THOUGHT OF WEEK

"There is hardly anything in the world that some men cannot make a little worse and still a little better. . . and the people who consider themselves are the ones who should pay." John Lubbock

MAGGARD, MISS. STONE

An Open Letter To The Voters Of Rockcastle Co.

I regret that I was not able to personally contact more of the Voters of Rockcastle County during the recent Election Campaign. I wish to thank all those it was my pleasing privilege to meet, for the kind, courteous, and respectful hearing you gave me, whether Republicans or Democrats. Also, I want to thank all of you who paid me the honor of reading and giving thoughtful consideration to my presentation and discussion of the issues through the medium of the local papers in your County, even though you may have disagreed with my views on them. Mindful of the long-faded Republican tradition of Rockcastle County, I was pleased with the good news I received on the candidacy of the minority Democratic Party. I am especially grateful to the faithful and loyal members of my own party, who worked so hard and heroically to give us that good vote "in" Election Day, under such adverse circumstances. While disappointed that I shall be denied the opportunity to serve All the good people of Rockcastle as YOUR Representative, I am glad to have made the effort. I can say with the Apostle Paul, "I fought a good fight, I kept the Faith, it is a battle for the right," as I see the right. Although there is no "crowd" bid up for me, "What I expected to, but did not receive," comfort me. And now, "To Every Loyal Worker and Voter in the Rank, my Depest, Humblest, Sincerest Thanks."

County In Mainstream Of Progress Whisman Tells 150 At Banquet

By Ray McClure

John Whisman, often called the "assistant governor," came to Roundstone School Friday night to talk about "legislative" projects, and to urge Rockcastle people to "hang on" to every word Mr. Whisman said.

AFTER THE BANQUET WAS OVER at Roundstone School Friday night, John Whisman, assistant to Gov. Edward Breathitt, huddled with members of the Mt. Vernon City Council on various state and federal projects planned by the city. Left to right are, Councilmen Charles Baker, Ed Whinnest, Charlie Hines, Mayor Clyde Liville, Mr. Whisman, and Councilman Bob Jones.

Whisman himself was about 190 farmers, business and professional men from all parts of Rockcastle assembled for their fourth annual—and largest—banquet.

It was often a brilliant speech. You could have heard a pin drop for most of the hour as the audience seemed to "hang on" to every word Mr. Whisman said.

The speaker touched only briefly on the $175 million bond issue that got a 3 to 1 majority in Rockcastle last Tuesday, but he was obvious with his results.

"By your action," he said, "you have illustrated that you are far from being a 'backwater' in Rockcastle County—the proposed Remfro Valley Dam and the proposed Lexington to Chattanooga Appalachian highway.

His feelings on both projects were often reported by the Signal, were once again said for all to hear.

"Highway Commissioner Wendell Governor Breathitt, and I are all for the Remfro project. There is nothing new in the project at this time, but we want you to know we are continuing to work to bring it to a successful conclusion.

On the proposed Appalachian highway, which will either go from the Remfro Valley interchange of Interstate-75 along KY 461 to Somerset, or down KY 80 from London to Somerset, he again said what he has often said.

"As you are aware from reading your local newspaper, I am not for the access road to go down KY 461 to Somerset. I believe the interests of all Appalachians will be better served with the access road along KY 80. But Mr. Whisman stands at the gateway to the south, and with the Remfro Lake combined with a recreation complex now, being planned by one of your most illustrious citizens, John Lair, Mr. Whisman will reap great benefits in the future."

He went on: "You do not think for a second that we are interested only in the development of two great urban centers—Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Lexington, Kentucky—and the shortest route between the two. We are interested in all the people of Appalachia, and we are making every effort to help them."

Although Mr. Whisman did not say, he indicated indirectly that in the final analysis, it would not be unlikely that the decision on the route of the "new US 58" would be in the hands of "those people" whom he failed to name.

For information, both the Appalachian Regional Commission, of which Mr. Whisman is the Kentucky member, and the Federal Bureau of Roads, appear to prefer the KY 461 route across Rockcastle because it is the shorter of the two routes.

The reason "those people" are interested in the great urban centers of Chattanooga and Lexington, was brought out by Mr. Whisman early in his speech.

He said more poverty exists in the great metropolitan centers of the North than in Appalachia, along with a great population.

"I am a political realist," he declared, "and so are the people in Washington, including Congress. These great population centers will control our future elections, and the federal government and Congress will be more inclined to spend a dollar to help 100 people than to spend a dollar to help 10 people."

"But right now Congress has indicated it will give our poverty-stricken rural communities a last chance to help themselves. Congress has voted many millions of dollars, and set up many programs to help. If you people fail to take advantage of this money and these programs, you may never have another chance," he said.

"If we take the legislation that has been voted and use it, and make it work for us, we will take a giant step toward putting a stop to welfare and hand-outs, he stated.

