MARVIN CORNETT IS A FORMER TEACHER, AND WAS ELECTED THREE TIMES BY THE PEOPLE OF LINCOLN COUNTY AS THEIR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE KENTUCKY GENERAL ASSEMBLY. HE IS A FORMER STATE DIRECTOR OF PROBATION AND PAROLE. HE HAS PRACTICED LAW FOR TWENTY-THREE YEARS, DURING SIX YEARS OF WHICH HE WAS CITY ATTORNEY FOR STANFORD. HE IS THE ONLY REPUBLICAN WHO IS A CANDIDATE FOR THIS OFFICE.

Pa. Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Marvin Cornett

James Crockett. A comprehensive guide to the culture, care, and decorative use of green plants in your home and office.

THE INDOMITABLE BAPTISTS, by O.K. and Marjorie Armstrong. A dramatic story of the largest and liveliest Protestant denomination in America.

THE JURY RETURNS, by Louis Nizer. A sparkling memoir, crowded with human interest and profound understanding.

MATHEMATICS MAKES SENSE, by W.D. Lewis. This book for non-mathematicians of all ages offer a new and exciting approach to the subject.

THE NINE BILLION NAMES OF GOD, by Arthur C. Clarke. A splendid collection of science fiction stories.

PERRY, THE EXPLORED AND THE MAN, by John Weems. A major biography of the grate explorer and complex man who rolled a shroud from many unknown Arctic regions and triumphantly reached the North Pole itself in 1909.

PHYSICS FOR THE MODERN MIND, by Walter Fuchs. A vivid exploration for the general reader of the background and drama of today's world of science.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR, by Roy Boyler. The author deftly narrows the flow of war and events that constitute the most catastrophic - yet in some ways the most glorious period of American history.

STAGECOACH WEST, by Ralph Moody. The story of the frontier express lines that linked the nation together.

THE STORY OF THE ENO

LISH LANGUAGE, by Mario Pei. A clear and interesting account of the development of a great language, from small tribal Anglo-Saxon to large cosmopolitan English.

BIG NICK, by George Leycock. The story of a remarkable black bear who lived in a National Park and became something of a problem. The author has described the hazards and pleasures of a bear's life.

BRIM SAILS OUT, by Michael Gaunt. An exciting adventure for readers. No animal ever went out of the valley. If you did disaster followed which is what happened to Bim and his friends.

EARTHFASTS, by William Mayne. The author masterfully blends the commonplace, with the supernatural in an eerie, gripping tale which should appeal to good readers.

THE EMPEROR'S ARROW, by Burke Boyce. Based on a legend of the middle ages, this is the story of how Pepin, a seaf, helped Charlemagne, find a cure for the Black Death.

KEN BOYER, by David Lipman. The career of the St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman, the National League's "most valuable player" for the 1964 season.

RETURN TO HACKBERRY STREET, by Christine Govon. The author has recaptured with great charm and with the special atmosphere the variety and flavor of life in a small Southern town in the early 1900's.

TOM'S TOWER, by Janet McNeill. "The Castle is there" are the words written in Tom's handwriting on a note found by his schoolmaster. Then begins a fantasy in which Tom, two bizarre characters, an anti-social hermit, and a lazy witch become official guardians of the castle's treasure.

WIZARD OF TUSKEGEE, by David Mander. Plays up Carver's contribution to space-age synthetics. The broad interest range, and, for the most part, straight-forward style make it a useful addition.

Shriners News

This report carries a special message to special people, especially residents of Rockcastle County and extra especially Blue Lodge members -- we have a chair waiting for you.

Our delayed meeting of one week resulting from our Shriners' Dayton Trip, was held at Reno Lodge with 22 members present for the enjoyable dinner. Visiting Nobles from Lexington and Richmond were on hand for the meeting and Monroe Baker, president, presided.

were Daisy Day parade, Saturday, June 15 at 1 p.m. Shriners' Circus, Mr. Saylor confirmed that there would be eight large school buses with drivers available for transportation with pick-up points at the following places, Livingston School, Mt. Vernon School, Broadhead School, and Roundstone School. Pick-up time will be announced later. All children will definitely be chaperoned and supervised plus insured. So, parents can be assured of their complete safety.

