

Library Notes

New books received here from the Department of Libraries.

ACAPITO, by Alvaro Carranza-Hinc. The sights, sounds, smells of a 7-year-old boy's expanding world on a Costa Rican ranch are captured here in a series of brief monologues addressed to the boy's companion, the family pet Agapito.

THE ANDROMEDA STRAIN, by Michael Crichton. A novel of the world's first space-age biological crisis; it presents the terrifying possibility that man's explorations into the unknown may bring him in contact with new and virulent life forms beyond his experience and ability to survive.

THE COMPLETE BOOK OF DRAG RACING, by Lyle Engle. The entire panorama of the violent, explosive world of drag-racing from pioneer performance to today's blinding speeds.

DEFECTION UNLIMITED, by Georgette Heyer. Georgette Heyer fans will find this mystery novel a pleasant change from her usual Regency novels; a change that they will enjoy.

AN EMPTY SPOON, by Seny Decker. A touching document of the experience of teaching English in an all-Negro high school.

THE GENEROUS YEARS, by Chet Huntley. The famous newsster reminisces about growing up in Montana.

IN THE TIME OF SILENT CAL, by James Abels. Called Silent Cal, President Coolidge served in one of the most talked about eras in American history, the 1920's. The volume presents the thesis that the paradox that was that famous decade was reflected in the attitudes of the man who led the country. A fascinating retrospective history.

LIFE WITH DAKTARI, by Susanne Hart. Living in Africa is unique in itself; however, as Susanne Hart relates in this autobiography, if you and your husband are both vets, it can be even more unusual. A volume which will be welcomed by all animal and adventure lovers.

ROBERT KENNEDY, A MEMOIR, by Jack Newfield. A biography of one of the most controversial figures of contemporary political life.

THE SCREAMING SKULLS AND OTHER GHOST STORIES, by Eileen O'Donnell. A collection of true and legendary ghost stories.

THE SEMPINSKI AFFAIR, by W.S. Kunitz. An intriguing mystery involving the records of the trial and death of Christ.

A SPECIAL AND CURIOUS BLESSING, by Cynthia Propper Seton. A unique but positive volume on being a woman in contemporary society.

TWENTIETH CENTURY DISCOVERY, by Isaac Asimov. "Twentieth Century Discovery" offers a lively and erudite survey of some of the extraordinary changes that have taken place in scientific thought and action since 1900.

MILL MRS. MAJOR GO TO HELL?, by Aloise Buckley Heath. An autobiography of Aloise Buckley Heath, sister to William F. Buckley, Jr. and a woman who could be one of the foremost humorists of her time.

THE BONUS OF REDONA, by Robert D. Abrahams. A young boy's wish to become ruler of an uninhabited island is fulfilled in unusual circumstances. Ingredients of this exciting tale included a witch, an escaped criminal, and a rum smuggler. Grades 5-7.

BOTH ENDS OF THE LEASH, by Kurt Unkelbach. This volume for those interested in selecting and training a dog. It contains a section on the best breeds of dogs for young people as well as information on care and training. Grades 4-7.

A GARLAND OF GAMES, by Barbara Cooney. Another excellent volume from Barbara Cooney. An alphabet book based on children's games and verses of colonial America. Preschool.

GUSTAVUS AND STOP, by Fenwick Kahn. After attending a circus, Gustavus decides to work up an act with his dog Stop. However, his act does not go according to plan as Stop's reactions bring unexpected results. Pre-school.

HANS THE MILLER MAN, by Bernadette Hans. All alone and is desperately looking for a friend. He finds that friendship is something to be valued when it is offered and that it can often come from unexpected sources. Pre-school-2.

JANE AND THE NODDING MANDARIN, by Eve Hanley. The Nodding Mandarin reflects Jane's desire to be a dancer. However, her talent is not for dancing but for singing. Her attempts to reconcile her dream to reality make an intriguing story. Grades 5-7.

LETS FIGHT, by Sergei Mikhailov. A collection of Russian fables - amusing tales illustrated with inviting drawings. Grades 2-4.

A LION FOR A SITTER, by Helen Kay. Andy offers an interesting time trying to guess who is going to sit with him, with the animal kingdom playing an important part in his fantasy guessing game. His actual sitter, however, is one he welcomes and enjoys. Grades K-2.

THE LONG YEAR, by Ester Wier. As Jesse enters his teens, he finds his world in a constant state of change. His initial rebelliousness change teaches him several important lessons including maturity. Grades 5-7.

THE PHOENIX FOREST, by Lorus and Margery Milne. Fire is one of the most destructive forces the forests of America faces. This volume contains information on the regeneration of forests after they have been ravaged by fire, a regeneration similar to that of the legendary Phoenix bird. Grades 5-7.

THE REMARKABLE EGG, by Adelaide Holl. A mysterious red egg appears in cool's beautiful new nest and a survey of the other birds does not reveal to whom it belongs. However, when the owner does appear, children will be both surprised and delighted at the solution to the mystery of the red egg. Grades K-2.

THE ROCK REVOLUTION, by Arnold Shaw. One of the most startling innovations of the 50's was the introduction of Rock 'n' Roll. Here is a history of this musical movement and its effect on contemporary musical sound. Grades 7-up.

THE SECOND MAN, by Michael Doran. This volume focuses on the role of the vice-presidency, its origin, changes, and effect on national government. Grades 9-12.

SECRET OF THE SUNKEN TREASURE, by Marcello Thom. A young boy's unexpected pleasure and mystery while staying at Pirate's Cay, the site of sunken treasure. Grades 6-9.

THE STAR AND THE SWORD, by Pamela Melnikoff. Benedict and Elvira find themselves orphans in Twelfth Century England.

In their search for a home they are befriended by the legendary Robin Hood and his friends. A fast-paced adventure. Grades 5-7.

SWORDS, SCYTHES AND SANDALS, by Richard Suskind. The backbone of the famed Roman Empire was the Roman fighting man who helped make up the legions. This volume is both an introduction to and an explanation of Roman military strength, strength that conquered the world. Grades 4-6.

TOBIAS, by Jacob Bech Nygaard. An import from Denmark - Tobias, the Magic Mouse is chosen by his fellow mice to lead them and to teach men and animals how to behave themselves. A whimsical tale that will prove to be a favorite. Grades 3-6.

TWO TIME ROOKIE, by Joe Archibald. Sports fans will enjoy this story about a rookie striving to attain the Big Leagues. Grades 6-9.

WILD REFUGE, by George Loycock. One of the dangers of contemporary society is the destruction of wildlife. An answer to this danger is the formation of National Wildlife Refuges, set up to provide sanctuary for wildlife. Primarily a tour of the more important refuges, this is an excellent work on animals and their protectors. Grades 4-6.

THE WOLFLING, by Sterling North. The author of the popular Rascal has written another excellent animal story. This time a wolf is the featured character in a tale of the early American Midwest.

"BRODHEAD" (Cor. 5-10-12) Mrs. Billy Riddle and son, David, were in Lexington recently to consult a doctor for David. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cooper of Cincinnati, Ohio spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Helton. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bishop of Lexington were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shirl Browne and other relatives.

Rabbit-Quail Season Opens November 20

The Third Thursday in November! To hunters of rabbits and quail that means the opening of the season. It was decreed by the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission several years ago that the season for these two small game species would open on the traditional Third Thursday in November. This year that date falls on November 20 and, so contrary to published reports in some magazines, the opening date is November 20 and anyone who hunts before that date is in violation of the law.

The closing date for these two seasons, which is not of too much interest to hunters right now but which will be vital later on, is January 31.

Bag and possession limits for each species are unchanged this year at six rabbits per day or 12 in possession after two or more days of hunting, and 10 quail per day, or 20 in possession.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, through its Division of Game Management, each year, conducts a survey on the population trends of quail and rabbits in cooperation with approximately 800 rural mail carriers. On a voluntary basis, these carriers, on the last week in June, July, and August, count the number of rabbits and quail sighted on their regular routes. The result is totaled for every section of Kentucky. The number sighted is used as an indication of any increase, decrease, or status quo of these species. Biologists in charge of the survey have encouraging news for both rabbit and quail hunters. The number of rabbits tagged statewide was about 19 percent above the number sighted last year and was above the average for the past several years. This definitely indicates an increase in this year's rabbit population which for the past several years has been down. Last year, the quail hunters had remarkable success in Kentucky. This year, that success should be even greater. The survey showed an overall increase in the number of quail sighted by the carriers. To be sure, in both surveys increases in some areas were greater than in others and actually in some sections the number declined, but only slightly. According to the findings, the Bluegrass region of Kentucky had the largest increase in rabbits while the Western region showed more quail than last year. But remember that opening date—the Third Thursday in November, November 20.

We Will Start Receiving Tobacco FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14 SALES BEGIN MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24 "More Service When You Unload More Dollars When You Sell"

Impala's hidden persuaders:

- ① 350-cu.-in. engine A new more powerful standard 230-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance. On good ol' regular gas.
- ② Anti-theft column lock A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your car but your steering wheel as well.
- ③ Aluminized exhaust system It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to. Fair enough?
- ④ Side guard beams They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact. Not too many cars have them.
- ⑤ Full Coil suspension Huge coil springs at four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.
- ⑥ Flush and dry We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out. Air follows to do the drying.
- ⑦ Inner fenders Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.

On the move.

ANOTHER OUTSTANDING QUAIL SEASON HINTED

Sportsmen of Kentucky may well have another outstanding quail season, possibly better than that of last year. Ideal weather prevailed during the nesting and brood seasons and that should mean more quail, biologists of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, say.

The season will open on the third Thursday of November, this year November 20, and continue through January 31, for 74 days of hunting. The limits are unchanged from past seasons with 10 birds per day and a possession limit of 20 after two or more days of hunting. Hunting opportunities are abundant throughout the state on both private and public hunting areas.

However, all hunters are urged to be sure to ask permission to hunt before going onto the land of another. This, of course, is common courtesy and furthermore, is required by law.

Quail hunting today most usually means only a short jaunt from home. In many cases counties located close to large cities offer good quail hunting. These covey birds thrive where food and cover are abundant and it is recommended that the hunter locate such an area before the season opens.

YOUTH REVIVAL

A Youth Revival will be held November 14, 15, and 16 at 7:30 each evening at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church on Route 1, Brodhead, Kentucky. It will be the Evangelist, James Jennings, pastor of the church, invites the youth to attend.

TANK TRAINING GROUNDS—Maj. Gen. Larry C. Dawson, adjutant general of Kentucky, points to the week-end training grounds for armored vehicles of the Kentucky National Guard. The Western Kentucky site is land that has been strip mined and cannot be used for anything else until reclaimed. Finding training sites for the tankers has been a problem. Dawson said. "You know, you just can't drive a tank over somebody's road." The State Military Department sub-leased the 3,500-acre site from the Army Corps of Engineers.

Complete Cost-Share Practices: Several farmers have minor details to complete on A.C.P. cost-share conservation practices before they can be certified as meeting specifications by the Soil Conservation Service. Cold weather is approaching and may prohibit completing some parts of practices such as concrete work in spring development and stock-water tanks.

Farmers can complete these details now, before cold weather and avoid problems later in the year.

Rockcastle County's Representative To A Presidential Study

Group looking into the problem of hunger in the nation plans to participate as a champion of the elderly.

"There are old people going hungry right here in Rockcastle County," said Mrs. ZI Graves, a 56-year-old grandmother.

She is one of 26 women from across the country selected to participate in a White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health Dec. 2-4.

Each of the women invited to participate in the conference was asked to serve with professionals on one of 26 panels dealing with areas of the broad problem of hunger. The conference hopes to incorporate the recommendations of the panels into an extensive program.

Mrs. Graves chose a panel dealing with the aged. Through it, she hopes to bring new insights into the nutrition problems of the elderly.

"I can see all about me the very serious problems of the senior citizens in our county," she said. "Some have no transportation to get to stores, some have no money to buy food and can't get food stamps, and others are simply unable to cook for themselves."

The only non-professional member of the panel on aging, Mrs. Graves said she will "be expected to contribute suggestions to the answers they (the professionals) come up with."

In announcing the conference, the President said his recommendations would form the basis of a national policy designed to erase once and for all the problem of hunger and malnutrition among the nation's poor.

This could be accomplished, he said, by channeling the efforts of all governmental agencies, agricultural producers, food wholesalers, etc., into a common direction.

Rep. DeMarcus Is Likely Prospect For Minority Leader

Harold DeMarcus, State Representative from Lincoln and Rockcastle County, is a likely prospect for House Minority Leader of the 1970 state House of Representatives, according to an article published in Sunday's Lexington Herald by Don Mills, Herald Editor.

Rep. DeMarcus, who is a six year veteran of the House, is a frequent speaker on the House floor. "He had a good deal of support last time for the post, (Minority Leader) especially from rural Republicans," the article stated.

DeMarcus won re-election by the largest majority of any Republican House member in the last election and helped to pull in most of the major Lincoln County offices for the Republican Party. Republicans, in Lincoln County, won the offices of County Judge, County Court Clerk, Jailor, Coroner, three out of the four magisterial seats, and all four constables. Out of 120 counties in the state, Republicans either stood still or lost ground in the general election, the only exception being Lincoln County which elected more Republicans than they had ever before.

Rep. DeMarcus has told the Signal many times that he feels Lincoln County is at an advantage that he is from Stanford, since he is also a member of the House of Representatives.

 A basketball game will be held December 6 at Mt. Vernon School between the Mt. Vernon Cowboys and the Brodhead Indians for the benefit of the County Kindergarten, according to Mrs. Roland Mullins, Director of the Kindergarten.

Ky Telephone Plans Increase In Services

J.H. Crawford, District Manager for Kentucky Telephone Company announced this week that an increase in long distance service is scheduled late this year. "Our company will spend $124,000 for an increase in long distance circuits and all associated equipment," Crawford said. The first addition, scheduled for late December, will increase circuits by 13%. A second addition, planned for June 1970, will increase available circuits by another 23%.

Crawford explained that these additions are very significant from the customer's standpoint since this increases the number of simultaneous long distance calls that can be placed to and from Rockcastle County. This will improve the chances of all customers for getting an open circuit when they wish to place a call.

Crawford pointed out that the Rockcastle County exchanges, of Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston at the rate of 275 telephones per year. With this many new customers, the need for more long distance facilities was realized. The addition should meet our present needs. "We will continue to watch the growth in this area so that our local and long distance needs are balanced," Crawford said.

FISCAL COURT MEETS
 Only items of routine interest were brought before Rockcastle County's Fiscal Court at their monthly meeting last Wednesday, November 5.

BLUE DEVILS DEFEATED
 After a close first half, the Livingston Blue Devils went down to defeat at the hands of Ansville 63 to 33 in a game played at Anville last Friday night.

The devils looked exceptionally well on rebounding and defense but could not find the range in shooting." Coach Preston Parrett said. He further stated, "I have never seen a team fight or work any harder than those boys and I am real proud of the effort put forth by them. They are a good ball team and will progress as the season moves along."

Friday night, the 14th, the Devils will play Lone Jack at home. Lone Jack is reportedly going to be one of the strongest teams in the 13th Region this year.

HIATT'S 5 & 10 BROKEN IN
 Thieves entered Hiatt's Five and Ten on Main Street in Mt. Vernon some time Sunday night by forcing entry through a side door. Taken in the break-in was a guitar and several B B guns.

The break-in was discovered early Sunday morning by City Police Junior Estes and McKinley Arnold. (Cont. To Back Page)

The main items of business was the transferring of $3,000 from the hospital fund which will be distributed equally to the five Magistrates for work on county roads. All the bonds on the hospital have been paid off and there is a balance of several thousand dollars in the account. This money, one county official said, would probably be used to pay for any needed work on the hospital.

CRIG IN ENGLAND
 Master Sergeant Jennings Craig, formerly of Mt. Vernon, has arrived for duty at Upper Heryford RAF Station, England.

Sergeant Jennings Craig, a maintenance technician, is assigned to the 66th Transportation Squadron, a unit of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, America's overseas air arm assigned to NATO. He previously served at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio.

The sergeant, whose wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linville of Mt. Vernon, is a 1948 graduate of Mt. Vernon High School. He is the son of Mrs. Nannie S. Craig.

SGT. WENDELL ABNEY AT DUTY IN MISSOURI
 U.S. Air Force Sergeant Wendell K. Abney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil N. Abney of R.R. 3, Mt. Vernon, has arrived for duty at the Richards-Gebauer AFB, Mo.

Sgt. Abney is a computer repairman with the 4669th Support Squadron, a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command which protects the U.S. against hostile aircraft and missiles.

The sergeant, who previously served at Topsham Air Force Station, Maine, is a 1965 graduate of Mt. Vernon High School.

WILLIAM K. RIDDLE DIES IN LOUISVILLE
 William K. Riddle, 65, of Louisville, died Tuesday, November 4 at St. Anthony Hospital.

Mr. Riddle was a retired building contractor and a former building inspector for Jefferson County.

Survivors include his widow, the former Hazel Ruth Haysinger of Mt. Vernon; a daughter, Mrs. Sam Hart; four sons, Darwin, Tommy, Roland, and Wayne, all of Louisville, and eleven grandchildren.

Rev. Ken Clayton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, cordially invites you to attend.

First Baptist Church Revival Begins Nov. 17
 The First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon will be in Revival November 17 through the 23.

Rev. Ken Clayton, pastor of Burk's Branch Baptist Church in Shelbyville, will serve as evangelist.

Rev. Clayton is a native of Tennessee, a graduate of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville and is currently studying toward a Doctor of Theology Degree at Southern Seminary.

Services will be conducted each evening at 7 p.m. Nursery will be provided for children three years of age and younger.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn testified before the House Committee on Education and Labor in Washington Thursday in "the case of the taxpayers versus the Office of Economic Opportunity."

A spokesman in Frankfort said the Governor, due to the lateness of the notice to appear, would confine himself to such subjects as political activity, circumvention of congressional intent, poor administration and coercion of OEO recipients.

The Governor said before leaving for the hearing that he strongly opposes the OEO program in Kentucky "because of waste and also because of the manipulation not only of funds involved but of needy citizens of the Commonwealth."

'AN INTERRUPTION'

A "temporary interruption" was the phrase used by Governor Nunn Wednesday to "correct" an interviewer who referred to the Democrats' capture of the mayor and county judge offices as "an end" to Republican rule in Louisville and Jefferson County.

The Governor, a Republican, said he was "very pleased with the results" in areas of the state "where we worked—spent our time." Asserting that in three key races for the state senate, Republicans overcame substantial Democratic registration advantages to win, he cited George Plummer, Elliott Greenup and Lewis Collins; Clyde Middleton, Kenton, and Ray White, Warren, Edmonson, Grayson, Chio and Beckinsridge.

RACING CONFIES

Dates in racing dates between Kentucky's thoroughbred and standardbred tracks next year have been avoided by representatives of the two groups, Chairman George E. Egger of the Kentucky State Racing Commission said in announcing 224 days of thoroughbred racing for 1970, the same as this year.

"We have met with the members of the Trotting Commission and worked with them many hours to get this done," said Egger, "but it couldn't have been accomplished without the cooperation of Churchill Downs (Louisville)."

"They have given up one week of their fall meeting to avoid conflict with the Lexington Trot, but we have added these days onto their meeting in the spring."

The Kentucky Derby will be May 2.

FOR THE DEFENSE

In "defending so-called 'weaker' regulations adopted last month by the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission, State Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubbs told the Louisville Oil Men's Club at Louisville last night.

"The Department of Commerce must favor air pollution control measures which will provide good protection but which will not be an unnecessary deterrent or burden to industrial and economic growth."

Declaring the regulations adopted are comparable in toughness to those of neighboring states, Grubbs said more stringent measures would cost the state thousands of jobs due to relocation of plants that otherwise would come to Kentucky.

COMPUTER ON STRIKE

The Kentucky State Fair Board selected Aug. 20-29 as dates for the 1970 fair, formed a special corporation to promote its giant exposition center, and learned at its last meeting that the computer it leased last summer had stubbornly refused to process payments from the 1969 fair.

Donald Johnston, the fair's executive director, said the computer had choked up on the tobacco payments, stumbled over the quarter horse show, and run scared on the rabbit pages.

"He added he had found a substitute for the computer—people—that they would process the checks by hand, and should have them in the mail by Nov. 15."

RECOVERY RAPID

Governor Nunn, fully recovered apparently from the exhaustion and nausea which led to his hospitalization Oct. 31, flew to Cincinnati for a conference with Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes Monday and traveled to Glasgow to vote Tuesday.

Governors Nunn and Rhodes

WATERWAY PUSHED

Another move to include funds for the Tennessee-Tombigbee (or Paducah-to-Tampa) Waterway in the 1971 Federal Budget was made by Governor Nunn through an official substitute, Kentucky Natural Resources Commissioner James Shropshire, at a hearing in Washington.

Governor Nunn, chairman of a livestock authority that has been promoting the said it would provide "a water shortcut" from the Ohio and Tennessee valleys to the Gulf of Mexico and stimulate the economy of Kentucky and other states.

But, said the Governor's message, "we have talked about the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway enough; we need action and we need action now."

HUNTING AND FISHING IN KENTUCKY

The fellow who attempts to forecast wildlife populations of a particular species for a given period is called a forecaster. There are so many imponderables that in comparison the weather forecaster has it much better than does the game or fishing forecaster, if indeed there are such persons. It is not the policy of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources to forecast good fishing on a given day or good hunting for a particular species during a given season. All that can be done is to give the conditions and let the hunter or fisherman take it from there.

So with the rabbit and quail hunting season in the offing (it begins on the first Thursday in November every year, and this year that date is November 20) we will point out facts obtained by persons concerned with wildlife management—persons who are closest to wildlife on a statewide basis. We'll give some findings of a survey conducted the past summer and let you form your own conclusions about the quail and rabbit populations for the upcoming season.

First, something should be known about the survey—when it was conducted it is called the mail carrier survey and has been used by the Game Management Division of the Department since 1960. It is a survey by comparison with former years rather than with numbers. It clearly indicates upward or downward trends of either of the species for specific years. And this is all it is supposed to do.

The carriers, about 1,000 per year, started their voluntary quail-rabbit census in 1960. They were requested to record all young and adult rabbits and quail observed during the last weeks of June, July and August. They do this while driving their regular mail routes, over the same area about the same time every day. The results of this census are used as an index to statewide populations of these two species and reflects populations from year to year. Each year's August samplings and these findings, (the number of rabbits and quail per 100 miles of driving) are recorded same routes in past years.

signed an agreement to start work on a replacement for the C & O two-lane bridge between Cincinnati and Covington which was closed nearly a year ago as a hazard to travel.

The Governor was hospitalized in Frankfort on his return from Chicago, where he conferred with Vice President Spiro Agnew. He returned to the executive residence Sunday. His press secretary, Larry Van Hoose, said a series of tests showed "everything normal."

"We have met with the members of the Trotting Commission and worked with them many hours to get this done," said Egger, "but it couldn't have been accomplished without the cooperation of Churchill Downs (Louisville)."

"They have given up one week of their fall meeting to avoid conflict with the Lexington Trot, but we have added these days onto their meeting in the spring."

KEA HAS PLAN

J. Marvin Dodson, in a television interview, said the Kentucky Education Association, of which he is executive secretary, will probably ask the 1970 legislature to raise the ceiling on property taxes above what any school district is now levying.

The ceiling to which Dodson referred was fixed in the 1965 tax rollback law which froze all property taxes at the total dollar figure those taxes yielded in 1965, with 10 per cent increases allowed in the following two years.

Dodson said inequities exist in the property tax structure because the rates in some school districts are as low as 32 cents per $100 of assessed valuation while in others they are as high as 92 cents.

Social Security News

'HOW TO KEEP THE CHECKS COMING'

You've been receiving a social security benefit check for some time and you depend on getting it on time. What can you do to make sure your checks will continue to arrive on time?

The most sensible course of action is to keep the Social Security Administration informed of any change in your working arrangements that may affect the payment of your checks.

As soon as you know when you're moving you should notify social security right away. If your notice is given early enough in the month, your next check should arrive at your new address on time. It also makes good sense to advise the post office of your move in case social security doesn't have enough time to catch your check before it's sent to your former address.

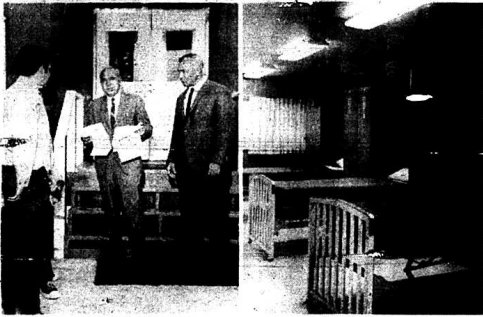

and still receive all your social security benefits. Even if your annual earnings are more than $1,680 you may still be eligible for some benefits.

Let social security know when there is a significant change in the amount of your earnings. If you earn less than you expected, you may have more benefits coming to you. If you make more, it's better to have benefits withheld. Also, complete the earnings report form that social security will mail you at the end of the year.

If you've ever wondered what you could do to insure that your benefit checks arrive on time, now you know. If you follow these suggestions, you'll find that your checks will continue to arrive on time.

If you're leaving the country for over 30 days, you should let social security know the date you'll leave. And if by any chance your business will take you into an "iron curtain" country, you should let social security know ahead of time, no matter how long you're planning to be gone. Treasury regulations prohibit the sending of checks to certain Iron Curtain countries.

A second way to keep the benefit checks coming on time is to let us know when you're working, even if it's only on a part-time basis. Your total yearly earnings and the number of months you work determine the amount of benefits that can be paid to you. You may earn up to $1,680 a year

CONVICT WITH A FUTURE—Being inmate No. 1 in a new jail is a dubious distinction at best, but in this case, there is a difference, and the young prisoner (second from left behind deputy with pistol) knows it. "I've been given a terrific break all the way around," he said. And he is right. But what is more, society stands to gain, too, because jails such as this one won't graduate the usual hardened criminal. The newly opened Frenchburg Correction Center is a jail, but it is more than another prison where convicts sit and wait. Superintendent James S. Little (right), and Asst. Superintendent LeRoy J. Porter (center) will supervise a prison where the most important bars are those that bar adult first offenders from daily contact with hardened convicts who usually teach new prisoners the old ways of crime.

Frozen stuffed turkey costs more than unstuffed turkey and may not save you a lot of time. When frozen stuffed turkey sells for 66¢ a pound, the raw turkey itself costs 77¢ a pound after the cost of the stuffing is subtracted — that's 30¢ a pound more than unstuffed turkey. Not having to stuff the turkey yourself may be convenient, but the turkey you buy already stuffed must be cooked frozen to prevent bacterial growth. This can mean up to three hours more cooking time than for a thawed, unstuffed bird. A turkey roasted without stuffing tastes just as good as a stuffed — and it takes less time to cook it. This idea may be hard for some homemakers to accept, but research has shown that a turkey gains little flavor from the stuffing. Experts recommend that, instead of stuffing the turkey, the stuffing be prepared separately the last hour the turkey is cooking.

Turkey roasts are much more convenient to serve than whole birds, but this convenience is costly. You'll have to decide for yourself whether the time and work saved is worth the extra cost. Cooked boneless meat from tied roasts costs, on the average, 53¢ more per pound than unstuffed whole turkey; the most from pan roasts averages $1.01 more. Of the two kinds of turkey roasts, the tied roast is a much better buy. A tied roast is simply boneless turkey meat — neck, thigh and, sometimes, leg — rolled and tied together. However, the pan roast is made up of roughly ground turkey meat and small pieces of whole turkey held together with turkey-based binders and, usually, with chemical binders. It's convenient to cook and slice a pan roast but the texture and flavor is not as good as boneless or whole turkey — and it costs much more.

Most pan and tied roasts come in boxes that are just labeled "turkey roast," making it difficult for you

Homemaker's Help

By: Faith Plummer, Co. Extension Agent.

Which is the best buy — unstuffed whole turkey, frozen stuffed turkey, tied turkey roast, or turkey pan roast? Here are some facts about different turkey products to help you choose as you shop for Thanksgiving dinner or for other November meals.

According to a study made by Consumers Union, whole unstuffed turkey is the best buy although it's not as inexpensive as most people think. A whole unstuffed turkey bought at 47¢ a pound will actually cost you $1.17 a pound for the cooked meat and skin served to your family because of the bones and waste that can't be used. This makes the cost per pound of a ready-to-serve turkey about the same as that of ready-to-serve ham and a little less than that of pork loin roast. At the time of this survey, ready-to-serve rib roast was 41¢ more per pound than turkey, but cooked chuck roast was to tell the difference when you are shopping. By checking the picture on the box carefully, you may be able to see the cord on the tied roast; if you can't see the cord, it's probably a pan roast.

How much turkey do you need to buy? Sometimes, you'll hear that a "standard" serving of cooked boneless turkey meat is about 3 ounces — but your family and guests probably would not agree with this figure. They'll be happier if you offer them about 7 ounces per person. This means 1 to 1½ pounds of whole unstuffed turkey or 1½ to 2 pounds of stuffed turkey per person (that is, if one-third of the weight of the unstuffed bird is stuffing).

For boned turkey or pan roast, allow about 12 ounces per person before cooking.

Turkey is one of the foods that are plentiful this month and you'll probably want to serve it for several November meals, as well as for Thanksgiving dinner. This information on the different turkey products may help you to get more for your money at the grocery. Do you wish you were a better shopper? Visit your Consumer Education Center —

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT...?

By: Leon Jasper

Around the turn of the century, horns, headlights, windshield, speedometers and bumpers were considered "extras" when purchasing an automobile.

The most unusual "extra" was the "Collapsible Pubber Driver." It was a life-like dummy so terrifying, absolutely guaranteed to frighten any potential car thief to death.

Today, when you purchase a new home, if you want "extras," you pay extra. That is, unless you buy a modern mobile home. All the "extras" such as carpeting, draperies, and interior decorating are included in one low price. The mobile home is completely equipped and furnished, in your choice of decor, with all the newest styles of furniture and appliances.

JASPEP & JASPER MOBILE HOMES, INC., has many fabulous mobile homes on display, and invite you to stop in and choose the one to suit your needs and family budget.

County Extension Agt.

Farm-Businessmen's Banquet

Mr. Shirley H. Phillips, Extension Specialist in Agronomy, was the guest speaker for the 10th annual Farmer-Businessmen's Banquet held November 7 at the Brookhead High School. Mr. Phillips is a native of Rockcastle County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S.H. Phillips, Sr.

Since Mr. Phillips became an agronomy specialist in 1953 for the University of Kentucky he has pioneered in several agronomy practices such as research in no-tillage corn performance, no-tillage soybean performance, aerial seeding of small grain, varietal evaluation trials of soybeans, etc.

Prior to assuming his present position Mr. Phillips was county agent in Harlan County for three years and associate county agent in Pulaski County for one year.

In recent years Mr. Phillips has received much recognition for his outstanding work in agronomy. He has received awards for outstanding service from Gamma Sigma Delta and Epsilon Sigma Phi, agriculture and extension fraternities. He is a member of the American Society for Agronomy, Vice-president of Kentucky Fielding Farmers and President of Kentucky Specialist Association.

In 1968 he was recognized by the Progressive Farmer magazine as the Man of the Year in Agriculture and in 1969 the Kentucky Specialist Association presented him with the outstanding specialist award.

Mr. Phillips completed high school at Mt. Vernon and received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Phillips presentation, included slides, narration and comments on research work in agronomy now being carried out by the University of Kentucky.

Other phases of the banquet program included entertainment by Renfro Valley Folds, welcome by Mr. John Lair, response by Mr. Roy G. Brown, and invocation by Mr. Billy Hiatt.

Approximately 125 people attended the banquet. Mr. Wayne Stewart was Master of Ceremonies for the occasion.

Farm Bureau to Celebrate 50th Year with Golden Anniversary Convention

Farm Bureau members from counties throughout Kentucky will gather in Louisville November 16-19 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their farm organization.

The 1969 convention will see program innovations designed to commemorate Farm Bureau's 50 years of service to Kentucky agriculture, and to honor those who have contributed to the first half century of success. Highlighting special events of the convention will be a Golden Anniversary Luncheon November 18 at Convention Center, and a special Anniversary Program November 18 at 8:00 at the Kentucky Hotel.

ANOTHER CABIN FOR TROOPER ISLAND—the Kentucky State Police summer camp for underprivileged boys recently received a $1,000 check from Lexingtonian James E. Bassett III to cover cost of erecting another cabin at the island encampment. Bassett, a former director of the state police and presently General Manager at Keneland, presented the check to KSP Sgt. Ernest Bivens of Frankfort.

Attending the Luncheon as special guest of Kentucky Farm Bureau will be county Farm Bureau presidents and their wives, past and present state Farm Bureau officers and their wives, past and present state Farm Bureau staff and county Farm Bureau Insurance Agents and their wives. In addition each county has been asked to select 2 pioneer leaders to attend the luncheon.

ASSIGNED: Army Lt. Colonel P. Lakes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lakes of Richmond, Indiana has been assigned to an infantry unit in Monheim, Germany. Pvt. Lakes entered the Army in April of 1969. He is the grandson of Chester Singleton of Ped Hill.

U.S. Senator Marlow Cook will be a special speaker at the luncheon. The anniversary program the night of November 18 will include music, slides, narration and comments by and recognition of Farm Bureau leaders who have served in leadership positions.

Other featured speakers at the convention are U.S. Senator John Sherman Cooper and Louisiana Farm Bureau President James Graugaard. Senator Cooper will speak at a general session in the Kentucky Hotel at 11:00 a.m. Tuesday, immediately following Graugaard's address at 10:30 a.m.

Grassland Renovating Time is Here

If you are planning to renovate some grasslands, November is the best time to start. Here is the process: Graze the fields you plan to renovate now while the grass is tasty. Keep livestock confined to small areas so they can eat the top growth quickly. Five to 10 head of cattle per acre will graze a heavy growth fairly clean in a week to 10 days.

Take your soil test, and apply needed lime, phosphate, and potash. Fall liming and fertilizing is easier than that in the spring, and is just as productive as spring applications.

Test out about half or more of a good sod by using a field tiller, cultivator, or disk. On rolling land, till on the contour. Leave the ground rough. For thin weak grass stands, till to expose 40 to 60 percent of the soil surface.

If these steps are done now, your odds of succeeding with early spring seedings are greatly increased, because: (1) the grass was removed when it was in its prime nutritional quality, (2) fertilizer and lime was applied when it was easiest and most convenient to do, and (3) tillage was done when the grass was in a weak stage.

find them. The quail survey was conducted in the same manner as that of the rabbit. The index is the highest it has been in the history of the census, reaching 2.40 per 100 miles, or 3 per cent over last year's good survey. The average annual index is 1.83 or 28 percent below the 1969 index. On a statewide basis mountain sections showed a decline while the Bluegrass regions show a sharp increase over the past two or three years. And so much for the quail population. May you find them, too.
