THE FAMILY LAWYER

The Catch-All Crime

Sassing a policeman. Using obscene language in a church. Changing a school bell in the dead of night. Each of these acts, even though different in nature, has at one time or another been held to be the same offense: "breach of the peace." In fact, every crime used to be described as a breach of the peace. Gradually, over the years, emphasis has shifted to the special categories of crime, like "murder," "arson" or "theft."

But it is still true today that when an act does not fit into a special category, it may nevertheless be punishable under the general heading of breach of the peace—the catch-all crime.

Being only a misdemeanor, breach of the peace is often thought of as a pretty minor matter. True, the penalty is minor, but basic constitutional issues may be involved.

Such as: When does a lawful demonstration turn into an unlawful breach of the peace? When does lawful persuasion turn into an unlawful breach of the peace?

In one case, a member of the religious sect offended two pedestrians in the street by trying to sell them his controversial literature.

However, when charged with a breach of the peace, he was exonerated on the ground that he had used no force and had gone away when rebuffed. The court said the preaching of religious doctrine is given broad leeway under the First Amendment.

But in another case, religious zealots invaded a hotel on a Sunday morning, pounded on various doors, and insisted on talking to people who wanted only to sleep. This time, the court decided that persuasion had gone too far. Finding the defendants guilty of a breach of the peace, the court said: "We are aware of no decision that freedom of religion carries with it a freedom to disturb the peace of others in the manner shown here."

In short, breach of the peace marks out a vital boundary between one man's liberty and another man's tranquility. It is society's device for guarding "that invisible sense of security for which all governments are instituted."

Watch Preparation Of Burley Tobacco

When farmers get ready to take down their burley and prepare it for market, good ones follow certain rules.

These practices keep them from losing some of the fruits of their hard labor in growing season, says Ira Massie, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist.

(1) Take hanging tobacco down at the right time. Fat stems (uncured ones) should not be in any part of the plant. If they are, use heavy fires to dry them out in the barn.

(2) Strip tobacco when it is ready. If you leave it hanging after it reaches stripping condition, the leaves will darken and probably be downgraded for a lower support price.

(3) Get your stripping rooms in good shape. They should be comfortable, properly heated, well lighted and have wall presses. New stripping lights are available this year; they are called "all electric tobacco lights."

(4) Sort leaves into the five basic grades—flying, lugs, bright leaf, redleaf, and tips. Mixed grades probably will bring lower prices on the auction floor.

(5) Press tobacco lightly. Buyers don't have time to examine caked tobacco carefully.

Tear Up Grass Fields Now

If grass fields to be renovated have been "soil tested" and fertilized according to test recommendations, next step in renovating is to tear up existing sod.

Several rules should be followed in this work, says

Warren Thompson, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist. They are:

(1) Use a disk or a field tiller. Add weight (when using disks) to make a disk harrow take the ground; set the blades nearly straight to chop the sod rather than just "cutting it loose." In most fields, it will take two times over to complete the job.

(2) On a field tiller, once over the field will usually be enough. This is especially so for weak stands or orchardgrass or timothy.

(3) Cut up 50 percent or more of the sod. Leave the ground rough. On slopes, cut on the contour to avoid erosion.

(4) Just before seeding (in mid-February to mid-March), smooth the ground down.

Pasture renovation is cheap, easy and rewarding in forage yields gained.

PROGRESS ON PURCHASE PARKWAY—Grade and drain on the entire 57-mile Jackson Purchase Parkway is 82 per cent complete says State Highway Commissioner Mitchell Tindler and all of the paving contracts have been awarded. This stretch of the superhighway is under construction just north of the U. S. 68 interchange in Marshall County. The route runs from the Tennessee line near Fulton to an eventual junction with I-24 between Paducah and Kentucky Dam Village State Park.

