March of Dimes Physician Advocates Prenatal Care Long Before Pregnancy

By VIRGINIA APPAR, M.D. Vice President for Medical Affairs The National Foundation - March of Dimes

Prenatal care should start early in life — long before pregnancy. Although this advice might sound startling at first, there are sound scientific reasons for it.

Too often the story of prenatal care has been "too little and too late." More than one pregnant woman has gone to the doctor's office only to have the nurse ask her, "Is the baby kicking yet? No? Well, come back in three or four months."

I believe that girls should begin preparing for maternity as early as eight to fifteen years of age. We have grown used to thinking of prenatal care as protecting the mother's health, and certainly the mortality of mothers has been reduced, but now it is the baby's turn. We know that the fetus needs protection, too. The future mother can take a giant step in that direction during her own childhood by forming and following good health habits.

There are also medical steps that can be taken to protect the fetus — even before conception. I think that within the next ten years it could become a matter of routine for a young woman to undergo a series of tests which may predict the future health of her children as soon as she begins to think seriously of marriage.

The blood test for venereal disease that is now required before marriage could be used to make tests for other factors in each partner that might cause birth defects. Rh incompatibility is one good example. A vaccine is now available to prevent Rh disease in the newborn.

Chromosome examinations could be made in advance to find out if there are any irregularities in the genes of either partner that might damage their offspring.

Enzyme tests could check on possible metabolic disorders that could affect the baby's body chemistry. Many of these errors can now be treated successfully.

Tissue cultures can tell the carriers of cystic fibrosis, an inherited disease that often kills the infected child early in life. We now have treatment methods that are of great help to victims of this disease.

Genetic counseling based on medical tests and analysis of the "medical family tree" of each partner might also prevent heartbreak later by indicating the chances a couple face of giving birth to a child with serious defects. The couple can be told the risks and then make up their own minds about what course to take. Where the risks are high, adoption of children is an excellent solution.

Nearly all the 103 birth defects centers financed by the March of Dimes offer genetic counseling or can provide information about where such counseling is available.

All of these precautions can be taken by a woman before she even thinks she is pregnant. When the time comes that she has reason to believe she might be pregnant, her first move should be to see a doctor as soon as possible. She should keep all her appointments with him and follow his orders right down the line.

Among other things, he will tell her to watch her diet, avoid contact with people known to have infectious disease, and not to take any medicine or drugs unless they are prescribed. Unnecessary X-rays will also be avoided.

As the pregnancy progresses, there are many things the physician can do to protect the health of the mother and baby. For example, if the woman has such diseases as diabetes or syphilis, there is treatment available.

Before too many years have passed, it should actually be possible to operate on the baby within the womb, if necessary. This has already been done successfully in animals.

Even today blood transfusions can be given to babies in the womb and certain tests performed on their body cells when there is a reason to do so.

Ideally the best prenatal care a baby can have is to choose parents who are in perfect health. Since that is impossible, the next best thing is for every young girl to do everything she can early in life to prepare herself for the day she will become a mother. Don't be a victim of "too little and too late" because it's usually the baby who pays the penalty.

 tuned above the hem. The lace design was repeated on the chapel train. A profile headpiece of stephanotis and pearls held in place her bridal illusion. She carried a cascade of seven catalina orchids and baby breath.

Mrs. Jughie Hayes of Houston attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Hopkins of Berea, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Elizabeth Ann Sharp, Maud, Texas cousin of the bride and Miss Judy Lancaster, Clear Lake, Texas, junior bridesmaid.

The attendants were wearing ruby velvet Victorian design gowns with elbow sleeves edged in ecru lace. The lace also outlined the neckline of the dress.

Their headresses were half profiles of dyed to match stephanotis sprays. Each one carried a colonial bouquet of pompons, carnations, baby breath, red and pink roses and leatherleaf.

