Two Held Under Bond On Charge Of Murder

Three shots fired from a .38 caliber pistol at a late-hour party at a Buffalo home Saturday took the life of a young man and critically injured a second man, it was learned today.

Dead when Deputy Sheriff Tip Reppert and Wayne VanHook arrived at the scene in a remote section of southern Rockcastle County about 7 a. m., was James (Booster) Price, 47.

Price was lying face down on the floor in the living room-bedroom combination. He apparently died instantly from a wound in the lower abdomen. Deputies estimated he had been dead about six hours.

In a bed in the same room deputies found Thelmer Whitaker, about 42, unconscious and bleeding from gunshot wounds in the stomach and hip.

Found asleep in a second bed was Edward Hibbard, 62, who lived in the house. He was arrested and charged with "murder." Later, he was released on $5,000 bond pending a hearing in Rockcastle County Court on Feb. 8.

Arrested later was the fourth man whom the deputies reported was at the house earlier. He is Walter Waddie, about 50. He also was charged with "murder" and bond was set at $5,000. A date for his hearing has not been filed.

Whitaker was taken to Terree College Hospital in an ambulance that arrived at the scene an estimated seven hours after the shooting. Deputy VanHook pieced the events together.

He said he received a call from "someone" about 6 a. m. that a man had been shot at the Hibbard house on Buffalo Branch about half a mile down Buffalo Branch from the school.

Deputy VanHook said he and Reppert hurried to the scene. It was dark and the lights in the house were on. The deputies went through the kitchen into the bedroom-livingroom combination and found the three men.

VanHook said he and Reppert examined the men and left to call Coroner Fred Murree and an ambulance. After the men were taken away, VanHook said they roused Hibbard and brought him to jail.

Later at Mt. Vernon, VanHook said he learned that Waddie had been at the house and went in search of him along with Deputy Reppert and State Detective Walter Woods.

VanHook reported they found Waddie walking along a road about 100 yards from Elmer Taylor's store at Pong, carrying a .22 rifle, a quart of moonshine, and a .38 caliber pistol with five empty shells still in the chamber.

Waddie was arrested on a robbery charge and brought to Mt. Vernon where he was later charged with "murder."

VanHook said the pistol was later identified by Waddie.

Wilson, Beiting Plead For 2 Dams

APPEAR BEFORE U. S. SENATE

A utility, official and a religious leader, both connected directly with Rockcastle County interests, made a "strong pitch" for two dams on the Rockcastle River before the United States Senate Public Works Committee last week.

Appearing before the committee to plead for construction of a dam north of Livingston and a second dam at the Narrows of the river, surely the economic life of Jesse Wilson, an official of the Jackson County Electric Cooperative Corporation, also serve as a reservoir for water for Lake Cumberland. Both men stressed that the Appalachian Bill, soon to be before the Senate for a vote, would enhance the chances of the dam project.

In a statement prepared for delivery, both men told the listening Senators that the recreational advantages of the entire five-county area, and would bring tourists into the area, thereby raising the economic level of Jackson, Rockcastle, Laurel, Pulaski, and Madison counties.

When questioned about the visit to Washington, Mr. Wilson told the Signal that it was his understanding that "both dams are tied together in one package."

He stated that obviously, and because of location, he was very interested in the north dam, since it would back water into McKee. But he stressed that both dams would be more important to all the area than one dam.

"I am sure you understand that creating a lake such as the north lake would benefit Jackson County immensely. A lot of work has been done on it already, including $60,000 allocated for a survey. I hope this money will not be wasted," Mr. Wilson said.

When asked, the electric company official said he had not been told in Washington whether the Narrows dam was "on its way" to being approved.

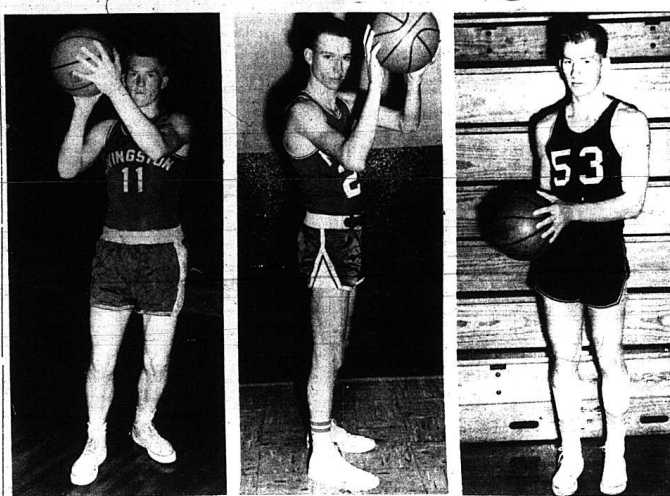

"However, I always felt that the Corps of Engineers was more interested in the Narrows dam than in the north dam. But they (the Corps) came up here and said they were going to pursue the matter further and they did," Mr. Wilson declared.

