NEW DORMITORY FOR WESTERN—This is the architect's sketch of a men's dormitory to be built at Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green. Governor Edward T. Breathitt says construction will begin this spring on the nine-story air-conditioned building to house 440 students. It will contain 79,461 square feet of floor space and will include a lounge and apartments for the dormitory director and assistant director. This and another new men's dormitory are expected to be ready for occupancy at the start of the 1968-69 school year. The dormitories will become the fourth and fifth buildings under construction on the campus. Work is progressing on an administration building, a science complex and Western's second new academic-athletic building—the L. T. Smith Stadium with 16,400 seats.

MAKE HERBICIDES WORK
The use of herbicides does not in itself guarantee successful weed control. Although weather is often blamed as the cause of herbicide failure, other factors can contribute to the success or failure of a chemical. You can control some important factors.

1. Apply the right chemical. Usually a number of herbicides can usually be used with given crop. A specific herbicide is generally more effective in a given situation. Identify the weed correctly, then read the label to be sure the chemical is effective in controlling your problem weeds.
2. Apply the recommended rate. Only small amounts of herbicide are actually needed to stop weed growth. Rate recommendations have been established to insure adequate concentration of the chemical to kill the weed but not injure the crop. Be sure the dosage has been correctly formulated, then calibrate the sprayer or applicator to be sure herbicide is being applied within the rate range recommended for the soil type.
3. Strive for uniform application. Uniform distribution over the treated area is necessary for maximum effectiveness. Be sure the chemicals are properly mixed and are constantly agitated in the tank to maintain uniform concentration. Check all nozzles to be sure they are uniform in size and working properly. Check the spray pattern for uniform distribution across the band and for proper overlap. Use a marker to prevent skips between swaths. Maintain proper, uniform speed and pressure while applying. Granular materials must be dry and of uniform texture to feed uniformly.
4. Apply at the proper time. Foliar applications are most effective if made when plants are making rapid growth. Plant functions at this stage will insure better uptake and movement of the chemical—a requisite for effective kill.

Preemergent applications must be made before the crop emerges. Application after crop emergence may result in crop injury and erratic weed control. Soil sterilants require moisture to move the chemical into the roots. Applications must be made when soil moisture levels are adequate or when there is good possibility of moisture being added.

CONSUMER MUST ACT AS WELL AS COMPLAIN

When a "ten-pound" sack of potatoes weighs only nine pounds, the customer has a right to be indignant, but indignation alone will not correct the problem.

During question and answer periods following recent talks before consumer groups great interest has been shown in the mislabelling of groceries and produce. Several women said that when they asked a clerk to split a "ten-pound" bag of potatoes in half it was found the customer was short as much as eight ounces to a pound.

What had they done about it? Made certain their "half" contained full measurer.

This is not enough. The consumer has the moral responsibility to protect himself and the consuming public generally from sharp practice. Confront the manager with the evidence and report the facts to the appropriate authority, in this case the Division of Weights and Measures, Department of Agriculture, Frankfort, Kentucky.

SERVING TOURISTS

Last year in Kentucky, 74,300 persons were employed in serving and transporting travelers—about one-seventh of the total employment in the state, according to the eighth annual tourist report band were members of the church for approximately ten years, since retiring as missionaries to China and Taiwan.

Mrs. Bausum passed away September 3, 1966 and friends contributed to a memorial fund in lieu of flowers. Over $500 was given. Substantially more has been contributed since that time.

The program, which took the place of regular Sunday morning services and was broadcast over WRVK, consisted of special singing by youth choirs, including the "Euva Bausum G. A. Choir," participation by the pastor, Rev. J. Wm. Hall, and Mrs. Bausum's husband and eldest son, both ministers.

Another son had a letter to be read, and Mrs. Bausum's daughter, Mrs. B. D. Evans, with whom her husband is a missionary in Malaysia, sent an original scroll of Chinese art and a tape recorded presentation speech.

A memorial plaque and Mrs. Bausum's photograph with a biographical data card were unveiled by two G. A. officers. Open house was held during the afternoon.

