy Month ADVICE TO THOSE WHO MUST WATCH THEIR PENNIES

1 start a SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Actually all of us should watch our pennies. And no matter what our income, we can save something each week. And even small weekly savings mount up in a hurry when they're earning interest in (Name) bank.

2 serve plenty of DAIRY FOODS

Because it's June Dairy Month we want to point out this other example of thriftiness. Dairy foods are not only delicious and nutritious, but economical, too. They are 80% of all you eat, yet cost only 15% of your food dollar.

Hail Insurance Called Worthwhile
State Insurance Commissioner W. T. Heckenbotham has appointed a 12-man committee to study the possibility of stabilizing or reducing the cost of hail insurance for Kentucky tobacco farmers.

An 11.9 per cent statewide increase in hail insurance rates on tobacco was granted by the Department of Insurance in January of this year, Heckenbotham said. The rate decreased in 69 counties, increased in 41 and remained the same in 10, he explained. The rate changes were permitted, he said, because 1961 figures indicated that 74.2 per cent of all hail insurance premiums had been spent for compensation payments. The permitable ratio under existing rate levels, he added is 47 per cent.

This increase, Hockenbotham said, will make it more difficult for the farmer to adequately insure his tobacco crop against hail losses because of the high cost for such coverage. In the 28 Central and Northern Kentucky counties which annually sustain 70 per cent of the hail damage in the state, he said, the rate currently ranges from $5 to $7 per $100 liability.

Chairman of the study committee is L. D. Cassidy, assistant insurance commissioner, Frankfort.

Hayes Assigned
Airman Second Class Jackie R. Hayes of Brodhead, is being reassigned to strategic defense unit following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for nuclear weapons specialists at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

Airman Hayes was trained to assemble, repair and modify special weapons, related components and test equipment. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Hayes of Route 3, Brodhead, the airman is a graduate of Brodhead High School.

Dehorned Cattle More Valuable
Dehorned cattle are worth more, usually 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds more, than those with horns, says George Pendergrass, UK Ag Extension Service specialist.

Buyers pay this extra premium for cattle aged 6 to 8 months because dehorned animals have much lower injury rates from bruises, etc.

There are several ways to dehorn cattle. One is to use caustic soda, or potash, which wears away for calves 10 days old or less. A Barnes-type dehorning device can be used on calves 8 weeks old to weaning age, or on horns from a half inch to three inches long. There are other dehorning methods, but these are the most widely used.

Calves can be dehorned any time of the year, if the right precautions are taken. After dehorning, apply Smear 62 or Smear QE 333 to the dehorned areas to repel flies and hasten healing. Pine tar, a home remedy, may also be used.

Pendergrass emphasizes that it is easier to dehorn calves when they are young.

To Attend Meeting
Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McKenzie, Mt. Vernon, left this week to attend the 29th national convention of Modern Woodmen of America, which meets June 25 through 27 in Denver, Colo. Mr. McKenzie is one of seven delegates chosen to represent Kentucky as a national delegate. He was elected to this post at bi-state convention in Louisville on May 2.

In Denver he will meet with more than 200 national officers, delegates and committee men, representing the fraternal society's membership in the United States and Canada. The national convention is the governing body of the 79-year-old organization, and while in session will elect officers and outline policies for the ensuing four-year term.
