

More than 245,000 adults disabled since birth or since childhood are now receiving social security benefits, James Mustian, social security manager in Somerset, said today.

These benefits, Mustian said, are payable to an unmarried disabled son or daughter when a parent is receiving social security retirement or disability benefits. They are also payable when a working parent dies.

Under a 1967 change in the social security law, Mustian said, the son or daughter of a woman worker need not have been dependent upon her for support. Now, he said, the benefits are payable on the mother's social security record if she worked long enough under social security at any time before her death to become insured.

To qualify for these benefits, Mustian said, the disability must have begun before the child was 18 years old, and whether physical or mental, must be severe enough to keep the person from engaging in substantial gainful work. It must also be expected to last for 12 or more months or is expected to result in death. If a child with a severely disabling condition is now receiving child's benefits which will stop when he reaches 18, he or someone in the family should get in touch with the social security office about 6 months before the 18th birthday, so that the benefits can be continued.

The mother of the disabled son or daughter who is entitled to childhood disability benefits may also qualify for benefits, regardless of her age, if she has the son or daughter in her care.

If you have any questions about this provision of the social security law, call or visit your social security office for this area is located in the Tradewind Center in Somerset. The phone number is 678-8168.

Try a "Souper" Sausage Sandwich for an Easy Supper

These warm summer evenings, you may feel a bit sorry for yourself if you're cooking a hot supper in the kitchen while the rest of the family is enjoying the soft breezes outdoors. No need to cook up a storm! The family will get just as much enjoyment from a hearty hot sandwich as a complete meal.

Especially if you serve the food outdoors.

So get set for easy summer suppers with this "Souper" Sausage Sandwich. Cook sausage, mushrooms, onion, sausage and garlic sauce, and it's done. Add a quick sauce of condensed tomato soup to season and moisten the mixture. Using canned soups for sauces speeds up food preparation and gets you out of the kitchen fast! Spoon the sausage-soup mixture onto bun halves; add cheese slices and broil. Garnish hot sandwiches with green pepper rings.

Include crisp relishes, celery and carrot sticks and little green onions fresh from the garden. For hearty eaters, add "chips" (frozen french fries heated and browned in a skillet) topped in waxed paper cones. Serve big mugs of chilled iced cocoa prepared with whipped topping and cinnamon stick stirrers.

"SOUPER" SAUSAGE SANDWICH

1 pound bulk sausage, drained
1 can (12 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup tomato catsup, crushed
1 large clove garlic, minced
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 hamburger bun, split and toasted
1 cheese slice
1 green pepper ring

In saucepan, cook sausage, mushrooms, onion, oregano, and garlic until sausage is done. Stir to separate meat. Add soup. Spoon on buns; top with cheese. Broil 4 inches from heat about 5 minutes until cheese melts. Top each with green pepper ring. Makes 4 sandwiches.

CONSUMER COMMENTS

By: Attorney Gen. John Breckenridge

Recently our Consumer Protection Division obtained complaints about door-to-door magazine salesmen which were allegedly inducing Kentucky buyers to purchase a series of magazines with the promise that the magazines could be discontinued at any time and the obligation to continue payment would be terminated.

After orally making this representation the salesman then induced the buyers to sign a contract that contained a clause noting it was non-cancellable. The buyers, upon trying to discontinue the magazines, were informed they had signed a non-cancellable contract which stated that contrary inconsistent statements by a salesman would be disregarded.

A smart purchaser knows that when a salesman makes one thing and a written contract says something different, the written contract will usually prevail. Don't be induced into signing something that contains statements inconsistent with what you were told by the salesman. Make sure that all of the important representatives appear in the written contract.

Citizens who have a complaint involving a consumer should be invited to contact their assistant, Robert V. Bullock, Director, Consumer Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, Frankfort, 40601, or phone 564-3235, Area Code 502.

Livingston, subject to qualification, and Douglas Haim, to replace Getliff Craig.

J. Courtney Horton was hired by the Board to audit the general fund books and Title I funds. He will be paid $700 for the general fund audit and $175 for Title I work.

