Meet the Quick and Easy Way to Delicious Casseroles

Crisp fall weather signals an end to the holler skitter habits of casual summer dining. Back in your kitchen, on an orderly schedule, you're probably dreaming up all sorts of ways to put excitement and imagination into fall meals.

While you're collecting ideas, clip this recipe for Autumn Sausage Casserole, an easy-to-dinner-in-a-dish, Crisply browned sausage balls, cut green beans, and chopped onion blend flavors in a caraway spiced base of canned condensed golden mushroom soup. Chock full of tender mushroom slices, and laced with the robustness of fine Burgundy wine, this expertly seasoned, double rich soup has a very special way with casseroles. It's great, too, as a sauce for skillet beef or pork dishes.

Top this hearty, family please-ing casserole with a border of fluffy mashed potatoes. To go along, pass crusty French or sourdough bread, a crisp green salad, and poached pears topped with whipped cream for dessert.

AUTUMN SAUSAGE CASSEROLE
1 pound bulk sausage
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed golden mushroom soup
1 cup water
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans, cooked and drained
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
2 cups prepared mashed potatoes
Form sausage into 16 meatballs in skillet, brown meatballs and cook onion until tender; pour off fat. Stir in soup, water, beans, and caraway seeds. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake at 350° F. for 25 minutes. Stir casserole; spoon potatoes around edge. Bake 5 minutes more. Makes 4 servings.

NOTICE

TO VOTERS OF EDUCATION DISTRICT NO. 5 CONWAY, ROUNDSTONE, AND EAST MT. VERNON

As you know, I am a candidate for School Board member. I want the voters to know that I am elected, I will represent my entire district - both the county people and the town people. I will not be controlled by a group who will have selfish interests. I will consider my entire district and the county as a whole while working for educational improvements.

As I have stated before, I will support the plan for a new Rockcastle County High School.

I feel that everyone should have a voice in what goes into this school - both people from rural areas and towns. This new school will be a once-in-a-lifetime project for this county. We must not make a costly mistake.

If elected, I will recommend that a committee consisting of several people from all parts of the county and from various occupations be organized to study and plan this school.

I will do all in my power to get this school immediately and at the same time I will make every effort not to raise your taxes. I feel our people are taxed to death already.

Your vote and influence is needed to enable me to work toward these goals.

OLD CULBERTSON HOUSE, Ashland, was among the Kentucky historic homes and sites visited on the annual tour of the Kentucky Heritage Commission. This Victorian era home, now owned and restored by Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Martin, has occupied its spot on Chestnut Drive since late 1880's. Among other sites visited were White Hall, Richmond, home of statesman Cassius Clay; Jenny Wiley, Prestonsburg, site of the 1787 settlement of the first white family in the Sandy Valley; and the Moore-Patterson House, Catlettsburg, a typical River Mansion of the Civil War era.

HUMPHREY—Continued as pace-setter among liberals, both as Senator and then as Vice President. Much of the legislation he had fought for over the years—stalled during the Eisenhower-Nixon administration—finally was enacted.

Humphrey took the lead in establishing area re-development and manpower training programs, food stamp and food for peace programs, aided passage of the nuclear test ban treaty and arms control agency.

As Vice President, he helped the administration pilot through Congress an unprecedented flow of progressive legislation: Medicare, federal aid to elementary and secondary education, aid to higher education, war on poverty, urban programs, voting rights protection, housing, sweeping consumer protection programs.

NIXON—Out of office in these years, but not silent. Emerged as critic of series of liberal programs passed under Kennedy and Johnson administrations. Ran for governor of California in 1962 and was defeated. Blessed presidential candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964 and actively campaigned for his election.

Full Fertilization of Lawns and Ornamental Plants

Fertilizing lawns and shrubbery in October has proven to be beneficial in helping plants to go through the winter. Roses however, should not be fertilized until November or December for better wintering. Cool season grasses, such as Kentucky bluegrass and the fescues, benefit most from early October fertilization. Usually the warm-season grasses, such as Zoysia, will be frosted soon and will stop growing. By this time, crab grass is less vigorous and the cool-season grasses take over and need fertilizing, especially with nitrogen.

