

Health Dept. Urges Pap Smear Test

Have you had your Pap Smear? The Rockcastle County Health Department is presently conducting a campaign to get women in Rockcastle County to have the test.

Statistics show that one woman out of every one hundred will develop uterine cancer in the next year. When this type cancer is discovered in the early stages, it is one hundred per cent curable. However, if left unchecked, the cancer will advance and chances of a complete cure grow less.

By means of this simple painless test, signs which foretell the development of uterine cancer can be seen even before obvious symptoms are noted by the woman or her physician.

The Health Department's records show that only 369 Rockcastle County women received this test during the past year. If you are one of those who failed to get your Pap Smear, see your family physician or go to the Rockcastle County Health Department. If all women have a yearly pap test, there would be no deaths from cervical cancer.

Most everyone welcomes an orange or orange juice for breakfast, but it can be more than just a fruit for breakfast.

Versatile homemakers use oranges at most any meal, and serve them in many interesting ways.

Even at breakfast, variety can be injected by serving wedges of oranges with scrambled eggs. The wedges are squeezed over the eggs just before eating, for an unusual taste treat. For another breakfast idea, add orange juice and orange rind to the dough for biscuits. The refreshing sweetness of oranges is most enjoyable with fish and seafood. Simply serve squeezable wedges of oranges along with any fish or seafood entrees, salads, and appetizers.

A special treat for children—and for adults, too—is a fresh orange sundae. First, cut fresh oranges into bite-size pieces. Place in a bowl. Sprinkle with sugar, about 2 tablespoons for every orange. Allow to set for 10 to 15 minutes until juice collects in the bowl. Then serve atop mounds of vanilla ice cream.

A clever way to add appeal to party snacks, especially cheese and ham dips, is done with orange chunks or sections. After washing the oranges, cut into eight wedges and then "peel back" the skin part of the way and serving in sections attractively around the dip along with the usual crackers. The chunks are made by peeling the orange and then cutting in half and dividing into segments. The flavor of the oranges with the dips is mighty tasty, and a real hit with the calorie watchers in the crowd. Now is a good time, says the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, to serve oranges while they are in plentiful supply.

Florida—the leading orange-producing state—is expected to harvest a total crop of 98.4 million boxes. This is about 14 per cent more than the 1957-58 average. California's orange crop is estimated at 25 million boxes this season and other states are expected to harvest about 5 million boxes.

And remember, that oranges are an excellent source of Vitamin C which helps keep the body in good condition to ward off colds and other winter-related illnesses.

The Consumer and Marketing Service says the wise food shopper will regularly put oranges on her food shopping lists during January.

It may be difficult for the modern homemaker to believe that the grapefruit is so popular and plentiful today as once known as the "forbidden fruit." It was first described in this way in 1750 by Griffith Hughes in a book on the natural history of Barbados, a West Indies island.

The name "grapefruit" was first used in Jamaica in the early 1800's; apparently because this citrus fruit was thought to resemble the grape in flavor, or because it is frequently borne in clusters like grapes. A resemblance in flavor, however, seems imaginary.

Grapefruit as we know it today presumably originated in the West Indies, but the exact place or manner of origin is hazy. It was introduced into Florida about 1840 by Odet Philippe, a former surgeon in Napoleon's navy. He planted trees at Safety Harbor, near the present city of Tampa, presumably from West Indies seed. From these trees and their seed progeny, have come most of today's tasty, and even seedless, varieties. For several decades after its introduction to Florida, the grapefruit was hardly known outside the state. Even by the turn of this century, it was still something to be stared at in fruit shops and talked about when served on the table.

As varieties were improved, shipments to northern states began to increase. The subsequent rise in the grapefruit's popularity has been meteoric, until today it is sometimes referred to as the "aristocrat of the breakfast table."

Florida still leads all states in the production of grapefruit. According to the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, generous supplies of fresh grapefruit from Florida are moving to southeastern markets from this season's crop of 42.5 million boxes.

Nearly three-fourths of the Florida crop this season, or about 22.5 million boxes, will be of the seedless type.