He reported also that Rep. Tim Lee Carter has asked the Corps for a report on both dams as soon as possible.

Mr. Wilson and Father Beiting were on the same program with Gov. Edward Breathitt and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, as well as governors from several other states interested in the Appalachian program.

Both area men also called for an improvement and a promotion of US 421 as a boost to tourism in Kentucky, and approved the passing of a resolution by the section of the Appalachian Bill.

Cpl. James H. Seals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullins, Route 3, Mt. Vernon, was in the inauguration parade for Pres. Lyndon Johnson in Washington, D. C., Jan. 20. Seals is an instructor at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va.

Ponder Is Senior

William E. Ponder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ponder of Brodhead, is one of 48 Berea College seniors who will be candidates for the bachelor's degree at the end of the first semester, Jan. 29. Mr. Ponder, a 1959 graduate of Brodhead High School, is majoring in Agriculture.

HOW THEY'RE DOING

Three Rockcastle County basketball players are giving the nets quite a beating this year. If all were on the same team, they'd probably be able to defeat most, if not all, the other clubs they have played against this year. But in this case, and unfortunately, they're all on different teams.

BILLY "RED" BRYANT

Biggest scorer of the three is Billy "Red" Bryant of the Livingston Blue Devils who is averaging a fine 27 points per game.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Bryant, Billy makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Virgie Ponder.

In the 17 games in which he has participated, the senior guard has a total of 460 points on the 27-point average, and a shooting percentage of 48. He has gathered an average of 14 defensive rebounds during the 1964-65 season. His best nights were against Mt. Vernon on Jan. 22 when he scored 38 points, and against MVHS on Nov. 28 when he hit for 38.

ORVIS RICHMOND

Second place in scoring percentage is Orvis Richmond, senior forward for the Mt. Vernon Red Devils.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Richmond of Boone, Orvis, like Bryant, is a consistent scorer with an average of 20 points per game this year, based on 15 games.

To date, he has a total of 303 points and an average percentage of 53. He has snagged 10 defensive rebounds per game. His best games were 33 points against Brodhead and 30 points against Livingston.

MARSHALL NORTON

In third place in scoring is Marshall Norton of the Brodhead Tigers.

Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Norton and lives on KY 461 not far from Mt. Vernon.

In his 18 games, the senior forward has a point average of 18 per game. To date, he has scored a total of 342 points. He has a 50 shooting percentage and has grabbed an average of five defensive rebounds per game.

Marshall scored the largest number of points this year in a single game against Livingston—32 points. He also had a good night when he scored 28 points against Mt. Vernon.

For the fans, two of the players will be in action at Mt. Vernon Friday night when Mt. Vernon meets Brodhead for the second time this year. Mt. Vernon will be trying for its first win of the season.

ORCHID DEPARTMENT

Orchids are in order for the State Highway Department in Rockcastle County. They limed out long enough Wednesday afternoon to get the rocks snow and ice off Main Street in Mt. Vernon. Someone tells us the Rockcastle Department is getting clear in the county long before those in Garrard, Madison, and Lincoln counties. They're doing a good job!

BUSY SIGNAL

Sometimes when you pick up a severe traffic signal, a busy signal? If this is the case, only in a few instances is the phone really busy. Usually, all the equipment is busy and your signal doesn't get into the exchange. Just hang up and try again. If you'll notice, it's most likely to happen on a cold, snowy morning. It seems that when your friends want to call his friends to see if it snowed over at his house during the night.

STRANGE HAZE

The strange haze hanging over Eastern Kentucky yesterday dust carried on high stratospheric wind currents from Texas and Oklahoma, and it got "right down" errie at times.

Picklesimer, George Moore, and W. E. Milligan. Mrs. C. C. Churchill, Mrs. Mary Gay Walker, and Reuben Purkey.

HAS ATTACHMENT

A Rockcastle County Justice of the Peace Court attachment to satisfy a claim for $10 was brought on the Signal this week by Floyd Rowe. It was unusual because it was signed by H. S. Brannaman, Justice of the Peace, and dated March 7, 1890. The Signal printed the form. It was found in a file belonging to an unidentified Richmond family.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rice, of Cedar Keys, Fla., was destroyed by fire, according to a report by Miss Alma Pike.

