IN MEMORY OF
It has been one long year ago today since our loving son, Ernest, passed away. He is gone but not forgotten. We still think of him each day. But God saw cause to take him from us. We still miss him and we hope some day to meet him again where we will never more part. He is sadly missed by his father, mother, brothers, and sisters.

The Federal Land Bank of Louisville is the clearinghouse for all Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee associations. Edgar J. Oest (Lander) has been president of the Louisville firm since 1959.

The first loan by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, which had received its charter from the Federal Government on March 23, 1917, was made to a farmer in Hardin County on May 24, 1917, and the historical significance of that loan has grown with the years.

The first loan by the Standford Bank was made in October, 1917, according to Miss Gilliland.

She said there are 517 loans at present in the six-county area that the Standford Bank serves. According to a member of the Federal Land Bank System, contributions to agricultural advancement in the United States and to the welfare of hundreds of thousands of individuals who depend on the soil for their livelihood have been entirely incalculable.

ALL ABOUT FLOWERS

A LUCKY FIND. 4-LEAF CLOVER
Find a four-leaf clover, and all the good things you wish for come true. This superstition stems from the "luck" of the Irish. Naturally, the Shamrock would be the flower of the country in Ireland.

Be careful when you're looking for four-leaf clovers—if you find one with five leaves, it's bad luck.

We don't try to leave at our shop. We supply only the finest flowers that are available. We take pride in preparing every arrangement with special care.

the Standford's location for the entire 50 years, and little had been done during the past to improve the appearance until the past year.

Now, with the attractive new exterior and front entrance, the new inside, the building to offer the least, is one of the most attractive in Standford.

The exterior has been constructed of old brick with black wrought iron trim. The interior has also been furnished with that period of furniture. The outer office has been paneled in a peach wood, and the furniture is hardwood maple, with upholstered furniture and carpeting of soft green.

Colson's office has also been decorated in Early American style, with a gold and green color scheme. Two large murals were painted on the walls of his office by Jeris Bell Armstrong of Harrodsburg. Miss Gilliland said the murals were the first that large that she had seen. She said the two for Colson's office and one for the outer office in six and one-half hour.

The main office mural pictures a winding country road with tall red stone fences along the sides and in the background are houses, a windmill, a bridge and a church. The mural is typical of what one could have seen during a trek through the country several years ago.

Both murals in Colson's office are farm scenes, and one contains an old red brick summer mansion, which Miss Gilliland estimated is located in Pulaski County. However, is not the landscaping of the Colson place.

"RATE CHANGE"
package features major reductions but has small increases for some interstate call under 24 miles. The changes would include:
The 8 1/2 hour span of the present night rate will be extended to 12 hours. It will extend from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. each weekday, plus all day both Saturday and Sunday. At the longest distance, the rate is $1.00 for a three-minute station-to-station call.
The "After 7 and Weekend" rate also will apply all day on Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day, July 4th and Labor Day. The effect in 1968 will be 109 days - Saturdays, Sundays and holidays - when the "After 7 and Weekend" rate applies.
The present evening rate period will begin an hour earlier, becoming 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. each weekday and will be named "After 5."
The rate for maximum distance will be lowered from $1.50 to $1.25 for the first three minutes of a station-to-station call.
Daytime station rates beyond 468 miles will be lowered and the maximum for a call across the country will drop from $2.00 to $1.75 for the first three minutes. The new "Weekday" station rates will apply from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
A new "Midnight to 7" special dial rate will be introduced, featuring a three minute charge of 75 cents maximum for a call across the country. The rate will apply from midnight to 7 a.m., seven days a week, for station-to-station calls dialed by the customer from non-coastal telephones. Credit card, collect, or other calls needing operator assistance will not be included. The new "Midnight to 7" special dial rate and the extension of the night rate will be of special benefit to both residence and business users on the Pacific coast in placing calls to the East coast.
Person-to-person rates will also be lowered. The maximum day-time rate for three minutes will drop from $3.50 to $3.30. After 5 p.m., the maximum will be reduced from $3.00 to $2.85 for the first three minutes.

