MRS. NELL RAINES DIES FROM BURNS
Mrs. Nell Raines, 32, of Dayton, Ohio, died Friday, February 7, from burns received on December 25 at her home.

She is survived by her husband, Billy Raines, a native of Rockcastle County, two sons, Mitchell, 9, and Michael, 4; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Gov. Nunn Adds Support For Two Rockcastle River Dams Governor Louie B. Nunn has added his support to efforts being made by a committee in Rockcastle County and groups in surrounding counties to obtain two dams on the Rockcastle River. The local committee, headed by Roy Brown, has already obtained the support of Congressman Carter and Senator Cooper for the project.

In a letter to Rep. Harold DeMarcus, Governor Nunn said, "I want to assure you, and all the people of Rockcastle County, of my support for the construction of the hydro-electric dam on the Rockcastle River, and I want to call special attention to your long and tireless efforts on behalf of this project."

The project was first broached to the Army Corp of Engineers several years ago and a feasibility study of the project was made by the Corp. However, after a flurry of meetings between the Engineers and residents of the counties involved, the Corp decided that the projects were not feasible because the benefits derived from the dams were 15-percentage points under the cost of construction.

However, in the past few months, several county officials have worked long and hard gaining the support of state officials and of our Senators and Congressman Carter. Senator Cooper, who is a member of the Public Works Committee, has not given his formal support to the project as of yet but it is expected to be forthcoming soon.

BAKER RE-ENTERS REPRESENTATIVE RACE
Monroe Baker, who last week withdrew from the State Representative's race because of a legal technicality in the election laws, has re-announced his candidacy for that post.

Mr. Baker, who announced his intention to seek the Republican nomination for State Representative from Rockcastle and Lincoln Counties several weeks ago in the Signal, found after announcing that he was required to file his candidacy papers with the Registry Board in Louisville either on or before publicly announcing for the office.

This requirement was added to the election laws in June of 1966 and had Mr. Baker not publicly withdrawn from the race, before fulfilling the requirement, and later won the office, his nomination could have been challenged.

Elmwood Cemetery Needs New Wall

The wall, erected in 1921, around Elmwood Cemetery is in abject state of deterioration and will require replacement within the near future. The replacement of the wall constitutes a very expensive undertaking, an undertaking too expensive for any one individual or organization. The Rockcastle County Jaycees are vitally interested in this project but do not feel that they are equipped, either financially or with adequate manpower, to go it alone. They have obtained several bids on the replacement, the lowest of which has been about $10,000. This amount covers a complete new wall reinforced by steel. Needless to say, the Jaycees do not really have as strong a personal interest in the project as most of our other citizens do, or should, have. Almost everyone now living in Mt. Vernon and surrounding areas, has someone of their family buried in the cemetery. Without the wall being replaced, there is a very good chance that the grounds around the coffins would suffer from erosion. Unlike most community organizations, Elmwood is not handled through a central organization. The land bought for the gravesites is owned by three different individuals, and the grounds are maintained by the Elmwood Cemetery Association through voluntary contributions once a year. Naturally, a project of this magnitude will require the concentrated effort of the community as a whole and should have our immediate attention. The time and effort expended for any project such as this one is always repaid to a community tenfold in that it shows the pride of a people in their surroundings and a willingness and ability to work together.

"If you would like to help with this project, fill out the coupon below and return it to: Roy Martin, president, Rockcastle County Jaycees, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456. This means it being used so that the Jaycees might decide if there is sufficient interest by the community in this undertaking."

I wish to express my interest in seeing the stone wall replaced around Elmwood Cemetery and would be willing to help with this project.

Heart Sunday Drive This Week End

This week end, local Heart Sunday volunteers will be visiting their neighbors to distribute heart-saving information and to receive Heart Fund contributions. In advance of their arrival, you may wish to ponder the extent to which cardiovascular disease is a local problem. Please consider the fact that in our county, like most others, about one person in five suffers from some form of heart and circulatory disease.

In short, this is your problem. It is everyone's problem. So welcome your Heart Sunday volunteer (and your Business Gifts volunteer when ever he calls) with a smile and a generous donation. Surprise them by contributing more than the amount you usually give.

Give...so more will live HEART FUND

Letters To The Editor

The Simple Things of Life
 I, Johnie Lunsford, was born and reared in the small town of Broedhead, Ky. When my parents passed to that great beyond, they left us no land or money; no stocks or bonds. However, they left me a rich heritage of appreciation for the simple things of life, like the beautiful bright morning sunshine. Many were the mornings that I walked into the wood yard only to find my father perched upon the chop block or woodpile or a tree stump, seemingly peaceful and in deep meditation. He would flash his eyes at me, and I was greeted with a warm smile and says, "It's a beautiful day son," "I'm certainly grateful to be alive." This would cause me to pause and drink the beauty of nature. Thus I learned to appreciate the great gifts of nature and the beauty of God's creation. My father was very thankful for the rain that watered his garden. He was thankful for the warmth of the fire, as well as the warmth and fellowship with his family. At the least expected time, my father would give thanks aloud as it were necessary for his subsistence as the air he breathed. I recall the many cold wintery nights that our family would all gather around the fireplace, while the fire would flicker and pop. With its blue and red, yellow flames. We would pop corn and dad would entertain us with some of his humorous stories of the days when he was a boy, also the old hand-me-down stories of the Civil War. This would cause our eyes to widen and mouths open. Then a cozy warmth not received from the world outside us and his close love and inter strength that protected us from the cold world outside. Even now the snow drifts on my window sills and the winter winds whistle around the eaves of my house. I can still feel the warmth of those long wintery nights by the fire side and recall an often made remark made by my father, "I am thankful for this good warm fire." My father was not a strong man. I never heard him try to belittle anyone. When I was a child my dad had a way of making chores for me, which I did with a pleasure. He would look at me and say, "Baby I am proud of you and certainly don't know what we'd do without you." "I could not have done that by myself." He said this in such a tone of sincerity that it made me feel like a big guy. My father certainly was thankful for the simple things of life and life itself. He possessed those things that cannot be bought with money. He had something that was priceless that was the genuine appreciation of the simple things of life.

COOK SUPPORTS RAISE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY

Senator Marlow W. Cook (R) of Kentucky has joined with Senator Jack Miller (D) of Iowa in pressing for bills to provide cost-of-living increases in Social Security and the Railroad Retirement Act.

Both bills provide for automatic increases, based upon the cost-of-living, and will benefit approximately 470,000 Kentuckians now covered by the two retirement programs.

Cook has long been distressed over the financial plight of the elderly, who suffer most from the social tragedy of inflation. During his recent campaign for election to the U.S. Senate he voiced his concern repeatedly for older citizens who are living on their savings, insurance and pensions.

"These bills have a two-fold purpose," Cook said. "They will supply desperately needed financial assistance to the elderly, who are most and least able to bear the burden of inflation. They will also assure the average wage earner who supports these programs that he will not be short-changed when he reaches retirement age."

CARTER ASKS DECREASE IN FEDERAL TAXES

In his report this week, Congressman Carter announced that he has introduced two bills that would decrease Federal income taxes. One bill increases from $600 to $1200 the personal income tax exemptions of a taxpayer with additional exemptions for older citizens and for those who are blind. Another bill exempts from Federal income tax any amount received under a state or local government retirement system, which would include state teacher's retirement.

In addition, Congressman Carter introduced legislation to provide for an additional Federal judge for both the Western District and the Eastern District of Kentucky.

Representative Carter reintroduced his bill to amend the Constitution to permit voluntary participation in prayer in public schools. To be cited with the crime problem, Carter also proposed a bill to increase the penalty applicable to the commission of a crime of violence when committed with a dangerous or deadly weapon.

Other legislation introduced by Congressman Carter since the Congress convened last month would:

- (1) equalize the retired pay of members of the uniformed services who retired prior to June 1, 1958 whose retirement pay is computed on laws enacted on or after October 1, 1949;
 - (2) amend the Public Health Service Act to provide for the establishment of a National Lung Institute;
 - (3) prohibit the dissemination of materials harmful to minors;
 - (4) enable citizens to vote who, because of existing State laws relating to a change of residence, would otherwise be ineligible;
 - (5) provide for orderly trade in iron and steel mill products;
 - (6) create a Federal Committee on Nuclear Development to review and to re-evaluate the existing civilian nuclear program of the U.S.;
 - (7) establish a Commission for the Improvement of Government Management and Organization and (8) create a catalog of Federal Assistance Programs.
- In addition to the foregoing bills introduced by Representative Carter, other bills would provide educational assistance to children of civilian employees of the United States killed abroad as a result of war, insurance for victims of similar hostile action, and disability insurance benefits to any individual who is blind and has at least six quarters of social security coverage. Congressman Carter also introduced a Joint Resolution to direct the Federal Communications Commission to conduct a comprehensive study and investigation of the effect of the display of violence in television programs.

Pruning Trees and Shrubs
Deciduous plants can be pruned at this time provided you keep certain things in mind. If you prune flowering shrubs now, you remove flowers that would have bloomed in the spring. Shrubs that have not been pruned in a long time may be pruned now by removing some of the height, and encourage new growth.

Shrubs often make a growth in late fall causing long undesirable branches to grow across the walk or driveway against the house. These branches should be removed at this time.

February is one of the best months of the year to prune trees. Many of our trees tend to bleed or give out sap when pruned during the growing season. By pruning now you can avoid this.

An important point to remember when pruning trees is to treat the wound if it is 1/2 inch or more in diameter. Good tree wound dressings are now available.

DEPT. OF AGR. NEWS

"Although the Prices Paid Index and the Parity Ratio still remain far from favorable for the farmer, farmhand values continue to rise rapidly." Agriculture Commissioner Robert Miller observed. Commenting on the continued strong demand for Kentucky farm land, Miller said that the price of land is increasing 5-10 percent yearly with the last reported increase of $13 per acre. A recent report by the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service indicates that not only is the price of land increasing rapidly, but the size of farms has also increased. Today, the average size Kentucky farm contains 1.30 acres and is worth about $29,000. Kentucky now has 130,000 commercial farms with the number declining about 3,000 per year. There are an estimated 2,976,000 farms in the United States this year. Ten years ago, there were 4,105,000 farms in the nation with Kentucky having almost 165,000 of them.

Several factors have contributed to the decrease in number of farms. Included are such things as the consolidation of smaller farms into more efficient, larger operating units, urban extensions, and the construction of interstate and toll roads, as well as reservoirs and other recreational facilities. About 45 acres of land are required for every mile of new road construction.

The Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates about 100,000 acres of Kentucky farm land is being taken out of production every year because of urban needs, highway construction, and recreational purposes. In 1969 the state has 16,900,000 acres in farms.

The state agriculture department reports that Kentucky ranks 5th nationally in the number of farms, 130,000. Texas, North Carolina, Missouri, and Iowa have more farms. Since 1940, the number of Kentucky farms has decreased 137,000 but the average size has increased to 1.30 acres from a 77-acre average. Arizona now has the largest average farm size of 7,233 acres while North Carolina has the smallest average farm size, 99 acres.

11. and Scoggins with 5. London had three starters all scoring the same number of points, which helps to explain the outcome of the game, as Brodhead was unable to overcome the balanced scoring of the London team. Omsby, Owens, and Conley all scored 18 points each for London, followed by Mink with 11 and Lillie with 6.

MVHS 55 - Annville 51
The Mt. Vernon Red Devils have had their ups and downs this year and it seems as though that every game for the last two months have been nip-and-tuck for them. Well, it was no different last Friday night when the Red Devils defeated Annville 55 to 51.

The Devils fell behind at the start and trailed 19 to 13 at the end of the first quarter and 34 to 27 at half-time.

Mt. Vernon was still behind with a minute to go in the game when Howard Saylor hit a long shot to tie the score 51 all. Joe Howard then put back-to-back field goals through to put the Red Devils on top.

"Of every game played at the local gym this year, the Red Devils have played very hard and the point spread in their wins and losses have been no more than 5 points so the Mt. Vernon fans have seen some close and exciting games," Coach Jack Laswell said.

Joe Howard was the leading scorer for MVHS with 24 followed by Saylor with 11, McCauley got 9, Powell

7, and Coffey added 4.

The Devils will close their home season Monday, February 24 against a tough Berea team and this should be another barn burner.

Tuesday night, the Red Devils missed six straight shots in a close game that went right down to the wire, the Burgin team came out victorious, in the last two minutes, 51 to 47. The Devils missed six straight field shots in the last two minutes when the bonus was in effect and this proved to be their downfall.

Leading scorers for Mt. Vernon was D. Coffey with 12, and D. McCauley and James Phillips with 10 each.

BHS 89 - Shopville 71
The Brodhead Tigers bounced back Tuesday night to defeat Shopville 89 to 71.

With Bryan Bussell and Cletus Brown scoring 33 and 30 points, respectively, Brodhead pulled away from a 39 to 31 half-time lead to put the game on ice in the second half.

Following Bussell and Brown in scoring were Goff with 14, Scoggins with 4, McWhorter with 3, J. Bussell and Chester with 2 each, and R. Bussell with 1.

Friday night the Tigers will take on Eubank there and will be at home to Evans Saturday night.

Impressive Gains Grew From 19 Years of Heart Research

This second of a series of three articles is presented to inform readers of this newspaper about progress in the fight against heart and circulatory diseases.

It is quite possible that the heart fund, totaling about 416 million dollars over the past 19 years, has already yielded one of the greatest investment returns ever realized by the American people. The results are now coming home. They are being felt right here.

Although diseases of the heart and circulation continue to be our number one killer, accounting for more deaths than all other causes combined, there has been a decline of 18.4 per cent in the cardiovascular death rate for persons below 65 since the year 1950.

This is no coincidence. The year 1950 marked the start of a planned, massive assault upon the heart and blood vessel diseases. In response, it was the year the American people decided to do something about the problem, instead of just talking about it.

What has happened since 1950 falls into sharper focus for persons below 65 when we compare the present-day toll of about 253,000 deaths with the 302,000 we would be experiencing if the 1950 mortality rates had persisted. The indicated savings is about 49,000 lives a year. There is a strong likelihood that at least some of these 49,000 beneficiaries—nobody knows how many or who they are—live here in this County.

Also deserving of mention is the fact that the people of this county have participated in many Heart Fund Campaigns, and thus are entitled to share the credit for the health achievement of dramatic dimensions.

The Heart Fund, which is to be conducted here and throughout the nation through February, underwrites research, professional and public education and community heart programs of your Heart Association.

It should be noted that the 18.4 per cent decline is a combined figure applying to persons of both sexes under 65. Among men aged 45-64, the overall decline since 1950 has been about 8.4 per cent, despite an increase of about 5 per cent in the death rate from heart attack.

It is less encouraging. It is among the elderly that the cardiovascular diseases always take their greatest toll. And since more people are living to an advanced age, the nation's mortality from heart and blood vessel disorders at all ages now exceeds 1,000,000 yearly.

Behind statistics which indicate a far brighter picture for those aged below 65 are many tangible achievements. For example:

- Rheumatic fever once more prevalent than polio at its worst, now is on its way to becoming a rare disease. By knocking out the "strep" infection which precedes it, the door can be closed on rheumatic fever and at the same time on rheumatic heart disease.

- Most inborn heart defects yield to surgical correction, made possible by development in the 1950s of the heart-lung machine, which also has enabled surgeons to cross what was once thought to be an ultimate frontier—heart transplantation, now in clinical trials.

- Artificial heart valves, synthetic artery grafts and implanted pacemakers to sustain heart rhythm are increasingly successful.

- Coronary care units improve by as much as 30 per cent the survival rate among hospitalized heart attack victims.

Accompanying these developments are a host of others—drugs for correction of high blood pressure, vastly improved techniques of diagnosis, external massage for restarting a stopped heart, kidney dialysis to purify the blood of toxic substances when natural kidneys fail, pressure-raising drugs to treat shock, and new methods of treating strokes and rehabilitating stroke patients, to mention only a few.

The 1969 Heart Fund Campaign is being conducted here and in 850 other communities, through February.
