Announcement of the signups, which end March 15, 1968, was made by the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) recently.

The feed-grain program for 1968 has division and price support payments as well as price-support loans for participants. The division payments will be available to all participants in 1968. The wheat program benefits include price support loans and marketing certificates, but no division payments are planned for 1968.

County ASCS offices and area extension offices in the counties can furnish information.

WINTER FEEDING OF BEEF COW HERD EXPLAINED BY U. OF K. SPECIALIST

Beef cow herds usually need supplemental feed during winter, says Dr. Roy C. Gray Jr., U.K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist. Supplemental feed usually makes up the major source of feed for 90 to 120 days depending on the location in the state, he says.

Remember these points for winter-feeding:

1. Dry Pregnant Cows: Most common ration is 20 pounds of good grass or prairie-legume hay per day (2 pounds per 100 pound bodyweight). This meets requirements if loose salt and a source of calcium, phosphorus (bone meal or dicalcium phosphate are available at all times).
2. Lactating Beef cows: requirements increase about 40 percent after calving and milk starts. Producing cow will need about 25 pounds of good hay a day (use a 30 percent legume hay if possible) and a pound of protein will not be necessary in the winter ration.

3. Silage Ration: A dry cow will need 40 pounds of good corn silage daily, a cow-in-milk, about 60 pounds. Add a pound of soybean meal a day for the sow in production.

4. Critical Periods: These are just after calving and at breeding time. Nutrient requirements increase considerably at these periods. Rations should have ample energy and protein for milk production and body maintenance. A ration that lets a cow produce enough milk is probably good enough to keep her breeding condition.
5. Feeding Priority: Give young cattle, first calf heifers and cows nursing calves the best forage on hand. Older and larger cattle, non-calvers, can use lower feed in winter.

TINY WASP MAY CUT BACK DUTCH ELM DISEASE HERE

A tiny wasp collected by a USDA entomologist in France may be an answer to Dutch elm disease, a disease that has struck many elm trees in Ky, over the years. This tiny wasp (scientific name Dendrocterus proteuberans) parasitizes the larvae of the beetle which spread Dutch elm disease.

Dr. Lee Townsend, U.K. entomologist call attention recently to the USDA work, publicized in a recent USDA news article.

He noted the waspago for the beetle larvae only are harmless to humans. Millions of the wasps are being reared and will be released in Dutch elm disease areas. Their release will not be helpful to trees which have no disease. Dr. Townsend notes, but will reduce the number of beetles which could spread the disease. The wasp population presumably would destroy up to 70 percent of the beetle population that spreads the Dutch elm disease.

VOLUME 81 - NUMBER 17

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1968

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY

Round About

By: Perline M. Anderkin

MAY WE CLARIFY
We did not mean in last week's lead story in the Signal that the City had to purchase an additional 100 feet around the lake area. What we meant was that an additional 100 feet over what was originally anticipated, had to be purchased by the city and had already been purchased. There will be no more land that at the lake area now.

KNITTING ANYONE
Mrs. Phillip Davis, Rockcastle County Librarian tells us that there will be a knitting class held each Thursday beginning January 25 in the County Library, Mrs. Faith Plummer will teach the class which will be from 1 to 3 p.m. There will also be a story-hour for small children held each Saturday afternoon from 2 to 2:30.

PTA POSTPONED
The Mt. Vernon School PTA meeting was not held Monday night, January 8, due to the bad weather. The meeting was rescheduled for Monday night, January 15 at 7 p.m. weather permitting.

NEED A JOB?
The City of Mt. Vernon is accepting applications for the job of city policeman until January 18 at 2 p.m. Qualifications—Applicant must be able to drive.

WE'RE GLAD
The Rockcastle County Development Corporation met Monday night and elected 24 officers for the coming year (see lead story). The group seems to have many progressive ideas and plans and Rockcastle Countians certainly need to throw their support behind this organization.

NO CHANGE
Senator Fred Bishop called the Signal Monday to inform us that he would introduce a bill to the Legislature that would change Monday night to keep our time as it now is instead of moving forward an hour. This is ending a growing controversy with city dwellers pulling for it and the highly influential farm group opposing the change. Kentucky is only one of two states which has not approved the change. If you feel strongly, one way or another, write Senator Bishop or Governor Nunn at Frankfort and register your views.

