

BREAKING GROUND ON KY 52—A huge shovel awaits action at ground-breaking ceremonies for a new 3.1 mile strip of Ky. 52 between Richmond and Irvine. Governor Edward T. Breathitt declared during the ceremonies that "Kentucky has now shorn the unglamorous tag of detour state and is among the giants in highway construction." Breathitt said that last year more than $194 million worth of highway work was placed under contract in Kentucky.

IN RE: W.W. KINDRICK, FRANCHISEE.
Motion made by Preston Parrett, seconded by Bobby Proctor, that the City Council accept the sale of the gas franchise this day auctioned by the City Clerk and Special Commissioner. Motion carried.

IN RE: "REPORT OF SALE OF FRANCHISE"
The undersigned, "E. H. Robbins, Clerk of the City Council of Brodhead, Kentucky, heretofore appointed by said Council on May 1, 1967, as Special Commissioner to sell a gas franchise for said city, does hereby report that, pursuant to the authority of an ordinance introduced at the aforesaid regular meeting of said Council, he did advertise the time, terms and place of said franchise by the posting of notices for at least ten (10) days next before June 30, 1967, and by publication in three (3) issues of the Mount Vernon Signal next before June 30, 1967, and that he did, between the hours of 1:00 P.M. and 2:00 P.M., on June 30, 1967, at the front door of the City Hall in Brodhead, Kentucky, offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand or certified check plus all cost, including advertising cost, the franchise as defined in said ordinance, subject, however, to confirmation and ratification by the City Council of the City of Brodhead.

The undersigned Commissioner reports that at said sale W.W. Kindrick was the best bidder, his bid being $200,000 and all cost, including advertising cost, all of which have been paid, the total amount being $220,000, made up of his bid of $200,000, Clerk's cost, $15,00, and advertising cost, $11,000. W.W. Kindrick's bid being the best bid, said franchise was by the undersigned declared sold to him, subject, however, to confirmation and ratification by the aforesaid City Council.

Given under my hand, this 3 day of July, 1967.
E. H. Robbins
City Clerk and Special Commissioner
Clarence E. Bradley,
Mayor, City Council
City of Brodhead, Kentucky

BOONE* NEVER SLEEPS
THE LEGEND OF DANIEL BOONE is now providing 24 hours a day, 7 days a week reservation service. The box office for the exciting outdoor drama in Harrodsburg is open from 11 A.M. to 11 P.M., but new telephone answering equipment has recently been installed to provide continuous reservation service for the convenience of tourists and residents of different time zones. Several reservations have already been made in the first few days use of the answering service. Reaction to the record-

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Power of Precedent
On March 18, 1963, the felony conviction of one Clarence Gideon was thrown out by the United States Supreme Court. Remember his trial, Gideon had not been represented by a lawyer.

The consequences were astonishing. Hundreds of prisoners, already convicted of everything from murder to robbery to arson, promptly filed appeals and won their freedom. Probably none of them had ever heard of Clarence Gideon before his courtroom triumph. But the rule that covered his case covered theirs too.

Of course, court decisions do not usually lead to such dramatic results. Yet, their influence on our everyday life is well-nigh incalculable.

The display on today's newsstand reflects yesterday's obsolescence. The label on today's medicine reflects yesterday's warranty decision. The cost of today's vacation reflects yesterday's tax decision.

The key to this pervasive influence is the power of precedent. In law, precedent is the means by which the problems of the present are measured against the experience of the past.

Suppose a court has to decide if you were negligent in the way you handled your car on a wet pavement, or the way you swung your club, or the way you filled out a check.

The court will examine precedents—what prior court decisions—for guidance. The more closely an earlier case resembles yours, the more likely that it will persuade the court to reach the same conclusion. Precedents are not to be followed blindly. But neither are they to be lightly disregarded. As a matter of plain justice, people in equal circumstances should get equal treatment.

Furthermore, precedents lend shape and predictability to our entire legal system. Countless disputes between individuals are settled without a lawsuit simply because the precedents make clear, in advance, which side would win.