Now read this story. At our Friday, "Star Studied Meeting," we had what is believed to be the distinction of installing new members in our club at our monthly meeting for each consecutive meeting last June which will be our next meeting. 12 meetings of adding new members. So your and your little old county of Rockcastle has a record for growth in membership. In other words a county full of Nobles on the last Friday in the month. Now the district visiting Nobles from other clubs joining past meeting were as follows: Noble James Wager of Waco, Rollie Pillion of our city, Ross Mills of Frankfort, C.U. Ross of Lexington, a member of the Oleika Shrine Band, and Marshall E. Langley of Lexington, a member of the motor escort.

Four Youths Arrested In Break-In Monday

Four teenagers have been arrested in connection with a break-in on the farm of Henry Bryant in the Bowling Ridge section of the county Monday night.

According to Sheriff Tip Reppert, Mr. Bryant called him late Monday night and told him that he had seen several persons enter his barn. Sheriff Reppert and Deputy Sheriff Billy Kirby were at the scene and found a car parked near the barn with Florida license. No one was in the barn at the time they arrived and nothing had been taken, however, after a few moments, one of the youths, Arthur Brenda, of Lincoln County, returned to the scene and was arrested by Sheriff Reppert and Deputy Kirby.

Three other youths, all from Lincoln County, were arrested Tuesday in connection with the break-in. They are Danny Hawley, Sammy Brock, and Phillip Adams. Adams and Brenda have both posted $500 bond and have been released.

War were obtained by Mr. Bryant. They were charged with "Storehouse breaking with intent to steal."

EDWARD B. NEWLAND DIES AT LOUISVILLE

Edward Budett Newland, 91, died May 15 in Louisville. He was a retired carpenter and a member of the Brodhead Christian Church.

Mr. Newland was born in Rockcastle County the son of Isaac and Sally Newland C. m. f. d.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Ella Belle Smith of Indianapolis, Ind., Mary Iva Linsawald and Mrs. Fletchler of Brodhead, twenty grand-children, two step grand-children and thirty-four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday, May 17, at Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. O.O. Clloyd officiating. Burial was in the Piney Grove Cemetery at Brodhead.

SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. GRACE HOWARD

Funeral services were held Friday, May 17, for Mrs. Grace M. Howard, 46, who was killed Wednesday, May 15 by an L & N train near the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Brown at Brodhead.

Mrs. Howard was a native of Rockcastle County and a member of the Ottawa Baptist Church.

Besides her husband, Edgar Howard, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Shirley Irene Wilson, Miss Linda Howard and Miss Teresa Howard, all of Route 2, Brodhead; two sons, Billy Howard of Berea and Glenn Howard of Brodhead; one sister, Mrs. Yema Webb of Middletown, Ohio; three brothers, Denver Lee Brown of Maryland, Victor Brown of Pennsylvania, and Coy Brown of Houston, Texas; her parents, Reuben and Eldie Newcomb Brown, and six grandchildren.

Maj. John McElroy Killed In Vietnam

Maj. John L. McElroy was killed Sunday, May 12 when the C-130 Air Force transport plane, on which he was a navigator, exploded and crashed under enemy fire in Vietnam.

Major McElroy, a native of Eminence, was a graduate of the University of Kentucky and formerly taught at Arizona State University. He had been in the Air Force for 12 years and was due to return home for vacation in July.

...W. L. Oliver, Mayor C. M. "Hop" Ewing, County Judge Wayne Van Hook, Roy Brown...

Mayor C. M. Ewing Speaks At Meeting Of Development Assn.

Approximately twenty-five persons were present Monday night for a special called meeting of the Rockcastle County Development Association held at the courthouse. Roy Brown, president of the association, introduced the guest speaker for the evening, C. M. "Hop" Ewing, Mayor of Florence.

Mr. Ewing presented a very interesting, dynamic talk on industrial development in the Florence area and his experience in helping to obtain state industries.

