Used CCC Grain Bins Available For Sale In Co.

Shellee Mullins, Chairman of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced today that used CCC Grain bins will be available for sale to farmers in Rockcastle County. These bins will be shipped into Kentucky from other states for resale.

Due to anticipated heavy yields of corn and soybeans, prices of these crops are uncertain at the present time. Also, storage space may be difficult to obtain in many areas causing the prices of these grains to decrease. Early marketing of crops at harvest time when markets are overstocked usually results in lower prices and less income. The National Crop Survey as of August 1, 1967, forecasts a corn production of 4.7 billion bushels. This is 13 percent above the 1966 production and 24 percent above the 1961-1965 average. Other grain production (wheat, soybeans, and PURCHASED.—The above 70 x 175 foot lot was purchased at public auction recently by the Mt. Vernon Water Works Department. Purchase price, for the choice business site, was $4,500. Edd Winstead, city councilman, bid the lot in for the city and also purchased the custom built trailer beauty shop for $3,700. The Water Department had previously, in 1960, purchased a poor portion of this same lot. At a special called meeting of the council last Wednesday night, Mayor Clyde Linville stressed the importance of the city council purchasing the property. He told the council that with the coming expansion of the water department, upon completion of the lake, the lot would be useful and needed for storage for water works supplies.

Citizens Donate Money For City Parking Lot

The amount collected, from individual and business donations, for the clean-up and construction of the Mt. Vernon City Municipal Parking Lot, is now $803.00. G.H. (Hobe) Griffin, is in charge of collecting the funds.

At present, the lot has been graded, gravelled, rolled down and is ready for blacktopping to be poured. A concrete fence, 2 feet high, has been erected along the L & N Railroad.

This was one of the provisions made by L & N, who rented the property to the city for their use for a yearly fee of $25. The first year's rent was donated by several individuals at a meeting at which the city council voted to accept the lease agreement. L & N also specified in the lease that there would be no charge made by the city for use of the parking lot.

All work done on the lot has been paid for out of the donations and the city has not, as yet, had to use any city funds for the lot.

It is felt that this lot, located so conveniently for Mt. Vernon businesses will be a tremendous asset to the economy of Mt. Vernon and will also enhance this section of town to a great degree.

AREA EXTENSION AGENT
FEEDER CALF SALE

The Richmond Feeder Calf Sale will be held Tuesday October 3, 7:00 p.m. at the Madison Sales Company Stockyards.

Calves will not need to be vaccinated on the farm. They will be vaccinated at the stockyards upon arrival. Only blackleg and malignant edema vaccine will be used. This will result in savings to the Association and more convenience to the farmer. Therefore, the selling charges will be reduced 25 cents per head.

All calves must be farm inspected by a representative of the Association to assure quality standards set forth by the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association. If you want to consign calves to this sale notify one of the following as soon as possible: Roy G. Brown, Frank Martin, W.J. Randolph, or H. Lee Durham.

FEMALE CALVES' MINIMUM VACCINATION AGE FOR BRUCELLOSIS IS LOWERED. USDA SAYS

Minimum age for vaccinating heifer calves against brucellosis has been lowered from four to three months.

The official amending announcement was made on June 20 this year, the U.K. Cooperative Extension Service notes.

The amended regulation defines an official vaccine as a female bovine animal vaccinated against brucellosis at the age of three through eight months. If the heifer calf is of a beef-bred in a range or semi-range area, it may be vaccinated at three through eleven months of age. The vaccine must be approved by the Animal Health Division and administered under the supervision of a federal or state veterinary official.

Recent research reveals that resistance induced in heifer calves vaccinated at three months age with Strain 19 is equivalent to that of heifers vaccinated at an older age. Also calves treated at three months of age are less likely to carry over a suspicious or positive vaccination reaction that can confuse the brucellosis test.

ALLEVIATE MANGANESE TOXICITY BY LIMING TOBACCO LAND IN FALL

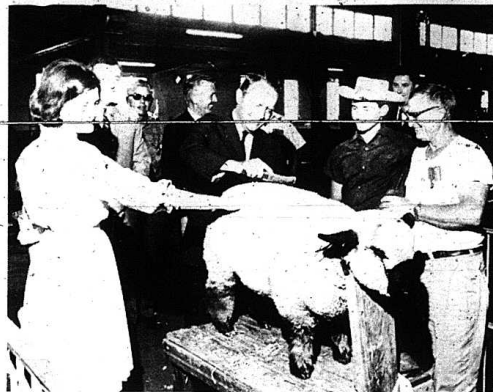

Lime tobacco land this fall, to alleviate the problem known as manganese toxicity. "Tobacco grown on acid soils often has this manganese toxicity problem," says George D. Corder, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service soils specialist. The disease is marked by large yellow blotches between the leaf veins, with narrow dark green areas alongside the midrib and veins.

Reducing soil acidity is the best way to prevent or alleviate manganese toxicity. A finely ground limestone should be applied as soon as the tobacco is harvested, and disked in before the cover crop is seeded. A soil test is needed to determine the amount of lime needed.

Applying limestone in the fall gives the material a chance to dissolve in the soil over the winter.

There is no need to cover the seed of this latter mixture.

LOOKING FOR A CAREER OPPORTUNITY?

Then look into Eastern Kentucky University's Secretarial Science and Data Processing Programs

If you're a high school graduate looking for an opportunity to prepare yourself for a professional career in less time than it would take to complete a college baccalaureate degree, this may interest you.

Eastern Kentucky University's College of Business takes a practical approach. It offers both one-year certificate and two-year executive programs in Secretarial Science.

Or, if you're interested in the exciting field of data processing, a fine two-year program awaits you at EKU.

Both two-year programs lead to the Associate of Arts degree, and course credits earned in all three programs may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree in Business Education or Office Administration, should you later decide to pursue a bachelor's degree.

And to accommodate the adult who cannot enroll as a full-time student, many of the courses are scheduled on weekday evenings or Saturday morning.

You are invited to inquire about any of these terminal programs, about the many four-year degree, certificate, or about the new Master of Business Administration degree program to be offered this fall at Eastern.

Babson's Authentic Report

HIGHER INCOME TAXES

Chairman Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee is now working day and night on President Johnson's proposed 10% surtax. Mr. Mills is a man of great intelligence, boundless energy, and is a skilled parliamentarian. Prodding here delving there, he probes witness after witness, to satisfy his own mind and the minds of his Committee members. You can be sure there will be no tax jump unless Chairman Mills is convinced it is in the best interests of the United States.

SMOKE OF BATTLE

Back in July we told you in this column that the great tax battle would soon begin. Then there was growing belief that both the President and the Congress were going to pass up a new tax. But Mr. Johnson was just waiting until his economic advisers told him that a business upturn was reasonably well assured. When they did, he fired off his 10% tax-hike message forthwith.

Just as the long lull in any tax action prior to August led many to think that there might be no Presidential insistence on higher levies, ... so the din and smoke of battle in the Ways and Means Committee obscures the final outcome of the big tax set-to. Listening to the sharp questioning directed at top Presidential witnesses one might conclude that the Administration is losing, that Congress would vote no tax. But the opposite may well be the case.

HORSE TRADING AND THE PATIENT'S HEALTH

Two major points are at issue: (1) Is the federal budget deficit going to be big enough to require raising additional revenue? (2) Is the national economy strong enough to stand a tax boost without being thrown into a tailspin?

In grandpa's day, horse trading was a recognized art. The first rule for success was: He who names his last price first is lost! There is a lot of the horse trader in all politicians. That is why we feel that the President's first-named budget of $29 billion may not be his last. But even if he comes down to $24 or $25 billion, an awful lot more tax revenue will be needed. We doubt if he or the Congress can slice it thinner. And, as for the health of the business patient, our staff is convinced that the worst of the 1966-67 business slowdown is now over. The country should be able to take the surtax in stride.