So, in a very real sense, we each have a direct personal stake in what happens to "two other guys" in the courtroom. We want them treated fairly not only for their own sake but also for ours, because—by establishing of precedent—they are establishing standards of right and wrong for us all.

of message varies, many times being very amusing. If you want to leave a message for Daniel Boone, chat for a while, send electronic smoke signals to the Indians, or whatever, please do so. Just be sure to leave your name and phone number so that your reservations can be confirmed. The number to call is 608 724-2346. Plan now to see this thrilling true story of the settlement of the Kentucky frontier by our pioneer heroes, Daniel Boone, James Harrod, George Rogers Clark and others. THE LEGEND OF DANIEL BOONE shows each night except Mondays through September 3 at 8:30 P.M., EST. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 each for children under 16. Reservations can also be made by writing Daniel Boone, P. O. Box 65, Harrodsburg, Kentucky 40330.

CORPSMEN COVER ABANDONED WELLS—Two participants in a Neighborhood Youth Corps program, sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources forestry division, remove the encasement boards from a new permanent cement cover for an old, abandoned well in Pennyrite State Forest. Donald Matheny (left), 17, Dawson Springs, and Gary Holland, 17, Crofton, are among a group of 50 Corpsmen working in Western Kentucky under the program. The boys have located and covered 20 old wells, hazardous remnants of the area's pre-State forest days when the land was publicly owned.

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY

Shelby E. Smith, 25 Killed In Auto Accident

Rockcastle County numbered its third traffic fatality of the year Monday when Shelby Eugene Smith, 25, of Route 2, Mt. Vernon, was killed instantly in a car-truck accident on US 25 in the cut just south of Mt. Vernon.

Smith, heading south apparently pulled out to pass, lost control of his vehicle, and hit a truck.

The Smith automobile then overturned throwing him out and fighting itself. He was the son of Shelby and Lillian McClure Smith, a member of the Chestnut Ridge Church of Christ.

Smith was attending the Chestnut Ridge Church of Christ. A native of Rockcastle County, he was a 1961 graduate of Livingston High School and a basketball player.

Bonnie Kirby of Mt. Vernon. Funeral services were held Wednesday at Sparks Funeral Home with Bro. Tom Murphy officiating. Burial was in the Smith Family Cemetery.

In another accident, early Monday morning, a freak collision occurred at the spur leading onto US 25 just south of Mt. Vernon between two cars and a truck.

According to State Police reports at London, Virgil Ray Campbell, 44, of Corbin, driver of a tractor-trailer truck, swerved to miss an unidentified vehicle, which pulled in front of him.

Ray Campbell, 44, of Corbin, driver of a tractor-trailer truck, swerved to miss an unidentified vehicle, which pulled in front of him.

THIRD FATALITY-- The above '64 2-door Dodge was the car in which Shelby Eugene Smith was killed about noon Monday on US 25 just south of Mt. Vernon. Smith became Rockcastle's third traffic fatality of the year.

FREAK ACCIDENT-- The Friddle family of Tennessee, occupants of the above 1965 Chevrolet, came through unhurt except for minor cuts and bruises, when it was involved in a three-vehicle smash-up about 4 a.m. Monday morning at the spur on US 25.

Infant Suffocates In Bed

Anthony Glen Himes, 8-month-old son of Roscoe and Mildred Powell Himes of Richmond, Ind., died of apparent suffocation Tuesday at the home of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Powell of Johnetta.

Graveside services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Johnetta Cemetery with Bro. Ted Allen officiating. Sparks Funeral Home was in charge of all arrangements.

According to Rockcastle County Coroner, Bill Dowell, the child, who had been sleeping on a large bed, apparently woke and crawled to the foot of the bed and became wedged between the end of the mattress and the bedstead. The child's parents were not at home at the time of the accident and Mrs. Powell, who had been watching the child, had stepped out into the yard for a few moments while the child slept.

Beneath his parents and maternal grandparents, the infant is survived by a sister, Carolyn, at home, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Marie McCracken of Johnetta.