According to W.L. Oliver, a resident of Florence and Mt. Vernon who invited Mr. Ewing, down Mr. Ewing deserves most of the credit for Florence, realizing their tremendous industrial growth in the last few years.

Mr. Ewing told the group that in 1959 Florence had several problems not least of them was Interstate 75 and Interstate 71 both of which would by-pass the town.

This is the fifth county in the state of Kentucky in which this Mobile Team from the Division of Employment Service have conducted their labor survey. Other counties have been Wolfe, Jackson, Edmondson, and Casey. They stay in the county approximately four months and at the end of that time they prepare a brochure containing all necessary information for industry interested in locating in the area.

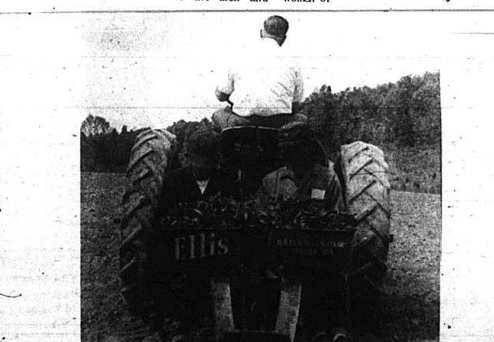

This brochure contains such information such as number employed, skilled and unskilled, number of unemployed, number of underemployed (people who are working at jobs not suited to their capabilities), number of people qualified for training, recreational facilities in Rockcastle County, and surrounding areas, transportation (air and traffic), electrical rates, water rates, industrial sites available, educational levels of the people, major highways, etc.

One hundred of these brochures will be sent to Washington, D.C., seventy-five to the Department of Commerce, and from fifty

FOSTER OCKERMAN

DEMOCRAT

YOUR OK MAN for U. S. SENATOR

He's a worker ... and he likes it. He wants to work for you. He was born on a farm in Nelson County, the son of a Methodist minister. He lives in Lexington with his wife Joyce, two sons and a daughter. He's an attorney, a graduate of the University of Kentucky Law College.

He served on PT boats in the Navy in the South Pacific during World War II. He was elected to three terms in the Kentucky Legislature ... received the Press Poll Award as the most valuable member of the House. He was a member of Governor Combs' cabinet. Yes, he knows his way around.

He was Chief Legislative Assistant to the Governor in 1966 ... received the first Distinguished Service Award at that time. He was State Chairman of the Democratic Party.

He's done more, in more areas for Kentucky government than any of the other candidates for U. S. Senator. He knows how to get things done. He will not trade the truth for votes ... he will bring to Kentuckians a new faith and pride in their man in Washington.

Berea Hospital Begins Fund Raising Campaign

The Directors of Berea Hospital are encouraged by the response of the public to their first attempt to raise money to expand and improve the Hospital since it became an independent institution in 1967.

Prior to that time it was administered and budgeted by Berea College which founded it seventy years ago. The College continues to pay for all student and faculty health services supplied by the Hospital.

A Hospital association has since been formed composed of 110 citizens of the area.

A Board of twenty-four officers and members is now responsible for the entire operation. Officers of the Board are: Lawson Hamilton, Jr., Berea, president; Jess Wilson, McKee, vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Wright, Berea, secretary; and Leigh Jones, Berea, treasurer.

The campaign was given a big boost with the appointment of John Bill Allen, well known Berea florist, and chairman of the Berea Hospital Development Fund. Mr. Allen brings to his task a store of experience in business and civic affairs reaching back a quarter of a century.

He is a past District Re-

John Bill Allen

presentative of Florists Transworld Delivery and a past president of the Berea Parent-Teachers Association. A Lion with a record of perfect attendance for 21 years, he is a past president of that club. At present, he is president of the Madison Shrine Club, a member of the Motor Patrol of Oleika Temple and president of the Berea Swimming Pool Corporation. He is an active member of the Berea Baptist Church. In accepting the appointment as general chairman of the fund, Mr. Allen said, "I am happy indeed to have a part in this most worthwhile civic undertaking. I realize that the progress of our volunteer hospital is important to our entire area. I will do everything I can do to make this fund drive a complete success."

