Vocational agriculture students in Brodhead High School will join Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation in activities to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, February 17-24.

"Challenging Youth in Agriculture" is this year's FFA Week theme. The message that these young agriculturalists are trying to impart to the nation is simple. They seek to inform the public of the importance of the agricultural industry to America and to the world, the value of good citizenship development, and the role of Future Farmers of America in helping meet the challenges in world food production that faces America today.

"Because of the many predictions of world hunger in the future, many people have stopped listening," said Russell Parsons, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at Brodhead High School. "Now suddenly, the future is here! For the past eleven years our world has not been able to grow as much food as it has eaten. And finally the bottomless U.S. surpluses have melted away."

"Let us also point out," he added, "that it is estimated that the world as a whole will need 50 percent more food just two decades from now. Meeting these challenges will be in the hands of young agriculturalists being trained and developed in such an organization as the FFA."

Membership in the FFA is made of students of vovocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop moral leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming and other agricultural occupations.

The Brodhead FFA Chapter has 31 members. The national FFA organization has approximately 450,000 members, with 9,000 local chapters in the 50 states and Puerto Rico. Membership in Kentucky totals 15,600.

The week of George Washington's Birthday is chosen each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although usually recognized as a Revolutionary War General and our first President, Washington's first love was the farm. He was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement methods.

Livestock Improvement Assoc. Holds Annual Dinner-Meeting

Mr. Barkley Colson, Credit Manager, Cumberland Production Credit Association, Somerset, Kentucky, was guest speaker for the annual meeting of the Rockcastle County Livestock Improvement Association held February 20, 1968, 7:30 p.m. at Brodhead High School.

Mr. Colson spoke on the subject of being "honest with yourself." He said, "We must determine where we are now, and set ourselves where we're going." Some of the things, according to Mr. Colson, in a successful farming operation are: farm planning, proper consideration of land capabilities, selection of enterprises, using the improved practices we have, and keeping farm records. Mr. Colson further stated, "destiny of the livestock industry depends on the things we do today."

During the evening, Roy Brown, President of the Association, gave a brief report on the activities and accomplishments of the association. Some of the activities carried out by the association in 1967 are as follows:

1. Helped organize group to work with Governor's Commission on Agriculture in upgrading a Billion Dollar farm income in Kentucky.

Bishop Sponsors Bill To Aid Servicemen

A bill sponsored by Senator Fred Bishop, to enable residents servicemen on furlough in their home counties to use their military identifications in lieu of a fishing or hunting license, has been passed by the Senate on a vote of 35 to 1. It now goes to the House of Representatives.

What the bill means specifically, according to Bishop, "is that servicemen on leave of three days or more would be able to hunt or fish in their home county purchasing a license from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

"The measure, in good part, is a way for the people of this Commonwealth to give some small recognition to the servicemen and the job he is doing."

Bishop's bill would amend KRS 150.170 which prohibits any person from hunting or fishing in Kentucky without a license, except for certain provisions.

Bishop represents the 19th Senatorial District, composed of Clay, Jackson, Laurel, Owsley, and Rockcastle counties.

CLOCK AND CALENDAR

Last month's decision of the nation's leading securities exchanges to top an hour and a half off each day's trading session has created some new problems and may have only partially solved old ones. Designed to give brokerage houses the exchanges themselves a chance to catch up with and keep abreast of a rising volume of paperwork, the early closings have linked brokers and investors in California and other West Coast States.

TIME ZONE LIMITATIONS

The disorientation and frustration of California brokers who now must map their offices beginning at 7 a.m. and work at breakneck speed to get the bulk of the day's work done by 11 a.m. (Pacific Time) closing hour of the New York exchanges may one day prove to have been a major factor in determining new hours for these exchanges. Already, the disenchantment out West has revived an idea which has been toyed with from time to time--but never taken too seriously--namely, abandonment of the four continental U.S. time zones in favor of a two-zone arrangement calculated to draw the whole nation closer together.

Of course, a two-zone system would present some difficulties of its own. For example, under such an arrangement, Boston's winter sunrise could come after 6 a.m., with the sun setting in mid-afternoon and the darkness of night falling before 4 p.m. And East Coast summertime sunrise could be as early as 3 a.m., with New York's only minutes later. By contrast, sunrise and sunset times in California would be less extreme, though winter sunrise could come as late as 8 a.m.

TIME RELATIVE, NOT ABSOLUTE

To Americans born in this century, our present four zones (Eastern, Central, Mountain, and Pacific) seem to be so traditional as to defy change. And they may prove to be. But just to keep the record straight, it should be acknowledged that these time zones are not exactly hoary with age. Only gradually did they win acceptance during the 19th century following the opening of transcontinental railroad service. Before that time, local option ruled, with resultant confusion and frustration.

HOLIDAY WEEKENDS

The idea of tinkering with time is not confined to the clock, but extends also to the calendar. A good many business interests--catering to leisure-time needs or desiring to be active in advocating calendar reform. Other proponents stress their belief that a general overhaul of the calendar would benefit many businesses. In very recent years, the idea of calendar

GOVERNOR LOUIE B. NUNN, seated, signs a proclamation officially designating the week of February 26-March 1 "Farm Bureau Appreciation Week" in Kentucky, as Louis Ison, left, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and Willard Carroll, field secretary director for the organization, look on. Governor Nunn's proclamation cites the contributions which Farm Bureau has made to agricultural progress, and urges all Kentuckians to join in support of the organization and its programs.

KENTUCKY DEPARTMENT of AGRICULTURE NEWS

J. Robert Miller, Commissioner

Last week I had the pleasure of speaking before two outstanding agricultural meetings. One was the annual convention of the Kentucky Retail Farm Equipment Dealers and the other was a cattlemen's banquet at the University of Kentucky.

LEISURE-TIME USE

The day when broad agreement on any reduction of our present time zones will be reached would appear to be some distance into the future. Nor will sweeping calendar reform be enacted any time soon. However, support for the Monday holiday idea is growing steadily in selected business circles and among labor leaders. Despite opposition from traditionalists and from those who feel that a move toward three-day week ends would only compound present traffic problems in the air and on the ground, this is the change most likely to become a reality, possibly in the early 1970's.

In any event, we are headed for further increases in leisure time. Already, both summer and winter vacations are more common, the number of families having leisure-time homes is expanding, and travel and camping are being brought within the reach of more and more people. As our horizons broaden and our choices increase, the focus will be on making the best use of our increased leisure time.

Mechanization has given industry the capability of mass production. The ability to mass produce has been present, and is being brought within the reach of more and more people. Perhaps our corn and wheat belt are the best examples of mass production in agriculture.

However, I feel that to a great extent the smaller, family type farms, which for many years made up a large part of agriculture, made mechanization less important. But, not only is the trend away from family type farms, but the supply of farm labor is growing short.

In speaking to the cattlemen's banquet, I pointed out that mechanization will probably determine whether or not an individual farmer stays in business. And this becomes very important as we view the potential Kentucky has as a beef producing state.

Our beef cattle population is now listed at some 2,543,000 head. This gives Kentucky a national rank of 14th. In 1966 Kentucky farmers realized over $164 million from beef cattle enterprises. This figure compares to $12 million in 1930.

Now cook-outs are "in" with radiantly controlled electric broiling...

and forget about the mess with a self-cleaning electric oven!

Long for a sizzling steak broiled outdoors on a charcoal grill? Well, forget about the "longing" and do something about it by graduating now to radiantly controlled electric broiling. Steaks—especially have such rich beef juiciness—such tasty mouth-watering goodness—they taste just as good as steaks cooked outdoors.

And the nicest part about indoor broiling is that electric ranges can have self-cleaning ovens! So forget about clean-up mess! For complete details see your dealer now—get the "real" story on automatic electric ranges with the self-cleaning oven.

UP TO $$$ ON YOUR WIRING BILL! IF YOU BUY AN ELECTRIC RANGE NOW! If you change from 2 wire to 3 wire, 100 ampere service, and install an electric range anytime in 1968, we'll pay $35 on your wiring bill until March 31. If you have 3 wire service and install an electric range, we'll pay $15 toward additional wiring needed. See your KU or ODP manager for eligibility.

A Letter of Thanks To The Jaycees

We, the Board of Directors of the Rockcastle County, Baptist Hospital, wish to take this opportunity to thank the Rockcastle County Jaycees for their donation of $835.25 to the hospital. This donation came at a very opportune time and we shall be forever grateful to you.

Our Hospital is a non profit organization and our records will bear us out on that. Since the Hospital opened in September of 1956, it has admitted and treated many, many charity cases, and it also has admitted and treated many patients that could have paid their bill, but didn't. Both of these combined, have helped to put the hospital in the financial straits that it is now in.

I have heard some criticism that the hospital has too much help. The Administrator has told the Board, on different occasions, that she did not have too much help, and we believe that she should know.

My opinion is that the People who have criticized about too much help have noticed this when shifts were changing. In just a few minutes, half of them will be gone and often the ones left will not stop anymore during their shift. It has happened more than once that the girls did not get time to eat. I wonder if those that criticize would work eight hours and not eat, I wouldn't want to.

While I'm writing about Our Hospital I will say something about Our doctors. Rockcastle County has a population of something over 13000 people, and just 2 doctors to care for us. I myself can't see how they see as many patients as they do. We must remember that they are Human and they tire out as we do. However, there are some People that do not care about anyone but themselves. I think that We have two fine a Doctors as you will find anywhere. One thing for sure is that We would be, in a very bad situation if not for them. So let all of Us appreciate them more, and when in their office or at the Hospital, be patient, even if they are unable to see you right away.

