"WHERE YOU CAN ALWAYS BUY WITH CONFIDENCE"

NEW YORK (CFN)— "Brides never had it so good!" That's the verdict, however ungrammatical, of home economists comparing the domestic duties of today's newlyweds with those of the brides of yesterday.

Time was when a trip down the aisle was a journey to drudgery and a wedding vow was tantamount to a life sentence of hard labor.

Great-grandma, for example, was expected to spin flax, card wool, quilt and sew, churn butter, bake bread, can vegetables and put up preserves. She ended her day by boiling dishes in a tub atop the wood stove.

An easier time of it was had by the next generation, thanks to electric power, water heaters to provide hot water, refrigeration, gas and electric, canned foods, packaged bread stuffs, bottled milk and condiments.

Homemaking, formerly called housekeeping, was becoming too big for her. There remained but one flaw in Topia—dishes.

Beneficial and superior creature that he is, Man promptly invented the dishwasher and predicted that his bride would live happily ever after.

It was not really a pretty thing to behold.

Man sighed, strove and finally, according to home economists, succeeded. The big news for today's bride is a super dishwasher.

Made by Whirlpool Corp., it does away with scrubbing and pre-rinsing, because two jet-propelled revolving spray arms and a self-cleaning filter continuously collect food particles and flush them away. It washes dishes—and pans—spotlessly clean.

Not only functional, its decor or colors, as well as wood and preforming, because two jet-propelled revolving spray arms and a self-cleaning filter continuously collect food particles and flush them away. It washes dishes—and pans—spotlessly clean.

Truly, no bride has ever had it so good.

Early Detection Will Help Defeat Cancer

What is cancer? All of us are well aware that cancer is a serious health problem, one of the major killers. But how many of us really know what cancer is?

A pamphlet of the American Medical Association explains that during the process of cell division—the basis of normal body growth and repair—certain cells become differentiated into the specific kinds needed for each organ or body function.

Each kind of cell divides into its own kind, equipped to do the job it was designed to do. Under certain conditions not yet completely understood, some cells do not differentiate in this way. They multiply in irregular and disordered fashion and compete with normal cells for nutrition and space. These cell masses are called tumors.

Tumors that remain localized are benign tumors and may not be troublesome unless they mechanically interfere with some body function. Tumors that grow rapidly and destroy tissue are known as malignant tumors. These are called cancers.

Cancers may affect any part of the human body. They also attack animals and even plants.

Some of the nicest women are the most particular. They take special care to keep their homes clean and spotless. We're all for it. That's why we take special care with Sinclair home cleaner... and cozies... too. We like women who are "nuts" on cleanliness. And we think you'll like us. Call the friendly people at Sinclair. DRIVE WITH CARE AND BUY SINCLAIR.

Cancers spread by infiltrating adjacent tissue, by traveling through the circulatory system and lymphatic system, or by any combination of these.

The cause of cancer in man is not known. If treated promptly and properly, some cancers are highly curable. One-third of all cancers in the United States are being cured today. Cancers are most readily curable before they have spread from their original locations. To be cured, they must be found early.

More than 300,000 persons will die of cancer in this country this year. About one-third of these might have been saved through earlier detection and treatment.

Boy - Bicycle 2,800 Miles from Seattle To Expo

It's a trip many persons wouldn't even attempt by car. But two hearty high school seniors from Washington State decided to go to Expo '67 in Montreal, and so they did on bicycles. It was a 2,800-mile trip that took them across 10 mountain ranges, seven states and two Canadian provinces on their 67-day journey.

The adventurous youths, both entering their senior year in high school, are Jerry Cutlers, of Renton, and Richard Scarlett, of Tacoma. Both boys have been lifelong friends, having attended the same school through the first six years.

Their cross-country journey, which was not without hardships and problems, began June 17 at the site of the Seattle World's Fair. While the only technical difficulties encountered were a couple of flat tires along the rough route that covered nearly 3,000 miles, for 14 days the youths had to sit around a tiny Montana town while Scarlett nursed a sprained ankle and a sore throat sidelined Cutlers for a couple of days.

The boys actually only rode 36 days, averaging 80 miles per day. They slept out often and endured heavy rains without shelter.

One night they found themselves guests in a jail — voluntarily — and they were often invited to spend the night in homes of mayors and town officials along the way.

Stopping for a few days in North Dakota to work, the boys also were guest speakers at civic group luncheons and club meetings.