INFLATION IN THE ALTERNATIVE

What, you ask, would happen if no surtax were voted? With hardly a shadow of doubt, your Uncle Sam would go on spending, ... for war, for foreign aid, for farm support for veterans, for anti-poverty, for slum clearance, etc. And, without new taxes, he would have to cover all the deficit by issuing additional bonds of U.S. bonds. These would have to be sold to either (a) investors and investing institutions; or (b) commercial banks.

With business picking up and selling bonds to raise funds, there is little room for heavy competition from U.S. bonds. So probably Uncle Sam would have to meet his deficit by selling his bonds to the commercial banks. History has proved this to be highly inflationary. Hence, if we fail to tax ourselves in this year of going war and welfare costs, we will surely run the risk of becoming swamped by surging prices. Better the yoke of a bigger tax and now than the danger of being bogged permanently in an inflationary morass.

SOFTENING THE BLOW

We are betting that Mr. Mills also finally will come to the conclusion that a tax increase is better than a spiraling inflation. Of course, he and the Administration may do a little horse trading too, ... cut the personal levy to 8% let the corporations pay 10%? The October date is touch and go. January 1, 1968 seems more certain. One thing looks sure: You will pay more taxes in 1968 than in 1967. ... What can you do to soften the blow? Not much if you are on regular pay but businessmen and professionals can get relief by postponing expenses to next year and moving all income possible forward to this year. Plan in advance. Consult your accountant now, before the year-end rush.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Shrapnel" From Tires

Speeding along a gravel road, a motorist drove over a little pile of loose stones. One of the stones squirted sideways, crashed through the windshield of an oncoming car, and injured the other driver.

After litigation, the first motorist was held liable for the mishap. The court said that, in view of his speed and the condition of the road, he should have foreseen the likelihood of hurling "shrapnel" from his tires. ... This case illustrates an important principle: a motorist must be alert not only to the general danger of collisions but also to the special dangers that arise from the speed, weight, and make-up of the car. Here is how legal liability resulted when a car became:

1) A Booby Trap—A man left his old jalopy, with gasoline still in the tank, on a vacant lot where children often played. One day a boy clashed two rocks together near the opening of the tank, causing a spark that set off an explosion. For the resulting injury to the boy, the car owner had to pay damages. 2) A Battering Ram—A man bucked his automobile on a stone, pulling his brakes only half tight.

In his absence the car began rolling downhill, and finally cogged through the plate glass window of a store. Here too the motorist was held responsible.

3) A Bone Crusher—Picking up a neighbor's small son, a motorist slammed the door shut without warning—and the child, suffering painful injuries. Again, liability for the motorist. As one judge warned, in determining the rights of the pedestrian:

"His right-of-way is not to be measured in fractions of an inch nor tested by split seconds. He is entitled not to just as much space as his body, clothes and buttons require, but also as much as will afford him a safe passage. The pedestrian's heart, as well as his body, should be free from attack."

In short, today's automobile can play many roles in inflicting harm. The car owner bears a responsibility that is not only heavy but diversified as well. It is the law's way of facing up to the less pleasant realities of the automobile age.

EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY Offers You Career Opportunities

in LAW ENFORCEMENT

In an effort to combat America's great social dangers of crime in the streets and death on the highways, Eastern Kentucky University's School of Law Enforcement offers comprehensive educational training programs for police personnel throughout Kentucky. Eastern is the only university in Kentucky which provides baccalaureate and associate degree programs in law enforcement.

The University has received seven grants and contracts supported by federal funds totaling over $100,000 since the program was established a year ago.

Enrollment in both programs is still open and you are invited to inquire about the career opportunities in these vitally important fields.

Law Enforcement specialization is offered in:

- GENERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT
- JUVENILE TRAINING CORRECTION
- INDUSTRIAL SECURITY

Two-year curriculum leads to Associate of Arts Degree; Four-year programs, to Baccalaureate Degree.

Fall semester registration begins September 13. Police officers and others who cannot attend full-time are encouraged to register for courses on a part-time basis. Application for admission is requested immediately.