In this area, soils tend to be low in phosphorus and potassium. A general fertilizer recommendation for our lawns is to use 15 to 20 pounds of a 10-10-10 or similar formula fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. If you use a 20-10-10 or a 20-15-10 fertilizer it should be applied at one half the above rate.

If you have been fertilizing your lawn regularly each year with a complete fertilizer it is possible that you have built up a good supply of phosphorus and potassium in your soil. In this case you should have a soil test made before applying your fall application of fertilizer. If the soil test indicates the phosphorus and potassium to be sufficient you will need only to apply a nitrogen fertilizer this fall.

Shrubs in the foundation planting and shrub borders should be given the heavier lawn rates of fertilizer. If they are lightly fertilized several times during the year, then there will be no need to apply drastic amounts at 3- to 4-year intervals.

Herbaceous perennials should have several applications of fertilizer throughout the growing season and should have a fall application of the same types and amounts as suggested for the grasses.

Fall applications of fertilizer for perennial plants, such as grass, trees, shrubs and herbaceous perennials, are especially good in Kentucky where the soil temperatures in the root zone usually remain above 40 degrees much of the winter. Under these conditions these plants absorb the nutrients and slowly translocate them toward the growing points ready for spring growth.

the report, says Dr. Rudy Schebner, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service entomologist. Best and easiest way to do this is to use feed additives, he says, or mineral blocks containing the anti-grub materials. But this kind of program should have been started many weeks ago and it is too late now to do it this year.

Thus, pour-ons or sprays are the recommended treatment for now, Dr. Schebner says. This can be done through Oct. 31. Use the pour-ons or sprays if you have NOT been using the feed additive or salt-block system. Pour-ons or sprays should NOT be used in addition to the feed additives, or on dairy cattle. Recommended materials for pour-ons are: Co-Ral, four percent strength, in oil; Ruelene-R; and Neguvon, eight percent strength, in oil. For sprays, use Co-Ral, 25 percent strength wettable powder, you can also use Ruelene 25 percent emulsifiable concentrate if you dilute the materials.

Check label directions carefully, particularly about treating animals which are sick or distressed. Do NOT use pour-ons or sprays with certain insecticides or medications listed on the labels. Observe waiting-days rule carefully. Dr. Schebner emphasizes.

Check area extension offices in the counties for the 1968- Insecticide recommendations, for Beef Animals', publication listed as Misc-280-D and issued by the U.K. Cooperative Extension Service.

Consider using feed additives or salt blocks next year for grub control in the beef herd, Dr. Schebner recommends.

Livestock Outlook Report Issued by U.K. Economists

The livestock outlook for Kentucky and the nation for the rest of 1968 and all of 1969 was issued this week by the U.K. Cooperative Extension Service agricultural economics department.

Copies will be available shortly in area extension offices in the counties, says Wilmer Browning, economist and author of the report. The report is partly a category: Beef Cattle: Total cattle numbers appear to be holding steady. If demand continues strong and weather stays favorable, beef cow numbers may be up slightly on Jan. 1, 1969. Feeder cattle prices, relatively stable since last April, will decline seasonally this fall but likely average about $1 higher than last fall. Prices in 1969 may be slightly higher than in 1968. Fed cattle markets apparently will be large, and prices will decline seasonally this fall from the summer level of $27. In 1969, prices will average close to the 1968 figure.

Sheep: Number of sheep on farms continues to decline. If sheep and lamb slaughter continue to decline in 1969, prices will average higher. Hogs: Increased farrowings (planned in June, 1968) mean these animals will reach market by the first half of 1969. Prices may decline seasonally this fall but average modestly above the October-December 1967 figure. In early 1969, hog prices may be slightly below the early 1968 levels.

