2,788 lbs. of pork to market from one litter in 156 days

This is the performance story of a litter of 13 pigs raised at Ful-O-Pep Research Farm. You can probably match or top this record by following the precision, maximum efficiency Ful-O-Pep program on your farm.

Ful-O-Pep growing ground:

Here's how the 13 pig litter progressed. Litter weaned at 3 weeks. At 4 weeks the pigs averaged 23 lbs. each. Weighed again at 50 days of age, they averaged 80 lbs. At 156 days of age they topped the market averaging 215 lbs. per pig for a total of 2,788 lbs. Good hogmen and some nutritionists know that such fast growth is necessary for maximum feed efficiency and profits.

Maximum efficiency feeding program

Ful-O-Pep research has both the maximum efficiency feeds and feeding recommendations hogmen need these days for top profits. Here's the normal weaning plan:

- 6th day to 3 wks. use 2 lbs. Ful-O-Pep Gro Pig Pre-Starter per head.
- 3 wks. to 6 wks. use 12 to 15 lbs. of Gro Pig Starter Bracer per pig.
- 6 wks. to 10 wks. feed 50 to 60 lbs. Gro Pig Grower per head.
- 10 wks. to market use Gro Pig 280 and figure 270 to 290 lbs. feed per 100 lbs. of gain.

For early weaning, the Gro Pig Pre-Starter is fed longer, from 6th

$5 DIVIDEND

Your Ful-O-Pep dealer will give you $5 for every 100 lbs. of gain you produce on Gro Pig 280. This is a special bonus for the extra feed efficiency and profits you get from Ful-O-Pep.

FAIRVIEW

Services were conducted at the Fairview Baptist Church over the week end with good attendance. 81 persons were present for Sunday School. The previous Sunday the attendance was 88. Thank God for each one of these and also for the one that was baptized Sunday afternoon.

We enjoyed very much the letter that was printed in last week's edition of the Signal, from my brother, Everett Reppert of Paxton, Ill. Wish a lot more of you nice folks would write and tell us how you enjoy the paper from back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Patrick of Richmond have moved back to the Fairview vicinity. They formerly lived there before moving away some years ago. Mr. J.M. Noland returned home from the Berea Hospital last Thursday. He had been a patient there for several days. He is convalescing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cletus Peters of Fairview. Thank God for blessing him to be home again.

Ernest L. Lalle Swinford has been discharged from the Army and is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swinford of Snider. He spent the past several months in Germany. We thank God for his watch, care, and guidance of this boy while he was away. We also ask God daily to take care of the other thousands of boys who are serving their country far from home. These are decent, honorable young men and I know you parents are proud of them. But I also know it hurts you as it hurts me to see them go and the yippies, hippies and rough necks are left here to destroy, bum and wreck our country. People that don't honor and respect our country shouldn't be allowed to live in America. It's still the greatest country in the world. I love the good old U.S.A. and I know you do too.

Mr. and Mrs. James Seals of Berea visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen Saturday afternoon.

The Flea, like many other tiny insects, is astonishingly powerful, when performing physical feats. Some of these tiny creatures are able to pull 20 times their weight. Fleas can jump 13 inches high, although, their legs are only minute in size. They are flattened from side to side which makes it easy for them to run between the feathers or hairs of an animal.

Lining Acid Soils
 If your legume crop stands alfalfa, clover and the like sometimes fail, maybe the soil needs liming.

Surveys show that about seventy-five percent of Kentucky cropland needs limestone for top production. Properly applied limestone will return from three to five dollars for each dollar paid for the limestone. Take soil tests this fall for good results, not only for limestone needs but for phosphorus and potassium. Then follow the test recommendations, Amnett recommends.

Planning to Renovate Some Grass Fields this Winter?
 One of the best ways to increase grazing, hay yields, and quality feed is to renovate existing grassfields. The acreage being renovated each year is growing by leaps and bounds.