Mary Lou Cook and Faye Baker were on hand to request the use of Climax School for the Students for Appalachia to use for recreation purposes for the children, in that area.

The board had previously voted to not allow any of the school buildings or grounds to be used by either political or religious groups; however, board member Virgil Mullins stated that he saw nothing wrong with amending the policy to let this group use the school building since he was acquainted with their work and felt that they would take care of everything.

The motion carried. A representative from the Scaffold Cane area, Ivin Hensley, was also present to ask the Board to furnish the material for a school bus shelter for children in his area. He told the Board that several men in the community, including himself, had agreed to erect the structure at no cost to the school board for their labor.

Mr. Parsons stated that he felt that if the board agreed to Mr. Hensley's proposal that it could run into complications since other areas would undoubtedly request the same material for shelters and the board would be in over their head in supplying building materials. However, board member Kenneth Adams told Mr. Hensley that he would contact Southern Belle Milk Company in Somerset to see if they would not supply the material for advertisement purposes.

School Board Meets

Refrigeration Sales Company of Louisville are the successful bidders on supplying four electric ranges to the Rockcastle County Board of Education. The bids, three of them, were opened at last Monday night's meeting of the Rockcastle County Board of Education. The low bid was $2,853.00.

Billy Riddle, George Fletcher, and Preston Parrett submitted the only bid to foot the Brodhead School and received the job at a cost of $2,565.80 to the county school system. The Adult Education Program for 1969-70 was also approved by the Board taking into consideration Board member Virgil Mullins' request that the classes be more centrally located in the county. The classes are to be held at the school but Mr. Mullins told the board that this location prevented some adults in the south end of the county from attending the classes.

The Board also voted to employ, along with other county school districts affected, a representative in Washington to lobby for Public Law 875. This is the federal law which provides for federal funds for school districts with children attending whose parents work in federal installations.

A retired Kentucky school superintendent has been employed and will receive his travel pay and expenses in Washington to press for the continuance of this program since there have been recent threats by Congress to do away with it completely. Rockcastle's share of this expense will amount to about $100 which is 1/2% of 1% of the federal funds received by the school district.

The Title program for 1969-70 was authorized by the school board and the board also authorized pay increases for most maintenance and custodial personnel, and a $25 monthly pay increase for the school secretaries.

State Farm Insurance Company submitted the only bid for the school bus insurance for next year. The bid was $2,488.40, up over $400.00 from last year's premium for the same insurance. The coverage is for $25,000 each person and $300,000 each accident and Board member Virgil Mullins voiced doubt whether the coverage was high enough. The bid was finally accepted with the provision that the company be contacted to see if they would not raise the coverage which would, of course, raise the premium.

A salary schedule for bus drivers was approved by the board. Under the new schedule, drivers with from one to four years experience will receive $175 per month; five to nine years experience, $180 per month, and ten years and over experience, $185 per month. The state average for bus drivers is $162 per month.

A motion to have the board approve the use of John L. Saylor as a substitute for Gatliff Craig for thirteen days was already done by Mr. Saylor carried. However, Virgil Mullins voted no on the motion.

Mr. Mullins was also the only dissenter on a motion to transfer Roland Mullins from principal of Roundstone Elementary School to assistant principal at the Brodhead School. The action was taken in May just before school was out but apparently Mr. Parsons felt that he needed the board's approval of the transfer to clarify the situation.

