Sept. 21 - 27 Designated

Highway Week By Gov.

The week of September 21-27 has been designated National Highway Week and Governor Louie B. Nunn has proclaimed the same dates as Kentucky Highway Week.

The theme of the week is "Highways Bring Better Living." The Kentucky Department of Highways will observe the week with an open house in each of the 12 highway district office buildings Sunday afternoon, September 21.

The purposes of the open house are to give the people in each district an opportunity to visit the headquarters building, to learn something about the functions and operations of the Department of Highways in their area and to ask questions regarding the road programs in their district.

They will also have an opportunity to meet the district office personnel and enjoy fellowship with each other during a period of refreshments. Copies of the 1969 Official Kentucky Highway

Map, various brochures and souvenirs will be available to those who visit the open house.

The people in District No. 8 are invited to the open house from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Somerset headquarters located on US 27, one-half mile south of the junction with KY 80.

Mr. W.B. Drake, assistant state highway engineer for research and development, will represent the Commissioner and participate in the afternoon's activities.

Homer Neikirk Sworn In As Court Of Appeals Judge

Ed's note

The following article is a reprint of a story by Sy Ramsey which appeared in Saturday's issue of the Lexington Herald and the Lexington Leader.

C. Homer Neikirk of Somerset was sworn in Friday as a member of the Court of Appeals judge, succeeding the late Morris C. Montgomery.

"My decision has not been made on a political or personal basis," said Gov. Louie B. Nunn who announced the appointment at a news conference in the appellate chamber.

"I have carefully weighed the character and ability of the man and his appreciation, dedication and confidence in our legal system."

The governor's appointment is until the next election for the post in 1970. The high court has seven judges.

Neikirk told newsmen he plans to run for the office next year.

Neikirk, 59, was commonwealth's attorney of Pulaski and Rockcastle counties in the rockbound Republic territory of Southeast Kentucky.

Montgomery, a Democrat, and his wife were killed in Illinois, shortly before the high court reconvened after a summer recess.

Nunn, who has praised Montgomery's career, said "I clearly visualize the towering shadow in which the one I name must stand and serve."

Neikirk responded in a similar vein.

"The robes of my predecessor will never be adequately worn by anyone," he said. "However, it is my sincere ambition to make a good judge ... to work diligently, work the truth, to work for justice and to work humbly with the court."

Neikirk, 59, has been active for decades in Republican circles and worked at Nunn's state headquarters during the 1967 gubernatorial campaign.

He is a graduate of Somerset High School, Centre College and the University of Kentucky Law School. He taught in high schools during the 1930s.

MRS. W.M. COFFEY DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Annie Lee Coffey was born April 13, 1906 in Kentucky, the daughter of the late Eugene and Georgia Singleton Adams. She died suddenly September 11 at the Rockcastle County Baptist Hospital. She was a resident of Mt. Vernon and a member of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church.

Besides her husband, W.M. Coffey, she is survived by five daughters, Miss Dorothy Coffey, Miss Doris Coffey, and Mrs. Norma Mullins, all of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Inez Gilbert of Bossier City, La., and Mrs. Joyce Hart of Montgomery, Ala.; three sons, Harold Coffey of Ft. Worth, Texas, Howard Coffey, LaGrange, and Gary Coffey of Glendale; two sisters, Ruth and Melissa; and two brothers, Eugene and Bill Adams; and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday, September 13 at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church with Rev. Homer McNew officiating. Burial was in the Elmwood Cemetery.

Cox Funeral Home was in charge of all arrangements.

Before World War II service with the Army, Neikirk served two terms as Pulaski County attorney.

Between 1954 and 1965 he practiced law at Somerset. In 1965 he was elected commonwealth's attorney to fill an unexpired term and has since worked in the primary and general elections.

Neikirk is a deacon of the First Baptist Church and a 32nd degree Mason. He has been active in the Kiwanis Club affairs.

He and his wife, the former Opal Demey, have two daughters, Mrs. Walter Strange and Mrs. Ray Gill, both of Lexington, and five grandchildren.

