

'FISCAL COURT'

men might begin obtaining the needed signatures. Phil Swift, a representative of Comprehensive Planners, Inc., of Frankfort, also met with the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court Tuesday to learn the Court's decision concerning employing his company to conduct a survey in Rockcastle County.

The matter was brought up at last month's meeting when Jay Barlow, also a representative of Comprehensive Planners was on hand to inform the court about a new federal requirement concerning applications for grant and loans through the Farmers Home Administration. This new requirement is that before an application will be considered for approval there must be a comprehensive survey made by a company such as Mr. Barlow's in conjunction with a County Planning Commission. This survey, which is in no way connected with zoning, is paid for by the federal government if the application is approved. However, if the application is disapproved, there is no charge to the county.

Magistrate Hubert Thacker and they were not the usual, make a motion that the court perfunctorily remarks, but not take any action on emotionally heartfelt—certainly playing Comprehensive Planners at this time. The Magistrates seemed mainly to formal deeds, and I know fear that the people would think they (the court) were trying to foist zoning ordinances on them and with this recent furor created over this issue the Magistrates did not feel like taking a chance on possibly causing another uproar.

Mr. Thacker's motion was passed unanimously.

In other business before the court, a settlement by County Attorney Lambert, of excess fees which he had collected last year, netted the county an additional $4,357.70 for their operating budget.

The Magistrates also agreed to have a Call Meeting on the first Friday in May for the purpose of setting County Offices salaries for the coming fiscal year.

"AS I KNEW HIM"

amount of respect from his peers and contemporaries. The remarks uttered while his body was lying in state—either.

My most vivid remembrance of my grandfather was during my teenage years. The wintery nights, the snow covered ground, the frosted windows, the wind rustling decaying leaves, thick tree branches rubbing and swaying against each other... inside, the crackling, snapping fire, my grandfather sitting in his big green chair. Grandmother would serve popcorn and dried apple pies, and we would listen to him tell stories of his boyhood. Often we had heard the stories before, but he told them with such a freshness and candor that they were always interesting. During the course of his stories, he would roll a corner of a newspaper together, stick it to the simmering red-orange log and light his pipe. He carried matches, but this method was easier. He had great willpower, and when asked by the doctors a few years before his death to give up his pipe, he readily acquiesced, giving no sign of it being a difficult task.

His views on honesty and courage and religion were often discussed on those wintery nights. He would tell me to be honest with my fellow-man and treat him right... that you slept better when you did. He believed in God, but he was not afraid of Him. Rather, he thought of the Eternal as a friend who would stand by you as long as you were deserving. He told me about other topics—like girls. In his humorous way, he related a story which I shall never forget. It seems he was going with a beautiful girl when he was 18 or so, and spent a week's pay to buy her a large box of candy. Deciding to visit her one night unexpectedly, he found her and another suitor sitting on the sofa holding hands; and, as he always put it with much emphasis: "They were eating my box of candy." When he died last week, J.H. Lambert Sr. had lived four score and eight years.

During these 88 winters, most of the modern miracles we know today were either invented or perfected. From horseback to rocketship we have come in less than 88 years. The automobile, the telephone, the airplane, TV, electricity and its by-products. All of these and many more have come in one life time. And when he laid down to die last week, it was without forbidding, but much like Bryant in his poem "Thanatopsis" who said to "pull the drapery of your couch about you and lie down to pleasant dreams."

Do you know that more than 120,000 people who are alive today will be dead tomorrow? and that more than 87,000 of them do not know Jesus Christ as their Savior! They will go into eternity without any hope of ever being saved. One of them could be your neighbor, a loved one or even yourself.

Have you heard about the 'Crusade of the Americas,' how the Christians throughout America are joining hands, hearts and prayers together to win the one and one half billion or more lost people in the World To Christ?

Do you know that the following Baptist Churches in the Rockcastle Assoc. are joining together in a Spring Revival beginning April 6, 1969 for the purpose of winning as many of these lost people as possible to Christ?

products into a single unit for greater convenience. General Electric, which would not be considered new—not creative enough to deserve a patent.