Although the boys are not

Rockcastle Represented At Inauguration Tuesday

Approximately 30 Rockcastle residents were among the thousands present for Tuesday inauguration of Republican Governor Louie B. Nunn.

Journeying to Frankfort for the occasion were: Vernon Griffin, Circuit Court Clerk; Money Ed Cummins, Ida Witt, Bernice Holcomb, Ed Mink, G.H. Griffin, Clinton Winstead, Lloyd Owens, Keith Singleton, Robert Ford, County Judge Wayne Van Hook, County Attorney James Lambert, Noah Brock, Roland Mullins, Paul Blevins, Sheriff Tip Reppert, Raymond McClure.

Rockcastle County was well represented in other ways also. Several Nunn Republicans put a basket on a truck (see picture top center of page) and pretended to be nailing it shut. Various signs were displayed on the trucks. The float was in answer to Ward's alleged campaign statement that he was going to put Chandler and other anti-float Democrats in a coffin, nail it shut and bury them. It is reported that the float was one of the more popular ones of the parade.

MRS. BEULAH SZEMORE DIES SUDDENLY HERE

Mrs. Beulah Martin Sizemore, 58, a resident of Rockcastle, Indiana died unexpectedly Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmo C. Anderkin, in Mt. Vernon where she was visiting.

Latest Word

The latest word from J.P. Noonan, District Highway Engineer, is that the Interstate 75 Bypass from Reno Valley to Burr will probably be open at least in time for Christmas traffic.

Circuit Court Notes

The case of Albert Thomas versus City of Brodhead and Loyd Albright has been continued to the March term of Circuit Court. The continuation was given after a witness, scheduled to appear, could not.

In other verdicts handed down by the court, William Thomason was found guilty and fined $20 and 30 days in jail on a charge of "selling alcoholic beverages in a local option territory." Mr. Thomason has appealed the verdict.

The jury was unable to reach a verdict in the case of Charles R. Ward who is charged with "fraudulently removing mortgaged property." This case has been tried before with the same result and will have to be tried again probably in the March term.

PTA Meets

The Mt. Vernon PTA met Monday night for their regular monthly meeting. The meeting was opened with a devotional by Attorney John P. Allen.

Following the devotional, members of Mrs. James O. Smith's third grade class presented a Christmas skit which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

During the business meeting, the list of purchases approved by the Finance Committee for the school was presented to the members. The approval vote was taken in two separate counts since one of the items requisitioned was a rather expensive purchase. The purchase, 200 folding chairs for the auditorium, at a cost of about $850.00, was approved first and then the list of smaller items was presented for approval. These were also approved for purchase.

LHS Beats Mt. Vernon Brodhead Revenges Loss

The Livingston Blue Devils led all the way last Friday night to defeat the Mt. Vernon Red Devils by a score of 67 to 49.

According to LHS Coach Preston Parrett, "It was our best all-around game of the season. The boys rebounded well, shot well and played an excellent defensive game. Having played 8 out of 10 games on the road, it sure was nice to be playing before the home crowd for a change and our team wanted to show our fans they could play well. It was a team victory with the following boys performing well: Lonny Mink, Billy Gambrel, Danny Reynolds, Earl Jackson, Norman Owens, Lloyd Tyree, and Kenny Hurley."

Individual scorers for Livingston were: Lonny Mink, 24; Reynolds 10, Owens 13, Tyree 12, Jackson 3, Gambrel 2, Hurley 1, and Kenny Mink 2.

Scoring for the Red Devils were: Helton 8, Allen 12, Renner 9, Saylor 5, Kirby 7, Powell 2, Woodall 2, and Coffey 4.

Mt. Vernon also didn't fare so well Tuesday night when they met Pulaski County and were defeated by a score of 64 to 48.

Pulaski led at the end of all quarter stops with the third quarter being the deciding factor when Mt. Vernon could only score 6 points, while the Pulaski team was pouring through 18.

Howard Saylor led all Mt. Vernon scoring with 13 points. Other scorers for Mt. Vernon were: Helton 6, Allen 8, Renner 10, Kirby 7, Powell 2, and Woodall 2. Mt. Vernon will play Brodhead Friday night at 8 p.m. B Team game will be at 6:30 and varsity at 8 p.m.