If you are planning to do some renovating on your fields by next year, here are some tips that should make the job easier, quicker, and more successful for you:
 1. If growth is heavy, graze it close before trying to disk loads a little lighter. In spring, fields are generally too soft to hold equipment and lime palatable (tasty) at this stage. apply them will not have much effect (if any) on that year's crop.

Use finely ground limestone. Best kind is where about half the ground limestone is the area heavily so that you can graze it close and quickly. A good rule to follow for these heavy growth fields is to use 5 to 10 head of cattle per acre in the field. At this rate, grazing off won't take long. Pull a soil sample and have it tested. Apply needed lime, phosphate and potash. Put it on prior to, during, or just following the graze off.

Income Tax Schools Announced For Five Locations in State
 Two-day tax schools for farm tax consultants will be held in Nov. and Dec. at five locations in the state. The sites and dates, according to S.Q. Allen, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service economist, are:
 Nov. 18-19, Camahan House, Newton Pike, Lexington;
 Nov. 20-21, Community College, Somerset; Nov. 25-26, Nolin RECC building, Elizabethton and Dec. 10-11, Holiday Inn, Owensboro.

The Owensboro session originally was scheduled at Henderson but has been changed, Mr. Allen said. The last scheduled session is Dec. 12-13 at the Hopkinsville Community College. Instructors will be from the federal Internal Revenue Service, the state Department of Revenue, the Social Security Administration and the U.K. Cooperative Extension Service. Persons desiring to attend any of the sessions should write Mr. Allen at the agricultural economics department, University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Building, Lexington, Ky. 40506.

Soil Insecticides in Plant Beds May Be Needed This Fall, U.K. Says.
 Applying a soil insecticide to the tobacco plant-bed site this fall may save you work next spring.

It's a chore that can save much time, says Ira Massie, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service specialist. After the bed site has been plowed, treat with a recommended insecticide. Area extension offices in the counties grazing off won't take long. Pull a soil sample and have it tested. Apply needed lime, phosphate and potash. Put it on prior to, during, or just following the graze off.

There are certain rules to follow about soil insecticides, Mr. Massie notes. If the site is an old bed site, will be used next season, and was treated with a soil insecticide the last one or two years, don't waste your time and money. Soil insecticides are effective from two to three years in the soil. If the site has not had an application in the last two or three years, it may need a new one.

If you are to use a NEW bed site for the 1969 crop, a soil insecticide is recommended. This is particularly true if sod must be broken for the new site.
Oxidized Flavors in Milk Can Be Stopped by Practices.
 Oxidized flavors in milk—a condition where milk has a cardboard or talloxy taste—usually can be avoided by following some simple rules.
 Dr. C.B. Lane, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service dairy specialist, says the off-flavor generally is regarded as a processing plant problem. But this off-flavor often originates on the farm, he says: Here are some simple rules:
 1. Keep milk from coming in contact with copper-containing metals, such as brass, nickel or the so-called "white metal."
 2. Don't expose milk to daylight or strong artificial light. Keep milk covered at all times.
 3. Avoid or eliminate excessive foaming or agitation of milk.

Dairymen have high hopes for nutrition research aimed at stopping this off-flavor problem in the producing dairy cow. Recent research involved adding a material known as ethoxyquin to milking cows' hay and grain rations. This stopped the off flavor. When cows were taken off this feed (ethoxyquin added) the off-flavor returned.

Let's Set It Straight

In last week's issue of the Signal, there appeared a political advertisement on behalf of George C. Wallace's candidacy. In this advertisement, there was a statement concerning the voting record of State Representative Harold DeMarcus. It said, in effect, that Rep. DeMarcus had voted to increase the salary of the Legislators. This statement was later found to be entirely untrue and without any basis whatsoever. According to the official 1968 House Journal, Volume No. 2, the roll call for House Bill 392, which dealt with the increase for Legislators, Rep. DeMarcus was one of 32 Representatives voting Nay. The bill however did pass by a vote of 53 to 32. We extend our sincere apologies to Rep. DeMarcus for having had a part in spreading this false information. In the future, the policy of the Mt. Vernon Signal will be that if a statement is made in a political advertisement concerning an opponent's voting record, there must be proof shown of the vote before the advertisement will be run.

