FEEDER PIG PRODUCTION CAN BE A MONEY-MAKER

Thousands of small farms in Kentucky, including several in Rockcastle County, are well adapted to the production of feeder pigs as a source of additional cash income. Very little corn is required and there is a ready market for several times as many pigs as we have, so far, been able to produce in Rockcastle County. Various markets are available for at least thirteen thousand feeder pigs in the next few months. The key to success in feeder pig production is good management. An average of eight pigs per litter weaned is essential to profitable production. Even a small number of sows can prove quite profitable. The pigs from five sows should bring additional gross income $1,000, a year—the equivalent income from half an acre of burley tobacco. On several farms with limited tobacco bases, the additional income from the sale of feeder pigs would go a long way toward making those farms show a profit. Check the extension office in Mt. Vernon for more information on available feeder pig markets.

APPLY LIMESTONE THIS FALL

If needed, agricultural limestone properly applied to farm land not only supplies calcium and magnesium to growing plants; but also makes other needed nutrients more available.

Limestone reacts slowly in the soil, therefore, it is to the farmer's advantage to have his soil tested and apply needed limestone well in advance of seeding time. Now, during the fall months, is an excellent time to have soil tests made and apply needed limestone while the fields are firm enough to support heavy trucks and by applying limestone in the fall, the spring rush is avoided.

Farmers should make sure they are getting good soil sample representative of the area being tested. Contact your county Extension Office for information on taking good soil samples. Finely ground limestone gives quicker results than coarse limestone. Insist on finely ground limestone when contracting to have your lime hauled. Farmers should make every effort possible to get even distribution of limestone over the entire field. Don't guess, soil test! This will determine your limestone needs. Test your soil and apply limestone this fall for next spring's needs.

FOR A FIRE-SAFE WINTER

As outside temperatures drop, indoor fire dangers rise! National Fire Protection Association records show that cold weather always brings an increase in destructive fires, says area Extension Agent H. Lee Durham.

Heating systems are mainly to blame. When they're pushed hard in cold weather any weakness in the equipment or installation may show up—sometimes with disastrous results. Any faulty practices in using and fueling heaters, especially portable kerosene units, mean trouble. To keep fire hazards as well as fuel bills down, all furnaces and heaters need a periodic cleaning and check-up. Likewise flue pipes should be kept clean, free of holes and weak spots, well-supported and away from combustibles. Make sure they are spaced far enough from nearby surfaces to prevent overheating. Check chimneys for cracks and loose bricks; and if used for coal or wood fires, a yearly cleaning is a must.

Refueling portable oil heaters calls for care. Never fill while they are burning or still hot, and avoid overfilling. If cold oil is used, watch for possible burner flooding and flare-up. Keep portable heaters out of halls and away from doors, or stairs where they might block escape. See that they are not placed too near curtains, clothes racks and other combustibles. Don't buy or keep tippy heaters.

If your heating equipment and your handling practices aren't already checked and ready for the winter, get busy now during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14.

BURLEY-CURING TIED CLOSELY TO TEMPERATURE AND HUMIDITY

Farmers know the best curing conditions for burley tobacco are (1) a temperature range of from 60 to 90 degrees F. and (2) a humidity level (moisture content of the air) of from 65 to 70 percent. But these conditions can't be guaranteed, points out Ira Massie, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service Tobacco specialist. Weather changes prevent constant ideal conditions, so, farmers must try to correct or arrange a favorable environment in the barn.

Open ventilators when air outside the barn is drier than inside air. Close them when outside air is wetter than inside air. (2) BARN TEMPERATURE: Inside the barn, temperature usually will be 10 degrees lower (cooler) than outside. This is due to evaporation (moisture loss from plants). Judicious use of supplemental heat in barns can help correct this. (3) PREVENTING HOUSEBURN: If tobacco gets in case and stays that way longer than 24 hours "case" meaning fairly high moisture content of leaves), use supplemental heat. Coke, a natural or propane gas are the usual fuels. Properly used, inside heat will stop houseburn. Houseburn causes growers loss of many thousands of pounds weight and thousand of dollars in sale price each year.

THE CLASSICS REVISITED

The question "What is a classic?" has been answered in various ways by these hoodlums as a book which is sure to be dull, and by the dictionary as "a work, especially in literature of art, of the highest class and acknowledged excellence." Many people, disgusted with the sordid tales of today's fiction, are turning back to the classics for reading from the viewpoint of maturity.

Among the most popular titles in the library are:

THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, by John Bunyan. The "familiar allegory," next to the Bible the most widely known book in religious literature. It was written in Bedford, where Bunyan was for twelve years a prisoner, for his conversion. It describes the troubled journey of Christian and his companions through this life to a "triumphant entrance into the Celestial City."

JANE EYRE, by Charlotte Brontë. Autobiographical novel of a strong woman who rebelled against the narrow social and religious conventions of her day. The heroine is described as a "hardened creature, who loved the night."