As for the Brodhead Tigers, "Oh, how sweet it was," Friday night when they revenged their one-point tournament defeat by Crab Orchard by winning by one point with four seconds on the clock. The score of 60 to 59 was very indicative of the entire game as it was a nip-and-tuck battle all the way. Crab Orchard led at all the quarter stops but only by a few points and it was a see-saw battle.

The deciding points were made by Larry Dauberty and the ball rolled around the gym a few times before deciding to drop through.

Scoring for the Tigers were: Russell 15, Brown 9, Stevens 16, Mobley 4, Bullock 8, and Dauberty 8.

It was a little easier win for BHS Saturday night when they defeated Annville by a score of 82 to 66.

Annville led at the end of the first quarter by a score of 20 to 16. But Brodhead bounced back in the second quarter to push through 24 points while the best Annville could do was 13 and from there on out it was Brodhead all the way.

Stevens led all Tiger scoring with 28 points followed by Russell with 19, Mobley 15, Bullock 9, Sargent 5, Brown 4, and Dauberty 2.

Oncida Baptist Institute really poured it on the Tigers however in a game played there Tuesday night when they defeated the Tigers 104 to 86.

There were a total of 54 fouls called in the game and Stevens, mainly rebounded for Brodhead, was hampered after getting into foul trouble early in the second quarter and fouling out early in the fourth.

According to Coach Billy Riddie, both clubs really played bad defense but the Tigers were unable to cash in as well. There were about 20 floor errors charged against the Tigers and several wide open lay up shots were missed. However, Coach Riddie stated that the Oncida Club is a well-balanced club and were extremely hot that night.

B. Stevens led the scoring for Brodhead with 31 points, followed by Bullock with 14, Brown 9, Mobley 9, Sargent 7, Stevens 8, Dauberty 3, J. Russell 3, and Pope 2.

The Tigers will meet Mt. Vernon Friday night at Mt. Vernon and will then be host to Clay County Saturday night. In their first encounter with Clay County, the Tigers were defeated by nine points. On Tuesday night, Brodhead and Livingston will play at Brodhead.

POUNDS AND DOLLARS
 Not quite four weeks have passed since Great Britain's dramatic 13.3% devaluation of the pound sterling. The relatively smooth adjustment of governments and financial institutions to the decline ought not to blind us to the fact that this is scarcely a sure-fire cure-all for the ailing British economy or assurance that the dollar will escape unscathed.

BRITAIN'S MOMENT OF TRUTH

In many circles, the day when England announced devaluation is referred to as "Britain's moment of truth" — and rightly so. But it is much more than that. It is the beginning of a testing period which is likely to be prolonged. Devaluation was forced because the British Government was unable to make repayments of around $2 billion which were to fall due this month. The lower value at which the pound is set is aimed at increasing British sales likely to offset deficits already incurred. Devaluation came late — after the problem had been compounded — and it may well prove not drastic enough to save the day. For England to recover a good measure of what she has already lost economically and fiscally, British labor must not only agree to live with a lid on wages, but earn. Rising prices and labor excesses would be two stumbling blocks upon which the success of Britain's devaluation could be dashed unless reason and prudence prevail in the time ahead.

BRETTON WOODS PACT

Devaluation of the pound points up the need for new world monetary techniques. The monetary pact reached at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire in 1944 was based on the idea that the world could maintain a fixed system of foreign exchange rates. As such a system grew in stability and prestige, it was hoped that controls by individual governments over the movement of capital abroad could be removed. And as capital movement expanded it was calculated world trade would widen and the world economy would flourish.

All these calculations were based on the assumption that the key currencies — the British pound and the American dollar — would remain stable. In the case of the pound, this has not happened.

PRESSURE ON THE DOLLAR

The fall of the pound put immediate pressure on the dollar, the sole surviving major world currency. So far, the dollar has weathered the storm; but it would be folly to assume that sudden storm signals can be taken down. Although it should not be necessary for the U.S. to strain so hard to help bolster a devalued pound, actually the ability of the pound to survive will not depend upon the credits England may get from her neighbors, but upon her ability to build up a trade surplus.

Our is still the strongest economy in the world and our trade with other nations has until now been trending up. While devaluation will lead to increases in some imports and make it harder for us to sell goods abroad and compete in world markets, our technical know-how is still tops, and if we move promptly and decisively to defend the stability of the dollar all may yet be well.