VOLLEYBALL ANYONE?
Several Mt. Vernon men have journeyed to Berea recently to play volleyball against a group of college professionals (one who is 68 years old). It seems their luck has just not been running too good since they have been beaten every game. Oh, well, may be it's just that college life that makes the difference. Playing on the hometown team have been Jim Smith, Tommy Parsons, Larry Hanson, Jim Fain, Paul Cook, Dexter Roberts, Billy George Griffith and Jim Anderkin.

BE CAREFUL!
Mayor Clyde Linville has cautioned persons who are skating on the ponds created by the construction of Lake Linville at Renfro, not to do this. The ice is not thick enough to be skated on and the pond has been posted to no trespassing.

DON'T FORGET TRAILERS
Rockcastle County Tax Commissioner Robert Cromer Jells us that anyone who owns a trailer in the county must also come in and assess it for this year's tax records.

Basketball

Eubank shot a stizzling 51 percent in down the Livingston Blue Devils 75 to 60 in a game played at Livingston last Friday night. Eubank led at all the quarters—topa 17 to 36 to 49, 53 to 44 and the final score 75 to 60. "Using their (Eubank's) shooting ability along with a strong rebounding game, the Eubank club led throughout the game. The game was very vicious under the boards with Eubank's taller club controlling the boards." Coach Preston Parrett said. "The Devils shot a good 47 percent but Eubank got off the most shots which was the deciding factor in the game." Coach Parrett further said.

For Livingston, Lonny Mink scored 33 points, Norman Owens had 16, Danny Reynolds 6 and Earl Jackson 5. Donnie Holt, Kenny Hurley and Billy Gibson also played but did not score.

The next game for Livingston will be Friday night when the Blue Devils will take on the Annville Bulldogs at home.

The Brodhead Tigers successfully downed the Crab Orchard Cubs 75 to 60 in a game played Friday night at Brodhead.

Brodhead was behind at the end of the first quarter by 6 points but put 24 points through the hoops in the second quarter while the Cubs could only muster 11 and that was the ball game as the Tigers led from then on out.

Scoring for Brodhead were: Busen 14, Brown 16, Stevens 23, Moberly 15, and Bullock 7.

SPECIAL AIR RATES FOR MILITARY
Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Office overseas now can be sent by air through the Postmaster's Office at special low rates. Postmaster J.O. Smith pointed out today.

"Area residents using this new air life service will get such same-day deliveries on parcels to military personnel overseas," Postmaster Smith said. He said the airmail is available on a space-available basis upon payment of (Cont. To Page 3)

OFFICERS ELECTED
The Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital Board elected its officers and members of its executive board at their regular meeting Monday night. Officers elected were: Earl Bullock, chairman; Clatus Peters, vice chairman; Archie French, secretary; and Clyde Harris, treasurer.

Elected to the Executive Board were: Willie D. Cope, Clyde Linville, Ray Pope, and R. H. Hamm.

GOOD SAMARITANS
With our present-day attitude of minding our own business, it is always refreshing to find someone who goes out of his own way to help his fellow man. This was the case recently when C.H. Webb of Livingston became concerned because he had not seen an elderly couple who trade with him, for some time. The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mullins, live about three miles from Livingston on Piny Branch and Mr. Mullins is blind. Fearing that possibly the extremely cold weather had been too much for them, Mr. Webb and Bro. Lester Arnold decided to walk to the couple's home (a distance of about 6 miles round trip) to check. Luckily they were alright, just now bound by at least Mr. Webb and Bro. Arnold were conscientious enough to worry about the elderly and about their safety.

NEW OFFICERS—The Rockcastle County Development Corporation met Monday night for a reorganizational meeting and elected officers for the coming year. Shown above are the officers elected for the coming year. They are, from left: Tommy Mink, treasurer, Clay Colson, vice chairman, H. Lee Durham, secretary, and Roy Brown, chairman.

The Corporation was first organized in 1956; for the purpose of trying to bring outside industry to the county. This organization was incorporated, took several options on land, made labor surveys, and sold stock privilege certificates to raise money for a building fund in the amount of $75,000. The organization has been inactive for several years but is still incorporated.

