"DISCOVER AMERICA" THIS YEAR

The Seven Sisters Bathe in Fort Robinson, Neb., a natural wonder.

To be or not to be Europe-bound this year is the question vexing millions of Americans who have travel dollars to spend this year. Chances are, most families will elect to vacation in the United States, according to spokesmen for Discover America, a non-profit organization which encourages Americans to count their blessings by traveling their native land.

Repeating the sayings of ages of old, Discover America historians have advanced persuasive reasons for touring America the Beautiful. In the days of ancient Rome, philosopher Seneca observed, "What a person spends-time in foreign travel, he ends by having many acquaintances but no friends."

A similar comment appears in the Old Testament, for it is written in the Book of Exodus, "I have been a stranger in a strange land."
English essayist Hazlitt remarked, in typically sly fashion, "I should like to spend the whole of my life traveling abroad, if I could anywhere borrow another life to spend afterwards at home."

Speaking of a practical problem, the language gap, Francis Bacon noted, "He that travelleth into a country before he hath some entrance into the language speaketh to school and not to travel."
Sayings aside, Discover America officials point out that there is a minimum of 50 reasons for seeing America first, for our 50 states boast in the aggregate, more breathtaking scenic attractions than all of the continents of Europe combined.

Visitors from abroad tell us our museums are the most beautiful of any in the world. Why? Because the "Museum" architects pay such painstaking attention to the lighting and display of the great masterpieces.

Not by way of comparison but for sheer drama and matchless scenic glory, we also learn from these 1.5 million visitors, that our natural wonders are so unique, they are found only in this country. Nowhere else can you see the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, the stark drama of a Monument Valley, the sweep of the Petrified Forest, the excitement of a Navajo Rodeo.

The soaring cities or paddle boats, the wide open spaces, or a cathedral of giant sequoias, mountains, lakes and rivers—all yours to explore by car, on foot or by plane. Clearly, this year's "super-bet" from the United States tourism is to Discover America.

Aftermath of German Measles Epidemic Is Disaster, March of Dimes Study Shows

By LOUIS COOPER, M.D.
Director,
The National Foundation-March of Dimes Rubella Birth Defects Evaluation Project

One of this nation's worst German measles epidemics struck with devastating effect several years ago, and today we are experiencing aftereffects that might be equally disastrous.

Our study of 500 children to determine their medical problems also brought to light their long-term non-medical needs. The study was financed by The National Foundation-March of Dimes in cooperation with New York University Medical Center at Bellevue Hospital.

Most of these children were born with one or more defects involving either sight, hearing, heart or brain caused when their mothers contracted German measles (rubella) while pregnant during the 1964-65 epidemic of that disease.

We soon found that these children needed an umbrella of care to provide physical, emotional and educational help, brought into focus at the same time and under the same roof. A hospital setting offers the best facility and experts to

to the Old Year with Gratitude!

Dear 1968

There are many who will recall your 12 months with black memories... yes, you brought more than your share of infamy and violence. But we mortals give credit when it's due. There was good done in your name—in no small quantity. And if you look forward to stepping over the threshold of time carrying a few bright pages in your record of accomplishments, we suggest you now review the deeds of the following:

- THE TEACHERS who open young minds to receive the wisdom of books;
- THE NURSES who serve strangers as tenderly as if they were not;
- THE POSTAL MEN through whose hands efficiently pass the world's love, goods and wealth;
- THE POLICEMEN who tender mercy with discipline;
- THE FIREMEN who tirelessly struggle with the unknown;
- THE ARMED FORCES whose men and women do for the nation what each man would do for his home;
- THE GIVERS who feel that both time and money are well spent when buying charity for others;
- THE SALES PERSONNEL who graciously and efficiently serve us throughout the year and especially during the holiday season;
- THE INDUSTRIOUS who, by growing more proficient in trade, job or profession, give strength to the nation;
- AMERICANS everywhere who generously share their substance with needy nations and needy people of the world.

There it is. Take your last steps proudly, Mr. Old Year!

Sincerely,

COX FUNERAL HOME

Fire Destroys Home; All Contents Lost

A fire completely destroyed the four-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vanwinkle early Thursday morning. The home was located in the Burr section of the county.

The fire started in a wall behind a gas cooking stove. The Vanwinkles' three children, ages 5 to 6 months, were asleep in the house at the time the fire started.

