EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER

Yes, that's true! And it is our experience in THIS community that has taught us what is best for you... community and for people who live HERE. We have learned a lot from books and lectures and banking journals... and we keep on studying... but our BEST teacher is still the experience we have gathered by performing countless financial duties, and receiving, perhaps, the highest award—the approval of those we serve.

The electric automobile was first introduced in the United States in the year 1891. This quiet, dignified machine was capable of traveling 15 miles per hour and had a 25 to 40 mile range on a normal battery charge. Because it was so stately in appearance and so simple to operate, it was very popular, especially among the women of society.

However, unless one carried an extra battery, you could not travel any great distance in the electric automobile, for there were no way stations then, for recharging batteries.

People who doze out their hard earned cash, whether it be for a new suit of clothes, an automobile or a new home, naturally look for quality and durability first, and are also quite particular about such other features as comfort, workmanship and style.

When you purchase a mobile home, you know your money is well spent, for the mobile homes today are manufactured to meet all of the qualifications listed above and have the added features of low cost maintenance, complete and modern furnishings and are available in sizes to suit your particular needs. JASPER & JASPER-MOBILE HOMES, INC. invites you to compare and inspect, before you select. We know your choice will be a modern mobile home.

Flowers

FLOWERS MEAN A GREAT DEAL

Flowers mean a great deal to everyone. Even the smallest child feels the value of flowers. One of the first acts of a toddler is to pull a flower and present it to some person for whom the child has affection. The youngster somehow knows that this act shows his love.

It's not just the child that adores lovely flowers—it's all ages. Flowers speak a message that often cannot be put into words. They can convey sympathy to someone who has lost a relative, remembrance to a sick friend, or love to someone dear.

Whatever your message, you can say it with flowers. We wire flowers to distant cities, and we deliver locally. You can be certain of receiving the freshest and loveliest arrangements when you order from us.

Miss Carloftis Selected "Miss Congeniality"

Don Carille Carloftis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos-Carloftis of Livingston, was named "Miss Congeniality" during last week's Miss Kentucky Pageant held in Louisville. The recipient of the "Miss Congeniality" award is chosen from among the contestants by the contestants.

Miss Carloftis was runner-up in the Miss Laurel County contest and had to substitute for the winner, who could not attend because of illness. The Miss Laurel Festival actually is an area contest covering Laurel, Jackson, Clay, and Rockcastle. Miss Carloftis was Valedictorian of the 1968 Seniors.

Class at Livingston High School. She also received the chemistry, geometry, English, calculus, and library award, and the University of Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky University Achievement Award. She is presently a sophomore pre-med student at Cumberland College.

W.B. (Jay) Atkinson, 61, of Broodhead, passed away suddenly July 23 in Boyle County. He was born in Virginia on September 22, 1907, the son of the late B.H. and Maude Hall Atkinson and was a retired railroad.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Yolanda Ramsey of Route 3, Mt. Vernon; one son, William L. Atkinson of Broodhead; three sisters, Mrs. Iva Williams of Pennington, Virginia; Mrs. Myrtle Hinkle of Black Mountain, N.C.; and Mrs. Nora Wolfe of Detroit, Mich.; four brothers, Walter of Jamestown, Ohio, Ron of Radcliff, Roger of New Jersey, and R.H. Atkinson of Broodhead, and two grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held Friday morning, July 25 at the Watson Funeral Home in Broodhead with Bro. John Zupancic officiating. Burial was in the Piney Grove Cemetery.

Local Population Stops Getting Younger

For a number of years, up to 1967, residents of Rockcastle County were getting younger all the time. Not individually, only collectively.

The median age of the local population, which is the point at which there are as many persons above that age as below it, had dropped about 7 percent in a period of 7 years.

It went from 25.3 years in 1960, as determined by the census taken at that time, to approximately 23.4 years, where it remains today.

That is neither younger than Springtime nor older than Methuselah. It compares with a median age of 27.4 years in the nation as a whole and with 25.9 in the State of Kentucky.

Why the sudden end to the growing-younger process? It is all tied up with the nationwide drop in the birth rate, which is attributed in part to the new attitude of the young women of the "flower" generation toward child-bearing.

This is borne out by Census Bureau findings that women under 30 are having children at lower rates and are spacing them to a greater extent than did women of the previous generation. While the report does not indicate the extent to which the pill and other relatively new techniques of family planning are responsible for this drop, it declares that these techniques "undoubtedly have been a contributing factor."