For the past three months, a small delegation from different communities in Rockcastle County has been meeting in the county judge's office to discuss any potential that the county might have to enhance its opportunities in becoming a more progressive county.

The Laurel group employs a full-time secretary who is always available to give out needed information on the county to any industry or individual who wishes to contact them.

Mr. Vernon's water project and its possibilities were discussed by Bill Cass and Wayne Stewart. Mt. ## Preston Nunnally, Jr. In Defense Program

An air raid siren sounded, the lights went out and Emergency Broadcast System radio warned, "Enemy planes are approaching the United States. Minutes are being lost. Take cover immediately." The time was 6:50 p.m. Friday, and when most persons in Lexington probably were eating dinner, 29 persons participating in a Civil Defense program moved hurriedly by flashlight through the basement at Castlewood Park house to a fallout shelter.

"The President has declared a state of emergency," the radio broadcast continued. "Everyone take shelter at once. Stay tuned to this frequency for further information."

Inside the shelter, participants in the program moved about uncertainly while the staff monitored them for radiation count, confiscated knives, food, games and transistor radios, and took registration.

A guard was posted at the entrance so no one could leave or enter the shelter. Another broadcast came over the radio: "Enemy missiles have already hit, and are falling in the nation. Enemy aircraft are approaching this county. Take cover."

At 7:15 p.m. the air raid sirens sounded again, and Preston Nunnally, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Nunnally of Mt. Vernon, shelter manager, announced to the participants, "We've just received word bombs are approaching this area. Keep calm."

Then the lights went out again.

CRISIS IN THE AIR

Air transportation — one of the nation's fastest-growing industries — is flying into a crisis which threatens to clip its wings, temporarily, at least. Airport facilities just aren't keeping pace with the demand. . . air corridor congestion is serious, especially on the East and West Coasts. . . and rapidly rising costs pose new problems of financing.

INADEQUATE FACILITIES

Our emergence into the jet age had broadened the horizons of air transport — both passenger and cargo — but it has also brought us face to face with the need for bigger and costlier terminal facilities. Air traffic has doubled since 1962. You can expect it to double again in the next 5 years. Most of the nation's airports are overcrowded. . . some dangerously so. A few are valiantly trying to handle far more planes than they have capacity for. In some airports, jet runways just aren't long enough for today's huge airlines; in others, radar installations aren't sufficient to do the job that true safety requires.

INSTRUMENT LANDING SYSTEMS

Instrument landing systems seem not to be foolproof, at best. If not well maintained they can contribute to accidents. Without question, pilots need the most accurate information possible to permit them to determine whether planes are coming in at the proper angle and altitude. . . but the development, installation, and operation of such delicate and sophisticated instruments will entail tremendous increases in the operational costs of airports.

AIR CORRIDOR CONGESTION

Airport congestion is getting worse by the week, with New York's Kennedy and Washington's fields, Chicago's O'Hare and the Los Angeles International approaching saturation points. But there is also overcrowding of the air corridors themselves as passenger, military, and cargo craft take to the clouds in increasing numbers.

In such close quarters, speedy jets are a decided hazard, and the Federal Aviation Administration has set a new speed limit of 288 miles per hour for planes flying below 10,000 feet. Soon to come, perhaps, are regulations calling for wider spacing of aircraft in flight and when circling over airports — a waiting opportunity to land.

PROGRESS MUST BE FINANCED

Meanwhile, the airlines are entering a critical period of very rapid growth during which their costs promise to rise sharply while their profit margins decline further. Pan American, which has $1.5 billion in new jets on order, has obtained long-term credit of $180 million in new money and refinanced mortgage notes. In today's high-cost, limited-availability money market, such sums must surely entail heavy burdens — which will be a drain on earnings for some time to come. . . Obviously, the airlines are also going to be faced with higher landing, storage, and maintenance fees as airports plan along the huge costs of installing and maintaining new and improved facilities to handle the great increase in air traffic and provide for growth still to come.

