

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

OUR STAKE IN A STRONG CANADA

For the first time since 1962, the governing party in Canada has a clear-cut majority as a result of last month's smashing victory of the Liberal Party under the leadership of the energetic Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

SOLIDARITY VITAL TO STABILITY

This is a heartening development, for in Canada as elsewhere solidarity is vital to stability. Canada is the second largest nation in the world in terms of square miles of land and water, topped only by the Soviet Union. Yet, for all her feverish postwar population growth, our neighbor to the north has scarcely more than 20 million people.

Ranking first in world production of asbestos, nickel and zinc; second in output of gold, gypsum molybdenum, and uranium, and third in cadmium, cobalt, platinum, and titanium, Canada's plenitude of natural resources compares well for her future economic progress.

GROWING PAINS

Prime Minister Trudeau's victory — which included heavy support in the political hotbed of Quebec Province where dissatisfaction with Canada's federal government has been widespread and articulate — suggests a new era of peace and progress. The cause of separatism, espoused by French speaking Canadians, has received a setback and Canadian nationalism has been accorded a boost.

Hopefully, this means that Canada is overcoming some of its more serious growing pains and moving into a period of vastly improved relations between the two cultures — English and French — of which it is composed.

U.S. - CANADIAN TRADE

We have a stake in a strong Canada because we are such close neighbors. The unfortified border of contentious United States and Canada extends for 3,987 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In addition, there is a 1,538-mile border between Alaska and Canada. We also have a stake in a strong Canada because she is by far our best customer. In 1966 — latest year for which complete statistics are available — our exports to Canada totaled $7,135,860,000, while our imports amounted to but $6,027,722,000.

The dollar value of our total trade with Canada is the equivalent of about 25% of Canadian gross national product, but is only about 1% of our own gross national product. Yet there are thousands of American businesses which prosper as a result of trade with Canada. An uncomfortably large number of these would find their net earnings very seriously impaired if that trade were to be importantly curtailed for whatever reason.

PHYSICAL MERGER OR CLOSER ECONOMIC TIES?

Canadian prosperity is very heavily dependent on her world trade. Her trade imbalance with the U.S. is roughly $1 billion annually, — a deficit she must overcome through her commerce with other nations. As Canada grows, the needs of her burgeoning population may make her more dependent on the U.S. in some respects. But as she grows, she will also develop new economic strength that should provide even larger markets for our goods within her borders. Meanwhile, her ties with the British Commonwealth seem likely to ease.

Some observers foresee an eventual merger of Canada and the United States. But the two countries have grown up in separate ways, — the one achieving its freedom and independence by evolution and the other by revolution. Physical merger — if it ever should come — is a long, long way into the future. But closer economic ties are inevitable, and perhaps in this century we shall see the establishment of a North American Common Market, more practical, more viable, and more desirable by far than the European Common Market of today. In any event, the further development of American-Canadian friendship is going to be vital to the prosperity of both nations and to the peace of the world in the years immediately ahead.

cured of cancer

Laura Lee Greathouse, 12, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, was cured of cancer at the age of 18 months. Many children are being cured today of cancers that only a generation ago were incurable — particularly certain tumors of the kidney, muscle and eye. The reason? Research and improved diagnosis and treatment. To cure more, give more to the American Cancer Society.

VETS. O. AND A.

I am thinking of selling my home which I bought with a G.I. loan. The loan has not been paid in full. If the prospective buyer defaults, will I be liable to the Veterans Administration for the unpaid amount of the loan? Is there any way I can be released from this liability?

The answer to both your questions is yes. If you sell your home, which has not been paid for, and the buyer defaults on the G.I. loan, you will be liable to VA for any amount VA must pay the lender under the loan guaranty contract.

However, the VA generally will release you from all further liability to the Government if the buyer of your home will assume full liability for the repayment of the loan in a written agreement required by VA. You should write to the VA office that guaranteed your loan before you sign a sales contract and ask for the necessary forms and instructions on how you can be released from personal liability on your loan.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Wrong Medicine

Given a prescription for her arthritis, a woman took it to the corner drug store to be filled. But the druggist mixed a wrong ingredient into the medicine. As a result, the woman suffered a severe reaction—and later filed suit for damages.