LORNA DOONE, by R.D. Blackmore. A romantic love-story of Farnow and the North Devon Coast of England, a King of the outlaw Doones, the maid brought up in the

Two of her special interests as National PTA president are "to encourage parents to read to their children, especially, in their preschool years" and to stimulate continued close cooperation between PTAs and the medical and health organizations that help develop the PTA program of Continuous Health Supervision of children from early childhood through adolescence.

WUTHERING HEIGHTS, by Emily Brontë. A wild tale of terror and hatred among the people of the Yorkshire moors. This novel about Catherine Earnshaw and Heathcliff starts at Wuthering Heights, Catherine's childhood home.

THE LIVELY LADY, by Kenneth Roberts. A spirited adventure story and an authentic historical novel of the War of 1812. Richard Nauman, Captain of the armed sloop, "The Lively Lady," experiences the fortunes of war on the high seas, and later as prisoner in the terrible English prison at Dartmoor.

GREEN MANSIONS, by W.H. Hudson. Based on the naturalist author's extensive travels in South America. A young man making his way over the Andes falls in with a tribe of savage Indians, discovers in the forest and becomes enamored of a mysterious being, part woman and part bird, and in seeking to unravel and the boy.

AROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHTY DAYS, by Jules Verne. The hero, Phileas Fogg, and Englishman, undertakes his hasty world tour as the result of a bet made at his London Club. He and his French valet, Passepartout, set out that very night, and by some human effort succeed in making the circuit of the globe and turning up, again at the club ten minutes before the time agreed upon, eighty days later.

UK Defeated 12-10 In Opening Game

A heart-breaking opening 12-10 loss Indiana is a thing of the past and the Kentucky Wildcats are hard at work preparing for a fired-up Ole Miss team which will be in town this weekend.

John Vaughn's highly regarded Rebels took it on the chin, 27-17, in their opener with Memphis State Saturday and aren't expected to be in anything but a sour mood.

The Wildcats are also a little worked up after an opening effort which fell by the way side when Al Gage, a secondary receiver, grabbed a pass which a Kentucky defender has knocked into the air across the Hooiser goal.

Watching the action were more than 42,000 fans, a record home opening crowd for the Hoosiers.

The group included an estimated 10,000 Kentuckians and Wildcat fans from such far-away places as Canada. Making the journey from Montreal in a Volkswagen were Al Phaneuf Sr. and son-in-law Ron Williams.

They made one three-hour stop at Buffalo, N.Y. during the 950-mile journey which began at 8 p.m. Thursday and ended at 7 p.m. Friday.

The visit to the States was the first for both Canadians, who were thrilled in the first half when Al Phaneuf, Kentucky's defensive left half-back, blocked an Indiana field goal attempt.

The father hadn't seen the son play in four years. Also making a long trip to the game was Joe Jacobs, starting Wildcat wingback who flew out of Hobbs, New Mexico, early Saturday and was rushed by automobile from Indianapolis to Bloomington.

Jacob's father died Wednesday and the family felt he would have wanted Joe to play in the opening game. Joe caught three passes and did some fine blocking.

There were other bright spots: Roger Gann, Dick Beard and Dicky Lyons on offense and Fred Conger on defense. Gann racked up 122 yards rushing and one touchdown while fellow sophomore Conger was credited with 15 tackles.

The sophomores will have to grow up quick to handle the likes of Ole Miss and other teams on a tough schedule.

The general rule is that, by opening its doors to the public, a shop promises the kind of service provided by a reasonably prudent and skillful person engaged in the same business. If its service falls below that standard, the proprietor may be held liable for the consequences. For example:

A woman collected damages from a beauty shop because the operator, washing her hair, doused her head with scalding water.

And in another case, a woman won damages for a skin infection resulting from a facial treatment given without the proper sanitary precautions.

This standard of quality applies not only to the service rendered but also to the equipment used and the condition of the premises. Thus, a woman successfully sued a beauty shop on the basis of a soapy puddle on the floor which caused her to slip, fall, and suffer assorted injuries.

Nevertheless, the management is not held to an ironclad guarantee of safety. If an accident was not reasonably avoidable, the law will not impose liability.

Accordingly, a woman who stumbled while getting out of a chair was denied damages from the beauty shop where it occurred. The judge could see no way the management could fairly be blamed for such a mishap.

In one famous case, a barber wiped his razor against the disposable tissue lying on the customer's stomach. By coincidence, the razor happened to touch an ultra-itchy spot. The customer yelped, grabbed instinctively, and closed his hand on the razor.

Bodily cut, he sued the barber for triggering this woeful chain of events. But the court, unconvinced, turned down his claim. The judge stated:

"The plaintiff at most shows a pure accident. In the nature of things, a similar misfortune will not happen again in many a moon."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Of Beauticians and Barbers

In the average visit to a beauty shop or barber shop, the customer's greatest risk is a curl that won't stay put or a botched sideburn.

But occasionally the hazard may be more serious. Injury may be done not just to the customer's vanity but to his person. When that happens, the law may be called upon to fix responsibility for the harm.

Folks are finding out about Purina's great new sow ration... NEW PURINA FARROWING CHOW... specially developed to fit the sow's needs at farrowing time.

New Purina Farrowing Chow is the result of five years of testing at the Purina Research Farm Brood Sow Unit. It's developed to fit the sow's needs for a palatable, bulky, well-balanced, vitamin-fortified ration from a few days before farrowing till about a week after farrowing.

This new 14% protein ration, containing grain, is fed as the sow's sole ration. It comes in Checker (pellet) form only, which helps maintain freshness. An NF-150* option to help control scours in baby pigs is available. New Purina Farrowing Chow has the "just right" nutrients sows need at this critical time. It's economical, too.

THIS IS THE YEAR to do everything possible to help your sows farrow lots of pigs and wean big litters. Give them the built-in advantage of New Purina Farrowing Chow.

COME AND GET IT: New Purina Farrowing Chow is available at our store right now. Come in and see, feel, smell and taste this new product. You'll like its appearance. Your sows will go for it, too. Try new Purina Farrowing Chow this spring.

Hunters, Look Again--- That 'Game' You Shoot May Be Something Else

This article is aimed directly at the hundreds of thousands of hunters who are taking to the fields and woods this fall in search of game.

Before you pull the trigger, know what you're firing at.

Sporting arms, from a single-shot .22 calibre rifle to a heavy big game weapon to a fast-loading automatic scattergun, are designed to kill birds and animals. They also can kill or wound humans.

Each fall several hundred hunters return from fall outings via hearse. Thousands of others return with a load of bird shot or a rifle bullet to be dug out. Behind almost every hunting accident is one cause: carelessness. The hunter who blazes away at everything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter.

Never cross over or through a fence or climb a tree with a loaded gun. It might fall and discharge. Unload first and reload after crossing. Don't shoot at a hard, flat surface. Ricocheting bullets can carry long distances with killing power.

Even a small bore rifle has considerable range. Know where your bullet will stop before pulling the trigger.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Always carry a gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety catch on until ready to shoot. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. A barrel clogged with mud or snow may burst.

Guns and alcohol don't mix. If you like a nip around camp, wait until you're through hunting for the day and all weapons are unloaded and cased.

Treat guns with respect at all times. They may be loaded, despite all precautions. Things never point a weapon at something unless you plan to shoot it. 9/4/67

Memorhoids--- Common Problem Sometimes Serious

Memorhoids, commonly known as piles are one of the most common health problems encountered today.

Memorhoids are enlarged veins inside or just outside the rectum, somewhat like varicose veins in the legs. A frequent cause is constipation that causes straining, but there can be other causes as well. Anything that increases flow of blood through the rectal veins can cause memorhoids.

Memorhoids themselves seldom are dangerous to life, but the condition that causes them can be serious and should be corrected. They also can cause cancer.

Many cases can be relieved by medical treatment. Some require surgery, but the operation usually is not a serious one.

If memorhoids are caused by constipation, they can be made worse by self-treatment, especially if done irregularly.

Continued bleeding can cause anemia. If a blood clot forms in a protruding vein, piles can be extremely painful. If untreated, considerable discomfort, and even pain. Memorhoids do not turn into cancer, but rectal symptoms that appear to be memorhoids may actually be caused by cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Goodman and family of Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with her sister Mrs. Bob French and Sandra.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rose and family of Centerville, Ind., recently spent the vacation with her mother Mrs. Christine Phillips and Garry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob French and Sandra were in London on business Saturday.

they can break and hemorrhage. Memorhoids are common among women during pregnancy. Every expectant mother should see her doctor early in pregnancy. Prevention of memorhoids is one of the things he will discuss with her.

Even though you have no apparent symptoms of piles, your doctor will often make a rectal examination each time you report for a physical checkup. Only in this way can beginning cases of medical problems of the rectum be discovered early.

City Council Seats Filed For No Contention In Mt. Vernon

The City Council seats have been filed for all three towns in the county, according to Rockcastle County Court Clerk Clifford Bales.

The slates for Broedhead and Mt. Vernon will encounter no opposition in the fall election but in Livingston there are opposing slates.

Deadline for filing of the council seats was Saturday September 23.

In Mt. Vernon, all incumbent city councilmen, except Fred Morris, filed for re-election. Mr. Morris' seat was filled for H.M. Perciful. Other incumbents on the slate are: Carl Kelley, Bob Jasper, Ed. Winstead, Charlie Hines, and Wayne Stewart. The Mayor's race in Mt. Vernon is not up for election this year.

There is one change on Broedhead's Board of Trustees this year since Chairman Clarence E. Bradley chose not to run for re-election. His position on the ballot will be filled by David Cass. Others on the tickets will be Bobby Proctor, Preston Par-dates and the opposing Loyal Adams. After the election, the Board of Trustees will elect their new Chairman of the Board.

At Livingston, three incumbents council members have filed with two new candidates and the opposing slate is composed entirely of new candidates.

The slate, with the incumbents on it, is composed of Clyde Forder, Estil Jones, James McClure, Wayne Durham, and Hershell Niecelev.

Committee Named

A Rockcastle County Campaign Executive Committee has been formed to work for the election of Henry Ward as governor of Kentucky.