DUE IN 1969—This architect's drawing shows the new physical education facility which Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, hopes to have ready for use at the start of the fall term in 1969. The building will contain physical education teaching rooms, academic classrooms and a large public assembly arena. The slanted roof on the opposite side will serve as a football stadium with 15,600 spectator seats. The playing field can be seen at the right rear. Cost of the facility is estimated at $3.8 million.

GREATER DEMAND SEEN FOR BURLEY TOBACCO

Greater demand for burley tobacco could result from manufacturers' efforts to produce a low-nicotine cigarette. Tom Reed, tobacco marketing specialist in the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, says.

The cigarette companies will place strong demands on flyings and lugs from the 1967 tobacco crop, he says. These grades have less nicotine than the other leaves and may play an even more prominent role in blending of the so-called safer cigarette, Reed says.

Reed cautioned growers: "Until extensive barn samplings are made by cigarette manufacturers to determine nicotine levels of this year's crop, we cannot be sure of a strong demand for all grades. It is quite possible that our red leaf and tip grades may not be easy to dispose of because they have undergone chemical damage and have retained a rather high nicotine level."

Carefully sorting of grades will be profitable for the grower, Reed thinks. He advised them to be especially careful not to mix the "thin" grades, flyings and lugs, with the leaf grades. This could very well result in a mixed grade that is unacceptable to the buyer because such a mixture indicates a high nicotine content.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

ADJUSTING TO THE SKILLED LABOR SHORTAGE
 For quite a while, manpower shortages have been a way of life for employers in many parts of the country. Some of the smartest labor relations men looked early in the game for ways around the problem. But too many simply let things slide, thinking the picture would change if they waited. Demand for men and women of high skills, however, continues to increase, and managements both large and small are having to face up to the dilemma.

STRATEGIES FOR FINDING GOOD WORKERS
 Industrial executives have plenty of difficult questions to answer, perhaps more than ever before. But when top businessmen get together today, the talk almost always settles down to the best methods of finding employees to man the production lines. Most localities have plenty of jobless people, but these are usually people entirely without training, — and too often without ambition. That is why schools and colleges are being besieged by job "recruiters" offering contracts and big pay to boys and girls even before they have completed their education. There are only limited numbers of such potentially top-drawer job aspirants. The most successful personnel officials are those who uncover manpower sources where there don't seem to be any, who have the ingenuity and drive to learn from others how they have managed to staff their plants and offices. This is an excellent time to note how some of the more forward-looking firms are maintaining adequate crews in areas where others are searching in vain.

for an inexperienced applicant to be hired and directed to the type of on-job training best suited to his abilities. Regular recruitment systems — using newspapers (still considered most rewarding) TV, radio, billboards, and brochures — are being steadily augmented by what might be termed "dapperation" techniques.

Social Security News

James Mustian, Officer-in-Charge, of the Somerset Social Security Office has announced that his office is now accepting enrollments under the Supplemental Medical Insurance portion of Medicare. This is the part of Medicare which helps pay doctors' bills and other medical services not covered under the hospital insurance portion of Medicare. Over 90% of eligible persons are already enrolled, stated Mustian, however, there are some who delayed filing beyond their initial enrollment period. Others who turned down this insurance now have an opportunity to reconsider their decision. The Social Security law provides that the individual pays only half of his premium with the government paying the other half. So far, the rate for each person has been $3 per month. "This will continue at least through March, 1968," said Mustian. "Studies are now going on as to whether the present rate will have to be increased and by how much. Premium rates for 1968 and 1969 will be announced before January."

Mustian noted that medical insurance has been very well accepted in the area. "Everyone hates to pay premiums, but when the first large doctor bill or surgeon's fee comes along, the value of this insurance becomes more readily apparent."

The enrollment period runs through March 31, 1968. Anyone wishing to do so may also terminate his medical insurance during this period. Termination requests filed between now and December 31, 1967 will be effective December 31st. Requests filed between January 1, 1968 and March 31, 1968 will be effective March 31st. Most people, Mustian stated who are considering termination of this insurance will probably want to wait until Congress has finished considering current legislation to see what effect it will have on their coverage.