UNVEILING—Miss Pam Parrott, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Henry T. Parrott, left; and Miss Belinda Hall, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Wm. Hall are shown unveiling a memorial plaque and picture of the late Euva Majors Bausum during memorial services held Sunday, Feb. 26 at the church. Rev. George Bausum, Mrs. Bausum's eldest son, is shown in the center of the photo. Rev. Bausum is pastor of Corinth Baptist Church in McQuay, Ky.

JUST IN CASE—Approximately 16 ton of supplies were stored in the Kentucky Stone Quarry on US 150 Monday. The quarry will be used as a fall-out shelter in case of nuclear attack. The supplies were shipped from the Lexington Blue Cross Army Depot and include such items as bread, film, emergency accessory kits, and medical supplies. In the top photo, from left to right, W. H. (Hobe) Griffin, Rockcastle County Civil Defense Director, W. O. Nelson, Billy Renner, the truck driver, and Frank Cromer unload the supplies. A total of 25 ton of supplies is expected. The shelter can handle 36,000 people from Rockcastle and adjoining counties and cover an underground area of approximately 5 acres.

Sam P. Jones Named To Somerset School Post

Sam P. Jones of Mt. Vernon has been named supervisor of services of the Somerset Regional Supplementary Educational Center which is being developed under Title III of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

His appointment was approved March 6 by the Somerset Board of Education. The Somerset Board serves as the board of record for the Somerset Region which is comprised of 16 school counties.

Jones served as director of a planning group last summer which conducted a study in the area to determine the educational and cultural needs. The study was financed by a planning grant from the federal agency administering Title III programs under ESEA.

The plans and the program proposal were completed by Jones' committee last August 22 and submitted to the State Department of Education and the U. S. Office of Education for evaluation.

A grant of $180,679 was approved on November 16 to finance the first year's operation of the proposed three-year project, however, it was not until December 29 that it was funded by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Office for the center have been opened on the second floor of the Alonzo Carter building on West Mt. Vernon Street and regional programs are being developed.

MT. VERNON PTA MEETS MARCH 13

The Mt. Vernon PTA held its regular monthly meeting at the school gymnasium, Monday evening, March 13.

John Allen, guest speaker, presented to the group a very inspirational devotion, carry-out the Easter theme.

Mrs. Shirley Chrisman and Mrs. Lucille Hysinger second and third grades, presented an Easter play which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The president appointed a nominating committee, who will have a slate of officers to present to the PTA at the April 10 meeting of the PTA. The March meeting was well attended and all parents and persons interested in PTA are urged to be present at the April meeting.

WILLIAM D. FORSYTHE RUIED AT BEREA

William David Forsythe, 81, of Orlando died March 4 in Richmond, Indiana.

A retired merchant and farmer, he was a member of the Disputanta Baptist Church.

He was the son of the late Jesse and Julia Ann Chastene Forsythe.

Mr. Forsythe was preceded in death by his wife, Emma. Survivors include, one daughter, Mrs. Artie Mullins of Richmond, Ind.; three sons, William L. of Columbus, Ohio, Wesley A. and Astor Forsythe both of Dayton, Ohio; two brothers, Charley Forsythe of Berea, and Ernest of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mrs. Bessie Wayman of Chicago, Illinois; 14 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted March 7 at Sparks Funeral Home Chapel with Bros. Lester Arnold, George Murphy, and George Anderson officiating.

Burial was in Berea Cemetery.

GROVER P. THOMPSON DIES IN INDIANAPOLIS

Grover Price Thompson formerly of the Level Green Community, the son of Mrs. Lucy Todd Thompson and the late Johnny Green Thompson, died recently in Indianapolis, Ind., at the age of 56.

Mr. Thompson's first wife, Essie Goff, preceded him in death in 1944. Two daughters were born to this marriage: Mrs. Genevieve McClain of Indianapolis and Mrs. Kathleen Clust of Chicago, Ill. He also survived by one son: Johnny Thompson of Route 1, Mt. Vernon by a second marriage to Sybil Mink. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Thompson was a member of the Liberty Avenue Baptist Church, Saturday, Mar. 11.

