1967 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION

Through the 1967 Agricultural Conservation Program, administered by the Department of Agriculture, the federal government will share with Kentucky farmers the cost of carrying out approved soil building and soil and water conservation practices, including related wildlife conservation practices.

Information will be shared to the several practices for which costs will be absorbed when carried out on a particular farm, the exact specifications and rates of cost sharing for such practices.

may be obtained from the county A.S.C.S. committee for the county in which the farm is located.

One of the conservation practices established this year by the local ASCS office is "controlling noxious weeds" in order to protect soil and water resources. This practice is limited to situations where control of weeds is necessary to the protection of soil and water resources. The practice is applicable only on areas where weed control measures will be carried out on an organized basis, which will minimize reinfestation. Cost-sharing will be limited to the control of perennial weeds and biennial weeds in permanent vegetation in permanent vegetation. The State Group has designed Horticulturists on the prison farm, which produces 88 per cent of the institution's food, examine part of some 1,500 pounds of lettuce growing in three greenhouses, each recently constructed for $2,500. ated Johnson Grass and Holding Thistle (Carduus nutans) as the noxious weeds for which cost-sharing is available for control measures.

Approval of control measures on these weeds is limited to areas where local government agencies and weed control committees are actively carrying out control measures on an organized basis that will minimize the possibility of reinfestation.

Republican Primary, May 23

Friends,

I want to be your Senator from the 19th Senatorial District. I am a young man, married, and have one child. My home is in Laurel County. I have served two terms as State Representative from Laurel County. I have tried my best to do a good job as their representative and I want to help my neighbors in Rockcastle and the other counties in the 19th District as their State Senator.

I am a farmer and will work with untiring efforts for the farmers. I am an Army veteran, and a member of the Scottish Rite, 32 Degree Mason. In 1965, I was selected as one of America's Young Men by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. I am a Republican and am serving my party as Vice-Chairman of the Laurel County Young Republican's Club, and 2nd Vice-Chairman of the State Federation of Young Republicans. I am a member of the State Federation for Retarded Children and a member of the London Rotary Club.

I am presently serving on the following important committees in the state House of Representatives: Agriculture, Roads and Highways, Forestry, Banks and Banking, Penal and Reformatories.

I will work hard as always for economy in State Government, try and stop waste, and make your tax dollar worth a dollar.

Babson's Authentic Report

Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1967 warned readers that some of the greatest dangers in 1967 might develop in the foreign economic field. With the first month of the year only now gone, it is possible to get a clearer glimpse of the likely trouble spots. Foremost among these are international financial difficulties. Strangely enough, the cause of these is to be found right here at home.

LIVING BEYOND OUR MEANS

A nation, just like a person, may fall into financial hot water. The citizen who spends more than he earns may get by for a while by adding to his current income from savings. But when he has exhausted his assets, he must either borrow, or cut back on his way of living. And if he borrows while continuing his unbalanced budget, it will not be long before his credit becomes worthless. Then he has to toe the line, or go bankrupt.

men in Southeast Asia, we are forced to spend a great deal more for foreign materials... In Japan for instance, Additional defense outlays abroad for 1967 will run half a billion dollars above 1966. But with air forces around sharply cut and the attraction of EXPO 67 in Montreal, U.S. tourists should add almost as much as the war to 1967 foreign spending. We may make some net gains from exports of goods; but with imports also tilting higher, with foreign investments likely to rise, and with lower interest rates in the U.S. raising doubt as to other countries' keeping their accounts here, our deficit in international payments for 1967 may hit $3 billion or more. This would follow last year's big bulge in our foreign payments deficit of more than $1 billion.

DRAWING THE LINE

It is no wonder that our Free World neighbors are moving ever closer to drawing a line around our international financial activities. This may be the year they will do it; for the opportunity exist in two cases. First, England must repay a billion dollars to the International Monetary Fund in December. Since the U.S. is in debt to the Fund, this will not use dollars to meet her debt. She will have to use currencies of countries not in debt to the Fund. This will certainly embarrass the U.S. It will give France and her friends on the Continent a chance to "frustrate" with Washington; the Europeans will surely demand more say in running the IMF.

Second, Britain "wants in" on the Common Market. France's de Gaulle is making noises that sound like he does not want his neighbor admitted. But while the General talks about not letting England join, he is probably drawing up conditions for her admission. Among these may be a further revision of the International Monetary Fund's regulations... aimed at cutting down on both England's and the U.S.'s power to dictate Fund's policies. As figures: why should the U.S. - a debtor to the IMF - have the biggest part in world money councils?

BEST IN LONG RUN

Of course any European moves to curtail the U.S. spending spree abroad will be greeted by howls of dismay in Washington. The cry of "ingrate" will be hurled at France, Italy, Holland, etc. But in the long run - our country may be thanking the Europeans for having saved the dollar from eventual unilateral devaluation.

HAY - GIANT ON THE MOVE

A dozen years ago, the average farmer regarded hay as a side crop needed in crop rotations. But as feed costs continued to rise, more farmers perked up their ears to conservationists', college and industry reports saying hay was worth growing as a regular crop.

These farmers proved to themselves they could compete with cash crops - if given the same high level of management. They found with new hay making methods, hay gets better, feed bills come down and production increases.

Today, top farmers smash yield records for major crops like corn, tobacco and wheat, and hay yields are hitting record highs too. Some farmers are growing seven and eight tons of alfalfa-grass hay. An eight ton alfalfa yield equals 200 bushels of corn in feed nutrients. Few farmers harvest 200 bushels of corn from any acre.

Hay is a universal crop, whereas corn, wheat, tobacco, and others are grown in specific production belts. Of the total farmland about 70% goes into forage production. Forage production of hay and pasture is about twice corn acre harvested for grain. Why is such a big crop often treated as a tag-along crop? Barely one ton acre

Flower Talk
BY: RUTH FAIR
RED THE ROSE
BLUE THE VIOLET
Red roses are red; violets are blue. These words from one of the oldest and most cherished rhymes of our time have probably been spoken more often by more people than any other.

Red roses are still popular with most everyone, but in recent years other colors of roses have been coming to the top of the wanted lists. White roses, Bell-cate pink, the combination of white, red and yellow to bring forth the "creams" or whatever name you may have for it, has become a popular rose with fanciers.

Whatever rose color you prefer, you usually have it. A lovely bouquet of roses can be prepared for you in minutes at our shop just call 256-2991 for the loveliest, freshest flowers in town.

For further information, persons interested in this scholarship, should contact Dr. Jack D. Lewis, chairman of this project.

ANTIQUES...
The longer you keep them, the more they're worth.

If you bought a U.S. Savings Bond in 1941, it would now be worth more than twice the money you paid for it.

Series E Bonds, you see, have never stopped growing. And now that the interest rate on new E and H Bonds has been raised to 4.15%, your older bonds will earn proportionately more, too, for their remaining period to next maturity. So Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever. But that's only one reason why you should buy Savings Bonds. You see, while Savings Bonds are building your financial security, they're also building your country's security. Because as your money grows, it helps support our fighting men in Vietnam—and keeps our economy strong.

Buying Bonds is easy!
Simply sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This way, money is automatically set aside from your paycheck—and applied toward the purchase of a Savings Bond. And you can also buy Bonds automatically through the Bank-to-Bank Plan at your bank.

Life will go on without you.

Not all traffic fatalities are caused from drinking while driving or speeding. But too many of them are. Even if you don't have an accident, you could be arrested . . . heavily fined . . . lose your license (and maybe your job?). You know all of the arguments against speeding or drinking while driving. If you still want to do it . . . remember: life will go on without you.