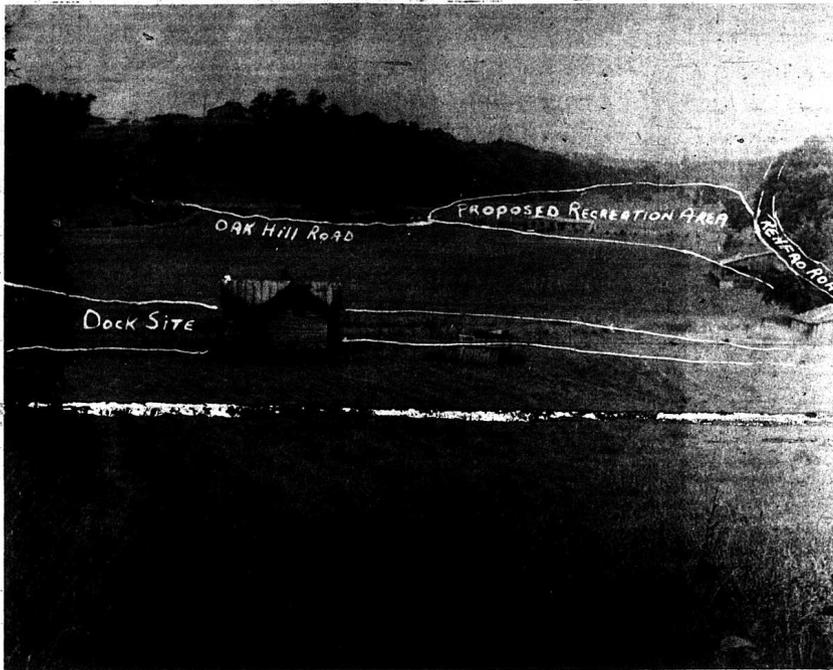

The question of whether the school board could afford to employ two teachers for the Climax School was also brought up at the meeting. Mr. Parsons told the board that there was not enough average daily attendance (ada) to justify the full salary of one teacher by the State Department of Education and that if employed, the salary would have to be paid out of the county school system's general fund entirely. Mr. Mullins told the Board that one teacher could not handle the Climax School and that if only one teacher were employed parents would probably refuse to send their children there. Mrs. Vashti Mullins made a motion to hire two teachers for the school and it carried.

Mr. Mullins also presented to the board a list of repairs which he would like to have made to the outside of four schools in his district. At the Climax School, Mr. Mullins requested two outside toilets, grease trap, and water, Johnetta School, water and repair to the flue; Poplar Gap, water purifier, repair windows and siding, and Owen Allen School, two outside toilets, and repair well house.

Three new teachers were hired by the board. They were, Charles Norris at Livingston, Danny Price as Commerce teacher at

THE BEAUTIFUL valley, located at the upper end of Lake Renfro, is the proposed site of the City Dock and Recreation Area. Buildings shown are on the former James Smith farm and will be removed in the next 30 days.

Mt. Vernon City Council Will Build Boat Dock

The Mt. Vernon City Council voted last Thursday night to develop a boat site and recreation center on Lake Linville.

The motion, made by Councilman Ed Winstead, reads as follows: "The city will develop a boat site and recreation center on the new reservoir and the boat dock shall be run by the city and the development shall proceed as the funds become available and that this motion shall replace any former motions in conflict with this motion."

Councilman McKinley Perciful seconded the motion and it carried with Councilman Wayne Stewart casting the lone "no" vote. Winstead stated that he felt that the city would be letting a major money-making project out of its hands if it did not build and operate the boat dock itself. He also told the Council that there was a site located on the upper end of the Lake on land already owned by the city which would make a natural place for the dock and where the dock could be built at a minimum of cost to the City.

The Council also accepted the bid by the Economic Development Administration on the $24,000 worth of bonds which the City had to sell in order to finance their part of the new water system. The bonds went for 4 and 1/8% per annum on $474,000 Series A bonds and 4 and 3/4% per annum on $150,000 worth of Series B bonds. The meeting was then continued until this Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

RAYMOND KOWOLONEK DIES SUNDAY, JULY 6

Raymond Kowolonek, 51, died Sunday, July 6 in Ft. Thomas. He was a resident of Newport and was born in Scranton, Pa., on July 4, 1918 the son of the late Frank and Alice Kowolonek. Besides his wife, the former Lucille Graves, he is survived by seven sons, Stephen, Dennis, Arrand, Randy, and Val Kowolonek, all of Newport, Timothy of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Woody, stationed in Vietnam; one daughter, Dawn, of Newport; one brother, Joseph Kowolonek, of Nevada, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church. (Cont. To P. 6)

M. D. Hamm Named To Supervisory Post

Melvin Douglas Hamm has been employed by the Rockcastle County Board of Education for the position of Supervisor of Instruction. Mr. Hamm replaces Gatliff Craig who resigned earlier this year to accept a position as Director of the Cumberland Valley Development Association.