Dairy: Total U.S. milk production is expected to be (for 1968) down about 1.3 billion pounds over 1967. Relatively favorable prices for 1969, with modest increases in net income for dairymen. Milk cow numbers will decline but more slowly than before.

Eggs: By the end of 1968, egg production is expected to be 4 percent below year-earlier levels. In 1969, egg production may increase again. Prices should average (be first half of 1969) somewhat higher than for the first half of 1968.

Broilers: Prices in early 1969 will be under pressure unless producers hold back production. Broiler production the last quarter of 1968 may be up two to four percent above the 1967 period.

Turkeys: Production for 1968 expected to be down about 16 to 18 percent and 1969's production is not expected to increase significantly. Prices in the main marketing season are expected to be above the 1967 level, and the 1969 prices will be well above the 1968 level if production is held back as indicated.

Last year the American Farmer lost almost two billion dollars. Over one hundred thousand farms closed down. How can you help stop this trend? Elect Richard Nixon President. Here are some of the things he wants to do:

1. Appoint a Secretary of Agriculture who will explain the farmers' problems to the President, instead of the Secretary explaining the President's policies to the farmer, as is now the case.
2. Increase exports of American agricultural products, which are a principal factor in our trade surplus.
3. Establish a special task force to develop and implement a program to increase dairy products.
4. Increase the research effort by the Department of Agriculture to find better and more diverse ways to utilize our enormous volume of farm produce.

Home Destroyed By Fire Monday

A two-story frame home on the Sand Hill Road was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning about 10:30 a.m. The home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Burke, was located about one mile north of the Sand Hill Baptist Church.

No one was at home at the time of the fire and the roof had caved in when the fire was first discovered. It was sighted from the Doan Fire Tower and a neighbor found it also. Mrs. Burke's mother, Mrs. Gracie Blackburn, who lived about a thousand yards away reported that the roof had already caved in when she first saw it.

The home had been built in February and the loss was estimated at $15,000. According to Mrs. Burke, there was no insurance coverage.

County Farm Bureau Meets; Officers Elected For 1969

The Rockcastle County Farm Bureau held its annual Banquet and Business Meeting recently at Broadhead School. There were approximately 300 members and guests in attendance.

The meeting was presided over by Stephen Bullen, president. Mr. Bullen welcomed the crowd and introduced James Andelin, Jr., who gave some information to the group concerning the county fire department which is presently being organized.

Officers elected for 1969 are: President - C.E. Waits; Secretary - Susan Brown; Treasurer - Phillip Miller of Louisville; Carl Griffin of Marshall, Illinois; Bumis Skipworth of Glasgow; Jim Jewell of Winchester, Missouri; and Illinois.

256 hounds were entered in the competition and approximately 100 riders were in attendance. There were at least entries from six other states (Alabama, Ohio, Tennessee, Forester, spoke to the group on how much help the Farm Bureau had been in pushing the tree planting program in the county. He spoke briefly about the upcoming dangerous season for forest fires and told the gathering that the fire was expected to be frequent this fall.

Henry Brown gave a resolution and membership report. According to Mr. Brown, Kentucky has 92,485 members and Rockcastle has 941. He also stated that all 115 counties in Kentucky had met their membership quotas and had sent in resolutions. Both the resolutions agreed upon are as follows:

Indiana, Missouri, and Illinois. One of the riders Dr. Hugh Lynn, formerly of Louisville, with the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota made his annual trip to Kentucky to ride to the hounds.

Officers for the coming year were elected at a banquet held Tuesday night by members of the association.

Republicans Hear Burns, Niekirk, Other Speakers

Approximately 425 persons attended the Republican Fund Raising Dinner and Rally held last Friday night at Roundstone School. The food was excellent and the crowd was lively. Many prominent Republicans were on hand including, Commonwealth Attorney Homer Neikirk and Lester Burns, Representative Harold DeMarcus, Mrs. Kathryn Petercheff, secretary to Congressman Tim Lee Carter, and Circuit Judge Lawrence Hall.

