Home Owner Vs. Airplane

In the early days of commercial aviation, a home owner went to court with a startling demand.

"This airline is flying its planes directly over my land," he said.

"Yet, according to law, an owner of land also owns the earth below and the space above—all the way up to heaven. Therefore, these planes are trespassing in my private airspace. I demand an injunction to have them stopped."

The home owner did have a point. The "up to heaven" theory had, in fact, been an accepted rule of law for centuries. Under it, home owners had won injunctions against everything from overhanging branches to intruding telephone wires.

Nevertheless, the court held it would be absurd to apply this ancient doctrine to modern aviation. As one judge put it:

"Every transcontinental flight would subject the operator to countless trespass suits. Common sense revolts at the idea."

But tougher issues lay ahead. What about those home owners who lived close to airports? They complained not just of a technical trespass, high in the air, but of the roar and vibration of aircraft passing right overhead.

A harassed chicken farmer became the symbol of their plight. In a case fought all the way to the Supreme Court, he charged that his terrified chickens were dashing themselves to death against the walls of their coop.

"My farm," he said, "has been ruined for raising chickens."

This time, the farmer won compensation. The court said that, even though planes had a right to fly through his airspace, he was entitled to be paid for that portion of his property value that had been "taken" from him.

Ever since the chicken farmer's victory, the law has been gradually harmonizing the traditional rights of private property with the emerging necessities of the air age. It has refused to let private rights arbitrarily block progress; it has also refused to let the price of progress fall unfairly on individual property owners.

The advent of jets has intensified the problem. The advent of supersonic jets will intensify it still more. But the law's basic guidelines are already visible.

And understandably so.

"If the mind of man invents a flying machine," observed one court, "it ought to be able to devise a law which is adequate to deal with the problems flowing from such inventions."

"BRANDING" Cont from front page whether the brand is permanent or not, though we believe it is; we haven't been working with the freeze technique long enough to really find out. We think that destruction of the pigment cells will result in a lack of pigment in all succeeding hair growth. He and Vaughan found one necessity in freeze branding is clipping the brand area first. "The hair has to be clipped very closely. If you leave even a little hair, it will act as an insulator. The brand may not take uniformly then."

Properly done freeze brands work fine on dark haired cattle. How about on light, such as white Shorthorns, or Charolais? "It's not as easy as you'd think of a dark animal. We've tried holding the iron on the animal for a longer period. This destroys the hair producing cells, leaving a hairless scar, and will damage the skin some, but not as much as with a hot iron. Liquid nitrogen has been used as the chilling agent for light colored cattle but we think the alcohol and dry ice combination will work as well." Vaughan says. Dr. R.K. Farrell, USDA-ARS veterinarian at Pullman, Washington, first worked out the system. Dr. Amett says. The freeze brand is visible from a greater distance and costs less than identification by most other methods. He notes that freeze branding is not approved by statute for ownership in Kentucky, yet, but is permitted for in-herd identification.

A "PEACE TORCH" lit at Hiroshima, the Japanese city devastated by the first atomic bomb, leaves Grace Cathedral in San Francisco after being blessed for its cross-country pilgrimage to Washington. It is expected to pass through nearly 200 communities. The "Peace Torch" Marathon was organized by 21-year-old Richard Elmore (right) as a protest against the Vietnam strife.

THE WAVE OF LAWLESSNESS

The time was not too long ago when it was safe to walk the streets of nearly any American city without fear of being mugged, raped, mugged, or even murdered. The time was not too long ago when respect for law and order was as much a part of our American way of life as baseball hot dogs or apple pie.

Mumps— Swollen Jaws? Be Careful

Mumps is a virus infection of the parotid gland, one of the salivary glands, located behind the angle of the jaw, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

The best sign of mumps is a tender, smooth, firm swelling that covers the corner of the jawbone where it turns upward toward the ear, the magazine reports.

Mumps in a child is usually only mildly incapacitating and moderately uncomfortable. Many cases in children are so mild as to go unnoticed by parents. A mild medication for fever and the discomfort of mild headache and muscle aches may be used as needed.

Normally the child recovers in five to seven days. In the teenager or adult mumps is more serious. The virus is more likely to involve other areas such as the pancreas, and to result in nausea, abdominal pains and severe food or fluid intolerance.

The tendency for mumps with its attendant pain to settle in the ovary or testicle is well known. The chance of sterility is highly and emotionally overstated, however. Physicians usually prescribe complete bed rest for adults with mumps. Greater physical activity brings greater chance of complication.

Mumps is not excessively contagious and almost direct contact with the afflicted—such as drinking from the same cup or being sneezed at—is required to contract the disease.

One can get mumps twice, but it is a rare occurrence. Most cases of "mumps the second time" were the result of previous misdiagnosis of swollen neck glands from an infected throat. Odds are about one in 400 of having bona fide mumps as a repeat illness.