Mrs. Vanwinkle had gone to the home of her mother-in-law, which was located about 100 feet from her home, to care for the elder Mrs. Vanwinkle, who is bedfast. She sent a neighbor's child, Wayne Rigby about 10, to see if her children had awakened. The Rigby child found the wall behind the stove blazing and ran back to get help with the children. Mrs. Vanwinkle, Sue Rigby and Wayne Rigby got the children out safely but were unable to save anything.

Mr. Vanwinkle was in London at work at the time of the fire.

If anyone wishes to donate anything, food, clothing, bed clothes, furniture or money, to the Vanwinkles who saved nothing from the fire, you may do so by taking your donation to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vanzant on Brush street.

MASON DEGREES CONFERRED

Three members of Ashland Lodge #40 F & AM were raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason in ceremonies held recently at the job. They were Jack R. Craig, Rex Eldon McGuire, and Robert L. Cox.

Fifteen members attained the Entered Apprentice degree recently. They were William Barrett, Lonnie Reppert, Gary Corren, Arthur Bull-Jock and Terry Cummins.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME—Afterward was all over, the Jacob Vanwinkle family were homeless, without any of the presents "Santa" had brought their three children, and had no clothes, furniture, or any personal possessions. The fire, which burned the Vanwinkles out last Thursday morning, caught behind a kitchen stove. The three children were asleep in the house at the time it caught fire but were carried to safety by their mother and two Rigby children.

Mich. Man Killed In I-75 Accident

William Frederick Bomtrager, 19, of Port Huron, Michigan, was killed about 6 p.m. Sunday night when the car, which he was driving, left the southbound lane of Interstate-75 and turned over on the median.

According to Coroner Bill Dowell, death was instantaneous.

The accident occurred about 9 miles south of Mt. Vernon. Also injured in the accident was Bomtrager's wife of two days, Nancy, who was admitted to Berea Hospital for minor injuries.

According to reports, Bomtrager left the shoulder of the road on the median side and in trying to get back on the road, the car began skidding and turned over approximately six times coming to rest on the median side ways.

The body was taken to Cox Funeral Home in Mt. Vernon and later transferred to Michigan.

State Will Build Road At Renfro

And, who's road is it? No one has decided that important question yet and meanwhile residents along the Renfro Road at Lake Linville still have to come to Mt. Vernon via Brindle Ridge.

However, there is a partial solution in sight since the State Highway Department has agreed to build a "temporary" road so that the residents can at least get out. The work will be done by the highway department and will begin as soon as the necessary right-of-ways can be obtained.

The State does still doubt that it is their place to build a permanent road.

SCHOOL STARTS THURSDAY

Thursday, January 2, is the day kids are sorry about that, but you'll have no more week-day mornings to sleep late until spring vacation because schools in Rockcastle County will begin Thursday morning after the Christmas holidays. Hang on Mothers, it's almost Thursday.

WATCH PARTY SERVICES TUESDAY NIGHT

A Watch Party will begin at 9:15 p.m. at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church on Tuesday night and will continue until midnight. Games will be played and refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited to attend this service.

PRAYER MEETING THURS

Prayer meeting services normally held on Wednesday night at the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon will be held on Thursday night, January 2 instead.

$225 Grant Given To Local Lions

Under its program of aid to surrounding counties, Keene-Land Association, with income from throughout racing and sales, has made its annual grant of $225 to the Mt. Vernon Lions Club.

Other service organizations and agencies which received funds included the Woodford County Community Chest, the Franklin County United Fund, the Rotary Clubs of Georgetown, Nicholasville, Paris, Richmond, Winchester, Cadishe, Lancaster, Lawrenceburg, Mt. Sterling, and Owenton; the Lions Clubs of Cynthia, Danville, Harrodsburg, Owsingville, and Williamstown; and the Kiwanis Clubs of Irvine-Ravenna and Jackson County.

The $225 was made under this program was a part of $31,250 contributed by Keene and to non-profit organizations during 1968.

The largest single grant was $5,000 to the Lexington and Fayette County Community Fund, and $3,000 was given to the Paris and Bourbon County YMCA Building Fund. The Grayson Foundation, an equine research organization, received $2,500; Transylvania College, $1,600; and the Lexington Baby Health Service, the Lexington-Fayette County Youth League, Trooper Island, and the Blue Grass Council of the Boy Scouts of America, each, $1,000.