The Consumer and Marketing Service says now is the time for southeastern food shoppers to buy and serve the "forbidden fruit," or just plain "grapefruit." Put plentiful grapefruit on your next shopping list.

DISTRICT TOURNAY AT BRODHEAD

The 49th District Tournament will be played at the Brodhead School gymnasium this year. This is the first time in about 10 years that the tourney has been played there. Schools included in the 49th District are: Jackson, Criggs, Annville, Institute, Oneida Institute, Clay County, Brodhead, Mt. Vernon and Livingston. The tournament will be played February 27 and 28 and March 1 and 2. Drawings for positions will be held February 7 and will be announced in next week's Signal.

The club is trying to start out with over 100 members.

CLOSED TILL APRIL 1

Freddie Noe, Local Conservation Officer, has asked us to remind local fishermen that the Wall Eye Season is closed annually from February 1 through March 31.

GOOD RESPONSE

We were glad to note that there was an increased number of acres signed up for pepper production in the county this year since this is a good cash crop. The average take in on an acre of peppers is $700.00 and the labor involved is negligible compared to other cash crops.

GOOD SHOW

The Rockcastle County Men's Team did right well Tuesday night against the Southern Belles, a women's professional basketball team, when they only lost by one point 70 to 69. As well, maybe the girls uniforms and crazy antics distracted the men or maybe the referees were prejudiced.

Thieves Enter Loot Service Stations

Thieves entered Jim's Standard Service on US 150 Tuesday night, January 23 and stole merchandise valued at $650. According to Deputy Sheriff Frank Deborde, the station was entered through a side door and the theft was discovered about 6 a.m. Wednesday morning when an employee, Charles Shepherd, came to work.

The family was away from home and the time of the break-in is uncertain, according to Sheriff Tip Reppert.

Jackson led at all the quarter stops 14 to 5, 30 to 19, 38 to 29, and the final score 53 to 45. Livingston hit on 46% of their field goal attempts but shot very poorly from the free throw line which made a big difference in the outcome of the game.

GOOD FORM ANYWAY—Golfers Craig is shown going up with a hook shot in Tuesday night's exhibition game between the Southern Belles and the Rockcastle County Men's Team. The shot missed and the men lost by a score of 70 to 69. But they had a lot of fun and were treated to quite a bit of free shooting and clowning by the girls' team. The Livingston LHS Club, who sponsored the game, netted about $200 from the game which was played before a capacity crowd at the Livingston gymnasium.

HEART TRANSPLANTS

When a definitive history of the 1960's is written, Vietnam is sure to receive careful, long perusal. Intensive, treatment. But scientific advancements will also boom large, and in the forefront will be the first transplant of the human heart by Dr. Christian N. Barnard, in Capetown, South Africa, December 3, 1967.

PRACTICALITY

Although the heart received by patient Louis Washkansky was strong, his own lungs proved weak and he survived the cardiac surgery by only 18 days. Within a matter of six weeks, three teams of surgeons on two continents transplanted a total of five human hearts. This pioneering did not represent a sudden major breakthrough in medical science. It was preceded by decades of painstaking spadework and careful experimentation on animals.

Dr. Barnard's historic first attempt proved that such a transplant was possible and, possibly one day, practical. But the Capetown surgeon has been quick to note that he will not feel he has really succeeded until he is able to charge a patient (with a borrowed heart) "so that he can go home and live a fairly normal life."

MORALITY

Oddly enough, considering that the heart is felt to be the key human organ, there has been almost no criticism of its transplant from the viewpoint of the morality of the procedure. Possibly this is because the transplant of body organs has been going on for quite a long time now, and the case of kidneys has been meeting with increasing success.

Also, here in the United States, cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death. In 1966, it claimed more than one million people, or 55% of all those who died in that year. No serious objection to heart transplants on moral grounds have been voiced by leaders of the major religions. On the whole, theologians and philosophers appear to favor the procedure as a means of aiding the most desperate heart victims and of extending scientific knowledge of the organ itself and its interrelation with other body organs and functions.

LEGALITY

The obvious high risk of this surgery does give rise to certain legal questions. These involve patient understanding of, and consent to, a transplant, as well as properly executed consent of the donor and his family. And of course there is the danger that ill-equipped and/or ill-prepared teams of surgeons may try heart transplants prematurely, thus inviting malpractice suits.