Larry McFadden was the bridegroom's best man. Groomsman were Bryan Sharp, Jr. of Denton, and Ronny Sharp of Maud, cousins of the bride, and Charles Kennedy, Shreveport, Louisiana. Larry Sharp, another cousin, and Glen Gibson served as junior groomsman. Annual Meeting of Livestock Improvement Association
 Dr. Roy Gray, Extension Beef Specialist, University of Kentucky, was the principle speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Rockcastle County Livestock Improvement Association held at Brothead School Cafeteria, January 17, 1969. Dr. Gray spoke to the group about changes taking place in the livestock industry. He pointed out that some of the greatest factors in being a successful livestock producer is in proper management, feeding and selling. He said, "It doesn't matter about the value of quality is as long as the quality is there." He further pointed out that Kentucky is the gateway to the south and that we are located close to two-thirds of the population of the United States. He said, "Feeder calf associations have helped promote the beef industry as much as any other." Roy G. Brown, President of the Association, gave a report of the accomplishments in 1968. Some of the activities sponsored by the association are as follows:

 1. Series of swine meetings throughout the year on various phases of production that were handled by specialists from the University of Kentucky and feed companies in their particular field.
 2. Sponsored June Dairy Month and Dairy Day in Mt. Vernon. Sponsored Dairy Princess Contest.
 3. Sponsored Agri-business men's tour in July; visiting beef, agronomy and horticulture operations in parts of Tenn., South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia.
 4. Cooperated in helping keep Rockcastle County a modified-certified tuberculosis free area.
 5. Selected feeder calf directors to work with Feeder Calf Association in setting up annual sale.
 6. Cooperated in the publication of Livestock Production Directory.
 7. Cooperated with family committee in planning farmer-businessmen banquet at other family activities.

8. Helped with Rockcastle County Swine Producers Annual Pig Roast.
 9. Helped organize the Rockcastle County Saddle Club consisting of 150 members.
 Officers re-elected for 1969 are: Roy G. Brown, President; Clay Colson, vice-president; Olney Sutton, Secretary-treasurer. Re-elected directors now serving are Jack B. Dailey, Wallace Proctor, W.J. Randolph and Albert Long.

Horticulture Information
 Farmers in the Wilderness Trail Area can add to their income again this year by growing bell peppers and cucumbers. For processing, Moody Dunbar, Inc., Limestone, Tennessee, is interested in buying 1200 acres of peppers, under contract, in 1969.
 Hirsch Brothers and Company, Louisville, Kentucky, are looking for an additional 1100 acres of cucumbers, to be produced under contract this year.
 The following is a schedule of horticultural meetings in which the growing of peppers, cucumbers and other horticultural crops will be discussed:
 Williamsburg January 21-2:00 P.M. - Public Library; London January 24 - 2:00 P.M. - Community Room, Courthouse, Barboursville; January 27-1:00 P.M. Courthouse; Pineville January 28 - 2:00 P.M. Extension Office, Courthouse; Mt. Vernon - February 5 - 1:30 P.M. Circuit Courtroom, Courthouse; Haslet - February 7 - 1:30 P.M. Courthouse; McKee - February 10 - 1:30 P.M. Circuit Courtroom, Courthouse.

Extension Specialists and representatives from Moody Dunbar, Inc. and Hirsch Brothers Company will be present for most of the meetings to help answer questions about peppers and cucumbers. Burley Leaders Ask for 1968 Quote to Continue
 The recommendations of burley leaders are followed by the incoming Secretary of Agriculture, the 1969 burley tobacco acreage allotment will be the same as for 1968.

This means that Kentucky burley farmers could plant approximately 159,223 acres of the crop in 1969, if approved by the Secretary. The allotment must be made by Feb. 1. Burley tobacco farmers, warehousemen, industry, rep-representatives, and leaders of farm organizations met with U.S. Department of Agriculture officials at UK's Agricultural Science Center Thursday (Jan. 16) to discuss the 1969 allotment program and acreage-purchase marketing quotas for the next three years.