Mumps cannot be prevented at present, but recent research promises a vaccine soon.

"DIVERTED LANDS"

During the intervening 5-month period, diverted lands can be grazed only if they are located in an area or county designated as a disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture because of drought, excessive rains, floods, or other natural disaster. In such cases, Conservation Reserve and Cropland Adjustment program lands also may be used for grazing and for the harvesting of hay. Downward adjustments are made in diversion payments to farmers if these lands are grazed or hay is harvested under the disaster provision.

"Extension of the free grazing period," the Chairman stated, "will give farmers an additional month each year for grazing livestock on these diverted croplands. It will permit program participants to clear their fields without the expense of erecting fences between lands on which they have grown crops and those they have diverted.

"In making this move to help the farmer, the Department took note of the expanding use of the picker-sheller in corn production which provides for harvesting earlier than was customary under old methods. The net effect of the change is to allow farmers 7 months of free grazing for livestock on diverted lands instead of 6 months."

SOYBEANS NOT OFFERED

Soybeans from the 1966 crop which have been acquired under the price-support program will not be offered for general sale at least during the harvesting period, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced. It may be necessary to sell small quantities of less than carlot size or in danger of deterioration.

About 7 1/2 million bushels of 1966-crop soybeans have been acquired since the loan maturity date of July 31, 1967. If the policy is modified in the future, an appropriate announcement will be made. The minimum pricing policy for future soybean offerings is not changed from that announced last March, which will be in effect through August 31, 1968. Any soybeans acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation will be sold at 105 percent of support plus carrying charges or at the market price, whichever is higher. Carrying charges will be added in nine monthly increments, as is done in pricing grains.

A WORLD OF OPPORTUNITY

Why do so many people hold on to their Savings Bonds after they're matured?

1. Because they keep on earning money—NOW, more than before.
2. Because they keep right on making Uncle Sam strong.
3. Because there's no safer, sure way to save for retirement.

NOW PAYING 4.15% WHEN HELD TO MATURITY

Americans own over $23 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds that have already matured. Some are 25 years old this year, but they keep right on earning money for their owners. It's another good reason to start buying Bonds today—where you bank, or on Payroll Savings where you work.

Wreck Injuries Fatal To Ohio Woman Friday

Mrs. Dorothy Meyer, 45, of Columbus, Ohio was dead on arrival at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington Friday from injuries received in a car-truck accident on US 25 in the city limits of Livingston (north end).

Mrs. Meyer was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Kenneth Meyer, 47, who was admitted to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. Also in the car was their son, Kenneth Meyer, Jr., 10, who was taken on to the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington where he is reported improving.

According to police reports, the truck involved, driven by Roy Bellwe, 48, of Oglethorpe, Georgia, was heading south and apparently lost control on the rain slick highway causing the truck to jack-knife in the curve across the center line and strike the Meyer vehicle head-on in the northbound lane.

The driver of the truck received slight injuries. Mrs. Meyer's death brings the traffic toll for the year to 7 in Rockcastle County.

Ed McClure, 52, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon suffered injuries in an accident which occurred at the junction of US 150 and Highway 70 Tuesday afternoon.

According to police reports, Mr. McClure, an employee of John W. Griffin Lumber Company in Mt. Vernon, was heading west and apparently locked his brakes causing his flat-bed truck to slide into the eastbound lane striking William Wallace Thompson, front.

McClure and Thompson both were admitted to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital where Mr. McClure's condition was listed Wednesday as fair. Mr. Thompson was released Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Lettie Lewis, 77, of London, died September 8 from injuries which she received in an accident on US 25 just south of Mt. Vernon Friday, September 8. Mrs. Lewis' husband, William Lewis, 83, was killed in the accident.

MRS. JENNIE ROBINS DIES IN LOUISVILLE

Mrs. Jennie Robins, a native of Rockcastle County, died September 10 in Louisville. She was born September 23, 1888, the daughter of W.A.B. and Mary Catherine Denny Davis and was a member of the Broadhead Christian Church. She had served in the past as Broadhead postmistress and Rockcastle County Treasurer.

Survivors include, one daughter: Mrs. Inez Gravelly; two sons: Walter Wajel Robins and John Davis Robins all of Louisville; two sisters: Mrs. Anne McKenzie of Fla., and Mrs. Jo Howard of Wallins Creek; two brothers, Bill and Karl Davis, both of Chicago, Ill.; 7 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, September 13, at Broadhead Christian with Rev. O.O. Cloyd and Rev. Michael Diskin officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

TWO ASSIGNED

Following the completion of "basic" training, Privates Wilson and Roberts will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

BRUSH CREEK-- Workers are shown surfacing the Brush Creek Road which is one of three county roads scheduled for blacktopping in the near future. Surfacing on this road is about one-half done and the next road scheduled is Scaffold Cane.