Let us bear in mind that there is more People that are sick also. If We do this it will make the Doctor's heavy load much easier for them to carry. Again Jaycees We say "Thanks a Million For Your Gift."

Very Truly Yours,

Archie L. French
Sec. Board of Directors, R.C.B.H.

Food Cues

BY: BECKY SUSAN
Everyone needs a good breakfast, not necessarily one that takes a long time to prepare, but one that is hearty and will keep every member of the family at their peppiest best until lunch.

For a good breakfast, start with a glass of orange juice of a fresh grapefruit half. Then perhaps a bowl of cereal, and then something hot. What could be better and easier to fix than a potatoegg scramble?

To prepare a potato-egg scramble—both ingredients which the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service says are plentiful now—here's a recipe for serving four.

Cook 2 bacon slices in a fry pan until crisp. Remove from the pan. Then fry 2 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes in the bacon fat until they are well browned, sprinkling with a teaspoon of salt when they start to brown. Cover the pan closely and cook over low heat until potatoes are tender.

Combine 4 beaten eggs with ¼ cup milk, season with pepper, and pour over the frying potatoes in the pan. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until eggs are set.

Crumble the bacon and add it just before taking the pan from the heat. Serve at once.

If desired, sliced boiled potatoes may be used, instead of raw potatoes, or use leftover potatoes from last night's dinner.

NEW CHILD LABOR LAW REGULATIONS CUTS DOWN NUMBER OF TASKS ALLOWED

New regulations on use of child labor on farms have been put in force by a new child-labor law. It prevents youths 15 years old or younger from operating tractors, working around self-unloading machinery and performing other hazardous jobs on a farm, says S.Q. Allen, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service Economist. The law does NOT apply, however, to children working on their parents' farms, he says. And, vocational agriculture students who have met specific requirements, or youth enrolled in supervised training programs, also may be excused from the provisions of the new federal law, he says.

Here are some of the prohibited hazardous tasks in farming operations:
 Handling or applying anhydrous ammonia, certain toxic herbicides, pesticides and fungicides, and cleaning equipment used in applying or mixing these materials; handling or using a blasting agent, including dynamite, blasting caps, primer cord or black powder; serving as a flagman for aircraft; driving a bus, truck or automobile on a public highway; operating, driving or riding on a tractor of more than 20-hp horsepower, or attaching or detaching an implement or take-off unit to or from a tractor while the motor is running; operating or riding on a self-unloading, hauled, feed wagon, feeder trailer, forage box wagon or auger trailer or wagon.

Operating or riding on a dump or hoist wagon, fork lift, rotary tiller or power-driven earthmoving or trenching equipment; operating or unclogging a stationary baler, threshing, huller, feed grinder, chopper, silo filler or crop dryer, seeding or unclogging a roughage blower or auger conveyor, operating a power-driven post-hole digger or post driver, operating, adjusting or cleaning a power-driven saw; felling, bucking, skidding, loading or unloading timber, with a butt diameter of more than six inches.
 Working from a ladder or scaffold more than 20 feet high; working inside a gas vault; Apply 50 to 60 tight fruit, grain or forage pounds an acre of nitrogen enclosure or inside a silo between Feb. 15 and March 15. Earlier applications, (before Feb. 15) will allow moderate leaching; applications after March 15 will permit vegetative growth and lodging, lowering seed yields.

TALL FESCUE (Kenwell and KY): A top-dressing of 50 to 60 pounds of nitrogen during December is the recommended practice. Later applications (after March 1) give satisfactory yields but not as high as will the December ones. Nitrogen applied at this rate after March 15 causes lodging and excessive growth, lowering seed yields.
SEEDING TIME IS NEAR FOR RENOVATED FIELDS If you have a field you wanted to renovate last fall, but couldn't get to it, you can still handle the task. Here are the recommended steps, says Warren Thompson, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service agronomist:
 1. Test the soil and apply needed limestone and fertilizer. Nitrogen is NOT needed, however, nitrogen favors the established grass rather than the new legume.
 2. Tear up about 50 percent of a good sod, using a tiller or disk harrow. On rolling land, till on the contour before seeding, smooth the soil.
 3. Sow adapted legumes at the recommended rate for seeding legumes alone. Use certified seed. Seeding alfalfa alone, 12 to 15 pounds an acre; alfalfa and ladino white clover, eight to 10 pounds of alfalfa mixed with one half pound to one pound of ladino.

TRIAL BASIS RECOMMENDED FOR USE OF ENIDE MATERIAL IN TOBACCO PLANT BEDS
 If you want to use Enide 50W on your tobacco plant bed this year - do it on a trial basis. That's the recommendation of Dr. James W. Heron, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service weed control specialist. "Results of treatment with Enide in Kentucky in 1967 were somewhat variable; therefore, until additional information is obtained and the tobacco grower becomes more experienced in applying the chemical, it should be used on a trial basis," Dr. Heron says. Recommended use system:
