

TOUR THE CAPITOL—The Livingston High School Seniors have returned from their senior trip. While away they visited such sights as Natural Bridge State Park, Luray Caverns in Luray, Va., and Washington, D.C., where they spent three nights. The group left May 1 and returned May 6.

AREA SCHOOL BIDS DUE SOON—Bids will be opened in early June for construction of the new Lafayette Area Vocational-Technical School on the south side of the Leestown Pike (U. S. 421) next to the U. S. Veterans Hospital near Lexington, according to Governor Edward T. Breathitt. Part of a $21.5 million statewide building program in vocational education, the new school, shown in this architect's sketch, will take care of training needs in Fayette and other Central Kentucky counties. Completion of the structure, consisting of two wings and a circular central section, is expected in the early fall of 1968.

Library Notes

The following new books have been received by the local library, according to Mrs. Phillip Davis, Librarian.

AGE OF EXPLORATION, by John Hale.

Today, when the world is on the brink of the exploration of space, we have new reasons for wishing to understand the motives, the means and the achievements of the old discoverers.

THE ARTS IN AMERICA, the Colonial Period.

This book, written by experts and illustrated with greatest care, is designed to present an intelligent view of our country's early craftsmen.

SEARCH AND DESTROY, by Irvin Blacker.

A race against time, the tension, the political intrigue of the Pentagon, and the authentic background make this novel an exciting drama of the unreported war in Vietnam.

SKILL FACT LIBRARY

Six small paperbacks: the fun of ham radio, Amateur photography for the beginner, Care and repair of your large home appliances, Care and repair of your outboard motor, Know about electronic organs, and Know about antiques.

TWO IN THE BUSH, by Gerald Durrell.

A book of adventure with birds and animals, recording the events of a 45,000 mile trip to New Zealand, Australia and Malaya made by the author and his wife and a BBC camera crew of two.

WHITE FLAG, by Jack London.

Another "large type" edition for those with sight difficulty.

NEW BOOKS FOR CHILDREN HAVE JUST BEEN RECEIVED FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARIES, FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY.

AWAY TO MEXICO, by Albert J. Nevins.

This is an excellent introduction to the story and history of Mexico and the Mexican People. Especially recommended, not only for those planning a visit to Mexico, but for all who would like to learn about this country.

SUMI'S SPECIAL HAPPENING, by Yoshiko Uchida.

Sumi tries to find a birthday present suitable for one who is to be ninety-nine. The mayor advises her to think of a "happening." The happening that Sumi thinks up not only makes the old man's heart sing but delights the entire village.

WATER FIT TO USE, by Carl Carlson.

Man must have good water for many uses. As populations grow all over the world, it is harder and harder to find enough water is "good" while some must be treated if it is used. They emphasize the deplorable condition of America's waterways, and examines the necessary but expensive job of reclaiming them.

YOUNG PAUL REVERE'S BOSTON, by Sam Epstein.

In 1770 Boston was one of the world's busiest seaports. Wherever 12 year old Paul looks something is happening. Young people will find a deeper understanding and more lasting appreciation of history and geography as they see life in the past through the eyes of those who lived it.

VOTE FOR

Clarence Carter
for
Tax Commissioner
OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY
Republican Primary May 23

DEAR FELLOW CITIZENS:

I take this one last opportunity before the primary election to speak to you concerning my candidacy for Tax Commissioner.

Each of you know that I am and always have been a Republican and that I am qualified for this office. If I had not been qualified, I would not have asked for this position. You have already tried me as a county official and found me capable.

As you know, I am married and have three children. Naturally, I have the desire to do whatever I can to improve our county in any way for future generations as well as the present one. By telling you this, you can see that I stand for honesty and fairness for one and all and that each of you will be treated with respect at all times. For that is the way I would want my family treated.

Any tax is a burden for each of us to bear. None of us really enjoys paying our taxes, but it is our duty as citizens and we have to do the best we can. Without taxes, we would have no schools, roads or many other needed conveniences. In this way we can see that taxes are necessary.

In 1965, the Court of Appeals ruled that property had to be assessed at 100% value. As a result of this ruling and the short time the commissioners had to revise their tax rolls, some property was listed too high and some too low. But the land owners and the commissioners can work together to get the land assessed equally so that each man will pay taxes according to what he owns and not who he is. I will take every opportunity to work with each of you to accomplish this task that has been set before us by the Court.