Farmers Warned On Voting

Farmers were reminded today of a very important part of the election process for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community committees, especially where ballots are mailed in to the ASCS county office.

The deadline for returning ballots in the community elections is September 20. Shellie Mullins, Chairman ASC Rockcastle County Committee points out that two envelopes have been mailed with the ballots sent to all eligible voters of record in the county office. One envelope is plain and the other has a statement printed on the back which the farmer needs to sign. A witnessed mark will also qualify as a signature.

The ballot should be marked and sealed inside the plain envelope; growers are cautioned not to enclose any other material. Also, do not write on the plain envelope. This assures the secrecy of your vote.

The plain envelope should then be put inside the envelope with the statement on the back. This statement is a certification that the ballot was marked by the farmer personally without undue influence by any person. The envelope should then be mailed or otherwise delivered to the ASCS county office.

"Be sure to sign this statement on the back of the outside envelope," Mr. Mullins said. "If it is not signed, the ballot will not be considered as a vote."

GIRL SCOUTS ORGANIZED

Approximately 24 girls between the ages of 8 and 14 met Thursday night, September 7 at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church.

A girl scout troop for the Mt. Vernon area is being formed under the direction of Mrs. Jack Craig, Troop Organizer. Other troop leaders are Mrs. Clinton Winstead, Mrs. C.A. Mullins, Mrs. James E. Hammons, Mr. S.R. A. Baker, Mrs. Wayne Stewart, Mrs. Joe Henderson, and Mrs. James O. Henderson.

At present, the number of girls who can become members of the troop is limited due to the shortage of leaders. There are openings for 3 junior girl scouts (grades 4, 5, and 6) and 2 cadets (grades 7, 8, and 9).

Any adult women interested in becoming a leader should contact Mrs. Craig.

REV. H.L. PONDER BURIED AT RED HILL

Rev. Hughie L. Ponder, a resident of Mt. Vernon, Ky., died September 9 at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. He was a native of Clay County.

He was the son of the late May and Mary Catherine Robinson. He was a member of Union Baptist Church and was ordained to the Baptist ministry in 1909 and a 1914 graduate of Southern Baptist Seminary. He was retired after having pastored many of the Baptist churches throughout the county. Rev. Ponder was also a Ky. Colonel.

Besides his wife, Sophia Browning Ponder, he is survived by two sons: Willie H. Ponder, Cincinnati, Ohio; Sherman Ponder, Mt. Vernon; seven daughters: Mrs. Lula Morris of Ovington, Mrs. Martha Waddle of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Ethel Farnon of Hamon, Ohio, Mrs. Daisy Powell of Peking, Indiana, Mrs. Lavada Nancy of Berea, and Mrs. Lona Adcock, both of Danville, Ill.; 17 grandchildren; 22 great grandchildren, and one great grand son.

School Board Approves Purchase Of 10 Acre Site

The Rockcastle County School Board has received complete approval to proceed with plans for the purchasing of the vocational school site and other preliminary steps from the State Department of Education, according to Mrs. Neureul Miracle, school superintendent.

Mrs. Miracle informed the board at their regular meeting Thursday night that the state had approved the purchase of a 10-acre site on the old Broadhead Road for location of the school. The acreage is owned by Mrs. Kermit Bailey and the purchase price will be $20,000. The board agreed to purchase the ten acres and to also take an option on 17.3 additional acres for possible location of a county school. The option will expire July 25, 1968.

The ten acres selected for the vocational school lies along the line of Goldie Barnett's property and has a frontage of 300 feet. The board also agreed to hire the architect's recommended by the state. They are Clotfelter and Johnson of Lexington. This firm has built several schools of this type. On the question of the 17.3 acre option, Dr. Jack Henderson, Jr., present at the meeting, raised the question of the amount of acreage for the county high school site. According to Dr. Henderson, several years ago the state department informed the board that 40 to 45 acres would be needed for a high school site and he asked the board if this requirement had been lowered. Mrs. Miracle told Dr. Henderson that this requirement had now been lowered to 25

Method Of Branding Displayed

Freeze branding, an experimental method for marking cattle, may ease a cattleman's big problem—identification of his cattle.

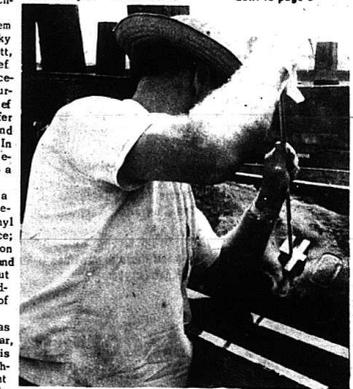

The old hot iron branding technique, painful to the animal and damaging to the hide, could be replaced by the new technique.