DEVALUATION OF ANOTHER TYPE

However, we ought not to feel smug if we succeed from month to month, or even year to year, in preserving the dollar's value in terms of other world currencies. It would be an empty (and short-lived) victory if not bolstered by moves toward more responsible fiscal management. For, like the pound before November 18, our dollar has been undergoing devaluation of another type. As the cost of living has gone up, the value of our dollar has gone down.

Obviously, the U.S. is overspending, — both at home and abroad. The Vietnam war is hurting more and more, and we are well on the fiscal road which Britain has been traveling. In truth, the dollar gap is every bit as great a threat to our security and prosperity as is Communist totalitarianism.

And some claim that a little inflation is desirable.

I can't subscribe to the theory that a little inflation is a good thing — because "a little inflation" doesn't stay "little" very long. Today, in fact, inflation has reached a critical stage. High prices continue to go higher. Just a short time ago, the Government said the Nation's 45 million payroll workers, on the average can't buy as much with their paychecks today as they could with smaller ones two years ago. Yet, this inflation — spurred on by ever-increasing doses of Federal spending — shows no sign of abating. A few weeks ago, a Congressional economist predicted that a continuation of the present spending policies of the Administration will result in the "most price explosion in recent history" next year, with the cost of living increasing from 5 to 6% in 1968.

I do not like to think what this will do to those people on fixed incomes, particularly our older folk. When they retired, they did not expect their retirement income to be eaten away by inflation. Already, they have been forced to do without a lot of things, and the price of food has seriously affected their eating habits. Rent increases have forced many of them into less desirable housing. But inflation hurts everybody — not just our senior citizens. Hard-earned salary increases are wiped out almost overnight by the steady rise of prices.

Who's responsible for this problem? The big spending Administration in Washington. Since 1960, the cost of living has risen nearly 13%. The dollar you earned then will buy only 77 cents worth of food or clothing today. Although many of us in Congress have tried to head off this spending binge, we haven't been entirely successful. But I will continue to support such effort. If the President really means what he said about inflation — calling it the cruellest form of taxation — then he will agree with those of us in Congress who are pressing for a reduction in Federal expenditures instead of pressing for a 10% tax increase.

TOURISM - 14.5 MILLION FOR TEN COUNTIES

Tourism poured $14.5 million last year into the economy of ten counties including Rockcastle County. These counties comprise the Southern Cumberland vacation region under the matching fund program administered by the Kentucky Department of Public Information.

Business generated by tourism provided jobs for 7,740 people in the area, states Dr. Lewis C. Copeland of the University of Tennessee. An expert on the economics of the travel industry, Dr. Copeland annually studies the impact of tourism on Kentucky's economy.

His survey, done for the Department of Public Information, reveals that $10 million of the total spent in the area went directly into personal income in the form of wages, commissions and dividends. Copeland further notes that spending by out-of-state visitors alone in the area totaled $9.7 million about $3.4 million of which went directly into personal income.

There are 861 merchants serving travelers among the 153,200 residents in the Southern Cumberland region, the report states. These merchants paid $1.6 million in state and local taxes last year. Copeland's area report is part of an overall statewide report on tourism in Kentucky, which shows that 26 million out-of-state visitors came to the Commonwealth last year. They spent $295 million, creating jobs for 23,000 Kentuckians. The matching fund program was begun in 1965 to encourage and assist the promotion of local tourist attractions on a regional basis. It provides the state with funds to match the money up to a certain point, a locality spends to promote its tourist attractions.

The Southern Cumberland region is comprised of Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, McCreary, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne and Whitley counties. The region has up to $9,383,70 available in state funds for travel advertising and promotion in the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Big Bet
 NEW YORK—History's costliest recorded catastrophe, according to the Insurance Information Institute, was Hurricane "Becky," which swept across Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana in September, 1965. "Becky" caused damage estimated at more than $1 billion, of which about $715 million was insured.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Inflation seems like an inevitable economic disease in today's world — a kind of creeping paralysis for which there is no known cure. Some claim that a boost in taxes will stop the spread of the disease; others claim a cut in Federal spending will do the trick.

KENTUCKY AND AMERICAN FARMERS PUT HUGE CHUNK IN U.S. BUSINESS
Line up 1,000 persons. In such a "random sample," from 100 to 110 could be farmers.

These hard-working people furnish virtually all the food the U.S. eat and at the same time contribute a huge chunk of money to the national economy.