The Social Security Office is located in the Tradewind Shopping Center. Office hours are at 4:45 AM to 5:00 PM Monday through Friday and 9:00 to 12:00 Noon on Saturday.

TRAINING PROGRAMS ON MOST LISTS

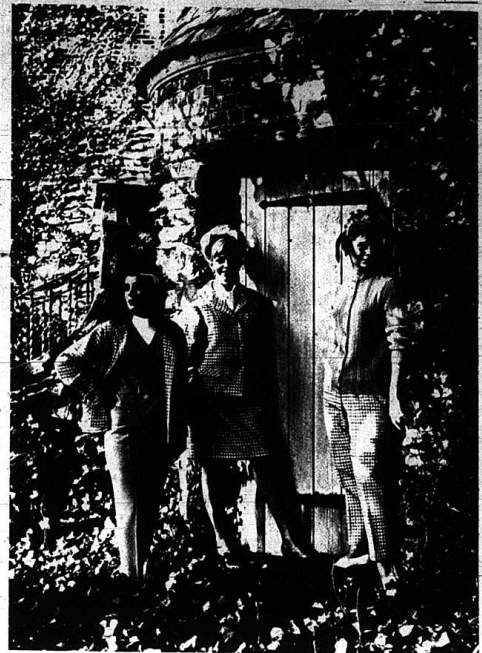

Upgrading already established workers from within has proved an effective way of strengthening the quality of a company's position. Then comes, of course, the necessity for filling in again at the bottom. Most establishments have what is known as an "open door" policy, with the unskilled encouraged to come to work and enroll immediately in a company training program. The percentage of breakthroughs may be small, but they are worthwhile where skilled job aspirants are virtually non-existent.

On large concern has 10 plants in critical labor shortage cities. It has recently designed a new policy that is said to work well: All of its employee-testing procedures have been re-evaluated, making it easier

New Grower Allotments Now Being Accepted

Applications for 1968 new grower tobacco allotments for Burley, Dark Air-cured and Fire-cured are now being accepted in all county ASCS offices. Mr. Freeman M. Hockensmith, Chairman of Kentucky State ASC Committee, said today.

Mr. Hockensmith pointed out that to qualify for a new grower tobacco allotment on a farm all of these requirements must be met by the applicant:

1. He must own the farm.
2. He must operate the farm.
3. He must have had at least two years experience out of the past 5 years, 1963-67 in the production of tobacco of the type for which he is applying as operator, sharetenant, share cropper, etc. Day labor cannot be considered.
4. He must not own or operate another farm on which a tobacco allotment of any kind will be established in 1968.
5. The farm on which the application is being made must not have been part of a farm in the past 5 years that could have received some allotment by virtue of a division.
6. The applicant must receive more than 50% of his total gross income from the farm.

Any farmer interested in applying for a new grower allotment should request an application from his local ASCS county office and file it with that office on or before February 15, 1968. Mr. Hockensmith said.

High-scoring Nancy High School was held by the Livingston Blue Devils to 77 points in last Friday night games between the two schools. Nancy had been scoring over 100 points a game and are undefeated.

According to Coach Preston Parrett, "the boys made a valiant comeback in the fourth period when with only four minutes to go, the Devils had cut the lead to eight points but three strays fouled out and they rallied fell short. In the first half, the Devils took 29 shots but could hit only 6. Nancy took 20 and hit 10. The cold shooting Devils missed 13 foul shots in the second half, which was another factor in the half-time score. In the second half, the Devils hit 16 and missed 19 while Nancy connected on 19 out of 30 attempts. However, the Devils cleared the boards the ball 35 to 29 times for Nancy."

Feed Grain Program Announced For 1968

Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, has announced a 1968 voluntary grain program which aims at diverting at least 30 million acres—10 million more that were diverted in 1967—in order to change this year's 2 to 3 percent over-production to a 2 to 3 percent under-production next year.

At the same time, he announced that price-support loans on 1967 crops may be extended for the first time on grains in commercial storage as well as grains in farm storage.