In this experimental system now being tried in Kentucky by Dr. Dudley Arnett, U.K. Animal Sciences Beef extension specialist at Princeton, and John Vaughan Purchas, Extension Area Beef cattle-fleecing specialist, very little (if any) pain, and hides have little damage. In addition, the restraining equipment can be confined to a holding chute.

The principle: Freeze a branding iron to about 70 degrees below zero with ethyl alcohol chilled by dry ice; apply the frozen branding iron to a very close clipped brand site on the animal for about 45 seconds. A copper branding iron has worked best of all those tried.

If the "branding" was successful, you'll get a clean, easy-to-read brand. This is because the freezing technique destroys the pigment producing cells in the skin in the freeze area when the hair grows out again, it comes out white. But the hide is undamaged, since only the pigment cells were altered. Several herds in Kentucky have received the freeze branding trails. Object of Dr. Arnett and Vaughan is to have one such herd in each of the state's extension areas. Dr. Arnett makes several things, clear, one of which is that the process has not been perfected yet. "There are a BRANDING TIME-- Roy Brown of Route 1, Broadhead is shown "freeze branding" some of his cattle. This technique is a relatively new one and was demonstrated recently at Mt. Brown's farm. Directing the "freeze" demonstration were, Seldon Hale, Area Beef Specialist, and Dr. Roy Gray University of Kentucky Beef.

SCENE OF ACCIDENT-- Mrs. Dorothy Meyers of Columbus, Ohio was injured fatally in the above accident which occurred on US 25 in the city limits of Livingston Friday. In the photo shows the camper which the Meyers were hauling on their back of their station wagon, and which was torn loose from the car and run over by the truck in the time of the wreck. Mrs. Meyers was dead on arrival at a Lexington hospital.

Diverted Acreage Can Soon Be Used For Grazing

Farmers who diverted acreage under the 1967 feedgrain and cotton acreage diversion programs will soon be able to graze this acreage without losing program benefits.

Freeman M. Hockensmith, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced.

Authority was recently granted to ASC State Committees to extend to 7 months the free grazing period for livestock on lands taken out of production under the annual commodity diversion program. The starting date for such grazing, therefore, will be October 1, marking the end of the period during which the no-grazing provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

Formerly, commodity diversion program lands could be grazed for 6 months each year, and the "normal" grazing period in Kentucky was from November 1 through

FALL SETTING OF SPRING-FLOWERING BULBS AND LILIES

From mid-September through October is the best time to set your spring-flowering bulbs and most lilies. The Madonna lily should have been set earlier, for it produces a rosette of leaves in the fall. Lilies are often planted among bulbs. If you control grubs, you can control moles. When you prepare the bed you can mix with the soil 1 pound of 50 percent DDT per 1,000 square feet of bed surface.

freezing and thawing. Often a spring-flowering bulb is planted among other perennials, or animals are planted in the same beds for summer color. Daffodils make excellent companion plants for roses.

Depth of setting will vary with the type of bulb. A light winter mulch is advisable for newly set beds of bulbs but is not needed for established beds in Kentucky. The mulch prevents heaving due to Alternat

FALL FERTILIZER PROGRAM FOR LAWNS, SHRUBS, AND FLOWERS.
Lawns need feeding in late September or October. In most of Kentucky apply 15-20 pounds of a 10-10-10 or similar fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of lawn. In areas where phosphorus and potash are naturally abundant in the soil, such as in the Bluegrass region, 6-7 pounds of ammonium nitrate per 1,000 square feet is usually adequate.

WHEAT BARLEY, AND OAT VARIETY INFORMATION GIVEN BY U.K.

Small grains will be soon planted in Kentucky for the coming year, says S.H. Phillips, U.L.L. Cooperative Extension Service agronomist. Know the variety you use and what he will do, he advises.

Information on the various varieties is available at area extension office in each county, Phillips points out.

SOFT RED WINTER WHEAT:

Recommended varieties are Ben Hur, Monon, Knox 62 and Red Coat. These range from early maturity down to late, straw strength ranges from fair to excellent, and resistance to diseases (leaf rust, broadleaf mildew, loose smut and Hessian Fly) from low through excellent.

"Kentucky is a soft red winter wheat state, and other types of wheat should not be planted, to avoid mill discounts," he says. Some of the recommended varieties are better performing in some areas of the state than others and this should be taken into account.

Planting dates September 15 to October 20.

WINTER BARLEY

Recommended varieties are Dayton (high yielding but not quite as winter-hardy as some others), Kenbar (winter-hardy), Harrison (good straw-strength and yield, Barsoy (early variety developed for double-cropping with soybeans; limited seed supply).

Planting dates September 15 to October 20.

WHITE OATS:

Dubois (older variety but still widely used) and Norline (a newer variety, stiff-strawed and high-yield) are the recommended varieties. Follow planting instructions, use certified seed for best results, and manage the crops carefully, he advises. Planting dates August 20 to October 1.