 Spokesmen from the eight burley tobacco producing states endorsed the continuation of the 1968 program. This decision was based on the current burley supply and demand, estimated 1968 production, and prevailing favorable prices.
 "These opinions and recommendations will be forwarded to the Secretary of Agriculture for his consideration. Carryover of old crop burley in the inventories of manufacturers and dealers in Government stocks at the beginning of the marketing year were down 51 million pounds—about 4 percent—from a year ago. Production in 1968 is estimated at 557 million pounds—16 million pounds above 1967. Total supply—that is carryover plus—estimated 1968 production—is 1,886 million pounds. This is 36 million pounds, about 2 percent, below last year.
 Disappearance, or use, of burley declined 7 million pounds over the previous year. However, in the previous three years, use exceeded production.
 Burley leaders expressed the opinion that a new referendum at this time on the acreage-purchase program would meet with resistance from the burley producers.

Homemaker's Help

By: Faith N. Plummer
 Area Extension Agent
 in Youth

Read the label or hang tag carefully when you buy garments or fabrics, recommends Mrs. Faith N. Plummer, area Extension agent. To protect you—the consumer — and to give you a guide to the kind of performance you can expect from the fabrics you buy.
 No longer can you depend on sight and touch alone to identify the fibers used in the fabrics you buy. And there are now over 700 trade names for manufactured fibers, so you can't expect to remember many of these. To protect you—the consumer — and to give you a guide to care needed and probable performance, the law requires that the label on almost any fabric sold give the generic of "family" name of the fiber or fibers used in it.
 However, many shoppers don't understand the generic terms used on fabric labels. Most consumers recognize only the well-advertised private trade-marks or trade names and a few of the fiber families, such as cotton, wool, nylon, and rayon. The unfamiliar "family" names are no help to the shoppers. To make sense out of the hundreds of fibers on the market, remember that each one of them belongs to a "family." The fibers in each "family" have certain characteristics in common. Learning what to expect from each of the different fiber "families" can help you buy fabrics more wisely. In addition to the four "families" of natural fibers (cotton, linen, silk, and wool), there are 16 families of man-made fibers. These are: acetate (and triacetate), acrylic, azlon, glass, metallic, modacrylic, nylon, mytil, olefin, polyester, rayon, rubber, saran, spandex, vinyl, and vinylon.

 Don't confuse the generic or "family" name of a fiber with its trade name. The Textile Fiber Products Identification Act states that the "family" name as well as the trade name must appear on the label or hang tag of ready-made garments and on the bolts of fabrics. If you learn the general characteristics of the 20 fiber families, you won't need to worry much about the more-than-700 trade names.
 Information on the different fiber "families" and what you can expect from each of them is available at your county Extension office. Mrs. Faith Plummer will begin a series of knitting lessons for beginning knitters. The lessons will begin on Thursday, February 6 in the Rockcastle County Library. (Cont. To 3)

The following poem was submitted by Louie Owens.

A PARENT'S PRAYER
O heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfishness or to show my power. Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me, O Lord, to hold my tongue. May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decisions. Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm. Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen. -copied

Veteran's Questions & Answers

Q- For some time I have had the Veterans Administration retain my G.I. insurance dividends, but I just got a letter saying I should apply for reinstatement of my policy. I know that I have enough dividends to cover the premium due. What happens?

A- With your present option, the dividends you have left on deposit with VA may draw interest. However, they are like a bank account; the VA cannot use these dividends to pay your G.I. insurance premiums without your permission.

To insure that your policy will not lapse in the future, you should change your dividend option to provide that dividends will be used to pay the insurance premiums in advance as they accrue.

You will also furnished a statement each time dividends are applied, letting you know how far ahead you are, plus what the next premium is due, and the amount of any partial credit.

Q- I am 65 and have no service-connected pension payment will be increased soon. Also, will I receive any special benefits?

A- The VA pension age is 62 for those who are not service-connected.

Jan. 1, 1969. Approximately 1.2 million beneficiaries under this program will receive increased pension payments as the result of this restructuring. These increased payments also went into effect Jan. 1, so if you qualify for an increase, you should check your higher pension check around Feb. 1.

