FALLOUT SHELTER at no extra cost is inherent in the basic design of the $2.3 million East Central Senior High School under construction at Tula, Okla. The nearly windowless building's concrete floors and heavy masonry double walls not only make for better air conditioning and muffling of nearby airport noise, but also result in excellent fallout protection on the floors of the central core and the ground floor of the far wing. It is one of 34 structures described in "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TP-27), a new publication of the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense, now available from the U.S. Army AG Publications Center, Civil Defense Branch, 2800 Eastern Blvd., Baltimore, Md. 21220.

SAVE YOUR POPLAR TREES

Your small six to ten inch Poplar trees will grow one inch per year in good soil. In just five years a nine inch Poplar pole will be a fourteen inch log. A nine inch log 12 feet long has 19 feet log measure. This same log five years later will be 75 feet. A small tree containing three 9 inch logs at todays pulpwood prices will bring you $1.92. This same tree will bring you $18.00 in just five years. Take an acre of young Poplars which normally will have a hundred trees. Cut them into pulpwood today and you will receive $192.00. Let these young poplars grow five years and they will bring you $1800.00. We recommend that you cut your fourteen inch and up Poplars and let the small trees make you money at the rate of over 900% interest each five years. We need good logs now and suggest that you cut your larger trees which are mature. This enables small trees to grow faster. We need good Oak, Maple, Beechwood, Ash, as well as Poplar. We do not want low grade logs.

Local Cast Sees Sneak Preview Of Renfro Barndance Movie

By Roy McClure

(THE RENFRO VALLEY BARN DANCE, JanArt Pictures, Inc. produced by James Sullivan and Art Stansich; directed by William Johnson; starring Renfro Valley Folks)

More than 100 cast members and their guests got their first look at the movie "The Renfro Valley Barndance" at a special showing Sunday morning at the Berea Theatre.

It was a morning tinged with anticipation and excitement as the group waited for the cameras to roll. No doubt each member of the cast had one question in mind: How do I look?

As the razzle-dazzle opening faded into the quiet beauty of the Renfro Valley hills blossoming in the springtime, the movie that will play in theaters around the nation for a long time to come.

Filled with lush color, and breaking beauty, the country speaks loud and clear for mountain music, and the simple and uncomplicated way of life in the hills.

Uncluttered with the commercial gobble-goop of other films about country music, "The Renfro Valley Barndance" will do more for country music than any other film effort to date.

It will also do more for Renfro Valley as a tourist attraction than anything else could possibly do with the exception of a weekly television show.

Of course the movie will win Academy Awards. But that is not its main purpose. It was designed as a fun-filled, enjoyable, foot-tapping musical interlude specifically for the country music lovers, and it fills all the requirements well.

Based on a format similar to Bill Daisey's "Dixie Land After Dark," the Renfro movie takes you around Renfro Valley introducing you to the beauty of the hills and valleys, and to the Barndance featuring songs and music both past and present. There is an occasional funny joke by two old hands at the game of entertainment—Ole Joe Clark and Pete Stemper.

Among them all, the soft voice of John Lee guiding you through the valley. With these ingredients, you are carried along on a nice adventure of music and mirth.

With the setting of the film in Appalachian country, the movie is a treat for those that not all Appalachia is destitute and without hope.

For local people, there is a familiar face in the film. The camera often plays over the audience watching the Barndance. If you were in the audience, you could very well be in the hour and 20 minute movie.

But it is the Renfro cast that carries the Barndance merrily along, and they "came through" like old troopers, and some of the best.

BHS Loses To Knox In Tourney

Brookhaven's "Big Blue" team, led by Earl Reynolds, lost to Knox in the first round game of the 13th Regional Basketball Tournament last Wednesday night at Whitley County High School.

EARL REYNOLDS

Knox, led by Earl Reynolds, won the game 54-46. Reynolds led BHS at the starting five, and he was named MVP of the game.

Reynolds piled up an impressive record in basketball this year. He was all-district, all-conference, and all-regional.

Coach Billy Riddle said this week, after Reynolds finished his high school career: "Earl gave 100 plus in every game he was ever in."

He is the kind of boy that never complains no matter how hard the practice, or how bad he feels. It has been a pleasure to coach such a fine person. The only bad thing about Earl is, he is a senior."