FARE BOOSTS DUE

Curiously enough, the Civil Aeronautics Board continued throughout 1967 to favor reduced air fares. . . there by whittling away their earnings base and making it more difficult for them to finance the purchase of new aircraft and new safety equipment. However, in December the CAB allowed four of the big airlines to increase somewhat their low "Discover America" discount fares on flights between the East and West Coasts.

As the profits squeeze of the airlines intensifies, you can expect CAB to relent further by permitting selected fare increases so that those who fly will pay a bigger share of rising costs. And it's just possible the airlines may one day be collecting a federal head tax on each passenger ticket sold. . . to help pay for new airport facilities and safety devices.

Brindley Ridge

The Brindley Ridge Baptist Church had service over the week end with their new pastor, Bro. Lawrence Pruitt. The Pruitts have moved from Goshen, Ohio to their home at Roundstone. Everyone is welcome to worship with us. . . Mr. Rufus Cornett of Ohio spent the week end with his sister Mrs. Arvel Burdette and family and his brother Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burdette and children, his mother who has been visiting here the past two weeks returned home with them. . . Gary and Clyde Burdette were in Lexington Central Baptist Hospital Thursday for a check up. They're reported improving. . . Darlene Pittman and Tommy Coffey spent the week end with Vicki and Michael Burdette. . . Mrs. Bertie Mink and Mrs. Patricia Holland, David, Linda, and Jessica spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Mink and boys at London.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cole and boys of Red Hill spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cameron and boys. The school children here on the Ridge are enjoying their vacation.

POPULAR GAY

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ponder and family of Morristown, Tennessee were recent guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Dean Mullins. . . Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Shell of Hamilton, Ohio visited her mother Mrs. Fannie Allen last weekend. Her mother went home with them for a while. . . Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Childress and family of Norfolk, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Durham of Goshen, Ohio and Mrs. Ellen and Emma Durham of Cincinnati, Ohio were recent guests of their mother Mrs. Ethel Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Gooseman and children of Dayton, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Alcom of Mt. Vernon were recent guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Matt Singleton. . . Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mable McGuire were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Truman McGuire, Tony McGuire of Mason, Ohio, Mrs. Logan McGuire and Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Rowie Singleton, Mr.

Hubert Jennings of Maud, Ohio, Matt Singleton, Donald French, Donnie, Bruce, Buddy Mullins and Mr. Gilbert Wynn and Will.

QUAIL

Wayne Price and Donna Gentry were united in marriage Saturday, January 6, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Estil Gentry

Bro. Lorain Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McKinney visited some folks this week end. . . Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Baker visited his mother, Mrs. Pattie Baker Sunday afternoon. . . Wayne Taylor, son of Mrs. Ruby Taylor, had the misfortune of breaking his wrist recently. . . John Cash of Crab Orchard is in the Stanford hospital very ill. We wish him a speedy recovery. . . Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Casper G. Owens were their daughter, Christine Brown and children, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thompson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Law and Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Owens have been on the sick list. . . The Kentucky Efficiency Task Force will complete the remainder of the summer. However, since the middle of September he has been at his desk virtually fulltime. At Friday's meeting, the board approved a resolution to "recognize, honor and pay tribute" to Murray's retiring president. The resolution said Dr. Woods "has done more for the institution than anyone else." After being informed of his election, Dr. Sparks thanked the board "for its faith and trust in appointing me to this position."

He continued, "My heart really lies in Murray State. The greater part of my professional life has been spent here. I hope that I can build on the fine base Dr. Woods has established. I'll do everything I can do to promote the advancement of the university."

Dr. Sparks is well-known throughout Kentucky for his activities in various professional education associations.

In 1960 he was president of the Kentucky Education Association and in the spring of that year was presented a new automobile by the First District Education Association for his efforts in steering an education bill through the legislature. He had handled numerous other leadership assignments in professional organizations and is in wide demand as a speaker.

Dr. Sparks launched his career in education, all of which has been in Kentucky, in 1930 in Breckinridge County. After four years there, he became superintendent of livingstone schools. He later was principal of Russell and Mayfield high schools.

He was a lieutenant commander in the Navy during World War II.

His association with Murray State began in 1948 when he joined the faculty as an associate professor of education. He was named head of the education department in 1952, a position he held until he ran for state superintendent of public instruction. Dr. Sparks earned his A.B. degree from Transylvania College in Lexington and his M.A. and Ed.D. degrees from the University of Kentucky.

