ing battle but Cletus Brown was off his game and only scored 4 points. Goff got 10, Scoggins (who fouled out of the game) had 10, and Carl Sargent got 1.

The Tigers played a slow down type of ball with Clay County as long as they were able. But when the chips were down, and they couldn't afford to hold the ball, they had to begin running with Clay County and that told the tale.

Actually, in field goals the Tigers were only outdone by CC 24 to 21; but in free throws, the Tigers missed 14 and had 13 floor errors.

Bryan Bussell has the record for the most points scored in two years at BHHS, at least under the 11-year tenure of Coach Billy Riddle. Bussell in two years has scored 1554 points and has an average of 29.78 points per game.

MARCH 21 DEADLINE FOR ASCS CONTRACTS

March 21, 1969 has been set as the deadline for taking feed grain contracts for this year's program, Willie Lamb, Chairman of the Rock-castle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service announced today. Mr. Lamb reminds farmers the contracts can be handled by mail if it is inconvenient for them to come to the office. The deadline will soon be here so farmers should make up their minds about their farming plans for the year. If more information is needed, farmers should contact the local ASCS office. The personnel will be glad to give them any information needed concerning the program.

Mr. Lamb also stated that to date a total of 540 farmers in the County have signed up to take part in the 1969 feed grain, wheat, and barley program. This involves a total of 531 farms, which represent 6,658 acres of the county's total 10,134 corn-sorghum-barley acres. Total intended diversion of enrolled farms is 5,883 acres for payment. The sign-up so far represents 52 percent of the total farms entered in the feed grain program. Last year's sign-up showed a total of 67 percent of the farms signed up in the feed grain program. Mr. Lamb stated that total sign-up figures for 1969 should exceed that of 1968 by at least 5 percent.

Mr. Craig, who is presently employed as Supervisor of Rockcastle County Schools, has a varied background of work experiences. Besides serving as teacher and school administrator, he is a farmer and has worked with Kentucky's program Development Office in Frankfort and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

His effective date of Mr. Craig's appointment has not been decided at this time since there will have to be arrangements made concerning his present job obligations.

HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

A two-story frame home on Town Hill in Mt. Vernon, belonging to James Noe, was completely destroyed by fire late last Wednesday night.

The home was occupied by city policeman Dana Grabell, who was on duty at the time the fire broke out, and his wife and five children.

According to reports, the children, who were sleeping upstairs, awakened Mrs. Grabell and told her that they smelled something. Mrs. Grabell got up and realized that the building was on fire and managed to get all the children out safely.

Blue Devils Win Regional Berth

The Livingston Blue Devils, seeking their first regional berth since 1965, had a tough time injury-wise in reaching their goal last week. The week before the tournament, according to Coach Preston Parrett, the Devils could not even muster enough men for a scrimmage game as flu and colds struck the squad.

However, in the first game the Devils played in the tournament, the Devils were victorious against Clayson County 51 to 44, with an impressive 51% shooting score.

In this game, Lonny Mink and Norman Owens sprained their left ankles and in the Devils' second game, when they beat Oneida 74 to 65, Mink sprained his other ankle and big Earl Jackson injured his knee severely.

The win over Oneida put the Devils into the championship game for the District title against Clayson County, but without the seven from here.

Seven basketball players from the three county high schools were placed on the all-tournament team at Oneida last week at the end of District Tournament play.

Three players on the Blue Devils squad were named. They were: Earl Jackson, Norman Owens, and Lonny Mink. From the BHS Tigers team, Bryan Bussell and Cletus Bryon were chosen and from the Mt. Vernon squad, Joe Howard and Howard Taylor were named.

services of Earl Jackson and with Owens and Mink not up-to-par physically, the Devils were unable to continue in Clay County and lost 69 to 46.

"I feel that these boys have shown a lot of guts and character in posting a 23-9 season and we are extremely proud of them for their play this year and especially the way they played in the tournament when it seemed the odds were stacked against them," Coach Parrett said.

Coach Parrett further said, "Livingston school officials and coaches would like to take this opportunity to thank the county fans for their support during the tournament. We appreciate it very much."

Clay County, in order to reach the finals, defeated the Brodhead Tigers 68 to 55 last Friday night. Bryan Bussell scored 32 points on behalf of the Tigers loss.

MINISTERS PRESENT CHANGE IN POOL ROOM ORDINANCE BY COUNCIL

Three local ministers met with the Mt. Vernon City Council last Thursday night to ask the Council not to change the ordinance concerning the fee required for setting up a pool hall in the city limits of Mt. Vernon.

Bro. Charles Shivel, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, Rev. Ray Cummins, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, and Bro. Norman Howard, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church, told the council members that they felt that an establishment of this type in a town the size of Mt. Vernon would not have a good influence on our young men. Bro. Charles Shivel told the council that a petition against the pool hall had been signed by many residents but he did not officially present the petition to the council.

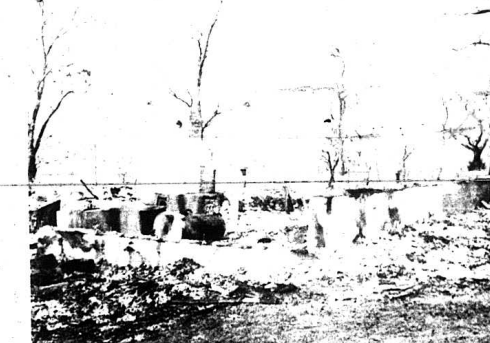

The establishment of a pool hall was brought before the council at their February meeting by Virgil Arnold and Raymond McQuinn. A motion was made to lower the fee required and the vote was five to one. Councilman Perciful abstained. However, in a re-check of minutes, it was found that the motion had been voted on without having received a second. This, of course, made the motion illegal.

Councilman Wayne Stewart made a motion to let the old ordinance, which requires a fee of $500 per pool table to stand. The motion was seconded by Charlie Hines and Councilman Bob Jasper voted yes. Councilman Ed Winstead, the only other member of

NO ALUMNI BANQUET AT BRODHEAD THIS YEAR

There will not be an Alumni Banquet held at the Brodhead School this year, according to D.A. Robbins principal.

However, plans are to resume the banquet in 1970.

The above two-story, eleven-room frame home was completely leveled by fire late last Wednesday night. The origin of the fire has not been determined. Mrs. Dana Grabell and her five children escaped unharmed from the house.

A Rockcastle County School bus, driven by Harrison Holman of Brodhead, and a car carrying five ladies returning from work in Stanford, collided Tuesday afternoon about one and one-half miles west of Brodhead on U.S. 150. Holman was not injured in the accident but all five women were. Two of them, Rose Bullock and Mildred Renner, driver of the car, were admitted to the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital for treatment and have been released. Still patients there are Mrs. Shirley Cummins and Mrs. Mildred Reynolds. Mrs. Ann Renner, a passenger in the rear seat of the car was transferred to a Lexington Hospital.

Several awards were presented to members of the Mt. Vernon Lions' Club at the club's 25th Anniversary Celebration held last Thursday night at the Rock Castle Steak House near Lenfro Valley. Recognized at the meeting were from left: Logan Bryant, a charter member of the club; Ed Hunt, a 15-year Monarch; Dove Craig, the charter president now residing in Lexington; Floyd Owens, a 15-year Monarch; M.M. Smock, a 15-year Charter Monarch and present President of the Club; John Lair, 25-year Monarch, and James Lambert, Toastmaster for the evening's ceremony.

Also presented awards but not present for the picture were Jim Mullins, a 10-year Monarch award; Wayne Stewart, a 15-year Monarch, and Clyde Linville, a 25-year Monarch. (Other pictures of the 25th Anniversary will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Signal.)

Spring Clean-Up

March and early April is the time for removing trash that has accumulated during the winter months. The lawn needs raking, and the trash among the shrubs and some of the perennial flowers should be removed. Young trees and evergreens that may have been mulched with well rotted manure need to have the refuse removed at this time.

While you do this work, take care to see that the young growth is not injured. The young grass from the fall seeding is still very small, and if the lawn is raked vigorously much of it will be pulled out of the ground and thrown away with the trash. It is not uncommon to see trash removed from the lawn, showing lots of green from the young grass that has been pulled up. This means that raking the lawn in the spring is not a job for the children.

A good, still bloom that can be used to sweep the lawn is much better than a steel rake. The leaf rake that has flexible steel teeth will do all right if it is used as a broom and the lawn is swept rather than raked. Bulbs, some of the early iris, and other perennial flowers will be sending up young shoots at this time, and they are very tender and easily broken. Injuring these shoots means the loss of some of the earliest bloom and, at the least, damage to the young leaves that are so important to the plants. The safest way to remove trash from these plants is to do it by hand, using a rake and the young trees, shrubs and evergreens that were mulched with rotted manure in the fall should have the coarse parts of the removed with a rake and the soil around the plants loosened to a depth of 2 or 3 inches. Work the remainder of the manure into the soil. If these plants were not mulched with manure, loosen the soil with a spade in a circle about 20 inches in diameter around each plant. This will destroy all the grass and weeds that will grow and remove moisture and plant food so badly needed by the young plants.

Setting Trees and Shrubs

Be careful in spring setting trees and shrubs that you do not dig the hole when the ground is very wet. Such soil may cause the roots to puddle. This water is basmed about the roots and the plant probably dies. Wait until the soil is dry enough to work without puddling. Protect the plant roots from drying out by heeling in or temporarily planting in a container until the soil can be worked.

Planting Fruit Trees

When young fruit trees are received, their roots should be kept moist and protected from drying out at all times before and during planting. This may be done in several ways. Soak the roots in a pail of water for several hours before planting, hold in the water or cover with wet burlap, straw or soil until the tree is planted.

The hole should be dug large enough so that the roots can be fanned out without crowding, and deep enough so that some top soil can be put in the bottom. All broken roots should be cut off with a slanting cut on the under side so that they will shed water better and heal more quickly. Roots that are twisted together should be separated or one of them removed. Fruit trees should be set slightly deeper (1-2 inches) now than they were in the nursery. In the case of dwarf trees, be sure the bud union is above ground. (If it is below, the dwarfing effect may be destroyed by roots forming above the bud union.) Incline the tree slightly in the direction of the summer prevailing wind. After the tree has been adjusted to the proper depth and the roots are fanned out, they may be covered with fine soil and packed well. This may be done by carefully packing with the feet or by running water in to the partly filled hole. It is important not to leave air pockets which would dry out the roots. A small mound may be left around the trunk during winter for protection and water drainage. The mound should be removed in the spring, and the soil slightly dished so the tree may receive more water.

Here are two recipes which, with grapefruit juice and tomatoes, will use five of the plentiful foods in one menu.

- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine soup, milk, onion, green pepper, pimiento, salt, and pepper, blend well. Place half the potatoes in a greased 2-quart casserole. Add half the sausage. Cover with half the soup mixture. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I have passed through your town a thousand times in my life but I have never stopped for any length of time except once. At that time, I was interested in becoming Superintendent of your schools but I got there too late - another man had sold them on him before I even had a chance to present my claim. But I have known a few people from your city and I was much impressed by them. They reminded me of the good mountain people in my own county of Clay.

There have been many men and women of your city and county who have made a name for themselves in the world. May the future of your city be as illustrious as the past can be as illustrious as the past.

Sincerely,
James W. Jewell, Ph.D.

KEEP CLOSE WATCH OVER HOUSE PLANTS

House plants must be cared for daily to maintain healthy plants. It is most important to keep a watchful eye out for diseases and insects. Signs of trouble are dying blooms or leaves. Dead parts of a plant should be removed and treatment initiated against the cause, whether it be disease or insects. It is also very important to maintain good ventilation. Fresh air should be circulated in the room to rid it of dust and gases which can damage plants. Only healthy flowers are beautiful. We make it our business to maintain and furnish only the freshest, healthiest plants to our customers. We deem it a pleasure to serve you. Telephone us the next time that you need flowers.

A shipment of new books has been sent to libraries participating in regions from the Department of Libraries. Among them are:

actual experiences as a player from tee to green.

DEFIANT DESTINY: THE COBURGS OF BELGIUM, by Theo Annonen. A family-oriented chronicle of five rulers of modern Belgium. Court romance, international diplomacy, and contemporary politics are viewed through the foremost personalities of each period.

THE FUNNIEST JOKES AND HOW TO TELL THEM, by Mark Wechs. This is a new volume of hilarious jokes with professional tips on how to remember and deliver them effectively. Categories are arranged for easy reference by speakers, toastmasters, and amchair humorists.

100 GREAT KINGS, QUEENS AND RULERS OF THE WORLD, Edited by John Conning. This book offers fascinating brief biographies of men and women whose benevolent or evil motives have significantly determined the course of history. More than fifty half-tone photographs add body to the details the prose provides.

A SMALL TOWN IN GERMANY, by John L. Carr. Another spy novel by the author of A Spy Who Came in From the Cold. It takes place in Bonn, a small provincial town elevated by the cold war to the official status of a capital city. The protagonists are British diplomats, their wives, and aspiring German politicians. The time is the recent future.

THE SILENT MESSAGE, by Elizabeth Bowne. Mrs. Bowne's husband was killed in a tragic airplane accident in Sanoyea, a small village in the Liberian jungle. On a trip to Sanoyea she became interested in helping the people of the village.

This book is the story of her life and triumphs in this mission.

A TIME AND A PLACE, by William J. Humphrey. This book is a tribute to the attitudes, the dreams, the feelings of the new legendary 1930's in the American heartland. Told with compassion and irony it gives us back the essence of the good and the bad of a recent but strangely remote part of America--and an innocence lost when the affluent paradise was regained.

THE TRUTH ABOUT INHERITANCE, by Robert Allen Fomer and Others. This is essentially a layman's primer of legal ground rules affecting inheritance with definitions of basic terminology. Prepared by attorneys, this useful introductory tool should facilitate the layman's comprehension of legal advice sought in connection with estate planning.

animal, small in size, furry to the touch, and volatile in temperament. In the pages of this young adult book Onar reveals singular capacities: to speak, to read and to convert a host of skeptics into adoring friends. A thoroughly engaging story.

ONE SPECIAL DOG, by Patricia Miles Martin. A modern Navaho reservation is the setting for this story about Molly White Horse, worried because her brother keeps getting into fights; and a pack of wild dogs, one of which proves very special indeed. This book, for those in the second to the fourth grade, is deftly pictured in desert colors.

Wildlife Week Set For March 16-21

"Provide Habitat-Places Where Wildlife Live" is the best theme that could have been provided for National Wildlife Week, claim dedicated conservationists who know the problems of the shortage of wildlife habitat in this and other states, says Minor Clark, commissioner, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. These conservationists know full well that there is one basic way to increase or at least hold populations of wildlife and that is through provision of food and cover for them. Law enforcement, anti-pollution agencies and clubs on injurious insecticides, for instance, are remedial to and under the eyes of Kentucky biologists a rigid check of the entire project was kept, year in and year out.

A clincher to the "Provide Habitat" theme which should be sounded throughout the year and not merely during "Wildlife Week," which is designated as March 16-22, is offered in Kentucky by a game management project that was started in 1961 on a 919 acre tract of the West Kentucky Wildlife Management Area located near Paducah, Clark says. Under this project rabbit habitat was to be provided for the area and a controlled rabbit hunt, with a season almost twice as long as the statewide season, was to be held. Legumes favorable to rabbits and cover in which they could hide were provided and under the eyes of Kentucky biologists a rigid check of the entire project was kept, year in and year out.

An executive push was given National Wildlife Week in Kentucky when Governor Louis B. Nunn addressed League of Kentucky Sportsmen at a kickoff dinner held in Frankfort. Exhibiting Wildlife Week posters with the Chairman are League President John Osborne and Ed Thompson, Louisville, Wildlife Week Chairman.

increased, applying more pressure on the rabbits. Results of the project are contained in a detailed report by Joe Bruna, Kentucky Wildlife biologist. In the initial year 311 hunters killed 157 rabbits on the cove. In 1964, 389 hunters harvested 235 rabbits. It took the project that long to catch on among hunters as revealed in the figures for 1966-67. That year 791 hunters took 778 rabbits, while for the year 1967-68, 1,176 hunters were checked out with 1,298 rabbits.

In other words, during a seven-year span during which habitat was improved from year to year, the rabbit take increased from 157 the first year to 1,298 the seventh year, and the rabbits killed per acre increased from .17 to 1.4 after the seven years.

This project proves beyond a doubt that wildlife will respond to favorable habitat.