The speaker, who was applauded by both the late Pres. John F. Kennedy and Pres. Lyndon Johnson to commissions dealing with poverty, went on to say that "the facts of life tell us that the odds of life are against us, unless we can prove we can do a good job with this last chance. If we fail, the next legislation will be bus ticket legislation for the big cities. We have to move. If we do, we can make our rural areas prosperous and profitable, and the people can live here like they should."

As stated earlier, residents from virtually every area of Rockcastle, as well as Lexington and Pulaski, were on hand to hear the speech.

A large group from Broadhead attended. For Broadhead, Mr. Whisman did not point out specifically any particular project, but most county projects, particularly any changes in US 150.

Mr. Whisman also failed to discuss the proposed Rockcastle River dams that would affect Livingston. After the meeting, he told the Signal the state is very interested in, and in favor of, the Rockcastle River dams, and would do everything possible to aid in their approval. He noted, however, that the construction of the dams is strictly a matter for the Army Corps of Engineers and Congress.

"But our services are always available to all towns and all areas and for all projects. We will be happy to work with all communities in any projects."

A brief look at the projects affecting the three towns shows that only the Remfro Dam and Lake, and the Appalachian highway are directly influenced by the state.

Mr. Whisman's proposed city building, housing projects in the three towns, and Broadhead's Dam and Lake, would all come about through federal agencies and Congress.

Following the dinner, Mr. Whisman huddled with the Mt. Vernon City Council to discuss more in detail the efforts of the city in its lake project.

He told the council he was in his book, that he was very optimistic about all local projects, and felt grants would be forthcoming.

Prior to his speech, Jess Bullock welcomed farmers to the banquet, and Roy G. Brown responded for the farmers. Atty. Carl Cloutz served as master of ceremonies. County Agent H. Lee Durham gave the invocation. Mt. Vernon Mayor Clyde Liville introduced Mr. Whisman.

HERE AND THERE

By Ray McClure

WATER IS LOW

The city water supply at Broadhead is very low, according to Town Trustee Robby Proveyer. Residents are urged strongly to use water sparingly and save as much as possible. Since rain is not predicted for the next few days in any appreciable amount, things could get worse. Think before you turn on the faucet!

WE WILL JOHN

John Whisman said in his speech Friday night at Roundstone School that if he lived in Rockcastle County he would "plug hard" for the new Appalachian highway, which would begin at Mt. Vernon. "We have been plugging for the road and we will continue to do so. We believe in the final analysis, the Federal Bureau of Roads will prevail. We're word will begin here. We're word nation and Frankfort would want to save about a million dollars of taxpayers' money on bond issue money. Some other things Mr. Whisman said are in the lead story on this page.

A BUSY NIGHT

Girls from the Roundstone community had a busy night serving at the banquet Friday night at Roundstone. And what a banquet it was! Fine food and a beautiful table greeted the 150 who attended, all prepared by the school cooks under Mrs. Clyde Liville. We hear nine country bands were served. We're sure that many, since some of the girls were serving more servings. The Bank of Mt. Vernon and the Citizens Bank of Livingston, plus the Floyd Owens gave a treat. It was an enjoyable evening.

YOU HAVE 30 DAYS

Residents of Mt. Vernon have 30 days—beginning Monday, Nov. 11—before any problems they might have as a result of the construction of the new sewer system. That means, curbs, curbs, yards, or damages of any kind. Let them know in writing.

TURKEY DINNER

The Wiling Workers of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church will sponsor a turkey dinner in the basement of the church, 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. The public is invited. You'll get your moneys worth.

GIVE THEM A CHIEF

Because of the good start in the details of the basketball team made against Clay County Friday night, the team is hoping that from 150 to 200 fans will go with them Friday night to Anville for their second game. It's only 30 miles, so if you have time, go cheer the team along. They will appreciate it.

FRIENDLY REMINDER

The Remfro Valley Harvest Festival is now in full swing and "will" continue through tomorrow night (Friday). There will be a pony and horse show, tree driving contest, a beauty contest, an auction, and various booths. Watch the festival.

NOTICE TO THIEVES

Writer Bradshaw School Principal D. A. Robbins. The principal wants it known that no money is kept in the Broadhead School building at any time. This will save you the trouble of breaking in, he notes. As far as we know, no money is kept in any of the schools.

TESTS ARE GIVEN

There are three places where you can get free diabetes tests during National Diabetes Week, Nov. 14 through 20, according to Dr. Jack Lewis. Tests are given in the offices of Dr. Lewis and Dr. George Griffith, the Rockcastle Health Department, located 211 S. 1st St., Baptist Hospital laboratory. Go to one of these locations and have a test. You never need 100 pins—over their average.