One famous case involved the man who first attached a rubber eraser to the end of a lead pencil. Although this was certainly a convenience, the United States Supreme Court decided it was not new—because neither the pencil nor the eraser, when put together, did anything better than they did apart.

By contrast, said the Court: Charles Goodyear did create something new when he combined rubber with India rubber. This combination yielded a kind of rubber which, for the first time, could be vulcanized and thereby put to commercial use.

What if your idea is to improve some process by making it out of a better material? If all you add is merely durability, that won't do. Thus, a toy maker who switched from wood to metal, without otherwise changing his toys, was held not entitled to patent protection.

But it is another story if the new material works in a new and different way. Making a gutter button out of rubber, instead of metal, was held a patentable invention. The court said it was a truly creative change, because the rubber meant less weight and better grip of the button.

Meeting the law's requirements for a valid patent is not easy. But the rewards are so tempting that inventors are obtaining more than 1,000 patents per week.

True, the Patent Office has made the statement that all of the im-

Breathes there the man, with soul so dead, Who never to his wife hath said: "I've got a terrific idea for an invention."

A surprising number of inventions do come from sudden, random flashes of inspiration, rather than from the steady, organized search for something better. However, to qualify for patent protection, the invention must include a specific "process of creating." It must be "new," as that word is understood in the law of patents. Suppose, for instance, that you think of a way to combine two

Judge J. H. Lambert Dies At Residence

Judge J.H. Lambert, 83, died Thursday, March 27, at his home at Boone. Judge Lambert, a farmer, was the founder of the first general store at Boone in 1900 and the first post office there in 1901. County Judge from 1942-46, and a County Magistrate for many years.

His father, John Wesley Lambert was one of the founders of the Berea National Bank and was a vice-president of the bank until his death when Judge Lambert became a director and vice-president, remaining in that capacity until his death.

Judge Lambert was a member of the Fairview Baptist Church, a Deacon there and teacher of the Adult Men's Class for over 50 years, and a member of Berea Men's League Lodge 617 for 67 years.

He is survived by his wife, Della Kirby Lambert, three sons, County Attorney James W. Lambert, John T. and Wesley Lambert, both at home; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Williams, Route 3, Berea and Miss Dorothy Lambert, Augusta, Georgia; one brother, Reuben Lambert of Cincinnati, Ohio, 6 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday, March 30 at the Fairview Baptist Church with Rev. Ray Dean and Rev. Ray Cummins officiating. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery.

The Deacons of Fairview Church served as Judge Lambert's pallbearers.

AS I KNEW HIM

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by a 25-year-old grandson of the late J.H. Lambert Sr. The writer, who bears the same name as his late grandfather, is a correspondent for four Kentucky newspapers and is presently employed as a public relations man for the Kentucky Department in Frankfort.

By: James H. Lambert

A great uncle of mine was often used to describe the passing of a MacArthur, a Stevenson, a Kennedy or an Eisenhower. I would like to use them to describe the passing of my grandfather. Certainly his influence did not stretch throughout the globe as did theirs, but in his county and among those who knew him, he had achieved an unusual (Cont. to 9)

Schools Get To Take Five 'Calamity' Days

Rockcastle School children have received a little "bonus" from the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Wendell P. Butler. Butler has agreed to waive, for the present school year, the state's requirement that schools must teach 175 days.

This waiver means that schools may take five "calamity" days this year and it will not affect their accreditation.

Supt. Butler recommended that the requirement be waived because he felt that the state had failed to properly inform the school people throughout the state about the requirement.

Renfro Road Discussed Again AT Fiscal Court Meeting

The road from the Interstate 75 bridge at Renfro Valley to the residence of Dale Abney came under some heated discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Fiscal Court. John Lair, a resident of the Valley, and School Superintendent Charles Parsons were on hand to ask more finally agreed to replace the road with a gravel "temporary" road but since the city had agreed to repair or replace any roads torn up by the lake construction.

The State Highway Department finally agreed to replace the road with a gravel "temporary" road but since the city had agreed to repair or replace any roads torn up by the lake construction.

The State Highway Department finally agreed to replace the road with a gravel "temporary" road but since the city had agreed to repair or replace any roads torn up by the lake construction.

