L&N To Tear Down Depot

The Mt. Vernon City Council agreed at a meeting Tuesday night to terminate its lease on the old L & N Depot Building at Mt. Vernon so the company could tear it down. The council agreed to terminate the lease but stipulated it would do so only if the company keep its lease on the land for a parking lot. The council also stipulated in its action that it would terminate the lease if it would not interfere or conflict with city plans for a new city municipal building and recreation center under the Urban Renewal Program of the federal government. The city plans its Urban Renewal project an land between the railroad tracks and the present city hall, which includes the new building and parking lot. The building would be on land where the old depot now stands.

HERE and THERE

IT'S SOLVENT
Mt. Vernon Lion's Club Treasurer Jess Bullock told the club at a meeting Thursday night that the club had "lots of money" in its treasury, which brought a retort from a member that he was happy to be in at least one local club that was solvent. Just how solvent, Treasurer Bullock didn't say.

NEW BRIDGE
The Mt. Vernon City Council was told Thursday night that the Street Department, under G. H. "Hob" Griffin, had completed a bridge over the wide drainage ditch on Lovell Court, something that has been needed a long time. The bridge replaced a wooden structure, and cost about $250 which was partially paid by residents who will use it.

A LITTLE LATE
But it's better late than never. Crt Roberts has moved his barber shop from a building next to the 18 office at Mt. Vernon to the building occupied until recently by Arroy Durham. The bridge replaced a wooden structure, and cost about $250 which was partially paid by residents who will use it.

Tobacco Hearing For Local Growers

Five hearings to determine attitudes of burley tobacco growers and other segments of the Burley industry on the question of acreage-purchase have been set for Jan. 14 through Jan. 22 in Kentucky. Freeman M. Hockenmuth, chairman, Kentucky State Acreage Committee, announced today. The hearing nearest Rockcastle County was set for 9 a. m., Jan. 21 at the REA auditorium at Somerset. These hearings will be held in accordance with acreage-purchase legislation approved by President Johnson last May. The law specifies that before acreage-purchase contracts can be extended to burley tobacco growers must be held in the producing area and the attitude of the growers determined. After this a referendum may be scheduled. More than two-thirds of Burley growers voted in a referendum to approve the new quota system before it can be placed in operation. According to Mr. Hockenmuth, one advantage of acreage-purchase is that it permits the Burley grower high quality tobacco without losing part of his share of the market to other growers who strive for high yields per acre at the expense of quality. The program also has the element of flexibility built into it as farmers can carry over unused parts of their quota.

Renfro Valley's Big Barn Remodeling Gets Underway

Remodeling work on the barn at Renfro Valley began this week. Carpenters began re-vamping dressing rooms and tearing out and replacing various fixtures in preparation of forthcoming changes in the Renfro Valley Barn dance. Heating engineers are expected in the Valley any day to begin work installing new, over-head heating units in the barn. The new type heating is the first to be used on such a large degree in the area. In the past, the Barn has not been used in the winter. Shows are held in the Radio Studio Building at Renfro to perform on the Barn dance. It was announced recently the Barn would go back into radio, possibly as early as March, and that television is planned later in the year. It was also announced that J. H. Smith Artists Productions, representing some of the biggest names on the Grand Ole Opry, would represent Renfro Valley performers in the future. John Lair, reported Monday that the first show in the remodeled and heated barn with Nashville performers, new talent, and present-day entertainers, probably will be scheduled for late in February. Monday night, new talent lined the hallways of the distance of the Lincoln team with a 23-19 score. But in the second quarter McKinnay scored 27 points while MVHS was scoring 16 to sink the Devils, and leave the floor at half-time leading 50-34. In the third quarter MVHS scored 13, but the effort fell short as McKinnay scored 23 points at the end of the third period 63-36. In the final quarter, McKinnay scored MVHS 23 points to 19 for the final 86-75 score. "That it was Jerry Hodges night there was no doubt, as Hodges did nearly everything right. He left the fans of both schools aghast at his marksmanship."

Also scoring for MVHS was David Nicolesky with 19 points, George Cloud with 11, Ronnie McClure with 11, and Gary Lawson with 2.