Mt. Vernon Red Devils Basketball Season Begins

Mt. Vernon High School basketball coach Jack Laswell beginning his twentieth year as basketball coach at Mt. Vernon, has been practicing the Red Devils hard for the past two weeks in an attempt to get the boys ready for their home opener against the tough Barbourville Tigers. The Tigers are rated as one of the top teams in the 13th Region this year.

Coach Laswell lost four regulars from last year's squad with the chief loss probably being all-district guard Jerry Hodges. The 1967-68 edition of the Red Devils will be a small inexperienced group of boys with the average height being 5 foot 11 inches. "Although this group of boys may be improving with every game," Coach Laswell stated. "Positions are wide open and I have been switching players to different positions. It looks like the center position will be manned by Barry Renner or David McCaulley with either Billy Helton, Gary Allen, or Rudy Burdette at the forward positions. The guard positions are up for grabs between Howard Saylor, Jesse Powell, Paul Kirby, Dale Coffey, and James Phillips.

BHS Tigers Win First

The Brothead Tigers journeyed to Hindman Friday, November 3 and captured their first season win from the Yellow Jackets by a score of 59 to 54. This was a rather surprising victory since Brothead was expected to encounter some trouble this season having lost all five of their starters from last year's team.

According to Coach Billy Riddle, "This was a team victory, all the boys played very well. Some played a little better than expected, some notas well as expected." The team stayed in Hindman Friday night and returned home Saturday morning. (Cont. To Page 5)

Blue Devils Defeat Memorial

The Livingston Blue Devils were successful in their first game of the season Tuesday night when they defeated Memorial High School 60 to 56 in a game played at Memorial. The Blue Devils had to come from behind after being held at the end of all the first three quarters.

"We were well pleased with the overall play of the boys but we need more work on defense and rebounding." Coach Preston Parrett said. The boys played poorly the first half but came back (Cont. To Page 5)

On the local scene, Republican Robert Cromer was elected Rockcastle County Tax Commissioner to fill the vacancy left by Arthur Hale, who resigned shortly after taking office in January of 1966. Cromer defeated his Democratic opponent David Henderson by a majority of about 2000 votes. Mr. Cromer will take office immediately upon certification.

Federal Land Bank Holds Open House

A salute and congratulations to the Federal Land Bank Association of Stanford during its observance of the 50th Anniversary of the Federal Land Bank System, of which it is a member, is being extended by friends and patrons of the organization. The organization is not only observing the golden year, but will also celebrate on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock with an open house for which every effort to attend should be made by the anniversary and recent remodeling and decorating of its facilities on the Courthouse Square, Lancaster Street. Jeffrey Colson, manager of the association, has been in his present capacity since Dec. 1, 1946, the day he was hired. At that time the firm was called the Pioneer National Farm Loan Association with a loan account of $350,000. Today the account totals about eight million dollars. Miss Virginia Gilliland is the office assistant, and has been with the association since 1944. According to Miss Gilliland the association has only had four managers, formerly called secretaries, during the 50 years it has been in existence. Kelly J. Francis was the first secretary-treasurer for Lincoln County and began his work in 1917. A portrait of Mr. Francis made in 1917 has been given to the organization as a gift in observance. (Cont. AMERICAN LIFE IN THE YEAR 2000

The year 2000 no longer looms like an imagination in science fiction. In fact, most people 45 years old or younger have a good chance of still being active by the year 2000, and having only about 32 years distant, but the changes between now and then will be spectacular in a great many ways.

WHAT WORKERS MAY EXPECT

A new study of the year 2000, supported by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Corning Glass Works Foundation, takes more than a casual view of what the nation and their families can anticipate for the beginning of the next millennium. Many of the projections are worth contemplating, especially by those young enough to become socially and economically involved in what lies ahead when the 20th century gives way to the 21st.

First of all, family income is expected to be substantially higher with enough people in the upper bracket to create a kind of "gentleman's" class. . . those with sufficient means to lead a life of leisure. Even those who do work may be on the job only four days a week, and for a lot shorter day. This will come as a shock to the businessmen of today who is so high-pressure that he does not even take time off for vacations. But the study figures that by the year 2000 employees will be working 147 days a year, getting 218 days off!