I am asking YOU to go to the polls on May 23rd, and select me as your Republican Nominee for Tax Commissioner. I need YOUR VOTE to win.

YOUR FRIEND,

CLARENCE CARTER.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION PUSHED—Governor Edward T. Breathitt has announced that bids will be opened before mid-summer for construction of this classroom addition to the state's Northern Kentucky Vocational School at Covington. The new three-story brick building, as pictured in the architect's drawing, will have a one-story connection to an existing administration and classroom building. Breathitt said allocations of 1965 bond issue money matched by Federal funds will pay for this addition and additions at six other existing vocational schools in Kentucky.

Lamb and Green Bean Skillet an Economical Change of Pace Meal

In these days of rising food costs, it's heartening to know that there are many ways to put delicious, tempting meals on the table without straining the food dollar. The wise homemaker knows the trick of varying her menus with less costly cuts of meat, prepared and seasoned in a tasty fashion.
Here's a deliciously satisfying yet budget-conscious meal centered around a skillet of shoulder lamb chops and French-style green beans. Simmered in rich, flavorful condensed consommé plus soy sauce, garlic and mace, the chops take on a savory new goodness that takes them out of the ordinary.
You'll find canned condensed soups a real flavor bonus for all your cooking. Being double rich, double thick, and expertly seasoned, they're great short cuts to tastier meals.
Serve the lamb skillet with fluffy rice and a crisp tossed salad. For dessert, delight all with purfils of pudding.

- LAMB 'N GREEN BEAN SKILLET
- 1 1/2 shoulder lamb chops (about 2 pounds)
  - 2 tablespoons shortening
  - 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
  - 1/2 cup water
  - 2 tablespoons soy sauce
  - 1 large clove garlic, minced
  - Generous dash mace
  - 3/4 cup sliced onion
  - 2 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 1 cup cooked French-style green beans
- Cooked rice

Trim excess fat from chops. In skillet, brown chops in shortening; pour off fat. Stir in consommé, 1/4 cup water, soy, garlic, mace, and onion. Cover; cook over low heat 25 minutes. Mix remaining water and cornstarch until smooth; gradually blend into sauce, stirring constantly until thickened. Add beans. Heat; stir now and then. Serve with rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Final I-75 "Grade And Drain" Bids For County To Be Let

Bids for grade and drain on Interstate 75 at the construction of dual bridges across Rockcastle River in Laurel and Rockcastle Counties will be received by the Highway Department on June 2, Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Highway Commissioner Mitchel W. Tinder announced today. The project will begin 1.2 miles southeast of the Rockcastle River in Laurel County and extend to 0.7 mile northwest of the river in Rockcastle County, a distance of 1.931 mile.

This is the last bid for grade and drain work in Rockcastle to be let. The release of federal highway funds frozen last November has allowed Kentucky highway building to about equal last year's pace, Commissioner Tinder said Tuesday.

More than $20 million worth of bids will be opened June 2, Tinder said, which will make a total of more than $88 million in highway work begun since Jan. 1. He added this is about the same as the value of contracts let during the same period in 1966.

Tinder said the unfreezing of funds allowed the department to take up "part of the construction lag caused by that curtailment." Meanwhile the Highway Department approved the $9,315 bid from the Universal Structural Painting Corp., Joliet, Ill. for cleaning and painting the bridge over Rockcastle River on the London-Somerses Road.

Physical examination call for June is zero.

PROPERTY IN QUESTION--The above house and lot, located in Livingston, was recently purchased, from Cliff Pike of Mt. Vernon, by the Rockcastle County Board of Education for use by the Livingston School. A "Motion To Intervene", naming the Rockcastle County Board of Education as Plaintiff and Cliff Pike, et al as defendant, has been filed in Rockcastle County Court by Murphy Martin, Jr., of Livingston. A hearing has been set for Monday morning, May 22 in the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court Room.

"Motion To Intervene" Filed In County Court By Martin

Murphy Martin, Jr., of Livingston has filed, in Rockcastle County Court, a "Motion To Intervene" in the condemnation suit filed by the Rockcastle County School Board Against Cliff Pike, et al. The School Board filed suit in order to obtain a house and lot, located at Livingston across from the Livingston School, to be used for school purposes.