With The Bowlers

On Oct. 5, Laura McClure, bowled 215 and on Nov. 1, Harvey Bush bowled 223. In case you don't know, that is a good score, and both bowled 100 pins—over their average.

WINS SHOTGUN - Gary Burdette, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Burdette, Brindley Ridge, receives a 1st group shotgun from Donald Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Alexander of Disputants and president of the Mt. Vernon Future Farmer Chapter. Gary was winner of a past graduation contest held by the chapter. He killed one crow, two sparrows, 21 mice, five rats, 20 squirrels, one opossum, 20 chipmunks, and 75 blackbirds for a total of 1,655 points. Gary was second place winner, 21 members participated in the contest.

LHS Noses-Out Clay 69-68

The Livingston Blue Devils got their basketball season off to a roaring start Friday night when they nosed out favored Clay County 69 to 68 at Manchester.

For Livingston, it was a reversal of its usual season opener that often finds LHS on the losing end, and served as a formidable foe for any team this year.

From the opening to the closing whistle, the Blue Devils knew they were in a ballgame, as the taller Tigers put on the pressure. But the Devils exercised a lot of poise and worked through the all-court presses. The game got off to a nip-and-tuck battle as both teams scored frequently. At the first stop Clay County led 18-17.

In the third quarter, the Blue Devils and Clay County again fought on even terms to a 31-41 score.

In the final stanza things began to happen. Clay County realizing it was about to lose the ball game, poured on the steam that nearly cost LHS the ball game. While Livingston was scoring a respectable 18 points, Clay County was hitting a sizzling 27 points. But its efforts fell one short as LHS held on to the one point 69-68 final score.

Coach Preston Parrett commented on the Blue Devils' victory following the game: "This is the tightest bunch of recalls I've seen. They get eyeballs to eyeball and tossball to tossball with their opponents and when a shot is taken they get in there and knock down the ball. It's a kind of people—rough, tough."

4-H Club Elects

The Roundstone Fifth and Sixth grades 4-H Club has elected officers for the coming year. The State Highway Department has called a meeting Monday at Frankfort for officials of the department and the City of Mt. Vernon to coordinate planning of various phases of work that might be needed in the vicinity of the proposed Remfro Valley Dam and Lake.

Specifically, the department wants to see plans made that would be re-located and re-built around the lake, a large item that was expected to be a part of the responsibility of the city should the dam be constructed.

It was also announced by the state that SHD engineers will be in the vicinity of the proposed lake Friday to survey for connecting roads around the lake should the dam be constructed.

City officials met the call to Frankfort with confidence. That coupled with the information that Engineers Vogtner of Cincinnati, Ohio, are now designing the dam ($35,000 project) led them to believe that, as one said, the project is well advanced to roll.

The department is expected to discuss several phases of the lake project.

The City of Mt. Vernon is currently seeking grants and other funds for the purchase of land and other items that would be needed if the dam replaces a bridge over Remfro Creek just south of US 28. To date no grants have been allocated.

At a meeting Friday at Roundstone school following a banquet, John Whisman, assistant to Governor Edward Breathitt, told the council he was very optimistic about the lake project and that he and the state were continuing to work to bring the project to a successful conclusion.

Here & There

THEY MADE IT
 Driving around Sunday, we greeted Mrs. Jim Cox, Miss Mattie Burton, and Miss Virginia Machal walking along the Old Broadhead Road. They returned a ride, and told us they were hiking from Mt. Vernon to Broadhead. We heard later that they made it. David Ray accompanied them, but he was smart: He took along his bicycle.

ALSO ON SUNDAY
 We drove down to Sand Springs to see how far the blacking goes in that direction. Unless we counted wrong, it's 6.6 miles from the intersection of US 150 at Mt. Vernon. What a wonderful hole this road must be to residents in that area. It will be even more wonderful when it goes all the way to KY 60.

WHATSOEVER HAPPENED TO
 Livingston's assistant basketball coach, Kenneth Cornelius, asks several subscribers after they saw a picture in last week's Signal showing Jerry Mink as assistant coach? "Corny" is still very much around. He's back in college this semester to accumulate more hours. He'll probably be back.

Falls In Barn
 Corrie Parrett, 83, of Route 2, Mt. Vernon suffered broken ribs when he fell about 18 feet out of his barn Tuesday morning.

Mr. Parrett was taken to the hospital from the second floor in the barn when he fell. He suffered broken ribs and was admitted to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS
 The family of Mrs. Eva F. Baker wishes to express their thanks and appreciation to all those who helped in any way during her illness and death. We would like to thank the employees of the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital, Dr. Jack Lewis, Cox's Funeral Home, Bible Baptist Church, Pine Hill, Bethesda Ridge Baptist Church, No. 30, Burton, the singers and pianists, and all those who sent cards, flowers, and food. All.