Jackey's election results being the first to be reported Tuesday night on nationwide television.
 Jackey's organizations across the state placed a man in each precinct and as seen as the polls closed each man called the National Election Service Headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio with the results from their precincts. Then they relayed the information to county Jackey headquarters with the result that Kentucky's election results were known by about 6:30 p.m., thirty minutes after the polls closed.
 We commended the Jackeys on a job well done.

BHS Tigers Open Season Friday Night Against Clay Co.

The Broodhead High School Tigers will open their 1968-69 basketball season Friday night, November 8 at home against an always strong Clay County team.
 The Broodhead B team will play the Mt. Vernon B team in the preliminary game.
 "This year's team will have a hard job living up to the past three team's reputation. As of now, there isn't a starting five. With a lot of hard work our young players could move into starting positions," Coach Riddle said.
 He further said, "To our fans we hope to give some exciting basketball this year. It will take a little time to get lined out after losing four boys from last year's team but with dedication from the older boys and the willingness to make some defensive adjustments. "I was pleased with the overall performance of the team, but the play was ragged at times, both offensively and defensively," Coach Parrett said.
 Scoring for the Devils were Mink 23, Owens 23, Jackson 7, Hudley 2, and Gumbel 8. In the score column for the Alumni were Dewey Stewart 2, Ralph Allen 4, Ray Kirby 12, Alvin Owens 1, Charles Robinson 3, Junior Owens 11, Lee Smith 10, Jerry Mullins 2, Paul Jones 11, and Paul Sturgill 2.
 The Livingston Blue Devils will play host to Anville Friday night.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have read with interest, and sometimes with amusement, the letters and arguments on naming the lake located at I-75 on the Renfro Creek.

I would think that the Mt. Vernon City Council did give serious consideration when selecting a name for the above mentioned lake. Whether they did or did not give due consideration, I don't believe should be an issue at this late date. They did publicly announce the name of the lake. The writer believes the name chosen to be appropriate and fitting.

All the hoo-ha-ing among local people of the community about the naming of the lake give one the impression that Rockcastle is a community where leaders and citizens can not come to an agreement on a simple thing like naming a lake. The writer believes this controversy is hurting the image of the community. It would be much better if Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle would give the impression of a united and progressive community in order to attract business and industry.

I for one, do not believe the name of the lake has or will have any effect on the publicity of Renfro Valley Enterprise in any way. When we refer to Renfro Valley, we refer to the Renfro Valley Barn Dance Enterprise or to the Renfro Valley community, the whole community. However Renfro Valley Enterprise is the center of the community, the main street so to speak.

Lake Linville, as it has been named, is the location of a lake at I-75 and Renfro Creek. Let's consider what would happen in the future if other lakes were made on Renfro Creek and all were named Renfro Lake. It would be rather confusing to say the least.

Here in Michigan, northwest of Detroit, runs Royal River. It has several dams and lakes on it. A city and county park has been developed along its shores for over twenty five miles. The park is referred to as Rouge Park. Where the parkway passes through Plymouth, Michigan there is a lake named Phoenix Lake, about a mile down stream on Rouge River is another lake named Newburg Lake. Still further down stream about two miles is another lake named Naukin Mill Lake. Had they named all these lakes Rouge

A Day Dedicated To World Peace

1918 - Veterans Day - 1968

Fifty years have passed since the original Armistice Day or Veterans Day (as it is now called)... fifty years and many wars since the day in 1918 when "the war to end all wars" ended. We commemorate the anniversary of this day with the belief that peace will prevail and wars will end; with the hope for mutual understanding between nations and good will among all peoples; and with a sincere tribute to those who have valiantly fought for our country.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

IN BASIC— Dillard Wayne Howard, son of Mrs. Louise C. Howard of Mt. Vernon, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corp. Pvt. Howard is presently undergoing eight weeks of Basic Training at San Diego, California.