Q- My husband died as a result of injuries received in World War II. He obtained a G.I. home loan during his lifetime which is now paid off. Am I, as his widow, also eligible for a loan?

A- Yes. Any unmarried widow of a World War II or Korean Conflict veteran may be eligible for a G.I. home loan if her husband's death was service-connected. The fact that the veteran may have obtained a loan does not affect the widow's entitlement.

COOK CHOOSES AG COMMITTEE

Senator Marlow W. Cook (D) of Kentucky today announced in Washington that he had received his first choice of Committee assignments. Cook said, "Since Kentucky is essentially an agricultural state, I wanted to get on this Committee so that the agricultural interests of our state would receive adequate representation."

Senator Allen J. Ellender (D) of Louisiana is chairman of the Agriculture Committee. Ellender reported that Cook was also appointed to the Judiciary Committee. He said, "The Senator was especially pleased to become a member of the Judiciary Committee since it has jurisdiction over proposed constitutional amendments." One of Cook's greatest interests is pushing the nation's voting age to 18. As a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, he will be in a better position to influence its approval by the Committee and subsequent passage by the Senate. The Judiciary Committee is headed by Senator James O. Eastland (D) of Mississippi.

No Change Seen For 1969 Quota

As the marketings of the 1968 buday crop draw to a close, forecasts for the 1969 crop are already being made. Of most immediate interest is the production quota for 1969. This must be announced by the Secretary of Agriculture, and the best guesses are that there will be no substantial changes in allotments for this production year. This announcement must be made by February 1.

The support price for the 1969 buday crop must also be determined by the Secretary on or before April 1. Agriculture Commissioner Robert Miller joins other buday leaders in predicting a support price increase of perhaps two cents over the 1968 buday price floor of 63.5 cents per pound.

Miller pointed out that the support price is established by the Secretary in the light of the growers' production cost index. He went on to note that production costs for tobacco were responsive to inflation as were most all commodities. These costs that include such things as labor, fertilizer, equipment and capital equity all increased during 1968. As a consequence, a support price increase for 1969 is inevitable. A 65.5 cents per pound support price would be a good guess, Miller thinks.

Bill Stalon, Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the Buday Association, observed that if the 90% of party formula was still in force, the support price of buday would be 83 cents per pound. He said that parity for buday is 92.2 cents per pound. The party formula was abandoned in 1958, however, in favor of the production cost index. A basic definition of parity is the equivalent purchasing power between buday and non-agricultural prices at a specified past time.

Miller said that his staff had made a study of the relationship between the established price support for buday and the seasonal average price paid for the past five crops. In each of the five years, Miller said, the price paid exceeded support by 25% to 36%.

KTC PLANS $2,800,000 EXPANSION OF FACILITIES

W. W. Thomason, President of the Kentucky Telephone Company, announced this week that the company plans to spend over $2,800,000 in construction of telephone facilities during 1969.

Over $1,000,000 will be spent in the Southeastern Kentucky counties of Clay, Knox, Laurel, Pulaski and Rockcastle.

A central office building will be constructed to house new switching equipment in the East Benmadst exchange. At the time this work is completed, one and four party services will be available to subscribers living in that area.

In addition, 100 miles of cable will be built in this five county area. Part of this will be new construction and part will be replacing cable already in use. Many people will now be able to have telephone service where presently facilities are now available.

Expanded and improved long distance service will be established in the Brodhead, Livingston, and Mt. Vernon exchanges.

Mr. Thomason said, "All our exchanges will benefit since this construction expenditure means expanded and improved service for all customers in this five county area."

The Kentucky Telephone Company is a subsidiary of the Continental Telephone System, the fourth largest telephone association in the United States. Mr. Thomason said, "Continental's motto is 'Growth Through Service' and this 1969 construction budget represents another major stride in Kentucky."

"Trumpet Tunes" was played as the processional for the bridal party and the bride.