Mr. Hamm, a native of Brodhead, graduated from Brodhead High School in 1953. He received his A.B. degree in social science from Union College and completed the requirements for a Master's Degree in Administration and Supervision in June of this year at Indiana University.

He taught history and was head coach at Junction City High School for three years after receiving his B.S. Degree and has taught in the Jefferson County School system for the past seven years. He also served as social studies teacher and assistant coach for three years at Seneca High School in Louisville and is resigning his present position as teacher and head coach at Jeffersontown High School in Jefferson County to accept the supervisory position with the Rockcastle County School System.

Mr. Hamm is married to the former Sue Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon of Knoxville, Tennessee. She is an honor graduate of Berea College and will receive her Master's Degree from Indiana University with certification in Guidance Counseling this summer.

"Most farmers know they should notify the county ASCS office about such matters," he added, "but sometimes in the midst of a busy time they forget. And sometimes this can cause difficulties which could have been avoided."

He pointed out that it is not usually necessary to visit the county ASCS office in person. "Often a phone call or a short letter is all that's necessary. Then, if the county ASCS office people find more information is needed, they will let the farmer know."

"Of course, visitors to the ASCS office are always welcome," he said, "Not only do we find it easier to keep the records straight for the farmer who comes in, (Cont. To P. 6)

1959 Class Reunion Held At Renfro Lodge

The Mt. Vernon High School Class of 1959 held their ten-year reunion last Saturday night at the Renfro Lodge.

A write-up of that reunion by Mrs. Robert Pybas and Mrs. Billy Hiatt appears below.

"The other night I dreamed I was chosen to make the first trip to the moon. The space ship got off its course during the trip and when I returned to earth I was surprised to find that I had been gone ten years. I was eager to learn how my classmates had fared in this time so I went to town to gather the news."

And, so appropriately and timely, the thirteen members of the 1959 graduating class of Mt. Vernon High School heard the class prophecy read from the 1959 Flimbeau at their ten-year reunion held at Renfro Valley Lodge on July 5. Among other reminiscences were the reading of the Class History, the Class

Will, and the Dedication of the yearbook to the Moms and Dads of the members of the class of '59. Other happy recollections were the top tunes of that day played during dinner, scrapbooks with pictures of the Senior Trip to Washington and New York and many pleasant memories recalled of the twelve years the class members spent together.

Those attending the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Dailey, Greensboro, North Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Machal, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Benny Chaney, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Coldiron, Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Linville, Superintendent of the then Mt. Vernon Independent School concluding his final year at Mt. Vernon with this graduating class; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hiatt, Mr. Hiatt was sponsor of the class for five years and Mrs. Hiatt for one year; Mr. (Cont.)

CHARLES B. MC KENZIE DIES IN FLORIDA

Charles B. McKenzie passed away June 28 in St. Petersburg, Florida. He was a retired Railroad Yard Master in Aliquippa, Pa. A native of Rockcastle County, Mr. McKenzie was the son of the late Jonas and Sallie Baker McKenzie. His wife, Virginia Martin of this county, preceded him in death.

Survivors include three sons, Charles Martin McKenzie of Aliquippa, Pa., Kenneth McKenzie and Richard McKenzie, both of Atlanta, Ga., and one brother, Robert B. McKenzie of Mt. Vernon.

Funeral services were conducted at the Palms Memory Funeral Home in St. Petersburg with the pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in the Memorial Gardens in St. Petersburg.

KEEP IT TIGHT! ASCS OFFICE SAYS

Responsibility often rests with the farmer to notify his county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county office of changes in his farm plans and operations. This reminder came today from Chairman Willie Lamb of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

"The county ASCS office needs to know, for instance, if your allotment crop is destroyed by weather and you plan to plant a different crop, if your practice under a conservation program will be changed beyond the completion time. If you are in any of the programs administered by ASCS and you buy or sell or lease farmlands," said the ASC committee chairman.