Yet the farmer's role in the U.S. economy sometimes is misunderstood or even overlooked.

The U.K. Cooperative Extension Service, quoting from a recent report of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, calls attention to a few facts.

One is that American farmers spend almost 70 percent of their gross income to operate their farm businesses. This pumps billions of dollars into the national economy annually.

1. The purchases of tractors are now about $1 billion a year. Farmers also buy farm or related machinery valued at $2 billion annually.

TRY OUR CLASSIFIED SECTION

lubricants they buy is worth $1.5 billion a year.

3. U.S. Farmers buy every 15th truck made here and spend more than $2 billion annually on passenger cars.

4. Farm population is declining—yet food production in the U.S. climbs steadily every year. Efficient farmers do it.

5. Farmers spent $850 million in one recent year on household furnishings.

6. And farmers buy their own products. They spend about $3.5 billion annually on food.

"What's good for the farmer is good for the consumer," says the meat board report. "A number of surveys show the average consumer doesn't blame the farmer or the rancher when food prices move upward. But there also are indications that many city people don't know the contribution agriculture makes in hard cash to the nation's well-being."

PERFORMANCE-TESTED BULL SALE SET MARCH 15, 1968 at PRINCETON
The Kentucky Cattlemen's Association will hold its annual performance-tested bull sale March 15, 1968 at the West Kentucky Substation at Princeton. Dr. Bernard M. Jones, Jr., secretary of the association, says the sale is open to all beef breeds. The University of Kentucky is a co-sponsor of the affair.

He listed the following facts on the sale and qualifications to sell:

1. To be entered, bulls must pass the U.K. "On The Farm" bull test. Minimum requirements are (a) a weight per day of age of at least 2 pounds per day at end of the test; (b) gains of a minimum of 2 pounds a day while on the 160-day test, which starts when the calf is weaned; and (c) conformation score of low choice or better.

He noted bulls also must be purebred and with breed registration certificate. They must be vaccinated against leptospirosis and pass health tests for brucellosis and tuberculosis. All bulls will be sold as guarantee breeders and will have had a pedigree check against dwarfism.

The beef cattle specialists in the various U.K. Cooperative Extension Service areas can furnish additional information on the sale.

PEPPERS CAN PROVIDE EXTRA INCOME FOR SOUTHEASTERN KY.

FARMERS
If Peter Piper appears in southeastern Kentucky next year, his "peck of peppers" won't make a very good showing—farmers in this area will be picking the produce from up to a thousand acres of bell peppers.

A Tennessee grower has agreed to buy the total production from as many as 1,000 acres of bell peppers in southeastern Kentucky in 1968, says Hubert W. Davis, U.K. Extension vegetable specialist. Income from this many acres of peppers could total a million dollars, he says.

Davis answers some of the more common questions farmers have about growing this cash vegetable crop.

"Have Kentucky farmers grown bell peppers for processing before?" Some 40 acres were grown in Laurel, Clay, Rockcastle, and Harlan counties in 1967, and almost all growers were pleased with the results.

"How much does it cost to raise bell peppers?" The average production cost is $110 to $125 an acre. Each acre requires about 10,000 plants which, would cost about $40; ½ to ¼ ton of fertilizer, costing $30 to $45; and a starter solution for use at transplanting time, which would cost $15 to $20.

"How much money will I get for the peppers?" The price expected is $65 per ton for red-ripe peppers delivered to a local collecting station. The average yield is 7 to 10 tons an acre, but when good cultural practices are used, an acre may yield 13 to 18 tons. Only four peppers per plant, with a 10,000 plant per acre population, is needed for a 10-ton yield.

"How much does it take to raise bell peppers?" Total labor requirements for growing and harvesting an acre is about 150 hours or 15 man-days. No special equipment is needed and no cultivation required if a chemical weed-killer is used. The plants are usually set with a tobacco setter about May 15. After the crop is set, it requires very little work until harvest-time.

"When are peppers harvested?" Harvest starts in late August and continues until the crop is killed by frost in October. A pepper crop is usually harvested every 7 to 10 days, or about 5 or 6 times during the season. The time of harvest is not critical since the pepper can be left on the plant after it is ripe for as long as a week without damage. Peppers also may be picked and stored for 5 or 6 days without damage.