Burial was in Berea Cemetery.

Ray Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

"Clean-Up" Campaign Planned For Rockcastle

Elmer Boggs, Area Extension Agent from McCreary County, met with a group of interested citizens from Mt. Vernon Thursday, March 9 to discuss McCreary county program for the promotion of tourism and their efforts to improve their area's natural beauty with a clean-up program.

The group which met with Mr. Boggs were: H. Lee Durham, area extension agent, Miss Faith Niday, area home extension agent, Clay Colson, soil conservationist, John Bullock from the Rockcastle County ASC office, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. Jack Henderson, Mrs. Anne Bray Farris, Estill McBer, Bill Hiatt, Ed Hunt, Kenneth Stewart, and County Judge Wayne Vanhook.

Mr. Boggs, whose main area in the extension service is resource development, showed slides to the group and gave a very interesting and informative talk on the benefits which McCreary County had derived since the instigation of this program.

According to Mr. Boggs, California, Michigan, New York, and Florida list tourism as their number one income. In Kentucky, tourism is the state's number two income after agriculture.

Since McCreary County only has a 32 acre tobacco base, and since 95 per cent of the county's area is in woodland, tourism is one of the major assets which the county possesses.

The clean-up campaign in McCreary County began 3 years ago, and Mr. Boggs told the group that although the county's success could not be claimed in the endeavor, great headway had been made toward making the area a more beautiful place in which to live and visit. Among some of the attractions of the county which were developed, mainly by 4-H Clubs, were scenic overlooks, waterfalls, creeks and rivers, which were stocked with fish and camping and picnic areas developed around them, natural arches, caves, hiking trails, a timber tunnel, Devil's Jump, the first oil well ever drilled in Kentucky, a water mill dating back to 1805, and Kentucky Hills Industries, which is a non-profit association designed to market choice mountain crafts. This is the first crafts center built in the United States by 4-H Clubs.

Deer, wild turkey, and other small game have been stocked on game reservations in a cooperative venture between the U. S. Forest Service and the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife.

A canoe race is also a main feature of the county's summer recreational activities and this event, along with many other attractions has been, according to Mr. Boggs, responsible for a very marked increase in tourism in the area.

Homecoming festivities are held around the first of July and a homecoming queen is elected. Before this event, county residents are urged to make an extra effort to clean up the area and make it appear at its best to visitors.

Mr. Boggs said he felt this extra effort, along with regular maintenance of the county had been of great service to the beautification of the area.

When the clean-up campaign was begun in McCreary, a committee organized the service clubs in the county and designated their specific areas to be responsible for their maintenance.

Trucks were loaned to members of the clubs to haul off trash which had been dumped alongside roads and citizens were requested to use specific dumping places which were maintained by the city or county. These dumps were also cleaned up and maintained better.

The highway department work crews were, of course, responsible for all major roads through the county. Some of the major groups which cooperated in this county-wide campaign, besides service clubs were: the U. S. Division of Forestry, the school system, Health Department, and churches.

H. Lee Durham spoke to the group and reminded them of Rockcastle County's many assets to attract tourism, such as: Lake Linville and other scenic attractions, of which foremost among these is Great Saltpepe Cave, which is presently undergoing development, the planned recreational center, a vacation farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, and, of course, Retiro Valley itself.

Mr. Durham stressed to the group the fact that a county-wide clean-up program would enhance these assets tenfold. He then asked the group for their impressions and ideas of the plan. The group concurred wholeheartedly that the plan was an excellent idea and should be put into operation as soon as possible.

It was decided, at this point, to set up a committee to be in charge of the organization of this campaign and Mr. Durham asked persons present at the meeting to serve as the steering committee. Everyone present agreed to do so.

A meeting will be held in the near future to discuss the organization of the various clubs and groups in the county.

TARGET AREA—Elimination of unsightly scenes such as the one above on one of our major highways in the county will be one of the first goals of a planned clean-up campaign for Rockcastle. The major problem seems to be obtaining cooperation of residents of the county to take their trash to maintained dumps.

MRS. CORINNE V. DUNN DIES IN TEXAS

Mrs. Corinne Viars Dunn, 27, of Arlington, Texas formerly of Route 3, Berea in Rockcastle County passed away at Arlington Memorial Hospital, Thursday, March 9 following an illness of about two weeks.

Survivors include two daughters, Cheryl Denise Viars, age 7, and Lolita Annette Dunn, age 2; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Alexander, three sisters, Mrs. Minerva White of Eastwood, Mrs. Frances Thomas of South San Francisco California and Mrs. Dorcie Croucher of Route 3, Berea, and one brother, L. A. Alexander, Jr., also of Route 3, Berea.

Funeral services were conducted at the Liberty Avenue Baptist Church, Saturday, Mar. 11.

Burial was in Berea Cemetery.

Ray Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Babson's Authentic Report

SHORTCOMINGS OF THE DRAFT
Babson Park, Mass., March 16, This year Congress has several "hot potatoes" to handle. One of the very hottest is Selective Service. The present draft law, which is widely criticized as unfair in several of its aspects and applications—expires July 1.

IMPROVING THE SYSTEM
In a nation as large as ours probably no military draft law can be fully equitable, or be administered with complete impartiality. The present law has proved workable over a long span of years. In its essentials it is the same system that was used during World War II. However, until the past couple of years...

UMT OR COMPULSORY NATIONAL SERVICE
Gen. Clark's commission recommends continuing student deferments, but only until the youth is 24 years old or has received his bachelor's degree. However, comes first. Post-graduate students would be deferred only if they were training in professions considered essential to national security. Some people argue that the only way out of the student-deferment impasse is to institute universal military training with no exemptions. This idea makes sense and is worth serious consideration, but the nation is not yet ready to adopt it.

STUDENT DEFERMENTS

the total forest area of Kentucky is now 11.9 million acres, an increase of 358,000 acres since 1952?

girls as well as boys—would be required to register at age 18 for a two-year draft. Registrants could state a preference between military service, a hitch in the Peace Corps, or participation in other such federal programs as might be established by Congress. Chances of enactment of such a proposal this year, however, are slim.

IMPACT ON THE ECONOMY
Congress now has less than four months to decide what to do. If it can't agree by the end of June, the present draft law will have to be extended. And it would certainly be much wiser to extend than to amend it hastily or scrap it in favor of a program providing for youth registration. Meanwhile, we must live in a world sharply divided by different ideologies and by different concepts of what is right and what is wrong. Clearly we must have a strong military system, with all the manpower requirements that implies. This fact should spur us to devise a better and fairer draft whose impact on civil life and on the economy will be as constructive as possible.

HOT OR COLD...

it's always fair weather inside... thanks to your electric heat pump

Imagine controlling the weather in your home all year round with a single setting of a thermostat. But that's an electric heat pump for you — creating heat during the winter, expelling it come the hot spells. From cozy warmth to springtime freshness automatically, whatever the need may be. And with it — all the benefits of electric weather conditioning: the flameless, fumeless cleanliness — the freedom from maintenance worries — and we have a special low rate for total electric living.

Stop in soon at our local office for more information, without obligation, on electric heat pump heating and cooling — the way of today.

County Agent's Notes

By H. LEE DURHAM, Area Extension Agent, Henderson

FOUR IN CLAY COUNTY
A group of agribusinessmen met in the Fopertown area of Clay County, Monday, March 6, to see and talk with Mr. I. S. Cornett about his dairy set-up and silage feeding operation.

Mr. Cornett's 64 cows, his 2000 lb. herd average is over 1200 lbs. of milk and 450 lbs. of butterfat. Some cows in the herd average $600 above feed cost.

Some of the group visited Mr. Joe Cornett in the same area and observed his dairy operations. Joe also feeds silage to a herd of 55 cows. Joe's silage operation is unique in that he packs his silage on a 115 ft. long and 40 ft. wide concrete slab. The silage, after it is packed, is covered with black plastic, saw dust and rubber tires.

Those visiting the dairy operation were the Fopertown area were: Roy Brown, Clay Colson, Bradley Saylor, Charlie Bussell, John Laswell, Estill McBea, Albert Long, H. Lee Durham, E. J. Hasty, Billy Hasty, Eugene Hasty, Kenneth Stewart and Hewitt Jones.

APPALACHIAN CHURCH LEADERS INVITED TO ENROLL IN SPECIAL SCHOOL AT WVU
An Appalachian regional school

for church leaders, sponsored by the West Virginia University Appalachian Center in cooperation with interfaith denominations in religious education, will be held on the WVU campus, Morgantown, May 15-26.

Church leaders, clergy and lay leaders in the Appalachian Region are invited, says Dr. Ernest J. Neasius, vice president for the WVU Appalachian Center and director of the W. Va. Cooperative Extension Service.

The theme is "Communication and Community in Appalachia". Neasius said the school will give training in skills, understanding, and knowledge useful in the ministry in Appalachia. Emphasis will be on social and economic development.

There will be sessions on Appalachian culture, dynamics, and community development, and communications, including theory and its practical application. Cultural programs, field trips, and first-hand reports of church, local, state and federal programs and projects in Appalachia will be given.

A 16-member Regional Committee, set the program. Calen S. Myers, state chairman of community resource development in the Appalachian Center, is chairman. Dr. Roman J. Verhaalen, dean of Extension Services and Associate director of the WVU Cooperative Extension Service, is special consultant.

Neasius explained that the school is to help church leaders by effective programs through church and educational resources.

BOOKS FOR KENTUCKIANS are sorted by Mrs. Georgia Thacker, an employee at the Kentucky Department of Libraries, Frankfort. More than 100 books a day are mailed from the State Library under a statewide Inter-library Loan Program conducted by the department. This service is available to 19 regional libraries, county libraries and to persons who live in counties without library service—only 10 of the 120. Mrs. Lucy Chapman, head of the department's reference section, said the agency is handling about 2,000 requests for books a month—almost double the amount a year ago.

No limitations are on number attending from any denomination. Reservations are being handled by WVU Conference Coordinator Robert B. Cooney. Further information may be obtained from his office at 371 Oakland Street, Morgantown, W. Va. 26505. Telephone number is 304-293-3207.

GOVERNOR'S OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH CONFERENCE
Theme of the third Kentucky Governor's Occupational Health conference is "Management of the Role in Occupational Health and Safety." The conference is April 6 at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington.

The conference starts at 8:45 a.m. and continues through 3:30 p.m. Governor Edward G. Breathitt makes the opening talk, says Garland Bastin, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service Agricultural Programs Chairman.

Leading specialists will be at the conference. There will be panel discussions in the afternoon on mental health and absenteeism. Main address will be Guy G. S. Poppitt, New York, chairman of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Tom Smith, associated Industries of Kentucky, conference chair

Add Excitement to Winter Meals

When harsh winds and grey skies make you think of "getting away from it all," a menu planning change of pace can warm winter-weary spirits in a hurry.

Consider a meal planned around this EASY JAMBALAYA—a seasoned mixture of delicately flavored shrimp, savory ham, and fluffy rice. You can fix it in a skillet in very little time.

Begin by browning the ham cubes, then pour in the full, rich flavor of condensed beef broth. Mix in luscious shrimp, rice, and the zest of green pepper, tomatoes, and onion. Finish with a light seasoning of garlic and thyme.

To complete the meal, try a crackling crisp green salad made pleasant with your favorite dressing. Add use your most interesting serving pieces to make it a festive occasion!

EASY JAMBALAYA

- 1 cup cubed cooked ham
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 1/2 cups rice - rinsed
- 1 pound shrimp, peeled and de-veined
- 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, cut up
- 1 cup rice
- 2 cups green pepper strips
- 2 cups sliced chopped onion
- 2 medium cans garlic minced
- 1 large bay leaf
- 1/2 cup green thyme - crushed

In skillet, brown ham in oil, pour off fat. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes or until rice is tender and all liquid is absorbed. Stir now and then. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ITINERANT REPAIR CREWS REPAIR DISASTER HARVEST

When disaster strikes an area most citizens open their hearts and purses to bring relief. Most, but not all.