Brodhead Water Situation Termed 'Possible Hazard'

The Town of Brodhead was recently notified by the State Department of Health that the town's present water system "remains a possible hazard to the health of the people of Brodhead and others using this water."

The water situation in Brodhead was brought to a head recently when it became necessary for residents of the town to boil all water. This necessity was caused by the water supply becoming contaminated due to the breakdown of the chlorinator used to purify the water.

The breakdown was soon repaired and the residents were able to discontinue boiling water.

However, in a letter to Mayor Everett Bradley from Nick G. Johnson, Director, Sanitary Engineering Program, Division of Environmental Health, Mr. Johnson told Mayor Bradley that "it is imperative that recommendations made by Herman D. Reagan, Jr., Assistant Director of the Department, be carried out as soon as possible."

These recommendations, listed on a memorandum prepared by Mr. Reagan following his investigation of the Brodhead water supply, stated that (1) the water supply was providing inadequate treatment and (2) facilities are not available for 30 minute contact time for chlorine purifying water entering the distribution system.

Kentucky State Department of Health regulations require complete treatment which includes, rapid mix, flocculation, sedimentation and gravity filtration, followed by chlorination. Brodhead's source of water supply is a spring and the only treatment provided is chlorination.

Following the breakdown of the chlorinator, the State Department of Health issued a "soil water" test. A recurrence of this situation could prove extremely serious, Mr. Johnson warned in his letter.

The State Department has suggested that one solution to Brodhead's water problem might be to purchase water from the City of Mt. Vernon.

However, since this would be a costly undertaking, Brodhead would be unable to finance it without a grant some kind.

The Brodhead Town Board submitted an application in 1964 to the Economic Development Administration in Washington for a grant to build a lake, water plant, and new sewer system for the town. When, after some time, approval was not received on this application, the Town Board decided to submit an application for a grant to construct a new sewer system, and to connect necessary lines in order to purchase water from the City of Mt. Vernon.

This application was turned down in April of 1967 when the Town Board was informed by EDA that since only limited funds were available for public works projects it would not be possible to provide the funds needed for the project.

According to Mayor Bradley, application has not been made to any other federal agency for the needed funds. He stated that the Town Board had been advised by Jack Crawford of Crawford and Crawford Engineers in Reelfoot Valley, engineers for the project.

Following the breakdown of the chlorinator, the State Department of Health issued a "soil water" test. A recurrence of this situation could prove extremely serious, Mr. Johnson warned in his letter.

Injured

Phillip Argenbright, 21, of Livingston, suffered a head injury Monday, when a tire which he was filling with air partially blew off the rim, striking him in the head, and then hitting an overhead door, breaking a glass in the door and knocking it off its track.

The accident occurred at the White Star Truck Stop on US 25 about 7 miles south of Mt. Vernon where young Argenbright is employed.

He was treated at Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital and taken from there to Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington and admitted to the Intensive Care Ward for observation. He was released Wednesday.

New Day For Social Security Rep.

Mt. Vernon Honors First Vietnam Victim

Friday, June 30, was Bobby W. Price Day in Mt. Vernon, proclaimed by Mayor Clyde Linnville, in honor of Mt. Vernon's first serviceman killed in the Vietnam war.

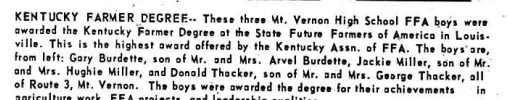

Business houses closed from 1 to 3 p.m. during Pfc. Price's funeral.

Flags were put out all along Main Street with black crepe hanging from the top of each flag post. The post office flag flew at half mast.

June 19 during combat in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

He had written a letter to his sweetheart, Linda Holland, which she received June 23, that he would never see another day. On June 22, Miss Holland had learned that he had been killed the 19th.

Eight Soldiers from Fort Knox carried the flag-draped casket from the funeral home to the First Baptist Church across the street where Rev. J. William Hall, pastor of the church, conducted the funeral services.

KENTUCKY FARMER DEGREE-- These three Mt. Vernon High School FFA boys were awarded the Kentucky Farmer Degree at the State Future Farmers of America in Louisville. COCKROACH CONTROL
 The cockroach is one household pest that bothers people all year and every effort should be made to control it. Cockroaches are not only a nuisance, but they contaminate food and make it unattractive for human consumption.
 The following species (kinds) of cockroaches are common household pests in Kentucky:
 1. American cockroach - The adult measures 1 1/2 to 2 inches in length and has long reddish-brown wings.
 2. Oriental Cockroach - (Black beetle), (Shad roach) The Oriental cockroach measures 3/4 to 1 1/4 inches when grown and is black or dark brown in color.
 3. German Cockroach - (Crown bug, or water bug) This species is about 1/2 to 5/8 inches in length and is light brown with two black stripes running lengthwise on the back. This species is often difficult to control; it has developed resistance to some common insecticides.
 4. Brown-banded Cockroach - (Tropical roach) This cockroach is similar to the German Roach in size and color except that it has two light yellow bands extending across the body near the base of the wings instead of black stripes running lengthwise on the back.
 Prevention and sanitation are the most important methods of cockroach control, and often a thorough housecleaning is more important than an insecticide treatment. However, it may be necessary to use insecticides in order to rid a home or building of these pests.
 If an insecticide has previously been used in an effort to control these pests some of them may have become resistant and a different material must be used. Insecticide dealers should bear this fact in mind when advising their customers about what insecticide to use for cockroaches.
 The insecticide formulations listed below may be used to control cockroaches:
 A. For non-resistant cockroaches:
 1. Dieldrin - slow acting, more toxic than some others but has about two months residual effect.
 2. Chlorthane - About the same effect as dieldrin.
 3. DDT - Effective on the American cockroach, fairly safe to use and has long residual effect.
 4. Lindane - Fairly safe to use, kills rapidly but has residual effect for only about two weeks.
 B. For resistant and non-resistant cockroaches:
 1. Malathion - safe to use, but has residual effect for only about two weeks.
 2. Diazinon - More toxic than malathion but has residual effect for two to three months.
 3. Dicrothol - highly effective, has residual effect for two or three months, but stains badly.

Parish on the Newtown Pike. The second is Friday, July 14 at the Princeton Experiment Station in Caldwell county.
 Sponsor of the meetings is the University of Kentucky Ag. Experiment Station animal sciences department.
 The days include tours of research facilities at both places, explanation of many research projects, and talk after lunch. Speaker is Dr. A. L. Neumann, head of the animal science department at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces.
 Dr. Neumann will speak on "Can We Produce Enough?" He is a native of Oklahoma, received his bachelor and master of science degrees from the Oklahoma State University and his doctor's degree in animal nutrition from the University of Illinois. He has been a vocational agriculture teacher, a county agent, and has taught and conducted research in animal science for more than 20 years. He has had overseas assignments for the U.S. Department of Agriculture in England, Italy and Ecuador.
 CAUTION URGED IN WARM WEATHER AEROSOL 2,4-D, 5-T USE
 Summer is here now, is full swing with hot, sometimes humid weather.
 These are good periods to stop spraying the famous weed killers 2,4-D, or 2,4,5-T, says Dr. James Herron, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service weed control specialist, around home farms.
 "When temperatures get to the high 80's and 90's this time of year," he says, "these two materials tend to vaporize. If these vapors drift on to desirable ornamentals around home lawns, damage may occur."
 It is better to wait until cooler weather for application of 2,4-D or 2,4,5-T to some lawns, Dr. Herron noted.

INFORMATION AND SERVICE CENTERS on Kentucky's principal highways are shown on this map. The Information Centers are manned by experienced travel specialists of the Kentucky Department of Public Information, ready to give tourist information to visitors. The Service Centers feature filling stations, restaurants, and—in one case—a motel. In addition to these, travelers may obtain help at district offices of the Department of Highways and at Kentucky State Police posts.