He pointed out that it is not usually necessary to visit the county ASCS office in person. "Often a phone call or a short letter is all that's necessary. Then, if the county ASCS office people find more information is needed, they will let the farmer know."

"Of course, visitors to the ASCS office are always welcome," he said, "Not only do we find it easier to keep the records straight for the farmer who comes in, (Cont. To P. 6)

Letter To The Editor

I went to church today. I have been to many services, in many places but have seen or heard none more interesting. Although I am not a member of this church, I have heard the minister on several occasions. He is frank, concise and sometimes direct almost to the point of bluntness. He seems to be more concerned with saving souls than saving hurt feelings. He seems to know that when the truth hurts us, it is our fault rather than his. He preaches the word of God, as I know it, without "pulling punches" for the benefit of the moneyed or influential. The low-ceilinged room was crowded, close and hot even though it was air-conditioned. The 500 seats were filled and yet still more were clustered outside the door.

With the exception of the choir and song leader, there were no hymnals for the congregation. The song leader suggested that we sing a verse and chorus of some familiar hymns. The words to the ones not-so-familiar were first read aloud by the song leader.

The choir, without robes, presented a multi-colored picture of bright summer colors.

When it became time to sing, the familiar wooden or chromium plates had been replaced by paper buckets. Paper buckets which television viewers in this area are so familiar with because they come packed with Colonel Sanders fried chicken.

Faith was the theme of the message. The text was taken from Exodus, which describes Moses leading his people out of Egypt to the Promised Land. The message was nothing new but very appropriate under the circumstances.

Yes, I am writing about the services of Trinity Baptist Church of Lexington, Ky. destroyed by fire several days ago. The description was of their temporary quarters in the cafeteria of the Crawford Junior High School located in the Dixie Park section of Lexington. Seldom have I been more moved by any service. It was not necessarily the sermon, singing or the crowded uncomfortable surroundings but rather a combination of all these plus much more. The smiling faces of an undefeated congregation; the minister, facing facts but optimistic in the face of frightening odds; his attitude and aggressive determination as if to say "I have just begun to fight."

Many people have contributed their time, talent and money but many more who are able, could help if they would realize the great need, and the importance of doing a Church job. You do not have to live in Lexington—because the work of God can never be just a local matter. After all, aren't we all brothers in the sight of God, and aren't we all the children of God?

We Congratulate The Mt. Vernon City Council

We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the Mt. Vernon City Council on their forethought concerning the Dock and Recreation Center on Lake Linville. Councilman Winstead's motion to have the City develop the dock site and recreation area will start the wheels rolling toward completion of a site which will not only bring in much needed revenue to the City but will also provide the youngsters and adults in this area with a beautiful recreation area.

The revenue which will be derived by the City from owning and operating the boat dock themselves, instead of leasing it out, will be very important to the Citizens of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County in that the money could be used to help retire the bonds sold to finance the lake and new water system or numerous other needed city projects.

The lake is a tremendous asset to our county and every benefit possible from it should be realized to its fullest by the people of the county.

Councilman Winstead is proposing that the Council go ahead with plans to develop a recreation area which would include picnic grounds, possibly a swimming pool, and a large play area.

The lake will be one of the best fishing lakes in the state and, if handled properly, there is practically no limit to the development that can be done by the City Council in this area to enhance its draw-to-untoled numbers of tourist.

What could be more fair to the Citizens of this county than to have the City build and operate the boat dock and turn the revenue derived from it back to the people?

An Editorial

The action of the Rockcastle County Board of Education in formally transferring Edo Mullins to the post of assistant principal at Brodhead during Monday night's regular meeting, was an action which is still questioned in our minds and in the minds of others as being a fair and just decision.

The Board has repeated evidence that the people of this area do not wish the transfer to take place; yet, they have chosen to ignore this evidence completely and to follow their predetermined course. Or, perhaps we should say the predetermined course of Superintendent Charles Parsons, since as far as we know there was never any discussion with the board concerning the alleged teacher principal problem at Roundstone before the action was taken by Mr. Parsons.

Mr. Mullins should not be transferred from Roundstone. This is not the desire of the majority of the parents and taxpayers, not only in the Roundstone School District but also in other sections of the county.

The Board, by ignoring these protests, only demonstrate that they care little or nothing for what the taxpayers, voters, and parents of school children desire. They are demonstrating again, as they have in several other cases, that if you "fall from grace" nothing can save you, not even if you do your job efficiently and well and run a school in a manner that brings only praise from the parents and school children.

At Monday night's meeting, there was not even any discussion on the motion calling for his transfer by the Board members. Only one member, Virgil Mullins, had the thoughts and desires of the people in mind when the motion was read and he registered his dissent by voting no against the transfer. The school board member from the Roundstone district, Kenneth Adams, chose to throw his support behind Mr. Parsons and second the motion, disregarding entirely the wishes of the people who put him in office. This shouldn't strike too unusual a note for Mr. Adams, however, since, according to a reliable source, when he was elected to the school board he was elected by stopping the transfer, he informed that he was entirely in support of Mr. Parsons' action regardless of the wishes of the majority of the people in his district.

We have heard Supt. Parsons tell us that these truly dedicated teachers had been upset for months by Mr. Mullins' methods of running the school and by his attitude toward them.

Doesn't this lay rather strange since one of these teachers, in the latter part of last year, just before this trouble came to a head, nominated him (Mr. Mullins) as a delegate to the National Educational Association Convention and praised him in her nominating speech as being an excellent school administrator.

Doesn't it seem strange also that in a school the size of Roundstone, almost half of the school teachers found nothing amiss in Mr. Mullins' behavior to them and knew nothing about any of the complaints later charged against him? According to a statement, signed by the ten teachers filing the complaints, they stated that they were being "intimidated and harassed" by Mr. Mullins. This is a statement in a manner that is completely foreign to his nature as everyone who has ever had any contact with him knows. It is Mr. Mullins who stands a chance of having a black mark recorded against him because he so allegedly discouraged his best school as principal that ten teachers requested a transfer to it. It is not Mr. Mullins alone who has risen to fight these charges and to bring the matter clearly out in the open. It is the people who send their children to Roundstone School, who pay the taxes to support the school, who support the school in their money-raising projects, who are vigorously protesting this action by the school board. They have signed petitions by the hundreds asking that he be reinstated. Thirty teachers in the Brodhead School, where Mr. Mullins served as assistant principal before going to Roundstone, have also signed a statement objecting to the fact that he was an excellent administrator when he was at Brodhead.

Yet, Mr. Parsons and a majority of the School Board have chosen to completely ignore these people and to turn a closed mind to their protests and to simply do as they please... again!

CAPITAL DIGEST

Edited by Thornton Council

Kentucky, under the leadership of Gov. Louie B. Nunn, is to become the first racing state in the nation to institute a study of the economic status of its Thoroughbred, Standardbred and Quarterhorse industries.

Spindletop Research, Inc., Lexington, will conduct the study at a cost of $64,000, with $4,000 from the governor's contingency fund and $10,000 each from the Kentucky Department of Commerce, the Kentucky State Racing Commission and the Harness Racing Commission.

Governor Nunn said "we have funded the Spindletop study to come up with a more complete understanding of the impact of the industry on our economy in general and how we can help it with its problems."

"BETTER LATE..." July 15 has been set by the Department of Revenue as its deadline for completing issuance of refunds on 1968 state income tax. This is the date the state is required to begin paying interest on all unpaid refunds.

Through June 28, the Department had issued 473,336 refund checks for a total of $16,156,738, a new record. On that date, some 60,000 Kentuckians still had not received refunds due.

NO. 1 PROBLEM Kentucky's Governor Nunn told the Midwest Governors Conference at Wichita, Kansas, that administration of welfare programs is the No. 1 problem in America today.