In a game last Friday night, MVHS scored 26 points while McKinnay was scoring 12 in the third quarter to down McKinnay 62-34 at Mt. Vernon.

Had it not been for the weak third quarter, the Red Devils would have held their own with Berea.

At the end of the first quarter MVHS led 18-17. At the half Berea led 35-32. But at the end of the third quarter it was Berea on top, 61-44.

Once again it was Jerry Hodges who led the MVHS scoring followed by David Nicolesky with 19, Ronnie McClure with 8, George Cloud with 8, Jimmy Hines with 5 each, Sandy Childers with 4, Eddie Ward with 4, and Joe Howard and Howard Seyler with 2 each.

Friday night Mt. Vernon will be at home to Garretts Creek and Tuesday night at home to Liberty.

Signal Is Barred From School Board Meeting

The Rockcastle County Board of Education closed its doors to the press at its regular meeting Monday night. The board did not give any room for the press at its regular meeting to be reported or heard. This was the first time in the nearly 100 years history of the Signal that a representative of the Signal has been refused admission to a meeting by an elected group in Rockcastle County. When all the board had assembled for the earlier-than-usual meeting Monday night, they were asked into the private office of Mrs. Neutral Miracle, superintendent. Mrs. Miracle then closed the door. After a short wait, Board Member Preston Nunneley appeared at the door briefly to meet the press. Signal Editor Ray McClure of the meeting had started. Mr. Nunneley replied that it would be a waste of time to meet at the moment since business was being discussed. He closed the door.

Keeneland Gives Lions $225

A $25 contribution from the Keeneland Foundation was turned over to the Mt. Vernon Lion's Club at a meeting Thursday night at the Dinner Bell Restaurant. President Carl Clontz accepted the check from club secretary, Ed Hunt. The money, a yearly gift, will be used by the club for its sight conservation program. The club purchases on the average of 25 pairs of eye glasses each year for children who cannot afford them. In addition to its sight conservation program, the club helps with the summer recreation program, furnishes transportation for the club girls and boys to go to camp each year, and contributes to other worthy causes. The generosity of the Keeneland Foundation over the past several years has helped us carry through with our program, Attorney Clontz said.

Rush On City Board

Fred Morris took over his seat on the Mt. Vernon City Council at its regular meeting Thursday night, and immediately resigned as a member of the Mt. Vernon Housing Commission. The council appointed Harvey Ruth, Mt. Vernon justice, to serve on the Housing Commission. By law, Mr. Morris could not serve on the council and committee at the same time. In other action the council voted to allow Buster Wilnot to place a metal truck bed on a lot on Main Street owned by Mrs. Carrie Baker, and adjoining the offices of Drs. George Griffin and Jack Lewis. The council reserved the right to have it removed if it became necessary. The council also told Police Chief Walter Shepherd to install small boxes on about three parking meters on Main Street to be used for parking tickets.

Keeneland Gives Lions $225 Road Bids Awarded

Contracts on two sections of Interstate-75 in Rockcastle and Madison counties were awarded by the State Highway Department at a bid opening Friday at Frankfort. One section calls for grade and drain work on 3.771 miles of road from I-75 from KY 21 near Berea to Boone. Low bidder on the section was Ralph Myers Construction Co. of Salem, Ind., for $2,181,024.58. The second section calls for grade and drain work on 1.75 miles from Boone to the approximate site of Cross Hill School. In-Service Meeting At Roundstone School

An in-service conference for the Rockcastle County School system will be held at Roundstone School Jan. 20 and 21. The theme of the conference will be Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965 and Other Federal Programs. On Jan. 20, the conference will begin at 9 a. m., and continue until 3 p. m. To be discussed are federal aid under Title I; how to relate in-service of Title II and Title I; staff duties and responsibilities; and a report on adult education. The Signal has not covered adult education. Continued on page 4

Basketball This Week

At Livingston
The Livingston Blue Devils, playing with a new player, and without an old one, won a game from Burgin, but lost one to Berea in games last week. LHS defeated Burgin 58-46 to go to a 2-1 record. LHS led at all times, regardless of Lee Smith, all-region candidate who was ineligible the first semester, and the team came up with 20 points in the Burgin game and 19 in the Berea game. But lost to Livingston is Bert Newcomb, one of the Livingston team's 11 6 ft scorers, who quit Newcomb had been one of the team's most consistent scorers this season. In the Burgin game, LHS went into an early lead and kept it throughout the game. LHS led at all times, regardless of Lee Smith, all-region candidate who was ineligible the first semester, and the team came up with 20 points in the Burgin game and 19 in the Berea game. The teams played on a neutral even basis for the last three quarters for the final 69-57 score.