Foster Ockerman, state campaign chairman, announced the appointment of Mr. John L. Lair of Renfro Valley, Kentucky and Dr. John D. Henderson, Jr. of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky as co-chairman of the Ward for Governor Committee in Rockcastle County.

At the same time, Mrs. Anne Combs, State campaign chairwoman, announced the appointment of Mrs. Henry Brown of Quail Creek as Rockcastle County campaign chairwoman.

This executive committee, Ockerman stated, share the opinion of most Kentuckians that Henry Ward's proven ability in government will insure sound, firm and efficient management of the state's business without waste or favoritism. Further Rockcastle County people appreciate Mr. Ward's proven interest in their county's progress. Some of the best known accomplishments in Rockcastle County originated by Henry Ward are the Renfro Valley Dam and lake, the provision of three interchanges on Interstate 75 and the tremendous rural road improvement program.

Members of the executive committee in Rockcastle county, in addition to Chairmen, in addition to Chairman and Chairwoman named above, are:

R.B. McKenzie Cashier Bank of Mt. Vernon Finance Chairman; Clell Pize, Chairman Rockcastle County Democratic Executive Committee; W.S. Stewart, who is also one of the State Co-Chairmen of the Farmers' Ward organization; W.E. Proctor, Mr. Ward's Farm Chairman in Rockcastle County; William K. Bulten, Wildie; David W. Henderson, Mt. Vernon; Howard Linville, Mt. Vernon; R.L. Kelsey, Mt. Vernon; Clyde Linville, Mayor City of Mt. Vernon, and Mr. L.B. Elder, Broedhead.

HEADQUARTERS-- The Rockcastle County Republican Club opened its county campaign headquarters recently at Jim's Car Wash across from the courthouse. Several supporters were on hand to boost the opening. They are, from left: Charlie "Sport" Kirby, Clifford Bales, Sheriff Tip Reppert, Nanni Campaign Chairman, Clyde Bennett, county chairman, Wally Phillips, Money Ed Cummins, Mrs. Bernice Halcomb, Charley York, Roy Brown, Jimmy Lambert, Deputy Sheriff Frank Deborde, Mrs. Jerry Hensel, Ollie Mullins, Nanno Sargent, Elmer Alcorn, and Deputy Sheriff Billy Kirby.

Morton For Nunn

The following news item is excerpts from an address made by Senator Thurston B. Morton at the opening of the Louisville-Jefferson County campaign Thursday, September 21.

I want to say to my friends in Kentucky that Louie Nunn was elected Governor of Kentucky and must be elected Governor of Kentucky. Why do I say that he can be elected Governor? Four years ago he won the Fifth Congressional District by 29,646 votes. He lost the First Congressional District by 23,000 votes. I have been in the Fifth District. He is going to win it by at least 40,000 votes. I am absolutely sure of this. The disaffection with Frankfort is so rampant in the First District which is the cradle of Democracy in Kentucky that I am sure that he will lose it by less than 10,000 and he might even carry it. So, therefore, it is clear to me that he can be elected.

Now, why must he be elected?

It was twenty years ago that the late Simon Willis was the last Republican Governor of Kentucky and when he left office our debt in the State of Kentucky was less than $2.00 for each citizen, men women and child. So for this reason I say he must be elected.

The bureaucracy has grown layer on layer in Frankfort. Each time a new Democratic Governor comes in, he doesn't get rid of those who are there. He merely adds another layer of Bureaucracy. So for this reason I say to you that Judge Nunn must be elected because, indeed, we need a change in our State. The employment at the State level has gone up some 600% during these 20 years. I think this is something that should disturb every right-thinking, serious citizen in our community and in our State. I for one feel that there is only one solution and that is to completely make a change in Frankfort.

Charged In Shooting

Luther Lunce, about 50 of Calloway, has been charged with "shooting into" an occupied dwelling" by David Stallsworth, also of Calloway.

The charge stems from a shooting fracas which allegedly occurred about 4 a.m. Sunday, September 23, when according to Stallsworth, Lunce shot into his home with a 20 gauge shotgun.

Stallsworth then went outside with a 12 gauge shotgun and returned the fire. Lunce shot again and this time Stallsworth was grazed in the forehead by glancing off of the door frame. Stallsworth then shot again and Lunce left the scene and returned to his home. His son then took him to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital from where he was transferred to Berea College Hospital. Lunce reported he was struck in the eye, neck, arms, hands, and legs.

Babson's Authentic Report

PROTECTING CREDIT CARDS

Proof of our speedy progress toward a "cashless" may be found in the fact that an estimated 200 million credit cards are now outstanding in this country. But the thing a tremendous number of people fail to understand is that if these small rectangular tokens, as they more and more take the place of cash, should be cared for as carefully as if they were actual money.

NO LONGER GADGETS

When credit cards were in their infancy, most people considered them a "convenience" which had the flavor of a gadget. They had their first big surge in the service-station industry, and even today about half the cards outstanding have been issued by oil companies. Incredible numbers of such cards are misappropriated by relatives or acquaintances, or stolen by strangers. That is why oil firms keep insisting that registration numbers be noted on all change tabs.

Analysts of the credit scene expect that during 1967 a huge 10% of circulating cards will be lost or stolen, and that the resulting fraudulent usage may well go as high as $40 million. The sad part is that cardholders who are very careful with their pocket cash are almost perversely careless about their credit identifications. This makes it easy for the dishonest... so freely are the cards accepted in return for cash, goods, and services.

LEGISLATION BEING SOUGHT

Since, after all, the trend toward a cashless consumer economy is becoming stronger all the time, moves are being made to face the realities of this fact. Issuers of credit cards would like to see laws passed that would establish clear-cut punishment for those misusing these commercial instruments of trade. Also sought are measures that would hold down the liability of victims whose cards are stolen and used.

Card holders must realize that losing their cards can cost them a lot of money. The responsibility of stolen-card usage has been shunted through many courts, and some of their victimized have been hard hit. To protect the innocent, a number of states have passed laws that place a ceiling on the amount of liability that can be charged against a person whose stolen card has been used to run up bills on his account. Illinois recently put a $75 top on such responsibility, with the proviso -- as in most other instances -- that the issuing firm be immediately notified if a card is lost, stolen, or even misplaced.

IF A CREDIT CARD IS MISSING

There are operating nowadays, especially in some of the larger cities, gangs specializing in the theft and counterfeiting of cards. These hoodlums -- if not the general buying public -- are fully aware of the fact that the plastic counters are to an increasing degree the equivalent of cash... and big cash; at that. Some of the issuing concerns are trying to fight these rings and other misappropriators in a variety of ways, Diners' Club, for example, has requested that establishment asked to honor one of its cards for as much as $50 call its New York office for a check on the customer's credit rating, and identification. If this establishment ignores this stipulation, it is held liable for any loss.

HOLDERS OF credit cards will be wise to keep careful tabs on them, and to notify the issuer immediately if one disappears. Even though a credit-card holder may be entirely unaware of any misuse of his charge tab, and hence innocent, he can become involved in legal entanglements that are embarrassing in time and money. American Express predicts that some 45,000 of its 2 million cards will be lost this year alone, and that many victims will not find out about their loss until they are billed for merchandise or services they knew nothing about. Hence, once again, let consumers realize that their credit cards are exactly as valuable as cash, and they should be protected as cautiously.

 Through renting, suburbanites get the use of an entire car wardrobe. But their rentals aren't limited to the home area, their reports.
 Many families find that "by-drive" rental car waiting at destination airport gets a family on its way fast.
 "By-drive" also lets suburbanites use three- and four-day weekends for "quick" vacations in faraway places. Then, too, the family that holidays in a remote area can get its automobile in cool comfort with an air conditioned rental car.

Fall Tree-Planting Time Is Here

The fall tree-planting season is approaching and land owners with idle or unproductive lands should be preparing to plant trees.

If you have land which is cleared and is producing nothing more than sedge grass you would be wise to plant trees for a future income - not for yourself - for your children.

Lands which are covered in hardwood sprouts and undesirable scrub pines should be planted in pines, but site preparation must be done to give the seedlings sunlight and room to grow.

Under the Federal cost-share program you may sign up for trees and site preparation. This program pays $8 per acre for each 1,000 trees planted and supplies the trees free of charge. For site preparation the program will pay 80% of the cost not to exceed $12 per acre.

The agency in charge of this program is the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (A.S.C.S.) and is located in the county seat of each county. In order to apply for A.S.C.S. payments, the trees cannot be set on bare soil.

Anyone interested in ordering trees direct from the Division of Forestry may pay by check or money order at the rate of $8 per thousand seedlings. Checks should be made to the Kentucky Treasury Department and mailed to Box 31, Pineville, Kentucky. Tree order blanks may be obtained from the Division of Forestry A.S.C.S. County Agents and the Soil Conservation Service. Trees available are pine, hardwood, and some walnut.

Lakes Stocked

Nearly 50,000 rainbow trout are scheduled for stocking in Kentucky water during the next two weeks.

The bulk of the trout stocking - almost 44,000 rainbows from six to ten inches long - will go into Lake Cumberland south of Jamestown, reports the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Trucks from the state's Fisheries division will pick up the trout at the National Fish Hatchery in Erwin, Tenn., and deliver them to Cumberland on September 26, 27 and 28.

During the first week of October more of the cool water game fish will be added to Herrington Lake in Central Kentucky and the tailwaters of Buckhorn Lake in Eastern Kentucky.

Herrington will get 5,000 rainbows and 1,000 will go into the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River below Buckhorn dam.

More than half of the Cumberland release - 24,900 - will be of catching size, 8 to 10 inches, when put into the lake at the former site of the Rowen Ferry. The other 19,000 will be from 6-8 inches long. Biologists for the Fish and Wildlife Department say the left pectoral fin of the trout will be clipped before stocking. The identification procedure will allow researchers to learn more about the fishes' habits and growth rate between stocking and the angler's hook.

They are: Jackie Franklin Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Miller; Charles Edward Colson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay A. Colson; and Harley Randal Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Adams.