The motion, filed by Mr. Martin, seeks in part "the resolution of the board of Education of Rockcastle County is insufficient to form a basis for this suit (condemnation) in that it does not set forth the necessary prerequisites to give the court jurisdiction as set out in the Kentucky revised Statutes. The commissioners report is void because the commissioners were not sworn by the Court before entering upon their duties and before filing their report. The court is asked to dismiss the complaint because there is no proper resolution of the Rockcastle County Board of Education as required by Statutes and to set aside the report of the commissioners herein because they were not properly sworn."

At the March meeting, the school board voted to purchase this property from Mr. Pike at the commissioners assessment of

SELECTIVE SERVICE TEST CANCELLED

Mrs. Della M. Seals, clerk of Selective Service Board No. 85, has been notified by Col. Taylor L. Davidson, State Director, USAF, that plans for conducting a Selective Service Qualification Test for high school seniors and college students this fall has been cancelled by General Hershey. The Director states this decision was based upon the uncertain future relating to college students. "High school seniors and other students, who had planned to take the test this fall, and who may be concerned over the effects the action might have on their classification status, should be reminded the test has never been mandatory," Col. Davidson said.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Thirteen directors were present for the Farm Bureau meeting Monday night. Visitors were: Henry Brown, Harold DeMarcus, J. W. Griffith, William K. Bullen, Robert Cromer and Lloyd Cain. During the business meeting, the board voted to put an additional $2,000 in savings and also decided that Stephen Bullen and Lloyd Cain would be in charge of building the Farm Bureau float for June Dairy Day. Bradley Saylor was selected to be in charge of planning the Farm Bureau Fish Fry to be held after July 1. After the business session, Henry Brown, Area Field Service Director, was asked to be in charge of the program. "Meet The Candidate." Mr. Brown informed the candidates present of the different issues and Farm Bureau's position on these issues.

Mr. Brown passed out questionnaires to be answered by the candidates giving their position on these issues. A breakdown of the various assessments follows: Total Real Estate, $26,588,685; Total Tangible Personal Property, $4,877,763; Total Livestock Personal Property (Livestock, Farm Machinery, etc.), $1,420,665; Stocks, Bonds, and other intangibles, $1,306,344; Annuities, $22,900; and Bank Shares, $471,553. The biggest part of the increase is in the Tangible Personal Property Assessment which is $678,028 more than in 1966. A breakdown of the 1966 assessment shows: Total Real Estate $26,132,080; Total Tangible Personal Property, $4,199,735; Total Livestock Personal Property (Livestock, Farm Machinery, etc.), $1,477,000; Stocks, Bonds, and other intangibles, $1,348,766; Annuities, $20,973; and Bank Shares, $454,000 for a total assessment last year of $33,620,654. ## Head Start Program For Rockcastle In Doubt

The Rockcastle County School Board voted to not delegate the operation authority to any other agency to administer the Head Start program as recommended by Sam Alexander. Mr. Alexander is Ass't Superintendent of Public Instruction for the Kentucky State Department of Education.

The motion was made by Bradley Saylor, seconded by Mrs. Yaslii Mullins, and passed unanimously. The decision came after the board was notified by the Council of the Southern Mountains, (a government agency with local offices in Berea, which is now authorized by the federal government to let funds for the Head Start Programs in an 8 County area) that under a new federal regulation, participating school systems must set up an Advisory Committee with members from the local community. One-half of the committee would be composed of parents of this year's Head Start pupils and one-half from parents of previous Head Starters and interested persons in the community.

The main purpose of this Advisory Committee would be to recommend to the Superintendent qualified non-professionals to work for the Head Start program. This is where the issue centers. Under a Kentucky Statute, the Superintendent has the final say in the hiring if all school personnel. However, Louis Jones, Executive Director of the Council of the Southern Mountains stated, when contacted by the Signal, that "This ruling by the Federal Government does not infringe on the right of the Superintendent to hire school personnel since the Superintendent would still have the right of veto over persons suggested by the Advisory Committee. The ruling only requires that the non-professionals hired be selected from the recommendations made by the committee."