It all seems to boil down to the fact that neither the city or county have any excess money to kick in to widen the road. The state has done just about all it's going to do and if a suit were filed against either or both Greer Bros. and Young or the State Highway Department by the City Council or Fiscal Court it would take at least three years with the outcome doubtful.

The real losers, in this case, are the residents who have been inconvenienced by the road since the road in that section would have been under water anyway, the City of Mt. Vernon refused to accept responsibility for replacing the road because it was county property and

Judge J.H. Lambert

During Mr. Lambert's life span, he saw a great many radical changes in the progress of our nation. In 1883, at the age of three, Mr. Lambert was taken by his mother to see the first train go through from the Cincinnati Branch of the L & N Railroad. His grandfather fought and died in the Civil War on the Union side and his great grandfather was one of the first settlers in Rockcastle County, coming from Virginia in 1789 to Clinch County and shortly thereafter to the same area that Judge Lambert until his death lived in.

Livingston Lions Schedule Tourney

The Livingston Lions Club will sponsor the annual Mid-Get Basketball Tournament again this spring. The tournament will be held at the Livingston High School Gym on April 3rd and 4th.

These games are designed to reach the younger boys who do not have an opportunity to play in other tournaments and will include boys in the sixth grade and under, however, no boy over 12 years of age will be permitted to play. The club feels that for a boy to become a real high school athlete his interest should be sparked and cultivated early.

On Thursday night, April 3, Broadhead will take on Mt. Vernon at 6:30 p.m. with Roundstone meeting Livingston at 7:45 p.m.

JOHN BALES DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

SIX FROM HERE STUDENT TEACHING

Six students from Rockcastle County are among 453 seniors at Eastern Kentucky Univ. ... involved in student teaching at 142 different Kentucky schools. The number of students is an all-time record according to Dr. J. Dorland Coates, associate dean for teacher education. There are 174 students in elementary schools and 279 in secondary schools. The practice period lasts 10 weeks.

WILDFLOWER WEEKEND is set for May 2-4 at Natural Bridge State Park, Slade. Groups of field naturalists, like the one pictured above, will examine the wildflowers and flowering trees of the spectacular Red River Gorge. The event is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Parks.

FAIRVIEW

DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Church of Scaffold Cane are the proud parents of a daughter, Martha, Saturday, March 22, 1969 at the Berea Hospital. She weighed seven pounds, two ounces and has been named Tammy Reneae.

Mrs. Church is the former Darleen Chasteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen also of the Scaffold Cane vicinity.

Church services were conducted at the Fairview Baptist Church Sunday with good attendance. 75 persons were present for Sunday School. Thank God for each one.

We extend our deepest heartfelt sympathy to the family of Mr. J.H. Lambert of near Fairview, who passed away at his home Thursday, March 27th.

Mr. Lambert was a member of the Fairview Baptist Church and will be greatly missed by all. He always attended church and Sunday School when able. He always stood for what was right and always worked for the betterment of the church and the community. He was a kind, friendly, well liked man, always willing to lend a helping hand. Our community has suffered a great loss, but we are thankful for the time he has been with us. May God bless his family and loved ones in their sorrow.

We also extend our sympathy to the family of Mr. Allen Williams of Berea. We ask God's blessings on that family also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn and Bertie of Crossville, Tennessee spent last week end with her son, Eugene Alexander, and her sister, Mrs. Hubert Chasteen and Mr. Chasteen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shupe and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Cear of Cleveland, Ohio were week end guests of Mrs. Shupe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope.

Mrs. Mable Reppert and daughters, Dlores, Carolyn and Kathy of Mt. Vernon visited Mr. and Mrs. Tip Reppert and family of Scaffold Cane last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Alexander of Berea visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and family Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvey Priday and family of Lexington visited at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Peters Sunday.

Mrs. Frankie Hayes and Brenda of Winchester spent two nights last week with her sister, Mrs. Hobert Spies and family of Disputanta. She also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cope Saturday.

Glen Pender and daughter, Edith Rue were week end guests of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whipple of Greensburg, Indiana. Enroute home they visited Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Mullins of Holton, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. James Seafus of Berea visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen Sunday evening.

Mrs. Nannie Moore of Winchester spent last week last week with her brother, Willie Cope and family. She returned home Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Asa Green and family who also visited the Cope family that day.