At Mt. Vernon
Jerry Hodges of Mt. Vernon High School went on to a 37-point scoring spree Tuesday night but it was to no avail as MVHS lost to McKinnay 86-70 at McKinnay. Hodges had 23 points, and high individual score this season for any player in the three county high schools. For the first quarter the Red Devils stayed in striking distance of the Lincoln team with a 23-19 score. But in the second quarter McKinnay scored 27 points while MVHS was scoring 16 to sink the Devils, and leave the floor at half-time leading 50-34. In the third quarter MVHS scored 13, but the effort fell short as McKinnay scored 23 points at the end of the third period 63-36. The council appointed Harvey Ruth, Mt. Vernon justice, to serve on the Housing Commission. By law, Mr. Morris could not serve on the council and committee at the same time. In other action the council voted to allow Buster Wilnot to place a metal truck bed on a lot on Main Street owned by Mrs. Carrie Baker, and adjoining the offices of Drs. George Griffin and Jack Lewis. The council reserved the right to have it removed if it became necessary. The council also told Police Chief Walter Shepherd to install small boxes on about three parking meters on Main Street to be used for parking tickets.

Keeneland Gives Lions $225

A $25 contribution from the Keeneland Foundation was turned over to the Mt. Vernon Lion's Club at a meeting Thursday night at the Dinner Bell Restaurant. President Carl Clontz accepted the check from club secretary, Ed Hunt. The money, a yearly gift, will be used by the club for its sight conservation program. The club purchases on the average of 25 pairs of eye glasses each year for children who cannot afford them. In addition to its sight conservation program, the club helps with the summer recreation program, furnishes transportation for the club girls and boys to go to camp each year, and contributes to other worthy causes. The generosity of the Keeneland Foundation over the past several years has helped us carry through with our program, Attorney Clontz said.

Should Get Fair Land Price

The Bureau of Public Roads (BPR) recently ordered all states to pay a fair price if the owners whose business and lands face condemnation for federally built highways, according to William Steif, writing in the Cincinnati Post and Times Star. Highway Administrator Rex M. Whitton also has ordered states to pay 75 per cent of fair market value to owners whose land is taken before they are required to move. Whitton's new order banned some states practice of starting condemnation before making an offer to a property owner. "It should be unnecessary for anyone to have to bargain with a state in order to receive an offer that represents fair market value," said Whitton. Nor should property owners be forced to institute legal action to get fair value. BPR said at least six states (New Jersey, Kentucky, Mississippi, Kansas and Idaho) don't operate on a "single-price policy" in buying lands tobacco, he should bring his sales slip.

Applications Taken For Commodities

Residents of the county who wish to receive Department of Agriculture commodities during 1966 must fill out a new application. Applications will be taken Jan. 17 through Jan. 21 on the third floor of the courthouse. The applications will be taken from residents according to their magisterial districts as follows: Jan. 17 District 1; Jan. 18, District 2; Jan. 19, District 3; Jan. 20, District 4; Jan. 21, District 5.

The head of the household must come in person to make an application. If a person lives tobacco, he should bring his sales slip.

Atty. James W. Lambert of Mt. Vernon is shown signing the final message of the Constitution Revision Assembly last week at Frankfort. The meeting was held at the Old State House where the assembly held its initial meeting nearly two years ago and when the 1890-1891 Constitution was written. The Charter goes to the General Assembly for review. With Attorney General left, Des Akers, secretary to the Assembly, James Carvey, a staff member, and right, T. C. Carroll, a member from Shepherdsville.