Farmers will be encouraged to divert the additional acreage through the offer of diversion payments at 45 percent of the total support ($1.35 per bushel for corn) times the farm's established yield. Average per-acre payments will be slightly higher than in 1967. Rates for price-support loans and payments for 1968 will continue at 1967 level.

USDA estimates that farmers participating in the new program will benefit not only from improved payments but also from higher market prices. "However," Secretary Freeman said, "the success or failure of the 1968 program depends in the last analysis upon farmer participation. I urge feed grain producers to sign up in the program. Only in this way can we avoid national overproduction." By diverting at least 30 million acres from crop production to conserving use, feed grain farmers can reduce stocks and gain much stronger prices.

"This is the farmer's program. It has worked in the past because farmers cooperated. I am confident they will cooperate again this year. The 1968 program will also help firm up 1967 crop prices if growers use the price-support loan program for orderly marketing throughout the year."

Use Correct Address Postmaster Urges

Postmaster James O. Smith today urged the citizens of Mt. Vernon to be sure to use the correct address on their letters and packages going to service agencies to avoid serious delays in delays in delivery.

Postmaster Smith reported that millions of letters and packages going overseas have been delayed because they were insufficiently addressed. He said that one of the biggest problems had been the failure of persons to include the very important 5 digit APO or FPO number in the military address. Mail not containing (From To Page 7)

Mrs. Estil McBea has furnished us with some more articles concerning Broadhead which we thought would be of interest to our readers. These articles concern a description of Broadhead as it was around 1900 as written up in an editorial which appeared in the Mt. Vernon Signal at that time. Also we have reprinted an article concerning the coming of the railroad to Mt. Vernon and it is explained in this article how Broadhead got its name.

Following the coming of the railroad in 1868 the town assumed the name of Broad-head and began to blossom like the rose.

Passing over a period of forty years we find an editorial written in the Mt. Vernon Signal by editor E.S. Albright, in the year 1900. For the purpose of this publication, it would be hard to improve upon this intimate picture of a town and its citizens, as given by a friend and neighbor.

"If there be a place on this terrestrial globe where a man can thoroughly satisfy his appetite, it is at the Frith Hotel, in Broadhead which is run by that genial and accommodating host, Fullen Francisco.

"Just south, by the beautiful hill over looking the village, can be found the other of the two good hotels of that thrifty town, the Albright House of which J.H. Albright is the owner and proprietor.

"Broadhead is full of business and her merchants have a splendid trade. There is the firm of Frith & Dunn, composed of J.G. Frith, of this county, and that ideal salesman, Harve Dunn who came here several years ago from Danville, Wis., "Tweed" Ham and "Deacon" Dunn waiting on their customers we can see how they came to have such an enormous trade.

"At J. Thomas Cherry's you find an immense stock of goods, in fact, everything from a hairpin to a wagon or a cross-cut saw. M. Cherry, John Robbins, and Miss Susie Hilton are always ready to wait on you and that elegant lady, Mrs. Cherry is always ready to charge it if you haven't got money.

"Woodward & Hilton also run a general store at which you can get almost anything you want.

"Herman Frith, son of Mr. T.S. Frith, runs a store at his father's old stand and is ready at any time to accommodate a customer.

"Colyer & Owens compose a strong business firm, although Mr. Colyer has been sick for some time. They not only do a general merchandising business but have an undertaking establishment in connection.

"Broadhead is blessed with an able and distinguished lot of physicians and preachers. Among the physicians are Doctors Benton, Clark, Burdett and Gravely. The able and eloquent divines are Rev. A.J. Pike and Rev. Hendrickson.

"There are two drug stores, one is conducted by Mr. Joe E. Watson and the other by Dr. Clark.

"Joe Farmer is the accommodating L.N. agent during the day and W.H. Pettus holds the place at night, while David Hurt keeps the track in splendid repair.