A native of Rockcastle County, he is the son of Mrs. Lena Bentley Sparks of Lexington and the late R. A. Sparks and is married to the former Lois Ogden Stiles of Irvington. They have three children, Harry Jr., 27, Phillip, 24, and Susan, 20. Phillip and Susan are both seniors at Murray State this year. The Sparks' oldest son, currently in Cincinnati, Ohio serving an internship in architecture. He attended Murray State for three years.

in an attempt to acquaint citizens with conditions which would exist during a nuclear attack.

The exercise, the first overnight bomb shelter stay in Lexington in two years, was also the final requirement for six students in a local shelter manager's course.

Mr. Nunnely explained prior to the air raid attack: "Let's look at this as if we are at a community meeting after we found out there's an alert. The tension is high; the President fears an attack; we all want to be near our shelter."

None of the participants knew when the lights were scheduled to go out or when the siren would sound. This was Nunnely's secret.

Nunnely also kept secret the scheduled hour of release Saturday to make conditions more true to life, he said.

Knives are confiscated, Nunnely said, because they constitute a safety hazard.

The close quarters make for high tension among the occupants, and Nunnely remembers seeing good friends attack each other after only a few hours in a shelter.

Shortly after the lights came on again at 7:35 p.m., another EBS broadcast said, "Thermonuclear weapons have hit Kentucky, and the extent of damage is unknown. Power has been lost in some areas. Immediate effects of the blast are over but serious fallout is expected. You have 30 minutes to find shelter. Telephone communications are broken in many areas."

At 8:55 p.m., Nunnely announced that fallout had arrived in Lexington, and the city was experiencing radiation.

While shelter occupants became acquainted and began to play cards and games, the staff took an inventory of supplies and planned an activity program through 6 p.m. the next night.

At 9 p.m., dinner was served or rather, rationed. Each person received one plastic cupful of water, one survival biscuit and one carbohydrate supplement which was actually a piece of hard candy.

Survival biscuits look like Graham crackers and taste like foxtle dog biscuits. They contain all the necessary food nutrients, and according to Mrs. Robert Gout, staff member in charge of shelter food rations, "one could survive easily for several weeks on these rations."

Earlier that night, Nunnely announced he received word that bombs were dropped in McCracken, Jefferson and Boyd counties, and all access routes to Lexington were closed.

From 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., the shelter occupants slept. Volunteers exchanged guard duty at the entrance every hour. Nunnely issued strict orders that no one could leave the shelter, not even to run upstairs to the Pepsi machine.

By noon, most everyone felt the stay would come to an end, but it wasn't until 1:20 p.m. that Nunnely announced the radiation outside was reduced and the shelter exercise was ended.

Fogging the effects of sleeping overnight in close quarters with 29 people, one participant laughed as he left. "All I want to know is, will the radiation be safe so I can take a shower when I get home."

"SPECIAL AIR RATES"

The domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special airtail rate, Postmaster Smith said.

Postal patrons can get the airtail service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and EPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Postmaster Smith noted that the new airtail applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way -- from here to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service, Postmaster Smith said.

He said that in many instances the new airtail rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges. He cited these examples:

A mother here sending a 12-ounce package to her son in Vietnam pays $4.30 for the new airtail service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $7.40.

An eight-pound package going from here to Frankfurt, Germany costs $3.00 under the airtail service. The air parcel rate is $6.48.

Postmaster Smith pointed out, however, that it is not always to the mailer's advantage to use the airtail service. On some light packages air parcel post rates may be lower than the airtail charges.

"Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas," Postmaster Smith emphasized.

The new airtail service went into effect January 7. It was authorized under the postal rate bill signed into law December 16 by President Johnson.

Postmaster Smith explained that the regular postage on parcels mailed to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is hauled within the United States. No charge is made for carrying the package between the U.S. port and the overseas base.

Until January 7, airtail for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of regular parcel post rates, these packages get service transportation to the port of embarkation and are airtailed from there to the overseas posts on a space available basis.

There is no charge for this partial airtail and overseas parcels weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive this service, Postmaster Smith said.