KENTUCKY'S quest for industry is expected to get a big boost with the completion by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers of seven multiple-purpose dams and reservoirs under construction in the state. The seven—Grayson, Cave Run, Fishtrap, Carr Fork, Booneville, Laurel River and Green River—will cost an estimated $204.2 million. When completed, they will double the number of Corps multi-purpose reservoirs in the state.

NEW DEAF SCHOOL BUILDING—Governor Edward T. Breathitt has announced a contract will be awarded to C. Standifer, Lexington, on his low bid of $419,334 for construction of a food service building at the Kentucky School for the Deaf, Danville. The new building, shown here in an architect's drawing, will be located on the campus near four dormitories, which Breathitt dedicated May 26 along with a vocational education building. The basement of the new building will contain refrigerating and storage areas. The dining area will be on the first floor, with accommodations for 350. Breathitt said plans call for completion in the spring of 1968.

BROKE LEG FALLS

The near-70-foot plunge of Broke Leg Falls is located in a roadside park on U. S. 460, ten miles east of Frenchburg. The park offers restrooms and picnic tables, and includes a parking area and a stairway leading to the foot of the falls, one of two found in the park. The scenic stop-off is in Kentucky's Land of Natural Bridges—a region with more than two-dozen natural rock bridge formations.

SAFEGUARD YOUR SUMMER CLOTHES AGAINST MOTH AND MILDEW DAMAGE

As the first cold wave embraces us it is a signal for the efficient homemaker to deposit summer garments in moth-proof storage. But unless you make the proper safeguards your well intentioned efforts are likely to be in vain. Actually, winter damage to summer clothing and upholstery is a major contributor to the nearly $1 billion nationwide annual loss incurred by moth and mildew destruction.

The housewife can insure safe storage by taking the following steps: (1) be sure to utilize dependable easy-to-use, preventive moth storage space as air tight as possible and (2) replace the original preventive whangener necessary.

Consumer studies show that preventives containing naphthalene are particularly effective. Generally known as moth balls or moth cakes, they emit a vapor that efficiently kills moth larvae. They also protect clothing and other stored articles from mildew attack.

For best results against mildew or moth damage, store your lay-away clothes in closets, chests and drawers that will not have to be opened during their storage period. Also, be sure clothes are clean when they are stored.

It is particularly important to remember that ill-lighted and poorly ventilated places such as cellars, clothes closets, storage bins, etc. are conducive to the formation of mildew.

Wrap clothing such as summer suits, summer dresses and bathing suits in individual packages that are tightly sealed with plenty of mothballs or moth flakes. It is advisable to label the garments for quick identification so as to make it easy to locate when the summer season approaches.

By taking precautions, you can be sure your clothing and other goods will remain free of moth damage and still be ready whenever necessary.

Flower Talk

By RUTH FAIN

FLOWERS IN RELIGION

Flowers were used in religious festivals and celebrations in all parts of the world long before they were used to decorate the home.

The first uses of flowers in religious ceremonies, naturally included the rites of life and death. So no one knows for how many centuries and generations man has expressed his sympathy with a floral offering at the passing of a friend or a loved one. It is a lovely gesture.

We give your floral offering very special and tender care at those times. Ph. 255.2091

Giant Stabile

The largest work ever created by the world-famous American sculptor Alexander Calder stands at the site of EXPO 67, the 1967 World Exhibition in Montreal. The stable sculpture, sponsored by The International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited, is made of some 46 tons of stainless steel.

A newly developed stainless steel paint is applied to transmission towers, smokestacks, water tanks and bridges to protect them from corrosion.

"Freedom must be at all times defended, because it is at all times besieged. Not all of us are called to fight on the battlefield. Many of us must, quietly and firmly, do what we can and all that we must, here at home. Buying Bonds, regularly, is as important to this nation in the long reach of history as almost anything we can do."

When you buy U.S. Savings Bonds regularly through Payroll Savings where you work or Bond-a-Month where you bank—you are also entitled to purchase new Freedom Shares. Freedom Shares are short-term Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds (4 1/2% when held to maturity in 4 1/2 years), may be bought one at a time or in four denominations, and are redeemable after one year. You will find complete information where you work or bank.