The Governor, who had just returned from an eight-day, goodwill visit to Switzerland as a representative of the National Governors' Conference, charged he became in a July 4 speech that either the entire program should be turned over to the federal government or those closest to the people.

"It is high time," he said, "that we, as governors, give some sense of direction, voice some concern about the need of programs."

"I support those programs that help people in need. But we're going to have to take a long, hard look at the need and those who qualify."

CRIME CONTROL The Kentucky Crime Commission can proceed with its "Comprehensive Crime Justice Plan" now that the U.S. Justice Department has granted the state $391,935 for improvement of law enforcement programs.

The commission's plan calls for total expenditure of $676,588, with state and local governments making up the difference, the governor's office announced. Of the $394,935, police projects will receive 52 per cent; juvenile projects, 24 per cent; correctional projects, 17 per cent; public education, 3 per cent; and court projects, 4 per cent. (Cont. To Pg. 8)

Perhaps the most famous automobile known in America was the "Ford Model T," manufactured by the Ford Motor Company, in the year 1908. This automobile was a real champion, it sold like hot cakes, fifteen million Model T's were sold in the 19 years between 1908 and 1928. You would be amazed at how many Model T's are still around today, and in good operating condition.

Cucumber Market Opens

Commercially grown cucumbers will be sold under contract in the next few weeks in Rockcastle County. The local station opened at Bedford Valley, and received the first cucumbers for the season on Monday, June 30. According to Mr. William K. Bullen, Station Manager for Hinch Brothers and Company, Pickle Processors, Louisville, Kentucky, the station will be open each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, until further notice.

Most all growers are using a hybrid type seed this year and expect to produce about one-third more cucumbers per acre than they have in the past.

Hybrid cucumbers that are being grown this year have a tendency to get nubby if the proper amount of nitrogen is not supplied.

Pickles come from female blossoms. New blossoms appear when new leaves are formed. To keep new leaves coming, plants need a steady supply of nitrogen. 1. Sidedress 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre just after the first or second picking. 2. Broadcast or drill nitrogen in the middle between rows.

Use Weed Killers With Caution
Summer is here now, in full swing with hot, sometimes humid weather.

These are good reasons to stop spraying the famous weed-killers, 2, 4-D, or 2, 4, 5-T around home lawns, says Dr. James Heron, UK Cooperative Extension Service weed control specialist.

"When temperatures get to the high 80's and 90's this time of year," he says, "these two materials tend to vaporize. If these vapors drift on to desirable ornamentals around home lawns, they may cause damage. It's better to wait until cooler weather to apply 2, 4-D or 2, 4, 5-T on home lawns."

Vows Exchanged July 4th In Home Ceremony

Janet Lynn Argenbright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Argenbright of Livingston, and Roger Deen Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robinson of Orlando, were married Friday, July 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bullock in Livingston. Rev. James Chrisman officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of silk and lace with a matching detachable train. The bodice was of chintilly lace extending into long pointed sleeves with a front lace panel. Side panels of the gown were of scalloped lace and they extended the full length of the dress. The neckline was round and enhanced by sequins and seed pearls. Her veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and lace flowers and she carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The groom wore a tuxedo of Livingston served as the master-of-honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of blue dotted swiss of old-fashioned style. The gown was enhanced with a high neck and long full sleeves and Mrs. Eversole carried a bouquet of pale white and blue carnations. Donny R. Bullock served Mr. Robinson as best man and a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Guy Bullock at the piano.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. McKenzie and daughter, Mrs. Charles Chance, have returned home after attending the funeral of his brother, Charles B. McKenzie, at St. Petersburg, Florida last Tuesday. Enroute home, they stopped in Atlanta, Ga., for a brief visit with Rev. Wendell Belew and family, former pastor of the First Baptist Church here.

Mrs. Etta Nee has returned from Cincinnati and West Carrolltown visiting her children.

Mrs. Robinson was a 1968 graduate of Livingston High School. Mr. Robinson, a 1966 graduate of Livingston, is now employed by Stanford Oil. The couple will make their home in Livingston.