Knox Central jumped into an early lead and was never in danger. Knox led BHS at all quarter steps: 20-9, 39-16, 52-38, and the final 82-54.

Following Reynolds in scoring were: Dan Bernhardt, head winner and East Bernhardt.

Tobacco Referendum Fails

Burley growers over the eight-state belt failed to approve a referendum last Thursday on a referendum to approve a top-sliced vote in Tennessee.

In Rockcastle, 967 voted for the acreage-pounds plan. A total of 573 voted against it.

In percentage in Rockcastle, 62.8 per cent voted for the plan, or less than the two-thirds majority needed to pass.

Producers were notified in February that the 1966 acreage allotment reflecting a reduction from 1965 of fifteen percent in acres. Generally, growers with 0.5 acres, or less did not receive a reduction from the 1965 allotment.

With the fifteen percent reduction, the number of misused growers has increased from about 31 to 57 percent of all allotments.

Price supports of $60.60 per hundred on the 1966 crop were announced by the Secretary of Agriculture on Jan. 28.

Price supports of $60.60 per hundred on the 1966 crop were announced by the Secretary of Agriculture on Jan. 28.

Producers, whose harvested acreage does not exceed the allotted acreage will be eligible for price support, based on support by grades averaging $60.60.

The allotment program will be administered in the same manner as in the past years, based on acreage now in effect.

HERE and THERE

WE WERE SURPRISED
One of the most pleasant surprises we have had came Sunday when we saw a sneak preview of the new movie "The Renfro Valley Barndance" shown at Berea Theatre and scheduled to be released soon. (See story in this page). What a boost this movie gives Renfro Valley and Rockcastle County. You'll enjoy it.

SPEAKING OF RENFRO
If you plan to see the first big Renfro Valley show featuring Ray Price and the Cherokee Cowboys, and others, you'd better get your tickets soon. Renfro Valley people are amazed at the response. Incidentally, we see in the last issue of Billboard Magazine that Price is scheduled for a big promotion campaign soon by Columbia Records.

ANOTHER TIE-UP
Seems the L&N is getting right regular in blocking Sunday afternoon traffic on the Mt. Vernon crossings. It's the worst time possible to do it. Last Sunday it was full swing. The tie replacing machine is quite rugged. As we reported earlier, several wrecks along the stretch prompted the L&N into action.

WELFARE DINNER
A district dinner meeting of the Kentucky Welfare Association will be held at 2 p. m. Mar. 21 at the Brodhead High School Cafeteria. Jack Waddell, county stamp inspector from Frankfort, will be the guest speaker. There's a charge for the dinner.

AUTO INSPECTION
We see by the papers that the Legislature has passed a factory auto inspection bill. When in force, you'll have to have your car inspected yearly (we suppose) by an authorized garage. It may be a little inconvenient, but it's not a bad idea.

BANKING HOURS
The Citizens Bank of Brodhead tell us their new banking hours beginning Apr. 1 will be from 8 a.m., to 2 p.m.

FIRE SEASON
In Full Swing
The fire season is now in effect, so be careful! This warning was given this week by the Division of Forestry.

PURCHASES ANGUS
H. T. Bullock and son of Mt. Vernon, recently purchased an Aberdeen-Angus bull from Andrew Schiff, Clark Orchard, according to a report from the American Angus Association.

ON DEAN'S LIST—Randall Clark, son of Mrs. Add Clark, of Mt. Vernon, was among 67 students on the Eastern Kentucky State College campus who achieved a perfect A standing during the fall semester of the college. The 67 will receive a special citation from Pres. Robert Martin. About 6,000 students attend the college.

WEATHER

Corps Workshop Set On Rockcastle Dams

DISTINGUISHED AWARD—Mrs. William L. Adams of Somerset, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Adams is pinned with a distinguished service award by Lester Nichols of Louisville, after her selection as one of the 25 Heart Fund chairmen in Kentucky during 1966. Contributions to the Heart Fund Campaign in Pulaski County this year reached an all time high. Dr. and Mrs. Adams make their home at Somerset. (Cumberland Studio Photo)

The Army Corps of Engineers has scheduled a workshop meeting between Corps officials and interested persons from Rockcastle and Pulaski counties to discuss and work out criteria on two dams on the Rockcastle River.

With the criteria to be established, the Corps will re-evaluate the dams, but stress that the re-evaluation does not mean the dams will be constructed.

The new criteria to be established would be in line with a recent Corps policy to evaluate water projects on criteria allowed through the Appalachian Program.

The Corps said the meeting, scheduled April 19 at Somerset, would not be public as such but that persons with specific facts and figures would be welcome.

If the new criteria should make the dams feasible, the Corps then would call a public meeting similar to one held at Renfro Valley about five years ago. It was then that most of the same testimony taken at the Renfro meeting could still be pertinent to present conditions.

The Rockcastle dams, one at the Narrows of the river, and the other just north and west of Livingston, are not scheduled to be built at any time under the Corps water resources program by about 35 percentage points.

In short, the benefits derived from the dams are about 15 percentage points under the cost of construction.

The Corps criteria in the past has only included such items as flood control and water availability. It has not to date considered such criteria as recreation, industry, conservation and the like in Appalachia. Under the Appalachian Program, these types of benefits could be considered.

Among those who are expected to attend the meeting are: Colonel Peabody, Nashville District Director of the Corps, and Colonel Lee, of the Corps' regional office at Cincinnati, Ohio. Also planning to attend is John Whisman, water assistant to Gov. Edward Breathitt, and Kentucky member to the Appalachian Regional Commission in Washington.

Mr. Whisman told the Signal this week that the criteria to be established for the dams under the Appalachian Program, must be established as a total package program that will be a large section of Appalachia, rather than just for immediate area of the dams.

"We will have to show the federal government and Congress that the expenditure of fifty to a hundred million dollars for two dams is not being done, for example, just to get an industry for Livingston or Mt. Vernon, or that Livingston and Mt. Vernon need a water supply, or that tourists will come to Rockcastle County and spend money because of the dams. We must show with facts and figures that the Appalachian area, such as Lake Cumberland, and other areas, will get general benefits and

Hayes Quits Hospital Job

Bobby Hayes, administrator at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital, resigned at a meeting of the Board of Directors Monday night.

His resignation is effective immediately, but he will remain in the area to be available for some hospital business for a few days.

Mr. Hayes has been administrator at the hospital for about four years. He did not tell the board of his future plans.

To date, the Board has not hired a new administrator.

NFO MEETING AT SOMERSET
Some 400 persons from 11 counties, including several from Rockcastle, jammed the Somerset National Guard armory Friday night to hear Edward Pfingsten, vice-president of the National Farmers Organization explain "What Can NFO Do For You?"

The program was sponsored by the Pulaski County National Farm Organization.

The Sergeant Bluff, Iowa resident was interrupted by applause several times during an impassioned 110-minute speech in which he charged that "outrageous prices are killing farmers."

Pfingsten said he is disgusted with farm clinics and meetings. "They have no solution to our problems," he said. "We (NFO) have the medicine to effect a cure, but before it helps, the farmer has got to take it."

Calling the situation of American agriculture "rotten," he said that the government and Congress should do more to help the farmer.

"I wish the war could stop so the money we are spending on war could go to help the country. We're lucky to be Americans more than most people realize. I know I'll appreciate what we have more when I get back. I have nine more months left over here."

"Thanks again for the gift. It was greatly appreciated."

WELCOME SIGN—The Mt. Vernon Lions Club recently posted signs just outside the city limits of Mt. Vernon welcoming motorists to Mt. Vernon. The signs were painted by a London firm.

He said the Corps had recently been responsive to water programs in Appalachia, and stressed that the state would do all possible to win approval of the dams.

Mr. Whitsam also reported that the Appalachian Regional Commission has not taken up the matter of a connecting link to Interstate-75 of the new Appalingian highway between Chattanooga, Tenn., and Lexington.

He stated he believes the Spindletop report on the segment of highway in question (whether it will go from Somerset to Mt. Vernon along KY 461, or along KY 80 to London) has been completed but not published.

"The Commission has lots of time to decide on this financial segment. There is no immediate rush," he declared. He also reported that an application for a grant to help construct a dam at Renfro Valley is progressing through the Area Redevelopment Administration as planned, and that he foresees no particular problem.

Pfingsten charged that officials and Highway Department engineers in accident surveillance and control. The markers will be placed on the backs of existing signs rather than on separate posts as is done on Kentucky's Interstate highways and Parkways, thus achieving a savings of $40,000.

Quoting from the Economic Indicator, a publication of the U. S. Government, the NFO vice-president said agriculture showed a net profit of $1.1 billion in 1965 on an investment of $247 billion.

Comparing this with "my city cousin who has nothing counted for living in his own home," Pfingsten remarked, "Why is it such a big deal for me?" "They also count $1.5 billion for the produce we ate, including the vegetable out of my wife's garden. It doesn't hurt my city cousin's wife to put out a garden anymore than my wife."

Pfingsten argued that cash receipts received by all farmers from U. S. markets totaled $8.8 billion last year. Subtract production expenses of $30.3 billion and it leaves the farmers with $8.6 billion profit, he explained. "For feeding and clothing this nation, we (farmers) received just a little over three per cent interest on our investment and absolutely nothing for our work," the vice-president emphasized.

"A good many farmers farmers' wives had to go to other industries to feed their families," he said. "From this source, farm families received $8.6 billion—$8 billion less than all the other industries to feed their families."

The NFO official said that farmers increased their indebtedness by $5 billion last year and this rate has been the same for each of the past eight years.

Observing that farmers have been advised to get more efficient and expand their operations to the point where they don't have to have "a price," Pfingsten denounced this as a "phony situation."

"Business works on a theory that they must make a profit so that they can expand and employ more people, but they take an average of six per cent. Can you think of a quicker way to go broke when you borrow three per cent and make only three per cent profit?" he commented.

"There is no way on earth to make a profit without a price," Pfingsten emphasized. "No matter how thin they slice it, it's still baloney."

"We've been told we have a surplus of farmers and if we get rid of some of them we'll have fewer to 'slice the pie,'" he added.

"If you will use your memory, we did a pretty good job getting rid of them," he noted. "Some 12 years ago, there were 5 million farmers. Today, there are 3.5 million."

"Are farmers doing better (with the reduced number)?" he questioned. Pfingsten pointed out that if the number of farmers in the country is reduced to the recommended one million, these remaining must maintain the present investment in agriculture in order to feed the nation.

Weed Control Neel. In Tobacco Beds

Preventing weeds from coming up in the tobacco plant bed is a very important job, says Dr. Merle University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service specialist.

"Tobacco plants are so small when they first emerge they cannot stand competition from a heavy growth of weeds. And hand-weeding a bed is slow and tedious, and likely to injure small plants; in addition, wildfire and mosaic in susceptible varieties often occur in plant beds after weeding," he says.

Kill the weed seed before sowing the tobacco seed. Here are some tips:

Hot Methyl Isomide Gas: Work the bed as mentioned above. Then fill a five-gallon bucket with hot water (150 to 160 degrees F). Puncture the can with applicator in the upper position (instead of the lower position as used in the conventional method). Submerge the can at once in the hot water, leaving the punctured area above the water. It will take about five minutes for the gas to evaporate from a one-pound can.

Release two-thirds through side tubes.

Be careful. Methyl bromide is a poisonous gas, so follow label directions carefully.

In the hot-gas method, soil may be treated when soil temperatures are lower than in the other methods.

Uncle Sam has a couple of plans to make your money as easy to save as it is to spend. There's the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. And the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Easy as pie, but the best part of the idea is that there's a bigger cut of the pie for you, the longer you hold onto your Bonds. When they mature, you get $4 back for every $3 you invest.

There's no state or local income tax on Series E Savings Bonds. And you may defer payment of the federal income tax until your Bonds are cashed.

While your bankroll grows, freedom throughout the world grows a bit, too. And your Bonds are helping this cause more and a little.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work
- Buy E Bonds for growth - H Bonds for current income

AUTO INSPECTION

We see by the papers that the Legislature has passed a compulsory auto inspection bill. When in force, you'll have to have your car inspected yearly (we suppose) by an authorized garage. It may be a little inconvenient, but it's not a bad idea.

WELFARE DINNER

A district dinner meeting of the Kentucky Welfare Association will be held at 7 p.m., Mar. 21 at the Brothhead High School Cafeteria. Jack Wadlie, food stamp supervisor from Frankfort, will be the guest speaker. There's a charge for the dinner.