Plans for building and equipment to be provided by the fund include a two-story wing on the present building plus heating and cooling facilities for the 47 beds in existing hospital and also a paved parking lot for 50 cars. The total cost is expected to be about $800,000 of which nearly one-half is assured from government grants. A little more than $400,000 will be solicited from the parts of four counties which are served by Berea Hospital.

FERRY'S SALE TO STATE APPROVED—After discussion with Circuit Judge J. C. Carter, left, Gov. Louie B. Nunn approved purchase by the State of ferry service at Turkey Neck Bend in Monroe County. Nunn said the State will operate the ferry 24 hours a day instead of the 11 hours it presently is operated to connect Turkey Neck Bend's 300 residents to Tompkinsville, the county seat. While details were to be worked out, the price agreed on was $6,500. Cleo Finley, Tompkinsville, represented the firm owning the ferry at the approval of the sale.

FOREIGN AID made additional loans and grants totaling $122 billion. Add to that some $90 billion in U.S. private investment in foreign countries. The total amount of U.S. private investment in foreign countries is now over $200 billion. This is a record for any one country.

HOW AND WHY IT STARTED Foreign aid as we know it today had its beginnings near the end of World War II. It was then that the idea of helping underdeveloped nations, principally in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, was first conceived. The idea was to help these nations to become self-sustaining, so that they would not be dependent on us for aid. This was done by providing them with technical assistance, training, and financial aid.

HAVE WE ATTAINED OUR GOALS? The answer is no. In many ways, we have not. The amount of aid that we have provided is still far below what is needed. Moreover, the aid that we have provided has often been misused. This is because we have not done enough to help these nations to become self-sustaining. We have not provided them with the technical assistance and training that they need. We have not provided them with the financial aid that they need to develop their economies.

nations (nearly all of whom have received our bounty) feel that most of these funds have gone down the drain. They contend we've been duped and left holding the bag. To some extent these critics are right. Millions of dollars in foreign aid have been misapplied. In too many instances, funds which could have been spent more advantageously have gone into amusements. Indeed, more than once we might better have worked to remove the causes of their rivalries, helping them make fuller, economic use of their resources.

ADVANCING OUR SECURITY AND PROSPERITY

One of the major mistakes that we have made in the past is that of helping other nations to become more self-reliant, of providing for our own security, and of advancing our own prosperity. We have not succeeded in outlasting war. We have not managed to open Asia, Africa, and Latin America to full participation in a prosperous world economy.

But we have brought some nations, in Europe particularly, to the point where they no longer need our assistance. In Asia, we helped Free China to build a dynamic economy on the island of Formosa with a standard of living for that region second only to industrially powerful Japan. From 1962 through 1966, the annual growth rates of the 12 countries receiving the major share of development assistance have averaged close to 5%. Such progress has been a mighty factor in boosting our own Gross National Product and in increasing the personal incomes of the American people.

PROTECTIONISM WILL NOT PROTECT

Today, as we view with concern the weakness of our dollar, the imbalance of our international payments, and the multitude of tensions in a world that is still badly fragmented—the temptation to withdraw into our shell, to revert to isolationism, is great. But we learned to our sorrow in the 1930's that protectionism does not protect and that isolationism begets stagnation.

Cut federal government expenditures, we surely must. But across-the-board cuts in foreign aid we would make at our peril. Far better to set up priorities, after reviewing needs and goals. Then we could excise the fat from foreign aid without endangering the free world economies and upsetting the precarious balance of international affairs.

to one hundred for the local development association. In charge of the local office is J.M. Bentley, manager, Mobile Team, Division of Employment Service. Working with Mr. Bentley are Ron Johns; Selection and referral offices; E.E. Wood, interviewer, Richard Rotahn, counselor, and W.R. Van Hook, farm placement representative.