TIME AND MONEY TO BURN
 Disposable income will continue to be the key to the degree of a nation's prosperity and level of living standards. While we have seen tremendous advances in this factor in recent years, far more solid gains are likely by the end of the century. Disposable income per capita by the year 2000 may range from $4,900 to $9,000. Import of this forecast is that that typical family is expected to be as well off then as the relatively high-income family is today.

Filling up leisure time to advantage will be a big problem, and youngsters will be encouraged to take up interest outside their career choices. Sports, music, theater, and art will be widely pursued. It is even implied that museums, theaters, and other cultural centers may be at such a premium that time will have to be rationed to make them available for all interested.

TELEPHONE RATE CHANGE EFFECTIVE

The upcoming rate change represents a continuing effort to reduce long distance costs. In 1955, a call between New York and San Francisco cost $20.70. Reductions followed and by 1940 the day rate was $4.00. The dramatic $1.00 night rate came in 1963 for calls "After 9" followed in 1965 by "After 8". In this 52 year period, the customer price index has tripled, but the lowest rate for a transcontinental call is now less than 1/20 of the 1915 level. The telephone user will benefit in these ways, lower charges on many calls when rates apply and a new "Midnight to 7" special dial rate with a 75-cent maximum within the U.S. continental limits. already on the horizon. Flying platforms could be in use for local trips, even for calls on neighbors. It may be easy to take a half-hour rocket trip to Europe. Travel wardrobes — as well as "street wear" — will be largely made of paper, to be thrown away after a few wearings. This is already being tried out, but will be prevalent by then.
LIFE SPAN 150 YEARS?
 Wide immunization against more and more diseases will have lengthened the life span even further. Health programs and dietary controls will be workaday, plus the more frequent resort to artificial or transplanted organs and automatic heart devices. People could be living to the age of 150 by the year 2000, or very soon thereafter, and the population of the U.S. may well total 318 million persons.

SWINE PRODUCERS TO DISCUSS NUTRITION

The nutritional requirements of swine will be the topic of discussion at a meeting to be held at the Mt. Vernon Courthouse Monday night at 7:00 p.m. Dr. Virgil Hays of the University of Kentucky Animal Science Department will be the principal speaker. Before coming to Kentucky this year, Dr. Hays was connected with Iowa University for ten years. During his time at Iowa, he was in charge of swine nutrition research. He is considered not only a national authority in this field but is consulted internationally on swine nutrition problems. Rockcastle County farmers are beginning an intensified swine production program sponsored jointly by the Rockcastle Livestock Improvement Association, the Agricultural Extension Service, and the Rockcastle County Board of Education through the Vocational Agricultural Adult Program. Roy Brown, President of the Livestock Improvement Association said, "Our farmers are fortunate to have a man like Dr. Hays working in Kentucky and especially fortunate to have him meet with hog producers in our county." Clay Colson, Chairman of the Livestock Improvement Association Swine Committee said, "Feeder pig production promised to be a profitable enterprise for farmers in this area who are willing to follow sound swine management practices." To help in bringing producers the most up to date information on swine the association is sponsoring a monthly meeting during the coming year on swine production. Men outstanding in their particular field are being contacted for each of these meetings. All hog producers are urged to attend these meetings on the second Monday of each month.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY STOCK POISONING FROM BUCKEYE TREES REPORT
ED BY UK

Several deaths of cattle which ate nuts of the buckeye tree were reported this week by Dr. M.W. Crowe of the U.K. veterinary science department.

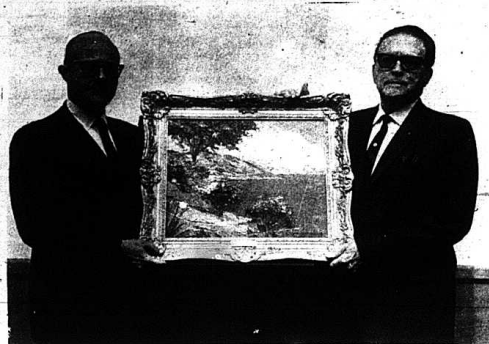

"Most of the deaths were in central Kentucky counties," he said this week, "and most of the animals on which we performed autopsies were young cattle. All the cases we checked were bovine."