"To prove that the town has public spirited citizens, the Rockcastle Fair Association gives an annual fair for the benefit of our people. J. Thomas Cherry is president of the association and hustling J.W. Tate is secretary. The fair is growing stronger all the time and more popular it will be more successful this year than ever before.

"The town has good streets, well graded, three churches and a splendid school. The outlook is very bright for the coming of the Louisville and Southern, running from Burgin to Jellico, and with another railroad, Broadhead will be one of the very best towns in southeastern Kentucky."

When the railroad reached Mount Vernon in 1868, and was the terminus for two years, awaiting the completion of the "big fill" just east of town, a post office was established at the junction of Boone's Fork and Negro Creek, at the source of Dix river, at the railroad station there, and named Broadhead. Thru a left handed speller or oversight too many a's were used in the name. The station was named for a contractor who did the grading of the railroad through that locality, whose name was Broadhead. The post office was continued under its first name until today. The post office department at Washington has arranged to comply with a petition from the patrons of the office to give an April fool present by dropping one of the a's and have the designation of the office read Broadhead. The citizens of that bustling little town are "broad-minded" but declaim being broad or big headed.

Winter Tomatoes Brighten Winter Meals

Formerly, when Jack Frost came, fresh tomatoes went, not to be enjoyed until the next season's harvest. Now high quality fresh tomatoes are shipped from our own southern states and from the modern farms in neighboring Mexico, and thus tomatoes are available in winter as well as in summer. Fresh tomatoes are rich in vitamins C and A, plus other vitamins and minerals, but are low in calories.

POTATO STUFFED TOMATOES

8 fresh tomatoes	1/16 teaspoon ground nutmeg
2 teaspoons salt	1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine	2 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 tablespoon flour	1 cup diced Mozzarella cheese
3/4 cup milk	1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley
1 egg yolk	1/2 cup fine bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon basil leaves

Wash tomatoes, cut a slice from stem end and scoop out inside seeds. Sprinkle cavities with salt and invert on plate to drain. Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in flour. Remove from heat and add milk. Stir and cook until the mixture is slightly thick, 5 minutes. Mix egg yolk with a little of hot sauce and add to remaining hot sauce. Add seasoning. Stir and cook 1/2 minute. Mix with potatoes and cheese. Spoon mixture into tomato cups. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and fine bread crumbs. Place in baking pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes.

The first secular song by an American was "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free," composed in 1759 by Francis Hopkinson.

NEW APPALACHIAN ROAD—Governor Edward T. Breathitt addressed a crowd of 2,000 near Hazard recently, during dedication ceremonies for a 26-mile section of Ky. 15 between Hazard and Jackson. Breathitt said that by the end of this year, 46 miles of new Kentucky roads built under the Appalachian highway program will be open to traffic—more than any other state.

DEDICATION—The Western Kentucky University choir takes part in the recent dedication of nine new buildings, completed on the campus at Bowling Green since 1965. In the background is one of the new buildings—Rodes-Harlin Hall—a nine-story dormitory housing 400 women. Other new facilities dedicated during the day-long ceremony, include an administration building, a science complex and planetarium, and library. Some 200 special guests, including Governor Edward T. Breathitt, attended the ceremonies.

If you were a mental patient could you recover in a place like this?

It is cold in the winter, and damp, and very real. It's a Kentucky mental hospital.

There are quite a few mental hospitals as old, as obsolete and as unsuitable for modern care and treatment as this one.

They're often badly equipped, understaffed and overcrowded, the remains of an out-dated system.

If you were a patient in one of them, chances are you'd recover. Eventually. Because the staff does care. And the doctors and nurses do their best.

But what's needed for the best treatment is not just new buildings, but a totally new plan, treatment that will be available in your own community hospital or clinic, or by your own doctor.

But then, you aren't a mental-patient are you? You can think clearly. So think about these outrageously out-of-date institutions. Then do something about it.

Write your state representative or state senator now. Remind them that one out of every ten people in Kentucky is suffering from some form of mental illness, right now. They need help. Point out that facilities are not good enough.