Mrs. Janet Adams and son, Ricky, of Berea were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chasteen last week.

Mrs. Collie Belle Scott of Berea visited her sister, Mrs. Tip Reppert and family over the week end and attended Sunday School.

Mrs. Nannie Moore of Winchester, spent Saturday night with her brother, George Cope and Mrs. Cope in Berea.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Stephens and son visited Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Church Sunday night.

Mrs. Lucille Reppert spent Saturday night with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Hale in Berea.

Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and family were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Gabbard and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gabbard of Berea.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cope visited his brother, Mr. Willie Cope and family Sunday night.

Revival Services will begin at the Fairview Baptist Church Monday night, April 7th at 7:30 p.m. with William C. Paek as Evangelist. Everyone is invited to attend.

Our nation has lost a great statesman and military leader in the passing of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. May

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

For

Are you tired of false promises, disappointments, and having more and more new taxes imposed on you each year? Then you should vote for MONROE BAKER because MONROE BAKER is against the new auto license tag increase, the additional sales tax, the new auto transfer tax, the new auto inspection law (in its present form), and against any more property tax increases.

Some people would have you believe that our governor put these taxes on us, but this is not true. Our Governor asked for most of these taxes but it was our present legislators, that are still in office, that voted the taxes on us. Our present legislators are solely responsible for voting all these new taxes upon us and this cannot be denied. It is already history and a proven fact as to what our present legislators will do for us and it is also proof to me that if you send the same men back to Frankfort that you can only expect more and more of the same.

MONROE BAKER will work for industry for Lincoln and Rockcastle Counties. MONROE BAKER will introduce a bill for a pay raise for our jury in the local courts, and this is not just one of those false promises like you have heard in the past. MONROE BAKER will cast his vote for the good of the people in Rockcastle and Lincoln Counties. MONROE BAKER will cast his vote in the House of Representatives to get the hand in Frankfort out of your pocket.

Fertilizer-Insecticide Mixtures on Corn.
Soil fertility and insects are major factors that affect corn yields. The proper kinds and amounts of fertilizers and insecticides when used properly will make corn production more economical on fields where either or both are needed.

Is a fertilizer-insecticide mix the best way to meet the fertility needs and the insecticide needs on corn? The following questions and answers describe the practices where time, rate and placement of fertilizers and insecticides are incompatible.

Soil insects may attack seeds, seedlings, and roots of corn. Seed-corn maggot, seed-corn beetle, and wire worms attack the seed, while corn rootworms, grubworms, and certain cutworms attack the roots. However, these insects are seldom all a problem in any one year.

1. What Fields Need Insecticides? Fields that have been in grass for 2 or more years are likely to be infested by several of the insects listed above. Thus, if grass sods are plowed for corn, soil insecticides should be used. Bottomlands and fields that have been planted to corn several years in succession will probably be infested with root-feeding insects and may also need treatment.

2. What Fields Need Fertilizer and When Can It Be Applied? Most all corn land in Kentucky needs an application of 1, 2 or all 3 of the major nutrients (nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium) for the most economical production. Phosphate and potash fertilizers can be applied in the fall, winter or spring. Nitrogen should be applied at or near seeding time.

3. What Insecticide Should Be Used, How Much, and Where Should It Be Placed? Either aldrin or heptachlor will control soil insects in corn fields. (Dieldrin is no longer registered for use on corn as a soil treatment.) Aldrin and heptachlor are soil applications at or before planting time or corn are registered on a temporary basis until Jan. 1, 1969 or until a residue tolerance is established. If corn is to be followed by soybeans, use heptachlor in preference to Aldrin. The granular or liquid formulation of either compound gives equally good control. One pound of actual insecticide per acre placed above the seed in the row, or 2 pounds of actual insecticide broadcast per acre should give control of most insects.

A STEP FOR CONTROL OF BLACK LUNG—Kentucky mine officials, in cooperation with State health authorities, will soon start measuring dust in coal mines in the state in an effort to control black lung disease among miners. Demonstrating a measuring device, during a two-day training session at Hazard, is Glen W. Sutton, right, of the U. S. Public Health Service. Others, left to right, are John O. Pasco of the state health department; Commissioner Harrell N. Kirkpatrick, Department of Mines and Minerals; Everett Bartlett (with instrument), state mine supervisor, Hazard District, and W. W. Smithers, rear, of the state health department. Training sessions also are scheduled at Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg, and at Madisonville.

Diazinon and phorate (Thimet) granules applied as row treatments at planting time or after emergence are effective in controlling corn rootworms that have become resistant to other insecticides. Apply at the rate of 1 pound actual insecticide per acre, or as directed on the pesticide label. Treatments of either of these insecticides give only 1 year protection, but the soil is not contaminated for use for rotation crops.

Di-Syston is a systemic insecticide for the control of corn rootworms, aphids and leafhoppers. As 10 percent granules or 2 percent concentrate it can be applied at planting time, as a side-dress treatment, or as a foliar treatment. Do not apply Di-Syston to corn more than twice a season, regardless of the method of application, within 40 days of harvest.

4. What Fertilizers Should Be Used and at What Rates? The kind and amount of fertilizers to use on corn should be determined by a soil test and past cropping and treatment history. Thus, it is apparent that each field may need a different kind and a different rate. Treat each field according to its need.

5. Where Should the Fertilizer Be Placed? A row application of fertilizer on corn land in Kentucky will give good results. When more than 50 pounds of nitrogen plus potash per acre is used at the row, place it in one or two bands 2 inches to the side and 2 inches below the seed to avoid harming germination. When 50 pounds or less of nitrogen plus potash is used at the row, it can be banded on each side, but on the same level as the seed without harming germination. Part or all of the corn fertilizer may be broadcast and plowed down or disked in with good results. If corn is planted in sod (no-tillage), part or all the fertilizer can be broadcast on the surface or applied at the row.

Wintering Feeder Calves for Profit.

G.B. Bays, Whitley County farmer, has an excellent wintering program with feeder steers. Fifty-seven 350-400 pound feeder calves were bought at the London feeder calf sale last fall.

The seven-year-old farmer weighs his calves monthly to see how good a job he is doing. The last month the calves gained 2170 pounds or 38 pounds per calf in 30 days.

Effort has been made to grow the Angus steers but not to fatten. The calves have been wintered on grass, legume hay and some grain. Bays is feeding at this time 3 pounds of corn and 1 pound of protein supplement daily. Vitamin A is added to the feed. Hay has been wormed and implanted with stilbene. He has sprayed once for lice and is using a back rubber to aid in lice control.

Mr. Bays plans to graze the calves this summer and sell them this September in the yearling steer sale at London. "I do most of the feeding," says Mr. Bays, "I need the exercise."

"The wintering of high feeder calves can be profitable to other beef farmers," according to Seldon V. Hall, Area Extension Beef Specialist. Calves of this type can

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE CO.

Some time ago, I announced my candidacy for reelection as Circuit Court Clerk of Rockcastle County, subject to the action of the Republican Primary election to be held on Tuesday, May 27, 1959.

I am now, as you all know, in the sixth and last year of this present term, being my first term as your Circuit Court Clerk.

First, I want to pause a moment to thank each and everyone of you for your support and kindness you have always given and shown me. If you all re-elect me to this important office, I will continue to attend and carry on the duties in the future as I have done in the past in a business like manner and with kindness toward all. I have always tried to be helpful in any way I could and will still strive to do so.

I will not be able to see all of you due to the duties of my office for the time that it requires of me. However, I do ask for your support and influence and it will be greatly appreciated.

...the days when every man had to be his own automobile mechanic, a nearly every motorist carried with him an oversized tool kit which consisted of something like thirty to forty different tools, and weighing approximately eighteen pounds.

Then, as now, these hand tools consisted largely of devices to fasten and unfasten screws, bolts and nuts, along with chisels, files, punches, pliers and nutrunners. The basic design of these tools have changed very little, through the years, but the steel with which they are made has been greatly improved, making them more durable and less expensive.