The fire was caused by an exploding oil furnace. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rice were nearly trapped by the fire. Some clothing and bedding was saved.

Mrs. Rice is teaching in a Cedar Keys school. They have a home at Livingston.

Senators, Governor Can Help Our Dams

As reported in last week's Signal, apparently very little stands in the way of a watershed project on Renfro Creek.

In the Dec. 21 issue of the Signal a story showed that a feasibility study of the Rockcastle River is still in the Army Corps of Engineer's mill.

In both cases, an economic feasibility study report should be issued in a matter of days on the Renfro project, and in the next month or so on the Rockcastle River project.

According to a State Highway Department official, there does not seem to be much to prevent the City of Mt. Vernon from going ahead with the Renfro project that will furnish water to the city, except money to buy the necessary land and re-locate roads—an admitted fair-sized expenditure. The official seems to think the department will find the dam feasible, and will approve it, since it is a small dam and the State Highway Department really doesn't care whether it puts a dam across Renfro Creek, granted it holds, or a bridge over the creek.

Mt. Vernon Mayor Clyde Linville says the money for the land, and to re-locate the roads is available through the Federal Housing Authority and the Mt. Vernon City Council is in favor of borrowing the money for the land.

So, putting what the mayor and the SHD officials say into one pot, it appears the Renfro dam will have smooth sailing.

We hope it has smooth sailing. Mt. Vernon residents need the water, and the entire area would benefit from the recreational facilities provided by the watershed.

The dam at the Narrows of the Rockcastle River is another matter. It is a major project, paid for by the federal government, and under the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Corps, we understand, is still looking at the economics of the dam to determine if the benefits derived will outweigh the cost of construction. To date the Corps has listed the benefits strictly in terms of water impounded for dwindling Lake Cumberland. Again, and to date, the Corps has not or is not figuring the dam in terms of recreation, anti-poverty, industry, and tourism. That is not their job they will tell you quickly.

Now that the anti-poverty program and the Appalachian program of development seem assured, what effect will the two programs have on this $50,000,000 dam?

In our last communication with the Corps at Nashville, one official said that it "could have" an effect. He informed us that, say for example, in the case where a dam is borderline between feasible and unfeasible, the new programs could push the project well into the feasible class.

But we were reminded by the official, that determining the feasibility of the project in terms of industry, recreation, and tourism, would be a decision for the Corps to make. Though he did not say, we suspect that such a decision on these grounds would be a civilian one rather than an Army one, and come from Washington.

In the past year or two we have been hearing a great deal about tourism, anti-poverty, and development. They are words that have become increasingly used and important in our vocabulary.

It has often been said when using these words, that to increase tourism and development, and to stamp out poverty to any measure, there must be a desire in the people of the areas to do the job themselves, and that given the tools to work with, the desire will ignite and the job will be done.

We are inclined to agree. For example, we can see how an increase in power, dried milk, and beef will solve the problem of poverty in the Eastern Kentucky area. Much of the poverty that exists in that area is the result of a total lack of "controlled water." The only water in Eastern Kentucky is fast flowing and flooding rivers. With considerable controlled water, much can be done. A dam at the Narrows of the Rockcastle River would be a great tool in controlling the water, and controlling the forces that have plagued this immediate area.

It is time once again to remind Gov. Edward Breathitt, and Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thurston Morton that a decision on the dams is close at hand—perhaps a permanent decision. They will serve their people well if they use their influence to see that these two dams become a reality—and soon.

Brodhead, LHS Win

In basketball games during the past week, Brodhead's Tigers won only 4 of 11 as they played, Livingston won one and lost one, and Mt. Vernon continued in the losing column by dropping two games.

Brodhead's Tigers, playing with only a few players separating the teams most of the game, finally overcome a stubborn Liberty team 60-53 in the closing minutes. Marshall Norton led the way with a big 32 points for the winners, Livingston behind one point going into the third quarter, finally managed to defeat the "Torn" 72-79 in one of the closest games Mt. Vernon has played this season.

Livingston's Billy "Red" Bryant, with 22 points and 38 points, led the way in the Mt. Vernon game. Mt. Vernon's Orvie Richmond wasn't far behind with 30 points.

Livingston lost 45 Lynn Camp 67-64, but Billy "Red" Bryant managed a 36 3/4 point effort.

Mt. Vernon kept close to Berea High last Thursday night, for three quarters, but lost the last quarter to lose 55-45. Orvie Richmond had another good night for Mt. Vernon, scoring 24 points.