According to Mr. Jones, the committee, once this initial phase of the Head Start Program was completed, would not interfere in any way with the operation of the program, except possibly for voluntary services. "The main idea behind this requirement is to get the parents involved in order to make this a family process. We believe that this involving of the parents and other citizens is good because we think the schools should be responsive to the community," Mr. Jones said.

"This condition which OEO put on the loan binds us (the Council) as much as it does anyone else. We would need to be assured that there was an attempt to carry out this requirement," Mr. Jones further stated. Mrs. Neureul Miracle, Superintendent of the Rockcastle County School System, stated that the State Department of Education has taken the position that "it is illegal to operate a Head Start Program under the present conditions." Dr. Harry M. Sparks, Superintendent of the Department of Education said he had talked with an official of the OEO Department in Washington who had informed (Dr. Sparks) and Malcolm McCulloch, director of the Head Start Program for the Kentucky Department of Education that the local agencies were interpreting the regulation incorrectly and that they would be informed of this immediately.

"This requirement, even with the Superintendent's right of veto, would put the Superintendent in a negative position (that of technically firing those not hired from the recommendations and we do not feel this is right," Dr. Sparks stated. A news release received by the Signal, from the Kentucky Department of Education in Frankfort, reports that fifty head start programs have already been approved for Kentucky constituting a flow of $1,355,773 into the state for 5,000 pre-schoolers. The amount of federal support last year for Head Start projects was $4,900,000 (Rockcastle's share was $65,979 of which the local school system put up $6,886. 27 volunteers, 21 paid professionals, and 40 resident staffers conducted the 18 classes (275 children). "This," said Malcolm McCulloch, covered 108 summer programs in county systems, 49 independent projects, and 14 full-year head start programs."

To date, approval of 49 summer programs have been received by the Department of Education rating in grants from $3,296 to $248,826. Head Start classes were scheduled to begin about June 15. The school board will meet again June 5 and the matter is expected to be discussed again, especially if the school boards are authorized to operate as before.

Babson's Authentic Report

WHAT PRICE FOREIGN AID?
 Babson Park Mass., May 18: The American people, through their federal government, have spent $123.4 billion for foreign aid during the last 20 years, or 37% of our present public debt. There is no doubt whatever regarding the quantity and wide dispersal of this aid, but there is at least room for doubt as to its effectiveness.

UNCLEAR OBJECTIVES
 Not realizing how very many of his dollars go abroad, the American taxpayer is not overly concerned. And if he were inclined to protest he would only be bewildered because there really is no foreign aid program as such...but a vast array of programs of varying scope and objective, a number of which seem to be at cross-purposes with others.

Gravely speaking, most foreign aid programs are "worthy" at least in their intent, but it is almost impossible to tell which have been motivated by our desire to gain trade, allies, or influence. Being unclear even to ourselves, our objectives are no less a mystery and cause for concern in many parts of the world where we are spreading largess so bountifully.

STRESS ON DEFENSE AND INDUSTRIALIZATION
 Fact is that much of our foreign aid has been a sheer waste of money, goods and effort — sometimes because of poor planning and follow-through, often because of failure to assess local conditions and customs properly. Even that aid which has been well and prudently allocated has not always brought us closer to desired goals. It is appalling that nearly one-third of what we have spent to help other nations has gone to finance foreign armies and military establishments. This in turn has hardened already hostile attitudes between neighboring countries and has encouraged them to spend their own limited resources in war or defense to the neglect of cultural and economic betterment. We might well ask ourselves if we are spending taxpayers' money wisely — or supporting the cause of peace — by helping to pay for the armies of Greece and Turkey, of Saudi Arabia and Egypt, of India and Pakistan.

Unfortunately also, we have placed too much stress on industrialization of the developing countries and not nearly enough on food production. Our aid to India is a classic example: After some 20 years of such aid at tremendous cost to American taxpayers, the Indian economy is worse off than before and has achieved no more than token betterment in farm output.

SACRED COW
 Of course, in India we are dealing with a culture that places a human being lower than a cow. In our own country, foreign aid has become a sort of sacred cow, too. Efforts to hold the line, much less cut back, on these programs are loudly deplored and roundly attacked as being ignoble and stupid. We are continually being sold on the idea that we must increase our spending for foreign aid, no matter what the cost.

Yet all our vast commitments of taxpayers' money abroad have not brought us the type of success and respect attained — with little expense and fanfare — by the small Nationalist Chinese Government on Formosa as a result of the work of its agricultural demonstration teams in selected African and Latin American nations.

FOOD OUTPUT AND SELF-HELP

The Chinese teams concentrated on improving food output and on stirring the African and Latin American people to help themselves. Then they withdrew. The results were impressive, in some instances spectacular. Nationalist Chinese foreign aid does not patronize, cripple, or paralyze; the recipients learn for themselves to rely on their own resources. There is a real lesson here for U.S. foreign aid planners — and for American taxpayers as well. Will we heed it, — or will we go right on confusing quantity with quality?

- I am against sales tax on food, medicine and clothing.
- I am against this unconstitutional sales tax. Buy a new car, pay sales tax on it, drive it a few months and trade it for a new one. I buy the car you traded in, and pay another sales tax on that same car. I call that an unconstitutional sales tax.
- I am for better and more schools and will work hard to get them.
- I think that the county school superintendents should be voted in by the people every 4 years.
- I will work hard to see that all school teachers retire at the age of 65, so that our young people can teach without having to leave the state to do so.
- I am for free text books and lunches through high school, because we pay enough school tax to do so.
- I am for working the Kentucky State prisoners on our highways; and the county prisoners on county roads.
- I am for all highway workers being paid time and a half for all over 40 hours; and that the workers driving trucks, would not have to buy their own insurance on that truck. It's the states duty to have insurance on their equipment.
- I am for you older people who are drawing welfare, getting more money, at least $100.00 a month, we know you can't live on $40.00
- I'd work hard to see that our Kentucky Service men have free tax on their property and their auto, as long as they are in service. They should be honored and respected by all, we at home owe them that much.
- I am for doing more for the disabled American veteran. I am one myself and do know the need of those with families.

NEW REGULATION FOR MILK PRICING

A new regulation more clearly designating pricing procedures has been adopted by the Kentucky Milk Marketing and Antimonopoly Commission and will become effective June 1. Paul Simon, executive secretary of the Commission, said the new measure will remove much of the confusion involved with pricing methods used by many firms in the past.

Simon said the regulation defines the two methods of pricing milk - "drop shipment" and "full store service." All delivery prices charged for milk, cottage cheese, or frozen dairy products must be either designated as "drop shipment" or "full store service."

According to Simon, "drop shipment" prices are to be delivered either within or without the store, and frozen dairy products are to be delivered either within or without the store. "Full store service" prices are to be net, which contain at least the following conditions of sale: (a) The product to be dropped at the store door or delivered to the wholesaler, other than pre-determined sale trade other than mined place in the store, other than the deliveries. The new display case, and regulation also allows handled by the store a price differential personnel thereafter, between the two types. The delivery personnel of delivery up to three shall not arrange the percent without a cost product for display or justification. product. (b) The sale must be final, with no returns on the product. The product must be either accepted or rejected at the time of delivery, with no privilege of return after acceptance, excepting only for product quality deficiency existing at the time of delivery and acceptance. (c) The empty cases and return bottles are to be assembled at one designated location either within or without the store. (d) All dairy products are to be net, which contain at least the following conditions of sale: (a) The product to be dropped at the store door or delivered to the wholesaler, other than pre-determined sale trade other than mined place in the store, other than the deliveries. The delivery personnel of delivery up to three shall not arrange the percent without a cost product for display or justification. A difference to individually markential in price for the retail price on the volume purchases is individual units of the not permitted.

As under the previous regulation, all prices must be filed with the Commission's office in the Kentucky Department of Agriculture 10 days prior to the delivery time of the products. WAR ON MEASLES

Dr. Russell E. Teague, State health commissioner, warned that child-aid projects such as Head Start could be delayed by an outbreak of the disease. Teague estimated that about 100,000 Kentucky youngsters are now immune.

The Kentucky Department of Health estimates that 140,000 children in the state have not been immunized against measles.

"About 40,000 inoculations were given last year," Teague said, "and a similar number this year." Teague pointed out that if two-thirds of Kentucky's children could obtain shots, the combination of artificial immunity with the natural immunity of many children could achieve success in wiping out measles.

to time and place, the law puts limits on the content of speech. One such limit is on speech that is defamatory. Without this limit, your neighbor could spread vile rumors about you—with no basis at all except malice.

Another limit is on speech that is obscene. Without this limit, a kindergarten teacher, if so inclined, could read hardcore pornography to her pupils.

Another limit is on speech that is seditious. Without this limit, a speaker could incite a mob to open and violent revolution.

Yet, even in these special areas, the limits on freedom of speech are flexible. Thus: Defamatory statements may be held lawful if honestly made on a matter of legitimate concern to the speaker.

Gross vulgarity may be held lawful if it has "redemning social importance." And "wrathful political dissent may be held lawful if it poses no 'clear and present danger' of serious evil consequences.

In short, the law says we must have limits on freedom of speech—but we must keep those limits to a minimum. Limits are the exception. Freedom is the rule.

NEW ASST. Time was when the popular image of the Boy Scout was limited to a kid, in slightly short pants, identifying wild flowers or skulking about with bird watcher's manual and binoculars in hand. The outdoors and nature are still a big part of Scouting, but today's Scout defies caricature, thanks to a program that ranges the full gamut of a boy's interests and skills.

As the Boy Scouts of America prepare to celebrate their 77th anniversary, no less than 109 careers and hobbies are offered to Scouts through merit badge programs, in addition to career-oriented Explorer Posts and Operation Free Enterprise.

In thousands of Special Interest Posts across the country, high school boys "explore" business and industry under the guidance of experts. Boys in a post studying aircraft manufacturing would, as an example, gain experience in principals of aircraft design, materials and methods used in aircraft manufacture and requirements for specific jobs.

In Operation Free Enterprise, on the other hand, boys meet business leaders in their offices and plants. Through observation and discussion they learn the fundamentals of operating a business including facts about capital investment. Since over 1200 companies and many professional organizations in this program, boys have ample opportunity to observe free enterprise in actual practice.

Today's members also point proudly to the fact that 46 of the 54 astronauts earned Scout badges before they earned their space wings. Says astronaut Edward White, "I think that Scouting teaches us to learn to be independent, to rely on ourselves, and to solve our problems in the best ways as they come up to us."

White's words are echoed by Scouting's 1967 theme being launched during Boy Scout Week. "Scouting rounds a guy out." A series of events to be held throughout the nation during Boy Scout Week will emphasize the fact that Scouting makes a boy bigger than he was before, stronger, more self-reliant, better with people, better with himself, helps him be as big as he can be, challenges him to be more than he thought he could be--how far he can go is a lot farther than he thought.

The Scout is not an idle one. The Boy Scouts of America, now nearly six million strong, have come a long way -- stretching overnight hikes to space walks.

County Agents Notes

BY: H. LEE DURHAM AREA EXTENSION AGENT

Poison ivy, the scourge of farmer and city dweller alike, is (unfortunately) plentiful in Kentucky. But something can be done about the plant pest. Three materials are available that will kill poison ivy (if applied at the proper time) or control it where it is not such a hazard. 1. Get the suspected plant positively identified by someone who know that it is poison ivy. The pest looks like some other harmless vines.

2. Decide on the treatment you'll use. They are: AMMATE: This material is applied as a foliage spray. Use at the rate of three quarts to one pound dissolved in one gallon of water. Wet leaves and stems thoroughly. You can add a small quantity of a household detergent to get full coverage if you like. AMINO TRIAZOLE: This is sometimes sold under the name Amizol. Apply as a spray to the vine or creepers at the rate of 1 pound of 50 percent wettable powder in 25 gallons of water (3 tablespoons in one gallon of water). Double this rate if the poison ivy shrub is very large.

BRUSH KILLERS: Containing 2,4-D and combinations of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. These are sold under various trade names and use-rates on labels should be followed. Incidentally, these sprays are harmful to tomatoes, tobacco, grapes and ornamentals; do not let material drift onto these crops when spraying poison ivy.

Extension Service Leaflet 207, "Controlling Poison Ivy," is available in the Area Extension Office. DYING TOBACCO TRANSPLANTS MAY BE FROM PYTHIUM SOFT ROT, U.K. SAYS.