Many observers feel that lack of uniformity in our laws governing human organ transplants is presently hindering needed cornea and kidney transplants. . . and preventing some to be put together. A study group appointed by the U.S. Conference of Governors is now looking into these conflicts and is expected to draw up a model "gift-of-tissue" act which can be presented to the various state legislatures later this year.

SENTIMENTALITY

Almost overnight the heart transplant has evoked extraordinarily wide interest and become a strong unifying force in our fragmented world. There are two reasons for this. (1) Self preservation is the first law of nature and so we all have a vital interest in the cure of heart disease and the replacement of damaged heart muscle and valves, etc. (2) We regard the heart as the center of our being, the seat of emotion, romance, and sentiment.

Of course, the heart is not what romanticists have made it - a virtual synonym for the spirit, a symbol of courage, of love, and of the uniqueness of human personality. But it is a key organ, essential to human life, and hence a strong rallying point as medical men press their probe of nature's secrets. Already the heart transplant has surmounted racial barriers in rigidly segregated South Africa to draw the whole human family closer together, and to remind us that we are all brothers in need of one another.

SOCIAL SECURITY NOTES

"Working mothers now provide greater insurance coverage for their children due to the 1967 Amendments to the Social Security Law," said James Mustian, Officer-in-Charge, of the Somerset Social Security Branch Office. For the month of February 1968 and thereafter, benefits will be paid to a child of a retired, disabled or deceased mother under the same provisions that children are paid on their father's record of employment.

In the past we could not pay a child's benefit based on the mother's employment unless the mother was fully insured and worked one-half of the three years prior to retirement, disability, or death. Mustian stated, "Now benefits are payable if the mother is either fully insured or worked one-half of the three years prior to retirement, disability, or death."

The Social Security Administration does not have current addresses for the other 500,000 older Americans because they have never applied for even the hospital insurance under medicare.

Just about everyone now over 65 is eligible for the voluntary part of medicare, Ball emphasized - whether they have ever worked under social security, and whether retired or still working. He urged persons 65 and over and not signed up for medicare's doctor bill insurance to get in touch with their social security district office if they do not get a letter in a week or so.

In his letter, Commissioner Ball lists 8 reasons that

Over one million older people in the country are receiving letters this week, reminding them that they have only until April 1 to sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare.

In the letter, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, points out that nearly 18 million people - 92 percent of those over 65 - have already signed up for the doctor bill insurance to supplement their basic hospital insurance under medicare.

Since the program started only 18 months ago, he notes, it has helped pay over 28 million medical bills, totaling almost $1.3 billion.

About 1.6 million people 65 and over missed out on their first chance to elect the supplementary medical insurance, according to Commissioner Ball. The Social Security Administration is sending letters to the 1.1 million for whom it has addresses - those who have been issued medicare cards showing that they are covered only by the basic hospital insurance part of medicare.

The increase of 13 percent in social security benefits, recently enacted by Congress will in most cases be more than enough to cover a social security beneficiary's half of the premium - and to increase his monthly check.

Beginning in April, covered outpatients hospital benefits will be paid only under the medical insurance part of medicare. To have outpatient hospital coverage, therefore, the older person must be signed-up for the medical insurance program.

The protection will cost more later on. The premium is 10 percent higher for each year that has passed since the older person's opportunity to enroll.

older people without the supplementary doctor bill insurance ought to consider. He also encloses a leaflet explaining the medical insurance benefits and an enrollment card to be sent back showing whether or not the person wants the protection.

As reasons for signing up now, the Commissioner cites: That the $4 premium rate represents an excellent buy because it represents only half the cost of the protection. The Government pays the other half.

It may not be possible to obtain the basic coverage any other way. For the most part, Blue Cross-Blue Shield and the commercial insurance companies have tightened their policies for people 65 and over to supplement medicare.

The 1967 changes in the law make it easier to collect medical insurance benefits. There are a number of improvements in medical insurance benefits, for example, the payment of the full reasonable charges for X-ray or laboratory services furnished to a bed patient in a hospital and coverage of physical therapy services at home or elsewhere.