In the past, itinerant repair crews have moved into these areas and underbid local contractors. They sometimes resort to cash inducements or kick backs. Their work frequently is slipshod and inferior. Usually they produce and aggravate which, when signed by the customer, they discount to a financial institution.

By the time the defective workmanship and substandard material are discovered, the repair crew has moved on and the victims have no recourse.

You pay for what you get but do you get what you pay for? Give the local man a chance.

HIGH PRESSURE SALES
WARNINGS DESCRIBED

A consent order issued by the Federal Trade Commission prohibiting a company from using deceptive sales methods in merchandising its wares consisting of household appliances, books, tools and other items contains the following consumer warnings:

Does the company represent it is conducting a survey and that your name will be entered in a drawing or contest to be held in connection with it?

Were you informed you had won a prize and must make an appointment with a company representative to receive it?

Are you eligible then for the grand prize to be drawn later?

To receive the prize are you required to spend any money or enter any contract?

If you purchase one item are other items awarded at no extra cost?

If the answers are "yes" most likely you are in the hands of a high pressure operator. Back off. Consult the Consumer Protection Division.

Sauce Franks-in-a-Blanket With Mushroom Gravy

When your teenage sports enthusiasts come in out of the cold clamoring for "something to eat," serve tasty franks-in-a-blanket. It's a new twist to an old favorite!

Quick and easy, you start with biscuit mix. Roll out a rectangle of dough. Fork the edges, cover with peek-a-boo windows and bake.

What gives extra zing to this burger special is a generous saucing with canned mushroom gravy spiced with onion, ketchup, and dill pickle. Thus, the traditional appetizer are spooned on in one delicious swoop. As nibble food, include celery, carrot strips and olives. Don't forget the hot chocolate!

P.S. Keep a supply of canned gravy-beef, chicken, ziti as well as mushroom-ham, so you can whip up hot sandwiches in short order.

FRANKS-IN-A-BLANKET

2 cups hot beef
2 cups hot onion
2 cups milk
1 cup butter
1 can hot onion mushrooms
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups tomato ketchup
2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle

Combine beef, milk and onion in 2 rectangles (12 x 8" each). Place one rectangle on cookie sheet. Arrange franks further across length. Top with other rectangle. Bake at 350 F. for 15 minutes or until done. Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook onion in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Mix. Serve with frank-furters. Makes 4 servings.

COMMUNITY CLUB NOTES
The Buffalo Community Club held its regular meeting, Monday evening, Mar. 13, at the home of Ma Graves.

Attendance at the meeting was excellent.

One of the major items discussed at the meeting was the possibility of getting a class in parliamentary procedure began.

Sand Springs Community

Club, Inc., will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, March 20, at Sand Springs Baptist Church.

Gary Bickle, of Morehead, will be guest speaker. He will speak on co-ops and their possibilities in our rural sections.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting especially those living in the area of road 1249.

Gum Springs Community Club met Tuesday evening, March 7, at the home of Wm.

McClure. A record attendance of 52 persons were present.

Various subjects were discussed all of them pertaining to ways and means of improving our community. A motion was made and carried to look into the possibility of starting a class in parliamentary procedure. All three classed communities on 1249 were represented and want to take part in these classes.

Everyone is welcome to attend these classes when they begin.

FASHION NEWS FOR PEOPLE

A new fashion magazine "for real life people" the '67's, who aren't models, size 6-18 year olds or jetsetters, and for the 10% who are has been released by the McCall Corporation.

The premier edition of McCall's "Fashioners" available on newsstands, features fashions which you can purchase in your community now.

Fashioners publisher Herbert Bjar, says, "Our new magazine will put an end to the talk that fashion magazines are being edited only for other fashion editors and photographers. The magazine is edited for the consumer."

The majority of the clothes are in the middle market price brackets of $20-60. Sizes range from juniors through half sizes.