DAIRY ASSN. TO MEET

American Dairy Association will hold its annual meeting of District 8 at the Berea College Agricultural Hall, Berea, on October 3 from 7:30 to 9:15 p.m. Howard Bullock is Chairman of the meeting.

Members and guests of American Dairy Association who attend the meeting will witness the contest and crowning of the District Dairy Princess. There will be a business session and an opportunity for participation in an open discussion. Members of sponsoring agencies will also be on hand to meet those attending and answer questions.

All members and persons interested in A.D.A. are urged to attend this meeting.

"MORTON FOR NUNN"

To absolutely bring about a new Administration that will indeed bring to the people of the State the kind of government that I think they want.

Now when I say, going back to my first premise, that he can be elected, I for instance, carried the Fifth District in 1962 by a lower majority than did Judge Nunn in his race in 1963 and yet I was elected by some 45-thousand votes. I am convinced that we have today a great challenge facing us, the people of Kentucky, and I am also convinced that the people of Kentucky are going to respond to that challenge.

Now, on the second point again, the most reasons why we must change: We in Kentucky are a Democratic State. And this I admit. We are by tradition. But it has been a good healthy thing for our State that once every 20 years or once every 15 years we come along with a change in Administration. This has been a good healthy thing for the Commonwealth. I think it has helped the Commonwealth to grow and prosper and to move forward and that indeed, I say he can be elected and he must be elected and I am sure, finally, that he will be elected.

We have the best organization in Kentucky today in the Republican Party that we have had in my memory and I am sure that Judge Nunn and the ticket that is running with him in Louisville and elsewhere, that we are going to have one of the greatest victories in the history of the Commonwealth.

"Fashion Happenings"

"Fashion Happenings" was the theme for the style show sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Homemakers Tuesday night. The show gave a preview of the fashions that would be seen on the local ladies this fall. In the above photo Linda McCauley, Linda Jones, and Susan Bray model their choice for the fall and winter seasons.

GO-GO GIRL? - or Roaring Twenties? Mrs. James Earl Hammonds models one of the season's fashion designs which seems to be a little reminiscent of earlier fashions including the black leather boots and beret.

Several Rockcastle teenagers participated in the show, which was held at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church, and displayed their selections for school and sports wear. From left are: Ann Stewart Sherry Graham, Andrea Anglin, and Martha Nicely.

SAND BUCKET BRIGADE-- The style show was not confined exclusively to women's and girl's apparel. Several of the younger set displayed their fall and winter ensembles. 'Sneaky Spider'—'Brown Recluse' Is A Problem

An innocuous-looking little spider named "The Brown Recluse" has recently been found to be even more dangerous than the long-feared "Black Widow."

The Brown Recluse has become enough of a health problem—several deaths and a number of serious bites—to become a subject of a research study and a recent report published in the Medical News Section of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The spider tries to steer clear of humans—hence its name—but because it likes to hide in dark recesses of buildings, it comes under inadvertent human assault in bedding, shoes and other places where it seeks daytime refuge.

The Brown Recluse has been found in at least 13 states from the South, Southwest and Midwest, and is thought to be moving into other sections of the country. Because of the spider's tendency to retreat into wadded-up newspapers or blankets or other dark areas in daytime, it easily could be transported north by vacationers to states where it has not yet been seen.

The spider may bite without the victim being aware of it. There is little early pain associated with a bite. Unlike the Black Widow, both males and females can inject venom.

Pain may be felt two to eight hours, followed by inflammation of the skin, blistering, hemorrhage and ulceration.

Of the Brown Recluse's bite, one researcher told JAMA News: "Several deaths have been attributed to this spider. Our data indicate a biological poison much more potent than known snake venoms and probably more toxic than venom from the Black Widow spider." Exactly how the venom acts remains to be determined.

Treatment involves injection of a medication over a period of days and in more serious cases hospitalization.

Veterans Benefits

James R. McGown, director of Veterans Education and Special Programs in the Department of Education, said that on October 1, 1957 approximately 76,000 Kentucky veterans will be eligible for additional education and training benefits as provided by the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1957 recently passed by Congress.

Generally, a veteran of at least 181 days continuous active duty, any part of which occurred after January 31, 1955, would be eligible or who was released from active duty after January 31, 1955, for a service connected disability, would be eligible if discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

The additional education and training benefits provided by the passage of the new law are as follows: APRENTICESHIP OR OTHER ON-JOB TRAINING: A eligible veteran may pursue, on a full-time basis only, an approved program of apprenticeship or other training on-the-job. Apprenticeships must meet the standards as published by the U.S. Secretary of Labor and all apprenticeship and other on-the-job training programs must be approved by the State Approving Agency. In addition to the trainee's wages paid by his employer, the veteran would receive a monthly training assistance allowance according to the chart below:

Periods of Training	No Dependents	One Dependent	Two or More Dependents
1st 6 months	$80	$90	$100
2nd 6 months	60	70	80
3rd 6 months	40	50	60
4th and any succeeding 6 months	20	30	40

FLIGHT TRAINING: An eligible veteran may take an approved course of flight training that is generally accepted as necessary to attain a vocational objective in the field of aviation. He must first possess a valid private pilot's license or have equivalent hours and must meet medical requirements necessary for a commercial pilot's license. The veteran would receive an educational assistance allowance computed at 90 per cent of the established cost for the course. His entitlement is reduced one month for each $130 paid to him.