REMOVE PLASTICS FROM YOUR FIELDS

Take up plastic mulches from crop fields, says Dr. Lindsay Brown, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service vegetable specialist.

"Plastic left on fields and disked down with the crop residue will interfere with plowing, disking and cultivating for many years," he says.

Best way to handle the plastic is to pick it up and carry it from the field. Some growers melt it down with a brush burner, but this leaves a three-to-four-inch burned strip on each side of the row. "Black polyethylene mulch is an excellent cultural practice for certain crops, but the big drawback is it does not break down in the soil at the end of the season. Clear polyethylene usually falls apart after one season of continuous exposure to sunlight but black film does not. The plastics are not attacked by soil microorganisms which destroy paper, straw and wood mulch materials, either."

For some home garden flower and vegetable plants it is possible to remove dead plants at the end of the season and replant in the same holes the following spring. This plan is not feasible for most commercial operations, however, Dr. Brown says.

He recommends sowing spring seeds now. Seed houses fill orders on a spot-commission, first served basis and seeds of popular varieties may be sold in the season."

SCHOOL BOARD
 school board meetings in the past with any regularity as it does the Mt. Vernon City Council and the Rockcastle Fiscal Court. But plans had been made within the last month to begin coverage in detail of all meetings after the first of the year.

The meeting Monday night had been rescheduled. The board usually meets on the first Monday of each month, but last week it was postponed because Mrs. Miracle could not attend.

LAND PRICE
 came to a head in Chicago this fall, where it was reported that the Illinois highway department regularly "bar-gained" for property. The road-builders would offer 70 to 80 percent of a home's appraised value and if the owner, "through timidity or ignorance, didn't know his rights, he lost out," a BPR spokesman said.

BPR told Illinois it would get no more okay's to buy right of way until a six-man committee came up with "acceptable" rules. Whitton's new order said states wouldn't they negotiated with property owners on the basis of fair-value offers.

Whitton ordered state officials acquiring right of way to make "personal contact" with property owners. If state offers are rejected, he said, the states must explain property owners' alternatives in writing.

Whitton's new orders are part of a broader program to "humanize" land acquisition. BPR "suggests" the states tell owners "if their land is jeopardized, hold public hearings on routes, explain acquisition procedures in detail, make firm offers in writing and donate relocation advice and moving costs. Thirty-two states now pay moving costs, with federal aid.

Why Catholics Believe As They Do

It's not a set of rules that keeps your Catholic neighbor going to church.

It is a matter of conscience... self-imposed sense of duty dictated by his reason enlightened by faith.

To be a Catholic, of course, one must conform to the rules and standards of the Church. Anyone doing less would obviously be a member in name only - in the Church as in any other organization or society.

Your Catholic neighbor most likely goes to church much more than the rules of the Church require. He could "get by" for example, by confessing his sins and receiving Holy Communion only once a year, and by attending Mass on Sundays which are obligatory - days and Holy Days.

But many Catholics receive the Eucharist as often as once a month, once a week - even every day. Some attend Mass much more often than required. And when Catholics take part in a novena, say the Stations of the Cross, pray the rosary or participate in the various special devotions of the Church, it is not because they have to do so. They do so by choice - for the enrichment of their spiritual lives.

Religion to a Catholic is not merely a worthy and virtuous activity. It is not something a man can take or let alone. It is an absolute duty required not only by the rules of the Church, but by God Himself.

The Church, we believe, is the divinely-instituted channel through which we acknowledge our dependence upon God - the means by which we express our love, faith and gratitude. It is also the channel through which we receive the Sacramental graces instituted by Jesus Christ for the enrichment of our spiritual lives and the salvation of our souls. Believing this as we do... and remembering Christ's command to "...hear the church..." we are compelled by our conscience and reason to worship as we do.

If you would like to know more about the solid reasons behind Catholic beliefs and worship, let us send you a copy of our interesting, pocket-size pamphlet on the subject. It covers such topics as Faith and Common Sense, The Human Soul Will Never Die, Religion Is Our Duty, Christ Left Us a Church, This is Christ's Church, and Without God Nothing Makes Sense. We will send your copy free and without obligation. And nobody will call on you. Write today... ask for Pamphlet No. KC-10.