Contributions of $500, each, were made to 14 other Lexington-based agencies, many of which serve the entire Central Kentucky area.

Cong. Carter Speaks To Development Group

Fifth District Congressman Tim Lee Carter spoke to approximately 50 persons last Monday night at a meeting of the Rockcastle County Development Association.

Congressman Carter reviewed recent progress in Rockcastle County such as construction of Lake Linville, construction of the Harry Sparks Vocational School; the extension of the Mt. Vernon Water System, sewer system and housing development. Carter told the group that a great deal of progress had been made in the past three years in each county of the Fifth Congressional District.

Congressman Carter requested help from everyone in recruiting qualified young men for all the military service academies. He stated that he found it very difficult to find his quota.

He emphasized to the group that "helping you is my purpose for being in Congress."

In answer to Clay Colson's query about the disposal of solid waste material, Congressman Carter suggested that the county look into the availability of a pilot project for this district since federal money has been appropriated by his committee in Congress for such projects.

In other business before the Development group, Wade Kay and Clifford Bales gave brief reports on the proposed airport for Rockcastle County. Mr. Ray told the group that the committee was waiting on further data on the airport from Arthur Pope, consulting engineer from Owensville. Mr. Bales told the group that he had visited the Department of Aeronautics and talked with Edward LaFontaine, Director of the Division of Airport Development. He reported that Mr. LaFontaine said the Fiscal Court needed to officially appoint the committee appointed to study the feasibility of an airport.

The committee consists of Wade Kay, chairman, Clyde Linville, Lewis D. Nicely, Dr. Jack Lewis, Clifford Bales, and Hubert Harris.

Mr. LaFontaine suggested that a site other than the Harris airport (owned by Hubert Harris and situated in the Brindle Ridge section of the county) be considered. However Mr. Bales reported that he told Mr. LaFontaine that the Harris airport site was probably the best one available in Rockcastle County since more land around it could be purchased if necessary.

Rep. William H. DeMarcus, who was present at the meeting, told the group that he would work with the Aeronautics Committee and also gave assurance of the Government's cooperation. Fiscal Court, which will meet Jan. 7, 1969, is expected to approve the Airport Committee and when this is done further action can be taken.

Clay Colson gave a report on the lake development at the Cedar Rapids Recreation Center. He said that a sinkhole had appeared in the water area of the impoundment site and that after examination by engineers and an expert in this problem, it was found that the lake was located and constructed properly and no cavities were underlying the dam itself. It was suggested that the dam be left as is and a valve be placed at the lower end of the water pipe and the lake allowed to fill up in order that further tests may be made. The building of the club house is progressing rapidly, according to Mr. Colson, and the bathhouse and pool are also nearing completion.

Wayne Stewart, a member of the Mt. Vernon City Council, told the group that the construction of the water lines in the Mt. Vernon Water System is progressing rapidly and the line toward Brodhead on U.S. 150 should be completed by March 1.

A nominating committee was appointed by Roy Brown, president, and asked to present a slate of nominees for a January meeting of the group. Appointed were Gatlin Craig, chairman, Wayne Van Hook, and Clyde Linville.

A motion was made by Wayne Stewart and seconded by Hubert Thacker that Rockcastle County be transferred from the Lake Cumberland Tourism Area to the Wilderness Trail Tourism Area. The motion carried.

CHANGES MADE IN MEDICARE

Older people who enter the hospital under Medicare on January 1 or after will be responsible for an additional $4 of their hospital bills.

Up until now, Medicare has paid all but the first $40 of a beneficiary's hospital bill in each spell of illness. Effective January 1, it will cover all but the first $44.

The hospital bill for an average stay by a Medicare beneficiary now runs about $600.

Brodhead Gets Partial Grant

The Economic Development Administration (EDA) has given their okay of Brodhead's water and sewer project except that part of the sewer system has been removed from the original application, according to Bobby Proctor, Chairman of the Town Board at Brodhead. Mr. Proctor said that EDA had given their approval of the water system, a 75,000 gallon storage tank, and a partial sewer system, but that would cover the business section and a part of the residential section. However, Mr. Proctor said that the Town Board had decided to delay accepting the project as is with the hope that the entire sewer project could be gotten in the grant and loan.