FARM COOPERATIVE TRAINING: An eligible veteran enrolled in an approved educational institution for a "farm cooperative program" consisting of institutional agricultural courses for a minimum of 12 clock hours per week, shall be eligible to receive an educational allowance of $105 per month if single, $125 for one dependent, and $145 for two dependents plus $7 for each dependent over two. However, the veteran must be concurrently engaged in agricultural employment which is related to the approved institutional course.

certificate at the time of his discharge, or in order to pursue a program of education for which he would otherwise be eligible, needs additional secondary school training, to qualify for admission to an appropriate educational institution may enroll in approved secondary school course and be paid the appropriate educational assistance allowance as indicated below without charge against his entitlement:

Type of Program	No Dependents	One Dependent	Two Dependents	Each Dependent Over Two
Institutional
Full time	$130	$155	$175	$10
3/4 time	95	115	135	7
1/2 time	60	75	85	5

The "institutional rates" shown will also apply as of October 1 to veterans presently pursuing any approved institutional course. All programs or courses must meet specific standards and criteria and be approved for veterans' training by the State Approving Agency. The veterans' approval functions are administered through the Division of Veterans Education, Frankfort, Kentucky. It should be noted that all employers, high school, flight schools, or other schools desiring to train veterans must first be approved before eligible veterans can be officially enrolled in the program.

Mr. McGown emphasized that veterans interested in education or training should ascertain that a particular employer, school, or institution would accept him for training and then he should make the necessary application for training to the Veterans Administration, Regional Office, Louisville, Kentucky in order to receive training benefits.

..... In Days Gone Bye.....

We were quite interested recently when Mrs. Billy Bussell of Brodhead found a copy of a very old (1915) issue of the Signal while going through some of the late W. G. Yedon's papers. In this Signal, Mrs. Bussell found two accounts of the death of R. S. (Dick) Martin of Brodhead. Mr. Martin's surviving children are a son, Virgil Martin, of Brodhead, his oldest child, and Mrs. Joseph (Isabelle) Pilkenton of Louisville, his youngest child. Three of his children, Douglas, Dick, and Mrs. Byron (Gertrude) Owens, have died. Mrs. Owens was formerly postmistress at Brodhead for several years and one of her children, Byron, Jr., is the present postmaster. Other of the elder Martin's grandchildren are Mrs. Estil McBee of Mt. Vernon, Billy Frank Martin and Albert Martin, both of Brodhead, Marvin Douglas Pilkenton of California, and Richard C. Owens of Louisville. We are reprinting these two accounts of Mr. Martin's death for several reasons. Mainly because a good deal of the history of Brodhead and its surroundings at that time and at 30 the journalistic style of that period was so unique and different from any style now used that we felt this would be interesting to our readers. Mrs. Estil McBee furnished us with several photographs which are approximately 70 years old. These photographs will be found in the center of the

Prominent Tobacco Manufacturer Passes Away at Brodhead

Brodhead, Ky., March 8

Just before the clock struck 12 last Saturday night, the spirit of our dear friend, neighbor and fellow townsman, Mr. R. S. Martin, took its flight from this earthly place to the "Home Over There." One week ago Mr. Martin suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never recovered, though Drs. Gravelly and Carter gave him all medical aid possible, one or the other being at his bedside almost continually from the first.

The deceased was a little past seventy-five years of age. Some time in the 70's he came to this county from Virginia. Several years later his first wife died, leaving him the care of a son and daughter. After growing to almost manhood the son, Hugh Melvin died. The daughter, who is Mrs. Prothro, resides in Chicago, Ill. Mr. Martin's second wife was Miss Harris, daughter of J. F. Harris, prosperous farmer of the Sayers Neighborhood. To this union, five children, three boys and two girls, were born, Virgil, Douglas, Urban and Gertrude, now Mrs. Byron Owens, and Miss Isabella; all of which are living. Mr. Martin is also survived by a brother, Mr. C. H. Martin, of Mt. Vernon and three brothers, who reside in Virginia.

On first coming to this county he bought a farm, three miles south of here, known as the Cummins Farm. He at once took up farming and teaching school, but soon began the manufacture of plug tobacco, continuing in that business until his death. For a number of years he was located in Junction City, but moved to this place. In this business he made good until competition injured his trade to a considerable extent, but he kept at it in a patient way and his best and favorite brand, "Farmer's Twist" will be long remembered by tobacco users.

Mr. Martin was a member of the Christian church. His funeral services were held Monday and his remains interred in the family burying ground on the farm he bought when he came to this county. We have known Mr. Martin all during our life and remember many kind words and wholesome advice he has given us, and we are loath to give him up. We speak of him in the kindest words and know we are voicing the feelings of everyone who knew him.