HONOR GRADUATE— Airmen George D. Isaacs, Jr., son of Delbert and Elizabeth Isaacs of Mt. Vernon, has completed seven weeks of technical school at Lowry AFB, Colorado where he trained as a Materials Facilities Specialist. He has now been assigned to Homestead AFB, Florida. Airmen Isaacs recently completed a 15-day leave.

Fire, Unlimited

Burning trash in his back yard, Harold took note of the fact that the grass was dry and the breeze was blowing. So when the fire had died down, he stomped around the edges and scuffed up the embers with his toe.

But though Harold didn't know it, the fire smoldered on. During the evening it spread to a neighbor's garage and burned it down. And in due course, the neighbor filed suit for damages.

"But I really did try to put the fire out," Harold protested at the trial.

Nevertheless, the court held him liable, blaming him for not taking greater precautions—such as throwing dirt or water on the embers to make sure they were out.

"Always and everywhere since the beginning of civilization," said one judge, "fire has been regarded as a dangerous as well as a beneficent agency, to be handled with care."

That doesn't mean the person who starts a fire is automatically liable for everything that goes amiss.

Thus a farmer who was tending a brush fire—with every reasonable safeguard—was held not liable when a sudden, ferocious wind spread the flames to his neighbor's land. Pointing out that the farmer had done nothing wrong, the court said he could not fairly be blamed for an "act of God."

But once a person has been negligent with fire, then his legal responsibility may be far-reaching indeed. He may have to pay not only for property damage but also for personal injury or death to persons trapped by the fire's spread.

He may even be liable to someone who, while not in danger at first, got hurt rescuing those who were. Take this case:

Sparks negligently emitted from a passing locomotive set fire to a house in which children were asleep. Their mother, outside the house, rushed in and managed to beat out the flames.

For the burns she suffered, the railroad was later held liable. The court said that, if railroad employees had given proper thought to the spark danger, they could have foreseen not only that a house might be set afire and its occupants jeopardized but also that a rescuer might get hurt too. Said one judge: "Danger invites rescue. The wrong that imperils life is a wrong to the imperiled victim; it is a wrong also to his rescuer."

Dear Sir

In order to clarify coverage of ambulance trips under Medicare, this letter is being mailed to all ambulance providers.

For insured beneficiaries to be covered for ambulance services under the provisions of Title XVIII of the Medicare Act, the following three conditions must be met:

- The facilities and personnel responsible for the patient care must be approved and meet the requirements set forth by the Social Security Act.
- Ambulance service is covered only when the use of any other method of transportation is medically contraindicated by the patient's condition. In any case where some other means of transportation can be used without endangering the individual's health, payment for ambulance service cannot be made.
- The patient must have been transported to (a) the nearest hospital with appropriate facilities or (b) to another hospital with appropriate facilities whose locality encompasses the place where the ambulance transportation of the patient began. The patient may be transported under similar restrictions from one hospital to another or to an extended care facility. The patient may also be transported from one of these institutions to his home provided his home is within the locality of the institution from which he is transported.

Where the ambulance transportation involves trips to institutions not within the immediate locality, or the closest with appropriate facilities, payment cannot be made. The definition of appropriate facilities relates to the hospital or institution, its equipment, its employees and its capability to provide medical care. The physicians who practice in a hospital are not a consideration in determining whether the hospital has appropriate facilities. Consequently, ambulance service to a more distant hospital solely to avail a patient of the service of a specific physician or a physician in a specific specialty does not make the hospital in which the physician has staff privilege the nearest with appropriate facilities.

Ambulance service to a physician's office is not covered unless in an emergency situation the patient needs the immediate services of the physician at his office enroute to the nearest hospital.

Claims which are submitted for ambulance services must meet all of the above conditions before payment can be made. If you have any further questions regarding coverage of ambulance services under Medicare, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely
