County Rural Electric for their

Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops were developed by farmers to get the electric power they could not buy elsewhere. But the final results of their action has helped other Kentuckians as much as it has farmers. In rural Kentucky today there are 9 hospitals, 2885 churches, 791 schools and 17 state and federal parks that would not exist-or exist limitedlywithout rural electricity.

Protect Yourself Now From The Possible SEED SHORTAGE AHEAD

No doubt you've heard about it. Because of a killing winter and spring drought, a critical shortage of quality seeds for fall planting is predicted. You may wonder, "How can I avoid having to accept interior seeds or varieties that may cut my profits? Is there any way to protect yourself?" The answer is yes—if you act without delay.

Reserve Your SS Fall Seeds Now

Your Cooperative has a plan whereby you can reserve your top-quality Southern States Fall Seeds now. No extra charge, no deposit re-quired. Pay nothing til fall. Farmers with less foresight may suffer. But come planting time, you'll have top-yielding, money-making Southern States Seeds. A phone call now will

RENFRO CONSIDERS LOCATION
as ordinary citizens will need to re-saure Renfro Valley through deeds and actions of the great peed to keep and expand Renfro Valley Enterprises in Rockeastle County.
It is obvious, the change of the highway and the loss of the tourist incentive of Renfro Valley would spell total disaster for Mt. Vernon. But if the enterprises are to continue at the present location, protective interest and local encouragement must come to the rescue to off-set the
"but money" that is involved in present deliberations.
The "winds of change" are indeed battering at the door of Renfro Valley Enterprises. Rockeastle County cannot afford to let the valley blow away.