The increase of 13 percent in social security benefits, recently enacted by Congress will in most cases be more than enough to cover a social security beneficiary's half of the premium - and to increase his monthly check.

Beginning in April, covered outpatients hospital benefits will be paid only under the medical insurance part of medicare. To have outpatient hospital coverage, therefore, the older person must be signed-up for the medical insurance program.

The protection will cost more later on. The premium is 10 percent higher for each year that has passed since the older person's opportunity to enroll.

not signed up for the supplementary medical insurance by April 1, cannot get the protection until July, 1969. A delay of more than 3 years after the person's first opportunity to enroll means that he will not be able to get the protection at all.

Advance payments to farmers participating in feed grain and cotton programs will be continued in 1968, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today.

To obtain advance payments, farmers must apply for it at the time he signs up to participate in the program. Sign-up period begins Monday, Feb. 5 and ends March 15.

Advances will be up to 50 percent of cotton and feed grain acreage diversion payments. Advance payments will not be made on wheat marketing certificates or on feed grain and cotton price-support payments.

For corn and grain sorghums diversion payments will be made on acreage withheld from production above qualifying 20 percent of base as announced Oct. 26. Additional diversion may total up to 50 percent of the base or 25 acres, whichever is larger, the same as in 1966. Diversion payment rate per acre will be 45 percent of the total price support (or national average) times the yield. For larger farms, no diversion payment, as in 1967 will be made on qualifying 20 percent withheld.

Exceptions continue to be made for small farm diversion payments. Farms with bases of 25 acres or less will get payment on the first 20 percent of the base. 20 percent of the total support times yield, and at

HOW MUCH ALIKE Is Your Faith And Catholicism?

To help establish inter-faith understanding the Knights of Columbus are offering, free of charge, this concise 36 page booklet which clearly sets forth the basic teachings of the Catholic Church. It explains, for instance:

- WHY Christ Himself instituted the seven sacraments; Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Eucharist, Penance (or Confession), Matrimony, Holy Orders and Anointing of the Sick.
- WHY Catholics believe that perfect union with the Creator can be achieved only through the practice of sacrifice (the Mass). The booklet also describes how Christ originated the Mass and why it plays such a vital role in the Catholic faith.
- WHY the basic structure of the Church has remained unchanged since the time of the Apostles. . . and why Catholics believe that the authority of their priests and bishops must be recognized.

Regardless of your religious convictions, you will find that this booklet will give you a fresh insight into Christianity and how it began. There's no obligation or cost and no one will call on you.

Walk Extra Mile To Lose Weight

Want to lose ten pounds in the next year?

One way you can do it is to walk an extra mile every day.

The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, reports that a walk of just an extra mile per day for 365 days is a "simple, pleasant device for shedding an extra pound of fat." In a year this would mount up to about ten pounds. The extra mile means just that—a mile of walking in addition to the customary walking you now do each day.

Once regarded as a major factor in losing weight, physical activity was later accorded less importance. It was realized that considerable effort was required to shed even one pound of extra tissue. Would-be reducers found comfort in some expert opinion that calories expended through exercise would be immediately replaced, due to an automatic increase in appetite.

Fortunately for fitness as well as for fatness, exercise has been restored to grace and enjoys respectability. Exercise helps expend calories; within the usual range of activity, it need not stimulate appetite excessively. The energy output required to offset a pound of fat is approximately 3,500 calories, but the weight need not be lost all at once.

Instead of the exhausting, often impossible, 36-mile hike within a span of hours, a walk of just one extra mile a day for 365 days will get rid of that extra

Weight gain usually is relatively slow, and the extra mile will—for most of us—help keep our weight down to a reasonable figure.

Exercise also furthers physical, mental, psychological, and social fitness. It provides an outlet for emotional tensions, promotes self-confidence, wholesome social activity, and good sportsmanship. It enhances the sense of general well-being that enables us to confront and master a reducing regimen.

To be effective for both weight reduction and for general physical conditioning, exercise must be a regular part of your way of life, and not something that is overcome spasmodically.

So, if you want to lose ten pounds in the next year, just arrange to walk that extra mile today.