Vows were repeated at the altar setting backgrounded by a bridal arch of white mums and dogwood blossoms accented with wedding bells and satin bows. Baskets of white gladioli and mums with pompon and leatherleaf accents flanked the setting. Cathedral tapers gleamed in branched candelabra, entwined with ivy, daisies, satin bows and pompons. The couple knelt for prayer on a wrought iron prie dieu. Large baskets of poinsettias flanked the front rail of the altar. Windows of the church were marked with three white tapers nestled in pompons and ivy. Family pews were marked with satin bows, carnation, pompons, and ivy. A wrought iron table decorated with three white tapers, pompons, carnation, and fern marked the bride's mothers place.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a white pean satin A-line gown, fashioned with lantern sleeves and cuffed collar neckline. Re-embroidered Alencon lace traced each side of the front and each Older people entering the hospital under Medicare are now responsible for an additional $4 of their hospital bills.

Until January 1, 1969, James Mustian, social security officer-in-charge said, Medicare paid all but the first $40 of a Medicare beneficiary's hospital bill in each spell of illness. Effective January 1, he said, it covers all but the first $44. He noted that the hospital bill for an average stay by a Medicare beneficiary now runs about $600. The hospital deductible amount for the amount for which the Medicare beneficiary is responsible -- he explained, is similar to the deductible amounts provided in many auto insurance policies where the car owner pays the first $50 or $100 of a repair bill and the insurance company pays the rest.

The increase of $4 in the portion of the hospital bill for which a Medicare bene-fiary is responsible results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of the deductible. The first such review, the law provided, was to be made in 1968. The law states that if this annual review shows that hospital costs have changed significantly, the hospital deductible must be adjusted for the following year, with any necessary adjustments made in 54 steps to avoid small annual changes.

Mustian said that when the hospital deductible amount changes, the law requires comparable changes in the dollar amounts a Medicare beneficiary pays toward a hospital stay of more than 60 days or a post-hospital extended care stay of more than 75 days. These amounts also went up 10 percent, beginning January 1, 1969.

When a Medicare beneficiary has a hospital stay of more than 60 days, he pays $41 a day for the 61st through the 91st day, up from $10 per day if he has a post-hospital stay of over 20 days in an extended care facility, he pays $5.50 per day toward the costs of the 21st through the 100th day. If he needs to draw on his "lifetime reserve," the severe accident beneficiary can draw upon it if he ever needs more than 90 days of hospital care in the same benefit period. He will now pay $22 a day for each reserve day used, instead of $20 per day.

For Medicare beneficiaries who entered a hospital before the end of 1968, the hospital deductible amount will be $40, rather than $44, Mustian pointed out. Also, the dollar amounts they will pay toward the cost of a hospital stay of more than 60 days or a post-hospital extended care of more than 75 days will be payable at the old rate -- even though the new rates may be provided in 1969, rather than in 1968.

TEEN CLUB MEETS

The Mt. Vernon Teen 4-H Club met Monday night, January 20, 1969 at 7:30 P. M.

Every other night, beginning February 3rd, will be the meeting date for the club.

Carolyn Reppert told the club about her trip to Washington, D.C. last year when she attended Older Youth Conference. Older Youth conference this year will be April 7-11.

Judy Berry told the club about work being done in the Junior Leadership project. Three members of the Teen Club, Judy Berry, Teresa Hunt and Bessie Gentry, have met with a newly formed club of junior members and are acting as project leaders. We hope the membership of the junior club will grow, as we have others who are interested in being project leaders.

Mrs. Shirley Mullins, Extension Clerk, informed the club members that the Rockcastle County 4-H Club has altered a first and second place prize to the club member that sells the most textbooks. The textbooks were compiled and published by the Council as a money making project. The club members immediately snatched up all the books there at that time. Wonder who will get the $5.00 first prize and $2.50 second prize? Mrs. Mullins also ask the group to be thinking of attending Senior Camp, which will be June 16-20.

President Carolyn Reppert introduced our guest, Dr. Hazel Noble. She read a poem and gave a brief talk on the stresses and failures of life. She encouraged the club to "keep on keeping on."

Refreshments were served and everyone was reminded of the next meeting, which will be Monday, February 3, 7:30 p.m.