A letter, explaining the mobile team's purpose, is being sent to all Rockcastle Counties. Enclosed with the letter is cards to be filled out and returned to their office in the Dinner Bell Building in Mt. Vernon. It is highly important that these cards be returned since the major part of their information for the survey will be taken from these questionnaires.

three junior high schools, four elementary schools, and one under construction, plus another high school under construction. Their average age in the county is now 26.9 compared to 51 in 1952. Their economic growth has shown up not only in business but in church growth being built and large additions to almost every church already built.

Mayor Ewing said there was some criticism from local people about the fact the city owned many of the factory buildings and therefore collected no property tax from them. But he pointed out that the land which the industrial park is located on brought $252 into the county each year as taxable receipts while the amount paid now for personal property and inventory is many, many, times that amount.

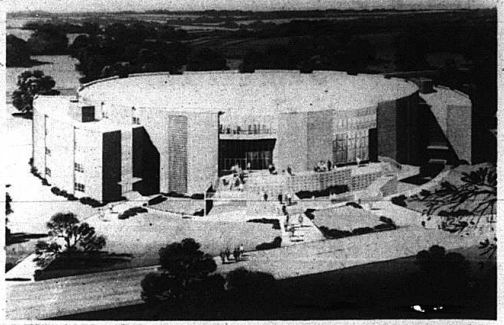

He told the group that out of about one hundred inquiries, the city would possibly get four good prospects for industry. That industry mainly looks for: (1) an area's labor market (2) minimum wage required and (3) type of people available. But Mayor Ewing's main point was that in order to obtain industry in an area the people must be willing to do something for industry. Supply them with adequate water and sewage facilities, natural gas, help them with their building if necessary, and not tax them to death.

Perhaps one of the most important things, according to Ewing, is to obtain the land, be able to supply the sewage and water facilities, and then advertise the fact nationally that industry is highly welcome and most desirable in the area. The regular meeting of the Rockcastle County Development Association will be held next Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse.

back of the long skirt. The bride's shoulder-length veil was held by a cluster of lace petals and her flowers were a hogarth arrangement of white gladioli, stephanotis, and smilax.

Mrs. David Roberts of Oxford, Ohio attended the bride as matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Brunton of Dayton, Ohio and Miss Marilyn Mandrell of Athens, Ohio; junior bridesmaids, Loma Sue Guthrie, the bride's sister, and flower girl, Debra Minton.

The identical short-sleeved Empire gowns of the bride and attendants were fashioned of karate fabric, were decorated with a flower braid and long green velvet streamers and bows, and accented with back panel trains. The matron wore candy pink, the others, mauve pink.

Their headpieces of bows and veils matched their gowns and they carried pink bird cages adorned with pink carnations, daisies and smilax. The flower girl carried a basket of similar flowers.

Arthur B. Hansel served his brother as best man. Ushers were another brother David Hansel, the bride's brother Keith Guthrie and Joe Trigg. Mark Guthrie a young brother of the bride, was ring bearer and two other brothers, David and Scott, were acolytes.

The reception took place in the Carriage House, a Xenia restaurant. Mrs. Thomas Matthews, Mrs. B. Hooper, Miss Connie Moore, Mrs. Merle Henry, and Ms. Yale was performed in front of Campbell assisted. The wedding baskets of white gladioli ring cake was between ho and chrysanthemums, several garb arrangements of daisies branched candelabra and ferns, and candelabra.

The bride's mother received the bride, given in marriage in a turquoise tunic frock by her father, worn a gown and harmonizing accessories, of organza and lace designed by Hansel in a two-piece with a A-line silhouette, knit suit of Nassau blue with the bodice was styled with which she wore coordinating a bateau neckline and lace accessories. Cook Leads Race

Cook for Senator campaign headquarters reports that numerous telephone calls, telegrams and letters indicate that Judge Marlow Cook, candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator, is the leading contender in his primary and can defeat any Democrat nominated in that party's primary.

Cook's campaigning coordinators, Dexter S. Wright, and several reasons for Cook's leading position in this race. "Judge Cook has respect of all Republicans, young and old, rural and urban," said Wright. "He proved his leadership abilities and party responsibility year and year and many of the people who were against us, they are our strongest supporters in this race."