Are you aware of the modern improvements that are available to you in the new mobile home. Built-in chests of drawers, spacious closets, with sliding doors, advanced lighting facilities, wall to wall carpeting, picture windows and nationally famous furnishings. Mrs. Morlin Tilden Mitchell

Ponder-Mitchell Vows Said At Midway

The marriage of Miss Virginia June Ponder, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Mason of Mt. Vernon, and Martin Tilden Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Mitchell, Jr., of Midway, was solemnized at 4:30 p.m., Friday, March 28 at the Midway Christian Church.

Rev. Roy Roberson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ted Ponder, was attired in a scoop-neck gown of white silk organza over taffeta with bodice, modified low skirt, and detachable train trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace. Her elbow-length illusion veil was held by a headpiece of organza, lace, and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of pink sensation rose buds and a white orchid.

Miss June Halcomb of Manchester served as maid-of-honor. She wore a long crystal pink chiffon gown with daisy trim and flowing back panel. Her matching veil was highlighted with seed pearls. Miss Marsha Tacker of Lexington and Miss Nancy Mitchell, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Their gowns and headpieces of spring pink were identical to that of the maid-of-honor. Little Miss Tina Loudemilk, cousin-of-the-bride, was flowergirl. She was attired in a long chiffon, spring pink gown. John Mitchell, Jr., father of the groom, served as best man and ushers were Johnny McDaniel of Midway and Steve McDaniel of Versailles. Kerry Phillips, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Miss Rita Sams of Mt. Vernon presented a selection of nuptial music. She was accompanied by Mrs. David Phillips, Jr., of Midway.

A reception was held at the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. William Loudemilk of Charlottesville, Indiana, Miss Bonnie Dentler, Indianapolis, Ind., and Miss Cheryl Good of Miami, Florida assisted with the reception. The couple plan to make their home in Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. Mitchell is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lyman T. Ponder.

WOMEN LEADERS MEET WITH EDUCATORS—Mrs. Marie Humphries, standing at left, Louisville, chairman of the Kentucky Commission on Women, and Mrs. June Wakeford, seated, Atlanta, regional director of the Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, meet with guidance counselors of the Fayette County School System. The group discussed plans outlined by Mrs. Billie Casey, standing right, for beginning career information in the first and second grades. Mrs. Casey, an elementary school counselor, is secretary of Kentucky School Counselors' Association. Other counselors are Miss Janet Van Hooser, high school counselor and president of the Kentucky School Counselors' Association, and Clarence Musgrave, director of Guidance Services and president of Kentucky Personnel and Guidance Association.

Library Notes

A shipment of new books has been received from the Department of Libraries. Among them are:

THE FORGING OF OUR CONTINENT, by Charlton Ogburn, Jr. A beautifully illustrated book which gives a visual, zoologic, historic, and our North American homeland.

THE INDIAN HERITAGE OF AMERICA, by Alvin M. Josephy, Jr. In full, fascinating detail, the book presents the history, the archeology and the ethnology of all major Indian cultures from Alaska to Patagonia.

THE MIRACLE OF MARRIAGE, by William Lederer and Dr. Don Jackson. Here is a profoundly helpful analysis of marriage in America, a no-nonsense look at the marital relationship, why it so frequently fails, and what the individual can do about it.

ROBERT TODD LINCOLN, by John Goff. At last the eldest son of President

Lincoln is revealed as an interesting and capable adult—a successful corporation lawyer and president of the Pullman Corporation.

SPARE-PART SURGERY, by Donald Longmore. With our increasing knowledge of genetics and tissue growth techniques, there appears to be no foreseeable limit to "spare parts" for the human body.

THE STORY OF KNIVES, by E.C. Jones. The author traces their development from a single all-purpose crude tool to the many highly specialized knives of modern times.

TALK ABOUT AMERICA, by Alvin M. Josephy, Jr. For more than 20 years, Alvin M. Josephy has been talking about America to British Broadcasting Company listeners around the globe. Now, in the book "Talk About America," he speaks to the entire world.

THIRTEEN DAYS, by Robert Kennedy. The late Senator

Robert Kennedy's intensely moving and dramatic document of the agonizing events of the Cuban missile crisis.

VOICES OFFSTAGE, by Marc Connelly. A memoir of years in American theater and literary life which is unsurpassed in creativity and originality. Marc Connelly is one of the most witty and knowledgeable men of the 20th century and the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of "The Green Pastures."

