

"LIBRARY NOTES"
his wife and children.

New books for children.

AT JASPER'S HOUSE, by Alice Low. A collection of short stories reflecting the reactions of teenage girls and the problems they face in growing up. Grades 7-10.

THE FISHERMEN, by Jan Wahl. Catching fish isn't always the most important thing about going fishing as a young girl and her grandfather prove as they spend the day down by the river. Grades 2-3.

THE GHOSTS OF GLENCOE, by Mollie Hunter. The Scottish Highlands in the Seventeenth Century is the setting of this exciting tale of adventure. The Massacre of Glencoe is one of the major events in the history of conflicts between the Scottish clansmen and the English soldiers and makes fascinating reading. Grades 6-9.

JANKO'S WISH, by Judy Varga. Janko's farm was a disgraceful sight until he aided a gypsy and was granted one wish. The results of that one wish were evident to all, but were they due to the gypsy's power? Who knows? But Janko was certainly satisfied. Grades 4-5.

JOSEPH, by Max Bolliger. A retelling of the Biblical story of Joseph. This volume is a companion to Bolliger's David which won the German Children's Book Award. Grades 4-5.

LITTLE BEAR LEARNS TO READ THE COOKBOOK, by Janice. Little Bear is discouraged for he can only make pancakes and everyone else has an important job. However, the Baker decides to help him out, but first he must learn to read and the results are highly entertaining. Grades k-3.

LOST WILD AMERICA, by Robert M. McClung. A timely topic is the ultimate fate of America's dwindling wildlife. This volume includes a summary of past practices which have caused today's desperate situation as well as biographies of the various forms of wildlife involved. Grades 6-9.

MALACHI MUDGE, by Edward Cecil. Malachi Mudge is a lonely mole who craves company and is unsuccessful in finding any friends until a helpful bird brings him a small beetle. Then Malachi and Percy the Beetle both discover the joys and adventures of friendship. Grades 2-4.

THE MASTER SPY, by Daniel Holcay. In times of conflict a large amount of work is accomplished by those known as spies. This volume is devoted to the stories of several of these people whose work has been responsible for crucial changes in the world's destiny. Grades 5-7.

MISS FLORA McFLIMSEY'S MAY DAY, by Marjorie. It's May Day and Flora McFlimsey isn't ready. But Poo

Coo the cat tells her the secret to always being prepared and as she spends her afternoons with woodland friends, she discovers that he is right and that she is ready for May Day. Grades k-2.

MOYA AND THE FLAMINGOES, by Emily Hollins. Moya's tribe closely guarded the Lake of the Firebirds for the flamingoes found there brought them luck. Moya's discovery of a stranger on the lake's banks brings problems to his relatively simple existence; however, after considerable planning and effort, he manages to cope with the situation. Grades 5-6.

ODD OLD MAMMALS, by Richard Armour. Between the dinosaurs and the animals of today were a rather "odd" assortment of beasts, great-great-grandfathers of today's familiar animals. This volume contains a rollicking catalogue of these animals and their babies. Grades 4-6.

"BRODHEAD"

In-Service Program At Roundstone School

The Staff and Teachers of the Rockcastle County Public Schools attended an In-Service Program at the Roundstone School on September 25, 1969. Guest speaker was Dr. John W. Gilliland, Director of School Planning Laboratory, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee.

The High School Teachers met in committees and completed their recommendations for the new Rockcastle County High School. These plans were presented to the School Planning Laboratory, University of Tennessee, for their consolidation. The plans will then be presented to the local Board of Education and the subject for their revisions and final approval. Mr. Sam Pollock, General Supervisor, Department of Education, Frankfort, presented the Block Program, which is an innovation in curriculum, to the Elementary Teachers. After this presentation the Elementary Teachers met in committees to discuss this program and reject or accept this new innovation. All committees recommended that we investigate and explore the possibility of incorporating this program into our Friday, September 26, 1969, Rockcastle County teachers attended C.K.E.A., at Richmond, Kentucky where they heard Dr. James I. Mason, Superintendent of Clark County School District, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Veterans Question & Answers

Q—A veteran's former wife received his G.I. insurance payment after he died while his widow and children received nothing. How can this happen?

A—The veteran evidently named his first wife as the beneficiary, perhaps neglecting to change the designation when he remarried. The law requires VA to pay insurance benefits to the beneficiary named by the insured. Responsibility for naming the correct beneficiary rests with the policyholder.

Q—What can I do to hurry my educational subsistence checks?

A—Lose no time in submitting the Certificate of Eligibility you received from the VA to the proper school official for completion. Make certain he returns it to VA as soon as possible. Upon receipt of this certificate, the VA starts your allowance checks.

Q—My husband has become permanently and totally disabled as the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident. He was in the service from 1959 to 1961. Is he eligible for a nonservice connected pension from the Veterans Administration?

A—No. To be eligible for a pension for a nonservice connected disability, a veteran must have service during a period of "war." Service after Jan. 31, 1955, and prior to Aug. 5, 1964, is called peacetime—not "war"—service.

Q—I plan an extensive vacation which will involve considerable commercial flying. If I should accidentally be killed during one of the flights would my G.I. insurance be affected?

A—If you mean will your G.I. insurance be paid to your beneficiary, the answer is yes. There is no "flight" restriction clause in G.I. insurance policies.

FORCE, IF NECESSARY Governor Nunn's first step in the event of com-pus disturbances in Kentucky would be to reason with the students causing them, he told some 60 student journalists at a news conference held for them in Lexington.

"But if the students are occupying a building to the point that it cannot be used for the purpose for which it was constructed," he continued, "we would use force to evict the students."

In answering other questions, including one on sex education, the Governor said this should be the responsibility of parents and not educators.

to gain rapidly. The UK College of Agriculture Angus herd, for example, has four bulls that weighed over 1,100 pounds in one year, Bradley said.
A calf from one of these sires is gaining at the rate of 4 1/2 pounds a day, he added. In Kentucky, all beef bulls on post-weaning performance testing, an average about 850 pounds at one year old, and the typical rate of gain is a little under 3 pounds per day.

for each dollar invested if deepplanted nutrients are needed. On the other hand, lime and fertilizer may increase production costs and reduce profits when applied on land that has adequate fertility. Soil test results will help determine the most profitable fertilization program.
Soil conditions are ideal for obtaining good representative samples in the fall, and if tests indicate corrective treatment, the application of limestone in early autumn affords adequate time for its reaction in the soil.
Phosphate and potash fertilizer can be applied in the fall for next year's crops without danger of leaching during the winter months, except on very sandy soils. This reduces time and labor

Watchdogs of the DMT!

Responsibility for regulation on motor vehicles on Commonwealth highways is part of the job of the Kentucky Department of Motor Transportation. This includes manning the familiar scales at "weigh stations" along interstate highways.

The Department periodically holds "road-blocks" at unannounced intervals to check "for-hire" and private carriers for over-weight, safety and cab-card violations. These are required for all carriers with three or more axles to show that they have registered for use-tax purposes.

SOME DON'T STOP but they are quickly apprehended by DMT patrol inspectors in cars standing by at the weigh station. A stiff penalty for violation of motor vehicle regulations is a stiff penalty for failure to stop for the scales.

Test Soil In Fall Experts Advise

Fall is the ideal time to obtain good representative soil samples for testing. Soil test results, combined with past fertilization and cropping history, serve as an excellent guide in planning the fertilization program to increase profits on crops for next year.

Harold Miller, Extension Specialist in Soils at the University of Kentucky, recommends soil testing in the fall of the year since it affords farmers and Extension agents ample time to man announce the birth of correct soil deficiencies before the new planting. Proper fertilization can return three to five dollars

Absentee Ballot Deadline Is Thursday, October 6

The deadline to apply to your county clerk for an absentee ballot to vote in the Nov. 4 election is Thursday, Oct. 6.
Any qualified voter who will be away from his home county on election day is eligible. All applications for absentee ballots must be notarized.
The ballot you vote also must be notarized and returned by mail to the county clerk so he will receive it by the time the polls close at 6 p.m., local time, on election day.

Two proposed amendments to the state constitution will be on the ballot. Half the state senators and all the state representatives will be chosen. Also on ballots in districts, counties and municipalities will be candidates for circuit court judgeships, commonwealth's attorneys, and various offices such as county judges, sheriffs, and mayors.

The Truth Generally Lies Under the Surface

The true facts about anything are seldom pure and never simple. Facts often are deeply hidden, like the seven-eighths of an iceberg which always lie under water.

When your newspaper reporter says to the mayor, or the school superintendent, or the chief of police, "May I ask you a question or two?" he is really "diving" for facts. He hopes to bring to the light of day other related names, figures, or relationships which will tell his readers a fuller story.

Good newspapers, good newspapermen constantly dive, dig, and probe beneath the appearances of things to their deeper, often hidden meanings and connections.

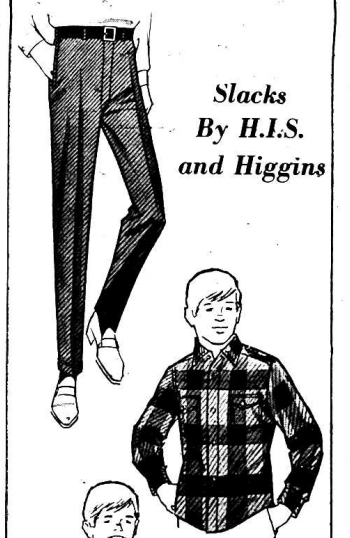

There are all kinds of newspapers and all kinds of newspapermen. Nobody ever claimed they were all perfect. But one thing is certain: No other agency, institution, or group of people of any kind is engaged in digging out and publishing important facts about our public life.

That's the job of a free and unlicensed press. This newspaper would like you to remember that during National Newspaper Week, October 5-11.

HOLLYHOCK IN THE GARDEN

Hollyhock is a perennial plant that is preferred by home gardeners. Hollyhock is especially desirable for use in ornamental gardens in the Southern United States because it is better suited to warmer climates. In fact, this plant thrives in hot, dry climates. The Hollyhock flowers are large and very beautiful. Varying shades of white, yellow and red are the predominant colors of the Hollyhock. The Hollyhock often attains heights of eight feet or more.

We choose only the loveliest and most colorful flowers for our customers. Every floral arrangement we prepare has our special attention. Telephone us when you need flowers. We deliver locally to wire to distant cities.

$698,500 Grant And Loan Approved For Brodhead Water And Sewer Project

A $698,500 grant and loan, approved by the Economic Development Association, assures Brodhead of an improved water system and new sewer system.

The long-awaited announcement that the federal government had made a grant of $397,500 and a loan of $301,000 was made Tuesday in a telegram from Rep. Tim Lee Carter.

The telegram reads as follows: "Congressman Tim Lee Carter announced today that the Department of Commerce has made a grant to the City of Brodhead to help stimulate industrial growth and create new jobs in Rockcastle County. In addition to the $397,500 grant, there is a loan of $301,000."

In addition to the grant and loan, another $54,000 will go to Brodhead from the federal Water Pollution Control Administration to aid in completing wastewater treatment facilities.

The original application to EPA was submitted by Brodhead about five years ago when they applied for a grant and loan large enough to build an entire water system, including their own water treatment plant, and a sewer system. The application was later amended, after Mt. Vernon's water project was approved, to a request for a grant and loan in the amount finally granted. After the second application had been made, the government suggested that Brodhead cut back their area to be served by the sewer system to mainly the business district. However, the Brodhead Town Board stood fast in their request and the project was approved in its entirety. Brodhead will now hook onto the City of Mt. Vernon water line at the Ben Craig residence on U.S. 150 with a six-inch line. This line will provide plenty of water to take care of the 300 to 325 customers to be served. This is an increase of about 50 over the customers now served. The base rate now charged is $2.40 per 2,000 gallons; however, the expense of the new system will probably necessitate an increase in the rate as it did in Mt. Vernon. The charge for sewer service will be 75% of the water bill. The project also includes a 200,000 gallon storage tank and a sewer treatment plant. There will also be a pressure valve located around Hall's Hill. According to reports, three businesses in Brodhead will benefit greatly from the new facilities. Cass Metal Products Co., Brodhead Mills, and the Sower Nursing Home. They expect to provide 35 new jobs through expansion. Service will also be carried to a 30 acre industrial site being developed by the city and another industrial area of 28 acres under development by the Rockcastle Development Association.

Local officials reportedly told EPA that the two sites have a combined potential for 460 new jobs when and if they are fully occupied by industry.

Nunn Announces Tax Cut Proposals

Gov. Louie B. Nunn this week announced tax cut proposals which over a two-year period, he said, will provide $20 million in tax relief for the needy, the sick, the blind and the elderly.

His program, scheduled for presentation to the legislature in January, includes: Exemption of prescription medicine from the state sales tax, including the tax passed in 1960 as well as the increase passed by the 1968 General Assembly.

Elimination of the five per cent use tax on transfer of auto within a family. Raising the maximum standard income tax reductions. This would exempt some 113,000 Kentuckians from all state income tax liability.

Doubling the present $20 tax credit for persons over 65 and the blind under 65; and doubling the $40 credit for the blind over 65. In the television and radio address Oct. 1 in which he made public his proposals, Governor Nunn said the savings are possible because "we have conquered the fiscal chaos" which greeted his administration in Dec., 1967.

The Governor added he was announcing his plan now, instead of waiting until the legislature convenes because of "the alarming demonstration of fiscal irresponsibility by some candidates now running" for that body.

Pointing out that only the legislature "can establish, raise or reduce taxes," he urged all candidates to make known their positions on his proposals as soon as possible so that:

"The voters may be in a better position to choose who shall come to Frankfort in January for what will in my estimation be one of the most important legislative sessions in the history of the Commonwealth."

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

National Newspaper Week, October 5-11, provides a welcome occasion for all of our citizens to think about our newspapers and the traditions in which they work. I am pleased to have this opportunity to add my own words of greeting.

A free and unmanaged press is one of the great products of our system of government and one of its most important guarantors. Much of the world does not know this freedom, nor has it always been present in America. In 1690, one of the first American newspapers, Public Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic, was suppressed after one issue. Only fourteen years later did another newspaper appear in the colonies.

Over the years bold and brilliant men and women won for the American press the freedom it enjoys today, both to report and to interpret the events of our time. Now, with the whole field of communications revolutionized beyond man's farthest dreams, it is incumbent upon all of us—journalists and readers alike—to see that this freedom is maintained and used in a way that is both creative and responsible. Today's newspapers are heirs to a great tradition—one which must be honored and extended.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am sending you a check for $4 for the Signal for another year.

I enjoy reading the paper very much although there isn't too much about the people that I knew when we lived there about 44 years ago.

I know there are still a lot of people in and around Mt. Vernon that I knew such as Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rush, Mrs. Ruby Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stokes, Mrs. Mart Cromer, and my dear uncle, McKinley Arnold. I am sure there are a lot more too.

My name was Dora Arthur and I went to school at Hope Well a few years also to Chestnut Ridge a couple of years.

I won't forget some of the good old days there.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Louis Boyd
Herscher, Ill.

It's wonderful to journey to "the big waters" for fishing. It's a grand trip and the scenery is outstanding at this time of the year. Also, fishing is good in these major lakes in October and November. But, for the fellow who is unable to go on a prolonged trip, we would suggest that he may have much pleasure in fishing the farm ponds. They are in prime condition in the fall for the black bass and also the bluegill still will be active until the water temperatures plunge way down. There are more than 50,000 farm ponds of half acre or larger that have been stocked down through the years with the correct balance of bass and bluegill. This formula, that has been acclaimed the best for the production of these two species, has been adopted by the Kentucky fisheries and the wisdom of the choice is evidenced by the fine catches of fish that are made from these backdoor

"DON'T ENCOURAGE ACCIDENTS TO HAPPEN"—a play on the five-letter word "DEATH" will soon appear on bumper stickers being placed on state-owned cars throughout Kentucky. The slogan submitted by state highway employee Susan Griffin, won her a $25 dinner certificate. Making the presentation was Arthur E. Beard, executive director of the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, who sponsored the contest.

Ponds other than those stocked by the Department also are fishable and from them may be taken croppie, bluegill and, of course, bass as well as catfish. From the balanced ponds, however, the only two species available are the bluegill and the black bass but their abundance and vigor make up for the absence of other species.

As of now the black bass are working in the shallow water near the banks, especially in early morning and late afternoon. They apparently are seeking food and perhaps one reason for their nearness to shore is the presence of grasshoppers that make the mistake of trying to hop across the pond. They don't begin to make it and fall into the water near the banks. As they attempt to swim to the shore to extricate themselves from their dilemma they create ripples on the water and that is when Mr. Bass strikes for his breakfast or supper. Having been lured into this area, the black bass is a relatively easy mark for the fisherman armed with surface lures, popping bugs etc. who needs only to walk quietly around the bank, casting alongside the shore. In all probability he'll come away with a nice string of bass. This, of course, is best in the early morning and late afternoon or it may be successfully practiced in midday when the sky is overcast.

For the fellow who likes to absorb the warm October sunshine in midday he may take good catches of black bass from these ponds. He'll use a different lure, however, and one of the deadliest would be the artificial nightcrawler which many fishermen now say catch 50 per cent of all the bass harvested, statewide.

By working the plastic worm along the bottom ever so slowly, allowing several seconds to pass between each turn of the reel, he'll more than apt hang into aunker.

The bigger bass are usually found in the deep sections of the lake and the nightcrawler will move much like a live worm or snake along the bottom. Fishermen should not be too anxious to hit back when he feels the first touch of the worm, the line should be allowed to run 30 or 40 feet or even further before setting the hook with a vicious jerk. Then the battle is on. Other type lures are productive in many ponds and those many acres of handy water will offer good fishing for a great number of fishermen.

"Our electric heat pump cooled us through the summer," say Mr. & Mrs. J. T. Pollard of Lancaster. "And it'll keep us mighty comfortable all winter too!"

"It's really something!" says Mr. Pollard. "We keep our thermostat set at say 75° if the weather gets cold our heat pump automatically changes top — from cooling to warming. We get just-right comfort, season in, season out, without lifting a finger."

"And I don't lift a finger as much in housecleaning either," adds Mrs. Pollard. "Being flameless and so clean, electricity gives us comfort without all the furnace-made dirt and fumes."

Before you build or remodel ask our local office all about installing an electric heat pump. The cost is bound to be a pleasant surprise.

Shorthorn-Charolais Field Day Planned
The Cooperative Extension Service and the Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association will hold a Field Day in the Louisville Area on Saturday, October 11, at Sutherland and Grandel Farms. The morning program at Sutherland Farms will start at approximately 9:00 a.m. with judging of rings of Shorthorn cattle and a discussion of the placings by Mr. Jack Ragdale, Manager. Lunch for a nominal charge will be served. The group will then go to Grandel Farms where rings of Charolais cattle will be judged and discussion of the placings by Mr. Don Ball, Manager, will be made. Sutherland Farms is located on U.S. 42, east of Louisville, which may be reached by driving north on the Waterson Expressway (264) turning right on U.S. 42 to the Hunter's Creek Subdivision where signs will give directions to the Farms. For the afternoon meeting, proceed east on I 71 to La Grange, south on 53 to center of Ballardsville and turn to the left to this Field Day?

New Beef Research Starts at UK
"Weight-watching" for Dr. Neil W. Bradley means an entirely different thing than it does for many Americans. Bradley, an expert in beef cattle production in the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture, is working on extensive research to find the ideal conditions for beef cattle to gain weight rapidly and economically. The multi-purpose project involves 120 head of beef cattle and 240 acres of land. "This work," Bradley said, "will give us practical information directly applicable to beef producers. And because the state has had a 140 per cent increase in beef cows in recent years, we need to know about the everyday conditions of raising beef in Kentucky."