Mrs. Petercheff conveyed to the crowd the apologies of Congressman Carter for not being able to attend. She told the group that right now was a crucial time in America and that Richard Nixon must be elected President. She urged her listeners to vote the straight Republican ticket and to help get the vote out.

Mrs. Petercheff touched on Congressman Carter's candidacy for re-election by telling the group about some of his achievements since being in Congress. She also mentioned that it was vitally important that he be re-elected this year to Congress because of the chance that the election of a president might be thrown into the House of Representatives which is now Democratic controlled. She told the group that Wallace had stated that he would throw his electoral votes to the candidate who would agree to a gentlemen's covenant in the Wallace's demands "Twice," Mrs. Petercheff said, "when elections were thrown into the House was tremendous wheedling and leading and manipulations of pressure and politics, ready to be used up."

Representative DeMarcus introduced the next speaker, Homer Neikirk. Mr. Neikirk said that he had been working at State Republican Headquarters for the past four weeks and that "this is the year that the Republican Party will win in this state." He said that there was about 8% of the voters for Wallace and that they might as well be ignored because they couldn't ever be convinced otherwise. He said that a vote quota was being sent to each of the 3,000 precincts in the state and that if these quotas were filled by each precinct there will be the greatest Republican victory there has ever been in Kentucky.

Calling him the "Red Blooded Orator of the Mountains," Mr. Neikirk introduced Lester Burns, the main speaker of the evening. Mr. Burns called for a new program on Medicare, Social Security, and other government programs so that they would be of more benefit to the people. He charged that the Social Security funds were going mainly to pay bureaucrats to administer the program instead of the people entitled to benefit.

FEATURED ACT AT LIVINGSTON CARNIVAL
The Berea College Country Dancers will be the featured guest act this Friday night at Livingston School's Halloween Carnival.

THE ROCKCASTLE County Saddle Club decided to roast a beef last Friday night and they certainly had a unique way of doing it. Several members of the club rode to Great Salt Lake and dug a hole three feet deep (top photo), filled it with coals, put a piece of tin over the coals, then the beef, another piece of tin, and then dirt. This was left to cook about 22 hours and 43 persons rode out to the cave Saturday, uncovered the beef, and from all reports it was delicious. They are, from left: Roy Adams, Boyd Mullins, Donna Askrum, Bobby Taylor, Jim Bullock, Bobby Cox, Lewis Reams, Kenny Burton, Monroe Reams, and George Askrum. Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,
 We enjoy the Signal very much, that is why we renew every year.
 Yes, we vote for the lake to be Renfro Valley Lake.
 We think Mr. Linville is a fine man and we know there are a lot of people that have done much for the county, so why pick only one?
 Why not name it, Renfro Valley Lake, which it is or will be when it is finished.
 Sincerely,
 Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cash
 312 So. Forrest Ave.
 Mason, Mo. 65040

Dear Sir,
 I wish to express my opinion of changing the name of Lake Linville. By all means, I believe Renfro Valley should be the name it should carry. Like Mrs. Frederick, I too was born and raised in Rockcastle County at Calloway and never have I talked to anyone who has traveled old U.S. 25 or I-75 that doesn't know where Renfro Valley is. So why not give it the name that it has carried so far? Also, John Lattis is the founder and man that has put so much time and effort to put it where it is today. Without him, there would be no place to rename.

 I love my Mount Vernon Signal, without it I am lost. I look forward to it every Saturday. There is only one thing wrong. No more Calloway news. What happened to Mrs. Land Sales Youngens? I sure do miss her column. Mrs. Cummins I mean, your Calloway reporter. Are all my friends in Calloway moved or dead? I haven't seen the notice if they are.
 I sure would love to hear from old friends of the past. I remain

Yours respectfully,

Miss Beatrice Elkins

To The Editor:

I understand that several Republicans in Rockcastle County like the kind of government we have had in Washington for the last four years. They like soaring prices, riots, communist appeasements, and above all, they like to see our boys fighting. They think 28,000 boys dying and 200,000 wounded isn't too bad. They want to vote for Humphrey so that they can have four more years of it but are just a little ashamed to let people know they are voting for Humphrey so they are coming in at the back door and voting indirectly for Humphrey by voting for Wallace.