CONSUMER COMMENTS

by John B. Breckinridge Attorney General

The Consumer Protection Division is presently investigating inquiries regarding chain-referral business schemes. Under Kentucky law, such sales are illegal.

Kentucky was among the first states to take steps to protect buyers from this type of sales entrapment, which ranks among the top three "consumer gyms" in the nation.

There are many types of chain-referral sales being proposed to citizens today, but they all operate under a basic method. Buyers are told that by investing, they can earn commissions — generally fabulous amounts — by recommending the plan to their friends and encouraging them to invest.

Prospective customers are always told they can earn great amounts of money — limited only by their sales initiative. Those who get in on the plan early often do earn money — but all chain referral schemes end somewhere. Buyers who get in on the end of such a scheme are left holding the bag — which can be expensive, often offering no means by which the customer can recover his investment.

Citizens who have a complaint involving a consumer matter are invited to contact my assistant, Robert V. Bullock, Director, Consumer Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, Frankfort, 40601, or phone 564-3235, Area Code 502.

VETERAN'S Q & A

Q. The Veterans Administration pays $250 toward the burial expense of deceased eligible veterans. Is this allowance also payable when interment is in a national cemetery where there is no charge for the burial plot?

A. Yes. The place of burial makes no difference. The $250 allowance is paid toward the total funeral expense.

Q. My aunt is the widow of a Spanish-American War veteran. She receives $70 a month pension from the Veterans Administration. However, a friend of hers, who is also a Spanish-American War veteran's widow receives $75 a month from the VA. Why the difference?

A. The $75 check goes to widow of a Spanish-American War veteran who was married to the veteran during all or part of that war. The widow, such as your aunt, apparently, who married such a veteran after the war receives the $70 monthly check.

Q. I was awarded a pension from the Veterans Administration last year. My wife and I are planning to sell our home and move to Florida. Will the profit I receive on the sale of the home affect my pension?

A. Not directly. Proceeds from the sale of property are not considered income for veterans under the present pension law. However, you are advised to notify VA of the sale because the profit is also a consideration under pension law in determining pension entitlement.

While you live in the home its value is not reportable as part of your net worth, but when you convert it to cash, the cash is considered part of net worth.

For further information and assistance in this matter, check with your nearest VA office.

DANVILLE NAMED "ALL AMERICA" CITY FOR SECOND TIME

Danville, Kentucky was one of eleven U.S. communities named for the title, "All-America City." This year's winners were announced from New York by the National Municipal League and LOOK Magazine, co-sponsors of the contest.

Awards were presented for citizen action in solving major community problems. Winners were selected from a record field of 156 entries.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn congratulated Danville's citizens, "Danville's achievements in attracting new industries, improving health care facilities, and making a private-industry breakthrough in low-cost housing have set an example of progress for every community. On behalf of all Kentuckians I commend the good citizen teamwork necessary to win the title "All-America City" and extend my congratulations to all who made it possible," he said.

"LOOK published in an article on the cities in its April issue:

"Quiet Danville, Ky. is honored for revitalizing her civic pride. Last year the city attracted four new industries with a payroll of $4.5 million.

"A four year effort has resulted in completion of Danville's Comprehensive Career Center serving the health of six counties and 500 patients.

"For low-income citizens, a group of businessmen proved a four bedroom house could still be built for under $10,000. A new owner has a monthly mortgage payment of only $54, and soon the successful enterprise may grow into a whole neighborhood."

CARD OF THANKS

We extend heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors who helped during the loss of our loved one, Judge J.H. Lambert.

Especially do we thank Rev. Ray Dean and Rev. Ray Cummins for their kind words, the musicians who played so beautifully, those who assisted at the cemetery, and all those who made contributions of time, floral arrangements, food, or contributed to the church building fund in his memory.

Forever Gratefully,
The Lambert Family

God bless that family also in their sorrow.

Please remember church and Sunday School and also our Revival. Let's pray that souls will be saved in this "Crusade of the Americas." Our nation is hanging in the balance, let's do what we can to save it. We need love instead of hate. We need peacemakers instead of troublemakers. We need God-fearing men and women who stand for the right and speak out against the wrong.