Total cost of the completed project is about $650,000 with approximately $400,000 of the amount as a grant from EDA. The Brodhead water system would hook onto the Mt. Vernon water line near Ben Craig's farm at Harburg. No pumps will be necessary but a pressure reduction valve would be needed to reduce pressure.

ASSIGNED CANNONEER

Amy Pratte First Class M.B. Mink, 20, son of Mrs. Irene Reynolds of Mt. Vernon, was assigned as a cannoneer with the 32nd Artillery in Vietnam on November 26.

needed to reduce pressure. Brodhead had already received approval from the Federal Water Pollution Control Board of a $54,000 project to aid them in their project.

MRS. IVA WHEELDON DIES AT STAMFORD

Mrs. Iva Mae Brown Wheeldon, 81, of Route 1, Brodhead, died Saturday, December 28 at the Ft. Logan Hospital in Stamford. Mrs. Wheeldon had been ill for several years.

A lifelong native of Rockcastle County, Mrs. Wheeldon was the widow of Evan Wheeldon, a veteran of World War I, who died in 1953. She was the daughter of Rance and Mary Jane Reynolds Brown and a member of the Providence Church of Christ.

Survivors include a number of nieces and nephews. Funeral services were held Monday at the Providence Church of Christ with interment in the Providence Cemetery. Officiating was Rev. Charles Brown and Rev. John Craig.

Sparks Funeral Home in charge of all arrangements.

BANKS CLOSED WED.

Both the Bank of Mt. Vernon and the Citizens Bank in Brodhead will be closed New Year's Day, Wednesday, January 1.

William Frederick Bomtrager, 19, of Port Huron, Michigan, was killed instantly early Sunday evening when the above car, which he was driving, left the Interstate about 9 miles north of Mt. Vernon. Bomtrager and his wife, Nancy, were travelling south when his car left the road, went onto the median, and turned over about six times. The Bomtragers had been married December 27.

by other special schools for classes that began in September. In their turn, other children now on our waiting list will be able to receive training at the hospital school.

It is hoped that the program developed at Bellevue will work and can be copied throughout the country to meet the urgent and widespread need to help these multihandicapped children.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes has estimated that as a result of the 1964-65 rubella epidemic about 20,000 American babies would be born defective. Present indications are that these figures are low. We have reason to believe that the 500 children served by our project represent only one-quarter of those in Metropolitan New York City who were victims of that one epidemic.

All these children now are reaching traditional school age. They will easily overwhelm the nation's schools for the singly handicapped deaf, blind or brain injured. Unfortunately, there are only a few special schools that can teach multihandicapped children and even fewer who accept these children at the proper age, which is as soon as the handicaps are recognized.

Progress toward development of rubella vaccine to prevent the tragedy of rubella in pregnancy has been very rapid. Nevertheless, it will be of no help to the thousands of handicapped children born during the past several years. If we can learn to educate these children properly, the lessons learned will be of great benefit to all handicapped children.

GERMAN MEASLES

City School System and additional staff were provided by the Rubella Birth Defects Evaluation Project and the New York City Department of Hospitals and Health.

New ways of learning are being tried by the team of teachers and new avenues of hope are being explored. One teacher each was selected from the fields of special education for the deaf, the blind, and the brain injured.

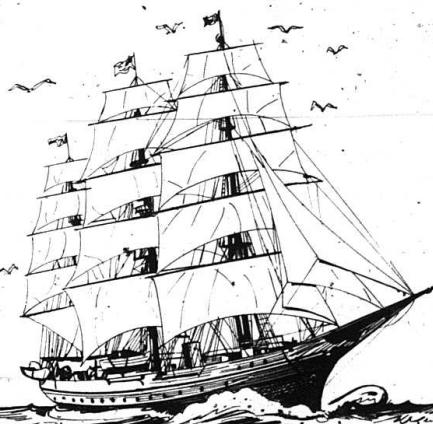

The teachers then selected 17 three-year-olds from nearly 60 in the study group who were receiving no educational service because of the complexity of their handicaps. All the children had some degree of brain damage and hearing loss. Half had congenital heart disease and half had visual problems. Some have had heart surgery; others have needed eye operations. All have had many illnesses, some with frequent hospitalization.