"How can I be sure the processors will buy the peppers I raise?" Each grower has a contract with the processor. This signed agreement states the acreage to be planted by the grower (who decides himself how much he wants to grow) and the price the processor will pay him for sound red-ripe peppers. In addition to regular sales, a "clean-up" sale is held at the end of harvest, which allows the grower to sell any "left-over" peppers.

Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note:
One of our subscribers, Mrs. Edna Holcomb of Independence, was kind enough to send us the letter below. We thought it very appropriate at this time.

Pfc. Gary L. Bowsher R.A. 16930613. Written while re-operating in a Military Hospital, from wounds received when the jeep he was driving, was blown up by a mine, in Vietnam. He is 18 of age. This was taken from the Cincinnati Enquirer November 28, 1967.

Santa, can you imagine the joy on my face when I open your gift, and find the one thing I want most in the world, an anti-Vietnam war demonstrator. At last I'll have some one all mine to share my exciting experiences with. I promise I'll take special care of them.
I'll give him a hair cut (they all seem to need one) But I can't promise to keep him clean because baths are pretty scarce over here. Besides dirt seems to be a prerequisite for protestors, he should feel right at home.
I'll share my bed and sometimes inedible food with him. I'll share the diseases, the intense heat and the impossible steaming jungle. I'll share the FAIRGROUNDS PAVILION BIDS DUE SOON—An architect's drawing shows the Purebred Livestock Sales Pavilion to be connected to the west wing of the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition Center at Louisville. The one-story structure seating 600 spectators will be used to promote the production of purebred livestock in Kentucky and throughout the nation. Some $100,000 of its estimated cost of $185,000 will come from 1965 state bond issue funds. It is to be completed nine months after the award of a contract. Bids are to be opened December 8.

FINAL PLANS are being completed for a 10 room addition (far left unit) at Pine Mountain State Park, Pineville, as depicted by this architect's drawing. Other improvement projects planned or under development at the park include five vacation cottages, a camping grounds, a kitchen renovation and recreation facilities.

his own way for as long as he lives. (of course that won't be long if he insist on saying the things here he said in the States.)
The next time one of our patrols are attacked by the Viet Cong, I'll let him run to the front, to tell them he loves them, and wants

Santa, for New Years, I have decided to ask a special favor of you. Do you think you could perhaps send each of my Buddies a demonstrator of his very own?

Piercing Your Ears Can Be Dangerous

Do-it-yourself ear piercing, a practice that has recently become fashionable again, is risky, says Today's Health, the family magazine of the American Medical Association.

Piercing performed by an unskilled person increases the chance of infection and the development of scar tissue. The physician will carefully measure and mark the ears before piercing, because both ears may not be exactly alike. After piercing the ears with a sterile needle, he will insert temporary earrings or metallic wires, which are usually worn for three or four weeks until the wounds heal. This is a critical period and your physician's instructions should be followed carefully to prevent infection or closure of the opening.

The small, self-piercing ear-ring loops which are being promoted across the country are not considered safe, says Today's Health. These devices have sharp points which are supposed to pierce the ears within a few days as they are worn. Infections requiring medical treatment have developed from the use of these self-piercers. Furthermore, it is difficult to be certain that the piercers are evenly placed on the ear lobes.

The physician will not pierce ears having any type of rash or infection or if small cysts are present in the ear lobe. Persons subject to keloids (scar overgrowth) or who have this tendency in their family, or those who are allergic to nickel or other metals should not have their ears association reported on two public school nurses who were "high as the number of girls who irritated, swollen and oozing ear lobes. In a class of 80 sophomores, ten had their ears pierced in the previous three months, and six of them reported inflammation and infection."

Ear piercing is not a very difficult procedure, but it can be risky in the hands of a non-physician.

IN REMOBRANCE OF JOHN LOVINGS

"The days grow short and the nights are chill and my longing turns to a love that's still, that has gone on before to wait for me in that glorious mansion beyond the sea.
Yes, when days are short and nights are chill and my lonely heart longs for a love now still, I'll go to the Father of us all and ask for a orange lest I fail. I will ask for hope and a faith so great that I'll have peace and contentment while I wait for the Master's call to take me home to greet him on the glory throne and you my darling will be waiting there where His glory together we'll share.

VETERAN'S ADM. POLICIES TOLD

Veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving nonservice connected pension and parents receiving dependency indemnity compensation should list off their 1967-68 Veterans Administration income questionnaire the total annual Social Security income for both 1967 and 1968 based upon the rate now being paid under the Social Security law presently in effect, Olney B. Owen, Manager of the Louisville, Kentucky, Veterans Administration Regional Office pointed out today. Should legislation be enacted providing for increased Social Security benefits, the Veterans Administration will update the records, Owen added. The Veterans Administration questionnaire should be completed and returned promptly in the envelope furnished for that purpose. Failure to return the questionnaire by January 31, 1968, may result in suspension of payments.

Ted Ponder, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mason and Larry Linville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moss Linville of Berea, both in Armed Service, were coming home on a rush furlough before leaving by ship for the Mediterranean area for six months, when they were involved in an auto accident, and were both rushed to a hospital in Wytheville, Va., where Ted was treated and released going on his way to his Army station. Larry was more seriously injured and is still in the hospital for further treatment. Mrs. Arthur Ramsey who has spent one month in the T.B. Hospital at London, will be coming home to spend the Christmas holidays with her family. Miss Addie Miller of Livingston visited her sister, Easter Miller at the Skidmore Rest Home last week. A CALL TO ARMS!

Mother and daughter both march smartly in fashion's newest wrap-around. And they won't have to enlist any help when making it, because McCall's has fashioned a "Quickie" pattern that wraps on in a flash. Could anything be easier than this? Lay out your one piece of fabric. Cut. Stitch the shoulder seams. Bind around the shape. You're finished! There are no closings to close. The beauty is in the design—it has three armholes (two for one arm; one for other). When you slip it on, it doesn't matter which arm goes first, or whether it flaps in front or back. Because this is sure to be such a favorite (in teflon cloth it's a swell bathrobe) McCall's has a pattern to fit most every size: #9119 Misses small, medium and large; and #9108 for a matching outfit. With "Quickie" patterns like this, victory is yours!

Food Cues

BY: BECKY SUSAN
It's the season for holly, mistletoe, bright decorations good cheer—and turkey! And the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA reminds southeastern homemakers that turkeys are in good supply this month, so there will be a good selection for holiday tables. Frozen turkeys are by far the biggest seller in today's retail market. With this in mind, a word of caution is indicated concerning the need for proper thawing. Be sure to allow plenty of time for the whole turkey to thaw in its original wrapper, in the refrigerator grade mark—your assurance of quality. U.S. Grade A poultry is the finest quality and will be full fleshed and meaty, well-finished and have an attractive appearance. After the big meal, there are numerous exciting things you can do with the leftover turkey meat. One of ideas is:

- TURKEY BUNWICHES
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 2 cups coarsely diced cooked turkey
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 2 Tbsp. chopped onion
 - 1/2 cup diced Cheddar cheese
 - 1 tsp. chopped pimiento
 - 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - Butter or margarine
 - 6 hamburger buns

Combine turkey, celery, onion, cheese, pimiento and eggs. Add mayonnaise and season with salt and pepper. Slice top off each bun and scoop out center. Put margarine on hollows and tops. Fill hollows with turkey mixture. Replace bun tops and wrap each sandwich in foil. Heat at 400 degrees F., for 15 to 20 minutes. Garnish top of each bun with olive, pickle and carrot curl, speared with a tooth pick. Makes 6 buns. To learn more about poultry, send for the free pamphlet, "How to Buy Poultry by USDA Grades." The address is Information Division Consumer and Marketing Service, 1795 Peachtree Road N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30309.

Aunt Cecilia died of embarrassment

Heaven forbid that she mention a lump on her "chest" to anyone—even her own doctor! She died of breast cancer. Today, more and more women have adopted the habit of breast self-examination. And a lump on the "chest" sends them to their doctors immediately. They know that early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment could help save their lives. The American Cancer Society's life-saving film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION demonstrates this easy-to-learn technique. Call your local Unit of the Society for information on where to see it.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Getting Out on Bail

"He's in prison now, being punished for the crime he committed through the Looking Glass," and the trial doesn't even begin till next Wednesday." It is to prevent such punishment, before guilt has been established, that our system of bail is designed. The accused is given his temporary freedom, after putting up a certain sum of money to guarantee his appearance in court. Is every accused person entitled to get out on bail? Ordinarily she main exception has been in the case of a capital crime when there is strong evidence of guilt. The theory is that anyone facing a possible death penalty would be sorely tempted to jump bail and go into hiding.

But the vast majority of defendants do in fact go free on bail. Those who remain in prison usually do so not because they are not entitled to this privilege but because they cannot afford it. How high should bail be set? The Eighth Amendment to the Constitution requires that it shall not be "excessive." Various factors may determine, in a particular case, how much bail is excessive. For example: Bail, even though high, was held not excessive in one case, because the accused had already jumped bail three times. Obviously, he could logically be expected to do it again. But high bail was held excessive in another case because the accused was charged with just a simple misdemeanor. What if the man is indigent? Even low bail may be beyond his reach, forcing him to languish in jail solely because of his poverty. To meet this common problem, reforms have been undertaken in many communities. Generally they eliminate bail altogether for the indigent defendant who, on individual appraisal, seems a good bet to show up in court when he is, supposed to. Does the man have a job? Does he have close family ties? Is he a long-time local resident? With such roots in the community, he is less likely to run away. If the accused can indeed be turned loose with reasonable safety, society is thereby relieved of the cost of keeping him. More important, society is also relieved of the necessity of confining a person, even temporarily, while he is still entitled to the presumption of innocence.

TAX RELIEF

Now that the weather is bad until you can't get out to the field work, it is a good time to sit down with a pencil and paper, and take stock as to how your income and expenses for the year 1967 are adding up, and if any adjustments in income or expenses should be made in order to get a better tax program for this year. You can make adjustments in purchases of supplies that would come under the 1967 tax year. Butler wine, fertilizer, and machinery may be purchased during the month of December and would help to adjust any income versus expenses that might be needed. If you need to increase income over expenses, you might consider selling cattle, hogs, or corn or any other merchantable products in order to add to or defer income. Any of these transactions, however, must be legal transactions, and not just a paper job in order to get a better tax posture.

TOBACCO LAND

Another project that needs attention and should not be deferred until spring or summer is the selection of the site where you will grow your next year's crop of tobacco. Tobacco is selling at a good price, and weight is not off as much as some had anticipated, so we need to give consideration to next year's crop in order that we might produce top quality along with top yields. Take a soil test of the soil where the tobacco will be grown next year; then, you can more intelligently apply fertilizer or needed lime to counter acidity in order to produce top quality and quantity.

Potato Pancakes
Handle Man-Size Appetites

Crisp late autumn weekends find a sizable segment of the husband population tramping through field and stream, making the most of the brief hunting season. Come Saturday morning, and mother's called into the act, too, as breakfast for the hungry man for men. If dad's asked a few of his pals to join him).

A meal that sticks with a man through chilly mornings, starts with canned condensed soup, the soup that knows how to handle a hungry man. This hearty, rib-sticking breakfast treat, for example, begins with a can of condensed cream of potato soup. Thick, robust, rich with sweet country cream, tender diced potatoes, and expert seasonings, cream of potato soup becomes the base of an egg-rich potato pancake that's a snap for crack-of-dawn meal preparation. The sauce is a "laxer-like-mere" combination of the tenderest whole cranberry sauce, and the delectable sweetness of fresh orange sections. Serve up these tasty potato pancakes with lots of bacon, and hot coffee.

CRANBERRY SAUCED POTATO PANCAKES
1 can 103-ounce condensed cream of potato soup
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon butter dripping
1 egg
1 can 1 pound whole cranberry sauce
1 cup orange sections, cut up
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Cooked bacon
In bowl, blend soup and flour, beat in eggs and drippings until smooth. Pour a cup batter for each pancake onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake until golden brown on both sides; turn only once. Combine cranberry sauce, orange sections, and rind. Top pancakes with cranberry mixture, serve with bacon. Make 4 servings.

Mrs. Estil McBee has gained furnished us with some interesting old photos of Brothead and its long ago residents, and an interesting article, written by her, concerning the home shown in the above photo, to the left, and social life of that period.

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Albright, parents of Manley and Dick Albright, was the scene of many happy times enjoyed by both young and old together. When the snow fell, young and old gathered together on the hillside built bonfires, and enjoyed sleigh riding. They spent many quite evenings, by the fireplaces talking, sometimes singing their favorite hymns and Irish melodies. Sometimes the kitchen was filled with the laughter while making candy.

When I was a young girl, I too enjoyed the bonfires, and the sleigh rides and the hospitality of this home as well as my mother and father. With these remembrances, I close the later years of the 18th Century and early 19th Century."

Mrs. Estil McBee