Among the questions Bradley is asking is what season should cows have calves—spring or fall? Fall calves are more costly for the farmer because they must be fed through the winter. However, information needs to be gathered on just how they compare in production costs, their rates of gain, and if a more cost-effective method of the greater feeding costs of the fall calves.

INTRODUCING MORTY THE MORTICIAN, a cartoon character who urges the public to ignore traffic safety rules and "make a goal for a ghoul". Arthur "Buzz" Beard, executive director of Kentucky's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, announced "Morty" will help them make the public realize safe driving has got to become everyone's business.

What types of pastures will produce the best beef, and is creep feeding (supplemental grain rations) necessary? To find this out, Bradley divided the 120 cows into eight groups of 15 animals and assigned each group to two 15-acre pastures. The eight pastures are divided into four bluegrass-clover and four fescue-clover plots. On two each of the bluegrass pastures, creep feeding will be used.

The 120-head herd is half spring calves and half fall calves. The 60 animals in each class are then divided into four 15-animal groups and placed on the various pasture-grain combinations. Thus, all three factors—birth date, pasture type, and creep or no creep feeding—are combined in eight separate and different treatments.

Another factor under study is selective breeding to produce animals with the genetic or "built-in" abil-

THERE ARE NO TWO ALIKE—unless, of course, they both happen to come from the same finger. And, if they do, you can bet KSP fingerprint expert Frank Anastasio will match it up with the right suspect.

Fearing that the future generations would be deprived of seeing and knowing about the type of vehicles which were designed and driven in the early days of automobile history, Edmund Danglerfield, England, in 1912, set about the task of founding a museum to preserve these relics of yesteryear. It was a difficult and thankless task, for few people shared his interest, but his efforts were not in vain, for today, there are many museums which set aside space for these ancient and priceless vehicles. In England, in America and in many other countries of the world. Probably, in the future, first editions of the mobile homes will also hold such place in museums of ancient items, for even today we can see and compare the outstanding progress that mobile homes have made since the first ones appeared on the market. Take the Deluxe Homestead by Schulz, these models are featured in various lengths to suit your personal needs, with Tip-top rooms, (which are optional), are furnished in exquisite taste, with numbers of built-in features, to give the maximum amount of living space and are constructed of the finest materials to give you a lifetime of lasting living pleasure. A home is a thing that should last a lifetime, and the Deluxe Homestead is qualified to do just that.

"You'd scarcely expect one of my age to speak in public on a stage," recited a 7-year-old school boy, "Don't view me with a critic's eye, but pass my imperfections by... tall oaks from little acorns grow. These thoughts inspire my youthful mind to be the greatest of mankind." This lad was not a 4-H'er, but he could have been. He lived in New Ipswich, New Hampshire in 1791.

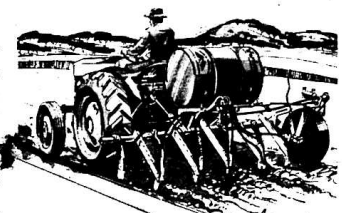

Today's 4-H youngsters exemplify these often quoted lines, as did the first Head-Heart-Hands' Health youth of the early 1900's. Boys and girls work on projects that frequently shape their lives and future careers. Millions of 4-H alumni say early 4-H training was a big step toward their successes.

"Learning-by-doing" has always been the 4-H way. Showing and sharing new knowledge gained and skills learned is part of the 4-H pattern. The steps to growth are unaltering. A pre-teen girl enrolled in a clothing program starts out by making a simple item and progresses according to her ability. By the time she is in high school, she makes most of her own clothes. As a teen 4-H leader she teaches younger members how to sew.

Like the New England boy and the poet, 4-H youths find plenty of inspiration for mind-stretching and using their hands to master skills. Projects are designed to arouse their curiosity and raise questions. The more they learn, the more competent they are to experiment, explore and find the answers, believes the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H. And there are rewards both intrinsic and material. Renovation for accomplishment is readily given by 4-H leaders, parents and others. More than $1 million contributed annually by private sources is channeled to 4-H members through the (Cont. to 11).