If some newly transplanted tobacco plants die after setting out this year, pythium soft rot may be the cause.

That's the word from Dr. J. H. Smiley, U. K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist. Pythium soft rot is from a fungus which can be quite destructive in some years, up to 30 percent of the transplants. Buried leaves and stems of scattered plants in the fields have a watery, soft rot. Attacks usually cease after plants are established at two weeks' age.

CONTROL: resetting of damaged plants can be done, unless number of infected plants in the field is high. If plants are 15 to 20 percent or higher, it may be best to disk the field and re-set. Set new plants between the old rows to avoid infected spots.

There is no specific material (fungicide) to control the disease. But some practices will be helpful. They are:

Avoid over-seeding plant beds; use only two teaspoons of seed per 100 square yards to get strong, stocky plants. Avoid fertilizer injury by using only 30 to 40 pounds per 100 square yards of bed.

Play cover crop and manures under four to six weeks before setting-out. Remove the plant bed cover about a week before plants are to be pulled.

Soak the plant bed with water the day before pulling. Use 300 to 500 gallons of water per 100 square yards of bed. Check transplanters to avoid mechanical injury to plants in setting-out process.

WITH RABIES, IT'S BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY

Rabies is never curable. It always leads to a horrible death. If you investigate a "Ruckus" in the henhouse and find a fox, skunk or raccoon or an unknown dog, it'll pay you to be extremely careful. The natural thing is for that animal to sink away when you come on the scene. But if he has rabies, he may stay and act friendly or he may want to fight. Just one little bite and it may destroy you or one of your family or some of your livestock. Never try to frighten away these animals by coming in close contact with them. Many people are bitten by rabid animals and, as a result, have to take anti-rabies treatments, all because they tried to frighten a wild animal or unknown dog off the porch or out of a chicken house or barn. You just can't afford to take a chance.

CRAYFISH ELIMINATION SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED
Here's how to get rid of crayfish-called crawfish or crabs in Kentucky when it becomes evident there are too many around: Pur about 10 drops of carbon bisulphide liquid into each crayfish hole; then seal the hole by pressing the heel over the opening, or plugging it with a piece of sod.

A good applicator is an oil can, the spout of which has been partially closed to make the carbon bisulphide come out in drops. A gallon of the mixture thereby will be sufficient for about 5,000 crayfish holes. Kermit Mills, Kentucky Extension Service Agricultural engineer, warns that the liquid is highly inflammable and should be kept away from any type flame or heat source. It evaporates quickly, so the can should be kept tightly closed. Its fumes also are dangerous to humans, he noted. In fact the fumes are what kill the crayfish when applied as noted above.

USDA OFFICIALS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Freeman M. Hockensmith, Chairman, Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, today announced a farm policy meeting to be held May 26, 1967. The meeting will be held at the Phoenix, Hotel, Lexington, Kentucky, at 1:30 P.M. EST. It will be conducted by a representative of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The meeting is being scheduled as requested by the Secretary in order to learn the current and highly thinking of county, area, and State leaders of farm organizations and of individual farmers. Reports will be made to the Secretary on the comments and recommendations of those in attendance.

Secretary Freeman recently held three such "Shirtsleeves" meetings, with farmers in major midwest states. He returned to Washington convinced that such face-to-face talks are worthwhile in reaching important policy and program decisions.

"Along with the statistics I get from our economists," he has said, "I constantly need in order to learn the current and highly personalized and highly specific information that comes out of peoples' experience. I also need the best ideas I can get from farmers and their leaders as to how to improve farm prices and income."

Chairman Hockensmith points out that the Secretary has been increasingly concerned about the level of farm prices and the cost-price squeeze on farmers, a squeeze that has become progressively more severe in recent months. He is determined to do everything possible to relieve this situation, and believes that the wisdom and the counsel of State and area farm leaders -- gained in frank and informal personal discussions -- can help the Administration to make the right decisions during this critical period.

The Chairman said that special invitations to attend the State meeting have been sent to farm leaders, and that area farmers also are invited to attend. Farmers will be encouraged to participate freely. Time will be devoted to answering questions from the floor from anyone desiring to ask them.