Another reason Wright cited was that Republican voters feel Cook can completely represent the entire population of Kentucky in the U.S. Senate. Wright also noted that of 20 college preference polls the headquarters was aware of having been made across Kentucky, Cook had won every one by a large majority.

"College polls have been indicators in past campaigns of the election winners," he said. Primary election day is

Tuesday, May 28.

Cook for Senator Headquarters announced the results of six more college polls last week. Judge Marlow Cook, candidate for U.S. Senator in the May 28 Republican primary, topped all six.

The polls reported from: The Young Republican Club at Cumberland College favored Cook by 80% to Home-towner Siler's 9% with 11% undecided, according to student Larry Patrick. The Western Kentucky University Young Republicans favored Cook by 81% to Siler's 13% with 6% undecided, according to student Allan Farmer.

The Centre College Young Republicans favored Cook by 85% to Siler's 15% according to student Jane Aueron. The Young Republican Club at Murray State University favored Cook by 87% to Siler's 6% and 7% remaining undecided according to student Tim McEnroe.

The Young Republicans Club at Henderson Community College favored Cook by 57% to none for Siler and 43% undecided according to student Tom Boone.

Upon completion of basic training, these men will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify each man in a specialized military skill.

SWINE PRODUCTION ON UPWARD TREND

Swine production in the Wilderness Trail Area is on the upward trend, as reported by Roy Brown, president of the Wilderness Trail Area Agricultural Council. The Rockcastle County Swine Producers Association has monthly meetings with swine specialists on hand to inform producers of the latest in management, breeding, feeding, marketing, and sanitation. A group of Rockcastle County Agri-Businessmen made their fourth farm tour in 1967 visiting in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, and Kentucky. Farmers and business men make this tour annually visiting swine, beef, dairy, and other farming interest. Farmers have been informed individually and at meetings on how to increase their swine production. This is possible by means of feeding-out and feeder pig production. Two new feed-out operations with over 100 hogs each have been started. One new 20 sow farrowing house has been built and another planned. Over 500 cubs have been kept or brought into the area for brood sows and most of these have been obtained by new producers.

Veteran's Information

Q - I receive $130 a month from the Veterans Administration for training under the GI Bill. I expect to get married soon. What must I do to receive the $155 rate of training allowance?

A - As soon as you are married record the VA. Then send VA a copy of the public record of your marriage as soon as it is available.

Q - As an unmarried widow of a World War II veteran who died of a service-connected disability, am I still eligible for the Veterans Administration guarantee on a G.I. loan?

A - Yes, you are. The Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 extended your period of entitlement to July 25, 1970.

Q - My husband has a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy. In March of 1967 he converted from a term plan to modified life. He received a very small dividend in 1967 and none in 1968. Is the VA paying a dividend in 1968?

A - Yes. The VA is paying dividends in 1968 on those policies that qualify for the dividend. The small dividend your husband received in 1967 was for the number of months the term policy was in force since the previous anniversary date prior to conversion to the national life plan. Dividends for 1968 are not being paid on modified life policies since the premiums are scaled so low that no surplus from which to pay dividends has developed.

Gas Station Casualties

Late for a movie, Fred hastily parked his car in a gas station that had closed for the night. When he returned after the show, he failed to notice an open gasping pit. Sure enough, Fred fell in and suffered a severed injury to his leg.

But when he used the gas station for damages, the court turned him down. The judge pointed out that the company owed only a minimum duty toward mere trespassers such as Fred, who had no business on the premises in the first place. In case of an accident at a gas station, the status of the victim is the key to his legal rights. A legitimate visitor, driving in during business hours just to use the telephone or washroom, usually ranks higher than a trespasser—an accident involving him has a better chance of winning damages if he gets hurt. And an actual customer, coming into the station to buy something, has the strongest rights of all. For his benefit, the management is obliged to take all safety precautions without incurring the cost of a lawsuit.

The owner of a car, which had just been lowered to floor level after a grease job, asked for—and was denied—a cloth for wiping his dashboard. While he was busy inside the car, the mechanic decided to "hook it up again to check the work. The car owner finally backed out of the car, not realizing it had been raised, and fell six feet to the pavement. In due course the company was held liable in damages, for failing to exercise due care for a customer's safety.