J. J. Painter

DICK MARTIN IS DEAD! R. S. Martin died at his home at Brodhead, on the 6th instant. Three days before his death he was stricken with paralysis and he was never afterwards able to talk or fully at himself. He was buried on Monday the 8th instant in the family burying ground near Brodhead.

Richard Seldon Martin was born in Appomattox county Virginia Dec. 12th, 1839. He spent his boyhood on the farm till he was eighteen years old when he became a traveling salesman for a Tobacco Manufacturing Confederacy, and at its first call for volunteers he became a Confederate soldier in General Lee's Army, General Gordon's Corps and General Rickett's Division. His official rank was that of Orderly Sergeant, but he often led his company as its Captain being the highest living officer of the company above him having fallen in battle. He was always in the thick of the fight beginning with the first battle of Bull Run and ending with that most bloody and memorable charge at Gettysburg led by General Pickett. Mr. Martin was badly wounded in that charge. He lay for three days under an old peach tree without care,

As can be seen in the above photo, at the time this photo was made in the Citizens Bank, about 55 years ago, the officers were: J. Thomas Cherry, president; R. H. Hamm, Vice president; Dr. W. E. Gravelly, second vice president; J. W. Hutchesson, cashier, and A. M. Hunt, assistant cashier. Citizens Bank was built in 1904.

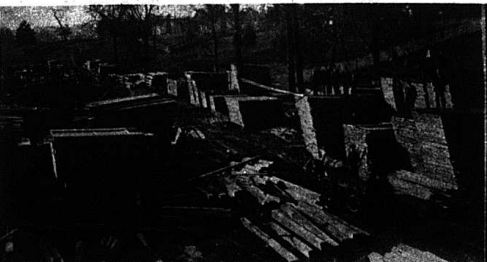

FIRST TELEPHONE EXCHANGE. The first telephone exchange in Brodhead was operated from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Owens (Uncle Danny) show with their children, Mrs. Buddle Owens Martin and Dr. Byron Owens in front of their home. The site of this property is located between the residence of Mrs. Betty Newland and Mrs. Bernard Riddle.

OLD AND NEW. The above photo shows the Brodhead Baptist Church (on the right) after it had erected it's new church building. The building on the left is the old church which is still standing however the "new" church burned in 1928. The first church was being used for a Masonic Hall at the time this picture was made about 60 years ago. Since that time, of course, the church has erected a new brick church.

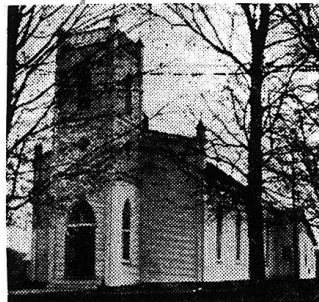

The old Brodhead Stave Yard used to be quite a busy place with keeping the area supplied with wood for their staves. The above photo, is about 70 years old and is present the location of a garage operated by Albert Martin.

Another business no longer in existence is the Brodhead Lumber Yard shown above as it looked some 70 years ago. The yard was located in the center of town near to the railroad site.

WINKLER'S MILL. A very essential part of any community during this same era was the mill which processed a very important product. The mill was located at the foot of Hill's Hill.

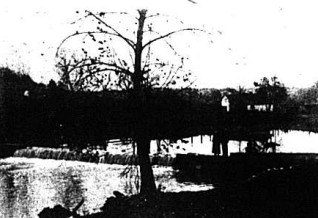

R. S. Martin was one of the committee which helped to build the original Brodhead Christian Church and was an elder in the church. The building is presently in use but has been remodeled.

food or water when he was taken to a hospital. His recovery left him a cripple for life, but like the true and gallant soldier that he was, he wanted to remain with the army, and he was made a recruiting officer which position he held till the surrender. He then returned to his devastated home where he remained till 1869, and in the mean time having married Miss Sallye B. Jones, a most estimable woman, when with his wife and brother Mr. S. H. Martin, he came to this county and located near Brodhead and in which vicinity he remained during the balance of his life. After coming to this county Mr. Martin followed, farming for a few years. He then began, in a small way the tobacco business. Recently one of his customers that owed him a bill lost his store by fire. He had no insurance and was unable to pay his debts. He asked his creditors for a compromise and submitted his offer to Mr. Martin, as well as all his other creditors. Mr. Martin's reply was: "Yes, I will accept the compromise and will give the amount that is coming to me to my customer. Mr. who had the misfortune to lose his goods by fire." This little incident tells the character of man Mr. Martin was during the whole course of his eventful life.

GATHERING PLACE. It seems that wherever a photographer showed up in the old days he could always be certain of a crowd as witnessed by the above photo of the old drug store in Brodhead which was owned by Joe Watson. Mr. Watson was the father of Mrs. J. D. Henderson Sr., of Mt. Vernon. Identifiable in the picture is Fred Durham sitting atop the barrel.

The dam on Nigger Creek was used to supply the needs of the L & W Railroad steam engine trains. The old railroad trestle can be seen in the background of the picture. With the coming of Diesel engines the water supply was needed no longer.