The oldest phonograph record is in the BHC library; a record by Emil Berliner of himself reciting the Lord's Prayer, made in 1844.

Lard, cornstarch and rice powder were ineffective, unsanitary remedies. Today, new antibacterial products such as Desitin powder, oil and lotion take the guess work out of baby care. Each is medicated to kill harmful rash-causing germs and protect skin.

HARVESTING QUALITY HAY

Growing a good hay crop doesn't necessarily assure high quality forage. The way hay is harvested and stored determines how well the quality of the standing crop is preserved. The value of hay as a livestock feed depends to a large extent on: (1) preventing as much leaf loss as possible; (2) holding weather damage to a minimum; and (3) cutting as early as practical for proper storage. Hay needed to produce 40 pounds of milk per day per cow looks like this; early cut (high palatability) 65% TDN, 30 pounds consumed, 3.5 pounds of grain needed; late cut (low palatability) 50% TDN, 25 pounds consumed, 13.5 pounds of grain needed. Forage yields in terms of dry weight increases up to mid or late bloom, but maximum feeding value is reached by early bloom, about 10 days earlier than top yields. Beyond early bloom digestibility of forage decreases 5% per day. Also livestock will eat less—about 1/3% for each day beyond early bloom is reached. In total, feeding value is reduced about 1% for each day cutting is delayed beyond early bloom. Ground moisture tends to slow up drying of early-cut, conditioned hay compared with later in the season. Nevertheless conditioning early-cut hay can permit putting up field-cured hay one half to one day earlier. Eliminating an extra night of exposure can be important with greater weather hazards early in the season. Good management must accompany early hay cutting. In order to maintain grass-legume combinations, a supply of phosphate and potash must be maintained in the soil and most time require annual applications. A soil test will guide anyone as to the amounts needed.

THEY DIDN'T GET AWAY -- but possibly wish they had, it all began when Deputy Sheriff Billy Kirby, in a playful mood, slapped his handcuffs on Gilham McLemore, left, and Charley Kirk, right. Then, Kirby decided to let them go and inserted the key in the lock but, alas, the key broke off in the lock and the handcuffs had to be beaten off the two men. Oh, well, these things happen, I guess.

Pedestrians who have the right of way can be hurt just as severely as those who enter or cross a street illegally. Alertness on the part of both the driver and the pedestrian, and obedience to the law by each, can reduce the number of pedestrian accidents.

A PROVEN WINNER For Kentucky Republicans

ELECT MARLOW W. COOK GOVERNOR

A WINNER—Marlow Cook has defeated the Democrats in all former races he has run — the state legislature in 1957 and 1959, County Judge in 1961 by a record 20,000 majority; reelected County Judge in 1965 by a whopping 55,000 majority.

A PARTY BUILDER—Marlow Cook has worked for the Republican Party in Kentucky since he completed Navy duty in 1946. In 1962 he helped get Senator Morton a 24,000 Jefferson County majority. In 1963 he helped the gubernatorial candidate lead the Republican ticket in Jefferson County with over 94,000 votes, and helped him get nearly 34,000 Democratic scratches. In 1964 Judge Cook campaigned all over Kentucky for the entire Republican ticket. In 1966 he made over 40 speeches throughout Kentucky for Senator Cooper and for Congressman Carter, Cowger and Snyder. In 1966 Judge Cook was the only Republican leader campaigning statewide against the Breathitt Constitution. He has headed registration drives in Jefferson County, where nearly 100,000 Republicans are now registered — a 307 increase in just 5 years!

A MONEY-SAVING ADMINISTRATOR—As County Judge, Cook has stretched taxpayers dollars by saving them $300,000 annually by investing non-current tax funds. He consolidated water districts to save water users $1,750,000 the first year. He combined City and County Commissions to save money. He developed a central fire alarm system that saved taxpayers $800,000 in insurance rates.

A SUPPORTER OF EDUCATION—As a legislator, Judge Cook voted for safer school buses, for increasing appropriations including free text books, for revenue bonds for schools, for federal aid for state schools, and for increased teacher retirement funds. As County Judge he supported use of County funds to expand schools to end double sessions.

With your support, Marlow Cook can lead the Republican Party to victory in Kentucky in 1967 — for the first time in 24 years.