The lower birth rate and the trend toward smaller families is ascribed by the Population Reference Bureau to an awareness among young couples that "raising children in this complicated and expensive world presents big problems."

The figures bear out this trend, according to a recent survey by the Census Bureau. It finds that there are 20 percent fewer young children per mother than in 1960.

This so-called "fertility ratio" refers to the number of children under the age of 5 per 1,000 women of child-bearing age.

In Rockcastle County, in 1960, this ratio was 532. The local ratio, although considerably lower than before, as is the case generally, is still well above that in many sections of the country. (Cont. To 2)

David Parsons Named Jaycees Candidate

David Franklin Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Parsons of Wildie, has been chosen by the Rockcastle County Jaycees as their candidate for the "Outstanding Young Kentuckian Award."

He was chosen for his previous service in the U.S. Army, which early enabled him to make outstanding contributions to his church, his community, his school, and his country. Young Parsons has been a member of the Rockcastle County Jaycees since 4-11-68. Besides winning many county and district awards, he has won several state championships. During his 4-H years, he was president of his local club, the county organization, and the district.

In high school, David was elected president of his class for four years. As a senior, he was selected by the student body as Mr. M.V.H.S. best actor, and best personality. He was also editor of the senior annual, valedictorian of his graduating class, and a member of the National Honor Society. He won top awards in math, science, and Latin and also won the Citizenship Award, a most coveted award given by the Meridian Woman's Club.

A student of music for nine years, David has served for five years as organist at the Wildie Christian Church. He also excels in monologue. Presently he teaches a Sunday School class and is very active in the church youth work.

David is now a Junior at Berea College.

LAUREL HOMECOMING BEAUTY PAGEANT
The Miss Laurel County Scholarship Beauty Pageant will be held during Laurel County Homecoming's Festivities in mid-August.

The pageant is open to girls from Laurel and surrounding counties, including Rockcastle County. Competition for the title will include talent, formal dress, and bathing suit competition.

Any girls from Rockcastle interested in participating in the pageant should contact Mrs. Aubrey Feltner, Chairman of the Pageant, London, as soon as possible. No sponsor is required for an entry.

BOARD MEETING DATE CHANGED

The Rockcastle County Board of Education will meet on Thursday, August 7 instead of August 4, as regularly scheduled.

Development Corp. Meets

Rex Wesley of London reported to the Rockcastle County Development Corporation last Monday night that he had made contact with the University of Kentucky Robinson Substation at Quicksand. He said that no definite date had been set for a visit to this location by members of the local development corporation.

Chairman Roy Brown read a letter to the group from Cong. Tim Lee Carter stating that there is a strong possibility of obtaining low and medium rent housing through the Appalachian Development Commission. Cong. Carter's letter stated in part: "If you (the development corporation) have need of this type of housing in your county, please let me know and we shall try to assist in developing the project for your area."

Chairman Brown also read a letter from Paul W. Grubbs, Commissioner of the State Department of Commerce, listing representatives of the local organization to attend the 4th Kentucky Industrial Development Seminar sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Commerce and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Grubbs stated in his letter, "This Seminar is planned to help you and your organization compete for new industry more effectively."

The workshop for this area is scheduled for August 6 at Sue Bennett College in London. There will be a registration fee of $10 charged for the workshop. N.M. Grubbs is a member of the "second" of Clay Colson, that the organization pay the fee and the chairman or someone appointed by him attend the seminar. Motion carried.

Rex Wesley also talked to the group on the importance of developing industrial sites in the county. He pointed out that London recently lost an industry which was interested in locating there because the site was not properly developed. He stressed selecting one site and going

The four men of Company C, 3d Battalion, 47th Infantry were wounded by a Chi-Com grenade bobby trap. Moving to the only open area in the vicinity, the normal dustoff ship found the opening too small to land. A call went out for a light observation helicopter (LOH).

Warrant Officer Robert Robinson, of Mount Vernon, Ky., was sitting on the floating forward command post of the 3d Battalion 34th Artillery when he received the urgent call. "They just asked me if I'd like to pull a dustoff, and I said yes," said Robinson.

"The area was just big enough for a LOH. I came in over the trees and dropped straight down and went straight up when I left," recalled the 20-year-old Robinson.

His small aircraft is made for a maximum load of four, and the infantrymen put only three of the four wounded on the chopper. "I motioned for them to put the fourth one on," said as far as possible in developing the site to the needs of industry. These needs naturally include adequate water supply for fire protection, sewage disposal, and gas supply.

Clay Colson made a report on the Ottawa Appalachia Project to be submitted to the proper authorities for approval. Two such projects have been submitted in the past. These were the Ottawa and Copper Creek projects. Similar projects were approved about three years ago for Whitley, Laurel, Pulaski, and Lincoln counties and more money is expected to be available in the near future for more projects of this nature.

It has been suggested by a state Soil Conservation representative that the local Soil Conservation District re-submit the Ottawa Appalachian Project for approval. This project, as set up, has been approved by the local Soil Conservation District Supervisors and the local ASCS committee. The project, which needs the approval of the local development organization, covers 150 farms and 10,000 acres, approximately 80% of the land is cleared. The area lies within the Dix River watershed on which an application for assistance, under public law 566, was submitted, determined feasible, but was inactive and finally withdrawn because the local people were not in an economic position to carry out their part of a watershed program.

It has been estimated that such a project would increase farm income in the area by 50%. It is set up on an 80-20% basis. The government pays 80% and the farmers 20%. The farmers may borrow their part of the money from PCA, banks-including Federal Land Bank, and FHA. The County ASCS Committee is responsible for selecting the farms within the area that are eligible to participate in the program.

Griffiffin moved that the local organization endorsed the project. Motion carried.

On question from Mrs. ZI Graves about the latest developments for garbage disposal on a county-wide basis. It was pointed out that the Mt. Vernon City Dump has been bulldozed and cleaned up but that nothing has been done in connection with the area-type garbage disposal project which was discussed during previous meetings.

BRO. MC HARGUE GUEST PREACHER

Bro. Wendell McHargue will be preaching Sunday morning, August 3 at 10:45 a.m. and Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Baptist Church located one-half mile south of the city limits on U.S. 25. Bro. Ralph Sears is pastor of the church.

Bro. McHargue, a native of Rockcastle County, is now in Dallas, Texas where he is engaged in evangelistic work and is Dean of Students at the Independent Bible College. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

SUTTON ASSIGNED

Army Private Tony M. Sutton is assigned to Company B, 19th Battalion, 5th Brigade, at the United States Army Training Center at Ft. Knox.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Sutton, husband of Mrs. Judy L. Sutton of Mt. Vernon, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

GRIFFIN SENTENCED TO ONE YEAR

Douglas Griffin, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Griffin of Red Hill, was found guilty Monday in Circuit Court of "Cutting and Wounding With Intent to Kill" and was sentenced to one year in the Rockcastle County Jail and fined $250.

Members of the Rockcastle County Jaycees are shown in front of the caboose which was donated to them by the L & N Railroad. The caboose, which is located behind the Dinner Bell Building on Richmond Street, has been painted red by the club members and will be refurbished inside and used for the club's meetings. Shown in the above photo are, from left: Jan Stevens, David Henderson, Bill Kelsay, Bill Gregory, and Buford Parkerson.

The new road around Lake Linnville is nearly complete, according to Elmo Anderson, sub-contractor for the project. Pictured above is a small section of the road which is on the west side of the lake. The Reno to Brindle Ridge Road, also newly constructed, has been open for traffic for several weeks. This portion of the new road will probably be ready for traffic within the next week.

Rock bottom ... That's where this feeder is. It handles limestone chunks as big as 8 inches at an average rate of 500 tons per hour and surges to 600 tons per hour. This model FS vibrating feeder was built by the Carrier Division of Rex Chabnitz Inc., Louisville. The unit, 7 feet long and 42 inches wide, is installed at a 12 degree decline under a reclaim pile at the Kentucky Stone Company quarry in Mt. Vernon. The feeder discharges the limestone onto an inclined belt conveyor for further processing.

An Editorial

According to Superintendent Charles Parsons' Letter to the Editor printed in the July 17th issue of the Mt. Vernon Signal, our two recent editorials, concerning Roundstone transfer from Roundstone School, contained "untrue statements."

If Mr. Parsons will reread these editorials, he will discover, we feel sure, that no statement contained in the editorials was untrue. Unless, of course, he considers any opposition to his and the school board's wishes as being untrue.

In these editorials, we have tried to express what we feel is the opinion of most of the parents from the Roundstone area, and what is our opinion, concerning Mr. Mullins' transfer.

We have been accused of blowing up the fact of the transfer. We assume that by "blowing up," Mr. Parsons meant our front page coverage of the mass meeting held at Roundstone, and subsequent school board meeting, and our two editorials. Well, if this is the expression Mr. Parsons wishes to use to describe this coverage, then be that as it may. We will continue to blow up, on our editorial page, any issue which we believe is being handled improperly and unfairly and we will also continue to blow up any news stories as important as these were.

As for the charge that we have not talked personally with the ten teachers lodging complaints against Mr. Mullins, this is true. However, it is also true that we have not talked personally with Mr. Mullins concerning the charges brought against him. But, we have talked with numerous parents, who feel both pro and con on this issue, and we do believe that there is an overwhelming majority in Mr. Mullins' favor. They have publicly stated many times that they do not think Mr. Mullins has been dealt with either fairly or impartially. We decided on our stand mainly from the people and neither apologize for it nor retreat from it.

After much re-reading and re-analyzing of these editorials, we fail to find any statement made in them which cannot be proven or which should not be believable to Mr. Parsons. If Mr. Parsons can prove that untrue statements were printed in these editorials, then let him do so and we will retract them. But, until that time, rash statements as to the validity of someone else's statements should be contained.

Perhaps Mr. Parsons is taking issue with our statement that board member Kenneth Adams refused to represent the majority of his constituents in this matter. A mere checking of the school board minutes will prove that Mr. Adams has not done this matter before the board for discussion. The minutes should also show that at the June board meeting, when many members of Roundstone were on hand to protest the transfer, Mr. Adams spoke not a word in representation of this segment of his district.

Perhaps Mr. Parsons also doesn't believe that almost half of the Roundstone teachers found nothing amiss in Mr. Mullins' administration of his job as principal of Roundstone to complain about. A fast check of the teacher staff records against the signatures on the ten letters should take care of that question.

And, what else have we said? Simply that when an issue as important as this comes up, it should be aired before the school board and at least both sides heard. And, we have also said that the parents of this area deserve to be listened to and not ignored because their wishes do not happen to coincide with the "powers that be."

Mr. Parsons himself brought the issue of the "political factor" statement. We have never mentioned it, either by direct statement or innuendo. We sincerely hope that the quality of our children's education is not being tampered with simply to further someone or some faction's political ambitions. And, we do not feel that the vast majority of parents protesting the transfer have even considered any political gains for themselves from advocating Mr. Mullins' reinstatement.

Let it be clearly understood at this point that the editorial page of this newspaper is not written on behalf of, or against, any political factions which exist in this county.

We are not defending either our editorials or our opinions. The editorials were written with a clear conscience and can be defended with the same. No statement contained in them was untrue and therefore no apologies are in order.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Scott of Fairfield, Ohio celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on July 27 with a reunion in their honor at the UAW Union Park on Symmes Road. The Scotts were married in Rockcastle County on August 2, 1919. A triple celebration was observed on this occasion since Mr. Scott's 70th birthday will be August 1 and Mrs. Scott will be 70 on August 3. Mr. Scott is a retired L and Railroad engineer following 42 consecutive years of service. The family includes 7 daughters, 3 sons, 22 grandchildren, and 4 great grandchildren.

"I'd have stuffed in as many as I could have and still made it out of there," he added.

ESTIMATES EXCEEDED
 A report by Finance Commissioner Albert Christen and Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett shows that Kentucky's 5 per cent sales tax for its first full fiscal year, 1967-68, $242,515,439, about $3.5 million more than expected.

In fiscal 1967-68, sales tax receipts totaled $155.3 million, but reflected only two months of the two per cent increase passed by the 1968 Legislature.

Pari mutuel tax receipts rose sharply for fiscal 1968-69, but cigarette collections, amounting to $11.1 million, were $250,000 below estimate. The consumption tax on distilled spirits also dipped.

CAN'T BEAT IT
 Interest displayed by industrial executives in opportunities for expansion in Kentucky prompted the Kentucky Department of Commerce to send a delegation of 19 Kentucky professionals to the Minneapolis-St. Paul area with first-hand information.

Acting on instructions from Governor Nunn to make facts on Kentucky's industrial climate available to those seeking it, Commerce Commissioner Paul Grubbs said "presenting this data to industrialists in their home offices has proved quite successful."

Farm Bureau - RECC Day At The Kentucky State Fair
Wednesday, August 20, 1969, is Farm Bureau - RECC Day at the State Fair. This day is set aside to give Farm Bureau members an opportunity to attend the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center, participate in the various activities sponsored by Farm Bureau, and to see the exhibits of agriculture and industry in the state.

The Rural Gospel Quartet contest is one of the highlights of our Farm Bureau Day program. Counties having an entry in this contest should return the entry blank by August 15, 1969. Eliminations are scheduled for Wednesday morning, August 20, 1969 at 9:00 a.m. EDT, in the new Market Hall Sales Arena, adjoining livestock section (swine) on the back side, with the finals being held in the Stadium during the Farm Bureau Day program. Material containing the information about this contest has been mailed to the county Farm Bureau offices. Immediately following the drawing of the Farm Bureau prizes, the RECC beauty pageant will be held. This is always an added attraction for both young and old - so plan to remain in the Stadium for the crowning of the RECC beauty queen.

All Farm Bureau members registering and in attendance Wednesday, August 20, 1969, will be eligible to participate in the drawing of an outstanding array of prizes which have been made available by various segments of industry interested in the welfare of agriculture. This drawing will be held in the Stadium during the Farm Bureau Day program which is scheduled to be in at 1:00 p.m., EDT.

Check-List for Beef Cattle
Continue summer management; supply minerals, rotate pastures, keep back rubbers changed, and keep records up-to-date.

Treatment for grub control can be done anytime after July 15; however, it is best to wait until around September 1, since a better kill will be accomplished at the later date. Treat in any manner most convenient, but follow directions regardless of methods or materials used. Check with your Area Beef Cattle Specialist for best recommendations for your area of the state.

Is your beef enrolled in a performance test program?
Performance testing is a tool for the cattlemen to use in selection and culling of his beef herd. Don't guess; use a set of scales to determine production of a cow in your herd. At the present price of cull cows each producer should make sure he accurately determines which cows are free loaders then cull and sell on the best market for cull cows we have had in many years.

Wednesday, August 20th, is the first day beef cattle are shown at the 1969 Kentucky State Fair. In case some people are not aware of the change in beef cattle show dates at Louisville I would remind them that beef cattle are shown on Wednesday (20th), Thursday (21st), and Friday (22nd) instead of all weeks as the schedule for so many years. Both beef and dairy participation at the fair became so large that a split in shows was necessary. The dairy cattle show is the first weekend 14-19 of August, and beef cattle show 20-23 of August. Check with your Area Beef Cattle Spec. for exact show time of the various breeds.

Renovating Strawberries
Over the years a proven way to prolong the life and productivity of the strawberry "patch" or field is to topdress with fertilizer, work out the middles (reduce plant numbers), and remove any weeds and grass, all just after harvest is completed. Many Kentuckians also mow off or reduce the tops. However, it has been shown recently that mowing, if delayed for a month or so after harvest, or if repeated later, actually reduces the next year's crop.

As an average, 600 pounds per acre of a 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 fertilizer is a good "feeding" just after harvest. This would be 14 pounds on 1000 square feet (about 32 feet square) or about 6 pounds per 100-foot row. Fertilizing at this time is very important.

The generally approved method of renovating the fruiting rows is to cultivate or rotoliti a 1/2 to 2 foot middle between rows, leaving a matted row plants 1/2 to 2 feet wide. It has been shown that plants that are saved in these rows will form fruit buds for next year. The earlier practice of reducing the rows to 4 to 6 inches after harvest has proven to reduce future yields.

Cultivation, as needed to keep the middles weed free, should continue until frost. Some growers feel that extra nitrogen applied over the rows in late August (1 pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of row length is helpful in fruit bud formation for next year. Be on the alert for insect and disease damage and be prepared to spray. Chemical weed control sprays after harvest also help in late season weed control.

Strawberries are among our most delightful and rewarding fruits. They are "at home" all over Kentucky, and they pay rich dividends when they are given proper care.

Social Security News

Medicare benefits are payable at 65 even if a person continues to work full time and is not collecting his social security benefits.

"People nearing 65, whether or not they plan to retire, should visit the social security office at Somerset," James Mustian, social security manager, said today. It is important, he noted, to apply during the 3 months before you turn 65 to be sure that your Medicare protection will begin as soon as you reach 65. Otherwise, you may lose coverage of some of your medical bills.

Mustian explained that Medicare is divided into two parts. "One part is hospital insurance," he said. "This is paid from social security contributions made during your working lifetime. Virtually every employed person now reaching 65 is eligible, and has paid for hospital insurance protection. And if a worker is eligible, so is his wife at age 65.

This part of Medicare helps pay for your care in a hospital and for certain kinds of care you may need after you leave the hospital.

"But that is only half of the Medicare story," he continued. "The other half is the supplementary medical insurance that helps pay doctors' and surgeons' bills and a wide variety of other medical expenses. You pay half the cost of the medical insurance through a premium of $4 a month. The government pays the other half. It is particularly important that you apply for your medical insurance coverage before you reach 65 since this is a voluntary program with limited enrollment periods," Mustian said.

Mustian said doctor bills were the main medical expense covered by this insurance. However, he added, medical insurance under Medicare covers many other medical services and supplies. These range from home health care visits to ambulance services and the rental or purchase of durable medical equipment.

Mustian urges those who want more information about Medicare, and those who are nearing 65, to visit his office in the Tradewind Center in Somerset.

"Do I know a good clothing buy? What is the best garment for me? Will I be happy with my purchase a month from now?"

These are some of the questions you should answer before buying any garment. The many choices open to clothing shoppers can be a hazard as well as a boon.

Consider, for instance, the many new developments in fabric types and finishes. Choosing the right fabric can depend on your figure (rough fabrics take it off), the occasions for which you'll wear the garment (sports, work, church, evening), and the care you'll give it. The wrong care can quickly make an expensive garment look sleazy and cheap.

Construction details are another important consideration. Frayed seams and buttonholes, puckered straps, no reinforcement at strain points, and poorly attached trim are among the signs of careless manufacture that will take a garment from store rack to rag bag in short order. Also beware of trim that requires different care from the rest of the garment.

Know what you already have in the closet before you add to your wardrobe. New clothes should coordinate with old ones if they are to be worn together. Also be sure the new item fills a gap in your wardrobe. Why buy a new dress-up dress, just because it's on sale, when what you really need is an everyday dress or a pair of slacks?

The questions that apply to women's clothes also apply to men's and children's. For example, easy-care clothing for men is available in a wide variety of styles, fabrics and weights. Men's clothing should fit properly, be appropriate to the occasions for which it will be worn, and coordinate with the items already in the closet.

Children's clothes have added problems of fitting active, growing wearers. It's better to buy a few sturdy, versatile clothes than a closetful of dainty dresses. Stetch, wash-and-wear, and permanent-press fabrics can be a mother's best friend. But be sure to read the label for care instructions. Clothes should also fit correctly, with allowance for growth.

The home sewer if often faced with the same questions as the buyer of ready to wear clothes. Sewing fabrics come in an amazing variety of finishes. The wrong fabric for your needs can be a disaster.

Most important of all considerations is the amount of money that can be spent. But even the most limited budget will purchase more if it's wisely spent. The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service has a variety of printed materials to acquaint you with the latest developments in clothing construction, styles, fabrics and fabric care. These pamphlets are free at your county Extension office.

Gene Cunagin and Marsha of Hamilton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Carson Moore; Bill and Pat, Moores Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Glen (Joann) Orton of Norwood, Ohio.

BIRTHDAY DINNER
On Sunday, June 29, a delicious basket dinner was served on the spacious shady lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Cunagin in Anville in honor of Mr. Cunagin's two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Pennington of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Ollie Ingram of Anville. Mrs. Pennington was 79 years old on June 26 and Mrs. Ingram was 76 on the same date. Another sister, Mrs. Beulah Moore of Moores Creek was present making all the brothers and sisters present.

Mrs. Pennington and Mrs. Ingram have two daughters each and they were present along with their families. Also present were several grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces, nephews,

THE BOOKMOBILE IS COMING!

Countless hours of enjoyment are provided year-round by the bookmobile's stock of over 2000 books on subjects ranging from Bach to surgery.

There is no age limit on those who utilize the services of the traveling library. The bookmobile takes book requests from patrons and fills them on the next trip to the outlying rural community.

"CHILDHOOD shows the man, as morning shows the day." (Milton)

Kentucky's library system on wheels has the distinction of being the most extensive state bookmobile service in the United States.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn authorized the purchase of 11 new bookmobiles last year, to replace older models no longer practical for highway use.

In Kentucky old bookmobiles never die, they just lose their wheels. The 11 replaced bookmobiles were refurbished and placed in communities as branch libraries of existing state facilities.