As a rule, the passenger in a customer's car has a similar high status—and similar rights in case of an accident. Thus a gas station was held liable to a passenger who, given improper directions to the washroom, opened the wrong door and fell down a stairway.

On the other hand, it is also true that the customer (or passenger) must take reasonable precautions for his own safety.

In one case a customer, although familiar with garage work, stumbled over a jack handle that was protruding from under his car. A court denied his damage claim. The judge said that, for failing to see what he plain to see, he had only himself to blame. An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard. © 1968 American Bar Association

While Viet Nam, Urban Ghettos, Crime in the Streets, etc., May Seem Far Removed From Kentucky's Court of Appeals

Chief Justice Squire Williams

I submit that you as a concerned voter must take a hard look at the May 28 Primary Election for Judge on that Court, where I am presently serving as Chief Justice, and to which I seek re-election after nine years experience on that bench - Kentucky's highest.

Today's over-riding national and international problems may tend to push this Judicial Election into the background, but I believe that never before in the history of our country has it been more important to elect a competent Judiciary. The speed and heat of today's fast changes in our way of life demand that justice be served in a calm, compassionate and judicious atmosphere when the vital issues of our times find their way to courtrooms as they always do and always must.

I believe that my record on this court, coupled with the qualifications I list immediately below, best qualify me to serve you as Judge on this Court.

Judge, Court of Appeals since 1959, Now Chief Justice. Special Circuit Judge in 30 Kentucky Counties. Assistant Attorney General 7 Years -

County Judge Pro-Tem and Trial Commissioner, Franklin County - College Student, Berea College - Graduate, University of Kentucky School of Law; Private Practice in Frankfort; Member, Franklin County Bar Association, State Bar Association, American Bar Association.

Veteran Pilot, U.S. Navy (4 years) World War II. Lifelong Kentucky Resident; Past 33 years in this Judicial District.

Now living in Franklin County, with wife, Doris, and four children: Justice, Laura, Kathryn, and Squire Williams III - Elder, Presbyterian Church, Member Veterans of Foreign Wars.

I seek your consideration of my record, and your support and vote for my re-election. Thank You.

Squire Williams, Chief Justice

CATTLE BACKRUBBER TO CONTROL HORSE FLIES

A well made cattle backrubber is an easy, economical way to control horn flies. The horn fly is one of the major fly pests of cattle. Cattle will learn to treat themselves if the backrubber is placed near areas where the cattle loaf, feed, water or rest.

Materials for making a backrubber can be found on almost every farm. A 15 to 20 foot chain wrapped with 18 to 20 Burlap bags are the main items needed. There are a number of insecticides that can be used on a backrubber for beef cattle. The insecticide is mixed with fuel oil and poured on the backrubber every 2 to 3 weeks. One gallon of the fuel oil insecticide mixture will saturate a 20 foot container.

It is necessary to use emulsion concentrate instead of wettable powders. If face flies are a problem the backrubber will need to be saturated weekly. Insecticides that are recommended for use on beef cattle backrubbers include: Toxaphene 60% EC, Kordan 24% EC emulsion, Methoxychlor 25% EC, Malathion 57% EC, or Co-Ral 1 lb/gal EC emulsion.

Dairymen can use backrubbers saturated with Dieldrin only.

Plans for making and treating backrubbers are available at the County Extension Office.

ANTHRACNOSE

Anthracnose, a destructive fungus that can destroy burley beds has made its appearance. Recent warm humid days have helped the fungus get well established. Anthracnose causes small tan spots on the leaves which later turn to a papery white. The spots gradually enlarge while stunting the plants.

The following materials at the rates recommended give good control if application is started when the plants are small.

Chemical
Ferbam (Fermate)
Zineb
Maneb

Rate per 50 gals. of water
2 lb.
1 1/2 lb.
1 1/2 lb.