"Don't blame me, blame the doctor," protested the druggist in court. "His order for this prescription was so illogical it was hard to be sure what he meant. So I filled it according to my best judgment."

But the court held the druggist liable anyhow, blaming him for not checking with the doctor before going ahead.

By and large, pharmacists are held to a standard of care commensurate with the importance of their ancient profession. As one judge put it:

"People trust not merely their health but their lives to the knowledge, care and prudence of druggists."

For that reason, the pharmacist is careless in filling a prescription is usually responsible for the consequences. There have been damage verdicts not only for wrong ingredients but also for incorrect proportions and for misleading directions.

On the other hand, even when a druggist does make a mistake, he is "not liable if there is no causal connection between his mistake and the ultimate injury. Take this case:

A druggist sold a customer a powerful purgative, without properly labeling the bottle. The customer, well aware of what he had bought, mischievously slipped some into a friend's coffee.

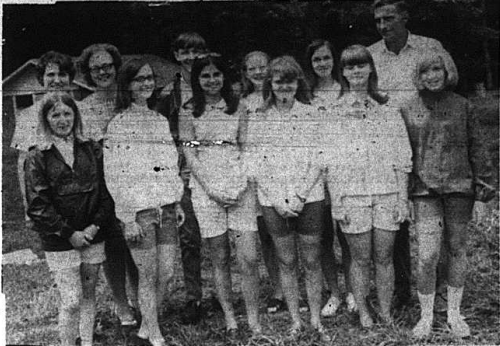

For the unhappy consequences to the friend, the druggist was held blameless. The court pointed out that his faulty label had no connection with what happened, because the prankster would have done the same thing even if the label had been right.

Furthermore, a customer must show a reasonable regard for his own safety. In another "wrong medicine" case, the customer made his purchase from a young, inexperienced clerk while the regular pharmacist was out of the store. Here the clerk, after bringing out a bottle, confessed that he didn't know what he was selling. Nevertheless the customer insisted the medicine must be what he wanted because it "smelled right."

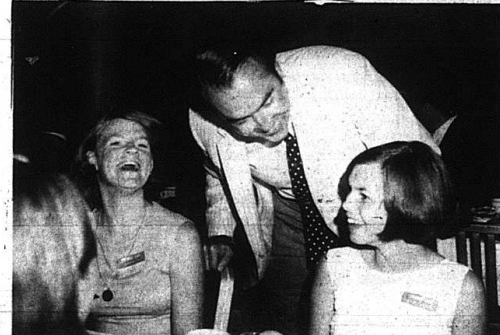

A court ruled afterward that the customer himself was guilty of negligence, for buying medicine by using his nose instead of by testing his head.

MOUNT VERNON, KENTUCKY

Barn Destroyed By Fire Monday

A barn, located on the farm of Nathan Mullins of Climax, was struck by lightning between 4 and 5 p.m. Monday afternoon and completely destroyed by fire.

The four-year-old structure housed 2,000 bales of hay, 50 bushels of corn, a fruit tree sprayer, 5,000 tobacco sticks, lumber, and a tobacco setter.

According to Mr. Mullins, the loss was about $6,000. He said he had about $2,000 worth of insurance. The barn, which is located about two hundred yards from the Mullins home, did not threaten the house. Mr. Mullins said. However, the fire did burn electric lines and telephone lines in two.

JOE SAM CRAIG, SR. BURIED AT PROVIDENCE

The Rockcastle County Agri-Businessmen's Tour which left here Monday, July 15, was, from all reports, one of the most interesting and informative ones on which the group have yet gone. They left bright and early Monday morning with a small incident of leaving one of their number in the courthouse (Clay Colson) laid having to wait in Lexington for him. The entire group went to the South and arrived at Sweet Water Valley Farm, just north of Philadelphia, Tennessee, at 10:30 a.m. Here, they were met by Pearl Harris, manager of the farm, Charlie McCall, County Agent, and John Tinsley, Assistant County Agent.

The farm, owned by Dr. Griff Harsh, of Birmingham, Alabama, encompasses 930 acres and has the distinction of being the home of the 1967 National Champion Polled Hereford Bull (See picture below). Dr. Harsh, a surgeon, also owns a 1081 acre farm in Alabama. The groups second stop was in Calhoun, Georgia where they visited the University of Georgia's Northwest Branch Experiment Station. At this experiment station, work is now being carried on in cross-breeding Angus bulls EDUCATIONAL TV—The Somerset Regional Elementary and Secondary Education Assn. Title III, provided the facilities for some toped classroom teaching. Shown with the association's mobile units are, from left: Clyde Linville, Director of Title I, which provided all the funds for the summer of 1967; Malcolm Smith, Learning Specialist with Title III, Mrs. Virginia Jones, principal of the Summer School Session at Roundstone at which the tapes were made, Kenneth Ray, Program Director with Title III, Sam Jones, Superintendent of Title III, and Charles B. Parsons, Superintendent of the Rockcastle County School System.

Youth Demo Club Formed To Help Elect Peden

Several Rockcastle youths have recently formed a Youth Campaign organization for Rubenice Peden, Democratic nominee for the office of U.S. Senator. The Executive Committee of the organization is composed of Linda McCauley, May B. Ham, Steve Albright, and David Shivel.

The organization plans an all-out door-to-door canvass of voters in order to register new Democratic residents and those who are eighteen or will be eighteen by November 5th of this year. Miss McCauley and Mr. Albright said, "We plan to work actively for Miss Peden throughout the summer and when school starts we plan to form organizations at our respective schools. Our goal is to get one young person per precinct to canvass door to door." The Registration Drive sponsored by the Katherine Peden's State Youth Division has had tremendous success and has young people working all over Kentucky. The deadline for registering to vote is September 7, 1968. Anyone interested in joining the organization or registering to vote should contact any of the Executive Committee members or call 256-2418.

Merchants Going All Out This Week To Give Local Shoppers "Values Galore"

Quality merchandise at prices that will amaze you are being offered by the Mt. Vernon merchants this week in a special tribute to local shoppers. and Charolais cows and vice versa. Late Monday afternoon found the men in Cedar-town, Georgia, where they visited a land clearing and land preparation demonstration on a farm owned by M.F. Mullins of the Rome Flow Company. Reclamation of the 2500 acre farm has been going on for three years and 800 acres are already cleared. The land is cleared by the use of a DGC Cat equipped with a Rome shearing blade with shears off trees at ground level, followed by an offset hgraw or bush-bow. The blade on one of these machines is worked for 100 hours of work cost $3500.00 each. One of the highlights of the trip, doubtless was a stop at the Farmers Market in Atlanta, Georgia where the group witnessed the operation of a market which covers 146 acres and is operated by the Georgia Department of Agriculture. From this point of distribution, fifty million dollars worth of fruits and vegetables are sold every year. Spartanburg, South Carolina was the next stop on the group's itinerary with a visit to the Cox Peach Packing Shed near Spartanburg. The shed, which is lo-stronghold. They have 1500 acres of grapes, 1000 acres of apples, a two million dollar income from eggs, soybean crop, and cotton crop, not to mention, small grain, livestock enterprises, beef cattle, dairy, swine, and poultry. There are seven canneries and one grape juice plant in the county. And the last stop before the return trip home found the men in Asheville, North Carolina where they visited the Biltmore Dairy.

There is quite a story concerning the establishment of this farm, according to H. Lee Durham, area extension agent for Rockcastle County, who was kind enough to keep all these notes and take pictures for our use in writing this story. According to Mr. Durham, George Washington Vanderbilt, in the 1800's purchased 120,000 acres of land in Asheville which he stocked with Jersey cows imported in 1881 from England. The farm was divided into 10 different family units (which are now consolidated). Vanderbilt, who was very conservation-minded, tile drained the land and pioneered in forestry work. He established the first forestry school in the country and from this grew our present day U.S. Forestry Department. There are 65,000 Azalea plants on the estate consisting of every known variety in the United States that grows wild. The Vanderbilt mansion, built between 1890-1896, has 250 rooms and is now a museum. There were 200,000 visitors to the museum in 1967 which is built of Indiana Limestone. The dairy herd, consisting of 450 cows, is milked by seven men. They used 24 men before automating the operation. The cows produce 5.5 million pounds of milk and milking is started at noon and midnight. Making the tour were Roy Brown, H. Lee Durham, Clay Colson, Smith T. Powell, Jr., Stewart Parsons, Harold Ballinger, D. A. Robbins, John Houston, L.M. Scott, Edward Swader, Jr., Joe Martin, Charles D. Burton, Gilbert Burton, Jack Owens, W.L. Coffey, Clint Sayers, W.J. Randolph, Jack Dailey, Wallace Proctor, Hewitt Jones, Robert Jasper, Harlan Farthing, Selford Hall, Jack Blanton, Earl Roberts, Henry Brown, Steve Bullen.

Summer School Serves Three-Fold Purpose Here

The Summer School Program, presently being conducted at Roundstone Elementary School, is serving a three-fold purpose for educational benefits in the county.

The program, provided for by funds from Title I, is mainly concerned with helping high school students who have had difficulties during the regular school session, in the areas of Social Studies, English, Math, and Science.

Secondly, high school teachers throughout the county are able to observe and participate in these classes thus giving them new ideas and new approaches to teaching their own classes this fall. And, thirdly, Educational Television was introduced experimentally, at Roundstone during the summer session as a learning tool. The facilities for the ITV (Instructional Television) were provided by the Somerset ESEA Title III which is under the direction of Sam Jones, a resident of Rockcastle County. Mr. Jones was assisted in the experiment by Kenneth Ray, program director, and Malcolm Smith, learning specialist.

Several classroom lessons were taped and shown to the group as a whole so that both the students and teachers might become better acquainted with this new type of learning. Four consultants from Eastern Kentucky University were hired by Clyde Linville, Director of the Title I program. According to Mr. Linville, the consultants were all top people in their field and had proven exceedingly helpful in aiding the teachers for the summer session in their work with the children. Consultants for the session are Dr. Tom Johnston, Science; Mrs. Dixie Mylum, Social Studies; Lee Geny, Math, and Mrs. Eva Singleton, English.

Frankfort Woman Hurt In Freak Accident Friday

Mrs. Pat Campassi, 38, escaped without serious injury last Friday afternoon when the parked car in which she was sitting, was struck by another vehicle, attempting to park in front of her car on US 25 near Parrett's Furniture Store. According to reports, Mrs. Campassi had come to Mt. Vernon with Mrs. Joe Elam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Parrett (owner of Parrett's Furniture Store) of Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Elam had gone into the store and Mrs. Campassi was waiting in the car when Clay Shelton, 463, of Somerset, who was traveling north on US 25 attempted to park in front of the Elam car. Mr. Shelton said he bumped into the front of the car and it started rolling downhill. Mrs. Campassi attempted to jump clear of the car but failed and the vehicle ran over her legs. She was admitted to the Berea Hospital with Class A injuries but was released after a couple of days. Everyone is welcome to attend.

TEACHERS—Eight teachers were on hand for the seven-week summer session to work with the consultants and the county teachers there for in-service training. They are, from left: Mrs. Cleston Saylor, Roland Mullins, Mrs. Willard Whitaker, Judy Williams, Charles Baker, Mrs. Frank Martin, Carol Cummins, Mrs. Brenda Geny, and Mrs. Virginia Jones, who was principal of the Summer School.

Post Office Restricted On Saturday Service

The recent curtailment of some postal services, which resulted from a cutback in the budget of the Post Office Department by Congress, means a little more to Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County than originally thought last week. Last week, Postmaster James O. Smith announced that the only effect the curtailment in services would have on the local service would be that window service would only be maintained for two hours on Saturday instead of four hours as before. But, after checking by telephone with the regional office in Cincinnati, Ohio, Postmaster Smith confirmed that the curtailment actually meant that no financial transaction could be carried on on Saturday. The window will be open from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. only to hand out mail and packages that do not come collect. However, if you wish to purchase a stamp, money order, pick-up a C.O.D. or have any business which pertains to the exchanging of cash then forget it. The post office department says that only mail and packages (not C.O.D.) to general delivery customers will be handed out. Route carriers may accept the money for money orders on Saturday but the money order cannot be written until the following Monday. This change will be effective Saturday, July 27.

REVIVAL AND HOMECOMING

A revival will begin August 4 at the buckeye Christian Church and continue through August 11. The services will begin at 7:30 each evening and will be conducted by Bro. Scottie Richmond, pastor of the church, from Beckley, West Virginia. Bro. David Woods, pastor of the Wildie Christian Church, will be the song-leader. Special music will be presented each evening. Homecoming will be held Sunday, August 11, with dinner on the ground. Everyone is welcome to attend.

FIRE DESTROYS TRAILER

A fire completely destroyed a trailer Wednesday about noon at the Sparks Quarry of Kentucky Stone Company. The fire started when Donnie Laswell, an employee of the State Highway Department - Richmond office, was testing the content of asphalt in some blacktop. According to Laswell, when he poured regular gasoline onto the blacktop, the blacktop exploded igniting the trailer. Laswell was unhurt. The trailer contained weighing and measuring instruments and all contents were lost.

SPECIAL INTEREST 4-H CAMP TO FEATURE ARTS AND CRAFTS

A special interest camp will be held at the J.M. Feltner Memorial 4-H Club Camp, London, Kentucky, during the week of July 29 through August 2. The camp will be built around seven classes to be offered. Campers may select one of the following: archery, folk dancing, leather crafts, ceramics, foods judging, clothing judging, and golfing. Everyone in Kentucky is eligible to attend this camp. The camp shall begin with lunch on Monday, July 29, and end at 2 p.m. Friday August 2. The fee will be $12.50. Campers will be housed in cabins and must furnish their own linens, etc.

Mr. Wallace I. Halcomb, Area Extension 4-H Youth Specialist, Wilderness Trail Area, is coordinating the camp and says that this may prove to be the most interesting of all 4-H camps held this summer. This camp will be a little different from most traditional 4-H Club Camps. Each camper will be enrolled in one of the seven special interest classes being offered.

Halcomb emphasizes that campers must sign up for their class choice before camping begins, and may take only one class. The exception to this rule will be foods judging and clothing judging. Girls may take both of these classes. There will be a morning session and an afternoon session of one hour and a half each.

There will be plenty time allotted for traditional camp activities such as swimming, folk dancing, ball games, croquet, etc. The camp staff and instructors have planned to set a leisurely pace so everyone can enjoy the camp to the fullest.

The following is a brief description of classes to be offered. Halcomb says that many excellent instructors have been secured, and the classes should be tops.

Folk Dancing - The morning sessions will be devoted mainly to dance instructions. This will include different formations such as circles, squares, longways and small groups. Dance terms and steps will be included. The afternoon session will be related more directly to techniques of teaching or leading folk dances. Likely members of the class will have an opportunity to lead dances and be critically evaluated.

Leather Crafts - In this class, members will learn how to make templates, cutting, tooling, lacing, and designing and also techniques of teaching the art.

Archery - Campers will learn the fundamentals of a proper shooting, proper stance, parts of the bow, and maintenance of equipment. Teaching techniques will also be given on this craft.

Ceramics - Included in this craft will be the basic fundamentals and forms of ceramics. Class members will learn how to fire, kiln, model and shape of the clay, and learn the different forms of ceramics - forced drying, etc. The use of the potter's wheel will likely be included.

Foods Judging - All girls taking this class will be eligible to judge foods in the State 4-H Club Foods Judging Program to be held at the Ky. State Fair in August.

Clothing Judging - This program will get girls ready to participate in the State 4-H Clothing Judging Program at the Kentucky State Fair. The Wilderness Trail Area 4-H Fashion Show will be held during this camp. However, it is not necessary to attend the camp in order to participate in the fashion show.

Golf - Golf classes will be held in the mornings only. Some of the sessions may last from 8:30 until 12 noon. Campers taking this class must furnish their own golf clubs and other equipment.

Anyone in Rockcastle County interested in attending this camp should contact Faith N. Plummer, Area Extension Agent, phone 256-2403 before July 26, 1968.

SNIDER

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Callahan of Richmond, Ind. Pfc. Michael Callahan of Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barnett were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bodie Van Winkle.

Afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Van Winkle were Mrs. Ray Philbeck and children and Mrs. Tommie Philbeck of Mt. Vernon. They all visited Mr. and Mrs. Alton Van Winkle and Mrs. Sue Croner, and little daughter, Kimberly. Please remember to pray for our boys in the service.

Library Note

A shipment of new books has been received from the Department of Libraries. Among them are:

AMERICAN POETS FROM THE PURITANS TO THE PRESENT, by Hyatt H. Waggoner. Here is a study of the great cycle of American poetry. A book of prime importance to the scholar, historian and most of all the layman.

THE COOK'S COMPANION, by Frieda Arkin. A dictionary of culinary tips and terms - real kitchen "know-how" for the busy modern cook.

FAMILIAR TREES OF AMERICA, by Willis M. Grimm. An illustrated introduction to the American trees offering basic information.

KEYS TO THE LAND OF CONTRAST by Thomas Clark. The author draws a splendid portrait of Kentucky by analyzing the forces and traditions which have made our state distinct.

THE LAND, WILDLIFE AND PEOPLES OF THE BIBLE, by Peter Farb. Using the Bible as his chief source, the author relates ancient events and observations in the light of modern knowledge.

THE LAST UNICORN, by Peter Beagle. A literary fantasy.

THE SEVENTEEN BOOK OF FASHION AND BEAUTY by the Editors of Seventeen. The editors of Seventeen Magazine have assembled in a single book all the fashion facts that a young girl wants to know plus advice on the care, selection, and purchase of clothes.

WORLD BENEATH THE SEA, by James Dugan. In a sea craft you will sink beneath sunlit waves into the dark hidden realm of the deep divers and join these new pioneers in exploring Earth's final frontier. A beautiful National Geographic publication.

We have lots of new records for you to choose, such as "People Like You" by Eddie Fisher, "Sacred Ballads" by Dottie West, and "Single Your All Time Country Favorite" just to mention a few.

Vows Said Saturday In Home Ceremony

Miss Colleen Griffith of Louisville was attached to a simulated gardenia. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The bride's sisters, Miss Virginia Griffith and Miss Joyce Day, were bridesmaid and matron of honor, respectively. They wore floor length gowns of blue and green taffeta and carried bouquets of white carnations. Gary Day, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. A reception was held later at the home of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Rolla Cornelius. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of sculptured crepe trimmed with antique lace with matching train. Her veil in Corbin lasted Thursday on business. Those from Mt. Vernon who attended the funeral of George McKenzie in Lancaster Friday were: Mr. and Mrs. R.B. McKenzie, Robert Fish, Miss Margaret Fish, J.B. Hatt, Will Thompson, Mrs. Corrie Baker, and Mrs. Mintie Ponder.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Hansel were in Lexington Monday evening to visit their daughter, Mrs. Roy Hines, who has been in Good Samaritan Hospital three weeks for treatment. She is reported improving.

Smith-Sowder Vows Spoken Fri., June 28

The marriage of Miss Lavada Terry Smith, daughter of Mrs. Mae Barrow, Route 3, Brodhead, and the late George Terry Smith, and Billy Ray Sowder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sowder, Route 1, Mt. Vernon, took place Friday, June 28 at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Mt. Vernon.

Rev. Charles Shivel officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was provided by Miss Janice Coffey.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Harris Burton, wore a floor-length gown of white satin covered with lace. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of pearls and crystals and she carried a white orchid centered in white pompons.

Miss Linda Hale served as maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length gown of pink dotted swiss with matching headress. She carried two long stemmed red roses tied with pink ribbon.

Phillip Harper, the groom's uncle, served as best man. Ushers were Stanley Burton, cousin of the bride, and Eddie Moore, cousin of the groom, all of Mt. Vernon.

After a short wedding trip to Mammoth Cave, the couple ate at home on the old Mt. Vernon-Brodhead Road.

The bride, a graduate of Mt. Vernon High School, attended Eastern Kentucky University.