 Of course, these Republicans will have peace here and do not want this, but in reality this will be the outcome. Everyone knows Wallace can't win. If he gets enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives Humphrey will be the next president. The only sure way to vote for a change is to vote for Richard Nixon. Don't let anyone tell you that Nixon and Humphrey have the same philosophy of government. Nixon will stop the war. We will have peace here and do not want this, but in reality this will be the outcome. Everyone knows Wallace can't win. If he gets enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives Humphrey will be the next president. The only sure way to vote for a change is to vote for Richard Nixon. Don't let anyone tell you that Nixon and Humphrey have the same

Library Notes

Mrs. Phillip Davis, Librarian

A shipment of new books has been received from the Department of Libraries among them are:

AMERICAN SILVER, by Millicent Stow. More than three centuries of fine silver is discussed in this fine book as well as 83 photographs.

THE ARTILLERY OF THE PRESS, by James Reston. The conflict between the men who make the news, the men who report it and its influence on American Foreign Policy.

CALVIN COOLIDGE, by Donald McCoy. A biography of Calvin Coolidge. As President he "did the day's work" with integrity. He restored the dignity of the Presidency after Harding had tarnished it, and his reputation for honesty dampened much of the Teapot Doge scandal.

CHINA BOMB, by Richard Traegakis. Intrigue and warfare in the Far East are brought home to the reader in this timely story of mounting tension and suspense.

COMPLETE BOOK OF BASS FISHING, by Grits Graham. In this book, the author reveals his system for finding the fish, and a system for taking them in numbers. A system which has worked for him and bass masters with whom he has fished from coast to coast.

FAISAL, KING OF SAUDI ARABIA, by Gerald DeGoury. The third son of an almost unknown chieftain who now rules a wealthy kingdom covering most of the Arabian peninsula.

A QUEST OF THE STATE, by John Van Alstene. The first non-fiction, first-person story to come out of the era symbolizes by the shame of the sixties, the wall that divides a city, a nation, and a people.

HOW TO PASS ARMED FORCES TESTS. Hundreds of practice test Questions and Answers provide complete preparation for Armed Forces Qualification Test.

HOW TO REPAIR AND DRESS OLD DOLLS, by Audrey Johnson. This is essentially a "how to do it" book, a primer for the novice but useful as well, it is hoped, to those who have collections in their care.

INSIDE RACING, by Matt Heimer. Inside Racing is an account of everything the layman who follows the races should know about them. It answers all the obvious questions which occur to him naturally, and most of the trickier ones, too, which even the regulars may not be able to answer.

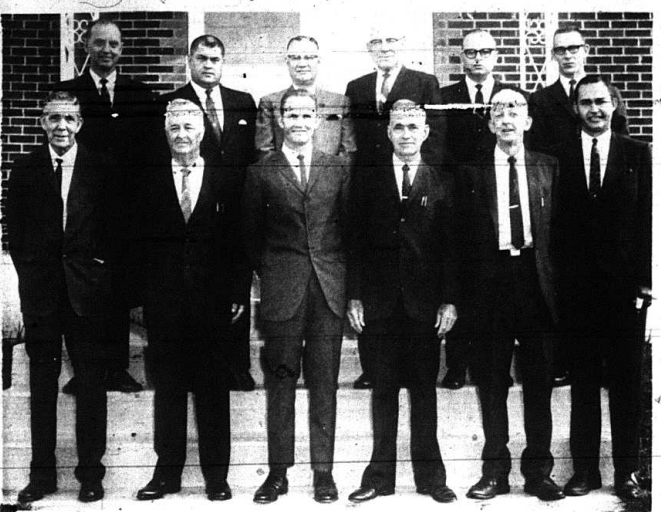

MY FRIENDS, THE WILD CHIMPANZEES, by Jane Lovewich-Goodell. In 1960 the author embarked on a daring scientific adventure: the study of chimpanzees in the wild. This book tells of the drama and the humor, the challenges and the rewards of her years of exhaustive research.