Neikirk was the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor in 1951 and ran unsuccessfully against incumbent U.S. Rep. Eugene Siler of Williamsburg in the 1960 Republican primary.

The 3rd judicial district to which he has been named includes Adair, Anderson, Boone, Bullitt, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Green, Hardin, Hart, Letcher, McCreary, Marion, MetCalfe, Nelson, Oldham, Pulaski, Russell, Shelby, Spencer, Taylor, Washington and Wayne Counties.

After a general session of 45 minutes, the group met in committees to work out the fine points and details for each department of the new school.

Committee Chairmen are as follows: Buford Parkerson, Administration and Guidance; Bill Kelsey, Social Studies; Billy Ridge, Health, PE, and Athletics; Robert Bybee, Fine Arts; Paul Holbrook, Mathematics; Lora Lee Mink, Library; Billy Cameron, Science; Bob Hendrickson, Industrial Arts; Mrs. Grace Ann McCowan, English and Foreign Languages; Dorothy Cheatham, Business; June Stevens, Home Economics, and Russell Parsons, Agriculture.

These committees have been working for several weeks setting up objectives and studying trends in education in order to make wise decisions in planning the new school.

Much work and thought have been given to such details as activities, enrollment, space requirements, storage requirements, furniture and equipment and space relationships.

The committees are expected to have all this work and planning done by September 25. This material will then be organized and brought before the Board of Education for their consideration and approval.

It is expected to take the architect until around January 1 to complete all the plans and specifications. Construction bids may be possible in late winter or early spring.

DIGEST

'ELOQUENT CHAMPION'

Governor Nunn said Sept. 7 that the death that day of Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, whom he described as "one of the most eloquent champions of America," was a personal loss because the two became friends while serving at Miami last year on the Republican Platform Committee of the Republican National Convention. "Much can be said in tribute to Senator Dirksen," the Governor declared. "His long career was distinguished by major accomplishments for the betterment of this state, and the cause of freedom was strengthened by his service."

JOBS DOWN 1,234

Statistics released this week by the State Personnel Department show state jobs have been cut from 29,021 to 27,787, a reduction of 1,234 since Governor Nunn ordered a freeze Aug. 14. Some 880 of these were seasonal and 354 full-time.

Personnel reported only eight state workers had been hired during the period but that nearly all departments had sought exceptions to the ruling under an amendment granting exceptions in critical cases on approval by the commissioners of personnel and finance.

BURN CENTER PLANNED

State Fire Marshal Billy D. Williams said a Board of Directors is being selected to conduct a $3 million campaign for construction of a burn-treatment center in Kentucky such as he suggested at an Aug. 11 meeting in Louisville of the Kentucky Fireman's Association.

Cincinnati has the nearest of only nine such centers in the nation, according to Williams, who officials say the mortality rate of burn patients treated there is 66 per cent less than in general hospitals where specialized equipment and conditions are not available.

MATCH MAN, JOB

In fighting unemployment, Governor Nunn proposed in a speech to the Bluegrass Personnel Association at Lexington that state government adopt a program of "matching able-bodied men and women to available jobs."

It "would not be asking too much of an unemployed in one part of the state to offer himself for a job in another part," the Governor said, "or even outside the state."

"After all," he observed, "this is the condition of life for the taxpayer who pays the bill for unemployment."

SOMETHING TO SEE

A roadside park in Bath County featuring the restored remains of an iron foundry furnace built in 1791 by Jacob Myers of Richmond, Va., will be developed by the State Highway Department, Governor Nunn announced.

The 178-year-old furnace, a truncated pyramid of stone about 20 feet square at the base and open at the top, was made by hand of blocks of rock hewn from the surrounding hills.

SERVICES OFFERED

The services of state stenographers not fully utilized have been offered on a voluntary basis by State Auditor James Thompson to counties throughout the state to help keep a check on expenses and allotments. Thompson wrote county judges "if you wish, a monthly analysis of your county treasurer's disbursements can be furnished, compared with budget allotments, showing trends and potential problem areas. We feel it will be helpful

Feeder Calf Sale

According to Seldon V. Hall, Area Extension Beef Specialist, the second annual yearling steer sale held recently in London sold 845 graded steers for an average of $31.00 per hundred pounds. Steers weighed an average of 562 pounds and sold for a total of $147,636.49. The top selling pen sold for $35.00 per hundred.