At the Bellevue Nursery School, each teacher works first with a child on an individual basis. The development of play skills, self-care, watching and listening are all important. Although the children have multiple physical impairments, deafness or hearing impairment come in for particular attention. Great emphasis is placed on teaching the child to recognize and identify sounds.

A music therapist has been provided by the Musicians Emergency Fund. Teachers and the children play typical kindergarten percussion instruments. Although the children may not hear the sounds as we do, they are extremely responsive to music. Teachers help the children know the instruments, learn their names by touch and by sight and listen to and feel the vibrations of the different sounds.

How far the children will progress is not known. However, each child will be given an opportunity to learn up to his full potential. Speech will come for some when they put all the training and constant drilling together. Other children may never speak.

There is a great deal we can still learn from this modest exploration of the education of the handicapped, but one sign of progress is the acceptance of four children from the group

EVERGREENS

Should snow be removed from evergreens? is a perennial question. If the snow is so wet and heavy that you are afraid it will break limbs, remove it by gently shaking the limbs or by using a pole or broom. There is no better protection from winter sun than some snow. A small amount of snow helps maintain a steadier temperature in the plants it covers, but usually, lets adequate light through to the leaves.

Ice from sleet storms is not harmful until it becomes heavy enough to break the plants down. It can damage other woody plants as well as evergreens. Wind increases the damage to ice-laden trees. Ice cannot be shaken off easily without causing breakage of limbs and twigs. In severe cases, snapping limbs may be necessary if the tree is not too large.

WALKS AND DRIVES

Ice may be a problem on steps, walks and drives. Streets are often cleared with a chloride salt. This material can cause problems if used on the home drive, walk, or steps where drainage is toward shrubs and grass. Ammonium nitrate can be used to melt ice in these spots. When it flows toward your shrubs and grass, it also fertilizes them. If ammonium nitrate is not readily available, commercial fertilizers that are high in nitrogen and potassium may be as effective.

Unless there are many icy spells, there is little danger in using ammonium nitrate or complete fertilizers. However, do not reason if a little is all right, a lot is better. Use only what is needed to melt the ice.

Do not shovel wet, heavy snow from drives, walks, and steps on to your shrubbery. Sometimes it can be disposed of among shrubs where openings occur. Dry, light snow or small amounts of snow probably will not harm shrubs when swept or shoveled on or about them unless the shrubs are already loaded to capacity or more snow is likely to fall.

Do not pack snow tightly about or over shrubs. Packed snow can smother evergreens, while naturally loose snow is a good "mulch."

Beef Cattle Round-Up Day Set For Feb. 6 at Lexington Beef cattle industry persons meet Thursday, Feb. 6 at the University of Kentucky Agriculture Science Center here for a beef cattle "round-up" day program. The program will begin at 1 p.m.

Two out-of-state speakers are scheduled. They are Dr. O.D. Butler, Texas A & M University, who will talk on important factors of the beef cattle industry and Dr. J.N. Wiltbank, Colorado State University, who will speak on cow-herd management.

The annual Cattlemen's Banquet will be at 7 p.m. at the Springs Motel. Speaker is to be announced.

The Kentucky State Feeders Calf Association and the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association business sessions will be held the same day.

State Beef Producers will Hold Performance-Test Sale March 14

The annual sale of performance-tested beef bulls will be held March 14, 1969 at the West Kentucky Experimental Substation in Princeton by the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association.

The sale is open to all breeds. The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service is co-sponsor.

Dr. Bernard Jones, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service beef specialist, listed the following facts on the sale and the qualifications: (1) Bulls must pass the U.K. "on-the-farm" bull test. Minimum requirements are (a) a weight per day-of-age of at least two pounds a day on the 150-day test, which starts when the calf is weaned; and (c) a conformation score of low choice or better.

Bulls must be purebred and have a breed registration

Different Soils Need Different Amounts of Limestone

Two different soil types may show the same acidity levels by soil test but they may need different amounts of limestone to obtain the same reduction in soil acidity.

Limestone recommendations in Kentucky as made on the soil test forms are for silt loam soils. However, on the back of this form is this statement: Apply lime at one-half on silty clay loam soils. Thus, where three tons of limestone may be recommended on a silt loam soil that is strongly acid, 1.5 tons should do the same job on sandy soils but 4.5 tons
