dinner would be a calamity. Gradually, the usual morning rush began to ease up and things became so quiet that I could actually hear the exhaust and pumps at Dad Cooks pump house above the "boils," and yes, that scraping sound I was hearing, was Dad Hoyes cleaning up after filling all the switch lights with signal oil.

Now I had time for a few words of local gossip with D. B. Rambo and W. H. Ponder.

ble spot on Crooked Hill. Joe Tierney, engineer on the main run, wanted three days off, and Engineer T. C. Welch stopped by for an ice water drink and reported that his youngest was beginning to talk.

Now, the day was getting along and things had been as usual.

Then people began to gather in the waiting rooms and C. A. opened the ticket window. I heard the question over and over again: Is she on time? This meaning, of course, No. 22, the passenger to Louisville.

After assuring C. A. that No. 22 is on time, I relaxed for a few minutes and talked to J. H. Dickerson who would be on duty as the night agent.

Suddenly, we heard music. Yes, it was vocal and it was coming from the south end of the station platform. There was Soda's Carter, Norris and Ed Cottengim, Forrest Shrock, Mack Martin, Walter Browning, and others that couldn't be recognized. Wait, yes, it's John Lair, our new school teacher from Mt. Vernon. It's Friday and John is going home to Mt. Vernon on old 22 for the week end. He will be back Sunday night on 21.

What's that tune? Why, it's "Darling Nellie Gray." The boys have beautiful harmony. Suddenly, the whistle of 22 sounds for the tieyard crossing. The singers break into that old, old favorite "Sweet Adeline." What a pleasant day helping to run a railroad.

The rusty, raucous, sound of the horn (not whistle) of a modern diesel engine brings me out of my day dream, and I realize that it is July, 1966.

As I begin my walk back to reality, I have something locked in my memory that FIFTY POUNDS- Rector Coffey holds 50 pounds of white bass and channel cat fish he caught recently near Richmond, Ind., where he and his wife have been visiting their sons, Ed and Vernon Coffey. The largest fish was a cat fish that weighed 9-and-a-half pounds.

State Bank of New Haven, the Bank of Mount Vernon, the Fredonia Valley Bank, Citizens Deposit Bank of Arlington, and the First State Bank of Manchester. The banks held $791,125 of the state's money in time and demand deposits up until July 1. The banks said they were taking the action because of the increase in interest rate on time deposits announced by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt June 3. The change raised the interest rate the banks had to pay the state from 3 to 4 per cent and also increased the amount of funds on time deposit from two thirds to three fourths of the total funds the state had in a bank. The change meant an effective interest rate of 3 per cent on all state idle funds. The banks involved said they could not afford to give the state that rate. State Treasurer Emerson (Doc) Beauchamp said he expected some banks would take that action but said he doesn't expect any more withdrawals.

BANK ASK STATE TO REMOVE FUNDS
Eight Kentucky banks, including the Bank of Mt. Vernon, have told the state they want no part of increased rates on time deposits and asked the state to withdraw its money. They are the Peoples Bank of Morehead, First National Bank of Corbin, First National Bank of Manchester, First

NEW ADMINISTRATOR FOR CHILD WELFARE
Franklin D. Baker of Corbin is supervisor of the Child Welfare Department's new administrative area with headquarters at Corbin. Commissioner Maurice A. Harmon says Baker will supervise adoptions, foster care, day care and home-makers services in 29 Eastern Kentucky counties. A graduate of the University of Louisville, Baker received the master's degree from the Kent School of Social Work in 1952. He joined the Child Welfare Department after two years of casework in Louisville Family and Children's Agency. He was appointed district supervisor at the London Child Welfare district office in June, 1955. Charles Lewis, a 15-year veteran in child welfare work in Jackson and Owsley counties, has been named acting district supervisor of the 11-county district office at London. The 29 counties in the Corbin area are: Adair, Barren, Bell, Breathitt, Clay, Clinton, Cumberland, Floyd, Green, Harlan, Jackson, Knott, Knox, Isaurel, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, McCreary, Metcalfe, Monroe, Owsley, Perry, Pike, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Taylor, Wayne, Whitley.

LIVINGSTON DEPOT BEING TORN DOWN
—Bill Moore, Bill Smith, Preston Smith in The Windows—

Depot On The Way Down

By: Robert Waddle

Time and modern methods of transportation have laid waste to what was once the busiest place in Rockcastle County.

On July 5, demolition began on the old Louisville & Nashville Railroad Depot at Livingston.

City Council Sets Tax Rate

A tax rate of 25 cents per $100 of property valuation was set by the Mt. Vernon City Council at a meeting Friday night.

She Is Last Confederate Widow

Mrs. Rachel Lunceford of Brodhead is now the last surviving widow of a Confederate veteran receiving a pension check according to the records of the State Finance Department in Frankfort.

in keeping with the age, and I must have fallen asleep. For suddenly, the four long blasts from the engineer after the long train of empties cleared Livingston. I told the operator by wire at Hazel Patch, that all was clear.

Last year, the city sent tax bills totalling $12,000 based on an assessment of $1,300,000 and a 95 cent tax rate, or 75 cents per $100 for property and 20 cents per $100 for the fire truck bonds.

HERE and THERE

OUR SIGNALS
Our new traffic signals have been out, or on flashing, since Saturday. We understand some kind of gadget burned out and had to be ordered. We thought for a while some of the tourist's complaints had reached Henry Ward.

NOW WE KNOW
We heard from someone who heard from someone else that someone at Somerset said the reason Mr. Vernon put up the new traffic lights was to get motorists to stop and spend money. We doubt anyone said it seriously. EdH for their information, it was the State Highway Department, not the city, that brought up the subject.

GRAVEL TRUCKS
Wouldn't it be nice if some of the gravel trucks observed road conditions for a change and covered or wet down their rock? Most of the trucks roll along south on US 25 flagging dust and gravel alone the way.

DON'T FORGET!
Swimming class sign-up is set for July 15 at 2:30 p.m., at the Kentucky Utilities Office. Classes run from July 25 through Aug. 5 at the Somerset YMCA pool.

A SHOW FOR RUSS
A reminder when for the late Russ Fisher, performer at Renfro Valley, is tomorrow (Friday) night at the Renfro Valley Barn. The time is 7:30 p.m. Money will go to Mr. Fisher to help pay hospital expenses. Won't you go, or at least buy a ticket, and give it to some youngster who has never seen the band.

RENRO MOVIE
The opening of "The Renfro Valley Bandance" is next Wednesday at the Preston Drive-In Theatre at Louisville and at the Family Drive-In at Lexington. Most of the activities, including a parade, an appearance by Gov. Edward Breathitt, and a performance of the Renfro Folks will be at the Louisville Drive-In. No reservations are needed as far as we know, since it is a drive-in theatre.

ADULT EDUCATION
Lloyd Cain is enrolling persons interested in adult education classes for completion of grade and high school should contact him as soon as possible. His phone is 256-21. He didn't give us a starting date for the classes.

BALL GAMES
Beginning July 16, there will be a Pony League or Little League ball game at the Mt. Vernon playground each Saturday night. One exception will be Saturday night, July 23, when a Cincinnati team comes down to play an all-star team and Ottawa in a double-header.

CONFIRMATION
One afternoon this week a and his wife and four children stopped at a local service station for gas. While the attendant serviced the car we saw the motorist talking to him. Finally, he walked around and yelled to his wife: "Honey, where is it we're going?" This confirms what we thought all along that most of the tourists don't know where they are going, or where they have been.

Governor Nudges Agency To Hurry Lake Approval

HEAD START YOUNGSTERS AT BRODHEAD

HEAD START GROUP POSES AT LIVINGSTON

ROUNDSTONE HEAD START CHILDREN

Gov. Edward Breathitt laid his power and prestige on the line this week for the Renfro Valley Dam and Lake project.

The governor personally intervened by asking the Economic Development Administration in Washington to expedite a federal grant and loan for a water and lake project at Renfro Valley.

Governor Breathitt in a telegram Monday to Eugene P. Foley, director of the Economic Development Administration, said:

"This improvement is vital to the health and welfare of three communities in Rockcastle County."

"It has been estimated that the dam for the reservoir can be built on interstate-75 for much less money than a bridge could be constructed across the same stream. This is a very worthwhile project and will also save money of the interstate system," he declared.

Breathitt told Foley he would personally appreciate any assistance he could give toward expediting approval of the project.

At present, there was still silence from the EDA in Washington. Apparently, the regular Tuesday allocation of grants did not include the Renfro project.

The federal agency usually approves projects on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Federal and state officials were still saying Wednesday there was no real problem in the project and it would be approved in due time.

Said one official: "These boys in Washington all have to see a project before it is approved. There's just a lot of paperwork that has to be done and a lot of names that have to be signed."

The project has passed every agency hurdle except the final approval.

348 WOMEN SIGN TO SEW IN LOCAL LABOR SURVEY
A total of 349 women—many more than was expected—signed in a labor survey at Mt. Vernon Saturday.

Purpose of the survey was to determine if there were enough women in the area who would be interested in a sewing job should the firm locate a factory in the area.

Rural Roads To Get $74,637

An allocation of $74,637 to Rockcastle County from the State Highway Department for maintenance on various roads during the 1966-67 fiscal year under the State Rural Road Program has been announced by the department.

A contract covering maintenance of the roads, and reconstruction project has been forwarded to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court for approval, a yearly routine task.

Stretches along 74 county roads come under the maintenance program.

ROCKCASTLE GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE MURDER

Eight Climax area men charged with murder were held to the Rockcastle Circuit Court Grand Jury which convenes Monday at Mt. Vernon.

They were held for investigation of the charges after a long examining trial Tuesday in Rockcastle County Court.

CALLOWAY REVIVAL

"A revival has been scheduled at the Calloway Holiness Church beginning July 24. Bro. and Sister Jimmie Floyd of Covington will be the evangelists. The public is invited.

ASK FOR BLACKTOP FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL

The city of Mt. Vernon will ask the State Highway Department to estimate the costs for blacktop for two parking areas at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital, as well as blacktop for Lewis Street between the hospital and Newcomb Avenue.

City Councilman and Hospital Administrator, Charles Baker, asked the City Council at its meeting Friday night to pay half the costs for the blacktop. He said he had asked the County to pay the other half.

The Council decided to hold approval of the blacktop until some estimate of the cost could be determined.

RENFRO GUESTS

Fee-Wee King and his band are expected to arrive at Renfro July 23 on the Bandance.

WE ALSO GO WITH THEE JOHN 21:3
 We'll go with you. Someone must always go in front and others will follow. Peter was a man of ambition full of activity. He could not be content to idle time away; he was no loafer, he did not sit on the fence, whistle and let big yawns. He was no quitter, he did not give up easily. He had been with Jesus for more than three years with high hopes of seeing the Kingdom of Israel restored again, but now Jesus has been killed, and they have seen him twice they have not yet fully accepted the meaning of the Resurrection, so to Peter, it looks like all hopes are gone.

He has a family to feed and take care of and the only means he has to do so is the fishing business and it was a respectful business. (Jesus had not yet given them the commission to go teach and preach), so Peter says boys we cannot sit here and muddle our thumbs, this thing is over, we might as well go to work and they said, we are ready to go with you. So they went fishing and while they are trying their best to catch fish, Jesus appears and tells them how. They have worked all night and have not caught anything, but they had not given up and Jesus came at the right time. They obeyed him and caught a net full of good big fish, not a bad one in the net, and had a hot breakfast besides. Don't you imagine Peter was glad he went back to work? And the others were glad they went with him, too. They were not out of the will of the Lord, in fact they were doing the Lord's will because he had told them to go to Galilee and he would meet them there and that was where they were (John 6:1). Jesus is always looking for working men to do his work for him, he doesn't go to Loafers Corner for them. He wants people who are willing to work. Those disciples learned the greatest lesson that morning that had ever learned. They learned that obedience brings rich results and that the gospel net will not break, neither will it lose its catch and that there is a feast at the end of the labor and they can enjoy their own harvest along with the Lord's provisions (John 21:10), and that the lambs are to be fed before the sheep, what the sheep will be depends upon the care the lambs get. And it is none of our business what the Lord wants the other fellow to do, but we are to follow the Lord and others will follow with us. Are you doing the will of the Lord?
 It has been a pleasure to come into your homes through the printing press these 21 times. Thank you for reading the articles, so Good By and may God's Blessings be upon you.

HELPING WITH HEALTH FAIR— John Kay (left) and Ken Tittle (right), both students at Columbia University Medical School, will be coordinators of Mobile Health Fairs in eight localities this summer. Working with them will be doctors, nurses, and teams of high school and college students.

Health Fair Coming

A new kind of fair is coming to Mount Vernon. It's called the Mobile Health Fair, and is designed to bring information and health helps to area residents.

The Health Fair is scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 28, 29 and 30 beginning at 1 p.m.

A team of volunteers including a medical doctor, a registered nurse, two other adults and eight young people will be in the area during the week to assist with it. Displays, working models, banners, pamphlets, posters, movies, filmstrips, and music and other entertainment will be included.

Seminars, short courses and discussions on health concerns will be held in connection with the Fair. The Fair will offer information on communicable diseases, sanitation and personal hygiene, family planning, maternal and child health, and chronic diseases such as heart ailments, tuberculosis, and cancer.

Visiting sponsors of the Fair are the United Presbyterian Church's Board of National Missions, with assistance from the Pepsi Cola Company and Del Sol Productions, and the Westchester (N.Y.) County Tuberculosis Public Health Association, Inc. Local sponsors include Rockcastle Health Department, Grey Ladies, and civic organizations.

Plans for the Fair also have been approved by area public health officials. The American Cancer Society, the National Tuberculosis Association, and the National Heart Association are cooperating in it.

Arrangements for the Fair have been made by United Presbyterian personnel. Pepsi Cola and Del Sol will furnish a "Come Alive" display which includes a number of exciting games for visitors to enjoy while at the Fair.

Headquarters for the Fair will be at Mt. Vernon School. There will be no charge for any part of it.

Coordinators for the Mobile Health Fair will be Ken Tittle and John Kay, both graduates of Stanford University who have completed a year's study at Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City.

The Fair is one of eight being held in Arkansas, Kentucky, Georgia, and Virginia during the summer. Adults and young people working in all of them have volunteered their services, and with the aid of their local churches or other groups will pay their own expenses and donate their time to the projects.

The weather's fine every day with flameless electric air conditioning!

The ideal day is cool and dry with gentle air movement. And that's just what you get with flameless electric air conditioning. It controls temperature and reduces humidity—circulates and refreshes the air—for better eating, sleeping, and just plain living.

Another big benefit—electric air conditioning removes dust, dirt, and pollen from the air—brings real relief to sufferers from hay fever and other allergies. And with electric air conditioning, you're one step closer to total electric living.