The sale was sponsored by the London Feeder Calf Association and held at the Farmers Livestock Market Friday, September 5. Beef producers from Laurel, Whitley, Clay, Knox, Jackson and Rockcastle counties sold good steers in the sale. A good group of buyers were present.

There was very little spread in price paid. Steers weighing from 400 to 500 pounds sold from $30.00 to $35.00 per hundred. Cattle weighing 700 to 800 pounds selling in groups brought $27.35 to $29.80.

The next graded feeder sale will be for both steers and heifers, and will be held September 26 at Laurel Sales. Both horned and dehorned calves can be sold in the calf sale. There is now more room for calves in the September 26 sale.

Calves must have been dropped on the farm. Only calves that will grade into choice, good, or medium grades can be sold. Pens will be provided for calves weighing 300 to 700 pounds. To consign calves to the sale, contact the County Extension Office or one of the Feeder Calf Directors.

The first gas pump was set up by Sylvanus Bowser, in Fort Wayne, Indiana, back in 1885, but it was a little premature for it was not until the 1900's that there were enough motorists traveling by automobile to warrant very many gas pumps.

When the automobile industry began it's increase, so the filling stations began to increase in number. This was the status up until the 30's and 40's. Then, the filling stations began to decrease, but the volume of business rose. The reason for this reverse was that cars were being made sturdier and there were less breakdowns, gas tanks were being made larger to hold more gas, and consequently fewer stops were necessary.

Since mobile homes first came into existence, their improvements have been constant. It took a while for the public to really latch on to the fabulous features and advantages that mobile homes actually provided, but once they did, the realization spread rapidly and the mobile home sprang into the popularity spotlight.

A classic in mobile homes is the Monarch Classique. This outstanding model is designed to give the maximum in living space while providing all the spacious closet and storage space and convenient built-in features. Everywhere you look in a Classique, you see quality, durability and beauty.

New Greenhouse Plans Available

Dr. John Walker of the Agricultural Engineering Department at the University of Kentucky has completed blueprints for a new rigid-frame, open-span, ridge and furrow greenhouse. This house is designed to be made of wood and fiberglass, and to be heated with drop-down unit, forced-air type heaters. This new plan enables a grower to build a greenhouse that will make maximum use of the land area. It also means less covering material is needed, and there is less heat loss than from single-unit houses. Anyone interested in such a set of plans should contact the County Extension Office or the Horticulture Department, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Strawberry Fields Need Weed Control Work Now

Control winter annuals in strawberry fields now to make next year's work much easier, recommends Dr. James Heron, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service weed control specialist.

Two such winter annuals are chickweed and henbit. In strawberry fields where the weed-killer diphenamid has NOT been used late in the summer, these weeds are long residual, so treatment may not be needed; if other, shorter residual materials have been used, treatment will be needed this fall. Recommended materials are Sesone, or diphenamid (Enide or Dymed, trade names).

These are pre-emergence materials and strawberry fields must be cleanly weeded by hand before these materials will be effective. Dr. Heron says. They also will help control along with the straw mulch used on many fields.

Cereal Leaf Beetle Quarantine

Most of Kentucky's grain, hay, and straw are now under Federal quarantine because of cereal leaf beetle infestation, Howard Tilson, University of Kentucky entomologist and deputy state entomologist, said today.

For some time, Kentucky had been operating under its own quarantine in the northern Kentucky area in cooperation with Federal quarantine agencies. However, under the new Federal restrictions, all affected counties, except the Jackson Purchase, will be considered under quarantine.

Seventy Kentucky counties are under Federal regulations because the pest has been found in those counties and all affected products moving into states west of the Mississippi River and the Jackson Purchase areas of Kentucky and Tennessee must have a permit or certification. Florida, Massachusetts, Vermont and Rhode Island have also been designated as protected areas and will not accept products without certifications of pest-free products.

The seventy counties under regulation are: Anderson, Bath, Boone, Bourbon, Boyd, Boyle, Bracken, Breathitt, Bullitt, Campbell, Carroll, Carter, Casey, Clark, Clay, Elliott, Estill, Fayette, Fleming, Floyd, Franklin, Gallatin, Garrard, Grant, Green, Greenup, Hardin, Harrison, Hart, Henry, Jackson, Jefferson, Jessamine, Johnson, Kenton, Laramie, Lawrence, Lee, Lewis, Lincoln, Madison, Magoffin, Marion, Martin, Mason, Meade, Menifee, Mercer, Montgomery, Morgan, Nelson, Nicholas, Oldham, Owen, Owsley, Pendleton, Powell, Robertson, Rockcastle, Rowan, Scott, Shelby, Spencer, Taylor, Trimble, Washington, Wolfe, and Woodford.

The remaining counties under quarantine but not regulated may ship and receive freely grain, hay and straw within the state

Library Notes

New books received in Mt. Vernon from the State Department of Libraries.

AGENDA FOR THE NATION, edited by Kamel Gorden. A collection of essays on major issues and problems confronting America today, the purpose of this volume is to clarify and deepen understanding of the society we live in.

ALL BELIEVERS ARE BROTHERS, edited by Roland Gammon. Through a series of interviews with eminent world personalities, Gammon seeks to show that most people have a common faith that supports them in times of crisis. By seeing this faith in others, the author hopes that readers will derive renewed inspiration to help them in their own lives.

EUROPE ON SATURDAY NIGHT, by John Gould. The Goulds from Maine present a delightful book on what it means to travel in Europe, Gould Family Style. The Goulds share their European adventures with a charm and wit that will entrance any reader.

FOREFIT, by Dick Francis. Champion jockey, has delivered another exciting suspense story about the world of racing. Bookmaking and the odds are an integral part of the racing world and Francis presents an accurate picture of what might happen if a criminal element gained control of them.

HOW TO BE LAZY, HEALTHY AND FIT, by Peter J. Steiner, M.D. Physical fitness is usually spoken of in terms of exercise; however, this volume is dedicated to presenting a program of good health with a minimum of exercise that will be welcomed by all exercise-weary individuals.

THE SHEPHERD OF THE OCEAN, by J.W. Anderson and H.F. Folland. Sir Walter Raleigh, soldier, sailor, poet, colonizer, and adventurer was the complete Elizabethan, a product of his time. This volume is an extensive biography of one of the great favorites of the Virgin Queen.

TUNE IN TOMORROW, by Mary Jane Higby. One of the most famous eras of the Radio Soap Opera. Here is the behind-the-scenes story of that time, written by a star of one of those "operas," the story of the stars, their jobs, and their antics.

A YAK FOR CHRISTMAS, by Louise Hillary. A Christmas holiday in the Himalayas is the topic of A YAK FOR CHRISTMAS. Sir Edmund Hillary and his family spend an exciting holiday in the awesome mountains touring hospitals and schools they helped sponsor, a trip climaxed by Santa Claus on a yak.

New books for children BRUMBIEST DUST, by Peginal Otley. A picture of rugged Australia, this story is centered around the conflict between man and the brumbies or wild horses that roam the plains of Central Australia. Grades 8-9.

THE CRACK IN THE WALL, by George Mendosa. A collection of "terribly weird tales," this volume will provide reading for lovers of the suspenseful.

FIERCE JOHN, by Edward Fenton. Most children spend part of their time in a world of make-believe and John is no different. This small volume recites the hilarious episodes of the day John makes his decision to be a lion.

THE GOLDEN ENEMY, by Alexander Key. Another exciting addition to science fiction collections. Boy

Jaim finds himself facing an enemy out of the past; a giant golden beast. The new civilization he lives in knows no conflict between man and beast, but the golden beast remembers past conflicts and seeks revenge. Grades 7-9.

KIM FASHIONS A CAREER, by Dorothy Shafner. Kim finds that the working world is not all glamour as she is, forced to quit school and take a job. However, as time passes and she