If they want your support in the future, maybe they'll do something about it.

aids. Last year's eligibles, including those who were selected for a summer job, must take this new examination. This will provide an equal chance for all applicants to compete for one of these short-term non-career jobs.

The Civil Service Examination will be given on four dates: December 9, January 13, February 10, and March 9. Since Federal agencies will begin making selections after the results of the second test have been processed, interested applicants should apply early.

Jobs for which the Summer Employment Examination is not required include those for which a college degree or equivalent experience is needed, so-called blue-collar jobs, and certain jobs in the Departments of Agriculture and Interior, such as park ranger and forest technician.

Complete information about all summer job opportunities and application procedures may be found in the Civil Service Commission Announcement (No. 414) "Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies." This issuance is available at high school counseling offices, college placement offices, U. S. Civil Service Commission offices and most post offices.

Summer Employment Opportunities

By: Cong. Tim Lee Carter

Each year there are a limited number of opportunities for temporary jobs with Federal agencies. These jobs are filled on a merit basis. Some jobs require eligibility in the Summer Employment Examination. Other jobs do not require eligibility in the written test, but are filled through selection plans administered by agencies accepting applications for summer employment. Under these plans, selection is based on appropriate education and/or experience for the job to be filled.

Jobs requiring eligibility in the Summer Employment Examination are: seasonal assistance with the Post Office Department and other jobs common to most Federal agencies, such as typists, stenographers, clerks and engineering and science

STRENGTH IN RESERVE

The Army Reserve by word is training. Constant readiness is its goal. One of every 200 Americans belongs to the Army Reserve and each of them, whether in units or in the Ready Reserve Mobilization Reinforcement Pool, lives by this word. Performing double duty, members of the Army Reserve may wear a bomburg, or a sombrero, or a steelworker's hard hat, or a hard driver's cap, or any one of a dozen other types of civilian headgear as they go about their daily tasks in civilian life. But, during 48 to 72 training assemblies, many of which take up whole weekends, and two weeks each summer, they don't civilian headgear for Army hats. More than 900,000 members of the Ready Reserve may charge into this way. The other two categories of the Army Reserve—Standby and Retired—are not so directly affected, although their ranks swell the total number of Army Reservists to more than one million. The Ready Reserve, first to be called, could be augmented by the Standby and Retired members of the Army Reserve in times of war or other national emergency declared by the Congress. Army Reserve units are diversified. They total 1,575 and run the gamut from 4-man Judge Advocate General detachments to 5,000-man infantry brigades. In between can be found all types of combat, support and service units. Some highly specialized units are found only in the Army Reserve. Others are identical to active Army units. All of them undergo training constantly to achieve and maintain the levels of military proficiency which make a military unit ready for combat.

MRS. STANFORD LEE PEYTON

Vows Spoken Saturday In Lexington Church

The marriage of Miss Cynthia Joan Bransman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bransman, and Stanford Lee Peyton, son of James L. Peyton and the late Mrs. Bonnie Peyton, was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, at the Rosemont Baptist Church.

Dr. O.W. Yates officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

"A" IS FOR APPLE

Fresh juicy apples, tart-sweet in flavor, make for perfect eating out-of-hand or in countless numbers of baked desserts. And one of the easiest and quickest baked desserts is an Apple Betty. This typical mixture of apple slices, soft bread crumbs, spices, and sugar has extra texture and flavor because of the addition of a cup of flaked coconut. Serve warm for best flavor, topped with Hard Sauce Balls that have been rolled in flaked coconut.

COCONUT APPLE BETTY

- 4 cups thinly sliced pared tart apples (4 large apples)
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup Baker's Angel Flake Coconut
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 4 tablespoons butter
- Hard Sauce Balls

Arrange 2 cups of the apples on bottom of greased baking dish. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup of the bread crumbs and 1/2 cup of the coconut. Combine brown sugar, salt, and cinnamon and sprinkle half of mixture over coconut. Dot with 2 tablespoons of the butter. Repeat sprinkling remaining 1/2 cup coconut over top. Cover and bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 10 minutes longer, or until apples are soft. Serve with Hard Sauce Balls. Makes 6 servings.

Hard Sauce Balls. Cream 4 teaspoons butter with 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar until mixture is light and fluffy. Add 1/4 teaspoon brandy or a drop or two of vanilla. Drop by teaspoonfuls into 1/2 cup coconut and roll into little balls. Chill before serving on Apple Betty. Makes about 6 balls.

Charles Markham, organist and Mrs. Robert Averitt, soloist, presented a program of music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of ivory crepe fashioned with an empire bodice with brief Alencon lace sleeves and etched oval neckline. The A-line skirt enhanced with wide inset lace panels was designed with a chapel-length train extending from the shoulders. Her matching ivory veil was held by a lace pearl cluster. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Irvine Byers III, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of moss green velvet with an empire waistline scoop neck and full puff sleeves to the elbow. Her hairpiece was a great illusion held by a green satin bow and she carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums with matching streamers.

The bridesmaids, in identical ensembles, were Mrs. Jim Black, Georgetown, Miss Sarah Coldiron, Stanton, and Mrs. John Renter.

James L. Peyton Jr. served his brothers as best man. Ushers were David Brent, Camden, Thomas Johnson, and Mr. Byers all of Lexington. Junior ushers were Cottrell Peyton, and Marcus Peyton, brothers of the groom.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Miss Janet Mains was in charge of the guest book. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Robert Singer, Mrs. Fred Husak both of Lexington; Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. George Pennington Jr., Frankfort, Mrs. James Peyton, Lexington, and Miss Janet Bader, Lexington.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, and is currently attending Graduate School at the University.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Kentucky in business administration and a member of Delta Sigma Pi. He is presently serving with the United States Army and will be entering Engineering Officers Candidate School at Ft. Belvoir, Va., Nov. 26.

NEWS OF SELECTIVE SERVICE

Q.—I am over 20 years of age and enrolled in my last year of high school. What will be my Selective Service classification?

A.—Your local board may consider you for an occupational deferment to permit you to complete your high school education provided your individual circumstances warrant such action.

Q.—I have just attained my 24th birthday and am entering my 2nd year of undergraduate study at a college. Will I be deferred to continue my studies?

A.—The current Military Selective Service Act makes provision for a one-time statutory deferment (I-S(1)), provided a satisfactory full-time course of instruction is being pursued when reached for induction in the normal manner. If the statutory deferment has been used, Kentucky local boards will postpone induction until the end of the current term.

Q.—Is it true that a draftee has to serve 4 years active duty instead of 2 years if he is drafted after July 1, 1967?

A.—Any registrant inducted into the armed forces through the Selective Service System incurs a 6-year obligation, which consists of 2 years of active duty, 2 years Ready Reserve, and 2 years Standby Reserve.

Aunt Cecilia died of embarrassment

Heaven forbid that she mention a lump on her "chest" to anyone—even her own doctor! She died of breast cancer.

Today, more and more women have adopted the habit of breast self-examination. And a lump on the "chest" sends them to their doctors immediately. They know that early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment could help save their lives.

The American Cancer Society's life-saving film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION demonstrates this easy-to-learn technique. Call your local Unit of the Society for information on where to see it.

this number is: incorrectly addressed.
He said that last year more than 9 million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Of this number, 3 1/2 million pieces failed to include the complete 5 digit APO or FPO number in the address. This "improperly" addressed mail had to be sent to a military locator directory where time-consuming searches were made to determine the proper addresses.
"As the Christmas mail volume" going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 percent over 4 million pounds above last year, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivery to its destination," Postmaster Smith said.

There are four essential elements to an overseas military address. They are:
1. The serviceman's identity - grade, full name, and service number.
2. His military unit - complete.
3. Gateway post office - New York, San Francisco or Seattle.
4. APO or FPO - a 5 digit number.
When any of these elements is missing, the letter or package will be delayed in delivery.

BIG WHEELS—Foster children are very important people in the eyes of the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare. These two have found a home on a farm, but the Child Welfare Department looks everywhere—in country and city—for foster parents for dependent children. Child Welfare Commissioner Maurice A. Harmon says foster homes are especially needed for older children and Negro youngsters.

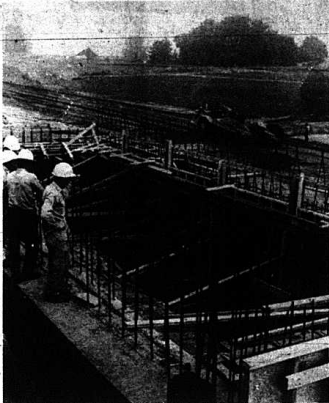

INVITATIONS BACK INTO THE LABOR FORCE

In practically all of the most heavily industrialized centers, employers are trying to get those not currently seeking employment to come into the manpower force. Many firms are making recruiting agents out of their workers by offering them a $50 bond for each new employee they bring in. Other executives are giving trading stamps in substantial numbers, expensive appliances, paid vacation trips, and other unusual incentives to those unearthing job applicants who actually join the personnel rolls.

Attempts are being made to lure mothers back, at least on a part-time basis. One Eastern company has placed in operation a "Mother Shift," which is said to be flourishing. It runs from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., permitting the mother to work while the children are at school and get home in time to greet them and have dinner ready on time. More efficient organizational planning is being emphasized in some places to meet manpower deficiencies. One leading manufacturer stresses a perfect attendance record, granting those who achieve this mark a $50 bond each year; this others spur attendance perfection via gifts and trading stamps. As it appears now, it could be a long time before skilled labor is again easy to come by. Executives who realize this and grapple successfully with the problem will hold the best competitive position.

NEW YORK—Insurance companies in the United States paid nearly $812 million in premium taxes to 50 states in 1966, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Mr. Loyal Adams is a patient in Ft. Logan Hospital in Stanford.

PURCHASE PARKWAY—Workers check interchange work on the Purchase Parkway in Western Kentucky where it will connect with Ky. 307 just north of Fulton. The State Highway Department will have all paving contracts awarded this year, and completion of the 51-mile superhighway is expected next year. The Purchase Parkway runs from Fulton north to U. S. 62 near Kentucky Dam Village State Park.

Hearty Cold Weather Dish Features Canned Chicken Gravy

Are you organized enough to have a separate summer and winter favorite-recipe file? If you would like to start one, here's a perfect first recipe. Mark it "fall and winter." It's a hearty, robust dish—pork chops simmered in canned subtly-seasoned chicken gravy—just perfect for serving the football fans after a nippy afternoon at the stadium.

It's easy to make. First brown the pork chops with mushrooms. Then reach for a can of "saucy" chicken gravy from your pantry shelf. Just open, pour on the convenient sauce. Add a generous sprinkle of ground cloves for an exotic touch and simmer. The velvety-smooth gravy with the real chicken flavor goes far to enhance this hearty fare. Just before serving, add pear wedges to the sauce.

Ideal go-alongs would be scalloped potatoes and a tossed green salad. For dessert, bake a spice cake in a fancy mold and decorate with a butterscotch glaze.

(And for you calorie tabulators, be consoled in the fact that you can conserve calories with at least one item on this menu. Most canned gravies have less than half the calories of their homemade gravy counterparts.)

PORK CHOPS IN SAUCE WITH PEARS AND MUSHROOMS

1 pork chops (about 1 pound)
1/2 pound mushrooms, cut in half (about 1 1/2 cups)
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) chicken gravy
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1 medium pear, cut in 8 wedges

In skillet, brown pork chops and mushrooms in shortening; pour off fat. Stir in gravy and cloves. Cover; cook over low heat 35 minutes. Add pear. Cook uncovered for 10 minutes more; stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.