In spraying use 3 to 6 gallons of any of the above sprays per 100 sq. yds. per application depending on size of plants - larger plants use more. Use 1 1/2 to 4 lbs. of any of the above dust per bed application. It is more effective to spray or dust with the canvas off, but it can be done through the cotton.

Spray or dust two times a week until setting is complete.

The antibiotics such as streptomycin, used for wildfire control are of no value for anthracnose control.

SPRING FLOWERING BULB CARE

By the end of May, most spring flowering bulbs have produced blooms. To ensure an equal quantity and quality of bloom for next year, certain procedures need to be followed. After the flowers has deteriorated, the dark green foliage remains on the stem. These leaves are manufacturing food to be stored in the bulb to form more bulbs and flowers for the following season. If the leaves are removed, fewer flowers and flowers of poor quality will be produced next year. The leaves should be left intact until they die naturally. Thus, if the bulbs are growing in a grassy area, the area should not be cut until the foliage has died. While the leaves are dying, the plants should be provided with plenty of water for maximum good production.

The bulbs may be moved if the area is to be used for other plantings; however, some quality will be sacrificed. Bulbs with the leaves intact should be lifted with a fork and as much soil left on the roots as possible. The bulbs then are placed in soil at another location where there is shade, and where water can be provided. The bulbs are left here until the leaves die. Then they can be dug up and stored in a cool dry, well-ventilated place. They also may be left and replanted in the fall.

Slightly after the leaves die is a good time to separate the bulbs and transplant them to other locations. After a few years, bulbs such as daffodils become crowded and tend to produce poorer quality flowers. The best flowers are obtained

EYES ON YOUR PAPER, PLEASE—Actually, the lady 'sneaking a peek at her fellow "student's" paper need not worry about scoring high on the quiz she and the other employees of a Lexington motel are taking. It's merely a reminder that employees of tourist-oriented businesses should be prepared to answer inquiries from the traveling public about local community attractions. The motel was co-sponsor with the Kentucky Department of Public Information of the first of a series of "hospitality clinics" around the state.

when the bulbs are separated every other year; however, every three to four years is usually sufficient. The bulbs are dug up and the small bulbs are separated from the larger ones. They should then be planted to a depth of two to three inches for small bulbs, three to four inches for medium, and four to five inches for large bulbs. The sooner the transplanting is done after the leaves have died, the better quality of flowers produced the following season.

POTTER "THROWS" A SPELL—The potter's wheel turns, a Kentucky craftsman "throws a pot" and a child's face reflects the wonder and fascination which captures young and old alike during a demonstration of an age-old art. Scenes like this will be a part of the Second Annual Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen's Fair, May 16-19 in Berea. At the Indian Fort Theatre, Kentucky's finest artists and craftsmen will exhibit, sell and demonstrate their work. The fair spotlights work ranging from contemporary painting and sculpture to traditional mountain crafts. The Guild's first fair in 1967 attracted over 5,000 persons from all over the United States.

EARLY SUMMER PASTURE MANAGEMENT PAYS DIVIDENDS TO STOCK RAISERS

Good management of early summer pastures pays dividends, says Warren Thompson, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service forage specialist.

"From early May to late June, we usually have more high quality pasture than we can use, but from July to September, we often run short either in volume or quality," he says. He recommends several steps:

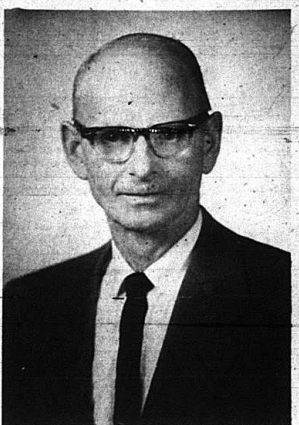

- (1) Limit area livestock can graze at one time, preferably to a week or 10 days. This may require temporary fencing. Use surplus ungrazed areas for early cut, high quality hay or silage. Make these cuttings before seed heads form.
- (2) Mow each pasture after each graze-off. This will get rid of tall, mature plants refused by livestock, and will help destroy weeds.

- (3) Top-dress pastures with fertilizer after mowing or grazing. Use a current soil test as the guide. If the stand is less than 25 per