QUANTITY COOKERY, by Nolla Treat. This is a complete revised edition of Quantity Cookery, the time proven standard guide to menu planning, recipes and food preparation for restaurants, hotels, schools, colleges, where food must be served to large numbers efficiently and within a budget.

TIME, by Samuel Goldsmith. This book explores all of those facets of the meaning of time.

TREASURY OF NAME LORE, by Elsdon Smith. Thousands of names used in every nation in the world are arranged in about 175 categories - giving their origin and history.

Newbooks for children have just been received from the State Department of Libraries, Frankfort, Kentucky.

2,788 lbs. of pork to market from one litter in 156 days

That's the performance story of a litter of 13 pigs raised at Ful-O-Pep Research Farm. You can probably match or beat this record by following the precision, maximum efficiency Ful-O-Pep program on your farm.

Ful-O-Pep proving ground. Here's how the litters were processed. Litter was weaned at 33 weeks. At 4 weeks the pigs averaged 23 lbs. each. Weighed again at 58 days of age, they averaged 60 lbs. At 156 days of age they topped the market averaging 215 lbs. per pig for a total of 2,788 lbs. Good hogman and swine nutritionists know that such fast growth is necessary for maximum feed efficiency and profits.

Maximum efficiency feeding program
Ful-O-Pep research has both the maximum efficiency feeds and feeding recommendations hogmen need. Here's the normal weaning plan:
6th day to 3 wks. use 3 lbs. Ful-O-Pep Gro Pig Pre-Starter per head.
3 wks. to 8 wks. use 12 to 15 lbs. Gro Pig Starter Brooder per pig.
8 wks. to 10 wks. feed 50 to 60 lbs. Gro Pig Grower per head.
10 wks. to market use Gro Pork 200 and Gro 270 to 280 lbs. feed per 100 lbs. of gain.

For early weaning, the Gro Pig Pre-Starter is fed longer, from 6th day until pigs consume 10 lbs. each. Then continue them on the feeding program above. Finishing on Gro Pork 280 has shown produced gains of 2.1 lb. per head per day when fed to thirty pigs from 60 lbs. on to marketing.

The precision of Ful-O-Pep programming gives pigs the right balance of nutrients when they need it. Ful-O-Pep aims to meet the changing needs of pork producers, who figure exact costs and profits from every phase of their operation.

Ful-O-Pep feeder reports
2.35 conversion
One Iowa hogman tested the Ful-O-Pep program on a lot of 82 pigs. His detailed records show a feed conversion for the entire program from birth to market of only 2.35 lbs. feed per pound of gain. You may do even better... and collect a $5 dividend for trying these fine hog feeds.

LIKELY PLACE, by Pauls Fax. A Likely Place is about a boy who is harassed and pursued by adult solicitude until he thinks he is a candidate for Charlie Flocke's Farm. But in the end he gives those who think only of his own good something else to think about.

THE LITTLE FISHES, by Erik Heugood. The author tells a highly personal and impassioned tale of war and its effects on the children who must live through it and learn to love mankind in spite of it.

REMBRANDT AND HIS WORLD, by Monroe Stearns. Rembrandt's life is traced from his beginnings as a miller's son to his tragic and almost unnoticed death.

ROCKETS DON'T GO TO CHICAGO, ANDY, by Jane Theyer. Andy pretends that his train ride is a rocket. But when he awakens, the mission is so big and bright that Andy is afraid. He decides to take the train home as rockets don't go to New York.