The nuts, picked up in pastures by cattle, contain a poisonous alkaloid. Little is known of the action of the poison but apparently it affects the nervous system, Dr. Crowe said.

Some of the animals we 'posted' contained several gallons of the nuts in the rumen. We think that with pastures low, the animals may have foraged the nuts for something, to eat. This week's rain in this area may relieve the situation somewhat if pastures improve."

Affected animals become weak and wobbly in their gait; there also is a peculiar gait to the forelimbs, Dr. Crowe said, "described by one observer as if the animals were walking on a hot substance." The animals eventually go down, and may die if they have eaten large quantities of the nuts.

One veterinarian reported to Dr. Crowe he treated 12 cases in one herd in one day. All the animals survived. Rake up the nuts from pastures, or keep cattle out of these fields when pasture is low, Dr. Crowe advised. Call a veterinarian if ani-

ANIMALS NOW, AND MANY FARMERS CAN USE THE EXTRA FEED.

Stock areas heavily, if grass is thick and tall, to graze it down quickly. 2. About five to 10 cows per acre will take care of heavy-growth fields in a few days of confinement. 3. Take soil samples now, and follow best recommendations on what to put on the fields. Put lime, phosphate and potash on as soon as possible; now, or just after grazing-off.

When tobacco is stripped from the stalk and readied for market, the farmer naturally thinks of the potential money value of that leaf.

But he has a sizable dollar reserve left in the barn in the stalks left after stripping, says, Ira E. Massie, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist. An estimated 175,000 tons of stalks will contain 9.8 million pounds of nitrogen, 923,000 of phosphorus, and 13 million pounds of potash.

Value of those nutrients are an estimated $2 million, if they had been bought in commercial fertilizers.

To conserve this valuable fertilizer: Spread the stalks on sod fields this winter or keep the stalks dry until next spring's spreading time. "Letting the stalks stay outside without cover and exposed to rain and snow means farmer would lose about 61 percent of the nitrogen in the stalks, 38 percent of the phosphorus, 83 percent of the potassium and about 41 percent of the organic matter, from leaching," Mr. Massie notes. "But if spread in late fall or winter on lawns, pastures, meadows or small grain fields, living root systems will pick up most of the nutrients as they leach from the stalks. The loss is less when stalks are spread in spring."

Massie has cautions on using stalks or stems. Stems should be sterilized before going onto tobacco land. Don't use stalks on tobacco land if a mosaic-susceptible variety was grown this crop year. An stalks from black-shank fields should NEVER be put back on tobacco land.

Whooping Cough --- Your Youngsters Can Be Protected By Immunization

Whooping cough is an acute infectious communicable disease which involves the respiratory tract. The characteristic cough accompanied by a whooping sound is almost diagnostic. The American Medical Association's fact sheet on whooping cough reports that the disease was known as early as 1578 and occurred in epidemic form in England in the 17th century. The organism responsible is a rod-shaped bacterium known as Haemophilus pertussis which is found in the discharge coughed from the respiratory passages by a sick person. Pertussis is highly contagious and is easily spread from person to person. The disease may occur at any season but is most common in late winter, spring and summer. Most cases appear at ages under five years. One attack usually produces immunity. Vaccination against whooping cough is effective. Many school districts require vaccination against whooping cough and several other childhood diseases before children may enroll in school.

Symptoms include inflammation of the respiratory tract and much secretion of mucus, which becomes quite thick and sticky as the disease progresses. Coughing may be prolonged and violent and accompanied by a whooping sound. Sometimes the child may vomit after a toughing spell. Convalescence usually begins after four weeks. Very young children are most seriously affected. Medical care, isolation and good nursing care are essential. 10/29/67
